Keep your liver active and you will always enjoy good health.

Mrs. Agnes Gallant, Reserve Mines, N.S., writes:—"I had been a great sufferer for eight years, from catarrh of the stomach. I tried several, so-called, catarrh remedies without relief until a friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which I did, and four vials completely relieved me. That was six years ago, and I have had no return of my old trouble."

THE MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press.)—There was a fair demand here Saturday in the cash grain market. There was no change in the flour situation. A firm feeling prevailed in the millfeed market and there was a fair business passing in rolled oats. The egg market was without feature and both the butter and cheese markets were quiet.

building had been surrounded by barbed wire entanglements, which projected across the pavement.

This morning soldiers began clearing away all the wire.

It is taken for granted that the provisional government will certainly include both Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins. Their associates are less clearly marked out, but among the members of the Dail Cabinet supporting them is William Cosgrave, Minister of Local Government, who, by universal consent, is an administrator of rare ability, more skilled in the duties of government than any of his colleagues.

For the past year Cosgrave has controlled the great majority of the Irish local representative bodies, which formerly obeyed the orders of Sir Henry Robinson, the Crown representative of local government in Ireland.

The Prime Minister has promised that the British Army would be evacuated after ratification, and it is expected that when the preliminaries have been settled, the British soldiers will be withdrawn. Another outcome of the treaty will be the release of all political prisoners.

When the treaty was signed in London there were in various prisons and internment camps, both in Ireland and England, more than 5,000 political prisoners. Of these it was estimated there were 4,000 men and women against whom no charge had been made, but who were interned or imprisoned on suspicion that they were in sympathy with the Republican party. They were given their freedom on the signature of the document. About 1,000 were men convicted for the most part by court martial of various offences under the special Act of Parliament known as the Regulation of Order Act, aimed at the suppression of the Sinn Fein movement.

By a majority of seven votes, 64 to 57, the Dail gave its approval on Saturday to the document signed by its delegates at London.

The news was received with the greatest enthusiasm, and the patient crowds, which had waited for hours outside the University Building in anticipation of a decision, burst into cheers, even before the official figures were announced.

On the announcement of the figures, Mr. De Valera immediately arose and declared that the Irish people had established a republic, and until the Irish people in a regular manner disestablished the Republic, it constitutionally went on. This would be a sovereign body in the nation, to which the nation looked for supreme government. It was the executive until the people disestablished it.

BELFAST, Jan. 9. — (Canadian Press).—"The victory of the moderates in the Dail Eireann offers a hopeful opportunity for securing a united Ireland, if only Sir James Craig and his colleagues rise to the occasion," said the Most Rev. Joseph MacRory, Bishop of the Diocese of Down and Connor, in a statement to the Associated Press yesterday.

CANNES, France, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press). — The news of the ratification of the Irish Peace Treaty was received with the greatest of satisfaction by the British delegation to the Allied Supreme Council. The small majority was regarded as satisfactory under the circumstances, and as giving assurance that the terms of the treaty will be carried out.

David Lloyd George, the British Premier, declined to make a formal statement regarding the ratification. He merely said that he was highly pleased.

AN EPIDEMIC OF MURDERS

The second case was that of Frederick Edwin Winterson, who died as the result of a murderous assault thought to have been perpetrated while he was alone in his residence on Waverely, in the north end of the city on Thursday night. Medical testimony at the inquest Saturday was to the effect that his intestines had been burst and doctors held the opinion that such injuries could not have been self-inflicted. Stanley Wintersol, the victim's son, gave evidence to the effect that his father had said that if he lived, "he would tell the rest." He thought his father had troubles with one of the many debtors on his books and said that it was to his knowledge that such troubles had occurred in the past. The inquest was adjourned until Thursday next.

In this issue there are 65 inquiries, of which 18 are for foodstuffs, 17 for hardware, machinery and metals, 19 for pulp, paper, timber and manufactures thereof, and the balance for miscellaneous products.

SALE CANADIAN FLOUR.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9. — (Canadian Press).—Opportunities for the sale of Canadian flour have decreased, according to a report on the outlook, written by Trade Commissioner W. McL. Clarke and published in last week's issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal of the Department of Trade and Commerce. This is stated to be due to a great increase in the native milling industry. The quality of the Canadian hard wheat flour, however, will, it is stated, permit of a steady, if limited, market when exchange conditions are more approximately normal.

FELL OVERBOARD.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press). — While working on the boat deck early Sunday morning, January 1, a sailor of the steamer Metagama, which arrived in port on Saturday, fell overboard, and though the steamer was stopped and a boat sent back for a thorough search, no trace was found of the unfortunate man. He was Lawrence Cousins, of Liverpool, England, where a widowed mother survives him. The liner's passengers made up a purse for his mother.

A STOP OVER CHARGE

MONTREAL, January 9. Canadian Press. — Word was received here on Saturday by J. J. Smith, manager of the Transportation Bureau of the Board of Trade, from the Board of Railway Commissioners, that an order has been issued providing that a charge of one cent per hundred pounds should be made for a stop-over charge, or milling in transit. This is the result of considerable pleadings and hearings before the Railway Commission extending from Montreal to the Pacific Coast.

It is understood that the new rule will go into effect on Feb. 1st next, and the Montreal grain men are jubilant that they have won their contention for this regulation which will enable them to compete successfully with other grain centres in the domestic trade.

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

MISSION BAND HELD FIRST MEETING OF NEW YEAR—PERSONAL MENTION.

MILLBROOK, Jan. 9. — The "Sunshine Mission Band" of the Methodist church held their first meeting of the New Year on Friday, January 6th, at 7.30 p.m., the president, Miss Gladys Tucker, being in the chair. After the opening devotional period the roll was called and business items attended to. Readings were given by Jean Burnham and Kathleen Freelove, and the superintendent, Miss Patience Byam, gave a most interesting talk on the life and work of Mary Reid, who was for thirty years a missionary amongst the lepers of India.

Unless the special services of the week of prayer interfere, the Junior League, which consists of the same members as belong to the Band, will hold their regular meeting next Friday at 7.15 p.m.

The "Golden Sheaf" Rebekah Lodge, No. 176, will hold their meeting for the installation of the new officers on Tuesday, January 24th, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Thos. Armstrong, of Omemee, and Mr. William Fife, of Keene, both former employees at the G.T.R. station here, were visitors in town during the holiday season. Mr. Armstrong is now G.T.R. agent at Omemee, and Mr. Fife has a position as relieving agent, spending most of the summer at Madoc Junction in that capacity.

Mrs. J. W. Walsh, who has been the guest of her niece, Miss Lillian Burton, for some weeks, left on Saturday for Toronto, where she will visit her son, Mr. George T. Walsh, and also her niece, Mrs. (Rev.) T. A. Halpenny. Later on Mrs. Walsh purposes, if Mrs. Halpenny's health improves, going to Montreal and spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Walsh.

Dr. and Mrs. King, of Peterborough, have recently been guests of the later's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, senior.

Mr. Henry Lord was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lord, Peterborough, on Saturday. A daughter, Dorothy Ellen, was nearly being a Christmas gift in the latter's home, her birthday being December 28th, 1921.

The infant son of Rev. and Mrs. G. S. Gervan, whose hand was badly injured by being caught near the hinges of a door at the manse on New Year's day, is progressing rapidly toward recovery. The top of the middle finger, which was nearly severed, had some stitches put in when Dr. Turner arrived, and is healing nicely.

Mr. Harry Stewart, of Louisville, Kentucky, was a visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Stewart, during the holiday week between Christmas and New Year's, thus having that time with his mother before her sudden decease on Friday about 12 p.m. Mrs. Stewart, though seriously ill, was able to enjoy the visit of her eldest son, whom she had not seen for fifteen years. Mr. Stewart, accompanied by his wife and family, intends motoring to Canada this summer, if nothing intervenes to change his present plans.

The W. M. S. of the Methodist Church will hold their first meeting for the New Year on Wednesday, January 11th, at 3 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Percy Stinson, Centre Street.

Special Services.

Owing to the special services of the "week of prayer," the Senior Epworth League is withdrawing its usual meeting on Monday evening, January 9th, but a record of the attendance of the Leaguers at that service will be kept by the secretary.

Choir practice will be on Wednesday after the prayer service this week, instead of Thursday, which is the usual night.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Noble Stewart will take place from the family residence, King Street, on Tuesday, January 10th, at 3 p.m. Service at the house at 2.30. Interment will take place in Gardener's Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart, of Minta, Man., arrived from the West on Saturday, and are guests at the home of the former's brother, Mr. N. Stewart, intending also to visit other friends in Millbrook, and several outside points, before their return. It is some years since Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have been in Ontario.

Miss Helen Needler spent the week-end with friends in Peterborough.

The U.F.O. of Cavan and Millbrook are holding a meeting in their club-rooms on Thursday, January 12th, at 8 p.m., when important business will come up for discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Sayles and family, also Mrs. Martin, of Toronto, motored to Peterborough on Saturday and attended one of the local theatres in that city.

The Municipal Council will hold its inaugural meeting for 1922 in the Council Chamber to-night at 8 o'clock.

Miss Kitty Cullum was a visitor to Port Hope on Friday, going in to see "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," which was being shown there last week.

Mr. Harry Armstrong had a narrow escape on Friday from running over a boy, Jim McIvor, who jumped off a load of hay right in front of Mr. Armstrong's car. The latter had no chance whatever to stop his auto, and though the boy was right under the car, fortunately the weight of it did not rest upon his body at any time, passing over him without injury. A bad fright all round was apparently the only result of the accident; but as the Reeve, Mr. W. T. Wood, was one of the passengers in the car at the time, he will probably see that the Counci takes some steps to prevent a recurrence of a similar nature, it being dangerous to allow the boys to catch on passing vehicles in the present slippery condition of the roads.

Week of Prayer.

In view of the fact that this is to observed as a "week of prayer" with union services held each night by the Methodist and the Presbyterian congregations, Rev. Mr. Tucker's sermon on Sunday morning from Mal. 3:2, "Oh Lord, revive Thy work in the midst of the years," was preparatory to the special effort to be made to increase the spiritual life of all who attend.

Human nature, the speaker stated, is constantly in need of a revival in trade commerce, literature, art, etc., as well as along religious lines, and organized effort is necessary to a revival in any sphere. Public confidence is a much needed element in any revival, religious or otherwise, since pessimism never gives new life, no matter what movement is in question. What we call public confidence in other spheres we call faith in religion. Faith has been badly shaken not only by the upheaval of the world war but even more by the depressing spirit of unrest which has followed it; but long before that catastrophe occurred the fact that science went off on a tangent in criticism of the Bible, tearing to shreds our belief in the things of deepest religious value, and leading to unsettled religious convictions, and especially to a loss of confidence in prayer, has been responsible for a general loss of faith and of the praying spirit.

Another reason has been the total collapse of the so called Christian civilization; the church has had to face this fact, and will have to face it; but in reality we have assimilated so little of real Christian teaching, and the great principles of Christianity have not collapsed. The opportunity of the church was never so bright nor so splendid as it is today to lead the nations to reconstruction upon better principles and better ideals.

But to have a genuine religious revival some things are absolutely fundamental, namely, (a) An individual religious experience; (b) An awakening to definite personal faith based on repentance; (c) A revival of prayer, and of the study of the Word of God ;(d) A revival of personal consecration, since all latent religious loyalty needs awakening and enlisting in the work of the kingdom of God. All this will mean nothing less than a revolution in our planning and thinking; but since it is an undoubted fact that spirituality is at a lower ebb to-day than conditions are in the world of commerce and industry should there not be a readjustment of all our lines to the common cause of Gods honor and humanity's best interests. This necessary fact must however always be kept in mind that no revival is possible without the influence of the sprit of God and when that is evident there will eb no clinging to denominational fences or traditions and thus impeding the work of God's kingdom.

Councilors—Edward Sullivan 113; S. Harrington 113; Thomas Cavanagh, 82; W. Killen 73.

GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY
OF CANADA, LIMITED

MONTREAL, QUEBEC

OFFICE OF MANAGING DIRECTOR AND SECRETARY

November 8th, 1921.

Canadian Daily Newspapers Association,
902 Excelsior Life Building,
Toronto, Ont.

Gentlemen:—

Your letter of October 21st gives us the opportunity to say that in the opinion of the Gillette Safety Razor Company of Canada, Limited, publicity may be considered under the following heads:

All kinds of advertising are good advertising.

The relative value of the media depends on the text and the purpose of the message.

Topical advertisements requiring insertion on certain set dates from the Atlantic to the Pacific have been an important part of the Gillette advertising campaign, and for that reason the daily newspapers have always occupied an important part of our publicity budget.

The service of the press will be invoked by us in the future as in the past.

Very truly yours,

GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY
of Canada, Limited.

NPP/Steno.#5. Superintendent.

When the Gillette Safety Razor Company wished to announce their new razor, and to tell the public about it over-night, they did it through the Daily Newspapers of Canada thereby proving the unparalled flexibility of the Daily Newspaper as an advertising medium.

GOLDEN JUBILEE TRINITY CHURCH

SPLENDID ADDRESSES BY REV. SAMUEL P. ROSE, M.A., D.D LARGE CONGREGATIONS.

Rev. Samuel P. Rose, M.A., D.D. of Montreal, the first minister of the old Charlotte street church, preached in Trinity church yesterday in connection with the Golden Jubilee and Anniversary services, and greeted with large congregations at both services. Rev. Dr. Rose's pastorate of the first Charlotte street church was in 1873-5.

In the evening he spoke from Colossians, 1:15, "Who is the image of the invisible God, the first born of every creature?" Attempts of men to determine what or whom is God have generally ended in failure, if not tragedy, but Rev. Dr. Rose said when people ask "Who is God like" they are on safer grounds. Christ is the image of the invisible God," he declared. "He is the mountain peak of all theology. It is almost too good to be true," he said.

The statement, however, could not be reversed, he said. Jesus wasn't like God if, as theologians say, God was omnipotent omniscient, omnipresent and unconditioned. God is like Jesus in everything that is lovely, beautiful, entrancing and worthy of imitation. God is greater than Jesus. When we have seen Jesus at his best we have more to learn of the beauty and majesty of the eternal Father. Jesus is the human portrait of the invisible God. God is the great artist who paints the portrait."

"I want you to remember the artist is greater than the portrait, for he paints the portrait throughout your life. It is a portrait presented within the limitations of man. Boys and girls remember that everything that is beautiful in your mother is God, everything that is manly in your father is God, everything that is beautiful in Jesus is God, and through him we can conceive what God is like.

Morning Service.

At the morning service Dr. Rose preached on "The Demand for New Wineskins." His sermon was an eloquent plea for open mindedness in accepting the teachings of Jesus. The new wine of which Jesus spoke, was His new teaching about God, about man and about standards of living. It was the "New Theology" for which the old Jewish ecclesiastical system was not ready. It broke and the new wine of the Gospel ran out. Later ages have seen the same thing happen. To-day we still need open-mindedness as the great truths of the Gospel are presented to us in new forms.

Dr. Rose is a remarkably well preserved man. He is still in the active work of the ministry, though at present not in charge of a congregation. He is on the staff of the Wesleyan University, Montreal, as one of its ablest professors.

Next Sunday's services will be conducted by Rev. Prof. F. H. Wallace, M.A., D.D., and by Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., D.D. Rev Mr. Wallace was the first pastor of Charlotte street church after it became independent and Rev. Mr. Wilson is enshrined in the hearts of the congregation as the first minister of the new church, and its pastor throughout the trying years of the war.

DON'T NEGLECT BRONCHITIS

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a cough which is dry, harsh and hacking, accompanied with rapid wheezing, and a feeling of tightness through the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning after rising from bed. This phelgm is at first light color, but as the trouble progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is sometimes streaked with blodd.

In

you will find a remedy that will stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and help nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Mr. John H. Root, 40 Maple Ave., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with bronchitis and I had a very bad cough. I had it so long I was beginning to get afraid of other developments. I tried all kinds of cough remedies without relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Wood's Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and it convinced me to believe that I had at last gotten the right medicine. I used several bottles and am practically well. I have recommended it to others since, and good results followed."

Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it; price. 35c, and 60c. a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CHURCH FULL FOR WEDDING; MARCH PLAYS; NO BRIDE---ILL

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—While hundreds of Chicago society people sat hushed in the Fourth Presbyterian Church waiting for the peals of the wedding march and the appearance of Miss Mary Landon Baker and Allister McCormick, the wedding was suddenly called off.

Miss Baker failed to appear.

As the wedding guests passed out of the church at 4:20 a buzz of comment arose above the organ. A shock, but not a surprise was the way the fashionable audience characterized Dr. John Timothy Stone's announcement which rang down the curtain on one of the most spectacular weddings ever planned.

Girl Suddenly Indisposed

"Owing to the sudden indisposition of Miss Baker, the marriage is postponed. There will be no ceremony today," and Dr. Stone and the guests went home.

Elaborate floral decorations of Easter lilies and ferns were in place by the time the guests began to arrive at 3:30. Eric De Lamarter was at the organ playing nuptial music. At five minutes to 4 the church was packed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McCormick, 631 Rush Street, parents of the bridegroom-elect, entered by a side door and took their place in the front pew. Near them were other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Jr., Harold F. McCormick, and Miss Muriel McCormick.

Exactly at 4 o'clock the sextons rolled the white, softly padded carpet down the main aisle. White ribbons were stretched to form an avenue, down which the bridal party was to proceed.

All in Readiness

The ushers lined up in pairs at the rear of the church. Leander McCormick, who was to be the best man, stood ready, waiting.

It was five minutes after 4. Over and over the organ repeated the prelude of the wedding march. Two men cleared their throats and a woman coughed. Nobody looked around.

Ten minutes after 4. A door at the back of the church opened. Mrs. Robert M. Curtis, a sister of Miss Baker, in lavender gown and black picture hat, entered, accompanied by the bride-elect's small niece and nephew. Slowly they walked up to the front pew. Again the organ repeated the prelude.

Twenty minutes after 4. The fragrance of the flowers were heavy. The music was a drone. Dr. Stone, followed by another minister, entered a side door at the front of the church. Mr. McCormick was not behind him. The door closed.

Announces Wedding Postponed

The ministers made their way to the pulpit. The music repeated again, softly, while Dr. Stone announced there would be no wedding.

People coughed, silks rustled, and there was the soft clank of metal girdles being adjusted to fur coats, the shuffle of slippers on the padded carpet, the hum of voices, at first bewildered, then louder.

At the Lake Shore apartment building, where Miss Baker lives, extra doormen had been detailed to forbid any one entering.

So Chicago's 400 stood about in little groups, shivering in the wind, waiting for their motors.

Miss Baker's former governess entered the apartment. It was she who had taken the message down to the church. Her hands were filled with loops of white ribbons which had formed the aisle for the wedding procession.

Bride in Collapse

Up in the apartment the caterers had everything in readiness for the reception.

"Miss Baker is in a state of nervous collapse," her parents reported. "She was ill all day yesterday and today. She hoped to be able to go through with the ceremony. It was just at the last minute that she realized it was impossible. She even had her wedding dress on."

"Mary is a frail little girl," said Hamilton McCormick, her prospective father-in-law, last night. "She is ill, and we are very sorry. My wife spent the morning with her, doing everything possible for her. But at the last moment she was too ill to leave her room. That is all there is to say."

Noted for Unusual

"Leave it to Mary to do something unusual." Miss Baker's friends have been saying of her ever since her recovery five years ago, from a serious and protracted illness, brought her back to take part in the activities of Chicago society.

Something different, she was always doing. Now, the publication of a book of epigrams: now her appearance at the Pirates' ball last winter when she stepped from a treasure chest borne by 30 young men and performed a difficult series of dances.

The announcement of her engagement to Allister McCormick, who served as an aviator during the War, was no surprise to her friends who knew the closest friendship between the two families.

Wedding Often Postponed

But Miss Baker's persistent postponement of the wedding made it necessary, last May, for members of both families to deny rumors of a broken troth and to urge her to set the wedding date. She selected Jan. 2 and planned an "Italian renaissance" wedding, with white velvet gown and headdress of that period. A wedding trip to Europe had been planned.

"My daughter is of a nervous temperament," said Mr. Baker last night. "She became ill Sunday. Today she was ill, but she got up, got into her wedding dress, and then collapsed. We had to call off the ceremony at the last minute. This is merely a postponement."

While flying one of the largest types of planes abroad young McCormick invented a "silencer," a device consisting of a framework fitting over the head and containing two leather pads, which clamped over the ears and protected the aviator from possible deafness due to the noise of the motors. McCormick is one of Chicago's best amateur tennis players. He has appeared at many society theatricals, where he is noted for his clever dancing.

FOUND BODY IN CAKE OF ICE

Even Sex Uncertain Until Frozen Shroud Melts.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—After the finding of a body in the New Jersey meadows the police of Kearny were unable to determine whether they had a murder or a suicide to deal with, or whether the body was that of a man or a woman. Detectives said that it would have been impossible for the person to have died of natural causes at the place where the body was found, in a mass of ice about 400 feet from the intersection of the Belleville Turnpike and the Greenwood Lake division of the Erie Railroad. The spot is in the centre of a deep marshland through which nobody would be likely to attempt to pass, either in Summer or Winter. From the condition of the body it was evident that death took place about six months ago.

The body lies in Briely's morgue Kearny, incased in a block of ice ten inches thick and about ten feet across, the only visible part being the face between the eyes and the chin. Dr. Aloysius A. Mulligan, Deputy County Physician, said that the body evidently was that of a person of refinement. He explained that a costly bridgework in the mouth contained four gold-capped teeth and that there were gold filling in four others, which indicated that he or she had pursued a careful mode of living. There was no outward sign of the manner in which the person met death, which could not be determined until the ice about the body melted.

Clothing May Give Clue.

Detectives and policemen who cut the body from the ice with axes expressed the belief that it was scantily clad, if at all. They believed that a bundle of clothing found fifty feet from the body would prove of considerable help. This clothing also was incased in the ice and because of its long exposure was in a state of decay. Because of that fact it was chopped out and removed in a block of ice to Police Headquarters in Kearny, where an examination will be made to-day to learn whether the clothing was that of a man or woman, and if it contained clues.

The cloth appeared to be of a blue worsted of expensive texture with an invisible red stripe. Detectives, in their eagerness to establish the character of the garment or garments, endevoured last night to pry some of the cloth from the ice, but each time met with failure because the cloth parted at the slightest tug. Some of the detectives expressed the belief that the bundle consisted of a woman's skirt and other outer garments. Others thought that it was the coat and vest of a man's suit.

The finding of the body caused considerable excitement in official circles of Kearny and Newark, a few miles away. Detectives who arrived on the scene soon after the Kearny police said that the spot would be an excellent one for a murderer to conceal the body of a victim. They pointed out that the Belleville Turnpike, 300 feet to the south, was one of the main arteries for automobile traffic between Newark and the New York ferry terminals in Jersey City. In Summer it is impossible to see more than twenty feet into the meadows because of the dense growth.

WOULD CUT FILM STAR'S PAY.

Head of Theatre Owners Says Salaries Make Prices Too High.

The motion picture star has given the owners of movie theatres something to worry about, for it is this astral personage, and he or she alone, that has sent the price of motion pictures soaring far above the financial heights to which theatre owners say they can reach.

The salaries these stars receive are wholly out of proportion to box office receipts, according to William Brandt, president of the Theatre Owners' Chamber of Commerce, who spoke at a meeting of that body in the Hotel Astor yesterday.

Almost everything concerned in the making of motion pictures, from the salaries of extras, carpenters, and laboratory men to the price of raw films, has been reduced except the salaries of stars, said Mr. Brandt.

As a member of a committee recently appointed to investigate the reason for the "excessive" cost of productions, he learned, he said, that pictures could be considerably reduced if the stars would accept less money. He believed that if the producers would inform them that the theatre receipts were out of proportion to their pay that they would accept less money.

Mary Miles Minter receives $60,000 a picture, said Mr. Brandt, and Katherine MacDonald $50,000. She makes about four a year. Wallace Reid gets a salary of $4,500 a week. Rudolph Valentino $3,500 and William Farnum $10,000, he said.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor, The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—Now that we have got over the excitement of the Federal and municipal elections, and that we have wished all that is near and dear to us a merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year, we can well afford a few minutes planning as to how we might go one better than that of 1921, or at least to try and correct or avoid the errors of the past.

Our City Council would do well to recall the action of the 1921 Council in their appointment of an Alderman to fill the vacancy caused by ex-Ald. Copping retiring from the Council. In choosing ex-Ald. Hay they choose one who refused to go before the electors as a candidate and at no time throughout the whole session did he prove himself a man of eminent worth. When members of the Council express their gratitude for the honor and confidence placed in them, why don't they show their appreciation of the electors' sane judgment by electing the next in the run? So far, so good. But where is our wandering boy to night? I mean T. Tooms. It seems that the great T. T., who was our only hope and asset, has deserted the ranks of progress and went back to the land of promise(as was evidenced by his appearance on the Liberal platform at the last Federal election. According to the Canadian Annual Review of Public Affairs he has introduced and carried through more bills than any other private member in the Provincial House. Has this to be our one and only consolation? One of the bills to his credit is the Police Commissioners' Bill, which gives power to municipalities to refuse any demand made by the Police Commission on the treasury which does not meet the Council's approval. This must be misunderstood by the members of our City Council, as they have stated at public meetings that they have no control over the other boards of managemen, and I am surprised that they should be allowed to go uncorrected by our worthy member.

A. Murray.

TENETS OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—For the benefit of the large congregation that listened to the address on Christian Science by Rev. W. Harold Young, last evening in George street Methodist church, you will be doing a real service in the cause of truth by publishing the religious tenets of Christian Science given below. The following is copied from the Authorized Edition of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and is given to correct some of the errors that, apparently, were undetected by the scholarly speaker of the evening:

1. As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal life.

2. We acknowledge and adore one supreme and infinite God. We acknowledge His son, one Christ; the Holy Ghost or Divine Comforter; and man in God's image and likeness.

3. We acknowledge God's forgiveness of sins in the destruction of sin and the spiritual understanding that evil is unreal, hence not eternal. But the belief in sin is punished so long as the belief lasts.

4. We acknowledge Jesus' atonement as the evidence of divine efficacious Love, unfolding man's unity with God through Jesus Christ the Wayshower; and we acknowledge that man is saved through Christ, through Truth, Life, and love as demonstrated by the Galilean Prophet in healing the sick and overcoming sin and death.

5. We acknowledge that the crucifixion of Jesus and his resurrection served to uplift faith and understanding to perceive eternal Life, even the allness of Spirit and the nothingness of the matter.

6. And we solemnly promise to strive, watch, and pray for that Mind to be in us which was also in Christ Jesus; to love one another; and to be meek, merciful, just and pure.

Respectfully yours,
GRATEFUL STUDENT.

P.S.—Jesus said: "Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you . . . and shall say all manner of evil things against you falsely."

DEPLETING GERMANY OF ART TREASURES

Paintings, Litraries, Antiques Find Purchasers in Foreigners.

BERLIN, Jan. 7. (Associated Press.)—Some of the most valuable collections of paintings, renowned libraries, statues and antiques, as well as jewel heirlooms and family treasures, have been sold and taken from the country in the rush of foreigners to buy German goods while the exchange value of the mark was low.

The immediate effect of this rush to buy on the German population and resident foreigners has been a shortage of many necessities, and rapidly rising prices for goods still available. The fact that importations virtually have ceased, owing to the low foreign purchasing power of the mark, has added to the difficulties.

German householders complain they are unable to replenish their linen supplies, and even some of the smaller hotels are short of sheets and pillow cases. It is not uncommon for a traveler who has run the gauntlet of the Rhineland and border town hotels to carry his own pillow and sheets.

Food supplies in many districts are reported exhausted, and shipments from central German towns have been ordered. In Cologne, Dusseldorf, Munster, Wurzburg, Hanover, Altona and Dresden dictricts shops are reported generally empty.

Measures have been taken in a few towns to prevent the sale of goods to foreigners, except at very high prices, but the regulations for the most part are unenforceable.

QUEER REVELS OF HIGHLAND "HANTS."

Have Their Location in Lonely Cottage.

Uncanny Experiences of Mackenzie Family.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—An extraordinary story of the revels of a ghost—or maybe two—comes from the West Highland hamlet of Ledaig, about ten miles from Oban.

The house "bewitched" is a lonely cottage occupied by Donald Mackenzie and his family. Mr. Mackenzie is a rural postman.

For almost three years now, the Mackenzie's have received attention from the invisible inhabitants of the spirit world, who make known their presence by loud rappings and noises, which at first terrified the occupants of the cottage almost out of their wits.

The ghost—or ghosts—lately became bolder, and made a feature of performing especially in a bedroom where Mr. Mackenzie's sons, Malcolm and Ian, slept.

The crisis came a few days ago, when an extraordinary commotion was heard in the bedroom. It seemed as if all spirit land had been let loose.

Rushing into the room, Mr. Mackenzie found that all was quiet: The extraordinary noises had ceased as if by magic, but the two boys were wide awake and staring as if into vacancy. One of them remarked that he had seen the spirits fighting and that they had disappeared whenever the door was opened.

A night or two later one of the boys cried out that he had been gripped by the leg. Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie immediately rushed to their son's bedroom in answer to his agonized screaming, and to the father's horror he felt his own arm seized in an icy cold but vice-like grip. The boy Malcolm then told his mother that the ghost who had gripped him was a female spirit, who had spoken to him, and told him that her name was "Janet."

"Janet" after this became bolder than ever, and one evening Mr. Mackenzie was startled to hear a shout coming from the bedroom: "Are you there, Donald?"

Mr. Mackenzie, though somewhat unnerved, replied: 'Yes, Janet, I hear you."

Then she asked him several questions regarding the events of the day, particularly with reference to Ireland, and the League of Nations.

From this it is apparent that the spirits are quite interested in mundane matters.

On one occasion they abstracted from the boys' bedroom a pet rabbit, which one of the boys had brought into bed with him.

The ghost—or ghosts—knock over furniture unceremoniously, and indulge in all the mad tricks usually associated with the supernatural occupants of haunted houses.

The lonely Highland cottage is the centre of attraction to those interested in psychic research, and many well-known experts are taking the lone journey to the West Highland hamlet to investigate the eerie happenings in the postman's house.

U. S. TO INVESTIGATE FURNITURE INDUSTRY

Senate Directs Price Inquiry All Along Line.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Investigation by the Federal Trade Commission of the house furnishing goods industry was directed in a resolution adopted by the Senate. The resolution, sponsored by Senator Kenyon (Rep.), Iowa, provides that the inquiry shall embrace "the causes of factory, wholesale and retail price conditions" in the industry.

There was no record vote on the resolution.

The debate which preceded its adoption was characterized by a general attack on profiteers, trusts and combinations in restraint of trade and scattering assaults on the Federal Trade Commission. The latter was defended, however, by several senators who contended that it could never be 'a popular" Government agency because of the nature of its work.

Half a dozen senators, including King of Utah, Robinson of Arkansas and Walsh of Montana, Democrats, and Norbis of Nebraska, Republican, urged that the scope of the inquiry be broadened, contending that it should include trusts and combiantions in other commodities and in other lines of industry wherever they could be reached.

An attempt was made by Senator Heflin to amend the resolution to include the operations of the Chicago Grain Exchange and the New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges, but this was withdrawn when Senator Wadsworth (Rep.), New York, announced he would block the resolution if the amendment was pressed. He objected, he said, to another investigation "before the print in the report of one inquiry off the same kind had got cold.'

FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press).—Stocks were disposed to strengthen at opening of to-day's session, sentiment at factor probably being further pronounced recovery of British and other Allied foreign exchanges. Coppers, sugars and tobaccos gained one to two points. Within first half hour, however, selling of oils and rails was actively resumed. Chicago and Northwestern, one of the lost week's heaviest features, declined 13-8 points to new low record for current movement and Delaware and Hudson and Mexican and Pan American Petroleum became reactionary. Union Pacific American Can and cast iron pipe preferred also were under pressure.

Ignoring four per cent opening rate for call money, stocks developed heavier tone in first half of session. Another cut in Pennsylvania oil prices provoked further liquidation throughout that group. Associated Oils, California Pet., Standard Oil of New Jersey and Houston. Middle States and General Asphalt common and preferred, lost one to 2 1-2 points. Representative industrials also were lower. Crucible, Harvester, American and Baldwin locomotives and Railway Steel spring falling one to 1 1-2. Chicago and Northwestern continued to weaken and Erie common and preferred were heavily sold. Mercantile Marine preferred was one strong feature, rising 1 1-8.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press).—Local market during first half hour this morning was very dull. Practically no trading taking place. Dominion prices appeared fractionally stronger at 50 while Lyall Construction Co., on other hand was quoted point lower at 34. Other leaders did not appear during early trading.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press)—Opening wheat quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 3-8 cents lower with May 1.12 1-2 to 1.12 3-4 and July 1.01 3-4 were followed by slight setbacks all around and then by rally which, however, failed to last.

Corn and oats were easy with wheat, after opening unchanged to 1-8 to 1-4 lower, May 53 1-2 to 53 5-8, underwent a further sag but then recovered somewhat. Oats starts unchanged to shade higher, May 32 to 32 1-8 and later showed slight general losses.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

Tex. on small transactions sold 1-2 higher at 128 1-4 and Steel of Canada also on light trading was 1-4 higher. OFFICERS COMPLAIN PAY

POPPING WHEN SERVANTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Army officers at Governor's Island are ready to contest proposed decreases in officers' pay by collecting statistics to show that they have a hard time making out as it is.

Domestic statistics already assembled, it was announced, show that not until an officer attains the rank of major does his income suffice for comforts enjoyed by the average professional man in civilian life.

Less than 2 per cent. of married lieutenants can afford a maid, and less than half of the captains employ domestic help, it was stated, the cost of food, clothing and expenses of changing station cutting the officer's budget down to a bare sufficiency.

"WHITE PEARL" NOVELTY IN CROSSED CARNATIONS

LONDON, January 7. Associated Press. — Crossing the American carnation known as "Mrs. T. W. Lawson," with English plants, has produced after 24 years of selective breeding a dazzling white variety, the first of new race of disease-resisting flowers, which is described as a triumph of horticulture.

Its breeder, Stuart Low, who is showing his novelty, named White Pearl, at the Royal Horticultural Hall here, has succeeded in retaining the old carnation fragrance, which in many modern varieties has almost vanished. It is stated that the new pedigree carnation has gone through all disease tests and has come out unscathed.

FIREMAN GAINS FIFTEEN POUNDS

WAS SO RUN DOWN HE COULD HARDLY KEEP HIS ENGINE HOT BEFORE HE STARTED ON TANLAC.

"I have not only gained fifteen pounds in weight since I began taking Tanlac, but I feel better than I have for years," said W. T. Noles, of 115 Jones Ave, Toronto Ont, a fireman on the Grand Trunk Railroad, member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen.

"For about five years," said Mr. Noles, "I suffered from indigestion. After every meal I bloated up terribly with gas and pains in the pit of my stomach made me nearly double up. My appetite left me almost completely and I lost weight rapidly. Whenever I stooped over to shovel in coal my back hurt me so I could hardly stand it.

"I got a bottle of Tanlac because I saw so much about the help others were getting from it. My appetite improved wonderfully from the very first bottle and I soon got so I could eat without suffering afterwards. I have an appetite like a wolf now and can eat just anything I want and never suffer a particle from it. I have gained back all the weight I lost and several pounds besides and feel just fine all the time. I can bend myself about in doing my work and never feel any inconvenience from it."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

The Ear of the Public!

Is it waiting for your message? The Telephone is at your elbow—and over the telephone you always get a hearing.

How much of your traveler's time is spent in selling? While he is on the train or cooling his heels in an outer office, waiting, you or he might be talking to the customer by Long Distance, making another sale.

One merchant estimates that 46% of a salesman's time is spent in travelling—that only 15% of his time goes to actual selling. He sells only while the other man is listening! "It enables a salesman to cover ten towns a day and stay at home," writes the Banking Service Corporation, Limited, Toronto.

A banker tells us that every day's delay in turnover costs Canadian business men one million dollars. If you placed orders by Long Distance and secured shipment the same day, or next, by how many dollars would it increase your turnover?

We have yet to hear of a business that has not been benefited by an increased use of Long Distance. Apply the classified Long Distance schedule to your business consistently, and you will secure good results. Our manager will give you hearty, intelligent co-operation.

CITY COUNCIL HELD MEETING

mation as to what would be required to change the system. It appears to me that it may be a question of expense, and having received information on this point the Council could consider whether it would be wise at this time to add to the cost of the lighting, if a change world add to the cost, and arrive at a decision on the matter.

One thing that we must keep always in view is the strictest economy in the expenditures. I would very much like to have the committees prepare their estimates as soon as possible, and to scrutinize every item. Of course necessary services and proper provision for the requirements of the city cannot be neglected but no effort should be omitted to keep down the expenditures and to, if possible, reduce the tax rate. I wish to ask the committee to have the matter of the estimates taken up at once, so that the appropriations may be made and each department will know the sum that will be set apart for it.

I am confident that we can look forward to a time of growth and advancement in Peterborough. With an improvement in the business of the country, which I hope and expect will soon come, the manufacturing industries will again employ the normal number of workmen, and the new industries which had hardly got started here when the business depression affected them, will have an opportunity to develop as they expected to, and we may look for a period of advancement. At the same time we will continue the policy of trying to add to the large number of sound and substantial industries which are established here.

By making the interests of the ratepayers our sole object, and I know that this is what you will do, and by working together for that purpose, I feel sure that we will have a year that, when it is ended, we will be able to look back upon with satisfaction.

Read the Minutes.

The minutes of the last two Council meetings were read in consideration of the new members, and to the reading, which took about 15 dinutes, must have been a rude awakening if they entertained any dreams of an easy time in the Council room.

From an item in the minutes regarding surface drainage of East City, Ald. Malcolm McIntyre took an opportunity to advocate a systematic plan for drainage of Peterborough and he said he would like to see the Council this year take up the matter and have a plan made, and every year endeavour to have a section done until the whole city is covered.

Aldermen Hamilton, Stocker, Phelan, Gainey and McIntyre were appointed a committee to wait on Ald. J. J. Turnr, who resigned from the Council to contest the Mayoralty, and ask him to allow himself to be re-appointed. Ald. Gainey suggested that Ex-Ald. Turner be approached, and Ald. McIntyre seconded the motion, that a committee approach him and report to the meeting to-night. The names of the mover and seconder were added. Ald. Morrison wanted to leave the appointment over till the evening meeting from the start, while Ald. Phelan opposed the delay, but after a great deal of indecision his motion that the drafting of standing committees be left over till 7 p.m., carried, Ald. Holloway supporting him.

A motion, fathered by Ald. Morrison, that the aldermanic candidate with the highest number of votes who was not elected be approached if Ex-Ald. Turner refused to be appointed, in this case Ald. R. N. Jones, was supported only by the seconder, Ald. McIntyre. "It seems to me this committee shouldn't have that power. This is something the Whole Council should look after, although I'm quite sympathetic to Ald. Jones," said Ald. Hamilton.

IS THERE A GOD?

Often I have thought it odd
That men ask, "Is there a God"

Have they never breathed a prayer
And rejoiced to feel Him there?

Have they questioned what man knows
How to shape a full-blown rose?

Have they ne'er heard the refrain
Of a robin in the rain?

How each morning all anew
He bejewels earth with dew

How He paints the sun at rest
On the canvas of the west!

Who has taught the tender art
Of a mother's loving heart?

Who but God could fashion guile
Like a tiny baby's smile?

Is there not a God to send
The warm hand-clasp of a friend?

Sceptics ply their questions rife,
There remains the fact of life.

Not alone in temples grand,
May we feel His moving hand.

Not alone at time of prayer—
God is present everywhere.

To the open soul each place
Holds some glimpses of His face.

Listening, Devotion hears
The sweet music of the spheres.

Mysteries of mind and heart
Show divine creative art.

The need of man is eyes to see the ban of Prohibition, and my friend, Mr. Joseph Stewart, would be arresting people, not for having stills in their cellars, but for having cows in their back yards."
The presence of Divinity.

The speaker continued: "Surely anyone of common sense would refuse to accept, as a philosophy of life or religion, a system which began by denying the fundamentals of common sense."

The Second Negation.

Its second negation, which absolutely invalidates its in the minds of thinking persons, is its denial of the reality of sin. The speaker quoted instances from everyday life and from the New Testament to show that, in the experience of the ordinary man, sin is a very real factor.

The third denial deals with its refusal to recognise the reality of death in its physical form, which Mrs. Eddy defines as "an illusion, the lie of life, unreal and untrue. Matter has no life, hence it has no real existence, and so, any material evidence of death is false."

In these three denials of the fundamentals of life, the speaker saw its absolute invalidity as a working philosophy of life or religion.

"Why is it, then," he said, "that people have not begun to realise this and to swing away from Christian Science?" answering his own question by quoting figures recently published, which showed, to his mind, as proof of the assertion that Christian Science had passed the zenith of its power. He said:

"The growth of Christian Science publications has been commensurate with the spread of the cult. Its founders were quite sensible of the value of publicity as a medium for the dissmination of their doctrines, and took advantage of it. Realising this, there is something significant in the figures just published. In the two years ending December, 1921, the circulation of the Christian Science Sentinel decreased over 70 per cent., the circulation of th Christian Science Journal decreased over 75 per cent., and, strangest of all, the circulation of that splendid paper, the Christian Science Monitor, decreased in the same period of two years over 80 per cent."

The Final Verdict.

The final verdict on Christian Science, according to the reverend speaker, was contained in the words of his text: "They have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and have hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water."

AT THE ROYAL.

FILM STAR IS CUT IN DARING LEEP THROUGH WINDOW.

Willam Duncan gets Realism in a Fight Against Three Men in "Steelheart."

William Duncan was badly cut in leaping through a window while he was making scenes in "Steelheart," which will be shown at the Royal Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

In one of the early scenes of the production Duncan faces three burly gamblers. The action takes place in British Columbia at a time when men took the law into their own hands and life was made up of many hard knocks. Duncan fights bravely but is soon overpowered. One of the men knocks over the lamp, leaving the room in darkness. Then he fires a shot at Duncan. This arouses Marie, one of Quade's favorite women and she rushes into the room with a lamp. The light shows Duncan an avenue of escape through a window. He knocks the lamp out plunging through the window and smashing the glass.

Duncan believes in realism. He never fakes a fight for a scene and for his production engages men who are able to handle themselves well when it comes to the use of fists. Against him in the battle are Jack Curtis and Earl Crane. These men fought as though life depended upon it, and Duncan received several wicked blows. The members of the company, especially Curtis and Crane, feel that they were merited, for these two came out of the fray with several bruises. Before anyone was aware of what Duncan had planned to do he had knocked the lamp over the girl's head and plunged headlong through the window. The shattering of glass and the disappearing figure was all that could be seen through the camera lens, but outside in a heap, badly cut with a sprained ankle, was William Duncan. This did not delay the picture, however, for when Duncan picekd himself up ,brushed off the dirt, and dashed madly down the street, making one of the most ealistic fights

CANADIENS LOST TO THE SENATORS

FIVE THOUSAND FANS SAW THE GAME—BOUCHARD MADE HIS DEBUT.

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press).—The professional debut of Edmond Bouchard of Quebec on Canadiens' line featured the National Hockey League game at the Mount Royal Arena here Saturday night, in which Ottawa Senators, champions of the world, defeated the "Flying Frenchmen" by a score of 4 to 2. A crowd of five thousand were nightly pleased with the brand of hockey displayed, although naturally somewhat disappointed that in spite of desperate efforts the home team was defeated by a narrow margin. Bouchard, demonstrating his ability as a whirlwind skater, good stick handler and hard worker, encouraged Canadien supporters to hope for a reversal of the verdict that was passed the last time Ottawa defeated Canadiens in Montreal, but the Senators' combination and speed were again too much for Lalonde's sextette.

The game always fast, waxed rather rough in the second and third periods, Canadiens doing the most damage. Sprague Cleghorn, stalwart defense man, showed no falling off from his usual speedy excellent game, but the fact that Cooper Smeaton donated six minutes on the bench to him for rough play did not help Canadiens to score the necessary goals.

Generally, the game was very evenly fought. Canadiens seemed to lack just the final push to stick the puck behind Benedict, and on numerous occasions the crowd groaned when a sure thing was passed up.

SURPRISES IN THE FIRST ROUND OF ENGLISH CUP TIE

TWENTY-ONE OF THE GAMES YIELDED DEFINITE RESULTS—A LARGE ATTENDANCE.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press).—The first round in the Association Football English Cup tie competition on Saturday afforded the customary crop of surprises, of which the greatest undoubtedly was the rout of Crystal Palace beating Everton on the latter's ground by six goals to nothing. Palace seized every opportunity of shooting, and although Everton showed some neat footwork they were absolutely no match on the day's play for their rivals. Middlesborough's defeat by 6 to 0 at Hull was also unexpected. Another rather fancied cup candidate, Sheffield United, went down before Brighton.

Twenty-one of the game yielded definite results, thirteen home clubs winning and eight visitors, while seven drawn games were registered. The cup holders, Tottenham Hotspurs, were among the away winners, beating Bradford in their best form after a none too good beginning. Three London clubs lost, three won and four drew.

Queen's Park Rangers were lucky to draw with the Arsenal, although the latter were severely handicapped by lacking some of their best players.

Wales has a worthy representative in the second round of the cup in Cardiff City, who were last year's semi-finalists. This club won 4 to 1 against Manchester United away from home.

Amongst the notable individual scoring triumphs were the following: Lockett got Northampton's three goals against Reiding; Walker of Aston Villa, Watkins of Stoke and Browell of Manchester City each scored three goals; Pagnam got two goals at Blackpool.

First Division clubs did not fare as well as expected, five being beaten, nine winning outright and seven drawing.

Five Second Division clubs are qualified to continue, while six must replay their games. Nine clubs lost.

Of the Third Division clubs seven won, six lost and nine drew.

Altogether 102 goals were registered in the 32 games. Attendances aggregated 770,000.

WON CHAMPIONSHIP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press).—Jack Hutchison of Chicago, holder of the British open golf championship, won the Northern California open golf championship here with a medal score of 304 for seventy-two holes of play. He made the first four rounds in 80-71-76-75. Eddie Traub of San Francisco was second with a total of 313, and Harold Sampson of San Francisco scored 314 for this place.

John Black of Oakland, who lost the title yesterday, Leslie Davis of Mill Valley and A. B. Espinose of Oakland tied for fourth place with 316.

HOCKEY

The Lakeviews, City League team, will practise to-morrow night between 6 and 7 o'clock at Brock street rink. A full attendance is requested, as this is the final practice before the City League opener on Wednesday.

The P.A.A.A. juniors will play an O.H.A. game with the Lakefield juniors in Lakefield to-morrow night.

Lakefield intermediates will visit Peterborough on Friday night for an O.H.A. game with the P.A.A.A. intermediates.

The Holy Name Society juniors will travel to Lindsay on Friday night to battle with the Lindsay Midgets in a junior O.H.A. fixture.

The T.N.S. team will practise at Brock street rink between 7 and 8 o'clock to-morrow night.

The P.A.A.A. junior will work out at Brock street rink to-night at 7 o'clock. This is the last practice before the Lakefield game and a full turnout is expected. The P.A.A.A. kids deserve a bunch of credit for the way they have been working to get into shape. Owing to the grooming the intermediates have been getting, there have been no practice hours available at Brock street for the youngsters, but they have been hard at work at the Armouries rink and will be in pretty fair shape when they tackle Lakefield to-morrow night. The return game will be played here next week.

Players who shoot from their right side are comparatively scarce in hockey, which makes the fact that the Lakeviews City Leaguers have five in their squad a novelty. Included in the starboard marksmen are Herb Burgess, right wing of the P.A.A.A. intermediates and Ernie Leon, right wing of the T.N.S. juniors. The latter youngster will likely play centre for the Red Shirts.

Lefty McElroy will be found with the C.G.E. Toolroom in Wednesday night's City League game against Lakeviews. Center Hobbin will also be with Manager Dilling's squad, and so will Rangor of the Holy Name team. Micky Williams and other well known players.

The Wm. Hamilton A. C., last year's champions, are practically standing pat, and will trot out much the same line-up on Wednesday night against the Bankers as won the title for them last year. Micky Murray, Frank Collins, Freddy and Harold Graham and Eddie Foley will be among those out, and Frost will likely team up with Lebarr on the defence.

The Bankers' line-up has not yet been announced, but the men of money will have in their squad Harris and Pete Thornton, Joe Dwyer and Jack Gillespie, while Cyril Turoux may also stage a "come back" with the Bankers against Wm. Hamilton's on Wednesday night.

The Midgets are certainly a bunch of fighting terriers. If they step into Uxbridge on Tuesday with the same enthusiasm that they showed on Friday night, the game will be a picnic for them.—Lindsay Post.

The intermediate schedule games between Lindsay and Lakefield this season have been arranged for different dates from those first published. Lindsay goes to Lakefield on 16th January instead of the 18th, and the return game will be played in Lindsay on 23rd January, instead of the 20th.

The girls' game scheduled for 8.30 o'clock on Tuesday at the Armouries rink will be played at 5.30 o'clock, owing to the fact that the Junior City League will begin operations on Tuesday at 6.30.

Owing to the fact that the Normal school team are unable to play on Tuesdays the schedule for the Senior School Hockey League has been changed.

TO CONSOLIDATE WINDSOR TRACKS

HORSEMEN ARE MEETING IN CLEVELAND TODAY—THE ANNUAL MEETING.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press).—Stewards of the Grand Circuit and men prominent in the harness horse racing game are gathering here for the annual meeting of the stewards today and tomorrow to assign dates for 1922 meetings. Horsemen in the Lake Erie circuit (half-mile tracks) will meet Wednesday to allot dates.

President H. K. Devereaux of the Grand Circuit will not be able to attend the meetings, Secretary W. H. Kinnan announced here.

Kenilworth and Windsor tracks are separated by a road, and as a result it is possible that a compromise may be reached and that instead of being rivals both tracks may be given dates and work in harmony in a nine-day or two weeks' meet. Under the Canadian laws any harness horse race meet is curtailed for three days in one week at the same track. To comply with this law a schedule may be arranged to race the first three days of a week at one of the Windsor tracks and the last three at the other. Both tracks are mile ovals.

While no official action can be taken until Tuesday when the stewards meet in executive session, it was learned from an authoritative source that one or both of the Windsor tracks will be given recognition.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

VENETIAN PIGEONS MAKE PICTURE-MAKING HARD.

St. Mark's Famous Birds Create Much Trouble During Filming of "Carnival."

Everyone who has been to St. Mark's in Venice or has seen photographs or post cards of it, will remember the pigeons almost before they do the famous Church and Square. These thousands of pigeons and the curious crowds who gathered to see the making of a motion picture in the square, appeared at first to present an almost insurmountable difficulty to Director Harley Knoles in the filming of his spectacular production, "Carnival," which was recently released by United Artists, and which will be the feature at the Capitol Theatre, beginning to-day.

The story of "Carnival" is laid in Venice at Carnival time, so quite naturally the script called for some shots in the historically famous and best known locale in the city, the Square of St. Mark's on which front the Cathedral of St. Marks and the Campanile.

The first day when Director Knoles took his company to the square to begin work they all bought corn for the pigeons, as is the custom of every visitor. By the time they were ready to shoot the scenes they had been so generous in their purchase of corn, that the pigeons swarmed all over the camera and all over the players.

The crowds who had never seen a motion picture made, pushed in on the little circles, crowding into the vision of the camera.

Between the pigeons roosting on the camera and flying in front of it and the pressing crowds, work had to be given up for the time being.

Several attempts were made to leave the square and calm back suddenly and shoot before anyone knew what had happened, but without success.

Mr. Knoles finally dismissed the company for the day and went back to his hotel to try to devise some way to overcome the difficulty. He finally solved it.

The next day he sent his second cameraman to the square with all of his company, who were not in the scene he was to take, and had them set up on the opposite side from where he expected to shoot.

The cameraman had an empty camera and one of the players acted as director. First they bought up all the corn on the markets, and scattered it around the false camera on their side of the square proceeded to do all of the wild and picturesque things they could think of while the man at the camera turned away at the empty machine. The crowds formed a circle of laughing, surging merry-makers while the pigeons swarmed over them like a mound of fluttering feathers.

While this was going on, Mr. Knoles quietly took his real scenes, almost unnoticed on account of the excitement on the opposite side of the square.

As an attraction he did not compare with the comedians who were giving a free show only a short distance off, and the work proceeded without further serious interruption.

Besides this remarkable production, first-class vaudeville and a splendid programme of extra good short reel subjects, and the funny two-reel comedy, "Ole Buddy."

Just the usual Capitol prices and splendid musical selections by the Capitol Concert Orchestra.

AT THE ROYAL.

To-day the Royal, regardless of cost, presents a double bill of the world's best pictures. It might be explained that this theatre in its selection of pictures, is bound to no one exchange. Its films are chosen on their merits from the list of all the greatest producers offer. The Royal's business is exclusively the presentation of moving pictures, hence its money, which is the money of its patrons, is used to get the best, and the best only, of the latest films. To-day the Royal presents what is termed a "double bill." That is, in addition to its comedies and its romances, this theatre shows two feature pictures. Although in the usual "reader" of such a house the comedies are generally given a minor notice, to-day the Royal presents that inimitable comedian, Larry Semon, in his new two-reel comedy, "The Sportsman." This comedy shows Larry in a new role. This grand production, something new in comedies, presents wonderful scenic effects of beauty and a harem in the background, with scores of lovely girls. A burlesque lion hunter. His chase after the King of beasts, ostriches, and even jack rabbits, keeps an audience convulsed with laughter. This theme has been an ambition of the celebrated comedian, and his hopes are crowned with success. The six-reel feature picture, "The Family Honour," is one that appeals to all as it deals with that subject most dear to every good man or good woman, the home life. It is the story of a proud old Southern family who lose their money. Their only hope is centred in the son, who at first is consumed by false pride and a propensity for gambling. However, as the plot unfolds a happy culmination terminates in the wedding march. Then there is a five-reel Western feature, with William Duncan in "Steelheart." The whole picture is redolent with the breezy atmosphere of the West and full of stirring incidents. Again there is the fifth episode of the million dollar serial, "Breaking Through," or a girl's fight for love and fortune. Each episode of this serial conveys a complete story, and each story carries a thrill. Then there are the shorter films—or fifteen reels in all—a programme for 16 cents that costs 50 cents to $1.00 at any other picture house.

The St. Peter's and Collegiate "B" teams will play to-morrow night instead of on Thursday, while the Normal vs. Collegiate "B" game, scheduled for to-morrow, will be played on Thursday.

AT THE REGENT.

MIX USES AIRPLANE IN HIS NEW PICTURE.

Tom Mix, the William Fox cowboy star, believes that the day is coming when cowboys will use airplanes and automobiles on roundups, in addition to horses. He exhibits this belief in his latest Fox picture, "After Your Own Heart," which will be shown at the Regent Theatre to-night.

Tom having been a cowboy, is always interested in progressive methods for the range. He has known the days of hard riding to locate cattle spread over a wide territory, and he knows that an airman could locate the cattle quickly, signal the men in autos and on horses, and do the work in less time than by the old method.

Having had this in mind for some time, Mix is quite in sympathy with the use of the modern vehicles in "After Your Own Heart," the story of which was written by William Wallace Cook.

AT THE GRAND.

REX STOCK COMPANY.

The ever popular Rex and Company return to the Grand again to-night for their usual three days' engagement, when they will offer that famous comedy in four acts, "A Bachelor's Romance," in which the late Sol Smith Russell starred for over three years. Nothing better in the comedy vein has ever been written or produced than "A Bachelor's Romance," and in the title role Rex has a part which suits him better than the usual comedy parts written in the present day plays, and we all know how Rex can handle a good comedy role. Every member of the company is happily cast, and the scenic equipment is to be particularly lavish for this presentation. Two vaudeville specialties will be interpolated between acts this week by the popular Seymore and Williams, and the Park Kiddies. Seats are now selling fast for all three performances so advise all to secure tickets early.

DISPUTE OVER A FORWARD PLAYER

OTTAWA, Jan. 9. — (Canadian Press.)— Billy Bell, right-handed forward player awarded to the Ottawa Senators at the meeting of the National Hockey League in Toronto last week, is the pivot around which a new controversy in President Calder's circuit is liable to revolve. Officials of the Ottawa team stated last night that Bell refused to line up with Canadiens, his former team in the Metropolis on Saturday night, having previously affixed his signature, following the dictates of the league executive, to an Ottawa contract. Leo Dandurand is said to have appealed to the league and claimed Bell as his property, but Ottawas fight was upheld and Bell is expected to arrive in the capital to-day and to line up against St. Patricks in the crucial game here Wednesday night.

JOSEPH OLIVER DEAD.

HIGHER SCALE IN DRAFT AGREEMENT

WILL TAKE $7,000 INSTEAD OF $5,000 TO DRAFT A PLAYER FROM CLASS A LEAGUE.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(Canadian Press).—Major League baseball leaders meeting here Saturday with Judge K. N. Landis, decided to amend the major-minor draft agreement, so that $7,500 instead of $5,000 will be the price for drafting a player from the Class A.A. Leagues. This agreement, according to Ban Johnson, American League head, and John Heydler who represented the National League will be the last concession of the majors to induce the minors to accept the draft.

The major league chiefs consented to the increase in price only after an all-day meeting, the most of which was taken up by John Conway Tools, President of the International League, and President Tom Hickey, of the American Association in explaining why their circuits have objected to the major leagues selecting one player annually from each club.

FOOTBALL COACHES.

Football with all its power for good has certain weak spots. But these weak spots in the way of influence are rarely found in the army of football catches scattered throughout the land.

The average football player is doing a great work not so much in teaching football as in building character.

There are of course exceptions but in the vast majority of cases the coaches look forward to building better men as well as to the making of a victorious machine.

Most of these see the wonderful opportunities before them and give part of their best work along this line. The football coach who does not build character as well as a football machine has no place in the game.

"I don't see anything else for it," said the gloomy individual in the box when the magistrate suggested a month. He wore quite a contented smile, however when he left court.

Yesterday was a day of great blessing at the Sunday School. Mr. A. E. Ainslie spoke of the three circles of God's love. First the world—This illustrated by a large circle. Then He loved the church—which was a much smaller circle. Then God loved me. The hall was crowded out at the evening meeting, when Mr. Ainslie took for his subject Samson as a type of Christ. The similies were very marked, and Mr. Ainslie could make every one stand out in new light. He is a very forceful speaker, not leaving any time for weariness. A good time is looked for as the meetings continue every night this week. He will speak at the Gospel Hall.

THE ALL-WEATHER CAR

FORD "COUPES" AND "SEDANS" GETTING A GOOD HEARING

The Ford Closed Car Show which has been holding sway at the Duffus Motor Sales during the past week, is gathering interest daily. The exhibit will be continued all this week. Judging by the numerous visitors at these show rooms and the presence of numerous closed cars on the streets lately, these handsome models are gaining in favor. At least four closed models were delivered during the past few days, and the prospects for a larger number were under consideration.

Especially attractive are these new closed models, not only because of their added comfort, but because they are now decidedly the vogue for both winter and summer driving. It's the business car for the business man. It facilitates the daily work, and is attracting attention because of its great saving of time and its convenience.

POSTAGE STAMP REPAIRER EARNS LIVING IN PARIS.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—There are only half a dozen or so of his profession in the world. Three of them are in Paris, but he considers himself the most expert of all. He can be found every Thursday from 1 to 3 o'clock on the Avenue Marigny, near the corner of the Champs-Elysees, and if you get his confidence he will tell you something of his life work.

He is a repairer of postage stamps. What on earth, you ask, is the use of repairing postage stamps? Well, there is an old French stamp which was issued in quantity; only by mistake the first dozen or so were printed with the head upside down. The ordinary stamp of this issue now sells to collectors for seven francs. The upside down one sells for 6,000.

Skill Earns Reward.

Do you see the point? Expert collectors have various methods of testing the genuineness of the stamps they buy. For instance, place them in boiling water. It requires skill, indeed, to turn the head upside down and fasten it so that it will not come off in boiling water. And supreme skill deserves a generous reward.

There are many similar instances There is an 1861 American 6- cent stamp which was issued in two shades of pink. The darker shade bring 12 1-2 francs; the lighter brings 150 francs. There is an issue of Napoleon III., of which a few are very slightly different from the rest, and in the market that difference represents the difference between 6 francs and 10,000. Another French issue shows a misc. oscopic difference of 3,310 francs.

An Artist at Work

My friend is competent to obliterate these trifling differences either on his own account or to oblige an acquaintance. He has turned many heads upside down and has altered a number of colors. He is especially proud of having "repaired' a certain issue of Guiana stamps so as to show pinpricks instead of the ordinary machine perforation. It appears that the Guianese minister of postage stamps had mislaid his perforating machine one day and used a pin until the machine turned up, and the result of their handiwork is to-day several hundred thousand francs.

Yet my friend has certainly worked for his living. And think how many innocent collector hearts he has gladdened!

The Thursday gatherings on the avenue Marigny probably are unique in the world.

Experts Shrewd Traders

Here gather the supercollectors of Paris. The amateur may buy stamps here. He may even, if he is shrewd, get his money's worth. But the Thursday market in Paris is pre-eminently the gathering of the experts. Little money passes But here Monsieur X gives to Monsieur Y one of those celebrated Timbuctoo 1874's in exchange for two of those famous Zanzibar 1887's with one Chinese opium-tax stamp thrown in. It is a clearing house where values in the thousands cancel. It is also the assembly of expert, where my friend garners his orders.

Only a few weeks ago the Thursday market thrilled over the news that three stamps had just been sold uptown for 200,000 francs. They were, as you have guessed, that almost priceless pair of British Guiana stamps, together with the matchless Hawaiian specimen over which the official stampbook makes such a fuss.

Only one item could have caused more excitement—the discovery and sale of the most valuable stamp in the world, the 1847 issue of the Island of Maurice, which is officially quoted at 150,000 francs. That is not the oldest in the world, for there is an English issue of 1840 which is fairly common. But it offers unrivaled opportunities to that price of experts, the repairer of stamps.

VOL. L., No. 8 PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1922 PRICE THREE CENTS

GOVERNMENT IS ASKED TO ACT AT ONCE

NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE NEW IRISH CABINET AND THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT—TO RELEASE POLITICAL PRISONERS

THE IRISH SITUATION

LONDON, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press).—The Westminster Gazette calls upon the British Government today to assemble Parliament immediately and give formal authority to the new Irish Government. "The Free State, with its provisional Government, is at present an even more shadowy entity than was the Irish Republic," it says, adding "that there is urgent necessity to give it definite legal status, particularly with reference to maintainence of order and collection of taxes and expenditures of public monies."

WILL RELEASE PRISONERS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press).—Negotiations between the new Irish Cabinet and the British Government have resulted in an amnesty being agreed upon, and Irish political prisoners, including those sentenced to death, will be liberated today or tomorrow.

BELFAST, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press).—A bomb was thrown at a crowded tram car on Crumlin road this morning. Quick action of the driver in putting on speed resulted in the missile going wide of its mark. A man and his wife living nearby, who went to the door to learn the cause of the commotion, were shot dead by rifle fire which swept the street.

THE PETERBOROUGH MALE VOICE CHOIR.

The above organisation got down to real business last night in the J. M. Greene Music Studio—over fifty members being in attendance. The holiday season is now over, and the choir are determined from now on to stay hard and fast to training, to make an even greater success over last year's splendid showing at their annual concert.

Miss Ida Sanderson, the able accompanist, returned to the organisation last evening, and was warmly welcomed by the members. Everything is now working smoothly, and several new selections were tried; and though very difficult, the members made splendid progress, and give promise to something very fine in the way of musical numbers.

The executive officers are now working at top pressure, and the public will certainly have a big and agreeable surprise in store when a fuller announcement is made in regard to the annual concert, which will take place early in April.

Each and every member is earnestly asked to be present next Tuesday evening—in justice to himself and to the choir and conductor—sharp at eight o'clock (bases at 7.50) and utilise the full two hours at their disposal in hard practice.

ROMAINE STREET SEWER WAS CITY'S FIRST WHITE ELEPHANT

SECTION FROM AYLMER TO GEORGE, TO BE REBUILT NOW AS A RELIEF MEASURE, HAS CAUSED CONSIDERABLE TROUBLE AND EXPENSE---EXCAVATION THREATENED STRUCTURAL STABILITY SACRED HEART CHURCH, IT IS ALLEGED.

NEW SEWER WILL COST $9,000

The Council's Board of Works last night instructed City Engineer Parsons to relay the sewer on Romaine street, from Aylmer to George street, which is not now in working condition, and to prepare plans and specifications of same for approval by the Federal and Provincial governments, so that the city can get from each government one-third the excess cost of the construction by reason of undertaking it now in the winter months as an unemployment relief measure.

This was the motion of Ald. Crowe and Malcolm McIntyre.

The work will cost in the neighborhood of $9,000, of which amount the city engineer figures $3,000 excess charges resulting from prosecuting the project at this time of the year, together with the employment of men not accustomed to using picks and shovels. But against this abnormal expenditure Mr. Parsons explained that the sewer's proper construction at a higher grade for linking up with the outfall sewer on Park street will eliminate all need for the present pumping station, corner of George and Romaine streets, the $350 a year for maintenace of which will be saved, and about pay the interest on the investment in the new sewer.

The engineer is prepared to go ahead with this work, excepting the purchase of some steel for shoring the excavation, which will be made in quick sand.

Here it is interesting to note that as the present sewer on this section of Romaine street has already been paid for by frontage tax, its cost this time when renewed must come out of the general rate, which will be provided for in the Board of Works' appropriation, it is at present understood. The only alternative method of providing the necessary funds is by the issue of debentures, necessitating a vote of the people, which Council is not inclined to resort to on account of the delay entailed and one other obvious reason.

Ald. Crowe opened the proceedings last night by reiterating the need for Council undertaking this work in relief of the unemployed. Time is drifting along, he said, and practically nothing so far has been done in this direction.

During a somewhat prolonged discussion, Engineer Parsons asserted that this section of sewer would give work to 15 or 20 men working in two week shifts for some little time.

A White Elephant.

This little bit of sewer as it stands has an unsavory record as the city's first white elephant. It was built from plans and specifications by Engineer Chipman, it filled with sand and caved in once and when opened up for repairs it is alleged that the foundations of Sacred Heart church on the corner of Aylmer and Romaine streets showed a tendency to settle as a result of sewer excavation there in a bed of quick sand.

And so, with this incident in mind, Ald. Mel. Turner last night questioned if it would not be advisable for some one to enquire of Father J. J. O'Brien had any real damage resulted to this church from the construction of this sewer. For he (Ald. Turner) understood that at the time of its cave-in Council had been forbidden to carry the sewer to any further depth at this point. Ald. Turner also had been informed that the tower of Sacred Heart church is out of plumb now as a result of the building settling owing to sewer building on Romaine street; but his reminiscence was not taken seriously by his colleagues, who apparently did not think the stability of the church would be menaced by the proposed work.

Sewage Disposal Plant.

On motion of the Mayor, seconded by Ald. Crowe, the city engineer was instructed to have plans and specifications for the sewage disposal plant on the activated sludge principle ordered by the Provincial Board of Health completed as soon as possible, and submitted to the Provincial Board of Health for approval.

But the local unemployed must not hope for an early relief by the installation of this plant, as it may be spring before all preparations are completed, tenders received and the contract let for the work.

Ald. Phelan did not vote on this question, he still bitterly resenting the Provincial Board of Health's ultimatum in the matter. He could not see why in an involved expenditure of some $320,000, the city should be compelled to install an activated sludge plant, contrary to the opinion of City Engineer Parsons—who in this connection enjoys the confidence of local engineers— that for Peterborough an Imhoff tank system would be the better of the two.

But both Mr. Parsons and Chairman Walter Stocker could see no object to be gained by fighting the Provincial Board, whose ruling must be observed, they contended.

There were present, Chairman Ald. Stocker, Mayor W. H. Taylor, Aldermen, Mel. Turner, Malcolm McIntyre, Phelan, Crowe and Holloway

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE URGES CHEAPER GAS AND CAR FARES

ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS REQUESTING THE HYDRO - ELECTRIC COMMISSION TO REDUCE THE RATES OF TWO OF PETERBOROUGH'S PUBLIC UTILITIES.-WILL ALSO REQUEST FISH AND GAME DEPARTMENT TO ESTABLISH HATCHERY HERE.

NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED

Reductions in the gas rates and street railway fares in Peterboro were the subjects of two resolutions passed by the Chamber of Commerce last night to be forwaded to the Hydro-Electric Commission. Information given the members by the president J. J. Duffus, and the secretary Mr. Leon Frazer, hinted at the probability of the Commission favorably considering both of these requests.

A statement of the gas rates in some of the cities of the povince showed that Peterboro consumers were paying $2 per cubic feet as compared with $1.85 in Belleville, $1.60 in Otawa, $1.70 in Kitchener were a 10 percent discount was also allowed, $1.35 in Toronto which also had the benefit of a 10 percent discount, $1.40 and $1.30 per thousand feet in Guelph, $2 and $1.85 in Stratford, and Kingston payse $2 with 10 percent discount.

The resolution, moved by Mr Bradburn and seconded by James Garside, pointed out that the gas rates in Peterboro were the hightest in the province, and requested the Hydro-Electric Commission to "do all in their power to supply gas to consumers in this city at a lower rate."

Street Car Fares

In the discussion on the local street car fares it was suggested that a return to the old fares would probably increase the traffic and therby avoid a loss in revenue.

In reply to B. F. Ackerman's question as to whether the receipts from the local transportation system were known, Mr. Duffus said "we can't get it,' although Dr. Harvey speaking next, emphasized the fact that the street railway was a "public utility", and that this should be made the basis of the Chambers appeal to the Commission.

System Not Paying

J. T. Braund asked whether it would not be a fair question to submit to the Commission requesting full information as to the financial condition of the local street railway, but his query was partly answered by the assertion of T. Tooms, M.L.A. that duing the last session of the Legislature he had learned that the system was not paying as well under the seven cent fare as under the previous five-cent fare.

The resolution moved by Dr. Harvey and seconded by Dr. A. H. Allen recommended to the Hydro-Electric Commission that the fares be reduced from seven to five cents and that the sale by ticket be a strip of seven for twenty-five cents.

Wants Fish Hatchery

Mr. Tooms perhaps surprised the members by stating that "question of the location of a fish hatchery in this district had to be settled by January 21. An agitation begun nearly a year ago had sought to win the Department's decision for a hatchery in Peterboro waters, and the Minister and his deputy had both been impressed by the representations that had been made to them by certain local interests, Mr. Tooms said. However, when the date which had been arranged for a meeting with the Minister here had all but arrived it was suddenly cancelled, although Mr. Tooms intimated, the announcement was to have been made officially on that occasion that Peterboro had been chosen for the proposed hatchery.

Needs Pure Water

"There is a place on the river near the filtration plant that appealed to the Minister" said Mr. Tooms. 'If the city would provide a supply of pure water which I understand is needed for a hatchery the cost to the city would not be very much. If a site is chosen here I think that is where the Department would like to have it. However, the matter would have to re-opened and I believed it would be favorably received." But it will have to be decided before January 21st."

"Well, let us get busy" said W. H. Bradburn with a shade of emphasis on the pronoun. "I move that the president have the authority to appoint a deputation to go with Mr. Tooms and interview the Minister at a date to be arranged by Mr. Tooms.

Mr. W. S. Dodd seconded the motion which was supplemented, upon the secretary's suggestion, to include repesentatives of the Peterboro Fish and Game Protective Association.

Social Welfare

Rev. F. E. Mallott presented the report of the Social Welfare committee recommending that the City Council be urged to increase and improve the public bathing facilities, and that strict supervision be made of the duties of caretakers, and that women caretakers be secured for women bathers. MEETING HELD BY ANGLICAN LAYMEN

AIMS AND OBJECTS OF THE ASSOCIATION—HELPFUL ADDRESSES

The Anglican Laymen's Association of Peterborough held their first open meeting last night in the St. John's Sunday School Hall. This meeting is to be followed by several other meetings of a similar nature. The objects of the association are for mutual help, instruction, acquaintance and co-operation and to further the work of the Anglican Church. Membership is confined to laymen who are members of any Anglican community. The meeting last night took the form of an instructional meeting.

After the splendid banquet prepared and served by the Anglican Young People's Association of St. John's, several songs were called for and sung by the gathering. The toast to the King was proposed by Dr. G. S. Cameron, following which he gave a short address, welcoming the laymen present. Dr. Cameron then gave a short history of the movement from the time when the idea was first conceived last spring to the meeting last night, read the constitution of the association and asked for suggesions for committees to cover various departments, and comments on the constitution itself. The list of officers was then read and confirmed.

Mr. R. Allen of Toronto, was the first speaker called upon. Mr. Allen gave a very complete statement of the finances of the Anglican Church in the Diocese of Toronto. In material resources the Church was very rich, stated the speaker. It possesses in material resources capital amounting to $3,000,000, which comes under three main heads. First, the Crown lands granted to the Church when the country was young; second, Crown rectories, which amount to about $2,500,000, and, third, the Synod general trusts.

Dr. C. A. Seagar, Provost of Trinity College, Toronto, was the next speaker. He urged the association to search for some principle upon which to rest the organization. There is a wonderful opportunity to bring Christian influence to bear on the younger generation, and therefore a great responsibility for the association. In reference to the welfare of young people of the Church, Dr. Seagar said, "We're too complacent."

Mr. I. J. Turner proposed a vote of thanks to the speakers, which was seconded by Mr. A. L. Killaly and heartily responded to. Dr. Seagar pronounced the benediction.

President, Dr. G. S. Cameron, Vice-Presidents, Mr. W. Buller, Mr. E. A. Peck, Mr. M. Manley, Secretary B. D. Hall; Treasurer, Mr. F. Linton, Executive Messrs. Dobbin, Rogers, Killaly and Alcock.

INVESTIGATE "BABY FARM" IN THE CITY

SEVEN BABIES ARE LODGED IN THIS LOCAL INDUSTRY AT THE PRESEND TIME — CHILDREN'S AID MEETING.

WELCOME NEW MEMBERS

A very well-attended meeting of the Children's Aid Society took place in the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon. Mayor W. H. Taylor and Rev. Father Costello were welcomed as new members of the board.

The attention of the meeting was taken up mainly with the discussion of an alleged "baby farm," which is said to exist in the city. Here seven babies are lodged, and different members declared that the conditions under which they were housed and looked after were not fit 'for little pigs," as one lady emphatically remarked.

Dr. D. C. King, who has been collecting information on the subject from different sources in Toronto, where the by-laws are rather strict in this connection, gave the board the benefit of some of his enquiries. In Toronto all "baby farms" are licensed, and a fine of $50 is imposed on any woman receiving children without this license. The public health nurse visits the homes weekly and gives instructions for the care of the children, reporting back to the Medical Health Department. A standard minimum charge of $5 per week is made for each child, with a maximum of $7 weekly allowed. The M.O.H. is in attendance at any time that it becomes necessary to call upon him, and this officer practically supervises the conduct of the home with the Medical Health Department, thus giving protection to the keeper.

A Dumping Ground.

Dr. King, referring to the practise of smaller neighboring municipalities in sending unwanted children to Peterborough to be looked after, declared that "this city is being made a dumping ground for illegitimate children and otherwise. It is a disgrace to the town." This statement arose out of a request recently received from Lindsay for a foster home in Peterborough for a child whose presence in that town is an embarrassment to certain citizens, and to the bringing from Havelock to the house in question here of four children with somewhat undesirable affiliations.

Board in Arrears.

One of the lady members, after denouncing this home as absolutely unsanitary, cold, filthy, and the keeper as allowing the children to go about half naked, suggested that many families of a more cleanly nature might be found in the city who would be glad to look after homeless children, for a small payment. However, just at present the keeper of the home declares that one of the Havelock mothers owes her a bill of $72.00 for keeping her two children, that this mother refuses to pay any attention to communications addressed to her regarding them, and

Increased Patronage

Owing to the addition of another table for the exhibition of purely Canadian literature I think we shall be enabled to avoid the expense of obtaining new shelves during the present year.

A considerable amount of extra work has devolved up the staff owing to the increased patronage and I am glad to report that the present condition of the library, both in its personnel and in its economic aspect is satisfactory.

In conclusion, I beg to tender to the Board on behalf of the staff and of myself, our thanks for the kindness and consideration with which we have been treated.

Lack of space in yesterday's issue prevented the publication of the foregoing report on he Public Library.

BULL-DOG DRUMMOND
BY "SAPPER" (CYRIL McNEILE)

"It sounds too easy,' remarked Hugh. "Have a look out of the window, Ted, and you'll see a man frightfully busy doing nothing not far from the door. You will also see a racing-car just across the street. Put a wet compress on your head, and connect the two."

A gloomy silence settled on the assembly, to be broken by Jerry Seymour suddenly waking up with a start.

"I've got the stomach-ache," he announced proudly.

His listeners gazed at him unmoved.

"You shouldn't eat so fast," remarked Algy severely. "And you certainly oughtn't to drink that beer."

To avert the disaster he immediately consumed it himself, but Jerry was too engrossed with his brainstorm to notice.

"I've got the stomach-ache," he repeated, "and she ought to be ready by now. In fact I know she is. My last crash wasn't a bad one. What about it?"

"You mean . . .?" said Hugh, staring at him.

"I mean," answered Jerry, "that I'll go off to the aerodrome now, and get her ready. Bring Potts along in half an hour, and I'll take him to the Governor's place in Norfolk. Then I'll take you over to Paris."

"Great!—simply great!" With a report like a gun Hugh hit the speaker on the back, inadvertently knocking him down. Then an idea struck him. "Not your place, Jerry; they'll draw that at once. Take him to Ted's; Lady Jerningham won't mind, will she, old boy?"

"The mater mind?" Ted laughed. "Good Lord, no; she gave up minding anything years ago."

"Right!" said Hugh. "Off you get, Jerry. By the way, how many will she hold?"

"Two beside me," spluttered the proud proprietor of the Stomach-ache. "And I wish you'd reserve your endearments for people of your own size, you great, fat, hulking monstrosity."

He reached the door with a moment to spare, and Hugh came back laughing.

"Verily—an upheaval in the grey matter," he cried, carefully refilling his glass. "Now, boys, what about Paris?"

"Is it necessary to go at all?" asked Peter.

"It wouldn't have been if the Yank had been sane," answered Drummond. "As it is, I guess I've got to. There's something going on, young fellahs, which is big; and I can't help thinking one might get some useful information from the meeting at the Ritz to-night. Why is Peterson hand-in-glove with a wild-eyed, ragged-trousered crowd of revolutionaries? Can you tell me that? If so, I won't go."

"The great point is whether you'll find out, even if you do," returned Peter. "The man's not going to stand in the hall and shout it through a megaphone."

"Which is where Ted comes in," said Hugh affably. "Does not the Stomach-ache hold two?"

"My dear man," cried Jerningham, "I'm dining with a perfectly priceless she to-night!"

"Oh, no, you're not, my lad. You're going to do some amateur acting in Paris. Disguised as a waiter, or a chambermaid, or a coffee machine or something—you will discover secrets."

"But good heavens, Hugh!" Jerningham waved both hands in feeble protest.

"Don't worry me," cried Drummond, "don't worry me; it's only a vague outline, and you'll look great as a bath-sponge. There's the telephone Hullo!" He picked off the receiver. "Speaking. Is that you, Toby? Oh! The Rolls has gone, has it? With Peterson inside. Good! So long, old dear."

He turned to the others.

"There you are, you see. He's left for Paris. That settles it."

"Conclusively," murmured Algy mildly. "Any man who leaves a house in a motor-car always goes to Paris."

EPIDEMICS ARE DECLINING NOW

DR. YOUNG, M.O.H. SAYS PETERBOROUGH NEEDS A LARGER ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

The epidemics of diptheria and scarlet fever that have prevailed in Peterboro for some months are on the wane, Dr. T. W. H. Young M. O. H. reported to-day. There are only three diptheria cases in the Isolation Hospital and amout ten scarlet fever, compared with 32 cases there a short time ago. Quarantine cards are taken down every day and signs are not lacking every where that the epidemics have run their course, the doctor said.

Dr. Young empatically denied there has been a great laxity in regard to the quarantines as many people have declared. If people investigated before spreading rumours all over the city derogatory to the M.O.H. and Board of Health he said they would have found out that the people seen entering and leaving the houses had permission to do so and in many cases only one person in the entire family found to be a carrier had to be confined.

Some cases had come to his attention of open flagrancy of the law, he said, but personal warning had sufficied in most cases to have the regulations enforced. Dr. Young pointed out an old occurrence, that is that neighbours are often ready enough to complain of the way the people next door behaving and want to have them up in police court on their secret evidence but do not themselves wish to appear in the case in any way or have the people know who gave the information.

Information received by one of the local physicians from the health authorities, Toronto, tends to show that Peterboro came through the epidemics more fortunately than any other place in Ontario. Dr. Young said he had heard indirectly that there were 500 cases of diptheria in Smiths Falls.

Peterboro's experiences show that the Isolation Hospital is not adequate enough for a city of this size, the M.O.H. declared to-day and he will advocate an enlargement. Many cases because of its limitations were unable to be admitted during the past few months and the Hospital has been full all the time with no reserve accommodation. Only about 25 patients can be accommodated comfortably, thirty presses the hospital to capacity and with 32 as there was when the disease were at their peak the institution was absolutely crowded. This matter may be discussed at the Board of Health meeting on Monday next.

Port Hope Guide: Rev. D. S. K. Byrne, of Montreal, is in town a guest at the Queen's Hotel. Rev. Byrne tells The Guide that all the necessary papers in connection with the Byrne estate will have been secured and the fortune of thirty millions will be in his possession in a very short time. Provision is made in the will for the erection of a magnificent home for fallen girls. It was Mr. Byrne's intention to have this memorial erected in Toronto, but he has since decided to take it to Chicago. He intends to do something for Port Hope, but has not decided on the nature of the gift. Mr. Byrne has a club bag of legal documents all bearing the red seals, and he is confident that he will be in possession of the long sought for millions within a few weeks.

It's a sign that he isn't married to the right woman if a man sits up and takes notice to every noisly dressed female that passes.

Chinese Will Not Back Down

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press.)— Arthur J. Balfour and Charles E. Hughes are working quietly and indirectly to effect a settlement of the Shantung controversy, it was understood to-day, despite Japan's refusal to join with the Chinese delegation in a request for such mediation.

With no sign of the Chinese withdrawing opposition to accepting a Japanese loan to pay for the Kiao-Chow Railway in the former German leasehold and with the Japanese admitting their readiness to transmit to Tokio any new proposal for a settlement, it was expected in conference circles that Mr. Balfour and Secretary Hughes might work out some formula which might be acceptable to the Japanese which would enable them to meet the Chinese on grounds which would save the national pride of both nations.

At Chinese headquarters today it was said that the difference between the two groups is not a "slight" one, despite its characterization as such in Japanese circles.

CONVENTION FARM WOMEN

SEVERAL RESOLUTIONS ENDORSED BY THE GATHERING—INSPECTION OF IMPORTED EGGS

WINNIPEG, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—The convention of the United Farm Women of Manitoba at the afternoon session yesterday went on record as strongly favoring a reform in the Naturalization Act by which a married woman would not automatically take the nationality of her husband but shrould retain her right to choose her nationality. Another resolution adopted calls for the abolition of voting certificates and for the amending of the Dominion Elections Act so that all British subjects by birth or naturalization be accorded a vote. During the rest of the convention the women will meet with the men in the general convention.

Canadian government inspection tests for imported eggs will be asked for by the women. The meeting favored the plan of egg marketing under federal and provincial inspection as carried out in Alberta, and appointed a committee to discuss the matter with a similar committee from the men's board.

A further resolution asked that the officials of the federal and the provincial departments of health meet and determine upon action to prevent duplication of effort.

Miss Agnes McPhail, Progressive member-elect of Southeast Grey, was accorded an enthusiastic reception during the afternoon meeting. Miss McPhail, with Mrs. Locking, brought greetings from Ontario.

Mrs. James Elliott, of Carsdale, was elected president, and Mrs. S. E. Gee, vice-president.

GOLD MINERS STRIKE.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press.)— The strike of gold miners, which was declared last Sunday, became effective yesterday, in all the mines throughout the Transvaal.

The strike was precipitated through an attempt by the mine-owners to re-organize the labor forces by greater employment of native labor, particularly in the semi-skilled occupations, in order to decrease working costs and thus meet the decreased price of gold.

THE CANNES CONFERENCE PROGRESSES

THE FRANCO-BRITISH PACT HOLDS THE ATTENTION OF THE DELEGATES—WHAT IT IMPLIES.

A DEFENSIVE ONE

CANNES, Jan. 11. — (Canadian Press).—As the reparations settlement was held up until to-day because of the failure of the French Premier, M. Briand, to receive a reply from his Cabinet at Paris to his report on what has been done thus far at Cannes, the Franco-British pact held the attention of the members of the Supreme Council throughout yesterday.

After two talks with Mr. Lloyd George, M. Briand declared the negotiations were a good way towards success, but that nothing had yet been decided in the form of a treaty, which is taken to mean that the draft now before the British Cabinet is merely a British suggestion which will be submitted to the French Premier after it is passed upon in London.

As for the Turkish question, it was not one concerning the Angora treaty, but concerned the entire question of peace in the Near East. The submarine question, he thought, would disappear when France and Great Britain became allies.

The German delegation of economic experts, called to Cannes by the Councillors, will arrive this morning and will be heard along with the Reparations Commission, as soon as a final decision is reached on the proposed new reparations terms. It is thought probable that the French Cabinet will communicate with M. Briand before noon and that the meeting with the Germans will take place during the afternoon.

The desire of the Italians to come into the Franco-British pact has delayed the announcement of the details of the negotiations that led up to the drafting of the pact which yesterday was before the British Cabinet for approval.

From such indiscretions as have been committed thus far regarding the pact, it may be said that it is purely a defensive one, Great Britain agreeing to come to the aid of France if she is the victim of an unprovoked attack. The general understanding is it contains a provision that the international situation must remain as before the war, except as provided by the Treaty of Versailles, which is interpreted as meaning that France must give up all idea of gaining any greater influence than she now has at Tangiers.

It is persistently reported that the agreement provides that the Angora Treaty between France and the Turkish Nationalists must be revised in a manner more favorable to British and Italian interests.

MAY NOT RETURN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14. — (Canadian Press.)—Jess Burkell, the old-time Cleveland and St. Louis slugger, who was attached to the Giants as a coach and scout last year, may not return to the world's champions for the 1922 season. After many years of successful coaching at Holy Cross College, Burkett came back to his old love, the majors, and now is considering an offer made by Boston College.

McGraw said that Burkett was welcome to remain with the Giants as he was considered a valuable part of the veterans' corps, of which Cozy Dolan and Hughie Jennings are the other members.

THE GUELPH WAY.

The city of Guelph is one Ontario municipality which never has a Mayoralty contest, at least so far as the citizens are concerned. The Aldermen of the Royal City follow the custom generally in use in England, by which the Mayor is chosen by the votes of the Council, instead of by the ballots of the electors. There may be some advantages in the plan, for the Aldermen are perhaps in a better position to select a presiding officer than the public, and ability would have a better chance to be recognized. But, on the other hand, a Mayoralty contest usually creates a greater interest in the municipal elections and a larger percentage of the vote is brought out when there is a fight for the Mayor's chair. Invariably when the Mayor is elected by acclammation there is less concern over the filling of the other offices and the vote polled is lighter. This has been Peterborough's experience, and no doubt other centres can give similiar testimony. In view of that fact, there is little danger of the Guelph plan achieving any unthe Guelph plan achieving any widespread measure of popularity.

MR. HEARST AGAIN.

Canadians have a better opportunity of judging the reliability of the Hearst newspaper publications as a result of the unblushing and impudent faking of an interview purported to have been given by Canada's Premier, in which Hon. Mackenzie King is reported to have said: "Efforts of the Hearst papers towards strengthening the bonds between the United States and Canada are splendid. The Hearst papers may rest assured that every overture they make will be cordially reciprocated by the Canadian Government." No such interview was given by the Premier; the whole report is an invention, a deliberate lie such as the Hearst organs have so often used to belittle England and to attempt to create ill-feeling between the British Empire and United States. The Hearst papers were banished from Canada during the war and should still be kept out. Their chief mission seems to be to make trouble, and if the relations between the United States and Canada are of the most cordial nature no thanks are due to Mr. Hearst or his newspapers. The good feeling exists in spite of Mr. Hearst—not because of him.

FOOLISH LEADERSHIP.

It seems to be the misfortune of many labour organizations to be handicapped by weak and unthinking leadership. They are headed by men who apparently are out of touch with public opinion, who do not seem to grasp the fact that the conditions as they exist at present are not favourable to war with employers. The strikes in the building rades in Toronto is an illustration of lack of thought on the part of Labour leaders, and another is furnished by the action of the Ottawa Trades and Labour Council in complicating the relief work that is being undertaken in that city by endeavouring to have the wages fixed for this work in conformity with what are known as "fair wage" standards. The city of Ottawa is taking advantage of the offer of the Government to pay a share of the cost of work undertaken for relief purposes, and necessarily under the circumstances men are being employed who are perhaps not as efficient as they might be. When the main object is to provide employment there cannot be the same discrimination in selection as under ordinary conditions, and the Trades and Labour Council should be the first to recognize the situation and to realize that demands for fixed wages and all that sort of thing are out of place at present. The great majority of the ratepayers will be entirely out of sympathy with anybody which endeavours to use relief work as a means of carrying on propaganda, and, as it has been pointed out by an Ottawa paper, the Ottawa Trades and Labour Council is not only hurting its own cause, but that of the unemployed.

THE NEW CHAIRMEN.

New members of the City Council have drawn several of the important portfolios, and their work will be watched with interest by the ratepayers. It is unusual for such a responsible Chairmanship as that of the Board of Works to fall to an Alderman with no previous Council experience, but Ald. Walter Stocker has the time at his disposal which this important department requires, is known as an energetic worker and should prove a success at the head of the Works Board. If he will pattern his direction of the department on the record left by the late G. Walter Green, who was undoubtedly the best Board of Works Chairman who has ever served the city, Ald. Stocker is bound to achieve results. His is the biggest spending department in the Council and the ratepayers will look to him for full value for the expenditure under his control. Ald. Melville Turner, who headed the polls at the recent election, has been chosen to preside over the Legal and Reception Committee and should do admirable work in that capacity. An infusion of new blood will do the Council no harm, and the new men with their reputations to make good can be depended upon to do their utmost.

AN EFFECTIVE AMERICAN REPLY.

William Randolph Hearst, the arch-German conspirator among profesedly loyal American citizens, has evidently become alarmed at the unanimity of thought and policy that has developed between Britain and the United States at the Disarmament Conference at Washington. Although the results of the deliberations have been approved overwhelmingly by the public opinion of the American people in general, the fact that the two great branches of the English-speaking people are working together in such a friendly manner has roused Hearst to an unprecedented outburst of illnatured slander and falsehood. In a signed article which he has published over his own signature on the front page of all the newspapers which he controls, he makes a malicious and vitriolic attack upon Britain and American statesmen as well.

Mr. Hearst tells his readers that the arms conference is worse than useless, that Britain and Japan are in league against the United States, and that the latter is simply a doormat for Britain. He says that international bankers, who are really the agents of Britain, are directing the conference, and that Mr. Balfour and Mr. Root make the decisions, the former in behalf of Britain, the latter in the interest of the international bankers. He further declares that Mr. Hughes, who is looked upon everywhere in the United States except in the Hearst newspaper offices, as an honest, capable and patriotic public servant is an "excelsior-stuffed statesman," whose abundant whiskers come in handy for purposes of manipulation by Britain.

He also makes an insidious attempt to add to the contention between Britain and France over the naval ratio. He asserts that the only disarmament which is proposed at Washington is that of "ceasing to arm in a way which might be effective against England and which might threaten England's complete supremacy on the seas." By magnifying the strength of Britain's merchant marine available for naval purposes he declares that she possesses twice or three times the fleet of any other nation. He then goes on to uter this abominable lie:

'France knows, too, that the strength of the actual battle fleet of England is the strength of the battle fleets of England and Japan combined—that England has always put the lie in alliance, that she lied before her secret alliance with Japan, but that the alliance did exist and was proved to exist, and that a secret separate alliance does now exist between England and Japan, no matter how much England may lie about it nor how many soft and simple statesmen at Washington may be deceived by her diplomatic falsehoods."

In reply to this, The Aberdeen Daily World, published in the State of Washington, makes a vigorous defence of the patriotism, ability and integrity of both Root and Hughes, and then says:

"If any two nations should be drawn together, it would be the United States and England. They speak the same language, they are of the same race and blood, they have the same traditions of self-government, a common inheritance of art and literature and courage. This country does not need an alliance anywhere, but if it should ever need a friend it will find one in England quicker than it will find one anywhere else in the world. England can't make a doormat out of this country, and no intelligent man believes it has any intention of trying. It cannot annex, it cannot use this country.

"Mr. Hearst in his comment is simply repeating the German propaganda of the war period, the propaganda that would have carried us into the war on the side of Germany to the triumph of despotism and the destruction of democracy. The Hearst stuff is just as true as was the German propaganda—and you know how true that was."

If this is not a malicious and criminal attempt to stir up hatred and war out of the greatest peace effort of modern times, it is hard to adequately stigmatize this venomous attack.—Brantford Expositor.

There was a good attendance of both Presbyterians and Methodists at the union prayer service held on Tuesday evening, as was also the case on Monday night, when the services began. Rev. S. T. Tucker made the opening prayer, and Rev. G. S. Gervan delivered a very helpful address from James v., 16; "Confess your faults one to another, and pray for one another. The effectual fervent prayer of ther ighteous man availeth much." The verse emphasizes the value and power of prayer, and this was the speaker's subject. A fifteen-minute song service is held each evening at the beginning of the meeting, Miss Stella Hetherington, the church organist, presiding at the piano. Rev. Joseph Welks will be the speaker to-night, hence an excellent address is assured.

Rev. A. M. Ferris, of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Board of S. S. and P. P. S. for the Presbyterian Church, will preach in Grace Presbyterian Church, Millbrook, both morning and evening, on Sunday, January 15th, and at St. Enoch's Church, Garden Hill, in the afternoon. Mr. Ferris will also attend the banquet to be held here on Monday evening and speak especially in the interests of young people's work. Williamson, Mr. Irwin and Mrs. J. Hatherly, Mrs. J. McKnight, Mrs. C. W. Richards, Mrs. A. Brown, Misses P. Byam, A. Hampton and Pearl Burnham.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the pastor, and after the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, Arnold Raper and Lloyd Byam were appointed delegates to attend the Boys' Conference to be held in Cobourg January 27th, 28th and 29th. Mr. Irwin Hatherly, who teaches the Tuxis Boys' Class, will also attend the gathering. After the reading of the treasurer's report, which showed a balance on hand of about $140, several bills for supplies from American publishing houses were ordered paid; also $50 on the Book-Room account, Toronto. This report also stated that the total receipts from the New Year's entertainment were $117.25, expenses $28.70, leaving a clear balance of $88.55.

Some discussion re the annual promotion of the classes which took place last Sunday, when twenty-four children came out of the primary department into the main school, led to several changes being suggested, some of which will be carried out.

The meeting closed with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Mr. Tucker.

MONARCH FLOUR

An Investment-- With Successful Men-- In a Sound Enterprise

WE HAVE been almost exclusively a Government and Municipal Bond House, consequently the underwriting of a Hotel's securities was, and is, a departure from our established policy, and one not to be undertaken lightly.

As a result, several abstract things weighed with us in our underwriting of the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited.

Not the least of these was the success of the men who were to manage the enterprise.

We had seen them bring, among others, The King Edward Hotel in Toronto from a losing business into a handsome dividend-paying concern within two years. We had seen them make a financial success of the operation of sixteen other hotels, any one of which presents a far harder problem, in a financial way, than does "The Mount Royal Hotel" in Montreal.

Not only so, but these same men have secured a Directorate for "The Mount Royal Hotel" of the most able and successful business men in Canada. And, because of all these factors, we underwrote "The Mount Royal Hotel" 8% Convertible Debentures, and with all the force at our command, and with our reputation at stake, are offering them to investors.

It is our considered opinion that these 8% Convertible Debentures are a safe and sound investment; and it is our judgment that in a reasonable time substantial dividends should be paid upon the Common Stock, which is now given away as a bonus.

Write today for a copy of our circular describing fully the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, offered at 100 and interest, carrying a bonus of 30% of Common Stock.

To W. A. Mackenzie & Co., Ltd.

38 King Street West, Toronto.

On Monday of this week the visit was to the farm of Mr. William McConnel and the cattle judged were pure-bred Durhams.

At the Leaders' and Boys' Conference held in Lindsay, January 6th to 8th, with over 300 boys in attendance ,the following officers were elected at the Saturday evening session:

Grand Pretor, Frank Alcorn, Millbrook.
Deputy Grand Pretor, Walter Peel, Lindsay.
Scriptor, Alex. Hall, Lindsay.

There were four boys nominated for the office of Grand Pretor,each one having to make an impromptu address; afterwards when the ballots were counted it was found that 80 per cent. of the votes cast were for Frank Alcorn, who is mentor of the Tuxis Boys' Square in connection with the Methodist church here.

Some of the leaders who spoke at the different sessions of the conference, which were marked by great enthusiasm, were Mr. W. J. Carlisle, Conference Director, Rev. Mr. Ferris, Secretary of the Ontario Board of S. S. and Y.P.S. of the Presbyterian Church, whose subject was: "The Marks of a Successful Leader," Rev. Manson Boyle, Assistant Secretary of S.S. and Y.P.S. of the Methodist Church, who spoke on: "The Quest of the Best," Mr. C. F. The local clergy and many others from outside points also contributed excellent addresses during the conference which closed with a most impressive session on Sunday evening.

Annual Convention.

The Township S. S. Executive for Cavan and South Managhan met in the Methodist Church, Cavanville, on Monday evening, January 9th, to arrange plans for the annual convention. The President, Mr. J. L. On motion of Mr. Seymour, seconded by Mr. Douglas, Mrs. J. L. Byam and Miss Burnham were added to the committee. For various reasons, others who belong to the executive were unable to be at the meeting.

An invitation from Grace Presbyterian Church, Millbrook, to hold the convention in that church was gratefully accepted, the date being set for January 24th, when Rev. W. T. Fletcher, of the Ontario Religious Education Council, Toronto, will be available, as he expects to be in the district attending similar gatherings at Janetville and Blackstock. Other speakers were arranged for, provided their services can be secured. Hundreds of Testimonials from People Cured like the following ones:

DOMVILLE, Grenville Co., Ont., April 28, 1921.

J. L. Armstrong, Specialist, 102 Bank St., Ottawa, Ont.

Dear Sir,—The appliance that you put on me the 18th of September, 1919, caused a complete cure in seven (7) months. I left it off late in April, 1920. I have not had it or any other on since, although I worked very hard on the farm all last summer, and have done the usual work on the farm all winter. I HAVE NO SYMPTOMS OF RUPTURE.

Before going to you I had more than thirty (30) years' experience wearing all kinds of trusses. Some of these were put on me by men who should know how to fit them. When I saw a new truss advertised I bought. I assure you I had tried many times to get something to hold the rupture. Now, owing to the merits of your invention, I am entirely free from rupture and as well able to work my farm as any man my age. I am now sixty-seven (67) years old. You have my permission to use the above facts, because I am anxious that others may benefit by my experience.

J. L. Armstrong, Specialist, Ottawa, Ont.

Dear Sir,—The appliance you put on me last July has caused a complete cure of that large and very troublesome femoral rupture. I kept your invention on exactly three months. Since leaving it off, I have done all the fall ploughing and other work. I feel stronger than ever before where the rupture was. Before going to you a well-known physician examined me. He said that I could not be cured. I certainly was afraid that I would never get any relief. My neighbours can tell you the condition that I was in. I am in my sixty-third year, and entirely free from rupture, owing to the merit of your invention. Therefore, I can conscientiously advise every ruptured person to visit you without delay.

It is conjectured that the state of the roads have to that extent hindered her movements and the probability is that she may not be back in this city for the balance of the week.

MONTREAL, January 11. Canadian Press. — "As a revenue producer the Quebec liquor law has brought millions into the treasury of the province, and as a publicity measures thousands of visitors have been drawn to the city, but from the standpoint of sobriety dunkenness is evidently increasing, and though the high water mark of 1914 has not yet been equalled, we seem to be coming dangerously neor it."

This declaration is from the interim report on the liquor situation.

MERCHANT TONNAGE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—Construction of merchant tonnage in all countries of the world has now shrunk to approximately pre-war proportions, according to a statement issued here by Lloyd's Register of Shipping, giving statistics of ship tonnage under way on January 1, 1922.

"While the depression is general," the statement asserted, "the most marked decline is in the United States. Three months ago, France, Holland and Italy were all constructing less tonnage than America. To-day each of them is building more than the American yards.

MONTREAL PRODUCE MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 11.— (Canadian Press.)—There was no change in the condition of the local cash grain market yesterday, prices being steady. The flour situation is without change of interest, a steady demand continues for mill feed with a fair amount of business at firm prices. The market for rolled oats is steady. Prices of baled hay are unchanged. A weaker feeling developed in new laid eggs with prices down 5c. a dozen, but other grades were unchanged. A little more business was done in potatoes. The butter and cheese markets are still very dull.

PRESIDENT RESIGNS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—Francis L. Hine has resigned as President of the First National Bank.

Jackson E. Reynolds, a former Vice-President, was chosen President, and Mr. Hine was named as Chairman of the Executive Committee.

THE BREAK IN EGGS.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11. —(Canadian Press.) —The present break in the price of fresh eggs is viewed differently by certain sections of the trade. Some are of the opinion that the markets have declined too quickly for so early in the season and a reaction will come as consumption improves at the lower levels or as production may be curtailed by periods of cold weather. Others in the trade are of the opinion that production will be much heavier this season and there is no likelihood of any improvement in the market. On the Chicago market to-day fresh are offering at 32 1-2 f.o.b. costing about 39 delivered this country. 2,000 cases of Chinese fresh eggs previously reported have been transshipped from Seattle to Vancouver. As yet these have not been moved and some attempts are being made to dispose of them locally. Of those previously reported rolling east, one car was diverted to Winnipeg and two cars are reported as having arrived Ottawa.

Toronto lower, specials jobbing 60 to 61, extras 56 to 59, storage extras 50 to 52, firsts 45 to 46, seconds 40. Poultry receipts light live in good demand, prices firm, dressed dull.

"It was just about two years ago that I began to be distressed after every meal. I had awful smothering spells at times and my heart beat so irregularly that I often thought I wouldn't live through the attack. Headaches were the bane of my existence and I shudder even now when I think of them. My back hurt me, too, and it was just agony for me to bend over and straighten up again.

Tanlac has done for me far more than I ever expected and I'm like a different person altogether. In fact, I'm in perfect health now. In my opinion, Tanlac is the best medicine under the sun."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

ANNUAL MEETING ST. GEORGE'S VESTRY

Wardens and Other Officials Elected — Encouraging Reports.

SOUTH MONAGHAN, Jan. 11.—The annual vestry meeting of St. George's Anglican Church was held in the school room at 8 p.m., Monday night, Rev. W. R. Courage presiding.

Reports were presented by Mr. Allcock for the Sunday School, Mr. D. Manley for the Church Wardens and Rev. W. R. Courage read the report of the Ladies' Guild.

All the reports were of a highly encouraging nature and showed a small surplus.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—Mr. Sims, People's Warden; Mr. D. Manley, Rector's Warden; Mr. Kitchen and Mr. S. Jay, Sidesmen; Mr. Brownlee and Mr. Moore, Advisory Committee.

During the past year a house was bought for a rectory, but only a small sum being paid on the purchase price at the time, a strenuous effort is to be made this year to wipe off a good slice of the debt. No doubt an appeal will be made to our fellow churchmen in the city to assist us in this matter.

A vote of thanks was passed to the retiring Wardens and other officers for their services during the past year.

Special mention was made in reference to Mr. Ferguson, retiring Warden, who undertook his duties as Warden during a very trying time in the history of this church, and has faithfully carried out a difficult task for three years. Just now he is confined to his bed with pneumonia.

Votes of thanks to the Ladies' Guild, the choir and Sunday School officers were registered.

LAKEFIELD WON FROM PETERBORO

P.A.A.A. JUNIORS LOST OUT IN A CLOSELY CONTESTED BATTLE

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 11. — The P.A.A.A. Junior hockey team played the Junior team in Lakefield last night, with a score resulting in 2-1 for the northern village. The game was not fast at any stage of the performance, and the Peterobrough aggregation were unable, evidently, to put up a strong defence against the speedy youngsters of Lakefield, the latter showing the effect of extra practice. There was no scoring in the first period, Lakefield scored one in the second and one in the third, Hopkins scoring Peterborough's lone goal in the second. Peterborough seemed to have the best combination, and Lakefield's second goal was a fluke hit, bouncing into the goal from one of the defence player's stick. A large crowd and fairly good ice contributed to a rather uninteresting game, which lacked any spectacular features.

Harry Chew for the home team, starred on the left wing, showing considerable speed, but a trifle weak in his shooting. Hardill was useful in the defence, and Templet, in goal, a newcomer in the Juniors, turned out to be a second Mickey Murray. Sabatino, on Lakefield's defence, was easily the best player on their line-up. The line-up stood as follows:

Referee—Percy Bond.

In the Intermediate series, Lindsay have defaulted their two games to Lakefield.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

SASKATOON, Sask., Jan. 11. — (Canadian Press.)—The opening session of the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Agricultural Societies' Association held yesterday was featured by an address by Walter C. Murray, president of the University of Saskatchewan, in which he drew attention to the research work being conducted at the University of Value to the Farmer.

There was, for instance, the experimentation being conducted in the matter of the effect of alkali on concrete. This was being carried out by the Engineering Association of Canada, with the co-operation of the members of the science faculty. If a solution were found to the problem of the destruction of concrete by alkali it would mean the saving of millions of dollars annually in the west. Much progress had already been made and it had already been discovered that the question was one of chemical, not of physical, effect.

NIGHT COUGHS

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep.

The constant coughing keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition that they get no chance to heal.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

F. Linton and Joseph Wearing also asks that proper lightning facilities and accomodation for hanging up clothes be provided. The report was adpted.

Fire Insurance Rates

A short discussion of the fire insurance rates in Peterboro produced a motion by B. F. Ackerman seconded by Thomas Barrie that the Fire Underwriters be asked for information as to the reasons for the discrimination in recent reductions by which Toronto rates were clipped 15 per cent and Peterboro's only 10 percent. The resolution also declared that the Chamber of Commerce should take a more active part in fire prevention efforts.

Left To Executive

A resolution supporting the new Act requiring that all imported goods shall be marked with the name of the country in which they were manufactured and also the Act requiring that the depreciated currencies of countries from which goods are imported must be estimated for duty purposes at not less than fifty percent of the par value of such currencies, was referred to the executive committee for their careful consideration and with power to act.

Old Home Week

The Old Home Week which was virtually sunk without a trace by promoting committe on Monday night received a passing motion from the members of the Chamber last night, but will be more fully considered at the next meeting. Dr. Harvey held out a rescuing hand to it but got no encouragement from the other members.

"I read the report in tonight's paper" Dr. Harvey said " and it was a continuous lamentation from one end to the other."

He could hardly believe that the invincible spirit of the men with whom he had worked in various civic enterprises was to fail in the Old Home Week proposal. "Terrible" was one of the adjectives Dr Harvey used in his peppery attempt to arouse enthusiasm but this item on the agenda was passed over without further comment.

New Members Welcomed

Mr. Duffus opened the meeting with a hearty welcome to the new members. The present membership was 275 as compared with 270 last year. If the Chamber of Commerce maintained the strength it had developed and also continued to flourish he believed that it would be in a position to reduce the membership fee from $15 to $10 a year, which, he said, would be the cheapest in the province. The fee in most of the other Chambers of Commerces was $25.

"The Chamber of Commerce is absolutely the most important organization in and for the City of Peterbro" declared Mr. Duffus, who said he hoped that every citizen would come to realize that without the Chamber of Commerce, Peterboro could not progress as it should.

CHUR H SERVICES AT MARK STREET

The congregation was large and the choir was out in force. Both services were deeply spiritual.

"The Clouded Vision"

was the subject of the morning sermon and was based on 1 Cor. xiii., 12—"For now we see through a glass, darkly but then face to face; now I know in part, but then shall I know even as also I am known." The following is a synopsis of the discourse:

From the cradle to the grave we are ever asking questions. The milestones along life's pathway are great rocks of interrogation. We are very ignorant; how limited is our stock of an unknown sea. This thought search for truth, the wider the field that meets our view. We are like children gathering shells on the shore of an unknown sea. This thought was borne in upon my mind a few years ago as I ascended the circular stairway of Sir Walter Scott's monument in Edinburgh, Scotland. While I stood at the base of the monument I could see but little of the beautiful city; but as we ascended from platform to platform, the scene became wider and more entrancing, until we stood two hundred feet above the gardens, gazing out over one of the most magnificent cities in Europe, and far away into the glory of the Scottish hills. That is like getting an education; the higher you climb the wider the view. The more you learn the greater capacity for knowledge, and the larger the vision of truth.

Life's Interrogation Points.

Glass refers to some of those transparent substances which the ancients had in their windows. Thin plates of horn, transparent stone, talc, agate, very thin marble, were all used in windows, and were only semi-transparent. Through these the people saw objects very obscurely. That is, "through a glass darkly." What burning problems confront us at every move we make, for which we have no solution.

Religion Without Mystery.

To live on the verge of mystery is the very condition of our being. A religion without mystery is utterly absurd. Science itself grapples with mystery. For more than two hundred years the scientific world has been rent with discussions upon the "Origin of Life." Two great schools have defended exactly opposite views. One claimed that matter can spontaneously generate life; the other that life can only come from pre-existing life. But the doctrine of spontaneous generation has been exploded, and science stands with bowed head and exclaims, "In Him (Jesus Christ) was life." Darwin burned out his brain and soul trying to show that your grandfather and mine were members of the baboon tribe, and their ancestors were of the frog family. But the Darwinian theory has been blown to atoms, and the master minds of the world stand forth 'mid the shower of shattered fragments, and uncovering their heads, exclaim, "Our Father and our God." But nevertheless the "Origin of Life" is a marvel, a mystery, and a miracle.

Miracle of Spiritual Life.

The origin of spiritual life is a mystery, but it is a fact as clear as the fact of natural life. The Holy Spirit imparts the spiritual germ, and the plant of the new nature springs forth. Then the old nature begins to sicken an ddie, and as the process of decay develops, so does the process of the new life. Decay and death to the old nature, life and development to the new. I saw a beautiful young sapling growing out of the centre of an old stump. The old was dying, the new was growing. There you have it. But is it not a mystery? It surely is to the man who thinks.

The Mystery of Evil Staggers the Mind.

Sin entered the soul of our first parents from without. How could this be? What was in the pure spirit to respond to an exterior tempt tion? Why did God permit sin in the world? Well, these questions cannot be answered now; but we shall see with clearer vision when the mists have cleared away. But we know sin and sorrow and decay and death are here. And we also know that struggle against wrong tends to develop our spiritual powers. And we also know that where sin abounds, grace abounds much more; and what we lost in the first Adam we gained a thousand times more in Christ.

The Incarnation.

The infinite mind alone could devise the plan of redemption. God is a spirit. Men are afraid of the supernatural, and so all tribes in all ages have fled from spirits. As a great spirit, men are afraid of God, and so try to turn away his wrath by sacrifice. God will become man, and so get near to the terrified sons of Adam. Yes, Jesus comes and lives and suffers. He lives and dies and conquers death, and rises from the grave, that we may be delivered from sin and death and the grave and hell. How beautiful, but what a mystery!

Mystery of the Trinity.

This great doctrine has made the human mind tremble in all the ages since Christ. Who can understand? But nothing must rob us of the truth, that the tender loving Christ whom men have seen is an exact counterpart of the mighty God whom we have not seen. If the doctrine of the Trinity be not in the Bible, it ought to be, for our whole spiritual nature cry out for such a truth. God the Father, Christ the Son and Redeemer, the Holy Spirit the Comforter. Who can grasp this mystery? But nature embodies the truth in a ray of light. I hold in my hand a prism. A single ray of light passes through and becomes three beams. On the one side of the prism a single ray, on the other side three. We might also speak of the mysterious powers of the human soul, which can wander in thought through the eternities. Let us wait for clearer vision.

LIVER TROUBLE

BAD BILIOUS ATTACKS

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, the tongue coated, the breath bad, the stomach foul and sick, and bilious spells occur on account of the liver holding back the bile which is so essential to promote the movement of the bowels, and the bile gets into the blood instead of passing out through the usual channel.

The only way to keep the liver active and working properly, and thus get rid of the nasty bilious attacks, is to keep the bowels regular by using

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, work smoothly and gently, and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old fashioned purgatives.

Mr. John S. Caron ,Donavon, Sa , writes: "I was troubled with my liver and had severe bilious attacks. A friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, so I took two vials and have had no more attacks."

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FATHERS TOOK ALONG THEIR SONS TO ROTARIAN LUNCHEON

APPROPRIATE ADDRESSES BY REV. DR. SEAGER, PROVOST OF TRINITY, AND GEO. A. MACDONALD.

CASH FOR BOYS' CAMP

(By F. H. DOBBIN)

Monday's luncheon was a cheerful gathering of men on whom the short relaxation of the holidays had not made any perceptible effect in lessening the will and endeavor to try and do some good. As a matter of general influence, and it being Father and Sons' day, all fathers brought along their sons, or one son selected from the number at home, and in default of owning a son annexed the son of some other father, borrowed for the occasion. It is surprising how readily a father will lend his son for the above purpose when he would never lend his Cadillac car on a similar request. Possibly the mechanism of the car is more complicated than that of the boy or that the boy might be mended, if out of order, at less expense. This suggestion opens up a wide field of speculation, and is respectfully handed to the Kiwanians Club for further discussion. For it is understood that Kiwanians have more cars than sons.

Anyway the tables were filled and flowed over into the annex. For Rotarians, the main dining room is ever there to be made use of when occasion requires. During luncheon in place of the usual boisterous songs, Kenneth McCannon, the boy soprano, sang several solos. All well appreciated.

A Father's Duty

Rotarian George A. Macdonald spoke on "A Father's Duty to His Son." His text, if it may be referred to, contained the thought that as every boy is a potential father, the father of today is just a grown-up boy. He pointed out that basic foundation of relative association between father and son, that the father should be his boy's chum. Little harm came to a boy while in company and association with his father, it being assumed that the father was of the right kind. And when the father lacked, it was the social duty of some other father to lend a hand in the boy's interest. The work in our schools and in our Sunday schools showed the working out of that principle on a community basis.

True it was amply exemplified, that as a boy grew up the father found it the harder to control him, and to keep up with the boy, but the father should keep on trying for the closer he could get to his son in thought, deed, manner and chummy association the better and finer would be the character of the latter. Again assuming that the father could give more than he received. The preponderence of influence should ever be on the side of the father. The whole doctrine of parental helpfulness was enshrined in the sentence that we should all get off our high horses and get level with our boys. In a public way, dealing with a personal matter, was where the influence of such an organization as the Y.M.C.A. found its great usefulness. There might be homes in which the boy training would be lacking. Then, in an effort for better future citizenship of the growing boy other influences should surround the boy to guide, foster and educate in manly attributes and ambitions.

Dr. Seager Spoke

Rev. Dr. Seager, Provost of Trinity University, addressed the Club on "The Education of the Boy". He uttered a Great Truth right at the start, one impressive and extensive, when he said that while boys were the materials on which the university worked and moulded the finished article, the fathers were those who had to pay. It was essential for the permanancy of our national and community life that education should become universal. The best protection that a country should have was the well informed masses. An educated proletariat would make Democracy safe. Rotarians have an opening for practical work in spreading the gospel of education. It indeed rivalled the Gospel of the Great Book, that laid down the principle of Brotherhood of Man and for Men.

The Day's Temptation

In another phase of this great work came the temptation of our day and that was the stoppage of the education of a boy too soon, largely due to the necessities of modern life when his earnings are necessary to the support of himself or for the support of others, generally in the family. Growing out of this great need for education we had and have the Adolescent School Act, which imperatively insists that the education of the child shall be continued until the age of sixteen years is reached, and even for a longer period. In Toronto alone this Act has carried back into the schools 22,000 children who otherwise would have ceased to be taught. Of course the Act had ameloriating classes giving easement where the earnings of the youth absolutely needed.

Good News

It is ever satisfactory when a Rotarian be the bearer of good news. Especially when the good news results from Rotarian efforts. So when Rotarian Abbott reported that the sum of $64.00 has been gained, as the avails from the last Rotarian event at the Conservatory, and the money was for the Boys' Camp, the gathering gave three cheers. Decidely better. Very satisfactory, and those who tooled the affair, were admonished to do it again.

Then Rotarian Killaly, who always comes to the gatherings bringing his sheaves with him, (to steal a metaphor from the collection of Rotarian Young), said that the Royal Theatre had been engaged for January 25th, when the Club would entertain at a theatre night. Of which all interested will take due notice.

GREATEST TEXT IN THE BIBLE

The greatest text in the Bible was the preacher's theme at the Gospel Hall, Monday night.

"I have often asked in public," he said," what is the greatest text in the Bible, and always the one I have chosen has been the cry of all, John iii., 16: 'FoFr God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.' This text has endeared itself to me for this reason: My little girl claimed it as hers, and she would often climb on my knee and ask me to repeat it after her. She passed away last April, going into the presence of God with this text on her lips. She was three and a half years old."

These words, said the preacher, came from heaven; our Saviour said so: "For I have not spoken of myself, but the Father which sent me. He gave me a commandment what I should say and what I should speak. Whatsoever I speak, therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak," John 12-49-50. This text contains the gospel in a nutshell; it is a Bible in itself; enough is said here to save the world if the people would only believe. The theme of the verse is salvation, and this is the burden of the Bible; it can be divided up into six points, viz.:

1st, "The Source of Salvation." For God so loved the world. We trace our salvation to the very heart of God. He so loved the world. Some people think that Christ died in order to make God love us. No, no: it was because God loved us that Christ came and died.

2nd, "The Means of It." He gave His only Son. This, said the preacher, took in the birth of Christ, His unique life and His sacrificial death; also His glorious resurrection and ascension to the right hand of God. No other way could be found for man to be saved; but the Eternal One must take upon Himself the form of a man, and as man had brought sin into the world, He, the perfect man, must take it out. God, the source; Christ, the means.

3rd, "The Condition of Salvation." That whosoever believeth in Him. That is, faith in Christ secures salvation. "It is not of works, lest any man should boast," Eph. ii., 9. No money was asked for by God; no good deeds of ours can buy it—not even our prayers can secure it. But simple faith. When the jailer of Philipi cried out, "What must I do to be saved," the answer came, "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." This is God's own word.

4th, "The Need of Salvation." Should not perish. Many are saying today: "What have I to do with thee " "Why does God disturb us?" "Why this earnest gospel call?" Oh, the world in which we live is a doomed world; it has been ruined by sin; it is fallen, perishing. The preacher then described the sinking of the Titanic nearly ten years ago. "I remember when that ship was building; they said it was unsinkable. Every safety device known was on that ship—water-tight doors and bulk-heads, one-half of the ship could be flooded and the other half would keep it from sinking. But you know the sad story. I have it on good authority that the carpenters working on that ship wrote on the backs of the panels in the state-rooms 'Even God Almighty cannot sink this ship!' No wonder she went down! And even two hours after she struck the fatal blow, hundreds on board knew no danger, believing it an unsinkable ship. Oh, unconverted friend, you may feel very secure, but this old world is doomed. St. Peter says 'It is to be burned and all the works therein.' II. Peter iii., 10"

5th, "The Result Is Everlasting Life." That is, the soul who puts faith in Christ, in His atoning blood, receives now on earth divine life. We do not need to wait till after death to know this; but here are plain unmistakable words, telling us that to believe is to receive this life, which is like God—everlasting. Oh, what a message this is—eternal life offered to all who believe.

Last of all you have the "Extent of This Salvation." It is to whosoever—none are excluded. God has salvation for all. Wherever the gospel has been preached, be it in China or in darkest Africa, it saves all who believe it. Then, let me ask you have you got this salvation? God offers it to you. Have you received it yet? Remember, that while this verse speaks of salvation, it also implies damnation, for the word "perish" means this. To reject God's gift means to be lost. Then, while the offer is good today, receive it and be eternally saved.

Indoor Life

Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and certain.

Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicine I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles with excellent results."

G. O. CAMERON GIVES LESSON ON COURTESY

Talks in "The Blue Bell" on 'Phone Trouble Problems.

In the January issue of "The Blue Bell", the small and interesting magazine published monthly in the interests of the Bell Telephone Company, and edited by Mr. G. O. Cameron, former local manager of the Bell Telephone office here, under the heading of "Plant Men on Public Relations," appears the following:

"When a subscriber has been inconvenienced by his instrument being out of order, it will go a long [illegible] irritation if the Plant Representative explains the cause, expresses regret, and the hope that interruption was beyond our control, that the repairs have been made promptly, and the person making them was pleasant and courteous, a good rather than a bad recollection will be left."—W. Welbourne, Wire Chief, Peterborough.

Lived At Switchboard

In "Echoes of Telephone Week", it says:

"As a result of 'Telephone Week,' Peterboro staff held a social evening when the operators were given a chance to go over the equipment and have it explained to them. Charlie Thornton, Central Office man, gave them a very interesting talk. 'Two years an operator and never saw anything but the front of the switchboard' does no apply to any of the Peterboro girls now."

FOUR MEN KILLED

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio., Jan. 11. (Canadian Press).—Four men were reported killed to-day when an engine of Chesapeake and Ohio Northern overturned near Wheeler's Mills.

INVESTIGATE "BABY FARM"

that she is keeping them purely out of charity.

Mr. G. W. Powell gave some further information regarding these children, remarking that his hands were tied by the ruling of the Board that no child under two years of age shall be admitted to the Shelter.

Mr. Joseph Wearing, the solicitor for the Children's Aid Society, confirmed the statement that Mr. Powell had no authority to receive children under this age, but that, contrary to the belief held very generally by members of he Board of Directors, that children under two years of age might be admitted to the Shelter after special consideration by the directors. This information came as a surprise to most of the members.

Adjutant Bunton had considerable information to impart regarding the "baby farm" referred to, which he considered an unfit habitation, and amused the meeting to a certain extent with his serious reference to the action of the lady who recently "landed in Police Court with two babies, which she insisted on me taking charge of."

Committee to Investigate.

After considerable discussion, it was decided to appoint Rev. F. E. Malott, Mr. John Edgar, Dr. D. C. King, and Adjutant Bunton a committee to investigate reported conditions, and approach the proper local authorities with a view to having some legislation enacted enabling them to cope with existing conditions.

Sundry Business.

Mr. G. W. Powell, in his report, referred to the Junior Red Cross activities in Toronto, by which the sum of $335.00 was recently collected for various children's organisations in that city, and advocated the forming of such an auxiliary here. He announced that he had been appointed by the Government as representative for reporting on the working of the Unmarried Mothers' Act in this county.

Mrs. S. Evans, one of the senior members of the Board, tendered her resignation from the directorate. This was finally accepted with regret and the hope that she might re-consider her decision in the future, also an expression of appreciation for Mrs. Evans' long and valued service as a member of the Board and of the sewing club at the Shelter.

The appointment of Mrs. W. H. Darcey was made to replace Mrs. Evans.

The secretary, Mr. John Edgar, referred in his report to the handsome donation received recently of $200.00 from th estate of the late Sir Sandford Fleming. A certain sum which the executors would deem advisable having been bequeathed by this estate for the benefit of charitable work in the city of Peterborough, the Board felt that the thanks of the Society were due to the action of Mr. E. H. D. Hall in contributing the amount of $200.00 to the coffers of the Children's Aid Society, and the secretary was instructed to convey its grateful acknowledgment to Mr. Hall for the same.

Adjutant Bunton added a touch of pathos to the usual procedure by his plea for the procuring of photographs for a certain family whose children had been made wards of the Society and are now separated from them. He considered that these parents, who have "been living straight and trying to do their best for some years now," should be encouraged, remarking that families who were constant backsliders had, in some cases, secured the return of their children to their homes. In the case referred to, neither child wishes to return to the parents, who would, however, like to have a pictured representation of them.

Reports.

The Matron's report for the month gave the number of children in the Shelter during December as 20, admissions 6, departures 3, with no sickness.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE'S VIEWS.

To the Editor of The Globe:

In your cartoon of Thursday you refer once again to the Conservative party and the convention which it will shortly hold to elect Sir Thomas White Leader. Mr. Meighen is, or was, Leader of the National Liberal and Conservative party, which had very few candidates in the field at the last election. I do not think that there were more than fifteen N. L. and C. candidates standing at the last election. The remainder were, like myself, straight Conservatives, who had no Leader, but who are waiting for the public announcement of the date of our convention, when a Leader will be selected. Our last Leader was Sir Robert Borden, who left us without even the usual farewell address. On account of his desertion of us, which we could hardly have expected, we are naturally a bit at sea, but a Dominion-wide correspondence makes it clear to me that the great Conservative (one from conviction, and, therefore, the only true sort) Sir Thomas White, a really great statesman and strategist, will be our next Leader. Mr. Meighen is apparently going on with his new party, which does not hold conventions. Mr. Rogers is going farming, and will, I think, not be a candidate for leadership, the Department of Elections having lapsed.

A SAFE ALDERMAN

Editor, Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In Monday night's Examiner was a letter written by Mr. Alex. Murray criticizing Mr. Gus. L. Hay's services as an Alderman of this city.

I was a member of the City Council and Mr. Hay was also a member. He was a first class, careful, cautious advisor in the City's affairs, and he would be a valuable acquisition to the City Council to-day if he were a member.

Mr. Murray's statements indicating that Mr. Hay's assistance to the City was of little value, is altogether beside the mark, and is not based on fact, and I believe I am safe in saying that every member of the City Council who sat during the time Mr. Hay was a member, will endorse my statement that during the short time he was alderman, he was one of the best, safest and most conscientious members that the City Council has known for years.

It is just such unkind criticisms as these which have a tendency to cause good business men to hesitate in serving in the City's interests.

I remain, Yours truly,

G. N. GORDON

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—May I have enough of your valuable space to say to the people of Peterborough that we can help to save the lives of some of the people of Russia through the agency of the American Friends' Service Committee. Reports from members of the committee engaged in relief work in September tell a very sad tale. Many had then died of starvaton, tens of thousands more will die because the supply of food is pitiably inadequate, but we can save some lives, if we will. Mr. Charles D. Gordon, the manager of the Dominion Bank, King and Yonge Streets Branch, Toronto, is acting as treasurer of this Special Relief Fund for the Friends. The money contributed to this speci alfund is used exclusively for the purchase of food, all overhead expenses, including the payment of the expenses of workers in the field, are borne by the Friends' Service Committee General Fund. I have this information from Mr. A. S. Rogers, 56 Church Street, Toronto, one of the Friends, and treasurer for his church.

MRS. E. ALEXANDER COMING TO CITY.

Will Speak in St. Paul's Church, January 17.

The name of Charles Alexander, the famous singer and leader, is a household name throughout the Christian world. It is doubtful if he had an equal, while he lived, as a popular leader of a large chorus. His life, as recently published by his wife, reveals a character of singular beauty and winsomeness. He became famous when, in company with Dr. Torrey, he made an evangelistic tour of the world. They began their work in Australia and it was then, the now well-known hymn, "The Glory Song", gained its first popularity.

Mr. Alexander married Miss Cadbury, a daughter of one of the wealthy and well known Quaker families of Britain. When her husband died over a year ago, she decided to carry on the work in which she had been engaged while travelling with her husband as they made their tours of the world. She is now on a visit to Canada, and will be in Peterboro on Tuesday, January 17, when she will address a public meeting of the Christian people of the city in St. Paul's Church. She will be here but one night. Mrs. Alexander is a fluent and able speaker. It will be a great privilege for the people of Peterboro to meet and hear this gifted woman.

The coat dress, the straight-line chemise dress, the frock with low waist line and moderately wide skirt and the one with bouffant skirt and tight bodice are all displayed. And each one finds a favor.

PROPOSES P.A.A.A. TO COUNCIL AS TRUSTEES OF RIVERSIDE PARK

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IN FAVOUR OF LEASING THE ENCLOSED BALL GROUNDS YEARLY UNDER CONDITIONS THAT MAY PROVE FINANCIALLY PROFITABLE.

The following resolution, unanimously passed by the Chamber of Commerce last night on the motion of Rev. F. E. Malott, seconded by P. P. Westbye, is self-explanatory:

"Whereas, that portion of property on the east side of the River Otonabee and immediately south of Ashburnham Bridge known as Riverside Park, has now become the property of the city.

"And whereas, we believe the portion already enclosed, known as the Riverside Baseball Park, should remain enclosed, so as to be utilized for baseball and athletic events of all kinds, which will enable it to be revenue producing.

"Therefore resolved, that we, the Chamber of Commerce, would strongly recommend that the City Council make the necessary arrangements to lease the Riverside Baseball Park yearly to the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association, under such conditions as may prove revenue producing for the city, commensurate to the initial capital outlay necessary to secure this property."

Connacher, Burch and Other Senior Stars To Perform in Peterboro

It will be welcome news to the Peterborough fans that the celebrated Dominion Bank team of Toronto, a squad made up of well-known senior players, will be here on Monday night next to play an exhibition game with the P.A.A.A. crew. This should be one of the best games of the season, and will give a good opportunity to judge of the ability of the Petes in fast company. Included in the Dominion Bank line-up are Lionel Conacher, the star defence man, and Billy Burch, crack centre of the Aura Lea Seniors; Jack Agett, sensational forward of the Senior Granites; Stone, the Argonaut goalkeeper; Rodden, and other players of similar calibre. These stars have been in action for several months, and are in the pink of condition, so the Petes will have valuable opposition against them. The chance of seeing Conacher, Burch, Aggett, Rodden and company perform against the Smaillmen should pack Brock Street Rink.

Five Games in the Junior City League Opener Was Success

Eskimos	1
Duffus Devils	1
Holy Name	2
Rangers	1
Young Men's Club	4
De Laval	2
Tuxis Boys	2
Canadians	0
Canadian Woollens	1

Such were the scores of the opening games in the Junior City League at the Armouries rink last night. The first night was a great success. Although the management of the team had but short notice to round up the players, every squad was on hand ready to start and there were no delays. Bill Jackson refereed the first game and Frank Collins handled the bell in the last four, and both gave satisfaction. It was a great night's sport for the players and for the big crowd of spectators as well, and the League promises to be a big success as a nursery for O.H.A. players. Some good hockey was played and it will improve as the League goes on. Two players performed the stunt of getting all their team's goals, Ben McLean scoring four of the Young Men's Club and Jack Thornton getting the two goals that beat the Canadians.

DISTRICT SPORT COMMENT

Port Hope Guide: The census figures show Port Hope's population as 4,458. Jake Solomon declares there were more than that number swarming on the field every time Peterborough played ball there this summer.—Peterborough Examiner. It is always customary in small towns for the population to turn out to a man to see the clown in a circus, and why should there be any exception when Jake Solomon pays us a visit?

Port Hope Guide: Lindsay Intermediates can hang up their paraphernalia for the winter. They were defeated on their own ice last night by the Peterborough crew, the score being 4 to 0. Lindsay tried to bring some of the old-timers back into the game, but have found out that hockey is a young man's game.

ST. PETER'S WON FROM COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Score Stood 7 to 1—Little Combination Work By P. C. I.

In a Senior School League game at the Brock Street Rink Monday afternoon St. Peter's High School defeated the Collegiate Institute "A" team 7 to 1. The winners showed superior speed and stick-handling skill, and back-checked well. This was the first time the P.C.I. team has been on the ice, and as a result there was no combination play by them.

Ten penalties were handed out, and that is far too many. The P.C.I. team received six and the S.P.S. team four. They were all for minor offences, but they spoiled the game. The sooner the players realize that they are on the ice to get goals instead of to "get" their opponents the better it will be for hockey.

For S.P.S. McPherson and Killoran featured with their rushes. McCabe was good in goal, but his dirty slash at Ridpath was unwarranted and unsportsmanlike.

For P.C.I. Legon and Rishor were probably the best, though Ridpath, Maneice and Henry each played a particularly good individual game. Combination play, however, was lacking.

The Teams.

S.P.S.—Goal, McCabe; defence, Holland and Wolfe; centre, McPherson; wings, Killoran and Buchanan. Subs., Milloi and Collins.

P.C.I.—Goal, Fleming; defence, Henry and Rishor; centre, Ridpath; wings, Legon and Maneice. Subs., Pogue, Grime and Green.

The Goals.

3.—Milloi, S.P.S.

—2nd Period—

4.—Killoran, S.P.S.
5.—Legon, P.C.I.
6.—McPherson, S.P.S.
7.—Milloi, S.P.S.

HOCKEY NOTES

The following team will represent the Lakeviews in their City League game with C.G.E. to-night:

Goal—Bergoine or Lebarr.
Right Defence—McMartin.
Centre—Legon.
Right Wing—Burgess.
Subs.—Hamley and Skitch.

Players are asked to be at the Rink at 7.30 o'clock sharp.

The Junior City League opener last night was a great success. Nearly one hundred Junior players chased the rubber at the Armouries Rink, and some good material for future O.H.A. teams was revealed. And the number of people who watched the kids battle was a surprise.

Ben McLean, junior baseball and basketball star, duplicated Ray Rose's feat in the Junior City League last night by scoring all four of his team's goals. The Young Men's Club for whom McLean was playing, beat De Laval 4 to 2, after leading 3 to 0 in the first half.

Mr. G. A. MacDonald, of the Quaker Oats Company, is donating a trophy for the Junior City League, of which he is the honorary president, and with the teams entered in the race, what a fight there will be for th MacDonald Cup!

Frank Collins, himself just out of the Junior ranks this year, refereed four of last night's Junior City League games. There is nothing in the job but exercise and an opportunity to help the kids along but Collins showed the proper spirit in tackling the job. Who is the next volunteer referee?

If some generous fan would offer a prize to the City League player who shows the cleanest record in the matter of penalties, it would be a fine thing for the League and for the good of hockey in general.

A meeting of the Executive of the Peterborough Junior Hockey Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. at 6.45 to-night. Each team should be represented by the captain or manager. Meeting will be over in time for City League games. All certificates and registration fees are to be returned to the secretary and treasurer.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

The Capitol Offers a Splendid Week-End Programme, Commencing To-Morrow—"A Certain Rich Man," Has Remarkable All-Star Cast—Good Vaudeville.

Powerful, masterful acting by a cast of seventeen superb artists is a feature of "A Certain Rich Man," Benjamin B. Hampton's great photo-drama of the novel by William Allen White, which plays at the Capitol to-morrow. Not only do the characters of the world-famous novel appear on the screen as though they had stepped from the pages, but a new era of motion picture acting is introduced. There are seventeen players in the principal roles, players ranging from childhood to venerable old age, and the story deals with three periods in the lives of its principals. A period of twenty years in all and a scope of every known type of acting in this period and in the large list of characters are embraced. Comedy and tragedy, pathos and humor, tense drama and quaint characterization are exquisitely blended. With the wonderful acting, of a kind and quality never seen before on the shadow stage this newest Hodkinson release takes on all the appeal of the old speaking stage masterpieces with the wider scope and power of the silver sheet.

Starting out in homely atmosphere, boy and girl love amid the lilacs, and the first sinister motif entering as John Barclay, "a certain rich man" to be, lays plans for winning his fortune, the story builds interest steadily to its climax and conclusion. In the middle period Barclay's influence has made tragedy; it has sold sweet Molly Culpepper "into Egypt," away from her girlhood love, and wrecked several lives, while good contends with greed for supremacy. Greed seems to have all the best of it, and in the third period, which is modern, Barclay and the force of greed are at the crest of power. Then comes the wonderful, sweeping spiritual force of good that thrills and tugs at our heartstrings when once for all Good masters Greed; unselfishness and sacrifice win John Barclay, and gain for all their happiness out of despair.

Robert McKim, Claire Adams, Joseph J. Dowling, Jean Hersholt, and other well-known players are seen as the beloved characters of the novel, giving the most wonderful performances of their lives. Worthy of their superb acting and of the famous story portrayed is the artistic and technical side of the picture, which is accurate, elaborate and beautiful. Splendid photography contributes no small part to the beauty of the production. In all of the many elements that go to make a photoplay a great work, Mr. Hampton's "A Certain Rich Man" is one of the supreme documents of dramatic history.

The vaudeville act this week-end is a novelty offering, Morris and Adelaide, who sing and do some clever eccentric acrobatic dancing and comedy.—Fan-Fan.

AT THE ROYAL.

LAST TIME TO-NIGHT.

Gentle reader, are you feeling blue? Do present business conditions depress your spirits? Are your usually buoyant spirits and cheerful nature upset? If you suffer from any of these worries, your safest and quickest relief is most surely and cheaply gained by having a real good laugh. Your troubles evaporate in that way as quickly as a circus elephant disposes of a peanut. To get this laugh come to the Royal and see that king of comedians, Larry Semon in his newest and pet picture, 'The Sportsman.' There you see Larry at the court of an eastern Rajah amid gorgeous trappings of the east, Larry goes ahunting lions, ostriches and rabbits for His Highness, His hunting does not result in the capture of much game, but the comical situations will make you scream with laughter. Larry's encounter with a Nubian lion is funny beyond description. Then the great six reel Southern drama, called "The Family Honor," is a play that grips. One's mind is ever wandering ahead of the event he is looking at to try and fathom what the outcome will be. This is the truest criticism, and surest indication of a play's success. A young man, the only son of an aristocratic but impoverished Southern family, unknown to his people, conducts a roulette game in a notorious road house. This place is secretly owned and operated by the city's mayor. The mayor's son, unaware that his father is connected with the gambling house, is in love with the sister of the Southern youth who runs the roulette wheel. Whn the road house is raided by the police the youthful gambler is arrested and nearly convicted for murder of an officer. There is a new sidelight in the "eternal triangle" of love. The scenes showing an excursion, as the steamer, loaded with gay dancers and loving couples is bathed in floods of soul awakening, wonderful moonlight, is as realistic as though the onlooker were present and wondering whether to take a car or walk when the dock is reached. The fifth episode of the great serial, "Breaking Through," itself a complete story, is filled with thrills and death defying stunts. "Steelheart," a five reel story of life among the sturdy mining pioneers of the west. The story tells the life of a young miner who is converted from being a woman hater to the firm belief that women are adorable and that the bride he wins is the queen of them all. Here is a big programme that is given at small cost to the patrons, although presented at great cost for the films. The Royal is a strictly local theatre and its patrons' admission money remains in Peterborough.

AT THE REGENT.

CAPT. KIDD'S CHEST UNEARTHED IN CAVE.

Might Have Been Gift of Columbus to Indians.

A chest around which much tradition has grown was used in the Antonio Moreno production, "The Secret of the Hills," which will be shown at the Regent Theatre on Thursday. One of the tales is that at one time it was in the possession of Captain Kidd. Whether this is authentic or not is a subject of great dispute among collectors of antiquities. Kidd's initials and mark are found scratched upon the cover.

Another tradition woven around the trunk affirms it was originally on one of Columbus's three ships and presented to the Indians. A Spanish design and the arms of King Ferdinand which are carved on the front give testimony as to the authenticity of this yarn.

Whatever the facts may be, the chest is very old and is in possession of a collector of antiquities in Hollywood. It was with great difficulty that Director Chester Bennett obtained a loan of the antique for the production. The owner expressed great doubt when Mr. Bennett informed him it was to be buried and discovered by the hero. After much persuasion, the thought that this adventure would add to the tradition already grown up around the chest, induced the owner to consent to the loan. In addition the man furnished a number of pieces of antique jewellery and many rare coins to fill the chest.

The collection which was buried in the cave in California for three days is valued at several hundred thousand dollars.

Petes Played Better Hockey Admits "Post"

The Lindsay Post says: The Lindsay Intermediates were put out of the running in the O. H. A. on Monday night when they were defeated by the Peterborough Intermediates on home ice by the score of 4-0. A packed house saw the game, and although they were given nothing in particular to cheer for, they got their money's worth of excitement. Some two or three hundred Peterborough fans specialed to town for the fixture. The game occupied the best part of three hours, and was a hard-fought and long-drawn out game for both sides. The winners scored one tally in the first period, one in the second, and two in the third.

Peterborough played the biggest percentage of what hockey was played during the evening. The ice was heavy from the start and got worse, the teams plowing through at the finish and for that reason weight and condition had a lot to say in the result. The visitors were a well-drilled, well-conditioned team, while the locals were an unorganized collection. "Turk" Flavelle went on the ice for the first time this season and Carew and Sutton jumped from their train to the rink without even seeing the team in action before. For this reason team play was abandoned and the team went in to mix it, every man for himself. The visitors, however, proved to be adepts at this game themselves and although the Lindsay gang put up a great struggle, they were beaten with comparative ease. In the final session the local squad took to the bench in such numbers that at one time only three men faced the enemy.

Shooting at Mickey Murray from 60 feet out will never get a team anywhere, and Lindsay sharpshooters never got a chance at the goal from inside. The visiting goalie was particularly "on" during the evening, and although Coombs, Carew, Flavelle and occasionally the others had scores of direct shots on goal from a distance, he picked them off with ease and precision. Mickey came out the hero in the few scrambles that he got into also. Williamson, in the Lindsay goal, gave a pretty exhibition also, and in a large measure the thanks is due to him that the score is not an overwhelming one. Pete Thornton and Parker occupied the Pete defence line and played a strong, heady game both in their own positions and when they took an occasional excursion down the ice. Their work kept the Lindsay pluggers in the distance or in the corner most of the evening. "Abbie" Rose played centre ice, with Lornie on one side and Collins and Burgess on the other, and this gang played sufficient hockey to beat Lindsay.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

LAWN BOWLERS TOOK THREE FROM RAYBESTOS

Last night the Lawn Bowlers in the Five-Pin League took three from the Raybestos. The Raybestos had a night off and the breaks against them, while the Lawn Bowlers showed up in great form, Barrette, Routly, Gillespie and Curvin rolling over the 500 mark, and Percy King was high man with 630.

Tonight the Bell Telephone meets the Knights of Pythias and on Thursday the Post Office will meet the Wm. Hamilton and a good game will be seen as both teams have a chance to lead in the second half.

In the Ten-Pin League on Thursday night Curvin and Miller clash and Friday night Gilliam and Barrette meet.

Lakefield Have A Chance To Tie Up Intermediate Group

LINDSAY DEFAULT TWO GAMES TO THE VILLAGERS AND A VICTORY FOR THEM HERE ON FRIDAY MEANS A DEADLOCK IN DISTRICT RACE.

The Lindsay team has defaulted its two remaining games to Lakefield, which means that the villagers have a chance to tie up the group race by beating the P.A.A.A. squad here on Friday night. The standing:

	Won.	Lost	To play
P.A.A.A.	3	0	1
Lakefield	2	1	1

Although the Petes beat Lakefield at home last week, the Blewett-Sabatino combination made them work all the way, and at the end of the first period Lakefield were in front 2 to 1. They have been practising steadily ever since, and expect to make a better showing on Peterborough ice than they did in the first game.

The Petes are not making the mistake of underestimating their opponents. They are taking Friday's game seriously, and will have their strongest line-up out against the villagers.

The victory of the Petes in Lindsay has put the fans solidly behind the P.A.A.A. squad, and a big crowd will show its appreciation of their work by turning out to see them on Friday night.

The reserved seat plan for Friday's game is on sale at Bond's drug store.

OPENING GAMES IN CITY HOCKEY LEAGUE WILL BE PLAYED TONIGHT

The weatherman is working nicely with the City Hockey League, and fast ice is promised for to-night's opening games at Brock street rink. Dr. A. A. Fowler, Hon. President of the League, will face the puck in the first game, when Lakeviews and C.G.E. Toolroom face the referee at 8 o'clock. Bankers and Hamiltons play in the second contest.

The four clubs were represented at a meeting last night and certificates were returned to the secretary. The players best known to hockey fans are well distributed among the clubs and all four teams are well balanced. Goalers are Kevin Murray, H. Legros, Joe Dwyer, Geo. Butcher, Chris. Bergoine and L. Lebarr.

Ladies and their escorts are invited to use the theatre chairs on the west side of the rink without extra charge. The general admission is twenty-five cents. Juveniles will be admitted for ten cents, and unless accompanied by adults are requested to view the games from the east side.

The schedule for the first half of the series is:

Jan. 11—Lakeviews vs. C.G.E.; Hamiltons vs. Bankers.

Jan. 18— C.G.E. vs. Bankers; Lakeviews vs. Hamiltons.

Jan. 25 — Hamiltons vs. C.G.E.; Bankers vs. Lakeviews.

Wild Shooting Lost Game For Young Petes

As will be seen by the report on page six of to-day's issue the P.A.A.A. Junior squad lost their first game of the season last night being defeated 2 to 1 at Lakefield. The game gave an opportunity to get a line on the material and the line up as a result will be considerably strengthened for the next fixture. At that the young Petes should have won the game if they could have located the nets. They were inside te defence half a dozen times with only the goalie to beat but fell down in the pinches. The P.A.A.A. youngsters have uncovered a fine goal keeper in Templet, formerly of upper Canada College whose work featured last night's game. The two shots that beat him were deflected off one of his teammates stick and he had no chance to save. The team with several charges and another? week's practice should win the sectioi by over coming the one goal lead when Lakefield visits here next week.

CURLING

Only two of last night's sheduled games were played. Absesce of five rinks at Bobaygeon and Kingston, broke up most of the other rinks drawn for play last night. The scores were as follows:

E. V. Morphet,	W. E. Taylor,
A. S. Gilliam	A. Ross
R. L. Dobbin,	G.Copping
C. S. Browne,	W. J. Oke,
Sk.....12	Sk.....15

NO. 1 DISTRICT OF ORANGEMEN ELECT OFFICERS

ANNUAL MEETING IN NASSAU --LODGE SECRETARY W.G.BARTLEY RESIGNS AFTER YEARS OF FAITHFUL SERVICE

The annual meeting of No. 1 District was held last evening in the Nassau Orange Hall, and was largely attended by members of this district and visiting brethren. This being the most important district meeting of the year, the committee's reports were received, also reports from the Primary Lodge Masters, with an outline of the year's work, which was most encouraging. The outlook for a successful future for the Orange Association is exceedingly bright.

The one and only regrettable feature of the evening was the letter of resignation received from District Recording Secretary W. G. Bartley, who, after twenty-four years of faithful service to the Order, finds it impossible, on account of failing health, to carry on the duties of this office. Bro. Bartley has to his credit a record which few members can claim as officers. The entire Orange Association, while reluctant to accept Bro. Bartley's resignation, join in wishing him long life and happiness, and tender to him their sincere thanks for services rendered.

Afte the general routine business, Bro. Neil Porter, the District Master, declared all offices vacant, and appointed Bro. Gratton, of L.O.L., No. 321, to the chair for the election and installation of officers, which resulted as follows:

D.W.M.—Bro. J. J. Cunningham, No. 457.

D.D.M.—Bro. John Waldie, No. 321.

D. Chaplain—Bro. G. Land, No. 2440.

D. Rec. Secy.—Bro. F. Sanderson, No. 457.

D. Treasurer—Bro. G. Lockington, No. 457.

D. Financial Secy.—Bro. G. Lockington, No. 457.

D. Treasurer—Bro. F. Kitney, No. 321.

D. Dir. of Cer.—Bro. G. Sexsmith, No. 2440.

D. 1st Lect.—Bro. W. Lockie, No. 2440.

D. 2nd Lect.—Bro. H. Coit, No. 457.

D. Inside T.—Bro. D. Hamilton, No. 457.

D. Outside T.—Bro. G. Goodfellow. No. 457.

D. Auditors—Bro. N. Porter, No. 2440, and Bro. Watt, No. 321.

Bro. Gratton here gave a short address, and asked the new officers to take their respective places. He then called on the W. M.-Elect, Bro. J. J. Cunningham, who interested the members with a very instructive lecture on the work and history of the Order. Short addresses were also given by other officers, after which a social hour was spent, the dainty refreshments being served by L.O.L. No. 457.

The meeting was then brought to a close, and a record left with the members, long to be remembered.

The C. G. E. Toolroom line-up for to-night's game against Lakeviews will be:

Goal, Legros; Sub Goaler, G. Butcher; R. Defence, Helson; L. Defence, Halpin; Centre, McElroy; R. Wing, Williams; L. Wing, Rose or Ranger; Subs—Edey and Dugan.

FIRST MEETING WORKS BOARD

BOARD OF WORKS CLEAR FILE OF BUSINESS--NO FURTHER ACTION RE AUSTIN ESTATE DAMAGES

That the city is not liable for accidents resulting from that island in the centre of the approach to the Quaker Oats building from Hunter street bridge, is the opinion of City Solicitor Widdifield, expressed to Council's Board of Works in session last evening. He evidently does not consider this spot would be considered dangerous in the terms of the liability code. The Mayor, Ald. Stocker, City Solicitor Widdifield and City Engineer Parsons interviewed Superintendent Cormack of the Quaker Oats, yesterday, concerning Council's desire to eliminate this sidewalk-island in question, but Mr. Cormack could do nothing but submit Council's proposition to the company's engineers at Chicago.

Will Set Back.

A communication from Joseph P. Mangan, Ottawa, solicitors for the Austin Estate of Peterborough read that their clients would be willing to accept $1,800 and the construction of sewer connection for damages suffered by their property adjacent to the Quaker Oats, north side of Hunter street, through the erection of the new Hunter street bridge, and threatening to issue a writ against the city for recovery of same unless this settlement is affected.

Late last year Council offered the Estate $1,000 and construction of sewer connection at a cost of $500, and the Works Board decided to leave the mater at that.

Municipal Saving.

On motion of Ald. Phelan and McIntyre, the Board endorsed Perth Council's petition that the Legislature assume all cost of both construction and maintenance of Provincial highways.

Sewer Connections.

A petition from Archie Davidson for sewer connection with his property on the Monaghan road, between Sherbrooke and Patterson streets went to the City Engineer for report.

The City Engineer, was also instructed to report on Jno. Foster's request for sewer connection with his home on Wolfe street.

The Board of Health has recommended sewer connection with Queen Mary Isolation Hospital. But this would entail half a mile of piping to link up with the Anson street sewer, so the engineer was instructed to report on conditions, cost, etc.

Paving Plant.

On motion of Ald. Turner, no action was taken on the matter of securing a street paving plant for the corporation. City Engineer Parsons reported the cost of a portable plant like that of Kingston's would cost with all equipment, in the neighborhood of $25,000. Such a plant, with day labor, would save in street paving 75c. the square yard at present prices. An asphaltic paving plant, declared Mr. Parsons, would prove a wise investment.

Ald. McIntyre wanted to know if the city were likely to do any paving this year.

Ald. Turner—"Guess not, if we are going to keep the rate down."

The Old Bridge.

To Ald. McIntyre, the Engineer replied that but a very small portion of the old Hunter street bridge was used in the new overhead structure, and the remainder is lying on the banks of the river.

On motion of Ald. McIntyre and Turner, this old structure will be checked up, a statement of what material remains reported to the Board, and filed, and the material safely stored.

HAVEN'T YOU HEARD

the remark, "Now that's what I call a good letter," meaning the clear cut typewriting? Who doesn't love neatness? A. E. AINSLIE AT THE GOSPEL HALL

Our subject to-night is Power, and the Scripture we have read speaks of the Son of Man having power on earth to forgive sins. Christ is the man of power. Before him lay a helpless man sick of the palsy to whom he addressed the words, "Son be of good cheer, thy sins be forgiven thee." This caused the scribes to say this man blasphemeth—and rightly so, if Christ were only man. But he was God. God manifest in the flesh. He was the mighty Creator. He had power over all flesh; even demons fled from his presence, saying- "I know thee who thou art, the holy one of God." He asked them whether it was easier to say "Thy sins be forgiven thee," or to say, "Arise and walk"? It was a fair test. It was easy for him to say Arise and walk; he had healed the lepers before this; the blind received their sight at the word of his mouth; he only had to say the word and the dead came out of the tomb. At his command the sea and the winds were hushed to peace. And it cost him nothing to do works like this, no tear was shed and no nerve was strained. He only need say the word and all was done.

But remember this, when he said to that man "Thy sins be forgiven thee," he said this with the cross in full view. To say this cost him those bitter tears in Gethsemane's garden; it meant those brutal hands of the Roman soldiers were to be felt upon his beautiful person; he must be nailed to the cross; he must bear our sins in his own body on the tree. Oh, what a sight- He who bears the weight of 10,000 worlds with ease—bowed his blessed back under the weight of a world's sin. Yes, he cried on the cross "My God, my God,why hast thou forsoken me"? The answer to that awful question is, He was made sin for us. He who knew no sin was made sin. Thus God meeted out to him in that dread hour what it would take you and me a long eternity to endure. But he paid the price; he was the wiling sacrifice, and by his stripes we are healed. How blessed then to know he has power on earth to forgive sins. The word here means the right or authority. A man may have power but no right. For instance a man holds me up at the point of a gun; demands all my money. He can take it; he has power, but he has no right. That gun gives him power, but I claim the meanest thing a man can do to another is to scare him in such a way as this. Thus God to-day, speaks in righteousness as he points to the cross then to the empty tomb, again to the throne where Christ sits in resurrection triumph; wheer even to-day, after nearly two thousand years, he bears the marks of Calvary. God can be just and the justifier of him that believeth in Jesus. No sin too great —no sinner too far gone. The blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanseth us from all sin. But beware, he has power, on earth, that is as long as you live on earth. The Gospel brings to you a key which can unlock those chains that bind you, but let death rivet those chains and you are an eternal sinner doomed for ever.

Mr. Ainslie's subject to-night will be "Why Did God Reject Cain's Offering?"

BIGGS APPROVES SEWER PROGRAM

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT WILL PAY ONE-THIRD OF $5,799.66 DIFFERENCE BETWEEN NORMAL AND WINTER COSTS.

City Engineer Parsons has received from the Hon. Mr. Biggs his official approval of the sewer construction which has been laid out to help relieve local unemployment. The estimated cost of the work under normal conditions is $16,016.65 and the estimate of the cost under winter conditions is $21,816.31. The difference between these two estimates is $5,799.66. According to the proposal of the Ontario Government they to pay one-third of the cost of such work which is projected at this time as public assistance in the period of unemployment. Mr. Parsons wasn't certain whether the Dominion Government would also contribute one-third of the extra cost. His recollection was no promise had been made, but in view of the willingness of Ottawa to co-operate in the ameliorating of the present industrial depression it is expected that they will pay their share, leaving the remaining one third of the difference between the present and the normal costs of these sewers to be paid by the city.

The sewers are located as follows and men are already engaged on them: Walnut street, Murray street from Rubidge to Stewart, Park street from McDonnel street to a point 186 feet south, Rubidge street from the end of the present sewer to Murray, Stewart street from Murray street to the end of the sewer on Stewart street, (these short sections are in the same district which has been promised for years sewer accomodation) also on on Woodbine and Euclid avenues, Munroe avenue, Hazlitt street and Sutherland Place all in Ashburnham.

WHAT DEPUTATIONS CITY COUNCIL COST

ONE THOUSAND, FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS IN 1921

In view of the decision of this year's Council that a detailed statement of the expenses of deputations sent out by the city is to be furnished to City Clerk Armstrong it is interesting to know that up to the end of November, $1,351.37 was spent on deputations this year and the year's total will be about $1,500.

Costs of deputations in the last few few years according to the auditor's statement have been: 1918—$802.70; 1919—$1,637.19; 1920—$2,258.80 and 1921—$1,500 (approximately).

Some hundreds of dollars that have never been reckoned in the cost of the Hunter street bridge lies in the cost of many deputations to Toronto, Ottawa and other places despatched from City Hall in 1919 and 1920. The latter year saw the treasury drawn on for deputations to an unusual extent. The bridge was the cause of most of the expense but the inspecting trip of City Engineer R. H. Parsons to New Orleans in connection with the building of a sewage disposal plant in Peterboro accounted for $230.78.

Last year city fathers have had fewer trips to take but there has been a large number of deputations to Queen's Park. The representation of the city at conventions cost $369.-90, divided as follows: Ald. Robert Morrison at Fire Chief's Convention Three Rivers, Quebec—$15.90; Fire Chief George Grange at same convention—$100; Chief of Police, S. Newhall at Police Chief's Convention, Montreal—$145.00

While the members of deputations will give detailed statements of what they spent while on civic business to the City Clerk, the City Treasurer will continue to pay their expenses on the certificate of the Mayor. Detailed statements are not necessary to the City Treasurer; he will continue to pay the expense account as heretofore but it is hardly expected that the city governors would make out on exaggerated amount to the City Treasurer above the other. The Mayor's duties are probably intended to include an inspection of all the itemized accounts in the hands of the city clerk before certifying to demands on the civic treasury. Following up the steps taken by Ald. Malcom McIntyre and Ald. E. M. Turner to keep a close tab on deptations from now on the council could by requiring members of deputations to submit receipts for all expenditures go the limit and close every loophole by which the city would pay for cigars, drinks (lemonade or near beer) ice cream etc. or possibly souvenir postals of Toronto, Ottawa or Montreal.

THE PREMIER RESIGNS OVER FRENCH PACT

TEXT OF ANGLO-FRENCH PACT PRESENTED TO THE FRENCH CABINET TODAY—THE PROCEEDINGS AT CANNES.

GERMAN DELEGATION AT THE CONFERENCE

PARIS, Jan. 12. Canadian Press. —Premier Briand resigned to-day after making a lengthy speech before the Chamber of Deputies justifying his action at Cannes.

The Premier's intention to resign was announced to the Chamber at the close of his speech, and came as a great surprise, as he had apparently won the sympathy of the members. His Cabinet was amazed at his sudden determination. He put the Anglo-French pact and postponement of payment of German reparations squarely told the Chamber and bluntly told the Deputies they could take them or leave them.

PARIS, Jan. 12. — Canadian Press. — Premier Briand arrived here from Cannes this morning and immediately went into conference with President Millerand.

He was to present the text of the Anglo-French pact to the Cabinet to-day, his procedure following the meeting is uncertain, but it is believed that he will either thresh out the situation in a public debate or resign.

The Premier will go into the Chamber of Deputies determined to stand or fall by the pact, and with the full support of his Cabinet. He convinced his Cabinet that the pact was best obtainable in the way of establishing French security and irreconcilables came around to his viewpoint.

WITHOUT RESULTS.

CANNES, January 12. Canadian Press. — The German delegation, headed by Dr. Walter Rathenau, was received by the allied supreme council this morning, the reparations commission having reported that last night's conference with Germany had been without results.

GROCERS KEEP OPEN THURS. AFTERNOON?

CLERKS TO GET SOME OTHER HALF HOLIDAY, SAYS LEON FRAZER.

That the anouncement appearing in last nght's Examiner to the effect that local groceries would continue their Thursday afternoon closing policy was dictated by only one of the grocers who favors this policy, that it has not the sanction of the grocery section of the local Merchants' Association, and that an erroneous impression has been conveyed by the announcement, was the declaration of Secretary L. Fraser of the Chamber of Commerce today.

According to Mr. Fraser, the larger local groceries have discovered that the Thursday closing takes business from city stores to the advantage of general stores in the country, and they have decided to remain open on this afternoon, at the same time allowing their employees a half-holiday some time during the week.

EGYPTIANS HATE ALL EUROPEANS.

Result is Rioting and Seventy-Nine Deaths.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—(Associated Press)—Fanatical hatred of Europeans by Egyptians is one of the causes assigned by a military court for the rioting in Alexandria in May last which resulted in 79 deaths. The court has found after an investigation, that the outbreak was provoked by adherents of said Zagloul Pasha, Nationalist leader, who are said by the court to have been determined to reap political advantage by forcing the government to shed the blood of Egyptians.

"The Egyptian view of the case is that the riots were caused by Greeks firing on peaceful demontrations," the court states in conclusion. The demonstrations were not peaceful and there is no evidence that the Greeks started the trouble by firing.

"There is no doubt, morever, that the mobs had a very definite organization. The court has found no evidence as to what this organization is or by whom it was directed. The court draws attetion to a very important fact. Always there has existed in Egypt, at any rate among the lower classes, a fanatical hatred of Europeans. It has shown itself again and again.

"This outburst in Alexandria happened because the people thought the hand of the government was relaxing and that the authorities dare not act against them. They took two days for preparation and then the long pent hatred of Europeans burst out. If this is not the correct view it is difficult to understand why the police should have joined in, or why the soldiers of the Third Battalion, Egyptian Army, who had arrived from Cairo only the day before, should have forgotten their discipline and used their arms to shoot down Europeans in the streets.

"Given similar circumstances, this feeling will always manifest itself in the future, as it has done in the past, an a very long period of time must elapse before this feeling an be eradicated."

The Italian, French and Greek consuls gave evidence. They solemnly protested, states the report, against the treatment of their nationals and stated that they could never consent to their being protected by a force composed exclusively of Egyptians.

STONES RECONCILED, $50,000 SUIT OFF.

Have Second Honeymoon Instead of Divorce Suit.

PORT HURON, Jan. 12.—Harold W. Stone, a Detroit stock salesman who created a sensation here several weeks ago by filing a $50,000 suit alleging alienation of affections against his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Boice, and two others, has patched up his troubles with his wife, who had previously sued him for a divorce, and the two have started on their second honeymoon.

At the Boice home it was admitted that a reconciliation had been effected and that the Stones left the city a few days ago. Their destination is unknown, Mrs. Stone's mother said.

Joseph Walsh, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Boice, said that the divorce suit against Stone and the latter's alienation suit, filed in Detroit, and cross-bill to his wife's suit for divorce, all has been withdrawn.

Stone's alienation suit alleged a hotel Dec. 24. It is said to have been the first time since he and his wife, a local society belle, part that he has been in Port Huron. He remained at the hotel over Christmas, but the reconciliation is not believed to have been effected until just before the Stones, with their only child, left Port Huron this week.

Stone's alienation suit alleged a conspiracy between his wife's parents and two guests at their home to bring about a divorce. In her suit for divorce, Mrs. Stone charged cruelty and non-support.

The alienation suit was to have been heard this month.

A NEW BACKBONE OF MOSLEM WORLD.

Will Kemal Pasha Establish Nationalist Power.

MOSCOW, Jan. 12.—(Associated Press)—It is believed here that if Mustapha Kemal Pasha succeeds in establisring a real Turkish Nationalist power, the Turks would form a new backbone for the Moslem world This might seriously threaten the domination of Russia in the Caucasus, in Turkestan, Persia and Armenia for there is a very general racial and religious union among the Moslems.

"After all, we are Orientals and we hate and despise the Russians" was the way one Moslem stated the situation.

While the Central Soviet here certainly has helped Turkish nationalist movement, it is believed that a conflict of interests and distrust will assert itself when or if Turkey succeeds in her national aims. The 15,000,000 Moslems of Russia certainly dislike Russian rule.

Members of the Moslem missions such as the Persian, Azerbaijan and the so-called Turkestan Soviet republics and the official Turkish mission for a clique apart in Moscow and co-operate materially.

In addition, there is the group headed by Enver Pasha, the former Turkish minister of war who fled from Turkey after the war and who was sentenced to death by Turkisr courtmartial. A member of his mission here is Djemal Pasha, another young Turk leader who also received the same sentence.

BULL-DOG DRUMMOND

BY "SAPPER"

(CYRIL McNEILE)

"Dry up!" roared Hugh. "Was your late military education so utterly lacking that you have forgotten the elementary precept of putting yourself in the enemy's place? If I was Peterson, and I wanted to go to Paris, do you suppose that fifty people knowing about it would prevent me? You're a fool, Algy—and leave me some more beer."

Resignedly Algy sat down, and after a pause for breath, Drummond continued:

"Now listen—all of you. Ted—off you go, and raise a complete waiter's outfit, dicky and all complete. Peter, —you come with me to the aerodrome and afterwards look up Mullings, at 13 Green Street, Hoxton, and tell him to get in touch with at least fifty demobilised soldiers who are on for a scrap. Algy—you hold the fort here and don't get drunk on my ale. Peter will join you, when he's finished with Mullings, and he's not to get drunk either. Are you all on?"

"On," muttered Darrell weakly. "My head is playing an anthem."

"It'll play an oratorio before we're through with job, old son," laughed Hugh. "Let's get gay with Potts."

Ten minutes later he was at the wheel of his car with Darrell and the millionaire behind. Algy, protesting vigorously at being, as he said, left out of it, was endeavouring to console himself by making out how much he would have won if he'd followed his infallible system of making money on the turf; Jerningham was wandering along Piccadilly anxiously wondering at what shop he could possibly ask for a dicky, and preserve his hitherto blameless reputation. But Hugh seemed in no great hurry to start. A whimsical smile was on his face, as out of the corner of his eye he watched the man who had been busy doing nothing feverishly trying to crank his car, which, after the manner of the brutes,

"Get away, man—get away," cried Peter. "What are you waiting for?"

Hugh laughed.

"Peter," he remarked, "the refinements of this game are lost on you."

Still smiling, he got out and walked up to the perspiring driver.

"A warm day," he murmured. "Don't hurry; we'll wait for you." Then, while the man, utterly taken aback, stared at him speechlessly, he strolled back to his own car.

"Hugh—you're mad, quite mad," said Peter resignedly, as with a spluttering roar the other car started, but Hugh still smiled. On the way to the aerodrome he stopped twice after a block in the traffic to make quite sure tha that the pursuer should have no chance of losing him, and, by the time they were clear of the traffic and spinning towards their destination, the gentleman in the car behind fully agreed with Darrell.

At first he had expected some trick, being a person of tortuous brain; but as time went on, and nothing unexpected happened, he became reassured. His orders were to follow the millionaire, and inform headquarters where he was taken to. And assuredly at the moment it seemed easy money. In fact, he even went so far as to hum gently to himself, after he had put a hand in his pocket to make sure his automatic revolver was still there.

A DIRECT CABLE TO BUENOS AIRES.

Work Will Be Finished in Two Years.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 12.—(Associated Press). Juan Carosio, an Italian engineer residing in Buenos Aires and chief promoter of the project for a direct cable between Italy and South America, has returned from Italy where he obtained the support of the Italian government and announces that the work will commence. He expects the cable to be finished in two years.

The Italian government will allow a subvention of $3,000,00 annually. The cable will touch Spain, Brazil Uruguay, Argentina and the Canary and Cape Verde Islands. The Italian goverment's control over it is limited to the extent of preventing its falling at any time into foreign hands.

Voice Of The People

Dear Sir,— Might I be permitted space in your paper to ask Mr. G. N. Gordon to scan my letter of Monday's issue more carefully that he might be convinced that my criticism was more on the 1921 Council than that of Mr. Gus E. Kay. I give Mr. Kay all credit Mr. Gordon claims for him that is safe and conscientious and I question but some of the defeated candidates could have put up a similar record. But when the council went over the heads of those that were defeated one would naturally expect something better, hence my reason for using the word eminent which means distinguished or conspicuous. And a ex-Mayor McIntyre on resigning after twelve years service in the city Council can make a statement to the Examiner to the effect that he could do better than the whole shooting match and unchallenged why take exception to my trifling remarks to be frank and fair with Mr. G. N. Gordon I would say there is every room for criticism in our city council, we are taxed to the highest notch and with little to be seen to our credit except a Hunter street bridge and a few hundred yards of paved street and that in a good many places we wouldn't know except for being informed by those who saw it done.

If the bidders of our Great Empire and cities on the other side of the pond were as sensitive to criticism as Mr. Gordon would have us believe the business men of our city are, we could well afford to throw up the sponge.

For Mr. Gordon's benefit let me say that at all times I make use of my franchise and out of the Federal and municipal elections I have only one unsuccessful candidate which speaks volumes for my wisdom in doing so, also I pay my taxes when they become due and in doing so, I claim I have every right as a citizen to criticise work which don't come up to my expectations.

Yours respectfully,
ALEX. MURRAY.

TODAY'S NEWS OF THE DISTRICT

THE WOMENS' AUXILIARY LAKEFIELD, HELD MEETING

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE YEAR — PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SOCIETIES MEET — WOMEN'S LEAGUE HELD AN AT HOME.

PERSONAL MENTION

LAKEFIELD, January 12.—The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Graham. The reports of the officers was most encouraging, as the different branches of the work were in a very healthy condition. Financialy the year was the best the society has ever had.

The following officers were elected:

Hon. Pres.—Miss F. M. Atwood.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Vipond.
Pres.—Mrs. W. M. Graham.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. John Northcott.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. S. E. White.
Secy.—Mrs. Trude Waldon.
Leaflet Secy.—Mrs. John Sanderson.
Junior Supt.—Mrs. John Sanderson.
Secy.-Treas. Little Helpers—Mrs. S. E. White.
Dorcas Committee—Mrs. White, Mrs .Mahood Mrs. Northcott, and Mrs A. Wannamaker.

A matter of regret was the retiring of Miss Atwood from the office of president, which she had held most acceptably for more than six years since Mrs. Ben-Oliel left to go overseas. Mrs. Graham was unanimously elected to take her place. In Miss Atwood's report she spoke very tenderly of the missing from the ranks of the W. A. since the last annual meeting, one whose beautiful Christian life would always be an inspiration to those who knew her—Miss Traill—for years the honorary president of the society. Also during the past year the W. A. lost a good friend in Mr. Graham, who never ceased to take an interest in the work and well-being of the branch.

Missionary Society.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church have elected the following officers for the coming year:

President—Mrs. P. L. Jull.
1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. J. H. Chant.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. T. Hendren.
3rd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. P. Baptie.
Secy.—Miss Sanderson.
Treas.—Mrs. F. J. Burgess.
Roll Call Secy.—Mrs. B. Hunter.
Strangers' Secy.—Miss Millar.
Home Helpers' Secy.—Miss McKibbin.
Organist—Miss Cullen.

The past year was the best the society had known, both financially and in other ways. The members and officers had worked very hard, and with excellent results.

A Good Year.

The Mission Band of the Presbytrian Church, which is in charge of Mrs. Chant and Mrs. McKibbin, had a particularly good year, the little girls took a great interest in the work and laboured faithfully to make a success of the undertaking. The following are the officers:

Pres.—Mary Tanner.
Secy.—Etta Garbutt.
Treas.—Helen Porter.
Roll Call Secy.—Reta Preston.
Organist—Isabel Sutton.

These children of the present are the women of the future, and it is for them to carry on the work when laid down by the seniors, and the prospect is very bright.

Held "At Home."

The first "At Home" of the local branch of the Catholic Women's League was held on Tuesday evening in the Lakefield House, and its success far exceeded the expectations of the ladies. From beginning to end it possessed the characteristics of the real community gathering. The kindly welcome and bright smiling faces made one feel at home at once. Progressive euchre was run off upstairs in the sitting room, under the direction of Miss M. Kennedy and Miss Fortier. The prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Killen and the consolation prize by Mr. Joliffe. Dancing held away in the spacious rotunda and dining-room, and with good floor and first-class music the floor was filled all the time. The square dances gave great pleasure to a large number of young people, who did not care for the round dances, but there was no clash; each took their turn good-humouredly. A bountiful supper was served by the ladies before midnight, after which

BAILIEBORO

BAILIEBORO, January 12.—The Methodist Epworth League held their weekly meeting on Tuesday night, 10th January, the meeting being in charge of the missionary vice-president, Clifton Lang. There was a good attendance, and the topic chosen for the evening was "The History of Methodism." An interesting talk was given by Mr. Lang on the lives of Charles and John Wesley, how their early Christian training had caused them to become wonderful Christian men, and the great works they accomplished by the grace of God.

U.F.O. Meeting.

The U.F.O. held their annual business meeting on Monday evening, 9th January. There was a large attendance of members, and it was decided to hold a social evening on 20th January in the U.F.O. Hall, Centreville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong, of Millbrook, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Barnard on Sunday.

CUT THIRD TEETH.

CUPID ON STRIKE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—D. Cupid has been having a slack time in New York. There were 4,527 fewer marriage licenses issued in 1921 than in the previous year in this city, 74,707 as compared with 79,234. Every borough reported a falling off.

BATHING ECONOMY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.— On the theory that the pay of a member of the United States Congress is sufficient to provide a home with a bath, a Texas representative has introduced a bill to close free bath establishments, Turkish and domestic, which are a feature of the Congressmen's office building. The Texan also has a bill to elminate the house barber shop. He indignantly denies the assertion of opponents of his measures that the bath and haircut are considered unnecessary in Texas, and insists that his object is merely to aid the movement for national economy.

NEW DANCE STEP.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.— Word has been received from Paris that the dancing masters of the French capital are busy trying to solve a new step that will meet with the approval of Mgr. Dubois and other prelatees who have anathematized the wickedness of the dances now popular among the French people. A rather solemn affair, which has been called the "balancello" is being given a trial.

THE PEACE DOLLAR.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. —The new U. S. silver dollar—the peace dollar printed to commemoratee the Washington conference—is likely to lead to internal warfare. Bankers and poker players have united forces in protesting against it. They admit its artistic merit, but call attention to the fact that it cannot be stacked. Ten dollars, piled one on the other, will topple over at the slightest jar. Both bankers and poker players dislike to make change from the floor.

GUESS AGE OF CARS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. — New Yorkers who travel to and from their work on the elevated railway, or the 'L' as it is familiarly called, have a new form of amusement. It is trying to guess the age of the cars they are riding it. The recent wreck on the Ninth Avenue "L" brought to light the fact that some of the cars now in use were built in 1879. The Transit Commission is considering the problem of the replacement of this antique equipment with modern steel cars.

CAMPBELLFORD WON OPENER

SCORE WAS 5-3 IN HOCKEY GAME —STORY OF PLAY

CAMPBELLFORD, January 12.—The local hockey season opened here last night with a game between the Hastings Intermediates and the Campbellford Skeeters, which resulted in a score of 5-3 in favour of the local players.

In the first period, Hendricks made a lone rush, but did not succeed in his shot. Gould stopped and passed over to the corner, the puck was faced again, and Hendricks drew and got the rubber and passed to Brady. Brady scored. F. Reynolds replaced Brady for the remainder of the period. Then Smith and Brady made a fast run and Smith scored, ending the first period with 2-0 in Campbellford's favour.

In the second period, Labrash replaced Tait of Hastings, and played a fast game. Copperthwaite made a lone rush and scored. Smith scored with one minute to go, ending the second period with 3-0 in Campbellford's favour.

In the third period, Hankinson replaced Whitered of Hastings, brightening up Hastings' forward line and making the game more interesting. Stevenstn and Labrash made a rush, Stevenson scoring the first goal of the visitors. The puck was faced, and Hankinson got the rubber, made a lone rush, and scored. The puck was faced again, and Hankinson and Labrash getting the rubber, Labrash scored again for the visitors, finishing the third period with the final score standing at 5-3 in favour of Campbellford.

THE ARMS CONFERENCE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(Canadian Press.)—The "Big Five" made further progress yesterday in their final revision of the naval treaty, but encountered a difference of opinion when they came to lay down rules for scrapping of prescribed battleships.

For the United States delegation, it was proposed that the surplus vessels be rendered entirely useless. France readily supported that view, with Italy indicating a similar attitude. Great Britain and Japan withheld assent, however, the suggestion being made that the dismantled ships might be used as harbor guards or training vessels.

When the five delegation heads adjourned after several hours of debate the question remained unsettled and will be taken up again to-day.

TRADE TO BRITAIN.

WASHINGTON, January 12 (Canadian Press). — United States trade with European countries was greater by $775,000,000 in 1921 than during the last pre-war year, 1913, according to an estimate based on eleven months' statistics made public last night by the Commerce Department. Even with the higher value of the dollar, the Department declared, trade with Europe was larger than in 1913.

Exports to Europe during the past year were estimated by the Department at $2,380,000,000, as against $1,500,000,000 in 1913, while imports for 1921 were placed at $760,000,000, compared with $865,000,000 in 1913.

Great Britain, the Department said, was this country's best customer in Europe; in fact, in the world, while Germany has risen to second place in Europe as a consumer of United States goods.

HON. T.A. CRERAR REVEALS POSITION FARMERS' PARTY

Premier Briand to Face Parliament Some Time Today

PARIS, Jan. 12. — (Canadian Press).—Premier Briand, bearing the text of the long-sought British alliance, will face the French Parliament to-day which, although hostile last night, may, neverteless, in the opinion of many observers, give him a vote of confidence because it dare not refuse a concrete pact owing to differences of opinion concerning some of the clauses and concessions.

Both Chamber and Party caucases have sent messages of protest to M. Briand and there is much talk of overthrowing the government, as has frequently been the case in the past year. Briand's supporters, however, expect him to win.

MAY IGNORE PARLIAMENT

ATTITUDE OF DE VALERA AND HIS FOLLOWERS TOWARDS THE NEW IRISH PARLIAMENT--EVACUATING DUBLIN CASTLE.

DUBLIN, Jan. 12. — (Canadian Press). — The summoning of the Southern Parliament to meet Saturday by Arthur Griffith, President of the Dail Eireann, and his cabinet, has started the machinery for putting the treaty into operation. Half a dozen huge vans backed in front of the Chief Secretary's offices in Dublin Castle yesterday afternoon and removed stacks of official documents and effects of the secretarial and police departments, thus beginning the evacuation of the Castle, the symbol to Irishmen for centuries of British control.

Eamon De Valera informed the correspondents that he believed his party would ignore the Saturday meeting of the Parliament. In response to an inquiry regarding his

ADDRESS TO CONVENTION

WINNIPEG, Jan. 12.—(Canadian Press.)—Farmers-Progressive members of Parliament will support the Government in putting into effect reforms which have been advocated by the national progressive party, but the Progressive party will be maintained. This was made plain yesterday afternoon by Hon. T. A. Crerar who made his first public speech since the election when he read to the convention of the United Farmers of Manitoba a resolution adopted at the secret conference of Progressive members-elect from the three western provinces at Saskatoon on Dec. 20. This resolution was read as follows:

"That this meeting of the western supporters of the National Progressive Party, having taken under consideration the existing political situation in Canada and the course the Progressive party should follow, is of the opinion that the gravity and importance of our many National problems call for a strong Government;

"That the first consideration of the Progressive party will be to support the legislation the country needs, both in the economic and administrative sense, and in the larger sense of promoting and developing the spirit of Canadian national unity; and we will extend to the Hon. Mr. King's Government all reasonable co-operation and support in any efforts it may make to enact into legislation those economic and administrative reforms which have been advocated by the National Progressive party, while at the same time maintaining the complete identity and organization of the Progressive party."

"That resolution," commented Mr. Crerar, "or the sentiments expressed in it, will be the sentiments which will guide the Progressive members in the House of Commons."

THE GRENVILLE BY-ELECTION.

The Liberals in Grenville have decided not to oppose Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen in the coming by-election in that constituency, but the United Farmers have placed a candidate in the field. Outside of the U.F.O. ranks there will be a general hope that the Farmer candidate will be snowed under when the ballots are counted. The Progressive party in the House has refused to accept the responsibility of acting as the official Opposition, yet now their Ontario organization is endeavouring to secure the defeat of a leader who is ready to assume the duties that the Farmers have sidestepped. It seems to be generally recognized that a lively Opposition is a necessity in Parliament, and if the Progressives will not act it is the least they could do to facilitate the election of someone who is not afraid of the task.

THE RAILWAY SITUATION.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, Chairman of the Dominion Railway Commission, made a statement at Montreal on Tuesday that should not be overlooked when he declared that the railways are in the hands of the labour unions, and that the chief problem centred in trades unionism and in the refusal of employees to do an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. Those are serious charges for a man in Mr. Carvell's position to make. If they are not correct, his resignation as Chairman of the Railway Commission should be demanded. On the other hand, if his allegations are true, what remedy can be adopted? If the wages paid and the overtime manipulated by railway workers are responsible for the high cost of administration and consequently are keeping freight rates high, thus adding to the cost of living, is it not time that the situation was faced squarely? Public opinion would be behind an attempt to restore conditions to normalcy if the people were convinced that the exorbitant demands of labour are responsible for the situation that exists. Mr. Carvell has evidently no doubt about the matter, but in the public interest more information should be given.

REFORESTATION.

With Premier Drury's references to the absolute necessity of Ontario's awakening to the seriousness of the reforestation problem, there will be general agreement among those who have realized the fact that the virgin forests of the Province are nearing their end. Fully 350,000,000 feet of pine are cut each year, and the natural growth fails to replace this loss to the extent of one hundred million feet every twelve months. In a few decades, unless steps are taken to reforest Ontario on a large scale, our wealth of timber will be exhausted. As the Premier pointed out in his address the other day, there is a chance for the municipal organizations, assisted by the Provincial Government, to meet the situation by purchasing woodlands or vacant areas in which trees could be planted. "Trees grow and can be replaced like a crop of corn," decared Hon. Mr. Drury, "and to administer our forest wealth wisely is not to hold large areas untouched, but to take stock of our resources and to replace wastage by new growth." The Premier is undoubtedly correct, and it is to be hoped his address presages vigorous action by the Government of which he is the head. It is a problem that has too long been neglected, and to delay its consideration longer would be a dangerous proceeding. Ontario must act before it is too late.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

Alfred McCue, school teacher at Curve Lake, has been visiting some friends in Cincinnati, and the interview that The Cincinnati Enquirer received with the well-known Indian (reproduced in this issue of The Examiner) is as amusing as an article by Ring Lardner. Ex-Chief McCue may possibly have been having a little quiet fun with the newspaper man. At all events, the scribe's conception of the "primitive conditions" under which the Indians of Peterborough County are supposed to live will furnish Examiner readers with a hearty laugh. The Kawartha Lakes, according to the Ohio view, are the Great Northwest, electric lights and motor cars are mysteries to the Indians, and the article abounds with such expressions as "the wild woods," "portage trail" and "the peril of unknown places." The Enquirer man's idea of Ontario is a century behind the times. There is nothing more dangerous in the Kawartha district now than the lively mosquito, the product of Mr. Ford's factory are running along the forest trails, and the only unknown places are the sites of the moonshiners' stills. The Enquirer man should take a trip over here next summer and see for himself the country which he imagines is still a wilderness. The wildest thing he will discover will be the guests at the summer resorts when their bills are presented, and the only hardship he is likely to encounter is to be embarrassed by some Indian fans' enquiries as to what is the matter with the Cincinnati ball club. But, at least, we must thank him for an enjoyable venture into the field of modern humour.

AN OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK.

With a favourable harvest this year, the people of Canada may confidently look forward to a steady return to more normal conditions. In this way Sir John Aird summarized the outlook of business for 1922 in his address as General Manager before the annual meeting of shareholders of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The doubts so often present a year ago as to what the future might bring forth had become gradually dissipated and the problem of production at lower costs to conform with the general deflation in business was now in a fair way to be solved; consequently, "any change which takes place," he said, "must surely be for the better, and at any moment it may awake to new life and prosperity." One of the hindering factors, however, was the heavy burden of taxation, which in the case of municipal taxes was keeping up rents and retail prices, and in that of taxes on profits kept up the high prices of manufactured goods.

In reviewing the items contained in the bank's annual statement, Sir John pointed out the satisfactory showing which had resulted from its being able to liquidate its assets to conform with the general deflation, as a result of which the proportion of quick assets to liabilities had actually increased over the figures of a year ago. This was, however, not only a credit to the bank, but an indication of the fundamentally sound attitude of the public. The decrease in loans, said Sir John, "was not caused by any set policy of contraction or enforced liquidation, but simply by the natural, orderly and voluntary payment of debts by our customers in the face of the depressed business situation." The soundness of the bank's commercial loans was guaranteed by a system of granting credit which called for the thought and care of some of the best trained men in the bank, and in order further to protect the interests of the shareholders ample provision was made for writing off bad and doubtful debts, the ratio of which to the total loans continued to show a marked decrease. Every care also was taken to make the auditors fully apprised of the value of the bank's assets. Sir John concluded his review of the bank's business by referring to the establishment during the year of branches in Porte of Spain, Trinidad, and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

The recent improvement in the exchange rate with New York of the Canadian dollar, Sir John attributed in large part to "the cumulative effect of very large sales of bonds in the New York market by Canadian Provinces and municipalities, facilitated by the receptive state of the bond market in the United States during the last part of the year," but he sounded the warning that these borrowings have to be paid for by a heavy yearly interest, and that there is no reason to believe that any improvement in the exchange situation brought about in this way will be permanent.

The question of the incidence of taxation and its effect upon the business of the country was dealt with at some length in the Presidential address of Sir Edmund Walker. The President recalled his suggestion of a year ago, for a general sales tax, and urged that a tax of one per cent. should be levied to pay for the war debt, pointing out that the recently adopted tax along similar lines, although existing only in a partial and illogical form, was already productive of a large revenue. The present income tax, however, he characterized as unfair in its incidence and as weighing heavily upon the business of the country. It penalized the very people from whom "capital for new enterprises or for the enlargement of existing enterprises is obtained," and amounted in the extreme cases to 70 per cent. of the entire income. Fortunately the country had seen the end of the excess profits tax, which had done so much to put a fictitious valuation upon business profits.

In his review of Canada's trade Sir Edmund referred to the marked change that had taken place during the past year. For the twelve months ending March, 1921, Canada's total foreign trade amounted to $2,450,587,000, while for the twelve months ending September, 1921, the total had fallen to $1,897,335,000. During the former period, however, imports exceeded exports by $29,730,000, while during the latter the favourable balance was $85,000,000. This may profitably be compared with an unfavourable balance for the twelve months ending September, 1920, of 80 millions and would indicate that the reckless extravagance of a year ago is being corrected. A large proportion of our imports we should make ourselves, says Sir Edmund, and "if we are to prosper and pay our debts abroad we must plan to do so in future. Any other course will be ruinous to Canada." The unfavourable effect of the Fordney tariff, combined with the greatly decreased value of our agricultural produce, must have the effect of limiting our purchasing power abroad.

An interesting account is given by Sir Edmund of the method by which Canadian and German claims for debts and the liquidation of property rights in the respective countries are settled by means of national clearing houses, of which the Canadian organization is under the Secretary of State. Canadian claims against Germans amount to $8,720,000 for debts and $5,072,000 for property rights. He emphasized the need of an international economic conference to deal with the financial problems of Europe and referred especially to the need of making budgets balance and the payment of national debts by amortization. He also spoke of the necessity of a sound land policy in Western Canada with settlement along the lines of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, and expressed the belief that Canada with her natural resources and advantages and with the national character of her people for industry and economy, "of all nations can surely view the future with courage and confidence."

The fundamental principles of osteopathy are as old as the human race and its roots sink deep into its consciousness.

Time's tireless trituration will neither change or displace it.

Getting well in a new and better way, by the pushing, shoving or manipulating of the little bones of the spine back into proper alignment with their fellows, the mechanical adjustment of what is structurally wrong with the patient, and thereby curing his illness, may seem odd to some, but there are millions who have tried it and found that it works just like a charm. Osteopathy as a profession is most honored where it is best known; it stands a more intimate acquaintance.

One of the first questions asked the man seeking a new position is, "What can you do?". If you say "I can save money", and produce a Merchants Bank Pass Book that shows regular weekly or monthly deposits, you need no other recommendation. The man who saves systematically—knows the value of money—is providing for the future—is ambitious—is using his head as well as his hands—and the Savings Account proves it.

HON. T. A. CRERAR

tiations with the Liberal leader which followed, Mr. Crerar went on to other questions. He declared for the immediate consolidation of the Grand Trunk Railway with the National System; advocated economy in administration rather than search for new sources of revenue, and urged substantial reduction in freight rates.

"I am willing," he said, "to work with anyone who will seek to establish in the public administration the measures whiih the country require."

The Progressive leader, who was given a fine reception, said the business of governing Canada presented grave difficulties which were almost dangers. Sections were somewhat losing contact one with the other, when it was essential that the farspread parts remain in contact. Differences of race and religion must be kept down. "We must learn," said the speaker, "to think in broad terms of our common Canadianism. Along this line I hope to see the influence which we shall exert in the commons being carried throughout the Dominion." The country is facing questions of economic and administrative reforms more serious than have been met in the past. The Progressives must keep their organizations intact. He urged that the strength of the United Farmers be kept up, its membership increased, the enthusiasm of the local units strengthened.

A High Mission.

"I do not want," said Mr. Crerar, "to see any narrow partisan spirit invade the Progressive party. It has a high mission—to educate, to develop, to stimulate to higher ideals; to punish public men who fall below its standards and to reward those who maintain its high standards. We must think in terms of public good. We want to see equity and justice prevail. We want to see the standard set that common welfare is the ideal."

Referring briefly to the railway problem, Mr. Crerar said he was convinced the National System was a sound asset fundamentally. Canada had railways for a population of fourteen or fifteen million people—that was the weakness of the situation. "There are certain interests and newspapers and public men," he continued, "who are opposed to the whole principle of national railways and particularly to the incorportion of the old Grand Trunk system into the national system. It is vital to the success of the national system that the Grand Trunk consolidation be completed and that at the earliest possible date. Continuation of the Grand Trunk under separate management would be fatal to the national system.

"I tell you frankly that I am just a little bit suspicious of certain interests operating in Montreal, in the matter of the Canadian National Railways. I think these Montreal interests will ascertain before long that they don't represent the attitude of the Canadian people. I am quite sure they don't represent the people of Quebec."

Mr. Crerar said the whole influence of the Progressive party would be thrown into the effort to secure a reduction in freight rates, which had to come down if the country were to progress.

MAY IGNORE PARLIAMENT

plans he said he intended to continue the fight for independence; he supposed elections would be held within six or nine months.

Such elections, added Mr. De Valera, like the signing of the treaty in London, would be held under the British threat of renewal of warfare, and therefore he would not accept the verdict as the uncoerced will of the people.

"There is a big line of cleavage," sad Mr. De Valera, 'between those standing for dependence and those for independence."

Never would he under any conditions take the oath of allegiance contained in the treaty. Alluding to the Irish Republican bonds he declared they would be redeemed by whatever government was eventually established and added that a meeting of the leaders of the Sinn Fein Party would be held to-day to consider the general position.

An important development was the issurance of a manifesto by the Irish Labor Party stating that Labor would participate in the elections to secure representation in the new Free State Government. The method adopted in summoning those who are to ratify the treaty is held to indicate that the British desire to avoid friction in the transference of the authority in Ireland. Instead of acting directly, the British Government acted through the Dail Cabinet, leaving the Dail initiate execution of the treaty.

The Associated Press is offically informed that the heads of Dublin Castle will do their utmost to facilitate and expedite the provisional government's taking over of full authority. Arrangements have already been made for the speedy evacuation of the auxiliaries, and as soon as the treaty is ratified by the Southern Parliament evacuation of the army will begin. Any of the existing Irish officials whom the Free State dismisses must be compensated from Irish funds, excepting the auxiliaries and Black and Tans, who will be compensated by the British Government.

THE PIXIES PLOT

You have it, or you have it not;
The Cantle of the Pixie's plot,
Where never spade nor hoe shall ply
To break that treasured sanctity.
Touch no bloom there; uproot no weed;
Let what will blow
Suffer the thistle, briar and thorn to grow,
The dandelion to seed.

Though full the garden of your mind
Well planted on a soil that's kind.
Your hedges gay, your borders clean,
Your seasons fair, your clime serene.

Yet trammel not the Pixie's mite,
For welcoming
Chance little, wondering weary, fairy thing
Lost in the dim owl-light.
Still virgin, free and set apart
Ordain one dingle of your heart
Where visions home and wing come true,
Herein a gentle dawn than day
Shall often break
For foot-sore spirits, tired of reason's ache,
And children come to play.

A REVIEW OF THE BANKING YEAR

Sir John Aird, General Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, addresses the Shareholders at the Annual Meeting of the Bank

The contraction in business, to which I referred when addressing you a year ago, has continued unabated down to the present time; indeed it increased in severity through out the greater part of the year just closed. It has been a time of testing for the financial policies of all business, and particularly of banks, searching out the weak spots and revealing the true outcome of plans adopted under much brighter auspices. It has been a source of much gratification to us to find that policies adopted by this Bank after full consideration, with a view to warding off the evil effects of just such a period as the present, have proved as efficacious as we had hoped, enabing us to view the present with equanuity and to look forward to the future with confidence.

A Satisfactory Showing

The net profits of the Bank during the year amounted to $3,110,130, or about $190,000 less than a year ago. Considering the difficulties with which the situation has been beset, and the steady shrinkage in the volume of all business, resulting in our case in a smaller amount of loans on which to earn a profit we venture to think that you will regard this as a satisfactory showing. We have been able to provide out of it the regular dividend of twelve per cent., and a bonus of one per cent. paid last December. We have set aside $325,000 for the very heavy burden of taxation levied by the various Governments under whose rule we transact business, $500,000 for Bank Premises Account, $178,370 for the Officers' Pension Fund, and finally carry forward into next year's accounts at the credit of Profit and Loss, a balance of 1,946,745, or $162,766 more than a year ago. The writing off of $500,000 from Bank Premises Account is in pursuance of our expressed policy of carrying our premises on our books at approximately 50 per cent. of their cost. We referred last year to having been able to acquire premises for several of our branches in the West Indies and South America on favourable terms and the purchase price of these is reflected in this year's statement, accounting for the principal part of the increase in the item of Bank Premises in our balance sheet.

Influence of Lower Prices

The decrease of somewhat over seven million dollars in notes of the Bank in circulation, which now amount to $23,477,574, is, of course, the direct result of lower prices for commodities and of the contraction in the volume of general business. Owing to lower prices a much small er amount of money is required to handle a given quantity of goods than a years ago. The same influences have had their effect on depos its, which now stand at $353,155,200, of which about 254 millions bear interest, the balance of 99 million being non-interest-bearing. I have already mentioned the decrease in the Bank's loans, which is a natural accompaniment of the decrease in deposits and circulation. The item of Bills Payable shows an increase, standing now at $2,758,126, or somewhat more than double the figures of a year ago. This reflects the return of more normal conditions in the principal money centres abroad and is also in a measure a tribute to the standing of this Bank in the foreign exchange markets. Acceptances under Letters of Credit show a large decrease, owing to the inactivity of foreign trade at the present time.

Strong Reserves.

Cash on hand and in the Central Gold Reserves, that is, the Bank's holdings of gold and silver, coin and Dominion notes, stands at $65,162,871, and represents an increase in proportion to our present liabilities by way of deposits and note issue, from 15.9 per cent. to 17.3 per cent. There has been a similar increase in the proportion between "quick assets" and these liabilities, from 48 per cent. a year ago to 49 per cent. at the close of November last. We have thought it well to maintain ample reserves at all times under present unsettled conditions. There are several important changes in the items comprised in the term "quick assets." Thus, the amount of cheques on other banks held at the end of November shows a large decrease as compared with the figures of the previous year. The reasons for this are, of course, the general inactivity of business and lower prices.

Government Securities.

There have been some considerable changes in the Government securities we hold. During the year the British Government continued to reduce its indebtedness to the Canadian banks by payment of the short term securities which the latter hold, and we took the opportunity of investing a corresponding sum, at the favourable rates which prevailed in the bond market, in the securities issued by our various Provincial Governments. During the year we paid off all our borrowings from the Dominion Government under the Finance Act. Loans and Discounts in Canada, other than call and short loans, amounted to $206,588,328, and those elsewhere to $23,334,479. We still hold an outstanding position in the first of these two items, which represents roughly the measure of service rendered to the commercial and industrial business of Canada and to its agricultural interests. There has been an increase in Overdue Debts, but it is small when compared with the total volume of our business and when the conditions that prevail are taken into consideration. We have provided amply for all possible loss, and believe the figures at which this asset stands in our books to be undoubtedly conservative.

Sound Commercial Loans.

Our total assets show a decrease of between 10 and 11 per cent. as compared with the figures of a year ago, which is more than accounted for by the decrease in commodity prices. At the end of November, 1920, the total assets of the Bank stood at $480,760,000, and at the end of August last, seven months later, they had been reduced to $378,814,000, that is by about $102,000,000, or over 21 per cent. This was not caused by any set policy of contraction or enforced liquidation, but simply by the natural, orderly and voluntary payment of debts by our customers in the face of the depressed business situation. Naturally it affected our earning power for the time being, and has resulted in lower profits for the year, but we look upon it as most striking evidence as to the soundness of our commercial loans and as to the liquid position of our other assets. It shows, too, that the business of the Bank is well diversified and not bound up with the fortunes of any one industry. You will have noticed, however, from the balance sheet in your hands that the total assets of the Bank as at November 30th last amounted to over $428,000,000. This increase is owing largely to our activities in connection with the movement of the crop of last autumn.

Careful Administration.

I should like to lay frankly before the shareholders the precautions with which we have surrounded the administration of the trust committed to our care, of which that part which bears the ultimate risk is the money which you as shareholders have invested in the business. I wish to say emphatically that the safety of your investment does not depend upon my own unaided judgment, nor upon that of any other single officer of this institution. We have departments at Toronto, Winnipeg, Calgary, Vancouver, Sherbrooke and Halifax, for the purpose of supervising the loans of the Bank. These departments are headed by senior officers of proved judgment and experience in lending money, and they are assisted in their work by some of the best and brightest of the younger men on our staff, specially selected for the purpose. The training these men receive in these departments in the handling of credits is looked upon as offering the best opportunity this Bank can give for future promotion and usefulness. Under the personal guidance and oversight of the head of the department they check and scrutinize the judgment exercised by the various local managrs in making loans. In addition, all loans or credits over a certain sum have to be passed upon by the Credit Department at Head Office and by your Board of Directors. Every year a statement signed by three of the senior officers of the Head Office in charge of credits is submitted to the Board, certifying that every credit which should come before the Board, has been submitted to it.

Ample Provision.

The procedure I have described is that which is applied to all the current and active business of the Bank. The comparatively small number of accounts in connection with which there are slow or dragging advances, are subject to the additional test of an annual review by the Superintendents and the Chief Inspector. This takes place in the autumn of each year, and whenever in the judgment of these officers there is doubt as to the ultimate collection of the face amount of any debt, full provision for the estimated loss is made, either by writing down the debt in the books or by setting aside ample provision for it in a contingent account. The same procedure is applied to all the miscellaneous assets of the Bank, such as bonds and stocks held as investments, or other items which have come into its possession as security for debts incurred to it. The provision which is thus made for bad debts is so ample that every year a certain amount is recovered from debts previously written off our books, and we have a special organization in the Head Office to look after these written-off debts and to see that nothing is left undone which is necessary to protect the Bank's interest in them. I should like to repeat what I drew attention to at the beginning of my address today, that the policies deliberately adopted by this Bank to govern its methods of lending money, with a view to protecting it from bad debts, especially under such adverse circumstances as we have passed through during the past year, have proved most effectual, so that the ratio of bad debts to total loans over a series of years shows a marked decrease.

A Thorough Audit.

As to the auditors' certificate, the auditors whom you elect each year are chartered accountants belonging to well-known firms of established deputation. They are voted each year at these annual meetings a considerable sum for their services, namely, $20,000, and undoubtedly they put forth their best endeavours in the discharge of their duties. They visit a number of the principal offices of the Bank, and in addition to verifying the accuracy of the records, and the physical existence of the cash and securities held as investments or as collateral for loans, they carefully examine the annual review of all slow or dragging loans and investments of which I have spoken, and for their own satisfaction are placed in possession of the evidence upon which our estimate of the value of such assets is based. If this does not satisfy them, they are at liberty to make such independent investigations as their judgment may dictate. In our opinion their work is well and thoroughly done.

A Difficult Year.

In conclusion, I may say that the year through which we have just passed was undoubtedly a difficult one. Irregularities here and there in the progress of deflation show that the process is not yet fully completed. The burden of taxation is a heavy one, made unduly so by inequitable distribution. It would be well if our Governments would direct taxation more at what people are spending and less at what they are saving. It must be remembered that high municipal taxes are one of the influences that keep up rents and retail prices, just as taxes on profits keep up the prices of manufactured goods. The lack of capital accumulations and the high level of wages also function in the manner of taxes on employment, tending to increase the unemployment which has been so prevalent. In these and other ways the return of prosperity is being held back.

Improving Prospect.

Yet the position has undoubtedly improved in many respects. The doubt as to the future so widespread a year ago has largely disappeared. The stocks of goods produced at a high cost have been steadily reduced by consumption, even if often disposed of at a loss. The problem of production at lower costs, which for a time seemed so baffling, appears now in a fair way to be solved. The soil and other natural resources of Canada are as ready as ever to respond to the efforts of her people. If business seems at present to be more or less in a condition of suspended animation, any change which takes place must surely be for the better, and at any moment it may awake to new life and prosperity. Granted a favourable harvest in the coming year, we may confidently look for a steady return to more normal conditions.

Appetite Good, Gained 20 lbs.

Could Not Feel Better

From a nervous wreck this man was restored to health, strength and happiness.

He tells his own story in this letter.

Mr. Ralph A. Roberts, Loverna, Sask., writes:

"In 1917 I had lost all appetite, failed 25 pounds in weight, become very nervous and shaky and in fact given up all hope of recovery. For some time I had suffered from constipation, which kept getting worse, until I was fast becoming a total wreck. Doctors and their drugs were sending me to my grave at the age of 39.

"Then I read about people being restored by Dr. Chase's Medicines and after three months' use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I found that my bowels were restored to normal movement each day and the constipation was no more. I had a good appetite, had gained 20 pounds and could not feel better. I shall always be grateful for these benefits."

PAINS SO BAD STAYED IN BED

Young Mrs. Beecroft Had Miserable Time Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Hamilton, Ont.—"I have suffered for three years from a female trouble and consequent weakness, pain and irregularity which kept me in bed four or five days each month. I nearly went crazy with pains in my back, and for about a week at a time I could not do my work. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the Hamilton Spectator and I took it. Now I have no pain and am quite regular unless I overwork or stay on my feet from early morning until late at night. I keep house and do all my own work without any trouble. I have recommended the Compound to several friends."—Mrs. EMILY BEECROFT, 269 Victoria Ave. N., Hamilton, Ontario.

For forty years women have been telling how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It is made from native roots and herbs and contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service.

FARMERS AND LABOUR.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., January 12 (Canadian Press). — J. W. Wilkinson, international organiser of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, injected a certain liveliness into yesterday's session of the Alberta Federation of Labour Convention, when he asked for a discussion on the question of just how far labour men were prepared to go into political affiliation with organised farmers. Mr. Wilkinson pointed out that the Hon. Alex. Ross, Labour member and Minister of Labour in the U. F. A. Government, had stated that the affiliation was only an experiment. The delegate claimed that the breaking point came in what he termed the farmers' uppermost thought, cheap labour and long hours.

President Wheatley answered that fraternally labour was sympathetic to the farmers, but "we must move cautiously." He held that politics were out of the province of the confederation.

LITTLE INTEREST IN FIGHT.

PARIS, January 12 (Canadian Press).—The French press generally expresses regret that Georges Carpentier has agreed to meet George Cook, the Australian, in a boxing contest in London this evening. The newspapers are showing little interest in the fight beyond pointing out that it will be a possible means of ascertaining whether his beating last summer by Jack Dempsey has slowed up the Frenchman.

Close followers of boxing say that unless Carpentier wins inside of six rounds, the fight in London will be considered a virtual defeat for the French fighter.

The witness said that this plan had been used by Germany in writing its last pre-war tariff measure.

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. NOBLE STEWART—CURLING RESULTS—WINTER HORSE SHOW IN MILLBROOK.

MILLBROOK, Jan. 12.—The late Mrs. Noble Stewart, whose funeral took place on Tuesday, January 10, to Gardner's Cemetery, was born in County Armagh, Ireland, about seventy years ago. The deceased, whose maiden name was Eliza A. Evans, was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Evans, and came to Canada with her mother when only two years of age, her father having come out over a year before that time, and making a home in Cavan Township, previous to sending for his wife and child. After her marriage to Mr. Noble Stewart, which took place in 1873, they lived on a farm in Otonabee, and also in Cavan and Hope Townships, before finally settling in Millbrook about twelve years ago.

There were ten children in Mrs. Evans' family, two of whom died in infancy, and one adopted son, Mr. Willie Evans, now living in Detroit; one sister, Mrs. John Breakey, also of Detroit, predeceased Mrs. Stewart a few years ago, and the six still living are: Mrs. James Stewart and Mrs. Roderick Hopkins, of Peterborough; Miss Matilda Evans, of Omaha, Nebraska; Mrs. James Leaton, of Munroe, Michigan; Mrs. Emily Hopkins, of Calgary, Alberta, and Mrs. Paschal Metheral, of Weyburn, Sask.

Besides her sorrowing husband the immediate surviving relatives are four daughters, Mrs. George Lacheur, of Peterborough; Mrs. Matthew Skuce, of Redlands, Cal.; Mrs. George Hubbard, of Muskogea, Okla., and Miss Alice at home; two sons, Harry, of Louisville, Kentucky, and Evans, of Frazerville. Two other sons, Van M. Stewart, who served in the American Army, and Hiram L., were killed overseas, and the consequent suspense and sorrow, especially in the case of the latter, who was reported missing for several months before final notification came from Ottawa officially announcing his death, undoubtedly told severely on Mrs. Stewart's nerves and general health to a very great degree.

Mrs. Stewart's parents both predeceased her, her mother, Mrs. Evans, passing away only two years ago at the ripe old age of 94 years. Though crippled for several years by a severe form of rheumatism, so that she could walk only with the aid of crutches, Mrs. Stewart was ever possessed of a sunny, Christian character, devoted to her family, and attending faithfully the services of her church (Methodist), of which she had been almost a lifelong member. On Communion Sunday, especially, if possible at all, she was always present, and never failed to give a ready testimony to her unshaken faith in her Saviour, her life, indeed, expressing her religion not only in word but in act as well. The last few months before her death, the deceased suffered from a very trying form of illness, but passed quietly away about midnight on Friday, January 6th. Her funeral was very largely attended, many of her former neighbors and friends from Otonabee, and other points, being present. Rev. S. T. Tucker and Rev. Joseph Wilks had charge of the solemn and impressive services. The pall-bearers were: Mr. R. Hopkins, of Peterborough; Mr. William Stewart, of Minto, Man.; and Mr. Edward Stewart, of Millbrook, these three being brothers-in-law; Messrs. Thos. Bradley, William Gray and J. Thorne. Many beautiful floral tributes, including a wreath from the choir, of which Miss Alice Stewart is a most faithful member; one from the L.O.L. No. 79, and the R.B.P. No. 945, of which Mr. Stewart is a member of long standing, and sprays from the Rebekah Lodges of both Peterborough and Millbrook, bore testimony to the high esteem and affection in which Mrs. Stewart was held by a large circle of relatives and friends.

Curling Results.

Tuesday evening's curling for the Allen Cup, when Rink No. 1, R. H. Edmunds, skip, challenged the winners, Rink No. 3, J. Steele, skip, resulted in a victory for the former, the score being 15-4. The score, however, is no indication of the excellence of the play, which was the finest curling seen here for a long time, both the skips, especially, putting up a splendid game, and neither of them missing a single shot all evening. The members of the winning rink are: G. S. Gervan, G. E. Burnham, W. G. Hetherington, and R. H. Edwards.

The challengers for Thursday evening's competition is Rink No. 2, J. E. Allen, skip, the other members being J. R. Smith, T. H. Bradley and C. Nattrass.

The members of Mrs. Offa Williamson's S. S. Class met at her home on the 7th Line, Cavan, on Wednesday evening for a social gathering in honor of Miss Kathleen Freelove, who is being adopted by Rev. and Mrs. Walter Millson, of London, and who leaves on Friday for her new home. The teacher and members of the class presented Kathleen with a handsome silk umbrella and the following address, which was read by Gladys Tucker:

Dear Kathleen,—We, the members of the "Sunshine Class," have come here at the invitation of our teacher, to spend a social evening together before you leave. You are one of the oldest members of the class, and have helped in every way to make it successful. We hope that wherever you go you will find a place in a Sunday school class and will help inspire it as you have this one.

We would like you to accept this token of our friendship which will remind you of the good times we have had together. When you are out in the rain this little gift will bring fond memories of the "Sunshine Class" to you.

We wish you every success and hope that you will not forget your friends of Millbrook.

Signed—

Mrs. Williamson, Hazel Sanderson, Gladys Tucker, Mabel Lord, Ethel Brooker, Alexander Johnston.

The Lona Fendell Company, which is playng here this week, is putting on good clean shows and possesses a strong cast. Last night the play "Which one shall I marry" was not only amusing but carried with it a good moral. To-night they play "The Woman in Room Thirteen" and Friday night "The Broken Rosary" both of which should draw full house, in spite of the many other attractions in town.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N.S., Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N.S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows:—"I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care.

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble".

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our

THIS WILL INTEREST STOMACH SUFFERERS

Says Indigestion comes from an Excess of Hydrochloric acid.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and, indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is efferyescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important it neutralize he acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousand of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

STRAINS OF BAGPIPES SOUND INDEPENDENCE.

Would Separate Scotland From England, Now.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—(Associated Press.)—Now there is an agitation for the independence of Scotland.

Forty members of the Scots National League, which stands for complete separation from England recently met in London and, to the wild strains of the bagpipes affirmed their determination to fight, if need be, to gain complete and absolute independence for Scotland.

Speakers recalled that in 1706 Scotland was a free country with a national debt of only one shilling and seven pence per head of the population. To-day, every Scotsmen owes £177. Scotland's contribution to taxation last year amounted to £113,487,000, but only one-quarter of this was devoted to Scottish purposes, they complained.

The threat of a Scottish secess on has, however failed to rouse anything more than a tolerant smile from the general public.

PRINCE OF BOKHARA VENDOR OF CARPETS

Fallen to Low Estate Because of Russians.

MOSCOW, Jan. 12.—(Associated Press)—Prince Tekintzi is a vendor of the famous Tekintzi type of carpets in one of Moscow's co-operative stores recently opened. He is a prince or "Han" in the neighborhood of Bokhara, in Turkestan whence come carpets equal to those of Persia in quality.

He has fallen to his present low degree because of the Russians. First, under the ruthless General Skobelev, in 1881, the Russian defeated the Tekke Turcomans and completed the conquest of Tukestan, and this prince was captured by the Russians. Now, under the Soviet regime, he has lost his estates where the carpets were made.

He was Minister of Foreign Affairs, at Baku, until the Aberbaijan Republic was, over a year ago, converted to Communism by Moscow and became a Soviet republic. Then he was locked up and shipped last spring to Kolmogori prison, near Archangel. Only lately he was released.

ITALY WILL HOLD ART EXHIBITION

To Display Beautiful Treasures Recovered From Austria.

ROME, Jan. 12. — (Associated Press)—Italy will soon hold an exhibition to display to the world the beautiful art treasures she has recovered from Austria in consequence of the war. The Italians claim that these objects of virtue were systematically stolen by Austrian from Italy in the days when the Italians were too weak to protect themselves. First and foremost among them are nine magnificent tapestries of Bible subjects. They are of Flemish workmanship.

These products of the first half of the 15th century were hung in the Ducal palace at Mantua. Emperor Francis Joseph ordered their transfer temporarily to the Museum of Vienna and later they were removed to the Imperial palace in the Austrian capital. They have just been returned to Italy's possession and once more hang in the Mantuan Palace.

Some of the works of art just restored were among those carried off by Napoleon from the churches, palaces and country houses of the republic of Venice. They were returned to Venice after Napoleon's fall, only to be carried off to Vienna to become the brightest ornaments of the celebrated galleries there. Included in the number now returned to Italy are Cima da Conegliano's superb "Madonna of the Oranges" and pictures by Bartolommeo Vivarini, Paolo Veronese, Bisciani (the Master of Carpaccio)', Tintoretto, Bellini, etc.

TINY SUBMARINE OPERATED BY ONE

Invented by Engineer at Trieste, Italy.

ROME, Jan. 12.—(Associated Press).—A miniature submarine, having a capacity of about one cubic yard and operated by one man, has been invented by an engineer of Trieste to recover treasure from ships lost at sea and now lying in the ocean depths.

The little craft was devised by Francesco Kalin. It has an electric motor, a pump for expelling water and a device for changing the air within the submarine, which will allow her to remain submerged for two hours.

Two reflectors of 3,000 candle-power enable the worker to see clearly about him while immersed.

The little submarine is attached by an electric cable to a ship on the surface which can, if necessary, raise the undersea boat. The latter, however, rises to the surface without assistance.

It is claimed that the little craft can descend to greater depths than have yet been attained by submarines. The boat was recently tested by several naval experts.

RESEARCH WORK.

The Patient—Can this operation be safely performed, doctor?

The Eminent Surgeon—That, my dear sir, is what we are about to discover.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Examiner, City,

Dear Sir,—In his addres on Sunday evening, January 8, Rev. Mr. Young made the assertion that Christian Science was blasphemous. If he had made a study of the tenets of that wonderful religion as found on page 497, of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, the book he acknowledges he can't understand, he would perforce retract the accusation of blasphemy.

It is to be regretted that a man recognized as a "very clever young man should attempt a lecture on Christian Science, its works, and its founder, after acknowledging that it is beyond his intellectual capacity. I have heard it said "A wise man knows enough to keep his mouth shut."

It was to be noticed in his selection from "Alice in Wonderland" that he did not condemn the whole book because of one disjoiuted paragraph; then why should one, after selecting at random a few disconnected paragraphs whose contexts have been ignored, be so inconsistent as to try to ridcule and denounce a book which is recognized as a truly marvellous work by the most wonderful woman of the nineteenth-century?

As to Christian Science not giving a vital grip on material existence there are thousands daily, yes hourly offering paeans of praise and thanksgiving for the benefit it is to them from every standpoint, physically, mentally, morally and spirtually.

Mr. Young says Christian Science is all right for functional or nervous disorders, but denies it as of any consequence in organic troubles. The writer has first-hand knowledge of many cases of very alarming organic diseases which have been healed through the knowledge gained from Christian Science and in his (Mr. Young's) audience were recognized at least three, other than myself, who have enjoyed at least relief from diseases. We are told we know only so much of Christian Science as we can prove in our daily walk and conversation. This being the case, the author of this either must know a little were he can testify to the healing of a severe case of inflammatory rheumatism in less than six hours from the time the alarming symptoms and pains were noticed, this was accomplished without any material advice or applications, alone with God.

We will hope the reverend gentle? man and his audience will take a little more time to investigate last evening's subject, not a cursory examination of a few books but a whole-hearted one. "Study carefully the letter and imbibe the spirit", Mary Baker Eddy. While we serve the "flesh pots of Egypt" we gain very little understanding of spirituality, so it behooves one and all to look beyond and away from the flesh pots, adulation, popularity, wealth, fame, and sensuality in its many forms.

If the party referred to in Mr. Young's concluding remarks had been a real Christian Scientist he would not have been laughing at what he termed nothingness, illusion rather he would have been realizing the allness of life, thereby his fellow man instead of deriding him.

Ridicule has no part in Christian Science either in the home, in business or in a service of public worship.

We are glad Mr. Young is honest enough to recognize and declare that there is even a little Truth in Christian Science. "A little leaven, leavens the whole lump."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am

DANZIG RAILROADS FOR THE POLES

Transfered Under Treaty of Versailles.

DANZIG, January 12 (Associated Press). — Transfer of the Danzig railroads to the Polish Government, which is to administer the main transportation lines of the free city created by the Treaty of Versailles, was accomplished recently without a hitch, this being one of the principal changes in completng the arrangements designed to give the new Polish Republic an outlet to the sea.

The Danzig railroads are to be under the direction of the Polish Minister of Ralroads in Warsaw, and operated in conjunction with the Polish state railroad system, with an assistant director residing in Danzig.

The Poles, it is said, plain to retain all the Germans employed on the Danzig division, and in this way do their share toward maintainng the friendly relations with the Danzigers so far as the railroads are concerned.

PIMPLES ON FACE

DIDN'T LIKE TO GO OUT

Those nasty little pimples that break out on the face and other parts of the body are simply indications that the blood is out of order and requires purifying.

There is only one way to get rid of this obnoxious skin trouble, and that is by giving the blood a thorough cleansing which can best be done by that old reliable blood medicine, and when the blood is purified the pimples will vanish and you will have a clear, healthy complexion.

Miss Mary E. Flangan, R. R. No. 3, Stella, Ont., writes: "I have suffered for about two years with pimples and blotches breaking out on my face. The doctor said it was caused by bad blood. My face was so bad I didn't like to go out among a crowd of people. One day I was talking to a friend, and she advised me to get a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and try it. I took three bottles, and there was not a blotch or pimple of any kind left. Some of my friends asked me what I had used and I said, "Burdock Blood Bitters chased them."

B. B. B. has been on the market for the past 45 years so you are not experimenting with some new and untried remedy.

COMMUNISM IN BULGARIA DEAD.

Suppressed in Whole Country By Government's Vigorous Action.

BELGRADE, January 12 (Associated Press). — Communism seems to have been suppressed in this country. The vigorous action of the government which recently passed a law imposing the death penalty upon enemies of public security and offenders against the state, has struck terror into the hearts of radicals and revolutionaries.

The jails in the country are choked with persons accused of Bolshevik or Commomnuist activity, and others who are not in prison are declared to be either thoroughly cowed or to have fled from the country. Those persons implicated in the murder last July of M. Drachkovitch, the Minister of the Interior, and in the attempt to assassinate Jugoslavia's young King, Alexander, will be brought to trial in January. Among them are a number of Communist deputies in Parliament.

Jugoslavia's statesmen assert that the entire Communist party, once of formidable and menacing proportions, has been suppressed as a result of fearless action by the government and that many of its members have been exiled or imprisoned.

The Parliamentary privileges of Communist members of the National Assembly numbering nearly sixty, have been cancelled, and since August, none of them has participated in the proceedings. Communist newspapers and propaganda organisations throughout the country have been suppressed and their principals placed in custody or under surveillance. Communism first gained a foothold in Jugoslavia in 1919.

FATHER KILLER OWN DAUGHTER

Mistake in Which Mother Also Took a Hand.

SOFIA, Jan. 12. — (Associated Press)—A strange tale of banditry resulting in the murder by mistake of a girl by her own father and mother is vouched for officially by the Bulgarian police.

Ivan, a peasant of Hazard, sold two calves for 10,000 levas and started home from the market with his daughter Milka. Fearing robbers he gave the money to his daughter. The father was attacked on the road and killed by two men who saw him make the sale.

Milka fled and sought refuge in a peasant cottage where a woman and her daughter comforted her and gave her dinner. Later Milka was sent to bed with the woman's daughter.

When the husband had returned told the wife he had killed a man uselessly, as the money he sought had been carried off by the murdered man's daughter.

The woman to whom Milka had told her story repeated it to her husband and the two determined to kill the girl as she lay asleep to get the 10,000 levas.

Milka, in the daughter's room upstairs overheard and escaped through a window. When police were brought by Milka they found the old couple had gone upstairs and killed their own daughter by mistake in the dark.

Hydro Radials
(BY T. TOOMS, M.L.A.)

(T. TOOMS, M.L.A.)

My contribution on Hydro-radials to The Examiner a short time ago created a certain amount of interest, which encourages me to supplement the points brought forward in that article. First, do not get mixed up with Hydro-radials and generating power and its distribution. These are distinct in themselves. The Hydro-radials are new so far as the Ontario Hydro Commission is concerned. The Hydro Commission at present is for generating and distributing electric power.

The broad question of policy is now up for determination. Shall this Government adopt the principle of publicly-owned and operated radial railway systems for the Province as a whole and proceed, through the Hydro-electric Commission, with its construction and operation.

The question is a big one and of vital importance to the Province; therefore, everyone should make themselves as familiar with the question as possible, because it involves many considerations In 1908, before Hydro development started, the direct debt of the Province was $17,250,000 with an indirect debt of guaranteeing bonds to the extent of $8,250,000, making a total of $25,000,000 to $26,000,000. Today the direct debt of the Province stands at $104,000,000, indirect debt at $21,000,000. The credit of the Province, therefore, stands pledged for the repayment of $125,000,000. To date the Province has advanced approximately $56,750,000 to the Hydro-electric Commission; also guaranteed bonds to the amount of $8,326,000. This means that the obligation of the Province now stands at $65,000,000, or 52 per cent. of its present debt is represented by assistance given to the Hydro-electric Commission.

The matter does not end there. So far as can be estimated the Province will be called upon in the near future to supply $32,000,000 more in cash to complete Chippawa and Nipigon and other electrical power works. Also, note that in 1921 bonds of the Ontario Power Company fall due (owned by the commission) to the amount of $2,500,000, and the Province has to render assistance by way of cash or guarantees to meet the same.

So, by accounts above mentioned and other similar expenditures too numerous to mention in this article, the Province has given guarantee to the amount of $104,000,000, all in connection with power development and distribution by the commission.

These must be paid by the municipalities and the Province. I may mention that the rapidly increasing debt and financial commitments of the Dominion, Province and municipalities has aroused well-founded apprehension in the minds of thinking citizens. I will here give approximate figures for you to judge for yourselves:

Debt of the Dominion—$333,000,000 in 1914, $2,200,000,000 in 1920.

Debt of Province of Ontario—$50,000,000 in 1914, $160,000,000 in 1920. In fact, at June 15th, 1921, it stood at $167,000,000. Of this $103,250,000 is advanced to Hydro projects.

Toronto debt—$60,500,000 in 1914, $75,000,000 in 1920.

The public have these debts to pay, whether to Dominion, Province or municipality.

The generation of power and its distribution is alright. The Hydro-radial Commission of Enquiry was not directed against the administration of that, because it is undoubtedly an essential and public utility. But this new scheme of Hydro-electric railways may be of great utility, but the service may be of a more local character and very competitive; different in many respects from the power supply.

As I have tried to show, our Provincial debt is increasing at an alarming rate through these advances to the Hydro Commission. It is no answer to the difficulty to say, endorsing of the bonds is a mere matter of form, involving no difficulty, and experience is to the contrary.

Since these projects of Hydro-radials were brought before the people the Dominion has taken over the G.T.R. and Canadian Northern Railway, and the cost of operating these, etc., has to be paid by the public. Neither had the present system of public highways been adopted, the effect of these changes have never been discussed. In districts served by Hydro-electric power there is now a shortage of power for industrial purposes.

The present radials were constructed when costs were lower than they are today. Statistics show many of these have failed to pay. It would seem as if it would be more difficult to make the proposed railways pay with the extra cost of construction. The electric railways in the U.S.A. have been for several years financially unsatisfactory, and that the municipalities find it impossible to float bonds for the projected roads unless guaranteed by the Government.

For all medium short distances it is alleged that the system of good roads upon which a motor truck could carry freight, will serve the public better than electric railways. This Province is already committed to a good road policy, involving large expenditure.

It is a fairly open question whether, to the great responsibilities now carried by the Hydro-electric Commission in connection with the production and distribution of power, including Chippawa scheme, there ought now to be added the responsibilities and the great burden of detail of a Province-wide system of radial railway.

I am afraid of making this article too long, but I would like to draw your attention to the fact that the proposed radial line from Bowmanville East to Niagara Falls West would be paralleling and competing with the G.T.R. and C.N.R., both pubicly-owned railways; also the C. P. R., T. H. & B. and the Niagara-St. Catherines-Toronto Hydro-radial line.

Therefore, this talk of plunging into Hydro-radials at present may be a scheme for professional promoters, but certainly not to the minds of men with the safe-guarding of the Province from such a financial burden that is not opportune at the present time at heart.

FATHER'S SHOTS ROUT SUITOR OF DAUGHTER

But Police Then Come and Swain Has Last Laugh.

DETROIT, Jan. 10.—John Toto, 62 years old, 2008 Fort street east, must omit violence in refereeing the love affairs of his daughter, Cornelia, Hunt Station police have decided.

Shortly before midnight, when Mike Lovalvo, 22 years old, 1543 Fort street east, Cornelia's choice, called at the Toto home to ask John for her hand, the father greeted him with a fusillade of revolver shots police say. Chortling in the parlor over his rival's discomfiture was Mike Cismos, 35 years old, 67 St. Aubin avenue, River Rouge, the father's selection for son-in-law.

Young blood had its day, however for on Lovalvo's appeal to police an automobile load of detectives descended on the Toto home, arresting John and Mike on the charge of disturbing the peace.

EVANGELIST A. E. AINSLIE AT THE GOSPEL HALL

Preached last night on Faith and Sacrifice.

"Why did God reject Cain's offering?" was the subject at the Gospel Hall last night.

These two men standing in the opening pages of God's word, represent distinct principles true to-day, said the speaker. Abel was a man of faith; it was by faith he offered a more excellent sacrifice. Faith implies testimony given; faith comes by hearing—hearing by the Word of God. Abel acted on what God had spoken; he brought his sacrifice. This has ever been God's way, and it is so to-day. The writer to the Hebrews says: "How much more shall the blood of Christ who through the eternal Spirit offered himself to God judge your conscience from dead works to worship the living God." Heb. 9 14 Then without the shedding of blood is no remission. Abel comes by way of sacrifice. Cain brings of the fruit of the ground an offering, not a sacrifice. When no fire fell he knew he was rejected; rage filled his breast, and the wonder is that God did not cast him right there from his presence. But grace abounds; and the Lord said Why art thou wrath? If thou doest well shalt thou not be accepted? God is no respector of persons; he loved Cain as much as Abel, but the trouble was not in God; and if thou doest not well sin lieth at the door. Cain had ignored the fact of Sin like many to-day; and Cain has a large following who are going in the way of Cain. This also meant no sin-offering. He despised God's provision; he would not bring the sacrifice.

Here the speaker spoke of whole religious systems which ignore the sacrifice, counting the blood a common thing; trying to please God with beautiful lives or deeds of kindness. Cain's offering was very beautiful but to God worthless. His real heart is soon laid bare as he breaks away from God's reasoning voice only to stain his hands with his brother's blood. How sad the first man born into this world became the world's first murderer. Better heed God's voice, and, like the writer of the hymn, say:

"My faith would lay his hand,
On that dear head of thine,
While like a penitent I stand
And there confess my sin."

ROMA CHRISTENED AT BOLLING FIELD

The giant dirigible "Roma," purchased by the United States from Italy, putting off from Bolling Field, Washington, D. C., after it has been christened. SI, THE ENGLISH TO LEARN SHE'S A BIG CINCH, SENOR

WASHINGTON, January 12. — Somebody who signs himself E. de M. of Vienna, Austria, has contributed largely to the generous purpose of helping Washington to start the New Year with a broad smile.

E. de M. is, to say the least, vehemently interested in the Chili-Bolivia boundary controversy, and has sent from Vienna to officials and newspapers in the American capital a booklet in which he presents his none too complimentary view of the Republic of Chili. This he sets forth with characteristic Latin abandon.

One solution he offers for South American difficulties is embodied in the suggestion that the countries of that continent adopt English as their spoken language instead of the traditional Spanish.

An Easy Language.

English, he declares in Spanish in his introduction to the volume, is "understood in nearly all Christian and non-Christian countries. Its grammar needs no study it is the acme of simplicity. Its spelling, perhaps, will be called complicated, but it is all a matter of custom, of habit. I would guarantee to teach English in three months to the least intelligent."

In proof of which E. de M. undertook to write the body of his book in the language of his choice. Here is a characteristic sample:

"At every new Chilian depredations, plunders, even in peace time, robbing, always wasting, preying at day light, his chained victim, under the famous Monroe Doctrine; we ask: is it no other better way to protect Americans collectivities in the interior and outside?

"The Inca's heir with keen cleverness says: 'That President Monroe Regulations are quite theoretical, speculatives; too polite, timid, fearful, without smack.'

"They are neither whisky, nor ginger-ale; neither champagne nor ptisan.

"Practically, according to the araucans: It is the wooden knife of the Oncle Sam good for nothing."

That Proves It.

If that does not prove the entire simplicity of the English language, it is not from want of effort.

"Chili," says the writer pleasantly, "is matchless famous in such fashion to assassinate by war ways; in the world last corner, Pacific, black-hole, silent, secret, without witness, plenty of the most coward exploits."

The regal indifference with which E. de M., from the eminence of his thre months' old mastery of the King's English, manipulates its principles is pronounced by capital experts as unique in their experience. He has a tip for the American delegation to the Arms Conference:

"It is time to put end to Pacific atrocities not by foolish, polite, diplomatic theoretical ways; but by energetic action, direct military naval intervention, correcting, punishing the bandits, by christian sake; to clean, sweep, disinfect America. Removing the chilian and A. B. C. crimes, watching, controlling to chastice exemplary. One authority must have America to set order to the canibal imperialism.

"The United States instead to mix so much in Europe business, has at very America Home, in the hand, many high important responsibilities; transcendental humanitary cultural duties; political, industrial, financial, religious works."

Yes, the English language is easy. It's too easy, in fact. People take liberties with it!

GREAT PERSONALITY REMOVED BY DEATH.

Abdul Baha Abbas Was Founder of Bahai Movement.

JERUSALEM, Jan. 12.—(Associated Press)—The death at Haifa, Palestine, recently of Abdul Baha Abbas, founder of the Bahai movement, removes from the Orient a great personality who has long been regarded as a prophet by thousands of followers scattered throughout the Occident a well as in the Near East.

With his death, the movement has passed under the guidance of a committee of 19 representing religions and races.

Abdul Baha (servant of God) was 77 years old and his career had been a romantic one. He was exponent of an universal movement whose aim was the realization of the brotherhood of man, and it had gained adherents in Europe, Asia and America and in some of these continents huge temples had been erected for the observance of his teachings.

His funeral assumed an international aspect at which were present many notables representing many countries. Sir Herbert Samuel, High Commissioner of Palestine, was in the procession.

At the age of twenty, Abdul Baha and his father Baha O'llah, were sent to the penal colony of Acca in Syria because of their racial teachings. For more than 40 years he suffered the vicissitudes of a political prisoner. He was liberated in 1908 at the earnest solicitation of his followers in all parts of world. Soon after his release, he started on a long journey which took him to Europe and America and resulted in the swift spreading of his message and gospel.

While in the United States in 1912, he spoke from many Christian pulpits and before many different organizations, schools and colleges in 1920, he was knighted by Great Britain for his humanitarian work in Syria and for his service for world peace.

Bahaism is a social reform. It aims at the freeing of mankind from religious, social and political yokes of the times. Among the things for which it stands are: Universal religion, universal language, a parliament of man representatives from all countries for the settlement of international disputes, universal education, a perfect civilization founded on simplicity and co-operation and emphasis on the spiritual things of life.

In this world movement which found adherents of almost every religion—Islam, Buddhism, Hinduism, Zoroastrianism, Confucianism, Judaism and Christianity. Almost every race and country of the globe contributes adherests to the organization for international brotherhood. People came to city of Acca from all parts of the world to see and talk with Abdul Baha Abbas. His home was a regular Babel. Within it gathered peoples of all races and creeds.

The creed of Bahaism is found in this statement by Baha O'llah, its founder:

"We desire but the good of the world and the happiness of the nations; yet they deem us a stirrer up of strife and sedition worthy of bondage and banishment—that all nations should become one in faith and all men as brothers; that the bonds of affection and unity between the sons of men should be strengthened; that diversity of religion should cease, and differences of race be annulled. What harm is there in this?

Yet so it shall be; these fruitless strifes, these ruinous wars shall pass away, and the "Most Great Peace" shall come—Is not this that which Christ foretold?—Yet we see your kings and rulers lavishing their treasures more freely on means for the destruction of the human race than on that which would conduce to the happiness of mankind. These strifes and this bloodshed and discord must cease, and all men be as one kindred and one family—Let not a man glory in this, that he loves his country; let him rather glory in this, that he loves his kind."

MOTHER, 73, SAVES AUTOIST FROM JAIL.

"Baby of Family," Who Killed Man, Spared.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Jan. 12. — The 73-year-old mother of Russell I. Gillard saved him from a prison term, Judge Vonderwerp told Gillard in placing him on probation for four years. Gillard's automobile killed W. E. Collier, local manufacturer, and a jury found him guilty of manslaughter.

"I want you to do what you can to pay your mother for her suffering. That is a term of your probation," said the court. "It is because of her I am not sending you to prison. Her husband died leaving her with a large family and I believe she is entitled to consideration in her old age."

Gillard must not drive an automobile during his probation and he must pay a fine and costs amounting to $612.

"You were the baby of the family and you lack responsibility," said the court.

NEWCOMERS ENTERTAINED

On Wednesday, January 4, 1922, the Council for Social Service for the Anglican Church in Canada entertained about 60 new comers from the Old Land in St. James Parish House, Toronto, which was kindly loaned for the evening.

Canon Vernon secretary for the council welcomed the people and said he was very sorry that the inclemency of the weather had prevented more from being present.

Rev. W.Gibson, Immigration Chaplain for Toronto, recited "How Rubenstein Played the Piano".

A musical program added much to the enjoyment of the evening and time was spent in making new acquaintances and in renewing those made at last summers picnic.

Rev. Mr. Gibson distributed the presents from the Christmas Tree, and in addition everyone received a bag of nuts and candies.

Refreshments were served and Miss Evelyn Jay, Deaconess Worker for the Council spared no trouble to make the event a success, and much is to be said for the creditabe manner in which this was accomplished.

RUM HIDDEN IN COCOANUTS

Federa Agents Seize Shipment in Minneapolis Station

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 11.—Two hundred cocoanuts which contained not their own natural milk but a pint each of strong Jamaica rum were seized by Federal agents to-day at a Minneapolis railroad station.

A cork plug coming out of one of the cocoanuts led to the discovery of the rum by an agent who was at the station. An eye of each cocoanut had been bored out, the nut filled and a burnt cork stopper placed in the hole.

HOCKEY NOTES

The Holy Name Junior O. H. A. team will practice to-night at Brock Street Rink, between 7 and 8 o'clock. The H. N. S. crew have their biggest battle of the group on their hands to-morrow night, when they clash in Lindsay with the much-touted Midgets. The Green Shirts have the stuff to win right in Lindsay, and if the youngsters will settle down to playing hockey they should bring home the bacon. At all events, those cocky Lindsay kids will know they have been somewhere in the vicinity of a game at hockey.

The City League lived up to its reputation for overtime games last night, for right off the reel the Lakeviews and C. G. E. Tool-room ran into an extra period battle.

Jerry Coughlin's Holy Name Juniors were very much in the limelight last night. Foley and Brennan were with Hamilton's, Legon and Lebarr with Lakeviews, McPherson and Pethick with the Bankers, and Ranger with the C.G.E.

LAKEVIEWS AND HAMILTONS ARE CITY LEAGUE WINNERS

OPENING GAME OF LOCAL CIRCUIT IS AN OVERTIME BATTLE—CHAMPIONS EASILY DEFEAT BANKERS IN SECOND FIXTURE

Lakeviews 4, C.G.E. 3.
(10 minutes overtime.)
Wm. Hamiltons 7, Bankers 0.

The City Hockey League got away to a good start last night when the Lakeviews, the new entry in the circuit, tucked away the C.G.E. Toolroom in a thrilling overtime battle, while the champion Wm. Hamilton A.C. crew found the Bankers easy picking.

The crowd got their money's worth in the Lakeview-C.G.E. bout, for the Lakeviews were down 2 to nil at half time and 3 to 1 with the second session welll advanced, and then came through and tied the score, to win in overtime when Jimmy McMartin, the seige gun of the red shirts, trained a terrific drive from the boards on the C.G.E. net, beating Legros cleanly for the winning counter. The marker came within ten seconds of the end of the ten minute overtime period, just when another extra ten minute session seemed certain.

On the night's play, Lakeviews deserved to win, and they were unlucky that overtime was required. They had far more close-in opportunities to score than did the losers and more accurate shooting and less clever goal-keeping by Legros would have given the newcomers to the League a victory by a bigger margin. Legros gave a fine exhibition in the nets for C.G.E., and for a long while it looked as if the ultimate winners were not going to be able to beat him.

It was a real snappy tussle that carried the memory of City League fans back to some of the notable contests of last season. The pace never slackened from start to finish and both teams worked their heads off to win.

C.G.E. outscored the Lakeviews 2 to 0 in the opening period. In that session they played much better combiantion than the red shirts, and although the latter were on the aggressive frequently, their individual efforts failed to make much impression on the C.G.E. defence and Legros handled their shots easily. McElroy scored the first counter when the rubber drifted over to him after a rush by Helson and Lefty carried it close to beat Lebarr.

Shortly after Dugan took Lebarr's measure on a long shot from the side and the C.G.E. were 2 to 0 in front.

The Lakeviews rallied and were dangerous a dozen times, but always their wild shooting or the cleverness of Legros beat them, and the half time bell found the boys from the big factory still two markers in the van.

There was a different story in the second half. Lakeviews tore in from the drop of the hat and they mussed up half a dozen close-in chances. Finally Legon broke away for a lone rush and carried the uber between the C.G.E. defence pair to foil Legros at point blank range. That left it 2 to 1, and the Lakeviews fought hard to tie it up, only to have Ranger slip down the side and beat Bergoine with a neat shot, putting the generals two goals to the good again. With only ten minutes to go that lead look big enough to ensure victory for Manager Pilling's squad, but the Lakeviews had not shot their bolt, and when Jackson took a pass and fooled Legros with a quick shot from the boards they were right in the running again.

They came with a similar play in forty-five seconds, Jack Murray doing the marksranship this time, and his side shot tied the score. There were six minutes left to play, but the tie remained unbroken and overtime was necessary. Lakeviews had a chance to win when Legros was fenhed for a scrap with Murray, but they could not score.

It was just as fast a clip in the extra period. Three minutes after the overtime started. Helson rushed and his quick shot struck Bergoine in the face. McElroy secured and scored, but kicked the puck before shooting and the goal was not counted. Helson's shot cut Bergoine's lip badly and game was delayed until he was patched up. When he came back he was given a big hand for his gameness. The first five minute period was scoreless and it looked as if the second would have a similar result, although the Lakeviews came close two or three times. Just whe nthe crowd was settling back for another ten minutes of excitement, McMartin broke away and drilled the winning counter past Legros. It was a great finish to a fine game.

For the winners, Legon and Burgess especially shone, while the defence pair were good. Lgros, Halpin, Williams and McElroy were the best for the losers.

The teams and summary:

THE SECOND GAME.

The Bankers, with a line-up selected at the last moment, and without any practice, proved easy for the Wm. Hamitlon team who, with six of last year's championship team on the ice, won, going away by 7 goals to 0, Micky Murray thus going through his second consecutive game without a score being registered against him. The score at half time was 3 to 0.

The Bankers made their best showing in the first few minutes when they were fresh, and only Murray's cleverness in the nets kept them off the score sheet, for they were inside three or four times, only to have Murray beat them. But the men of money quickly faded, and the champs, showing a lot of nice combination and the same effectiveness around the nets that won for them last year, swept around them and began to hang up a score. Joe Dwyer in the nets for the Bankers, did his best to stop the avalanche, but the Hamilton crew worked in close and gave him little chance on most of the shots, several of the counters being scored on rebounds.

Collins got the first counter for the winners, when he took a pass at the mouth of the nets. Then Freddy Graham stick-handled through the Bankers' defence for the prettiest goal of the night, and a few minutes later hung up Goal No. 3 by a neat side shot.

Early in the second half Collins rushed and shot, and when Dwyer came out to clear, the Hamilton centre slid the rubber into the empty net. A little later Collins registered again on a long shot. Freddy Graham got the last two counters, the first by fast following in on a rebound.

Hamilton's had Murray, Lebarr, Collins, Fred Graham, Harold Graham and Foley of their last year's crew, while the two newcomers were Bartley, who was with the C.G.E. last year, and Brennan, the Havelock youngster, who is playing defence for the Holy Name Society. They made an impressive showing, with the best combination of the night to their credit, and they were dangerous every time they broke away. Murray was unbeatable in the nets, while Collins and Freddy Graham, who divided the scoring between them, starred all the way.

Included in the Bankers' line-up was Cyril Giroux, playing his first game of hockey since 1914, when he gave up the ice game to go potting Germans. Harry Thornton and Jack Gillespie did some nice work on the forward line, while the showing made by "Scotty" McPherson, the St. Peter's High school star, delighted the fans.

The teams and summary:

Wm. Hamilton's—Goal, Murray; defence, Lebarr, Brennan; centre, Collins; right wing, H. Graham; left wing F. Graham. Subs, Foley and Bartley.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL.

Today and for the balance of this week the Capitol offers a splendid show, the vaudeville act is a somewhat different novelty from any seen recently at this popular resort; Morris and Adelaide do a clever eccentric novelty comedy acrobatic dance and some good singin. The short reey part of the program includes a new and very funny two-reel comedy "After the Dangle"; Pathe Review and the first of the Major Jack Allen Wild Animal Pictures, "Netting a Leopard."

For the first time in her film career, beautiful Claire Adams plays a role that is older than her actual age. In this case, portraying that wonderful character "Molly Culpepper" in "A Certain Rich Man," Benjamin B. Hampton's great photoplay of the world-famous novel by William Allen Whit, which is released by Hodkinson, she is seen as the girl of the first period, the married woman of the second and the mature woman of the third, covering a term of about twenty years which ends with the modern times.

Miss Adams, eminently an emotional actress of great ability, is given fullest scope for her art in this massive production. By her art she makes her audience laugh or cry, tugs at their heart strings or tickles the responsive sympathies of humor, and ends by winning everyone's love once for all. "A Certain Rich Man" will be seen at the Capitol for the balance of the week.

AT THE ROYAL.

With its entire change of programme to-day, the Royal has a selection of pictures it can confidently recommend, and our patrons during the past fifteen years know that what the Royal recommends is good. The big five-reel feature includes that favorite of the Fox studios, Shirley Mason, in a play that particularly suits her. The play in question is called "Ever Since Eve," and is one of fascinating inferest. An artist, in a moment of kindly generosity, has undertaken to pay for the education of a girl child he had never seen. Seven years pass by and the only time the successful artist gives thought to his protege is when he sends the half-yearly fees to Paris for the girl's education. Then he gets a cable that the girl he has never seen is about to come and see him. A clever love story, in which the paid model of the artist causes much mischief between the artist and the girl he has educated, is charmingly played by Miss Mason and her admirable supporting cast.

"Lucky Carson" is a five-reel photodrama with Earle Williams in the leading role. It is an adaptation of the widely read novel, "Salvaga." The plot opens with a down and outer about to end life in the muddy waters of the Thames, but whose tragic death by suicide is averted by a chance word he overhears, and which eventually led him to seek his fortune in America. The former broken-down and dispirited gambler, whose money was taken at the English race tracks in America, succeeds in building up a fortune. It is a play of mystery, love, suspense and dramatic action. And now when we get down to the comedies, there is a menu that will suit the most exacting tase. We have Jimmy Aubrey in a two-reel comedy that keeps an audience convulsed with laughter. It is a comedy with a plot, but, like most good comedies, the plot plays about as much part as did a girl in a crinoline dress of sixty years ago. Jimmy, as a policeman, and an archer trying to emulate the William Tell stunt, is funny beyond words. To round out the bill, there is a charming and mirth-provoking Sunshine Comedy, called "Say it with Flowers."

P.A.A.A. Crew Tickled With The Ice Prospects

The P.A.A.A. intermediates are tickled to death with the promise of hard ice for to-morrow night's O.H.A. game with Lakefield for they are glad to have a chance to show their wares to the home fans on a smooth fast sheet. Lakefield are confident of doing better at Brock street rink, than they did at home and they declare the Smaill gang will realize that they have a fight on their hands. The Petes, however, are in their best shape of the season right now and they hope to be able to give the fans an exhibition of clean systematic hockey that they will enjoy. The local enthusiasts are right with the team and they will be out in flocks to-morrow night to see them in action on the home rink for the first time in ten days.

FAMOUS HOCKEY STARS COMING WITH DOMINION BANK TEAM ON MONDAY

When the Dominion Bank team clashes with the P.A.A.A. on Monday night they will have with them the most talked of man in Canadian sport—Lionel Conacher, crack defence man of the Aura Lea Senior O.H.A. team, sensational half back of the Argonaut Dominion Rugby champions, hard-hitting and fielder of the Hillcrest Ontario baseball title holders, star lacrosse player and an amateur boxing champion. Conacher plays on the defence of the Dominion bank team and with him is his team mate in senior company, Billy Burch, who has been repeatedly sought after by the St. Pats N.H.A. team and Jack Aggett of the Senior Granites. The bank outfit is an all-star senior crew that would make a great bid for the Allan Cup, if they could be got together for O. H. A. purposes. If the P.A.A.A. can hold that collection of talent in check on Monday night the fans need have no worry about the ability of the home outfit to go a long way in the intermediate series. The game promises to be the hockey sensation of the year.

WHAT CONSTITUTES UNLAWFUL GAMBLING?

This Is a Question Troubling the British Public Just Now.

LONDON, Jan. 12. –(By Canadian Press)—"Are whist drives illegal?" What is unlawful gaming?" These questions are troubling the public just now in consequence of the recent decision of the House of Lords that in certain circumstances; money paid by cheques in betting transactions could be recovered by the drawers of the cheques. A legal correspondent of the Times says: "There now seems to be confusion among laymen about the law to whist drives. The question whether they were legal or not was raised recently in the Court of Criminal Appeal and was really left undecided but remarks by the way of the Judges are of importance.'

The Times correspondent explains that the appelant was convicted of using a hall for unlawful gaming with in the meaning of a certain section of the Gaming House Act. That section that any person who owns or occupies "any house, room or place," and who "shall open, keep, or use the same for the puposes of unlawful gaming being carried on therein,' may, on summary conviction before two Justices, be "adjudged to pay" a penalty not exceeding £500, the question has been raised, what is "unlawful gaming?"

Mr Justice Hawkins (afterwards Lord Bramton) is quoted as having given a decision in a case as follows: "All games of chance and skill combined (which cannot be called games of mere skill) are unlawful games' if played in a house kept for playing them." It has been held however, the Times legal correspondent states, that an isolated occasion on which an unlawful game was played among friends at the house of one of them did not render the owner of the premises liable under the section.

In another case Mr Justice Avory said that playing at games of cards was gaming which was not necessarily unlawful, but it became unlawful if the game was played in a common gaming house "as part of the business thereof." Whist, in the opinion of the courts is a game of chance and skill combined, and the element of chance is made greater in whist drives or progressive whist.

So far, the Courts have been lenient in the interpretation of the section of the gaming House Act relating to whist. They have not insisted that the mere use of the premises for the playing of card games of chance and skill combined is sufficient to render the owner or occupier liable. They have taken the view that there must he evidence of the premises being "kept" for unlawful gaming. Thus, a man who hires a hall for a series of whist drives charges for admission, and offers prizes, would come under the penalty imposed in the statue as a person who kept gaming house—namely, to use Mr. Justice Hawkin's definition a "house in which a large number of persons congregate for the purpose of gaming."

The "gaming' must be the taking part in a game which is not a game of mere skill says the Times legal correspondent. The Predominonce of skill over chance is not enough to take the game out of the category of games that are unlawful when played in "gaming house" as defined by the Courts.

PARKING PROBLEM WORRIES NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—No city is facing a more perptexing parking problem to-day than New York.

The largest city in the United States with its narrow streets and convenient open spot in which to park its thousands of automobiles.

Dr. Jorn A. Harriss, deputy police commissioner in charge of traffic, believes he has a solution to the problem, but a wave of sentiment has arisen against his idea. It is that municipal garages be built under Bryant park and southern Central park, where automobiles may be left at slight expense.

Motor Bus Accommodation

Bryant park is in the centre of the department store and theatre district and Central park is only a short disance away. To make them even more convenient to shoppers and the atergoers, Dr. Harriss suggests a system of municipal motor buses be installed to ply between the parking garage and the various theatres and department stores.

Theatre and store managers have expressed their willingness to cooperate financially to insure the success of such system.

But lovers of nature protest an underground of nature would injure vegetation of the parks and make these areas practically worthless as beauty spots.

The probability is some way will be found by which Dr. Harriss' scheme may be worked without producing any ill effect to the parks. But Dr. Harrias has asked for other suggestions.

These two underground garages would make room for 34,000 automobiles, says Dr. Harriss.

Removal of parked automobiles from the most congested district n the United States, by his means, would also greatly relieve traffic confusion.

And liability of accident would also be reduced, is Dr. Harriss' opinion.

AN EPIDEMIC OF HAT BAND SKIN DISEASE

LONDON, Jan. 12. –(Associated Press).—An epidemic of hatband skin disease in Denmark is reported in the British Medical Journal. The disease is caused by a substitute for leather. In some men, only a narrow strip of skin is affected, but more susceptible persons get inflamed blisters round the nose and mouth.

In some cases, one day's wearing of the hat produces ulceration of the forehead, great swelling of the face and a red rash over the trunk and limbs.

Fur cloth that is being manufactured this year is being used for frocks or parts of frocks because of it unusual plinbility. Caracul cloth is a popular fabric.

SPORT GOSSIP

Can it be that Tijuana has brought out a thoroughbred which will eventually stamp himself a marvel of speed—a horse which will take its place alongside Sangallo and Slippery Elm as Tijuana's best? asks a coast writer.

Starting for the first time in his racing career, the now 4-year-old Lantados recently demonstrated that he possessed startling speed. He stepped five-eigths in flying mud to the tune of 1.03 3-5, and trimmed his field like Dempsey did Carpentier.

It's not so much the first appearance of Lantados that makes the shrewd turfmen wonder, as the promise which his breeding gives. Lantados is the last of the line—a line which is almost immortal in western turf history—a breed which you don't find on the programs of any of America's great race courses at this particular era. Still Lantados has blood flowing in his veins which is even deeper purple than that of Morvich.

There is a son of Cruzados, out of mare Ferando, she by Rel el Santa Anita. Cruzados was as fast a horse as ever breathed life's breath—a horse which might have beaten a racer like Roseben, Jack Atkin, Billy Kelly, and other flyers which could be named. Cruzados, a son of the Emperor of Norfolk, was winner 15 out of 18 starts and a horse among horses — the wonder of 2-year-old of his time.

Cruzaos first earned his brackets at Tanforan in 1900. Lucky Baldwin brought him there from the ranch and put him over at 60 to 1. The horse went on and continued to win. Such was his speed that in the winter books he was made equal choice with McChesney for the American derby. Meantime, Baldwin turned down an offer of $25,000 for the colt.

Then comes a tragedy of the race track. Cruzados was shipped east for the derby. In the derby trial, pitted against the redoubtable McChesney, Cruzados took the lead and swinging into the stretch head and head with McChesney swerved. Both horses crashed into and over the fence together. The accident put them out of the derby running, and the event was subsequently won by Robert Waddell.

As for Lantados, the little fellow as a weanling was the pet of the Anita Baldwin household. When he grew older, Miss Baldwin displayed him at many California fairs as the perfect type of thoroughbred. His conformation leaves nothing wanting. His appearance is beautiful to behold. Last fall he was shipped to Kentucky with other Baldwin stock, where his present owner, M. Barrons, picked him up at auction for $2,500.

If you ever visit the Grand Canyon in Arizona and linger a day or two, you will meet quite a number of Indians. They are colorful group, apparently lifted out of the Hopi Indian Reservation (the nearest to the canyon) within the last 24 hours.

One of them emerges from the thickets with the pelt of a wildcat "kill four 'clock yes'day." Another carries a basket that he has worked on for a long number of years, another has a new basket that he will sell.

At sundown the entire Hopi group gives a dance and the feature of this event is the Hopi war dance in which the prinicpal actor is a splendid specimen of manhood, standing a few inches over six feet and weighing about 185.

When you see this giant perform you cannot help from thinking what a wonderful foot ball player he might have made and you do not know that years ago a chap named Glenn S. Warner thought the same thing and went right ahead and made him one of the greatest in Carlisle's long list of famous red men .

And the Hopi that does the butter fly dance was also seen by Mr. Warner several years ago and he too came to Carlisle and imbibed foot ball knowledge and put it to excellent use.

The little chap that does not seem to understand a word you say and who permits you to take advantage of his stupidity and buy some blankets at a very reasonable figure —he too, used to click for Carlisle He is not as big and strong as the others, he was a quarterback.

And when a still night settles over the Grand Canyon of Arizona and the Hopi Indians remove their paint and feathers, drop their blankets, kick of their moccasins, remove their wrist bells and climb into their civilisan clothes, they look like well groomed citizens, which they are. And they will enjoy many a hearty chuckle, relating their experiences of the day in far better English than most of their patrons possibly could employ, for, besides imbibing a knowledge of foot ball and business these Indians gained a thorough knowledge of the English language which as you may have gathered is not an advantage to them in their present business, but does help them to pass away the long evenings

California claims to have contributed nearly 70 players to the list of regulars in the major leagues last season. California can claim more than any other state.

The reason for Californians predominating at base ball is simple through for in California they can and do play base ball 12 months each year.

While the University of California was taking its last practice for the game with Washington and Jefferson at Pasadena, three ball games were being played within half a mile of the foot ball practice field.

In the fertile San Bernardino Valley, protected on all sides by long mountain ranges and where orange trees are now heavily laden with golden fruit, the groves are dotted with base ball diamonds and where there is not space enough for a field, the orange pickers find enough clearing the ball park or engage in fielding practice.

HARNESS HORSE RACING SEASON.

Grand Circuit Meeting Opens in Cleveland Monday.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan 12.—(Canadian Press) — The harness horse racing season for 1922 will be laid here next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, when stewards and representatives of the Grand and Lake Erie circuits hold their annual meetings and assign dates upon which other harness racing dates throughout the country are based.

The Grand Circuit meeting will open Monday and continue Tuesday. The schedules and rules committe will meet Monday afternoon with the annual dinner to be held in the evening. Tueday's program as mapped out by Secretary Win H. Kinnan, calls for an open meeting in the morning, to which all horsemen are invited, and an executive meeting of the stewards in the afternoon, at which action will be taken on rules and schedules.

The Lake Erie officials, controlling the half-mile tracks, will meet on Wednesday.

One of the principal questions facing the Grand Circuit stewards is whether dates will be assigned to the Kenilworth track at Windsor, Ont., across the river from Detroit. President Samuel McBride of that track has signified his intention of applying for membership with a view of holding a meeting during the two weeks preceding the North Randall meeting.

Under the Canadian law it is possible only to race three days a week, and in order for a six-day meet to be held at the Kenilworth track it is necessary to race in two different weeks.

However, the management of the North Randall track here is reticent about relinquishing the opening of the Grand Circuit. They point to the fact that they wanted them and since then has built up its open meeting second to none in the circuit.

If Lexington decides to substitute a six day meeting for the two weeks gathering it has held for many years as has been reported, this must also come before the stewards. Such action by Lexington would leave a week open between the Lexington and Atlanta meetings.

The addition of Kenilworth would give the Grand Circuit twelve tracks. Present members are North Randall, Toledo, Columbus, Kalamazoo, Lexington, Atlanta, Philadelphia, Poughkeepsie, Syracuse, Hartford and Readville.

Kenilworth has been a member until a few years ago. If dates are received, the $10,000 Merchants and Manufacturers stake one of the outstanding features of the circuit until racing was abandoned at Kenilworth will be reviewed, it was announced by President McBride.

A Skip's Duty.

One of the unwritten duties of a skip is to introduce his new men to the rules of the game and to educate them in its technique. It may be unnecessary to mention this matter but conversations around the club indicate that some of the players who have had a year or two of experience have shown a lack of ability that is ascribed to the failure of some skips to educate the new men broadly and on all points of the game. It is said for example that a new man may play a whole year under a certain type of skip and never be given a chance to play the outturn draw. Their first season leaves them with the in-turn as their only acquirement, and their deficiency is due to no fault of their own.

In other words some skips apparently forget or don't realize that they are expected to pass on their information to the newcomers not only as a courtesy and a matter of course, but also for the good of that rink and for the walfare of the club. If new men are neglected their season's play bears only a few of the results which the recruit should show when winter breaks up.

On the other hand there are skips who devote the first weeks or two of the season to full explanation of the rules of the game, and follow this up with practice on both the draws and other elementary details of curling. It is well for the new man who is drawn for the season by these sporting, thoughtful skips. He probably ends his first season with a general and adequate knowledge of the game and an ability that needs only the experience of a few more winters to qualify him for the vice-skip's position. If there is any forgetfulness on the part of some of the skips it means that the club as a whole is just that much weaker and the development of the players retarded.

WHAT CONSTITUTES UNLAWFUL GAMBLING?

This Is a Question Troubling the British Public Just Now.

LONDON, Jan. 12. –(By Canadian Press)—"Are whist drives illegal?" What is unlawful gaming?" These questions are troubling the public just now in consequence of the recent decision of the House of Lords that in certain circumstances; money paid by cheques in betting transactions could be recovered by the drawers of the cheques. A legal correspondent of the Times says: "There now seems to be confusion among laymen about the law to whist drives. The question whether they were legal or not was raised recently in the Court of Criminal Appeal and was really left undecided but remarks by the way of the Judges are of importance.'

The Times correspondent explains that the appelant was convicted of using a hall for unlawful gaming with in the meaning of a certain section of the Gaming House Act. That section that any person who owns or occupies "any house, room or place," and who "shall open, keep, or use the same for the puposes of unlawful gaming being carried on therein,' may, on summary conviction before two Justices, be "adjudged to pay" a penalty not exceeding £500, the question has been raised, what is "unlawful gaming?"

Mr Justice Hawkins (afterwards Lord Bramton) is quoted as having given a decision in a case as follows: "All games of chance and skill combined (which cannot be called games of mere skill) are unlawful games' if played in a house kept for playing them." It has been held however, the Times legal correspondent states, that an isolated occasion on which an unlawful game was played among friends at the house of one of them did not render the owner of the premises liable under the section.

In another case Mr Justice Avory said that playing at games of cards was gaming which was not necessarily unlawful, but it became unlawful if the game was played in a common gaming house "as part of the business thereof." Whist, in the opinion of the courts is a game of chance and skill combined, and the element of chance is made greater in whist drives or progressive whist.

So far, the Courts have been lenient in the interpretation of the section of the gaming House Act relating to whist. They have not insisted that the mere use of the premises for the playing of card games of chance and skill combined is sufficient to render the owner or occupier liable. They have taken the view that there must be evidence of the premises being "kept" for unlawful gaming. Thus, a man who hires a hall for a series of whist drives charges for admission, and offers prizes, would come under the penalty imposed in the statue as a person who kept gaming house—namely, to use Mr. Justice Hawkin's definition a "house in which a large number of persons congregate for the purpose of gaming."

The "gaming' must be the taking part in a game which is not a game of mere skill says the Times legal correspondent. The Predominonce of skill over chance is not enough to take the game out of the category of games that are unlawful when played in "gaming house" as defined by the Courts.

PARKING PROBLEM WORRIES NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—No city is facing a more perplexing parking problem to-day than New York.

The largest city in the United States with its narrow streets and convenient open spot in which to park its thousands of automobiles.

Dr. Jorn A. Harriss, deputy police commissioner in charge of traffic, believes he has a solution to the problem, but a wave of sentiment has arisen against his idea. It is that municipal garages be built under Bryant park and southern Central park, where automobiles may be left at slight expense.

Motor Bus Accommodation

Bryant park is in the centre of the department store and theatre district and Central park is only a short disance away. To make them even more convenient to shoppers and the atergoers, Dr. Harriss suggests a system of municipal motor buses be installed to ply between the parking garage and the various theatres and department stores.

Theatre and store managers have expressed their willingness to cooperate financially to insure the success of such system.

But lovers of nature protest an underground of nature would injure vegetation of the parks and make these areas practically worthless as beauty spots.

The probability is some way will be found by which Dr. Harriss' scheme may be worked without producing any ill effect to the parks. But Dr. Harriss has asked for other suggestions.

These two underground garages would make room for 34,000 automobiles, says Dr. Harriss.

Removal of parked automobiles from the most congested district n the United States, by his means, would also greatly relieve traffic confusion.

And liability of accident would also be reduced, is Dr. Harriss' opinion.

AN EPIDEMIC OF HAT BAND SKIN DISEASE

LONDON, Jan. 12. –(Associated Press).—An epidemic of hatband skin disease in Denmark is reported in the British Medical Journal. The disease is caused by a substitute for leather. In some men, only a narrow strip of skin is affected, but more susceptible persons get inflamed blisters round the nose and mouth.

In some cases, one day's wearing of the hat produces ulceration of the forehead, great swelling of the face and a red rash over the trunk and limbs.

Fur cloth that is being manufactured this year is being used for frocks or parts of frocks because of it unusual pliability. Caracul cloth is a popular fabric.

SPORT GOSSIP

Can it be that Tijuana has brought out a thoroughbred which will eventually stamp himself a marvel of speed—a horse which will take its place alongside Sangallo and Slippery Elm as Tijuana's best? asks a coast writer.

Starting for the first time in his racing career, the now 4-year-old Lantados recently demonstrated that he possessed startling speed. He stepped five-eigths in flying mud to the tune of 1.03 3-5, and trimmed his field like Dempsey did Carpentier.

It's not so much the first appearance of Lantados that makes the shrewd turfmen wonder, as the promise which his breeding gives. Lantados is the last of the line—a line which is almost immortal in western turf history—a breed which you don't find on the programs of any of America's great race courses at this particular era. Still Lantados has blood flowing in his veins which is even deeper purple than that of Morvich.

There is a son of Cruzados, out of mare Ferando, she by Rel el Santa Anita. Cruzados was as fast a horse as ever breathed life's breath—a horse which might have beaten a racer like Roseben, Jack Atkin, Billy Kelly, and other flyers which could be named. Cruzados, a son of the Emperor of Norfolk, was winner 15 out of 18 starts and a horse among horses — the wonder of 2-year-old of his time.

Cruzaos first earned his brackets at Tanforan in 1900. Lucky Baldwin brought him there from the ranch and put him over at 60 to 1. The horse went on and continued to win. Such was his speed that in the winter books he was made equal choice with McChesney for the American derby. Meantime, Baldwin turned down an offer of $25,000 for the colt.

Then comes a tragedy of the race track. Cruzados was shipped east for the derby. In the derby trial, pitted against the redoubtable McChesney, Cruzados took the lead and swinging into the stretch head and head with McChesney swerved. Both horses crashed into and over the fence together. The accident put them out of the derby running, and the event was subsequently won by Robert Waddell.

As for Lantados, the little fellow as a weanling was the pet of the Anita Baldwin household. When he grew older, Miss Baldwin displayed him at many California fairs as the perfect type of thoroughbred. His conformation leaves nothing wanting. His appearance is beautiful to behold. Last fall he was shipped to Kentucky with other Baldwin stock, where his present owner, M. Barrons, picked him up at auction for $2,500.

HARNESS HORSE RACING SEASON.

Grand Circuit Meeting Opens in Cleveland Monday.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan 12.—(Canadian Press) — The harness horse racing season for 1922 will be laid here next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, when stewards and representatives of the Grand and Lake Erie circuits hold their annual meetings and assign dates upon which other harness racing dates throughout the country are based.

The Grand Circuit meeting will open Monday and continue Tuesday. The schedules and rules committe will meet Monday afternoon with the annual dinner to be held in the evening. Tueday's program as mapped out by Secretary Win H. Kinnan, calls for an open meeting in the morning, to which all horsemen are invited, and an executive meeting of the stewards in the afternoon, at which action will be taken on rules and schedules.

The Lake Erie officials, controlling the half-mile tracks, will meet on Wednesday.

One of the principal questions facing the Grand Circuit stewards is whether dates will be assigned to the Kenilworth track at Windsor, Ont., across the river from Detroit. President Samuel McBride of that track has signified his intention of applying for membership with a view of holding a meeting during the two weeks preceding the North Randall meeting.

The addition of Kenilworth would give the Grand Circuit twelve tracks. Present members are North Randall, Toledo, Columbus, Kalamazoo, Lexington, Atlanta, Philadelphia, Poughkeepsie, Syracuse, Hartford and Readville.

Kenilworth has been a member until a few years ago. If dates are received, the $10,000 Merchants and Manufacturers stake one of the outstanding features of the circuit until racing was abandoned at Kenilworth will be reviewed, it was announced by President McBride.

A Skip's Duty.

One of the unwritten duties of a skip is to introduce his new men to the rules of the game and to educate them in its technique. It may be unnecessary to mention this matter but conversations around the club indicate that some of the players who have had a year or two of experience have shown a lack of ability that is ascribed to the failure of some skips to educate the new men broadly and on all points of the game. It is said for example that a new man may play a whole year under a certain type of skip and never be given a chance to play the outturn draw. Their first season leaves them with the in-turn as their only acquirement, and their deficiency is due to no fault of their own.

In other words some skips apparently forget or don't realize that they are expected to pass on their information to the newcomers not only as a courtesy and a matter of course but also for the good of that rink and for the walfare of the club. If new men are neglected their season's play bears only a few of the results which the recruit should show when winter breaks up.

On the other hand there are skips who devote the first weeks or two of the season to full explanation of the rules of the game, and follow this up with practice on both the draws and other elementary details of curling. It is well for the new man who is drawn for the season by these sporting, thoughtful skips. He probably ends his first season with a general and adequate knowledge of the game and an ability that needs only the experience of a few more winters to qualify him for the vice-skip's position. If there is any forgetfulness on the part of some of the skips it means that the club as a whole is just that much weaker and the development of the players retarded.

A former Detroit conductorette is under arrest on the charge of having trafficked in liquor. It seems to be charged, in other words, that she took a transfer to another line.

SHOWED FILMS.

In the interests of the National Cooperage Company, Ltd., which is locating plants for the manufacture of barrels at different places in Canada, and expect to have their plant in Hastings turning out barrels in March, President H. M. Lickley and W. A. McMaster, of Toronto, were in the city to-day, and during the morning and afternoon showed films of the American plant at St. Clair, Michigan, from which they have secured the Canadian rights for the use of the machinery, in full operation, and turning out ten barrels every two minutes.

ST. JAMES' W. M. S.

The New Year' Meeting of the St. James' Auxiliary was held on Tuesday afternoon. A specially good programme had been afranged by the ladies in charge, and the room was prettily decorated with posters, flowers, and plants.

The president, Mrs. (Rev.) Chapman, presided, with Mrs. Barton assisting. Reports were given showing that a very successful year, both in interest and finances, had just closed, with greater promise for the New Year.

New Year resolutions were given in response to the roll call. The Heralds on the "Watch Tower" gave sparkling items of up-to-the-minute news from the different fields represented.

"The New Dawn in Dark Africa" from "Canada's Share in World Tasks" was the subject for study. This was sub-divided into four parts, which were capably dealt with by Mesdames Chapman, Bonney, Barton, and Miss Kidd.

Little Miss Dorothy Walker delighted everyone with her sweetly-rendered solo.

The meeting was helpful and inspiring throughout, and was honoured by the presence of a large number of visitors.

IN MEMORY OF LILA HINCHLIFFE.

Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears of sorrow often flow;
Memory keeps our loved one near us,
Whom God claimed a year ago.

More and more each day we miss her,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.

LUFFMAN — In loving remembrance of Mrs. Clarence Luffman, who departed this life on Jan. 12, 1909.

Thirteen years ago today
Since our loved one passed away.
We miss her kind and smiling face;
There's none on earth can take her place.

All was done that could be done
By human hands her life to save,
But God had different plans,
We know God's ways are far the best—
He took her home with Him to rest.

And now since she has gone to rest
And left a world of sorrow
We'll say farewell and do our best
To meet her there to-morrow.

W.M.S. Meeting.

The Methodist W.M.S. held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Jacob White. A large number of ladies were present and a most interesting afternoon spent. In their course of study, "China" was the subjct for the day. It was very aptly taken up by Mrs. James Greystock. A special feature of the meeting was the singing as a solo of two verses of "Holy Spirit, Faithful Guide" by Mrs. White, who is 81 years of age and still retains her sweet, clear voice. After the meeting closed the hostess served lunch and all felt they had been honored by having the privilege to attend such a gathering at the home of the dear, elderly lady who lives there.

The executive of the Methodist Sunday school postponed their meeting on account of the bad storm on Wednesday.

On Wednesday afternoon the executive of the Woman's Institute met to arrange for the opening meeting to be held in the town hall on Thursday evening of this week. All who choose to come tare welcome and the members are especially requested to bring their husbands and their friends. There will be two contests, some music and recitations, part of report of delegate to convention in November and light refreshments.

The U.F.O. held its meeting on Wednesday evening. Considering the weather there were quite a few present. Mr. Harry Morgan gave his report of the convention in Toronto and those who heard it were more than pleased. Mr. E. R. Hamblin was unable to be present to give a report of the U.F.W.O. convention.

The executive of the Endeavor League met at the Methodist parsonage Tuesday evening.

The regular devotional meeting of the Endeavour League was held in the Baptist church on Friday evening, Rev. J. Weir led. He gave a New Year's message on the building of our lives for better, nobler things. Several seelctions such as "Ring Out Wild Bells," "The Psalm of Life," "The Builders," etc., were read as well as the scripture lesson. Next meeting, missionary topic, in Methodist church.

Owing to an accident Rev. Mr. Hughes was unable to hold service at Warsaw.

The Baptist congregation were much pleased to unexpectedly have a service last Sunday morning, Rev. Mr. Vose was down.

Several from Warsaw attended the anniversary services on Sunday and Monday in the South Dummer church.

The Guild was to have met at the home of Mrs. A. F. Choate last Wednesday, but was postponed because of the weather until Tuesday of this week.

On Saturday evening Messrs. John, William and Clifford Selkirk gave most interesting and instructive lectures on the care of the car. Diagrams were made of different types of motors, descriptions of parts and their uses, etc., given very clearly. An opportunity was given to ask questions, which were carefully and clearly answered. There will be another lesson in the town hall on Saturday evening of this week. The lessons actually cover the care of any motor. There is no fee, only a collection to defray expenses of the hall, etc. Some who attended report that nothing more helpful has ever been done in Warsaw and are loud in praise of the garage people who have undertaken the series of lectures.

HENRY FORD WOULD TAKE ENTIRE NAVY

NAVAL TREATY WILL SOON BE READY TO SUBMIT TO THE WASHINGTON NAVAL COMMITTEE.

SEVERAL CHANGES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Replying to a request from the French Government if he would purchase a number of battleships, Henry Ford said that unless he could buy the entire navy he would not consider job lots, according to his statement made here to-day.

Although the arms delegates had given up hope of putting the naval treaty in final shape in time for announcement at the plenary session this week, it appeared probable to-day that virtually the completed treaty would be ready for action by a full naval committee to-morrow or Monday.

Presiden Millerand has directed M. Harraut, head of the French delegation here, to continue in that capacity until the end of the conference.

PREDICTS SPLIT IN ORGANIZATION

DE VALERA AND HIS SUPPORTERS WILL CONTEST ELECTION FOR A FREE STATE—THE IRISH SITUATION.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13. — (Canadian Press.)—The King's proclamation of amnesty, announcement of the departure of the auxiliaries and the resolution of the Sinn Fein Executive Council to summon an extraordinary convention for February 7, to decide upon the future of the organization and its policy, after Eamonn De Valera had predicted a split in the organization, were the chief developments in the Irish situation yesterday.

Behind the Dail Eireann stands the Sinn Fein organization of nearly 1,500 clubs from every district in Ireland. It is responsible for the success of parliamentary and other elections and is regarded as the authentic popular voice by all Sinn Feiners. De Valera is still its president and all its machinery heretofore been directed exclusively toward independent republican aims.

Mr. De Valera was pressed to admit that when the convention had decided, the minority would be bound by the majority, but he declared it was his opinion that a division was inevitable and that each side would fight the other at the election for a Free State. If the organization favored the election of representatives to a Free State, he would not continue to be president and would oppose such candidates. It is expected that his electoral campaign will be begun immediately.

Release of Prisoners.

The amnesty proclamation occupies a prominent position in the Dublin papers and has been the cause of great satisfaction. It had been feared that attempts might be made to discriminate between on political prisoner and another, but the sweeping character of the amnesty allays such apprehension.

Only one difficulty remains. At one stage there were incendiary fires and disturbances in England for which alleged Sinn Feiners were convicted. Amnesty does not include them. It is understood that their case will remain over for discussion between the British Government and the government of the new Free State. With reference to offences committed since the truce, the Free State Government will have complete power to deal with all such cases in due course.

"MIDDLE-AGED ARCHANGEL" IS COMPOSITE IDEAL IN SOUTH AFRICAN ESTIMATE

The Municipal Magazine of South Africa, in a report of the annual conference of the South African Association of Municipal Employees, contains the following description of the municipal employee, as given by Councillor Maclean, of Port Elizabeth, where the conference was held:

"The best hated man in town at the present moment was the municipal employee.

"If he works hard, he is trying to curry favor; if he doesn't he is lazy.

"If he is young, he is incompetent; if he is old, he is a fossil.

"If he carries out the law, he is cheeky; if he doesn't, he is weak-kneed.

"If he goes to church, he is sanctimonious and holy; if he doesn't, he isn't respectable.

"If he goes out for tea, he wastes the ratepayers' time; if he has it in the office, he wastes their money.

"If he ceases work at the appointed time, he is a time-server; if he doesn't, he is seeking overtime.

"If he asks for a rise in wages, he is a bolshevik; if he doesn't he doesn't get it.

"It seems to me that to be a successful municipal official, one must be a middle-aged archangel."

To which a municipal employee of Peterborough adds, "If you don't do what the public asks you to do they will say, 'What do we pay you for?' But if you do what the public asks you to do, you are in a fair way for losing your job."

THE CONVENTION OF FIRE CHIEF'S COST THIS CITT $251.90

Sending Chief of Police to Convention last year at Montreal entailed a bill for $145.00.

In a reference in last night's issue to the cost of municipal deputations it was stated that Ald. Robert Morrison's expenses in connection with the Fire Chief's Convention at Three Rivers, Quebec, were $15.90. This should have read $151.90. Fire Chief G. Grange's expenses were $100 at the same convention and Police Chief S. Newhall's attendance at the Chiefs' Convention at Montreal were $145.00.

The total cost of deputation last year were approximately $1500.

VETERAN'S JEWELS FOR 5 ODDFELLOWS

At the regular meeting of Peterborough Lodge, Independent Order of Oddfellows, Mr. A. A. Fowler on behalf of the lodge, presented veterans jewels to the following five brethren:

Brothers W. G. Kent; G. E. Gilbert; Geo. A. Goheen; Walter Cotton; Frank Ranes.

In making the presentation, Mr. Fowler remarked that Brethren who have remained true and faithful to this order for a period of twenty-five years, (a quarter of a century), certainly should receive some token of esteem and respect. He congratulated the recipients on their long and faithful membership in the Order, and on the splendid example that would show to the younger members.

The members of the Order then retired to the banquet hall, where refreshments were served, and a very pleasant social evening spent.

ICE FROM LITTLE LAKE SIXTEEN INCHES THICK

The Allin Ice Company have been cutting ice on Little Lake for about a week. The weather is ideal for cutting and the work is going on apace. There is sixteen inches of clear blue ice and two large ice houses and part of a third have been filled, totalling some 2,700 tons. About 45 men and 11 teams are working, cutting and storing away the season's crop. They can load a waggon a minute but each wagon only averages about four trips an hour. The company does not commit itself as to the cost of ice next summer.

ENGINEERING EXPERT GAVE AN ADDRESS

DR. T. KENNARD THOMSON DEALS WITH POWER DEVELOPMENT PROBLEMS AT NIAGARA FALLS —THE COST OF POWER.

AN ONTARIO BOY

Last evening, T. Kennard Thomson, M.E., I.C., Consulting Engineer, New York City, delivered an address before the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, on "Some Problems of a Consulting Engineer."

Dr. Thomson was born in Ontario, and was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1886, in Civil Engineering, at the head of class, C. E., '92, D.Sc., 1913.

He was 10 years in structural steel work, starting as draftsman, and rising to chief engineer, with one of the best known bridge companies. He was 10 years in foundation work, eight years of which he was chief engineer with a well-known firm of general contractors. Dr Thomson designed many of the largest and most economical caissons and has been in the air chamber of his caissons over 2000 times.

Shortly after Dr. Thomson went to New York (and realized he was permanently located there) he became an American citizen.

Dealing with the Niagara Falls project last evening, Dr. Thomson said the development of the Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers would produce a total of eight million horse power.

It has been conservatively estimated that one hydro-electric horse power means work for one man, so that the development of these two rivers would ensure work for eight million men, from which the whole continent will naturally benefit.

The first step is to go four and one half miles below the Falls and erect a dam to take advantage of the natural drop of 302 feet between the old Falls and Lewiston, and as there is a minimum flow of 220,000 cubic feet per second this will give us two million horse power a year or the equivalent of twenty million tons of coal a year, which at $5 a ton will pay for the entire cost of the installation of $100,000,000 in one year.

We claim that we have the only project that can safely handle the ice in the lower Niagara River. For all the other projects draw water away from the rapids where there is hardly enough water now passing over the rocks to carry the ice away, whereas after our dam is completed, we will have a minimum depth of water above the dam of 135 feet, and a minimum flow of 220,000 cu. feet per second, so it will be a very simple matter to send all the ice over the dam whenever desired.

An engineer should not make such a drastic statement without having some proof thereon. In this respect we know that a dozen years ago an ice jam which lasted eight hours did considerable damage to the plants at the old Falls, and when the jam broke absolutely everything in the river below within 20 to 30 feet from the water's edge, was carried away.

And an engineer should of course have more than one example to prove his case. I might mention the fact that some millions of years ago (leaving out the odd seconds) the Niagara River turned at right angles thereby forming the whirlpool, and then cut a broad new channel out of the solid rock. I cannot conceive of anything but an ice jam that would do this.

At Foster's Flats.

We propose to locate our dam at Foster's Flats, the one ideal spot for this purpose in the Niagara River. For here we can build one-half of the dam on the Canadian side on Foster's Flats, or on dry land.

As the base of our dam will be about 30 feet below the bed of the river, we will be able to leave openings in the bottom of the dam, and then divert the entire flow through these openings, which will permit us to complete the last half of the dam in what is now the bed of the Niagara River.

When I first proposed this Niagara Falls Junior people said there would never be a demand for two million horse power. So I wrote to the Director of Census in Washington and asked him how much power was then being used in the State of New York. This was in 1917. He wrote me a very complete letter

Market News

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Gains outnumbered losses at the opening of to-day's Stock Market, but changes were very narrow in no important instance exceeding fractions. Crucible Steel, selling ex-dividend, was subjected to further selling pressure, and Mexican Oils also eased. Motors and kindred specialties and Pullman and Wilson Co. hardened, and Rails were moderately better. Foreign exchanges showed further unsettlement, reflecting the latest aspects of the European political situation.

The market established a firmer foundation during the morning on fairly large buying of high-grade Rails, especially Transcontinentals and Grangers; low-priced Rails, particularly St. Paul, New Haven and Erie, also were in demand. This stimulated an upward movement in Equipments and Motors, especially American Locomotive, American Car, Studebaker and Stewart Warner. The advance also embraced Utilities, notably People's Gas, Montana Power, and Wells Fargo Express. Independent Steels and Shippings showed few changes, and Specialties were dull, aside from the strength of Famous Players and International Paper. Call money opened and renewed into next week at 3½ per cent.

Trading became very active and broad at midday. Motors, Equipments, Food Specialties and Chemicals led the more general advance. Studebaker, Chandler, Baldwin, Corn Products Common and Preferred, Allied Chemical and Davidson Chemical were the outstanding features at gains of one to three points.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Initial wheat quotations, which varied from 1-8 to 5-8 lower, with May 110 to 110 3-8 and July 99 to 99 1-8, were followed by moderate further set-back and then sometaing of a rally. Corn and oats were easier, with wheat, after opening unchanged to 1-8 to ¼ lower, May 53¼ to 53 3-8. Corn market continued to sag. Oats started unchanged to 1-8 higher, May 38 3-8 to 38½, and later showed a slight general loss.

MONTREAL STOCK MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13—(Canadian Press):—During the first half-hour very little trading occurred on the local Stock Exchange. Steel of Canada was a feature, declining still further to 52, after closing at 53½. This issue sold at 63 less than a month ago. Dominion Bridge was also weak and registered a point drop to 54. Of paper stocks, Brompton registered a quarter point advance to 20, while Laurentide lost a half to 73.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET.

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The weakness of Steel of Canada shares featured the local Stock Exchange this morning. Following yesterday's losses, Steel of Canada opened this morning at 53, a point under last night's closing, and declined 1¼ during the morning, with the low quotation at 51 3-4. This loss was partially recovered with the close at 52 3-8, or a net loss of 1 5-8 from last night. Consumers' Gas lost half a point at 75½, and Steamship Preferred was also off ½ point at 44. Considerable activity appeared in Brazilian, and this stock advanced 3-8 to 29 3-8. Toronto Rails advanced ½ point to 68, while Canada Permanent, the most active of all listed stocks this morning, was unchanged at 18. 1934 Victories were active and slightly higher at 99.05.

BULL-DOG DRUMMOND

BY "SAPPER"

(CYRIL McNEILE)

Then, quite suddenly, the humming stopped and he frowned. The car in front had swung off the road, and turned through the entrance of a small aerodrome. It was a complication which had not entered his mind, and with a curse he pulled up his car just short of the gates. What the devil was he to do now? Most assuredly he could not pursue an aeroplane on a motor—even a racer. Blindly, without thinking, he did the first thing that came into his head. He left his car standing where it was, and followed the others into the aerodrome on foot. Perhaps he could find out something from one of the mechanics; someone might be able to tell him where the 'plane was going.

There she was with the car beside her, and already the millionaire was being strapped into his seat. Drummond was talking to the pilot, and the sleuth, full of eagerness, accosted a passing mechanic.

"Can you tell me where that aeroplane is going to?" he asked ingratiatingly.

It was perhaps unfortunate that the said mechanic had just had a large spanner dropped on his toe, and his answer was not helpful. It was an education in one way, and at any other time the pursuer would have treated it with the respect it deserved. But, as it was, it was not of great value, which made it the more unfortunate that Peter Darrell should have chosen that moment to look round. And all he saw was the mechanic talking earnestly to the sleuth. Whereupon he talked earnestly to Drummond.

In thinking it over after, that unhappy man, whose job had seemed so easy, found it difficult to say exactly what happened. All of a sudden he found himself surrounded by people—all very affable and most conversational It took him quite five minutes to get back to his car, and by that time the 'plane was a speck in the west. Drummond was standing by the gates when he got there, with a look of profound surprise on his face.

"One I have seen often," remarked the soldier; "two sometimes; three rarely; four never. Fancy four punctures—all at the same time! Dear, dear! I positively insist on giving you a lift."

He felt himself irresistibly propelled towards Drummond's car, with only time for a fleeting glimpse at his own four flat tyres, and almost before he realised it they were away. After a few minutes, when he had recovered from his surprise, his hand went instinctively to his pocket, to find the revolver had gone. And it was then that the man he had thought mad laughed gently.

"Didn't know I was once a pickpocket, did you?" he remarked affably. "A handy little gun too. Is it all right, Peter?"

"All safe," came a voice from behind.

"Then dot him one!"

The sleuth had a fleeting vision of stars of all colours which danced before his eyes, coupled with a stunning blow on the back of the head. Vaguely he realised the car was pulling up—then blackness. It was not till four hours later that a passing labourer, having pulled him out from a not over-dry ditch, laid him out to cool. And incidentally, with his further sphere of usefulness we are not concerned.

WARKWORTH, Jan. 13. — Already the work here has justified its being. The over-abundant energy of the boys and girls finds an outlet, a healthy one, in skating. Fathers and mothers too go with their families some of whom have not skated for 30 years. The week's programme of hockey practice is posted up.

The little lighting system makes it very bright. One could pick up a pin easily when the three rows of lights are all burning.

All the young people wish now is that the "Weatherman at Toronto" send us freezing nights.

Next week a carnival is to be held to celebrate the opening.

BRIAND TELLS NEWSPAPERMEN WHY HE RESIGNED FROM THE PREMIERSHIP — CAME WITH DRAMATIC SUDDENESS.

PARIS, Jan. 13 — (Canadian Press).—Artistide Briand yesterday resigned from the premiership and Raymond Poincare, former President of the Republic, will likely succeed him.

M. Briand's resignation came with dramatic suddenness in the Chamber of Deputies for the Premier, returning yesterday morning from his conferences with the British Prime Minister at Cannes, had brought the opposing members of his Cabinet into accord with his policies, and by a powerful speech in the Chamber, had apparently won over the great majority to his side. His blunt eloquence evoked a tremendous ovation and when he abruptly declared his intention of withdrawing from the Government the members of the Chamber seemed overwhelmed.

When the Associated Press correspondent called at M. Briand's modest apartment at six o'clock last evening he was told by the maid:

"The President, (Premier) sleeps; he is very tired."

Later in the evening, after resting M. Briand met the newspapermen and told them that he was definitely out of power. Under present conditions he declined to "row in the Republic's galleys."

"Anyway," he added, "it would be indecent to remain longer than a year in power. It is just a year since Leygues' Cabinet fell. One can govern only with a solid majority; it is enough to have one's speeches applauded."

M. Briand expressed regret that the Parliament and the country had not appreciated the value of the achievements at Cannes.

"REGARDED VICTIM AS AN EASY MARK"

MONTREAL STAR COMMENT ON SUPPOSED ROADHOUSE MURDER CASE.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The Montreal Star, in a late issue last night, has the following in connection with the death of the 24-year-old Ottawa College student, Raoul Delorme, whose dead body was found with six bullet wounds in the head in a shack in the northwest end of the city Saturday morning last.

"The Star has been informed on the best authority that young Raoul Delorme was seen in a roadhouse in the outskirts of the city on the evening of December 24, in company with two young women.

"The Star's informant has the impression that the women with young Delorme regarded him as an 'easy mark,' and that he had met them unknown to his family.

"The Star's informant, who had seen a picture of the dead man, says there is positively no possibility of a mistake. According to the information given the Star, Delorme had been in this place before.

"The roadhouse is near the scene where the cap of the student was found."

MAKING PROGRESS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Further details of both the naval treaty and the Shantung negotiations were ironed out yesterday but the arms delegates gave up hope of a plenary session this week to announce definite results.

The "Big Five" completed its first revision of the naval convention and sent the text back to its legal experts for a redraft of the changes made. It will meet again to-day and a virtually completed treaty may be ready for an executive session of the full naval committee on Saturday or Monday.

In the Shantung negotiations further supplemental agreements were reached by the Japanese and Chinese and a new promise of progress on the central question of Tsaing tac-Tainanfu Railroad was held out by a series of compromise proposals suggested informally by Secretary Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour.

Word of the resignation of Premier Briand of France created a stir in conference circles, but the disposition in French quarters to-night was to minimize its immediate ef-

THE PROGRESSIVE POSITION.

Hon. T. A. Crerar's address at Winnipeg on Wednesday leaves no doubt as to the position the Progressive party proposes to take in Parliament. There is to be no amalgamation or merger with the Government of Hon. Mackenzie King, but the Liberal administration can count upon the support of the Agrarian members in putting into effect any legislation that is in line with measures advocated by the National Progressive party. The latter organization is to preserve its complete identity and is in no sense of the word to be considered as a wing of the Government. The announcement of the Farmer policy need cause no worry to the new Government, for it seems certain of the assistance of the Progressives in most of the legislation that it is likely to bring down. At the same time there is the possibility of trouble in the event of tariff legislation that may not go far enough to suit the Farmer members and too far to please the Conservative members of the House. But that trouble is more imaginary than real.

NOT ALL BAD.

A religious contemporary declares that the "movies" are generally morally rotten, and that parents are safe in forbidding their children to visit the picture theatres. This wholesale condemnation is too sweeping. The film dramas are not all bad, and there are many of them wholesome and instructive from which no possible harm can come to the children who see them. The chief trouble is that the majority of parents are not sufficiently careful about the nature of the picture they allow their children to attend. There are films, usually based on the sex problem, that are not for youngsters, but they can generally be detected by their titles and advertising. And the wise parents will see that their children are not allowed to visit the theatres where they are being shown. But such films as "Little Lord Fontelroy," "The Kid," "Tom Sawyer" and a score of other recent successes of the same kind are same and wholesome fare for the little folks, and there is no reason why the whole moving-picture industry should be condemned because some of the pictures are admittedly vicious and immoral than there would be to prevent one's children from playing with other youngsters because there are some bad little folks in the world.

ABOUT DEPUTATIONS.

A resolution introduced into the Council the other night requiring Aldermen who act upon deputations on the city's business to file a detailed statement of their expenditures, has been hailed as an economical measure, as it doubtless was intended to be. But it quite misses the point involvel in this question, as it appears to The Examiner. The objection has not been to extravagance in regard to the amount spent by individual deputations but it has been directed against the number of such jaunts. There has been a feeling that many of the trips could have been dispensed with, and that often three or four members of the Council have been delegated to serve upon deputations that were unnecessary. There are times when it is imperative that Aldermen should visit Toronto or Ottawa in the city's interests, and The Examiner does not believe that on such necessary trips the citizens wish their representatives to be treated niggardly and stingily. As the spokesmen of a city of which we are proud, they should be decently treated, stay in good hotels and act as the envoys of a prosperous and progressive community. It would be a poor advertisement for Peterborough to have her Aldermanic representatives housed in second-rate hotels and eating at cheap restaurants in order to pare down their expenses. Eliminate all unnecessary journeys by all means, but when deputations are required let us see to it that a reputation for smallness is not created for Peterborough because of scurvy treatment of our envoys.

Driving a bargain is much like driving a car. You simply look out for your own interests, and let the other fellow take care of himself.

A NECESSARY TONIC.

The Rotary Club's continental advertising campaign calling attention to the fact that the end of the industrial depression is sight and that "prosperity is just around the corner," is the kind of tonic that both Canada and the United States need at the present time. There has been too much "blue ruin" talk, too much complaint about hard times, too great an inclination to hold tight to their money on the part of those who could well afford to spend. The Rotary campaign sounds a cheery note, a challenge to the blues.

Scattered items of local news and despatches telling of increased production here, of greater sales there, of lessening unemployment, of a general stir of action among industries, of a widespread movement among all men to go out and get business—this is the greatest news of the year.

It is the most immediately vital news to us all—to our business, our families, our peace of mind, our hopes, our ambitions.

But because great news of international significance with a bigger appeal to the imagination is coming from Washington, the greatest news of the year is passing unnoticed to the man who is not accustomed to look for it, to read between the lines of everyday occurrences. In the meagre item here and there this news does not seem of great moment, but taken in the aggregate, added to by every hour, every day and every week, the total is convincing.

We have struck a business revival. We are on the road to normal production—sales, profits. We are headed for prosperity.

Men who head great industries realize the value of this business revival. They know it can be turned into an era of prosperity if the obstacles of pessimism, doubt, fear and inaction are removed. The continent-wide advertising prosperity campaign instituted by the Rotary Clubs of United States and Canada will give the revival impetus in all parts of the country that should show immediate and unmistakable results in every community on the continent.

POLLING BOOTHS.

With the following article from the Ottawa Journal, which applies with equal force to Peterborough, many of the Examiner readers will probably be in agreement:

Cramped and sometimes dirty polling rooms have been the familiar order of election days in Ottawa this many a year. The voter on election day has in 99 cases out of a hundred come to a small door to vote to find three or four somebodies standing around outside with notebooks in their hands. He (or she) runs this gauntlet, opens the doors and finds himself (or herself) in a narrow hall filled with somebodies with more notebooks. He (or she) jams along this hall into a small (and sometimes dirty) room where are several more somebodies. A table at which the deputy returning officer and his assistant sits occupies most of the floor. The voter wriggles around in the crowd, gets his (or her) toes tramped on, is severely gazed at by the returning officer, finally gets a ballot paper, and is pointed to a corner where there is a dirty curtain. He (or she) tries to get behind the curtain and finds somebody else there, then retires precipitately and steps on somebody's toes, backs off apologising and is tramped on by somebody else. By and by he (or she) by a fresh effort gets into the corner behind the dirty curtain, marks the ballot paper, comes out, and if the poll is a double one as was the case sometimes in the recent elections, drops his (or her) ballot paper into the wrong box.

It is time the civic authorities tried to improve on this state of things—and the best way to improve on it would be we think to use the school buildings, Public and Separate, as Rev. Mr. Whyte has just pointed out, and which has often been suggested in various quarters. The polling would then be done in clean airy, well-ventilated and commodious quarters. The objection to this is that as elections do not always occur on public holidays, the schools might be closed for a day. Well—it would be worth it. Beyond all question hundreds of voters are kept from the ballot box at present by the mean quarters used for the polls. And this must continue to be the case if private houses are used for the polls—because as a rule a private house of good class will not be allowed by its owner or tenant to be used for a polling booth. And it is very vital that in our democratic communities the largest possible vote should always be promoted.

MIGHT ALTER BATTLESHIPS

fects on Washington negotiations, Albert Sarraut, head of the delegation, announced that he would go ahead with his Conference duties pending instructions from the new Cabinet, and indicated his belief that the change of administration would not vitiate the agreements projected here.

Some Apprehension

Among United States officials in the Conference, however, there was some apprehension that M. Briand's retirement might have a far-reaching effect on the naval limitation program. It was pointed out that the retiring premier had been directly responsible for France's withdrawal of her 350,000 ton capital ship proposal, and that the temper of the succeeding Cabinet on that subject could only be conjectured.

Included in the new treaty provisions not yet finally accepted in the informal conversations of the 'Big Five" are understood to be the sections relating to disposition of scrapped ships and fixing a 'status quo" for Pacific fortifications. One the former, however, the chief delegates are said to be in virtual agreement, while in regard to fortifications the instructions awaited from Tokio are generally expected to make an early settlement possible.

Although described by delegation spokesmen as representing no serious divergence of views, the dicussions over methods of scrapping have aroused unusual interest among the naval experts of the conference. In their sub-committee report the experts recommended that permission be given for conversion of prescribed warships into other types of craft, and they have urged that the provision would represent a large financial saving because of the necessity of constructing new vessels of various classes in the near future.

Converted Battleships

Thus, none of the five powers has at present a modern airplane carrier and the ratio agreement permits them to build from two to five each. If battleships partially complete, but falling outside the list of retained vessels, could be remodelled into airplane carrier types. It is argued, much of the money already spent on hulls couldt be saved.

Opposed to this is the view that to convert discarded battleships into another type of war vessel would not be in accord with the animating purpose of the Washington Conference. This position is understood to have been taken in the "Big Five" meeting by Secretary Hughes. To support it the argument was made that as a matter of policy the Conference should give a practical demonstration of its desire to reduce armament by specifying that the surplus ships must be put out of business altogether.

CARPENTIER WON FROM "BUSH BOY"

FRENCHMAN KNOCKED OUT HIS OPPONENT AT END OF FOURTH ROUND.

LONDON, Jan. 13. — Europe's Beau Brummel of the ring and the "bush boy" of Australia met here last night in a twenty round fixture that came to an untimely end at the end of the fourth round with Georges Carpentier the victor and George Cook taking the count.

It was the first appearance of Carpentier since he was defeated by Jack Dempsey last July and his first battle in two years on British soil. It was also the debut of Cook in European circles.

In the opening round Carpentier was the first to lead, scoring with both his left and right without a return. Cook tried for a right swing, but missed. Considerable infighting followed in which neither man had any marked advantage. Cook took a nasty blow on the ribs, but himself scored well toward the close of the round.

Both men sparred cautiously at the beginning of the second round. Carpentier landed a left hook to the jaw and easily evaded an attempt at a counter. The Australian had the better of the infighting which ensued and twice sent home hard lefts which surprised Carpentier, who continually failed to find openings for his right.

Up to the third round the bout appeared to be going in favor of the Australian. In the third Carpentier landed a light left to the chin, but at close quarters Cook fought hard. Carpentier's best work seemed to be at long range. Near the end of the round the Frenchman scored well with lefts and rights to the head and body and it was easily his round. The Australian caught Carpentier with a blow to the jaw after the bell had sounded and was cautioned by the referee.

Early in the fourth round the fighting was mostly at close quarters. Carpentier twice landed lefts to the head and Cook scored to the chin. The Australian then rushed Carpentier but only to meet with a straight left to the jaw and two rights to the same place, which ended the bout.

There was considerable betting prior to the fight, with Carpentier the favorite at 5 to 2.

RHEUMATISM?

Health is the Most Valuable Asset You Have. You cannot Afford to Neglect it

Crofton, B. C.—"I was troubled for years with inflammatory rheumatism and rheumatic fever. I tried several cures for rheumatism, but did not receive any benefit from any of them. I had been in the hospital for months, being unable to walk. A friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. After taking the first bottle I began to improve, and after taking six bottles I had no more rheumatism. I think Dr. Pierce's Anuric is the most wonderful medicine that any one can take for rheumatism. I have recommended these tablets to several of my friends and they, too, have all been benefited by them."—Melville Collinson.

People are realizing that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an elliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs any one would do well to get Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets which are to be had nowadays at almost any drug store or send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., for trial package and write for free, confidential medical advice.

CROP REPORT

Following is a summary of reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Brant states that "Both fall wheat and clover have been exposed somewhat during the past week or ten days of cold weather, but as the ground froze up wet, no doubt it will stand for some time."

All references to the marketing of grain are to the effect that there is comparatively little doing.

Haldimand reports a small quantity of hay moving at from $14.00 to $16.00 a ton. Bruce quotes prices at from $20.00 to $25.00, while Leeds says that hay is in great demand in that county at from $30.00 to $32.00 a ton.

Alsike seed is selling in Haldimand around $9.00 a bushel, but very little alfalfa seed is being offered at the prevailing price of $15.00 a bushel.

A farmers' club in Hastings has sent an order to a farmer in the county of Peel for 100 bushels of sweet clover seed at $5.00 a bushel.

Peterborough says that farmers have been taking advantage of the good sleighing to draw wood into the villages, good dry hardwood bringing $12.00 a cord, and green wood $9.00 to $10.00 a cord.

Hastings reports that a large number of the cattle being wintered are being carried over mainly on the roughage feed.

Some drovers in Brant are offering to buy cattle for June market at 7 cents a pound.

Bruce says that good veal is bringing from $11.00 to $12.00 a cwt. Sales for finished beef are also stronger.

Peterborough reports that cows have been selling at from $40.00 to $80.00, but that beef cattle are low in price.

Haldimand states that cream is in good demand at the creameries, which are paying 41 cents a pound for butterfat.

Leeds quotes green cheese at 11 cents a pound, and states that September cheese sold at the Ottawa Winter Fair at 14 cents. Creamery butter brings 40 cents a pound for No. 1 and 38 cents for No. 2, whey butter at 35 cents and milk $1.70 a cwt.

Bacon hogs are selling at from $9.00 to $10.25 a cwt. Little pigs are bringing from $9.00 to $10.00 a pair in Brant, although in some outlying parts of the county there have been sales at $7.00 a pair.

Bruce says: "It is hoped that we will have a heavy fall of snow on account of the lack of moisture during the fall months, as it is the general opinion that in many parts of the county the soil does not contain enough moisture for a maximum crop this year."

Regarding farm wages, the Haldimand representative has the following to say:

"During the past week there have been a number of applications for farm help. Wages offered are around $300.00 per year. There seems to be no difficulty in filing these applications, and prospects are that there will be a large demand for men as spring approaches."

Birthday Party.

A very delightful birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Scriver, Hastings, in honor of Mr. Otter Scriver, on the occasion of his 21st birthday. During the course of the evening a nicely-worded address was read, and Otter was presented with a handsome gold watch. The following is the address:

Dear Son,—We are gathered this evening for a special purpose. It seems fitting that we should celebrate with you, this special birthday, where you cross the threshold from boyhood to manhood, on this your 21st birthday. We believe there is no time so happy for parents and children as the days when the children are small, and their happy voices make the old home ring. But we would not have them children for ever. We are thankful for the development which has come to our loved ones, as one by one they have attained the full developed life. We celebrate and rejoice with you this happy evening.

Please accept this gold watch as a gift from father and mother, with the love and best wishes of your affectionate parents, who have great reason to be proud of and love their devoted son, whose life has made our home so happy. As the years pass, may the tick of this watch bring to your memory sweet thoughts of the days of your faithfulness and love to home and parents, and also of this happy evening.

With love from all, your affectionate parents,

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scriver.

Otter was completely taken by surprise, but thanked his parents for their kindness. Lunch was served and a delightful evening spent together.

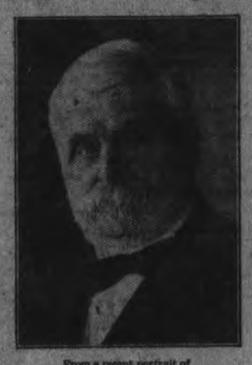
Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe, thousands give it to babes in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.



From a recent portrait of DR. W. B. CALDWELL Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin Born Shelbyville, Mo., 1839

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free

In remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-ounce bottles of my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are constipated now and then, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. Ask for your free bottle today, simply sending name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 21 Front Street, Bridgeburg, Ont. Do not postpone this.

AFTER LIQUOR SUBMARINES.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press.)—United States officials are divided in opinions over reports of a submarine operating between British Columbia ports and Seattle, carrying large consignments of forbidden spirits.

Roy C. Lytle, Federal prohibition director, declared that if he can find a trace of the submarine he will ask the United States navy for Eagle boats and pursue the pirates with depth bombs and all the paraphernalia and modern fighting devices used against German submarines during the war.

FIGHT SALES TAX.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press.) — The Agricultural "Bloc" in the House has declared war on the plan to meet the soldiers' bonus by a sales' tax. As a result of informal conferences here, leaders of the "bloc" said they would fight the sales' tax to the limit. Renewed activity of agricultural members is attracting the more notice as it comes just when the Administration and Republican leaders are trying to put the "bloc" out of business.

Liver Pains

Pains under the shoulder blades tell of liver derangements.

Other indications are sallow complexion, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headaches.

The quickest way to arouse the liver to healthful action is By use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will insure lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mrs. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, bearing-down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and found them excellent. The dragging feeling in my back disappeared and I felt much benefitted generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and always keep them on hand for general use."

AT FARMERS' CONVENTION

FAVOUR RESTABLISHMENT OF THE WHEAT BOARD — DEPLORABLE CONDITION OF AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRY.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 13. — (Canadian Press.)—The convention of the United Farmers of Manitoba declared yesterday afternoon unanimously for the re-establishment of the old wheat board under its former management and with wide powers over wheat and other grains; adopted the greater part of a platform under which the association expects to contest the next provincial election in Manitoba, and elected W. G. Rathwell, of Beresford, Man., vice-president of the organization. Last night an open meeting was held with the main address given by R. A. Hoey, Progressive M.P. for Springfield. The delegates are scheduled to complete their work today.

The convention accepted the following resolution on grain marketing:

"Whereas there is general dissatisfaction with the present system of marketing our grain;

"And whereas the deplorable condition of our agricultural industry is such that it demands the attention of the federal government to the need for national marketing of wheat and other grains;

"Therefore be it resolved that we urge upon the Dominion Government the necessity for re-establishing the Canada Wheat Board under the former management with wide powers to sell wheat and other grains."

A Substitute.

This resolution was adopted as a substitute for one discussed earlier in the day which had held out as the ultimate solution of the wheat marketing problem the principle of co-operative trading through companies controlled by the farmers. There was little discussion. One delegate suggested that the farmers were asking for a special privilege and that manufacturers had as much right to ask the government to find their markets. The view was not popular. The claim was put forth that since the farmers expected that the whole cost of operating the proposed board would come from the grain there was no question of special privilege.

The convention kave three hours to discussion of the provincial political platform and then left over to-morrow six clauses on taxation. There was no discussion on acceptance of the general principle that the association should declare its purpose of concerning themselves directly with the affairs of provincial government. The matter has been before local units for the past year, and the platform had been taken up in detail by these bodies.

"Believing in the superlative worth of co-operative endeavor," said the preamble, "we pledge ourselves to seek all opportunitels of putting the principle into more complete operation in the economic life of our people.

"Believing that democracy is primarily dependent upon the exercise of well-principled citizenship, we hold that the fundamental task of a provincial government is to provide adequately for the preparation of its people for such citizenship.

Direct Legislation.

Delegates were assured that the direct legislation plank involved the initiative and the referendum. There was a demand from many delegates for inclusion of the recall of elected representaives but eventually this matter was left over with the locals for a year. "It is a fine thing," said one, "to have a string on a number." J. P. Bancroft, M.P. for Selkirk, said he believed in the recall but by the electors and not by a committee.

There was free discussion also during the passing of the educational clauses, and the women delegates were heard from in defence of compulsory school attendance to the age of sixteen or the competion of eighth grade work. There was considerable difference of opinion on the value of consolidated schools and of the replacement of local school boards by munition boards, but finally the clause was adopted declaring for "continued encouragement of the development," of these modern features of rural educational system. One delegate stated that the attendance at rural schools averaged fifty per cent., which meant that the pupils were present only half the time.

The convention made the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway a plank in its platform adding as an amendment the suggestion that the three western provinces consider ways and means of carrying the work to its finish if the federal government refused to go ahead.

NEWBURY ELECTED.

WASHINGTON, January 13. Canada Press. — Truman H. Newberry was declared by the Senate yesterday to be entitled to the seat which he now holds and which was made the basis of the contest by Henry Ford, his democratic opponent in the 1918 Michigan senatorial election.

PLAYED A "SURE THING."

NEW ORLEANS, January 13. — Canadain Press. — A hay loft opposite the fair grounds race track, a pair of field glasses, and a telephone said to be connected with New York, played the leading role in the arrest of two men here yesterday when a lone policeman raided a barn.

The men, according to the police, said that they had been using the hayloft and the telephone to make "sure thing" bets in New York. As soon as a horse won a race, the police said, the winner would be given over the telephone to New York and a bet on the horse made in that city.

AT DAIRYMEN'S CONVENTION.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press.)—Two important resolutions passed the Western Ontario Dairymen's convention in its final session Thursday afternoon in the Masonic Temple without the slightest demur on the part of any of the delegates.

The first was one supporting any enactment or any legislation which would bring about cream grading in Ontario, cream grading having been one of the prominent features of deliberations throughout the whole length of the sessions.

The other resolution dealt with the barring of oleo margarine from Canada and the discontinuance of its manufacture in the coming season.

SPOTTERS ON JOB.

SARNIA, Jan. 13. — (Canadian Press.)—Sarnia has been a city of peace and quiet for the last 48 hours, police officials announcing that despite the use of Chief Lannin's spotters not an arrest has been made here during this time. Charges made against the spotters will be heard in the police court next week.

ROBERT STEWART DEAD.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.— (Canadian Press.)—Robert Stewart, father of Hon. J. A. Stewart, Minister of Railways in the Meighen Government, died at the Royal Victoria Hospital here last night. He had been under treatment for the past month. The body was sent to Perth for interment.

INCREASE FORTY PER CENT.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press.)— An increase of forty per cent in the amount of compensation paid by employers to injured workers throughout the operation of the Manitoba Workmen's Compensation Board is shown in the annual report for 1921 issued here. A sum of $421,944 was paid out last year compared with $301,359 in 1920.

SEVEN YEAR SENTENCE.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.— (Canadian Press.)—For having induced a boy to set fire to a mattress in the dormitory of the reform school in the east end of this city, thereby endangering the lives of 400 inmates, Armand Couture, 17, and Henri Roberge, 18, were each sentenced to a seven year penitentiary term here. Both youths were known as incorrigible characters and had been frequently before the juvenile delinquent officers in the past few years.

SAILS FOR ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.— (Canadian Press.)—Johnny Buff, world's bantamweight boxing champion and holder of the United States flyweight title, announced to-day through his manager, Lew Diamond, that he would sail for England on January 21.

Diamond said Buff would tour Europe, but that the trip would be only for pleasure.

FUTURE WHEAT BOARD?

OTTAWA, January 13. Canadian Press. — That there will be a demand for the re-organization of the Canada Wheat Board, and also from other sources, for a continuatin of the probe into wheat marketing conditions, during the coming session of Parliament, is expected by the members of Parliament who are now in the capital as well as by several who have been here recently. The Western Liberals, it is understood, are strongly in favor of having a thorough investigation of wheat marketing conditions made though whether this would mean a continuation of the present Royal Commission on wheat marketing is problematical.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large obttle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everyobdy uses this preparation now ,because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gary hair disappears, and after another application or two, you hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

AGED 64, WED A DEBONAIR WIDOW.

But Police Discovered He Had Another Wife and Five Children.

Fourteen years ago, Henry Isaac Bloom, having reached the youthful age of 60 years and feeling the strength of budding manhood, decided to take unto himself a wife. He married a Mrs. Caroline Matilda Draer, a charming and debonair widow, and the couple would have lived happily ever afterwards if the police had not discovered, recently, that Mr. Bloom already possessed a Mrs. Bloom, and that he was, in fact, the father of no fewer than five children from his first marriage. In Police Court here he pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy and was sentenced to not less than two years in the Ontario Reformatory.

Mrs. Bloom, the First, now resides at Montcalm street, Hull, and Mr. and Mrs. Bloom, the Second have been residing at 76 Armstrong street.

Latterly Mr. Bloom in his seventy fourth year, could not altogether withstand the ravages of time and could not go out to work. He was accordingly supported by city charity and that led to the discovery that he had a former wife still living in Hull.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, January 13 (Canadian Press). — Broad powers asked for by President Harding in administering the proposed new tariff law with a view to meeting unusual and changing world conditions which could not be anticipated by Congress would be granted under amendments to the Fordney Bill, proposed here by Senator Smoot, of Utah, ranking Republican on the Senate Finance Committee.

The President would be authorised to increase or decrease tariff rates by not exceeding 50 per cent. of the rates fixed in the Bill, to proclaim American valuation as the basis for assessing duties on any given list of imports; to change rates within the limit of 50 per cent. so as to meet situations arising in the United States markets as a result of depreciated foreign exchanges; to prevent dumping in United States markets, and to prevent discrimination against United States foreign commerce by foreign countries.

RECEPTION OF PRINCE IN INDIA LIKE OIL ON TROUBLED WATERS

Magnificent Acclaim in Bombay Proved Disastrous toGandhi's Agitation for Revolt.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—With regard to the rioting in Bombay at the time of the Prince of Wales' arrival there at the outset of his tour through India, The Times' Bombay correspondent says that whatever may have been the original political influence behind the disorders, they were, from the first day, the mere hooliganism of rowdies. He declares that the magnificence of the Prince's reception and the riots—both of which were directly contrary to the orders of Gandhi, the leader of the non-Co-operationists—are equally disastrous to Gandhi's cause.

Gandhi is quoted by The Times correspondent as saying that the disturbers "did not consist of hooligans only, or boys. It was not an unintelligent crowd; it was essentially a mixed crowd, unprepared and unwilling to listen to anybody. It was not a crowd, but several crowds, numbering in all not less than 20,000 men, bent on mischief and destruction." The spectacle of these outrages, the first Mr. Gandhi had personally witnessed, has driven him to the conclusion that his hope of reviving mass civil disobedience has once more been dashed, in his opinion, to pieces. He admits that non-co-operators cannot escape liability for the disturbances.

Admits His Guilt.

"Nor can I shirk my own responsibility," Gandhi is quoted as saying. "I am more instrumental than any other in bringing into being the spirit of revolt. I find myself not fully capable of controlling and disciplining that spirit. I must do penance for it. For me the struggle is essentially religious. I believe in fasting and prayer, and I propose henceforth to observe every Monday a twenty-four hours' fast till Swaraj (home rule) is obtained."

Following this deliverance Gandhi said that he had personally come to the conclusion that civil disobedience could not be started for the present, so he would be unable to conduct the campaign unless a completely non-violent spirit was generated among the people. "It is a humiliating confession of my incapacity," Gandhi admitted, "but I know I shall appear more pleasing to my Maker by appearing what I am, instead of appearing to be what I am not. If I can have nothing to do with organized violence of the Government, I can have less to do with the unorganized violence of the people. I would prefer to be crushed between the two."

How Trouble Began.

The lawlessness in Bombay began at a bonfire of foreign cloth in the yard of a mill managed by a Mahom-Anglo-Indians and Parsees on one co-operationist leader himself conducting the fire. From the interruption of the tramway service by the gathering of a crowd the trouble grew until there was rioting. It could have been nipped in the bud, The Times correspondent states, only that all the attention of the authorities was being concentrated on the Prince of Wales. Emboldened thereby the crowd proceeded with fist lawlessness, which developed into the stoning and burning of tramway cars, assaults on the police, looting and burning of liquor shops, attacks on police posts and murder of Indian constables and one British engine driver.

The non-co-operators, distinguished by their caps and dresses of Kadi cloth, actively molested men and women returning from welcoming the Prince, insulted Parsee ladies and assaulted people when opposed. At night the rioting became worse, and there were fights between parties of Anglo-Indians and Pirsees on one side and non-co-operating Hindus and Moslems on the other. Military forces had to be used to quell the disturbance, which lasted several days.

The Calcutta correspondent of The Times says that the day the Prince of Wales landed at Bombay Calcutta was the scene of an almost complete hartal (day of mourning). Business was seriously interfered with, and in some cases paralyzed. There were few incidents of actual violence, but Caliphate volunteers and non-co-operators, aided by hooligans, terrorized clerks, servants and peaceful citizens, while shopkeepers were forced to close their shops by threats of loss and social boycott. Crowds of men, being forbidden to work, kept holiday in the streets.

Some Disorder.

While there were scenes of disorder, there were several instances of Indians refusing to submit to coercion and being insulted and assaulted.

There was a good deal of indignation in Calcutta at the failure of the Government to prevent the Calipathe agitators from "holding up" the city. The newspapers were full of vigorous protests. Many Europeans urged the formation of a volunteer force to maintain order, and caled upon the Government to take steps against the offenders in accordance to arrest ringleaders, declare harmful organizations illegal, and employ troops when necessary, in order that citizens of Calcutta might again be able to go about their vocations without molestation.

There was a resumption of normal life in Calcutta the day after the "day of mourning."

DIPLOMATIC NOTES AFFECTING BUSINESS

A Controversy Between Russia and Roumania Over Bessarabia.

MOSCOW, Jan. 13.—(Associated Press)—The business conditions of both Russia and Rumania continue to be affected by the uninterrupted exchange of diplomatic notes between those countries during a period of two years over the possession of Bessarabia, now occupied by Rumanian army with civil officials co-operating in the occupation.

Business men near Russian frontiers have been frightened by these notes, thinking they would lead to war at any time. American business men and bankers in Constantinople have refused loans or participation in investments involving either Rumania or the Ukraine because of these notes.

Yet, to any one who has observed the tenor of these notes and read between the lines, they have never appeared serious. Rumanians and Russian politicians have understood each other perfectly all the while and probably laughed in their sleeves while penning vitriolic notes which had any other countries been involved, would have either terminated in war or a reasonable adjustment.

Seat of Massacres

Bessarabia, in pre-war days, was a Russian province, best known in the United States as the seat of frequent Jewish massacres, especially at Kishnev. In the general war, the Rumanians, having been overrun by Germans and Bulgars fled to Bessarabia. The national treasure and crown jewels, together with the jewels of the ordinary citizens of the city were bundled upon the royal train escaping from General Mackensen and taken to Russia, and later to Moscow.

A little later Russia went Bolshevik, and this treasure was absorbed by the new government.

What was for several years an apparent misfortune to Rumania may now be a blessing in disguise. It may lead Soviet Russia, unable to pay back all this money, to surrender Bessarabia. During all the long notes between the two foreign offices, there has been a sarcastic tendency on the part of the Rumanians to ask: "When do you intend to return the money you stole?"

George Chitcherin, the Russian Foreign Minister, has not infrequently asked: "When will Rumania's squatter army skedaddle?" The impression prevails here that Russia with her new economic policy, will not only refrain from war but conclude to let Rumania remain in occupation for several years at least. Then when the horizon is clear and business good, a Russian army may march in and take Bessarabia.

APPOINTED FREIGHT AGENT.

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Alfred Chard, formerly with the Grand Trunk Railway in Ontario, and latterly with the Canadian National Railway in Edmonton, has been appointed freight traffic expert to the Provincial Government. He will have charge of the campaign of the Provincial Government in regard to freight and tariff rates, and traffic generally, in so far as the effort for reduced rates is concerned.

LATIVIAN NURSE LOST TEN SONS IN WAR

PARIS, Jan. 13. — (Associated Press)—A native nurse in the employ of the American Red Cross at Goldingen, Lativa, lost ten sons in the war, her husband was shot by the Bolshevik and her three daughters died last year.

Still she goes about her work with a smile. "Nitchevo" is her consolation, which means among a million other things, "It can't be helped."

Public is Amazed at Continued Enormous Demand For Tanlac

People All Over America Want to Know What Is Behind the Phenomenal Success of This Preparation That Makes It the World's Greatest Tonic.

Day after day the question is being asked all over the United States and Canada: What is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac? Why do we hear so much about it? and, Why do Tanlac sales keep increasing every year, when other medicines seem to have a short-lived popularity, and are then forgotten?

The answer is simple enough. The test of time has proven to people all over the American continent that Tanlac always produces most gratifying results and that the remarkabl relief it brings seems to be more permanent than ever before believed possible.

Tens of thousands of persons everywhere, who took it when it was first introduced six years ago, report that they are still enjoying excellent health and millions of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after first trying it out thoroughly and proclaim it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, some of them of longstanding as well as thousands men apparently on the verge of collapse have testified publicity that they have been fully restored to their normal health, strength and weight by its use.

Still others who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour gassy stomach, coated tongue, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessnes at night and terrible dejected, depressed feelings, state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptons and restored to health and happiness by taking Tanlac.

Tanlac has never been advertised as a cure-all or that it would perform unheard-of wonders. The advertising has been clean, straightforward and conservative. Actual facts and figures have been stated in a true business-like way that has commanded the confidence of all in the conservative claims set forth.

The enormous demand for Tanlac is due to merit alone for no amount of advertising would continue to sell any article that does not possess real merit. Unless full value underlays the article advertised, the advertising will ultimately fall of its own weight. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Tanlac has been well advertised, it is true, but such a large and rapidly growing demand could not be brought about by advertising alone. It is what the people themselves say that counts. One bottle of Tanlac is sold in a neighborhood through advertising, but ten more are sold in that same community as a result of the sale of that first bottle and that is why Tanlac has succeeded. People are always willing to talk about their ailments, but they are more than glad to tell others of the medicine that helped them. It is something they could not keep to themselves if they tried, for the impulse to sympathize with your fellowman and want to help him is one of the strongest, as well as one of the biggest, things in human nature.

That is the reason why the people of every section of the United States and Canada have become to speak of Tanlac as the World's Greatest Tonic. And that is the reason why the demand for this remarkable medicine has grown to such proportions that it is almost impossible to keep dealers supplied.

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

INCREASE FRENCH PRESTIGE IN EAST.

A Treaty With Turkish Nationalists Scores Great Victory.

JERUSALEM, Jan. 13.—(Associated Press)—France has achieved a great increase of her prestige through the Near East by her treaty with the Turkish Nationalists by her surrender to them of the whole province of Cicilia and by giving them assurances of the moral support of the French in the final settlement of the Near Eastern question.

Mohammedans of Syria, Egypt and Palestine are beginning to look upon France as having assumed the role of champion of Islam in succession to Great Britain and the later efforts of Emperor William to become the "Defender of the Crescent."

Political observers here affirm that France has scored a diplomatic victory in the Near East as a result of the Angora pact and that this means the end of Allied co-operation in handling Turkish affairs. France, they say, never forgave England for having turned over Mesopotamia to Emir Feisal, who was driven out of Syria by General Gouraud. They point out that France's latest action has placed a hostile nation on the border of Mesopotamia, of Syria and Palestine.

Only yesterday the Mohammedans were all united in their commendation of the French mandate and also in Syria. To-day they are singing loudly the praises of everything French. The Moslem press is devoting many of its columns in appreciation of the Angora pact and the service it has rendered Islam in general and the Caliphate in particular.

Chiefs of Bedouin tribes, who in past months have been a source of trouble to the Syrian administration on account of regular raids carried on in Syria, are now not only pledging their loyalty and good behavior, but are also demanding that they be incorporated under the Government of Syria.

A few days ago a great demonstration was held in the city of Beirut to commemorate the Anglo-Turkish Treaty. About 10,000 Mohammedans took part in the event. Speeches were delivered by leading citizens, in all of which the keynote was "long live France; down with England." A resolution was adopted calling upon all Moslems in all parts of the world to stand loyal to the French flag.

NIGHT SCHOOLS CLOSE.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—The fourteen night schools of this city will close tonight because the funds provided by the Provincial Government have run out and no further monies are available, it is announced. There is a larger registration at the schools this year than ever before, it is stated.

A BIG SURPRISE

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—Premier Briand's resignation without waiting for vote in Chamber of Deputities came as great surprise here and indefinite adjournment of supreme council, it is feared means breakup of Cannes meeting. It at least throws the whole reparations question into confusion.

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden, a hindrance to activity, a curb upon pleasure. You can take off the fat where it shows by taking after each meal and at bedtime, one Marmola Prescription Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous prescription from which they take their name. Buy and try a case to-day. All druggists the world over sell them at one dollar for a case or you can order them direct from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. You can thus say good-bye to dieting, exercise and fat.

MANY HOME BREWS ARE JUST SOUR SWILL

In Comparison With Which Vinegar is Mild and Wholesome.

Many amateur home-brewers are drinking what A. D. Baby, revenue inspector, describes as nothing but "sour swill". In the belief that their brews possess a "kick" the optimistic drink producers are filling their interiors with liquids compared to which vinegar is a mild and wholesome beverage.

Malt extract purchased at drug stores was the substance with which most of the amateurs conducted their experiments, Mr. Baby said. The amount of sugar contained in this liquid was not great, and when a yeast cake was added, and fermentation started, it did not take long to use up the sacharine content. Unless it was bottled immediately, a different kind of chemical action took place, which soon reduced the beer to something which would be highly enjoyed by pigs.

This fluid was absorbed by the unfortunate home-brewers under the pathetic delusion that they were in systems.

INSURANCE PROBLEMS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 13. — (Canadian Press).—Among the various phases of insurance which were discussed at the life insurance educational sales congress which opened here under the auspices of the Dominion Life Underwriters' Association were monthly income insurance and insurance for the payment of succession duties. In the first subject it was contended that payments in lump sums to widows often resulted in total loss of the money in comparatively short periods. In the second, it was urged that there was need for legislation to raise the maximum of estates for exemption in respect of these duties.

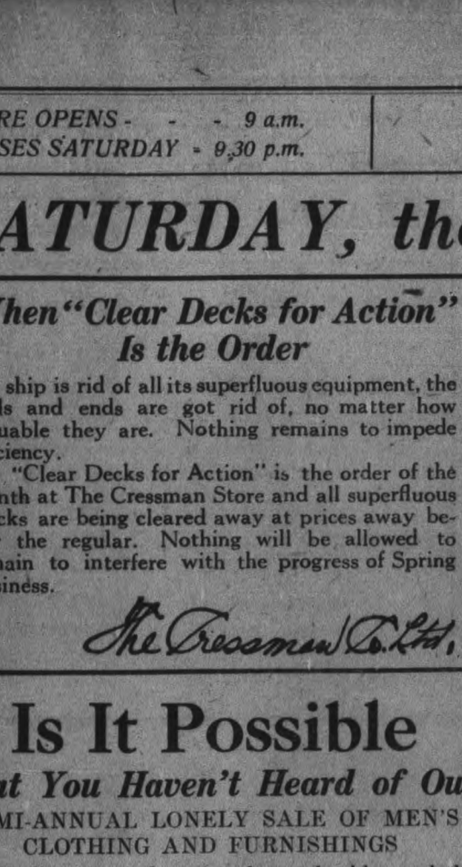
That You Haven't Heard of Our

SEMI-ANNUAL LONELY SALE OF MEN'S CLOTHING AND FURNISHINGS

We have sent the news far and wide, and the response has been very great, but maybe there are still a few who have not heard about the goings on in our Men's Shop.



We call it "Lonely" because during this event all our odd garments, broken lines, are offered at prices away less than usual. They are smart, of good materials and perfect in every way. Their value to the individual is not lessened because they are the remnants of their kind—it is us who takes the loss—for we cannot have a miscellaneous stock of odds and ends around when the spring season commences, even though they are first-class goods.

BOY, PLEASE PAGE THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

HERE IS A C NCINNATI NEWSPAPER WHICH THINKS PETERBOROUGH IS SITUATED IN THE FOREST PRIMEVAL—ALFRED M'CUE RECEIVED AS A DELEGATE FROM THE GREAT NORTHWEST WHO IS MYSTIFIED BY MOTORS AND FAUCETS.

The following from the Cincinnati Enquirer is enjoyable:

Alfred McCue, Ex-Chief of the Chemong band of the Mississaugua Indians, whose home is at Curve Lake, in the Kawartha Country, Canada, is in Cincinnati for a visit—his first south of the Canadian border. He is the guest of James Albert Green, Avondale avenue and Winding Way, President of the Matthew Addy Company, whose guide he has been for many years on hunting trips in the Great Northwest.

As and Indian and accustomed only to the laws of the wild, he is frankly dazed by the sight of so many automobiles as he has seen in Cincinnati, and by its traffic problems so peculiar to him, an Indian, with his experiences of a lifetime in the wilderness, away from civilization and the many conveniences that modern civilization calls its own.

His fear is that when he goes back to the Indian tribe in Canada, of which he is Chief, where, in his own words, travelling through primeval forests and shooting the rapids in a canoe is far less dangerous and exciting than trying to cross a Cincinnati street infested with the speeding automobiles, he will fose his reputation for truthfulneses among his fellow tribesmen among whom he has served faithfully as a Sunday-school Superintendent for many years.

Encounters Many Puzzles

For he is finding so many things that are unexplainable to him with his lack of knowledge of city life, that he has a hard time believing them himself, let alone trying to convince someone else that they exist.

He is unable for instance, to solve the mystery of the faucets in the bathroom. How, he tells his tribesmen that all one has to do is to turn one faucet and cold water comes out and turn another faucet, and lo- the water is steaming hot? Mr. Green has explained it fully to him, even taking him down in the cellar to show him how it is done but the Indian chief mighty in his own environment, with eyes that see things a white man never could discover, nods unbelievingly and wonders how he can explain it to his brother tribesmen when he gets back home.

The Christmas tree, for instance, that Mr. Green erected at his home that the Indian chief might have a Christmas in the midst of civilization is such a familiar sight to him in the wilderness that he fails to see why one should spend good money for a green tree. Why should one go out and cut one and bring it in if one must have it.

"Alfred and I have passed the happiest times of our lives together", Mr. Green said last night, referring to the usual vacation trips he makes to the Northwest, where the Indian chieftain acts as his guide. "We have paddled and fished, we have gone over known paths and we have ventured into unknown places. We have faced peril and hardships together, and I have never known him to flinch. He is a true a man as the Lord ever made, and as faithful a friend and companion as man ever found.

"For years Alfred has promised to make Cincinnati a visit. Unfortunately, he arrived in themidst of the great rain that preceded Christmas and yesterday he asked if the sun ever shone here. He is a bit dazed by the extent of the city, and particularly by the hills and valleys hereabouts, which are most confusing to man accustomed to a comparatively level country.

Pathfinder Through Forest

On Mr. Green's trips into the Northwest the Indian is Mr. Green's pathfinder. In the forest there is no getting lost for him, for he knows how to find his way in the wildwoods. He frankly acknowledges, when asked if he could do as well in the city, that as soon as he turned a corner he would be in doubt.

"You see," the Chief said, yesterday. "I have not found my bearings. And the sun has not shone since I have been here. So I can't quite be sure of the points of the compass. In the woods I bend twigs to blaze my track so as to be sure of the return trip, or, if I can see the sun, I can go by that. But I do think the people here would take kindly to having a stranger blaze his trail along the streets."

Mr. Green assured his visitor that a stranger in Cincinnati is allowed many liberties, but that even an Indian would hardly be forgiven for blazing a trail in the backwoods fashion.

The visit is the first the Indian has ever made South. When he left Chemong there was good sleighing and the ice on the lakes were so thick that horses could safely be driven across. The air in Cincinnati has been soft and balmy, and when he rode from the station to Mr. Green's home in Avondale he had to be urged to put on his overcoat. He felt that the day was so warm that a coat was not needed.

So Far, So Good!

He has not seen all of Cincinnati, but what he has seen has convinced him that Cincinnati is a great city. Such a multitude of beautiful residences in suburbs, through which he has been, and such great schoolhouses and long streets—is expression for all this is "Great!"

To him some of the things in a modern house are nothing short of miraculous. The water heater is one that has given him the most puzzlement so far. In Chemong where he lives, the people still get their water in the good old-fashioned way. They take a bucket and go down to the lake, chopping through the ice if necessary and take the water home. Electric lights and natural gas also needed a good deal of explanation for him to understand them.

While it is the Indian's first visit to Cincinnati he is not a stranger by any means. Through Mr. Green he has become acquainted with John E. Blame, William Harvey Anderson Leland G. Banning, Ralph E. Clark, Dr. H. H. Hoppe and Prof. Nevin McPenneman. Mr. Green is full of stories of Alfred's keenness of sight.

"Alfred is a real Indian and he loves nature," Mr. Green said. "He has a passion for the out-of-doors. Many a time when, so far as the eyes of the white man were concerned, there were no fish to be seen in the waters, Alfred has seen them and on the hook being dropped into the place there where the fish to prove what he had seen. The Indian is weather wise and can read from the winds and the skies what weather to expect.

"In commenting on the mildness of the last two winters, Alfred said that he recently met an old Indian who told him that we would have seven just as mild winters in succession and then there would be a return of the glacial period winters, such as made us shiver in the winter of 1917-1918.

"White Man Is Nature Conquerer"

"He said he came from Detroit to Cincinnati riding in a daylight train, that the fact that in all that great stretch of country there were continuous barns and farms with no forests, with no lakes as in the Northland, made him feel that the white man has made a conquest of nature.

"Alfred's grandmother was the first Christian in the family. Before that time his people of course were pagans. They belonged to the Algonquin nation and were the deadly enemies of the Iroquois. About 80 or 90 years ago the Chemong band, of which he is chief, were removed by the Canadian Government from Balsam Lake to where they are now. At that time the band numbered 400 persons. Alfred refers to the people of his reservation as a band meaning that they are a subdivision of the larger tribe.

"They did not take kindly to houses or to their new and hampering sourroundings, and in Alfred's younger days the band dwindled to only 160. It now numbers 300—conclusive proof that in Chemong at least the Indian has accommodated himself to his new surroundings and is beginning again to increase.

"All of the families have land; they own cows and horses and gain much of their living from their farms, which they always call gardens. But they still are great hunters and fishers, and in the summer time nearly all the men are employed as guides, an occupation which is not only honorable but profitable."

In September--That's All

McCue was asked his age. He is a vigorous, well-built man, the only indication of years being a thinning of his hair. He said:

"I am sure I don't know. My father told me I was born in a wigwam he built on Deer Bay—one of the Kawarthas—when the family went in the fall to gather wild rice. So I know I was born in September, for that is the month of the rice gathering, but the date I can't say. But I know that I can still paddle a canoe and can do my share on the portage trail, so I don't think I am old enough to worry. And I certainly enjoy civilization. When I go back home and tell of the things here I think I shall lose my reputation for truthfulness. They will believe I am lying, especially when I tell them that you press one faucet and out comes hot water—very hot and you press another and out comes cold water."

As a matter of fact the Chief is thoroughly at home in a civilized and cultured community. He attended Normal School in Brantford, the Mohawk Institute, which is a mission school maintained by a society in England. And in Chemong in the winter he has been for 25 years the school teacher. And he is the Sunday School Superintendent of the Methodist Church there. He is the Secretary of the Grand General Indian Council of Ontario an organization of Indians to look after the welfare of their people.

OPPOSE REDUCTION.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press).—In opposing a reduction of salaries for Manitoba civil servants, the Labor group of the Provincial Legislature declared in a decision made yesterday that any projected salary reductions in the service should be made on Ministers, Deputy Ministers, members of the Legislature and highly-paid officials of the Government. This announcement was made by F. J. Dixon, leader of the party, following a caucus.

CONSTIPATION BAD HEADACHES FAINT, DIZZY SPELLS

Constipation is one of the commonest ills of mankind and one too often allowed to go unlooked after until some serious complication sets in.

A free motion of the bowels daily should be the rule of everyone, then there will be no constipation, sick or bilious, spells, dizziness, heartburn, coated tongue, foul breath, sour stomach, floating specks before the eyes, jaundice, water brash, etc.

Keep the bowels properly regulated by the use of

and you will enjoy the best of health.

Mrs. Frank Wilsey, R. R. 2, Belmont, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with constipation for nearly two years. I had bad headaches, faint and dizzy spells, and would bloat terribly. I was nearly discouraged for I had tried so many things that gave me no relief. My mother got me a vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and told me to give them a fair trial. After I had taken one vial I felt much better and continued their use. Now I have no faint and dizzy spells and am gaining nicely. I would not be without Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for the world."

Price 25c a vial, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

On Saturday night will be given one of the Roller Rink Band programmes, so much enjoyed, with its special features. See to-morrow's paper for the programme. Hockey will be played on Monday night.—Advt.

FARMERS ASKED TO HELP IN RELIEF WORK.

WINNIPEG, January 13 (Canadian Press). — F. J. Dixon, M.L.A., appeared before the United Farmers of Manitoba to-day, and asked assistance for the relief of distress and suffering in Russia. A resolution may be presented on the matter later.

The executive committee was directed to investigate the alleged discrepancy between the cost of flour and the price of wheat.

BREACH OF MOTOR ACT COST $25.50

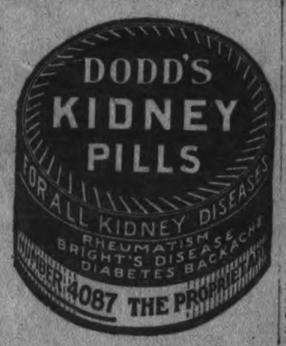
Drove Auto without Either Lights Or Number Plate.

A drive down London street at 8.30 Wednesday night in one of C. Richor's trucks cost Gordon Fine $25.50 in the police court to-day.

Unfortunately for him he had no lights on the truck fore or aft, and even a number plate, and the detectives in the police car noticed the lightless, numberless auto.

He pleaded guilty before Magistrate Langley on two charges, one of driving without headlights, and another of having no tail light. He was fined $5 for the first offence, $10 on the latter, and also paid costs of $10.50.

It was Magistrate Langley's first case under the Motor Vehicles' Act, and he made it quite plain that offenders will be strictly dealt with in his court.



VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—Please let me get into this mid-winter row over Christian Science. I want to say that I honestly believe that there is hardly one regularly-ordained minister in this city who believes that the Bible is the inspired word of God. Christian Science does believe it and is the only Protestant body holding to the ancient truths as there described.

which summed up the fact that we were then using three million horse power a year in New York State alone, and that the normal rate of increase was ten per cent., or 300,000 a year. Which shows that our dam (one-half going to the United States and one-half to Canada) will only supply one third of the amount that is being used in New York State or will only supply the normal increase for the next three years.

Now, however, there is one million horse power used in the City of New York alone. The diagram shown here has circles of 100, 200, 300, 400, 500, miles each, and the heavy black marks show where the present Niagara Falls water power is used. With a loss of considerably less than ten per cent., the power is transmitted to Syracuse, a distance of 160 miles, using 60,000 volts. By raising this voltage to 110,000, the power has been transmitted to the Detroit River, a distance of 250 miles. If we double this voltage again (which has already been done) making it 220,000, we can double the distance of transmission, making a radius of 500 miles, inside of the outer circle of 500 miles radius, we find parts of two provinces of Canada, and the whole or parts of 19 States of the Union, and contained therein we have 80 per cent. of the entire population of Canada and 60 per cent of the entire population of the United tates. All of which would then be within commercial reach of Niagara Falls power, although our Niagara Falls Junior would only supply enough power for the City of New York, giving Canada her share.

Electrical experts on the Pacific Coast claim that it will soon be possible to transmit power economically to any part of the United States.

Extend Goat Island.

So as Niagara Falls Junior would be absolutely inadequate to supply the demand, said Dr. Thomson, we propose to extend Goat Island a thousand feet or so up stream, in order to take advantage of the 50 foot drop in the Niagara River immediately above the Falls, and then construct inclined tunnels some 3500 feet long under Goat Island, giving the cheapest and most economical plan for developing any water which the governments will allow to be diverted from above the Falls.

Allowing one half of the flow to still go over the Falls we can then get another two million horse power under Goat Island, making a total of 4 million horse power from the Niagara River.

These two projects are shown on this plan as compared with the 13 miles Chippawa-Queenston Canal which has just been put in operation. While the Chippaa-Queenston Canal is only designed to take care of 16,500 cubic feet of water it has cost about as much as our Niagara Falls Jr. project would cost. And yet our dam would handle 22,000 cu. feet of water per second.

According to the Toronto Financial Post, in order to obtain enough water prior to the new International agreement, it will be necessary for Hydro to scrap some of its old plants. The Financial Post stated taht the old plants were built to sell power for $9 a horse power while the new plant will have to charge $20 to pay the interest on the cost of construction.

No matter what price hydro-electric power is sold for, it will always be worth as much as it costs to develop it by coal, as there will not be enough hydro-electric power in the country to do away with coal, unless we learn to utilize the tides.

The Cheapest Power.

The cheapest power developed by coal before the war in New York City was developed by the New York Interborough, and New York Edison, and it cost them on an average of $32.19 a horse power, which would mean $70 or $80 now. The speaker has always claimed that instead of selling hydro-electric power so much below its value as compared with coal, that we should be allowed to make a reasonable profit and then be charged enormous taxes. Ontario Hydro has claimed that if the Governments charge $2 a horse power tax it would kill Government ownership of water power.

Two dollars a horse power is, of course as you know, one-thirty-second of a cent per kilowatt hour, and as it now costs eighty, ninety and hundred dollars a horse power to develop electric horse power from coal, we claim that even if we paid $32 a horse power tax, or one-half a cent per kilowatt hour, that we could sell power for one-half of the price of that developed by coal.

Instead of trying to distribute the power broadcast, would it not be much better to follow the example of the Pioneer Companies of Niagara and sell power near at hand, thereby creating great industries and thereby enormously reducing the cost of many articles as has been done with aluminum ware, carborundum, shredded wheat, etc.?

The first five Pioneer Companies developed 650,000 horse power at a cost of $65,000,000 or $100 a horse power. But in doing this they caused to be expended by other organizations ten times this amount or $650,000,000. So if we expend $200,000,000 for our two projects, making work for four million men in the Niagara district, we ought to attract private capitol to ten times the amount of our expenditure.

St. Lawrence River Project.

I am now showing a picture of the Dreadnought which made a record in 1860 that has never been beaten for a vessel sailing across the Atlantic ocean. For she covered a distance from Sandy Hook to England in nine days and seventeen hours. Prior to that time practically all great Amercan fortunes had been made on the sea. For nearly every ship built was an improvement on the earlier ships. The result being that the American ships were the fastest, sometimes by days, weeks or even more. Naturally they had the choice of the most profitable freight and the highest freight rates. And all these ships paid for themselves, either on a single trip or on the first return trip.

When the acme of the wooden sailing ship had been reached, and the steamship was in the horizon, it was argued in America, as our coal and iron deposits were then practically unknown, that as England had all the coal and all the iron, and we had neither, it would be absolutely useless for the United States to compete against England for steamships.

Then the Civil War, followed by the development of the Great West, diverted the attention of the Americans from foreign commerce. And it was not until the recent war that America began seriously to build ships, but she has not yet begun to make adequate provision for handling these ships, with the deplorable results of which you are all cognizant. The above is simply given as an introduction to the development of the St. Lawrence River, so that ocean going vessels may reach the Great Lakes.

As you know, said the speaker, such vessels now reach Montreal without the aid of locks, although the water at Montreal harbor is about 24 above ocean tide level.

Our first step would be to construct a dam at the Lachine Rapids across Isle Heron, and then dredge a channel from Montreal to this dam (so that ocean vessels can reach the dam and ascend by one or two locks to the Lake St. Louis level, or about elevation 76.

This would permit us to reclaim some ten square miles of the most valuable manufacturing sites for the City of Montreal. We would also be able to develop a million horse power. All of which the late Sir William Van Horne had stated would make Montreal one of the really great ports of the world.

Comapratively little work will be needed to dredge the St. Lawrence to Lake Ontario, with there or four more dams and power sites, which would give us another three million horse power, or four million in all. Making as we have stated before eight million horse power for the Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers.

In this stupendous work were undertaken by Government Ownership in the old sense of the word, God held the countries. On the other hand it is absolutely inconceivable that the two Governments would give concessions to any combination of individuals, giving them private ownership, in the old sense of the word, of rights which might be equivalent to 80,000,000 tons of coal a year, or $800,000,000 a year, and to let this work to individuals on a percentage basis would be the same as Government ownership. So our proposition is that the two Governments get together and give us the rights to canalize the St. Lawrence River and develop the water power in both the rivers under strict Government supervision as to plans, construction, operation, selling price of power, amount of taxes to be paid, and our remuneration on the basis that if it costs us say $15 per horse power, our remuneration would be so much, if more than $15, our remuneration less; but for every dollar we save below $15, we would get the lion's share. That means that we have every incentive of a private ownership to go ahead and do our——that is to say, build the most economical dams, etc.

Other Questions.

Dr. Thomson also dealt with Pile Driving, and Pneumatic Caissons.

A project to connect San Francisco and Oakland, Cal., which is now separated by 7 miles of water, and which requires a train journey of 120 miles by land.

He also gave a history of the development on Manhattan from 1653 to the present date, and illustrated same with lantern slides.

He dealt fully with a proposed project known as the "Manhattan Extension" to reclaim six square miles of new land to the south of Manhattan Island.

In closing Dr. Thomson staed: "I never lose an opportunity when speaking in the States or in Canada to refer to what the British Navy did for the world, and I have never made a remark in the States which has received more applause, and with apologies to Thos. Campbell for changing the second line of his verse, "The flag that braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze, "Shall with the Red and White and Blue forever guard the seas."

CHARGE TRUSTEES WITH VIOLATION OF THEIR RIGHTS

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CASE NOW BEING DEALT WITH IN THE COURTS—SPENT LARGE SUMS

BOSTON, January 13. Canadian Press.—Accounts of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, whose resignations were accepted by Judge Crosby of the Supreme Court here, were the subject of a hearing before him to-day.

The court received from the directors of the First Church of Christ (Scientist) a formal answer to the trustees' petition for approval of the accounts. In the answer the directors make certain charges against the trustees and reserve the right to make others when they had an opportunity to examine the accounts.

Among the specifications in the answer is the charge that the trustees, contrary to their duty and in violation of the rights of the church, donated to the business manager of the publishing society, the editors of the society's periodicals, and some of its employees, more than $25,000 out of trust fund in addition to the regular compensation of those persons. It is also charged, on information and belief that the trustees have "wastefully employed" a firm of accountants from Chicago at a cost, including hotel travelling and other expenses, of more than $40,000, and that "large and unreasonable sums of money" have been expended in the establishment and the maintenance of a branch office in San Francisco.

Drinking a Glass of Hot Water is a Splendid Habit

Cleanse and sweeten the system each morning and wash away poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise—splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can instead both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before eating more food.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity, and gives one a fine appetite for breakfast. A quarter of a pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is enough to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism an enthusiast on internal sanitation.

A. E. AINSLEE ON THE GREAT EYE OPENER

Fine Things Which go to Make a Man a Christian

Open their eyes that they may turn from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God that they may receive forgiveness of and inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith that is in me. (Acts 26, 18). These words were first spoken by Christ to Paul, said A. E. Ainslee in the Gospel Hall, last night. This was to be his mission—to the people—Jews and Gentiles. Five things are stated here which go to make a man a Christian. Eyes that were blinded by Sin and Satan are opened; the Devil's business is to blind the eye. The story is told of a farmer who wished to end his life; he mounted his horse and rode to the edge of a cliff and came at a gallop intending to dash himself and horse to pieces. But the noble steed drew back and refused to jump. The farmer tried again, but with the same result. He then rode away, and blindfolded the horse and driving his spurs into its side, at full gallop the poor brute failed to know when the edge was near and over the cliff they went. Satan thus leads men on. He told Eve that if she ate of the forbidden tree his eyes would be open; she ate and, while it says his eyes were opened, in reality she lost his vision and darkness settled down. Men are spiritually blind today. Did you ever hear a man say, "I do not understand the Bible," or "the look is just on the same level as any other." Poor fellow, he is blind; it is not proofs he needs, it is sight. The blindnes of Israel was seen in their rejection of the Saviour, who prayed "Father, forgive them; they know not what they do". The blindness of the heathen is seen in their idolatary and their cruelity; the blindness of men in general is seen in their sinfullness in forsaking God and choosing sin. To open their eyes is the work of the preacher today. The Gospel is a great eye opener that they may turn from darkness to light. This is really the meaning of conversion: right about turn, what a change from darkness to light from the Power of Satan unto God.

Our first parents departed from God and Satan took control. The whole world lieth in the lap of the wicked one; and the Gospel comes to break that powerful hold.

To receive Christ means that the power of Satan is broken and you can put up the sign "Under New management" then, that you may receive forgiveness of Sins. How sweet this word is. Our first parents by their act of disobedience were made sinners, and many were also made sinners. The Gospel brings the knowledge of forgiveness, and an inheritance among the sanctified—this is heaven. Adam lost the inheritance; he was driven out of the garden. The Gospel brings more even than Adam lost; then how is this to be obtained? By faith that is in Me (Christ). How simple! Faith in Christ and these blessings are yours.

"A trip to Sea" is the subject for to-night, illustrated by a large model of an electric light-house. Young people ought to see this.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

F. J. A. Morris, of P.C.I., Will Contribute An Address.

On Tuesday night next, in the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. F. J. A. Morris, M.A., of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute staff, will address the Horticultural Society at their annual meeting on the subject of "Wild Flowers." Mr. Morris is a member of the Field Naturalists' Club, Ottawa, and contributes authoritative articles to their publication, The Field Naturalist. He is a student of entomology, and a distinct tribute to his recognised position as an entomologist was paid by the recent science convention at Toronto which Mr. Morris attended, and where he gave an address, when appointed president of the Canadian Entomological Society.

Mr. Morris is a graduate of Oxford University, and his place on the programme should attract a large attendance at the meeting.

Officers will also be elected, and delegates to the annual meeting of the Ontario Horticultural Society appointed. The Ontario body meets in Toronto on 9th and 10th February. During the last year the membership of the Peterborough Horticultural Society has increased from 137 to 348.

ENGINEERS MEET FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS.

Dr. T. Kennard Thomson, the noted consulting engineer, of New York, who addressed the local branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms last night, was not a little surprised to meet one of our local engineers, Mr. J. W. FitzGerald, for the first time in thirty-seven years. Both men attended the Toronto School of Science at that time, and they recalled old times and old scenes, and more particularly a scrap they had at that time over some levelling operation in which they both were interested.

TWENTY RINKS FOR NEILL CUP KEENE'S THREE FELL TOGETHER

DRAW THIS MORNING HANDLED BY TOM FINLAY OF NORWOOD —MILLBROOK AND LAKEFIELD RINKS WERE WELL UP IN THE RUNNING THIS AFTERNOON—DECISION IS EXPECTED TO-N.GHT.

Twenty rinks dropped their names into Tom Finlay's hat for the Robert Neill trophy draw at the Curling rink this morning, and the first round was over with a promise that the final game would be played to-night.

Lakefield, Norwood and Keene clubs sent three rinks, Millbrook four and Peterboro contributed seven. The Neill trophy was donated for an annual competition between any rinks from this district including rinks playing in the scheduled games of the Peterboro club.

Walter Oke, last year's winner, won his game this morning defeating D. H. Charlton of Lakefield by the score of 9 to 2, but Wildman of Norwood who was runner-up last winter lost to John Steele of Millbrook by 11 to 7. The feature game of the morning's play was George Stevenson's victory over Alex. Kay by 10 to 7 in an extra end.

The Peterboro skips who entered to-day were Foote, Morrow, Oke, Sturgeon, Stevenson, Kay and Waddell. Six of them were still in the running at noon. All three Keene rinks fell in one swoop. Sturgeon's rink skipped by George Hill with Alex. Archibald vice accounted for Wellman, Ed. Galvin of Lakefield, defeated Gilbert Howson, and George Morrow's beauties pushed Jack Drummond into the discard.

Charlton's Lakefield rink went down in the first round with Jack McKelvie of Norwood accompanying it. All four Millbrook rinks and two of Lakefield's best were up when the second frames were set up.

The opening games resulted as follows:—

Preliminary Round

W. Wellman, Keene,—5; R. G. Sturgeon, Peterboro,—15.

W. J. Oke, Peterboro, 9; D. H. Charlton, Lakefield—2.

E. Galvin, Lakefield,—16; G. Howson, Keene—5.

REBUILD RHEIMS IN FIVE YEARS

Such is Opinion of Marquis de Polignac.

RHEIMS, France, Jan. 13.—(Associated Press)—The City of Rheims may be rebuilt within five years. This is the opinion of Marquis Melchior de Polignac, president of the Co-operative Society for the Reconstruction of Rheims. At the most, he says, the work will not require more than six or seven years.

The amount of work remaining to be done is estimated by the Marquis to cost 1,000,000,000 francs, of which 100,000,000 is for reparations and 900,000,000 for reconstruction. He says that the society will have 200,000,000 francs placed at its disposal each year for the next five years. This is by arrangement of credits with the Department of Public Works.

HOCKEY RESULTS.

Harry Chew, Outram, and Johnston were best for the P.C.I. Chenhall, in goal, played a wonderful game. He made a particularly fine save in the first period, when the entire Normal forward line had beaten the P.C.I. defence.

The P.C.I. team lined up as follows: Goal, Chenhall; defence, Johnston and E. Maniece; centre, McCullough; wings, Parrington and Chew; subs., Gilchrist, Curtis, and Outram.

Y. W. C. A. LOST.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL.

If you are fond of artistic and refined comedy you can be more than satisfied with the play called "Ever Since Eve," presented at the Royal Theatre. In this play the well-known actress, Shirley Mason, fits a role as though the part had been specially written for her. "Ever Since Eve" is described as a "photo-drama," but might more accurately have been termed a high-class comedy. The plot and incidents have the distinct flavor of a refined French comedy of the most superior class. The plot, interwoven among its constantly recurring humorous situations, binds the play into a resultant whole that interests whilst it amuses. The plot and humor are clean and without a hint of indelicacy, suggestiveness or burlesque. It opens with a young artist who has generously consented to educate a French war orphan girl. After paying for the girl's education at a Paris convent for years, his adopted "daughter" sees him for the first time when she comes to reside with "papa." He instructs his puritanical and elderly housekeeper to get the girl an outfit of clothes. When the housekeeper's choice of raiment, extending from the girl's chin to her toes, the artist asks his aunt to quietly procure something a little more modern than what his elderly maid selected. The artist's model, who is keen to marry him for his money, makes trouble. In the last scene of the play, the artist discovers that his adopted daughter, with whom he falls in love, is not the girl he had educated at the convent. The explanation of this mistaken identity is shown in a way typical of the better class, French drama. The artist marries the girl whom he had considered to be his adopted protege and the only regret felt by an audience is that the play ends too quickly, although it takes five reels to unfold the plot. Earle Williams, in the five-reel romance, "Lucy Carson," is a play that grips attention throughout its story of luck, love and the march from Lohengrin. Jimmy Audrey, in his latest two-reel comedy, "The Backyard," keeps the audience convulsed with laughter, as does the very funny Sunshine Comedy.

To-morrow, children will be admitted to the matinee for 5c, which includes war tax.

EARL WILLIAMS, in Lucky Carson, at the Royal to-night.

AT THE CAPITOL.

"A Certain Rich Man" at the Capitol Theatre for this week end is a picture that will appeal to all who see it. A powerful drama of American life in the rich wheat belt of the Middle West, it deals with human emotions and the stress anud strain of modern business life. It is the story of a girl whose romantic life becomes involved in the coil of high finance, and who is compelled to relinquish her lover to save her father and his from bankruptcy in the one case, and the felon's cell in the other. The love they had plighted beneath the lilac tree was powerless to save her, and she became the bride of the man whose money could save the situation.

The complications which follow in the gradual decline of her husband's moral character and the steadfast love of her old sweetheart, through twenty years of waiting, form one of the most touching productions presented here in some time, but the picture has a happy ending.

Percy and Freddie, the H.J.-room pair of cheerful idiots, do some good stunts in "After the Dough" pursuing through laughable mazes the loaf of bread which causes all the trouble.

Mdlle. Adeline, a buxom lady with a well-trained light soprano and a dazzling, though somewhat scanty, wardrobe, with her "Hebrew property boy" assistant, provide vaudeville element, in a singing, talking, and rough and tumble act.

MARIE PREVOST AS STAR MAKES PERFECT FLIRT

The cutest little flirtatious "baby vamp" with the most come-hitherish eyes is at the Regent Theatre this week in "Moonlight Follies," a new Universal comedy drama. This alluring bit of loveliness is none other than Marie Prevost, the former bathing beauty who has just become a Universal star. "Moonlight Follies" is the first of her Universal dramatic features. A comedy drama (one of the best of its kind). Come to-night and enjoy yourself.

AT THE GRAND.

REX STOCK COMPANY.

There is an old saying that "the Devil is at most men's elbows." This is not often thought of now adays, but it is nevertheless true. In Molner's masterpiece the devil comes on earth as an ordinary person; no one knows who he is or where he comes from. It shows you the working of that hunch you often feel to do something that you know very well you ought not to do.

Rex Snelgrove, who will appear in the title role for three days starting Monday, played the part some years ago when the play was first produced under the management of Henry Savage in New York, so his rendition of the part should be up to the regular three dollar scale.

The scenery for this play has been specially painted, no effort or expense has been spared, and all indications point to a real Broadway production at popular prices.

The Devil is a play that no one can afford to miss. While it is what is known as a moral play it teaches a wonderful lesson. If it could be said of a satifical comedy it is a sermon to both young and old.

The devil is defeated when the young couple, an artist and "The Girl in the Case" agree to separate, and never see each other again, because he is too poor to marry. Before the play opens she has married a wealthy banker, many years her senior. The Devil contrives to bring the lovers together again in spite of the wishes of their better nature, and this involves the story of The Devil which will be the offering of this popular company on their next visit.

FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION MAY AFFILIATE WITH THE P.A.A.A.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO CONFER WITH EXECUTIVE OF ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION — MR. A. BROOKE SUCCEEDS HENRY TURNER AS PRESIDENT.

1922 PROSPECTS PROMISING

To join the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was once again a freely discussed question at the annual meeting of the Peterboro Football Association which was held in the Sons of England hall last night. On this occasion the temper of the comparatively large numbers of promoters of soccer was one assent after hearing the P.A.A.A. representatives Messrs. C. E. Curtis, Frank Convery and Walter Smaill.

Toward the close, a resolution to affiliate with the P.A.A.A. was suggested, but it was deferred for the present and a committee composd of A. Brooke, C. P. Lloyd and S. Whatley was appointed to confer with the P.A.A.A. at their meeeting next week.

It was decided to call another general session of the Football association next Thursday night for the purposes of considering certain finacial matters, and also report of the special committe if in the meantime they shall have met the P.A.A.A.

Officers Elected

Henry Turner resigned the presidency last night and the secretary W. G. Nicholls also asked that a substitute be appointed in his place. However, he was prevailed upon to carry on temporarily.

The new officers were elected as follows:

President—A. Brooke.
1st Vice-Pres.—C. P. Lloyd.
2nd Vice-Pres.—W. H. Barry.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. G. Nicholls.

Directors—S. Whatley, Fred Sutcliffe, D. G. Melton, Henry Turner and Walter Smaill.

Auditors—G. F. Collins and John H. Haw.

In the poll for the directors Walter Smaill, director of Athletics for the P.A.A.A. headed the list, and on his arrival later he stated that he would be glad to co-operate with the executive in every possible way.

Face A Deficit

The financial report showed a deficit of $160 which will be reduced by $75 from the sale of constitutions leaving a balance of about $90 to be raised before the end of the month. Messrs. Whatley, Melton, Sutcliffe, Lloyd and other members advocated affiliation with the P.A.A.A., but it was the consensus of the meeting that no definite move in that direction would be made until the Football Association had paid its outstanding accounts and could associate itself with the P.A.A.A. without any encumberance. Before any final action toward affiliation is taken, however it was stated that various working details would have to be deliberated and clearly understood.

Mr. Curtis and Mr. Convery urged the Footballers to appoint a committee as a preliminary step, and authorize this committee to attend the meetings of the general executive of the P.A.A.A. in order that they would become familiar with the operations of the Athletic Association.

Mr. Convery doubted that there would be any serious difficulties to obstruct the proposed union, and from the expressions in the subsequet conversations it appeared that if spiritual sympathy and understanding are all that remain to bring the P.F.A. ito the P.A.A.A. fold the result is a foregone conclusion.

Some minor details of autonomy and the basis of co-operation between the P.A.A.A. executive and the proposed football executive, fashioned after the present governing body of hockey in Peterboro, will have to be cleared up, and, that accomplished, the affiliation will probably be proceeded with.

Medals Presented

Mr. Turner in his opening address spoke at some length in review of last season's games and general progress of the Football Association. He also presented the silver medals won by the G.W.V.A. team, as champions of the fall league. Mr. W. O. Hurrle, captain of the "Vets" accepted the prizes on behalf of his teammates and suitably responded to the congratulstions of the retiring preident.

The Teams in Sight

A casual canvass of the meeting brought out assurances that teams from the following clubs would enter the spring league:—G.W.V.A., Canadian Woolens, Comrades, Sons of England, Odd Fellows and probably the Peterborough Rangers. Caledonians and C.G.E. may also swing into line again, although it was staed that both these teams have been of some of their best players last year. No definite information was known as to whether Lakefield and Warsaw and other district clubs would come in this season.

Mr. Whatley proposed that a date should be set upon which all clubs intending to enter the league should have their entries filed with the executive when detail will be taken up at the next meeting.

A vote of thanks was extended to the S.O.E. for the use of their hall for last night's meeeting

JOHN ROSS ROACH,
Sensational goalkeeper of the St. Pat's N.H.A. team, who will referee Monday Night's big game between the Dominion Bank team and the P.A.A.A. Intermediates.

JUNIOR SCHOOL LEAGUE TOMORROW

The Junior School Hockey League will get under way at Brock Street Rink to-morrow morning, with the following schedule:

9-9.35—Sacred Heart vs. Central.
9.35-10.10—Prince of Wales vs. St. Peter's B.
10.10-10.45—Immaculate Conception vs. King George.
10.45-11.20—Queen Alexandra vs. Queen Mary.
11.20-11.55—King Edward vs. St. Peter's.

The rink will be open at 8.45 o'clock. Players on the different teams are asked to be ready to start their games sharp on time.

HOCKEY NOTES

The Norwood High School hockey team will play their first league game to-night at Norwood rink with Marmora. Although the boys have not had occasion to show their wares yet they have been doing some hard practising and hope to win their first game on the home ice.

To stay in the running, the Uxbridge sextette have to beat the Midgets in Lindsay on Monday next and also beat the Peterborough H. N. S. at Uxbridge on the 23rd.

Norwood High School vs. Marmora, at Norwood to-night (Friday).
Havelock vs. Norwood, at Norwood, Monday, Jan. 16.

Havelock's fast hockey team is billed to play at Norwood rink on Monday night. In the game at Havelock last Friday night Norwood ran up six goals to Norwood's eight. With "Shewie" Rogers and Cecil Watson strengthening the Norwood line-up a keen match may be looked for.

Double Header On The Cards For Monday

IN ADDITION TO DOMINION BANK-P.A.A.A. TUSSLE FANS WILL SEE LAKEFIELD AND P.A.A.A. JUNIORS CLASH IN JUNIOR O. H. A. FIXTURE.

ROACH WILL REFEREE

Talking about big hockey nights, the P.A.A.A. are offering a bill for Monday night that should bulge out the sides of the Rink.

The game between the champion Dominion Bank team — Stone Conacher, Burch, Applegath, Rodden, Jeffrey, Reeves and Cotton—and the P.A.A.A. Intermediate O.H.A. team should be sufficient in itself to fill the Brock Street Arena to the suffocation stage. Harris Ardiel is bringing an all-star Senior O.H.A. team to do battle with the Petes—in fact they are better han a picked all-star crew, because they have played many games together for the Dominion Bank outfit. The fame of Lionel Conacher and Billy Burch, Aura Lee stars, is in itself a drawing card of the greatest potency.

And the referee will be another hockey celebrity, no less a personage than the famous John Ross Roach, hailed last year as the greatest amateur goalkeeper in Canada, and this season winning equally warm praise as the net guardian of the St. Pat's professional team. Roach has kindly consented to handle the game.

Here is something else. The fans will see a double - header Monday night, for the Junior O.H.A. game between Lakefield and the P.A.A.A. Juniors, scheduled for Tuesday, is being switched to Monday night, and will be played as a curtain-raiser to the battle with the Toronto stars. The Junior O.H.A. game will start sharp at 7.45, which will allow the exhibition fixture to get under way shortly after 9 o'clock. Lakefield beat the P.A.A.A. crew 2 to 1 on Tuesday night, and the young Petes will have to win by at least two goals in Monday's game, which is a sufficient task to promise a bunch of excitement. On the P. A. A. A. line up will be Harry Chew, the first Chinese boy to play in the O.H.A.

If a programme which includes a Junior O.H.A. game, a battle between an all-star Toronto aggregation and the P.A.A.A. Intermediates, a chance to see Lionel Conacher in action and an opportunity to give John Ross Roach the once over, does not fill every corner of Brock Street Rink Monday night, then Peterborough is not the hockey town it has always claimed itself to be.

Very Fast Ice For The Intermediate Go Tonight

The fastest sheet of ice of the season is ready for the Lakefield-P.A.A.A. intermediate O.H.A. game at Brock street rink to-night, and Walter Smaill's boys will have no excuse for not showing their fastest brand of hockey. The action of the Lindsay club in defaulting two games to Lakefield has put the villagers in the running and they are coming to town to-night determined to stay there by beating the blue and white team right on their own cushion. Nobody in Peterborough concedes them a chance to do that, but they are liable to prove much more serious opposition than the local fans are inclined to think. It is the last game in this section of the intermediate group and a win for the Smaillmen to-night will give them the section honours and the right to meet Picton or Trenton in home and home games for the championship of the group.

"As The Swift Ships"

ONE of the oldest, wisest and most beautiful of human documents, one of the treasures of the human race, is the Book of Job. It sheds a helpful light on some of mankind's most difficult problems. Life, it teaches, is at best, a brief and perilous voyage—from horizon to horizon but a span.

"My days are passed as the swift ships," says the ancient book of Job, and the experience of each succeeding generation of men has verified the statement of this old-time philosopher.

Would you be prepared for every contingency in the Voyage of Life? No other way of prudent precaution is so easily available as life insurance—especially life insurance which is payable to yourself in later years. Endowment insurance protects those dependent upon you during earlier middle life and, at the same time, provides for old age, should old age be attained.

"Old Home Week" to Be Tucked Away For At Least One Year

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THIS ACTION WAS ADOPTED AT A MEETING OF THE FAITHFUL—TIME NOT OPPORTUNE.

THE OBSEQUIES

At the meeting of the promoters of the Old Home Week in Peterborough last night, the matter under discussion was whether the present year was an opportune time to hold a re-union of this magnitude. After some discussion, pro and con, it was moved by Mr. Read, seconded by Mr. W. R. Wren, that a resolution be drawn up and passed, postponing the Old Home Week for at least one year.

The Resolution.

"Whereas, after a number of gatherings of citizens in open meetings in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, representing a large number of organisations and societies in the city, it is found that sufficient enthusiasm has not been demonstrated to warrant the instituting of an Old Home Week in the city in 1922;

"And whereas, we believe the attendance at the last two meetings is interpreted to indicate that this year is not the logical year for this celebration, owing to the general trade depression throughout the Dominion and the United States;

"Therefore resolved, that we, citizens of Peterborough, assembled in open meeting on Monday, 16th January, recommend the postponement of Old Home Week for the city for at least one year, which we believe would be in the best interests of the city in general and also those who are now living out of the city, who in all probability would make this the particular occasion to visit the Old Home City.

"And further resolved, that this this meeting wishes to express its appreciation to those organisations and individuals who had volunteered their assistance in the event of the institution of the above celebration."

IS THE REV. DELORME A MURDER SUSPECT?

SERIOUS DISCREPANCY IN EVIDENCE AT INQUEST INFO DEATH OF HIS HALF BROTHER.

MONTREAL, January 17 (Canadian Press). — The adjourned inquest into the death of Raoul Delorme, the murdered Ottawa student and half-brother of Rev. Adelard Lelorme, 190 St. Hubert Street, Montreal, was continued this morning before Coroner McMahon, who after hearing the testimony of several witnesses, adjourned it for one week.

The change of attitude on the part of the coroner, occasioned by the Rev. Father Delorme having given an interview to a local paper concerning the circumstances of the death of his half-brother, resulted in the latter being called as a witness, although it was not originally the intention of the Court to question him.

Coroner McMahon drew the priest's attention to a serious discrepancy either in the statement he had made to the paper or in the one he made to the Court this morning.

The latter statement was that he had purchased a revolver at the beginning of December, whereas in the interview he is alleged to have said that he had carried the weapon since the death of his father in 1916.

Witness explained that he had bought a new revolver, as the old one was not working properly, and he did not think it necessary to mention the fact.

Coroner McMahon then asked the Rev. Father Delorme to explain how he had sustained the injured wrist which had been noticed at the opening session of the inquest last week.

The priest declared that he had slipped on the sidewalk on 7th January, the day the body was found.

RUNAWAY PLANE KILLS A WOMAN

VICTIM'S BROTHER LOSES HAND AS HE TRIES TO DRAG HER FROM PATH OF MACHINE.

SCORE OF OTHERS IN PERIL

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—An airplane ran wild among hundreds of skaters and iceboaters on the Shrewsbury River at Red Bank, N. J., yesterday afternoon. It killed a woman in sight of her husband and two children, maimed her brother, and tossed about a score of others who only by inches escaped being slashed to death by the whirling propeller.

The aviator, diving under the machine as it leaped its chucks and careened across the ice, staked his own life as he clambered into the cockpit and threw the stop switch just in time to save a helpless passenger who clung to his seat and screamed for help.

Meantime twenty men and women were in peril as they clutched vainly at the wings in the hope of checking the plane before it dealt wider death and injury.

The woman who was sliced to death by the propeller was Mrs. Anna C. Hounihan of 62 Oakland street, Red Bank. The plane, with a lurch, swept upon her as she was leaping to get out of its way. Her clothes were ripped from her body and she was terribly injured.

Her brother, Lawrence Conley of Middletown, N. J., standing at her side, grabbed for her when she leaped. The right hand that he thrust out for her was amputated.

Doctor Applies Tourniquet.

He would have bled to death in all probability had not Dr. G. H. Sherf, assistant resident surgeon of New York Post Graduate Hospital, chanced to be among the skaters. Dr. Sherf applied an improvised tourniquet. Then Conley was rushed in an automobile to a physician's office and later to Long Branch Hospital. He will recover.

The aviator was James Casey of Red Bank, who served overseas for a year as a ground sergeant with the army aviation forces. He had been flying ever since he was demobilized, with his brother Jack, a veteran army flier. Both men, regarded as experts, had been taking up passengers for spins about Red Bank for several years and never before had had an accident. Casey was arrested and released on bail.

The Shrewsbury River, which runs through Red Bank, is nearly a mile wide. In summer a favorite boating place, it becomes the playground of thousands of ice lovers as soon as freezing weather comes. Yesterday its surface was thick with skaters, men and women gliding with sails held above them, ice boaters, groups on sleds and patient, lone men angling for eels through holes chopped in the ice.

STATES MAY INVESTIGATE THE COMPANY

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY COURTS AN ENQUIRY INTO WHAT HAS BEEN TERMED AN "INTOLERABLE MONOPOLY."

APPLETON'S LETTERS TO ATTORNEY-GENERAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Former Magistrate Charles W. Appleton, counsel to the General Electric Company, has written to Harry M. Daugherty, United States Attorney General of New York, inviting State and Federal investigations of the General Electric Company if, in their opinion, testimony before the Lockwood committee indicated that the law had been violated.

On learning of the communication Samuel Untermyer, counsel to the Lockwood committee, said he had already notified the officers of the company that the Department of Justice would be asked to prosecute violations of the law. He said the company was an "intolerable monopoly and should be suppressed."

Here is Mr. Appleton's letter to Mr. Newton:

Jan. 13, 1922.

To the Attorney General of the State of New York, Albany, N.Y.

The Lockwood legislative committee created for the purpose of investigating increased building costs, has assumed the right to extend its inquiry into the cost of incandescent electric lamps. The General Electric Company believes that electric lamps have no more relationship re building costs than oil lamps or candles, but it has not resisted the investigation on technical grounds because it has nothing to fear from a full and fair inquiry.

We enclose herewith copy of a letter which we are to-day sending to the Attorney General of the United States, if, in your opinion, any of the charges made point to the violation of any law of the State of New York we invite you to bring an appropriate proceeding in a court in order that the question may be determined. The citizens of the State are interested in having this question determined, and none more so than the General Electric Company. Very respectfully yours,

CHARLES W. APPLETON,
Attorney for General Electric Company.

The letter to Mr. Daugherty, answering the charge that the company maintained an unlawful monopoly of tungsten encandescent lamps said the highest Federal courts had sustained the company's exclusive rights to manufacture and sell lamps and that the methods of sale had withstood Federal investigation. Meeting the tax-dodging charge, it said Federal taxes were "paid in accordance with examination of our books and acounts by Federal examiners of Internal Revenue"; and in reply to the allegation that the company had violated a Federal Court decree, said the company's attorney's had advised that the decision was compiled with in every respect.

"As the committee's investigation is unfinished, the invitation to the Attorney General is a trifle premature," said Mr. Untermyer. "In another sense it is a trifle late, as it

Eight Saved From Derelict In a Raging Sea Lashed to Hatch 2 Days Without Food or Water

NEW YORK, January 17. — After being without food and water for two days, during which they were lashed to the cabin hatch of their waterlogged craft to keep them from being washed overboard by mountainous seas, Captain V. M. Cole and seven members of the American schooner James M. W. Hall, arrived here on the steamship West Canon, which picked them up 250 miles south-east of Cape May, N.J., last Friday night.

Virtually abandoning hope of being picked up alive, the crew of the derelict schooner used their last match on Friday night to fire a dishpan of gasoline in a last desperate attempt to make known their plight to some passing vessel.

The flare was seen by the lookout on the West Canon, bound to New York from Java. The steamer immediately headed for the helpless craft and took off the men, who were suffering from cold, hunger, and thirst.

The schooner, which sailed from Charleston, S.C., for Boston on 5th January with a cargo of lumber, was abandoned.

Captain Cole said he encountered heavy gales and rough seas soon after leaving Charleston. They increased in force and became so violent on 10th January that the schooner sprang a leak and began to fill. All hands were put to work at the pumps, but they could make no headway because of the terrific pounding to which the craft was subjected.

Finally conditions became so bad that the captain ordered all hands to lash themselves to the cabin hatch, which was the only part of the deck structure to remain above the surface. Except for brief intervals, when one or another of the men would risk the fury of the seas to send up signals of distress, they remained that way for two days and nights, with nothing to eat or drink. All their clothing and personal belongings, except that which they were wearing, were lost.

The vessel was 491 tons, and was owned in Boston.

Russian Crown Jewels Pledged to Stinnes; Pawned for 60% of Value, Berlin Hears

BERLIN, January 17. — I am able to throw some light upon one of the mysteries of revolutionary Russia, the fate of the Crown jewels. On good authority I learn that Hugo Stinnes has these jewels in his possession. They have been "pawned" to him for 60 per cent. of their "estimated value," an amount which is kept secret. Stinnes received the jewels from a Russian representative here.

Among them is the famous Orloff diamond, the principal adornment of the Imperial sceptre, sometimes known as "the sceptre diamond." Its value has been estimated at £240,000. A remarkable tradition and history attaches to the diamond, which weighs 193 carats, as compared with the 106¼ of the Koh-i-noor. It is said to have formed the eye of an idol in a temple at Seringapatam, Mysore, from which it was stolen by a French soldier. Catherine II. of Russia, about the year 1772, offered £104,160 for it, besides a £1,040 anuity for life to the owner, but the offer was refused.

Count Gregory Orloff, the Empress's favourite, then bought it for the amount offered by Catherine, but without the annuity, and presented it to his Empress.

ANNUAL CONVENTION UNITED FARMERS OF ALBERTA OPENED

PRESIDENT H. W. WOOD ADDRESSES THE ASSEMBLY—SAYS ORGANIZATION HAS PROGRESSED IN CO-OPERATION WITH ORGANIZED LABOR.

MARKED POLITICAL RESULTS

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 17.—(Canadian Press.)— Addressing the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta here to-day H. W. Wood, president of the organization, spoke as follows:

We have moved forward another year since our last convention. Perhaps never before has a year been so filled with the accumulated results of past actions and past wrong doing. "As ye sow, so shall ye reap." Humanity has long been sowing the seeds of strif and discord in all the fertile ground of civilization. In all social affairs, especially commercial activities, class has been striving against class, nation against nation, each recklessly and shamelessly striving to serve without regard for the interest of others. It was inevitable that this mad strife should sooner or later burst in the greater and more diabolical madness of military conflict. Since the cessation of that wild ogreism the harvest of confusion has been slowly but inevitably ripening.

A Disappointment.

To those who expected the great war and conditions growing out of it to have a sobering influence and bring out the best there is in man, the campaign preceding the recent federal election was a heart-breaking disappointment. It would not be safe to say that no former political campaign was ever conducted on a lower plane, or that less appeal to reason, or greater appeal to passions and prejudices had ever been made, but under all the circumstances I doubt that Canada ever had greater reason for being ashamed of the conduct of a previous campaign. The distressed financial conditions of the majority of the people, the appalling national indebtedness, the manifestations everywhere of unrest growing out of uncertainty, and the very manifest desire of the masses for more information and wiser counsel, would all seem to constitute a call to sober reason and sincere dealing to which no sincere man could turn a deaf ear. This call was sanctified by the blood of 57,000 Canadian martyrs, but it was in vain.

Men occupying high positions of trust and responsibility, whom we had right to expect to stand as sincere apostles of truth, among a confused and stricken people, inspiring confidence, guiding the way of united effort to the accomplishment of a common purpose for the common good of all, were found appealing to passions and prejudices, setting class against class, section against section, and race against race.

They even resorted to defamatory efforts. These efforts were directed against a commercial company which is owned and controlled by the organized farmers. his company gets no benefits from the operation of the pernicious protective tariff system, and consequently makes no contribution to any political party campaign fund.

I am glad to note, however, that while professional politicians remain on the low level of former campaigns, there were indications, at least in the west, of an awakening of the Canadian press. I do not believe there is, or even has been a people who more sincerely wanted to know the truth and be guided by it, than the people of Western Canada.

Political Activities.

Three years ago the U.F.A. decided to engage in political activities. We believed that under systematic

TWO BODIES FOUND ALONG THE BEACH

DEATHS BELIEVED TO HAVE RESULTED FROM A RAID ON RUM-RUNNING VESSEL.

BILOXI, Miss., January 17 (Canadian Press). — The discovery of two bodies of men about 25 years of age, and apparently foreign sailors, on the beach here, has led to ten arrests by the police, who assert that the men were killed in a fight which followed an attempt last week to hold up and raid a liquor smuggling schooner at anchor near the coast.

The police theory, if substantiated, will disclose the first case of piracy in connection with the rumrunning on the Atlantic Coast.

PROGRESS MADE OLD ST. JOHN'S

VESTRY MEETING SHOWED HEALTHY FINANCIAL CONDITION—OFFICIALS APPOINTED.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The annual meeting of St. John's Church Vestry last evening revealed church's affairs were in an exceedingly flourishing condition with evidence of substantial progress during the past year by every organization within the parish. Last year extensive improvements were made at an expenditure of $8651.76, of which there has been paid in cash $5851.76, leaving a balance of 2800, against which there are subscriptions for $2200. The ordinary finances of the church also showed a comfortable balance in the bank of $172.81.

Yesterday's date, January 16, marked the first anniversary of Dr. Blagrave's incumbency as Vicar, and he took occasion last night to congratulate the congregation on their advance in all departments dring 1921. He also characterized his association with St. John's the past year as altogether enjoyable and pleasant, if at times strenuous.

Reports.

The Vicar reported for the term just closed 44 confirmations, 48 baptisms, 20 marriages and 28 funerals.

Secretary Elma Brown reported splendid work by the A.Y.P.A. whose concrete efforts were highly commended by the Vestry.

The Sunday School report showed a healthy condition under its officers and teachers; as also did the Church Women's Association, for which Secretary Mrs. Roland Denne submitted a balance in hand of $283.22.

Miss Evans reported increased membership for the Woman's Auxiliary and a cash balance of $599.33. The Girls' Branch of the Auxiliary, after a commendable year's functioning, has a balance of $210.08, as

FORESTERS HEAR TALK ON FINANCE

OBJECT TO LEGISLATION PASSED BY THE GOVERNMENT CHANGING SYSTEM TO AN ACTUARIAL BASIS.

AUDITOR SPOKE

An explanation of the situation regarding the change in insurance rates from a fixed system to an actuarial basis, that would force many old members to drop out, it is said, was given by Bro. Blake Miller, the High Court Auditor, to a large gathering of Canadian Foresters, in their Hall, George street, last night. Figures were produced to show that the Foresters finances are in splendid condition and the increase in rates forced on the order by the legislation passed by the Provincial government in April last is not justified or fair to those who have been in the order for many years, and whose rates would be so high that many would be unable to meet them.

The legislation does not come into force until May and the Foresters in the Province are uniting to have the legislation made null and void. The speaker last night stated that throughout Ontario opposition to the new law seemed united, the general feeling being that their sound financial condition did not justify them in increasing the rates on a basis that would fall heavily on the the members that had built up the order.

The statistics presented by Mr Miller, it is stated, gave a denial to the evident opinion of the government that the order was in a precarious financial situation.

Last night's meeting decided that the government should be strongly memorialized and definite action taken to have the legislation rescinded.

Mr. T. Tooms, M.L.A., explained how the bill was passed and stated his opposition to the measure, and his entire agreement with the Foresters' stand.

SEVERAL LIVES LOST IN SHIPWRECK

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(Canadian Pres).—Yesterday afternoon word was received of the loss of the steamer Vesta. Details of the disaster as related by the captain of the Vesta are to the effect that during heavy weather Sunday night the deck cargo of the vessel, consisting largely of naptha, shifted. An explosion occurred, and a few minutes later the whole vessel was in flames, with the exception of the space near the bridge, where the crew huddled for safety.

A boat was lowered, but it was engulfed in the heavy seas and its three occupants were drowned. The mate clasping his newly married wife inu his arms, jumped overboard. Both perished. Others of the ship's company also plunged into the sea from the now fiercely burning vessel only to sink beneath the waves. Finally only the captain and nine men were left on board. They were rescued after great difficulty by a trawler after six hours work and when they had almost abandoned hope. Those rescued had been scorched by the flames and partially asphyxiated by the naphtha fumes.

MORE PAPER MONEY.

BERLIN, January 16 (Canadian Press). —Germany will require another seventy billion paper marks in the course of the next two years in order to enable the Government to complete its internal financial reform, says Georg Bernard in the Vossiche Zeitung.

According to Dr. R. Tait Mc Kenzie, the notep sculptor, nearly all American girls are knock-kneed.

STAGE SET FOR LYNCHING BEE

CITIZENS OF NORLINA CHEER THEIR CHIEFS OVER PROSECUTS OF HUNTED NEGRO BEING RETURNED.

BROTHER WAS LYNCHED

RALEIGH, N.C., Jan. 17.—(Canadian Press). — Governor Morrison has not yet issued requisition papers for Matthew Bullock on charges growing out of race riot in Norlina, Warren County, about a year ago, but it is understood that a formal request will be made upon him in a few days. Citizens of Warren County have long wanted Bullock and are delighted that he has been captured. Every possible effort will be made to bring him back to North Carolina, according to Garland Emidyette, solicitor for the district.

Bullock, who fought in the army in France, made his escape with an automobile after the shooting early in the morning of January 23 last year. He is said to have been the leader of the negroes at Norlina when a race riot was started, which resulted in the wounding of two white men and one negro. His brother, Plummer Bullock, and Alfred Williams, were lynched on the road between Norlina and Warrenton.

Royal Bank of Canada Closes Successful Year

Annual Meeting Featured by Addresses Dealing With Conditions and the Outlook in Canada. Sir Herbert S. Holt, President, Stated that the Bank's Organization and System of Supervision Were Unexcelled. Edson L. Pease, Vice-President, Points Out That Even After an Exceptional Year, Bank's Strength is Unimpaired. C. E. Neill, General Manager, Deals With Thoroughness of Bank's Audit.

The fifty-third annual meeting of shareholders of The Royal Bank of Canada marked the close of a very successful year. As pointed out by Edson L. Pease, the Vice-President and Managing Director, the year had been one of unusual conditions and on this account it would be of great satisfaction to the shareholders to know that the profits had been maintained nearly equal to those of the previous year, and that the bank was able to present a statement which shows the strength of its position unimpaired.

Sir Herbert Holt, the President, made a very complete survey of the situation in Canada. He also took advantage of the opportunity to draw attention to the position held by the bank and the care that is always taken that all bad and doubtful debts have been fully provided for. Usually the profits of the year are ample to provide for all bad and doubtful debts. Should they not be sufficient, the bank had a contingent fund, independent of the surplus fund accumulated during prosperous years, to fall back upon. In addition the bank had a Managing Director, General Manager and Executive officers who all had long experience and proved ability, and the affairs of the bank at all aimes received the unremitting attention of the President and Directors. Sir Herbert stated he had no hesitation in saying that in his opinion the organization and system of supervision of the bank were unexcelled.

C. E. Neill, the General Manager, in addition to reviewing the progress made during the year, made a very important statement, dealing with the thoroughness of the audit carried out by the bank, stating that every facility was afforded the auditors to examine each and every account in the bank, and in this way they only give their certificate after a full examination of all credits granted to customers. In addition, all credits in excess of $25,000 had to be approved by the President, Managing Director and Directors of the bank.

A summary of the addresses submitted to the meeting are as follows:

President's Address.

Sir Herbert S. Holt, President, in a survey of the general situation in Canada, said in part:

"I desire to emphasize the General Manager's staement that all bad and doubtful debts have been fully provided for. Usually the profits of the year are ample to provide for all bad and doubtful debts. Should they not be sufficient, we have a contingent fund, independent of the surplus fund, accumulated during prosperous years, to fall back upon. I have further to say that the Managing Director, the General Manager and Executive Officers of the Bank are officials of long experience and proved ability, and that the affairs of the Bank receive the unremitting attention of myself and your Directors. I have no hesitation in stating, that in my opinion, the organization and system of supervision in this Bank are unexcelled.

"The year 1921 will long be remembered as a period of drastic deflation and liquidation throughout the whole world, the aftermath of the war. This deflation was under way when we last met. While it is not yet ended, each month brings us a nearer approach to normal. The heavy decline in the price of commodities and check in public buying found many of our manufacturers and merchants in the possession of large unsaleable stocks purchased at boom prices. Obviously the transition to more normal values was attended by much loss. The fact, however, that there were one thousand fewer failures in Canada in 1921 than in 1915 may be attributed to the abnormal profits acqumlated during the war.

Vice-President's Address.

Edson L. Pease, Vice-President and Managing Director, in his review, dealt, more particularly with the affairs of the bank. He said, in part:

"The year just ended has proved a very trying one for the commercial community and for the banks. Never before have we been confronted at home and abroad with so many difficult problems and such adverse conditions. The rapid and severe recession in the prices of all commodities and the lack of purchasing power involved heavy losses, in inventories and a great shrinkage of domestic and international trade.

"In this period of exceptional stress the banks played a most helpful part. How important may be judged from the fact that business demoralization which occurred in every other country was averted in Canada. This may be regarded as one of the greatest achievements of the Canadian banks.

"In circumstances so unfavorable, I am sure we have fulfilled the highest expectations of our Shareholders in showing profits nearly equal to those of the previous year; by maintaining our dividend and bonus, and by meeting you with strength unimpaired."

CHARMING MUSICALE CONSERVATORY MUSIC

Under Auspices Local Womens' Art Association

A charming musicale afternoon was afforded the members of the Women's Art Association on Saturday at their studio at the Conservatory of Music. Mrs. F. C. Neal announced the numbers of the program, arranged by Miss Ida G. Sandtrson, in a series of vocal and instrumental selections and readings.

Mrs. McKee Bingham's lovely contralto voice was heard to great advatage in a pretty number in Italian "Che Faro" from "Orpheo", by Gluck, and a dainty Japanese love song. Miss Lillian Eastwood gave two numbers in excellent voice; Gounod's "Ave Maria" and "Heart of Gold", and Mr. Harold Lee, with his fine tenor, rendered "Come Into the Garden, Maud", and "Good Night, Beloved."

A bright and sparkling pianoforte selection was the first number, by Miss Lucille Doris, who possesses a fine technical control and excellent touch for so young a performer. Mr. Martin Chenall, accompanied by Mr. M. B.Chenhall, gave two selections on the violoncello; a sonata by Piatti, and Edgar's "Melodie' and Miss Hazel Davidson delighted her audience with a couple of humorous readings in her usual style. Miss Muriel Bridges acted as accompanist for the afternoon.

At the conclusion of the musical program, tea was served from tables prettily decorated with narcissus, Mesdames J. W. McDermid and A. W. Cressman acting as hostesses.

HIS BOOK-MARK.

"How far have you studied English history, John?" inquired Miss Cross, the new governess, as she and John and sundry sisters settled down to their firt lesson together.

"Just as far as my history book is dirty, Miss Cross," said John.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Women in Moscow, Russia, are paying from 600,000 to 700,000 rubles ($6 to $7) for a tiny flask of perfume.

BULL-DOG DRUMMOND

BY "SAPPER"
(CYRIL McNEILE)

"Are you interested in the psycholgy of gambling, Mr. Green?" he remarked, turning to the somewhat astonished American. "Some people cannot control their eyes or their mouth if the stakes are big; others cannot control their hands. For instance, the gentle man opposite. Does anything strike you particularly with regard to him?"

The detective glanced across the lounge.

"He seems to like hitting his knee with his left hand," he said, after a short inspection.

"Precisely," murmured Hugh. "That is why I came to Paris."

CHAPTER IX

In Which He Has a Near Shave

I

"Captain, you have me guessing." The American hit the end off another cigar, and leaned back in his chair. "You say that swell Frenchman with the waiters hovering about like fleas round a dog's tail is the reason you came to Paris. Is he kind of friendly with Hiram C. Potts?"

Drummond laughed.

"The first time I met Mr. Potts," he remarked, "that swell Frenchman was just preparing to put a thumbscrew on his second thumb."

"Second?" The detective looked up

"The first had been treated earlier in the evening," answered Drummond quietly. "It was then that I removed your millionaire pal."

The other lit his cigar deliberately.

"Say, Captain," he murmured, "you ain't pulling my leg by any chance, are you?"

"I am not," said Drummond shortly. "I was told, before I met him, that the gentleman over there was one of the boys. He is, most distinctly. In fact, though up to date such matters have not been much in my line, I should put him down as a sort of super-criminal. I wonder what name he is passing under here?"

The American ceased pulling at his cigar.

"Do they vary?"

"In England he is clean-shaven, possesses a daughter, and answers to Carl Peterson. As he is at present I should never have known him, but for that little trick of his."

"Possesses a daughter!" For the first time the detective displayed traces of excitement. "Holy Smoke! It can't be him!"

"Who?" demanded Drummond.

But the other did not answer. Out of the corner of his eye he was watching three men who had just joined the subject of their talk, and on his face was a dawning amazement. He waited till the whole party had gone into the restaurant, then, throwing aside his caution, he turned excitedly on Drummond.

"Are you certain," he cried, "that that's the man who has been monkeying with Potts?"

"Absolutely," said Hugh. "He recognized me; whether he thinks I recognized him or not, I don't know."

"Then what," remarked the detective, "is he doing here dining with Hocking, our cotton trust man; with Steinemann, the German coal man; and with that other guy whose face is familiar, but whose name I can't place? Two of 'em at anyrate, Captain, have got more millions than we're ever likely to have thousands."

Hugh stared at the American.

"Last night," he said slowly, "he was foregathering with a crowd of the most atrocious ragged-trousered revolutionaries it's ever been my luck to run up against."

"We're in it, Captain, right in the middle of it," cried the detective, slapping his leg. "I'll eat my hat if that Frenchman isn't Franklyn—or Libstein—or Baron Darott—or any other of the blamed names he calls himself. He's the biggest proposition we've ever been up against on this little old earth, and he's done us every time. He never commits himself, and if he does, he always covers his tracks. He's a genius he's the goods. Gee!" he whistled gently under his breath. "If we could only lay him by the heels."

STIRLING FAIR BOARD SHOWS STRONG FINANCIAL CONDITION

Have a Debt of Only $1800 Left on New Grounds Valued at $7,500, Which Were Opened on May 24th, 1920, By the Hon. Arthur Meighen — Last Year's Activities Were Remarkably Successful — Annual Meeting on Wednesday — Judging Team Off to Ottawa.

Compete in Five Classes.

STIRLING, January 17.—Comparatively one of the brightest financial statements of the fall fairs in this district last season will be presented to the Stirling Agricultural Society at its annual meeting here on Wednesday afternoon. The secretary-treasurer, M. W. Sine, V.S., will disclose a year's work that represents another substantial gain showing total receipts of $4,566.33 and expenses of $4,060.10 a considerable amount of which has gone to reduce the society's debt and also for the cost of improvements to the grounds.

The remarkable success of the Stirling Fair can be expressed perhaps more impressively by recalling that the new grounds were opened only two years ago, and that the Agricultural Society now possesses an exhibition plant valued at $7,500, of which all but the present balance of $1,800 has been paid. In other words another full year with no "duds" or disappointments should leave them clear of debt and ready to undertake say a building like that which Warkworth directors put up last year, serving as a cattle building at fair time and during the winter as a hockey and curling rink.

Spend Holidays at Home.

The Stirling Fair Board had three big days last summer. On May 24th they staged a celebration in conjunction with the Oddfellows. The two organizations split the gate in equal shares, the Fair Board receiving $367.39. On July 12th they worked with Orangemen on the same basis and that night the treasurer of the Fair Board deposited $1,596.01 in the bank, according to the financial report. The concert in the evening of May 24 netted $89.82, the gate receipts on Fair Day $906.65, booths $200, concessions $19.75 and so on down the list of receipts.

Paid Off $1,404 This Year.

The expense column shows $815.35 paid in prize money, $377 for athletic events, $305.53 for printing and advertising, $592.50 for repairing the grounds, $1,404 off the debt principal paid off and other disbursements bringing the total expenditure for the year to $4,0660.10 with $1,800 of the original debt still to be met. And that should be easy.

Opened by Hon. Mr. Meighen.

Stirling's new fair grounds were opened on May 24, 1920 by the Hon. Arthur Meighen when he made his first public address in Ontario after his assumption of the Premiership. The grand stand and the rest of the plant is in excellent condition and can be easily improved whenever the directors feel that the prospects warrant further expansion or development.

Last year's total number of entries was 1,287.

Judging Team Off.

Hastings county's judging team left to-day for Ottawa to take part in the judging competition which is being held there this week. Mr. Ray Atkin, the Agricultural Representative for this county, accompanied the local team, which is composed of three prominent young farmers from the Halloway district, Ralph Sills, Roscoe Robson and Harold Ray. The judging takes place on Wednesday and Thursday in five classes, beef and dairc cattle, sheep, swine and heave horses. Although the farmers of this county are chiefly interested in dairy cattle it is expected that the local team will not be handicapped in the beef class and that in the whole competition they will make a good showing.

A Successful Sale.

The sale of the late Dr. Bissonette's horses and driving equipment on Saturday by C. U. Clancy netted approximately $900. One chestnut horse was bought by John Richardson for $145, and a yearling for $55. Four horses were sold, three of them colts. The articles disposed of included harness, cutters and other driving goods.

HORSE BROKE THROUGH ICE

OMEMEE MAN HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING—NEWS FROM NORTHERN SECTION OF DISTRICT.

OMEMEE, Jan. 17. — Mr. William Brandon is congratulating himself on his narrow escape from having lost his team of horses from drowning on the pond on Friday last. While drawing his wood home accompanied by Mr. J. Chittick, his horses broke through the ice which was covered with water, the ice having sunk due to the logs which are being placed on top by a gang of men employed by Mr. J. Carew, of Lindsay. Had it not been for the assistance of the men the horses could not have been rescued.

Institute Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. F. Clemett on Thursday afternoon. Miss Lila Parsons acted as president, and several items of business were discussed, the mot important being a resolution that the Institute will enter Omemee school into the school fair this year providing the department give prizes for school drills, yells and parade. (Thus far Omemee school has not been permitted to enter.)

An excellent paper on "A Few Emergencies and What to Wo," provided by Miss Susie Clarke (nurse) was read by Mrs. E. H. Mitchell. Miss Vivian Parsons interspersed with a couple of piano selections which were much appreciated. Mrs. J. Widdis read a short paragraph on New Year's resolutions, while a splendid reading was given by Mrs. G. N. Earl. Refreshments were served at the close by the hostess, Mrs. M. Parsons, Mrs. E. MacPherson and Mrs. F. Clemett. The programme committee for next month are Mrs. Widdis and Miss Irent Clefett with Mrs. James as acting president.

Taken Suddenly Ill.

The many friends of Mr. William Magee will be sorry to hear he was taken suddenly ill at his home on Wednesday evening last and was removed to the Peterborough Hospital where he was operated on. He is now resting nicely and in a favorable condition towards recovery.

Mrs. Wm. Cottingham returned on Friday to her home in Oshawa after a pleasant visit with friends in town.

Carnival.

Great interest and enthusiasm was evinced by the number of skaters and spectators who witnessed the carnival at the rink on Friday evening. Practically all the young people of the village were in attendance and, needless to say, many varieties of costumes were worn. The ice was in excellent condition and the weather ideal for this outdoor sport. There were Indians, clowns, Charlie Chaplins, Red Riding Hoods, Santa Claus and others who donned some regalia in order to appear on the ice and have a jolly good time. The following in costume are worthy of mention: Mrs. W. G. Stephenson, Night; Mrs. M. Parsons, Turkish lady; Miss Annie Stephenson, Japanese lady; Mrs. A. Ford, Gipsy; Miss Alderson, Snowshoe Girl; Miss Rhea Courtney, Japanese lady; Miss Crystal Courtney, Nurse; Miss Rita Johnson and Mrs. Ira Rehill, Red Riding Hoods; Miss Helen Johnson, Old Mother Goose; Mrs. R. Bradley as Old Dutch Cleanser; Mrs. P. Parsons as an Indian lady; Miss Vivian Parsons as an Irish lassie; Miss Emily Mitchell a Charlie Chaplin, all of whom did justice to their costumes, and lest we forget, Miss Jemima Perkins (Mrs. T. E. MacPherson) with her poodle dog in a bag, caused many a smile. Miss Helen Mackey also looked her part in a riding habit, having been awarded the prize for the best costume for girls under 14 years of age.

No particular mention has been made of the gentlemen's costumes, but there were many. Mr. Harold Bradley as John Bull having received first prize. As there were about one hundred in costume, it would be difficult to describe each and give them justice in this small space. After a decision had been arrived at by the judegs and the races were run off, there were about two hundred skaters on the rink, all of whom enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

Best costume, girls 14 years and under—Miss Helen Mackey.

Best costume ladies—Mrs. P. Parsons.

Best gents' costume—Mr. Harold Bradley.

Gents' race—Mr. George Morton.

Ladies' and gents' race—Miss Agnes Clemett and Mr. George Morton.

Keg race—Mr. Melville Moncrief.

Personal Mention.

Miss Ethel Rehill has returned to her home in Peterborough after a short visit with her cousin, Miss Lila Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Dick were visitors to Lindsay on Saturday.

Mr. Joice Mims, of Toronto, visited Mr. and Mrs. William Neil on Monday and being an old Omemee boy renewed his many old friends.

Mr. Lewis James has returned to Kingston after a pleasant visit with his parents at the Rectory.

COALITION MEMBER DIED TODAY

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(Canadian Press)—Edward Hopkinson, Coalition Unionist member of Parliament for the Clayton division, died yesterday, aged 63.

FUNDING OF DEBTS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(Canadian Press).—The formation of definite plans for the funding of debts of the British and other nations to this country will await action of the Funding Bill, it was announced last night at the Treasury.

When Congressional authorization is received, negotiations probably would be begun with Great Britain, the largest individual creditor, and upon the completion of funding arrangements with that country the debts of the other nations would be considered.

Definite arrangements, such as the fixing of maturities and other details, it was said, would be determined on the financial condition in the different countries. In this connection, it was said that formal notice had been received from one European country that it would be unable to meet the interest payments due in April, but it was the policy of the American Government to obtain from the countries approximation of the dates on which they might begin payments in order that there might be no interruption to the general funding scheme when once inaugurated.

APPOINTED CHIEF.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12. — (Canadian Press.) —The Earl of Cavan, who was in Ottawa recently and addressed the last meeting of the Canadian Club, has just been appointed chief of the Imperial General Staff, in succession to Sir Henry Wilson, who vacates his post in February. Earl Cavan was military adviser to the British delegation at the Washington Limitation of Armaments Conference.

UPSET LIQUOR CASE.

REGINA, Jan. 17.—The court of appeal has reversed the judgment of a local magistrate, later upheld by the court of King's Bench, declaring that the sub-section of the Saskatchewan Temperance Act requiring liquir dealers to submit statements of stocks, sales and shipments each week to be ultra vires of the Provincial Legislature. The Saskatchewan Liquor Commission appealed the case following the dismissal in the city police court of charges against two companies who had failed to send in returns as required under the act.

SMALL BENEFITS.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17. — (Canadian Press.)—Owing to the comparatively small benefits that it is believed would be derived it is not the city's intention to avail itself of federal and provincial legislation whereby the two governments agreed to bear one third of the difference between the normal cost of civic works and the cost of such work if undertaken at present prices. It is felt by city officials that this legislation while sounding quite generous, does not work out as liberally as it sounds.

A NEW LIQUOR BILL.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17.—(Canadian Press.) — A bill dealing with the Government control and sale of intoxicating liquor as prepared by the Moderation League of Manitoba, will be put before the Manitoba Legislation this afternoon by Joseph Bernier, M.L.A. for St. Boniface. The measure which it is said, is supported by 50,000 persons, who have signed the league's petition, calls for establishment of Government liquor stores throughout the province. The stores would be under a Government commission and sale by permit only. An annual permit would cost $2, single purchase permits fifty cents, and temporary permits for non-residents $5.00.

INQUIRY MAY RESULT

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—(Canadian Press)—When Hon. Charles Stewart returns from the West it is expected that the charges made by Dr. R. M. Anderson against Vilhjahmur Steffanson in connection with the conduct of the Canadian Arctic Expedition will be laid before him for investigation. The general impression is that an inquiry will result.

INSIDE STORY CRERAR'S EFFORTS FOR COALITIO

SENSATION DURING CHURCH SERVICES

FREDERICTON, N.B., Jan. 17.— (Canadian Press). Somewhat of a sensation during High Mass yesterday was caused at St. Dunstan's Roman Catholic Church when a woman arose in the congregation interrupted the rector in his explanation of what had been done in connection with charitable work during the past year, protesting that "if you sent me a load of wood, you would be the first one to publish it."

The congregation was stunned, but the woman, who seemed to think some remarks were aimed at her, kept on protesting again that "priests in England would never do such a thing." As she continued Dean Carney asked her to be quiet and within a few moments the woman walked out of the church.

She is said to be the wife of a returned soldier from whom she is separated and against whom she sometime ago took action for non-support. It is steps leading to her deportation have been taken by the authorities and probabilities are that she will soon return to England.

THE HIGH COMMISSIONERSHIP.

The question of a successor to Sir George Perley as Canadian High Commissioner in London is engaging the attention of a number of newspaper writers, and doubtless has been under discussion by the new Government. This appointment is one that should not be hurriedly made. Canada's representative in England should not only be a Canadian with an intimate knowledge of and deep pride in his native land, but he should be able to hold his own in the attitude towards world affairs. The people of Canada have within the past week been amazed to learn through a cable from London that there is not at present a single Canadian employed on the staff of the High Commissioner. That is a condition of affairs that cannot be allowed to continue. The office of the Commissioner should be staffed by Canadians well posted in Canadian affairs and enthusiastic over the Dominion and its possibilities and resources. Why the positions should have been allowed to be filled by men who are not native-born Canadians is a matter for surprise. It seems singular that Canada's representation in England should have consisted of Sir George Perley, himself a native of the United States, and a staff not one of whom was born in this country.

BUILDING CAMPAIGN NEEDED.

Next to the cost of fuel, excessive rentals form the biggest factor in the cost of living in Canada at the present time, and although most commodities are dropping in price and wages in many cases are smaller, official Dominion reports show that the rents in most cities and towns remain unchanged. There is only one solution for this problem, only one remedy that will bring about a happier condition of affairs. An active building campaign that will meet the demand for houses is the only policy that offers prospects of relief. There are many people who are ready to embark upon building enterprises, but they are held back by the fear that excessive labour charges will continue to make the cost of building too high to be undertaken under present conditions. Building materials have been reduced considerably, and the time would be ripe for a house-building campaign on a large scale were it not for the fact that the different building trades are showing a reluctance to accept a wage cut. The strike of the plasterers in Toronto is not an encouraging sign, and unless they and their allies are prepared to accept their share of the deflation process there is reason to fear that there will not be nearly the amount of building started this spring as the situation requires. And that means not only unemployment in the building trades, but high rents for everybody else.

THE MERCHANTS' SHARE IN DEFLATION.

In his interesting article on the economic situation in The Examiner the other night Mr. Tooms declared that labour had accepted a ten-per-cent. reduction in wages, and pleaded with the merchants to accept decreased prices for their goods, the inference being that the cost of the principal commodities used by the people has not been sufficiently reduced, which is scarcely fair to the merchants. As a matter of fact, the year 1921 was marked by great slaughter upon prices, and that well-posted trade review, "The Monetary Times," declares that during last year the increases made in four years were wiped out in twelve months, setting up a new record for price changes in this country. Further evidence on this point is offered by the reports presented at the annual meeting of the Royal Bank of Canada, for we find Sir Herbert S. Holt, President of that bank, stating that "the heavy decline in the price of commodities and the check in public buying found many of our manufacturers and merchants in the possession of large unsaleable stocks purchased at boom prices. Obviously, the transition to more normal phase, Vice-President, adds: "The rapid and severe values was attended by much loss." Mr. Edwin L. Recession in the prices of all commodities and the risk of purchasing power involved heavy losses in inventories." Every class has had to accept losses as a result of the world-wide conditions, and the merchants have not escaped. A comparison of prices now with those in force two years ago would reveal a remarkable difference.

ROYAL BANK'S SPLENDID REPORT.

The reports presented at the fifty-third annual meeting of the Royal Bank of Canada are of much interest, not only to the shareholders, but to the general public. Particularly important is the declaration of Sir Herbert S. Holt, the President of the bank, that while the drastic deflation that continued during the whole of 1921 is not yet ended each month brings a closer approach to normal. The reports of the heads of the Royal Bank rightly emphasize the bank's unexcelled organization and system of supervision, especially the care that is always taken to insure that all bad and doubtful debts are fully provided for. While the profits each year are usually ample for this purpose, but in the unprobable event that this revenue proving not sufficient, there is a contingent fund, independent of the surplus fund, accumulated during prosperous years to rely upon. The past year has been an exceptional one in banking circles, but in spite of the unusual conditions the Royal Bank has had a most successful year, with profits nearly as large as those of the previous twelve months, and is able to show its strength unimpaired after passing through a period of great stress. A feature of the reports was the statement of General Manager C. E. Neill, who showed how closely the executive officers of the Royal Bank control the affairs of the bank by pointing out that every credit granted of $25,000 and over is approved by them, and there are no loans at any office of the bank today in excess of $25,000 which have not been approved by the directors at head office.

Mr. Vincent Eastwood is the manager of the local branch of this flourishing bank.

A NEW DEVELOPMENT IN ENGLAND.

The most promising business development in England, at the threshold of the New Year, is in the electrical trades, says Herbert Casson in Barron's.

Like Rip Van Winkle, they have been asleep for 20 years. They have slumbered and slept, curiously enough, during a period when British capital was being expended on electrical development in a score of foreign countries.

Now, at last, they are awake, and laying most ambitious plans for the future. No other industry, at the moment, is looking forward with as much hope as the electrical industry.

Apparently, it will have little trouble in securing the capital for its new schemes. Recently, the Metropolitan Electric Supply Co., of London, modestly asked for $2,000,000. To its great surprise, it was at once offered $13,000,000. Its issue of 7½-per-cent. debentures was over-subscribed more than six times. This shows the opinion of investors as to the prospects of the electrical companies.

Several months ago a proposal was made to consolidate all the electrical companies of London into a "joint authority." This plan has now been cordially approved by the electricity commissioners. This will be organized on the lines of the port of London authority, which is now one of the soundest of English companies.

This new electrical trust will contain over 70 generating stations, which have established more than 50 different systems of supply. These are now running independently, with 24 different voltages and 10 different frequencies.

There is not a single large electrical company in London at present—nothing but a mob of small, badly managed companies, that get in each other's way and irritate the public.

A Londoner, for instance, may make his toast in the morning by electricity supplied from one station. He may travel to his office by an electric train operated from another station. His office is probably lit from a third station. He returns home on a street car driven by a fourth station and so on. During the course of the day, he may be served by ten or more separate electrical stations.

All these stations are small. The largest, probably, is the Lots Road power house in Chelsea, which operates 48 miles of street railway, and has a capital of $50,000,000.

In fact, the average efficiency of conversion from coal to electricity in London, is only a third of what it is in most American cities.

All told, there are 600 small electrical companies in Great Britain, and an era of consolidation has now begun. Eventually, these may be reduced to 15 or 20 large companies.

There will be no opposition from the Government. This is now certain; and neither will the Government attempt to carry out any scheme of nationalisation. The electricity supply bill that was drawn up last year, has now been quietly dropped. The whole matter, apparently, will be left to private enterprise.

For some odd reason, the English people have never appreciated the possibilities of electrical service in any of its forms. Even the telegraph and telephone have hitherto been treated with general neglect.

Most electrical companies are of American or German origin. Even today, after the war, the President of the British Electrical Development Association is Mr. Hugo Hirst, a highly esteemed British citizen of German parentage.

Not even in Leicester Square or Piccadilly will you see as many electrical signs as may be seen in San Francisco or Denver. There are few electric automobiles or trucks of any sort, although there are hundreds driven by steam power.

As for the present cost of electrical service in London, the rate for light is 16 cents, per kilowatt per quarter, for the first 1200 units; and the rate for power is $8.00, per kilowatt per quarter, for the first 25 kilowatts, and half as much thereafter.

The development of electricity, in general, has been held back in England by the remarkable efficiency of the gas companies. Gas is everywhere. It is cheap and popular; and it is held high in public estimation by a very clever campaign of publicity.

However, the signs of the times point to a new appreciation of electrical service; and all firms with electrical apparatus to sell would do well to send their best salesmen to London.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

That Drury-Maguire controversy seems to be one in which there are no laurels for either victor or vanquished.

According to Dean Inge, the average woman spends ten years of her life on her attire. Nowadays it seems a case of "Much ado about nothing."

And now they are trying to prove that a Frenchman discovered America. Christopher Columbus!

Up in St. Thomas they have a firm which deals in both coal and ice. That concern gets you coming and going.

Ten thousand British women are to be brought to Canada by the Salvation Army, and the assurance is given that every one of them will have a job waiting for them.

Canada's total trade for December showed a decrease of about $90,000,000 over the same month last year. But better times are not far away.

THE ENERVATING DOLE.

Boston Transcript: In so far as unemployment insurance offers to the worker a relief from the duty of thrift and industry to provide on his own account against the rainy day, it is an attack upon industry itself. It must surely weaken the motive of human effort, by affording a possible refuge from the consequences of idolence, indifference and unthrift. With the dole, even in the form of insurance enforced by law, ahead of him, the worker can hardly be otherwise than measurably indifferent to the motive of thrift. On the other hand, the best, safest and most effective insurance against unemployment is always the worker's own zeal in his work, and the accompanying thrift with which he casts an anchor to windward against a possible period of enforced idleness.

A man may be able to tell the truth about himself, but he prefers to tell it about someone else.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of The Examiner:

A report of a sermon on the subject of Christian Science by Rev. G. H. Young, a Methodist minister, published in your issue of January 9, requires some comment on behalf of the Christian Scientists of your community, who naturally desire to have their faith and teaching correctly represented in the press.

Before taking up the adverse criticisms made by the speaker, I wish to thank him for the following admissions in favor of Christian Science:

(1) Christian Science has been taught and practised for fifty years.

(2) Its healing force is in many cases absolutely genuine.

(3) It has produced a great many valid cures, which are vouched for by witnesses of unquestioned veracity.

(4) Its teaching and practice creates a fine spirit of optimism.

(5) The text-book of Christian Science contains many genuine statements of truth.

(6) The Christian Science Monitor is a splendid paper.

Giving the reverend gentleman full credit for the foregoing truthful statements about Christian Science, I desire briefly to examine his remarks in opposition thereto, and to point out to your readers wherein they are incorrect:

(1) That Christian Science denies fundamenal common-sense.

Answer: Christian Science teaches men to rely upon spiritual sense; in other words, to "pray for that mind to be in us which was also in Christ Jesus." This is the fundamental common-sense which Christian Scientists accept.

(2) That Christian Science shows signs of decline.

Answer: The only sign which the speaker mentions is a decrease in the circulation of the Christian Science periodicals. This decrease was brought about by Christian Scientists themselves, and is only temporary. On the other hand, there is evidence that Christian Science is adding to the number of its adherents. In the Toronto Star Weekly of January 7 figures are published, giving the religious consus of Toronto. These show that Christian Scientists increased 22.2 per cent. in 1920, 28.1 per cent. in 1921, and for the past seven years the increase has been 140.8 per cent. No other denomination shows even one-half of this rate of increase.

(3) That Mrs. Eddy was indebted to "Dr." Quimby for much of the truth contained in her book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures."

Answer: This claim has been repudiated by the representatives of "Dr." Quimby, whose son has repeatedly declared that his father was not "in any way connected with Christian Science." The father is quoted in one of his manuscripts as saying: "I stand outside of all religious belief." Christian Science, on the contrary, is from first to last strictly a religious teaching and a religious practice.

(4) That the Christian Science text-book displays hallucination, dogmatism, self-conceit, egotism;; that it is irreverent and blasphemous, and is inconsistent, contradictory, incoherent, and unintelligible to the average man.

Answer: The many thousands of average men and women who are daily studying the pages of Science and Health in interpreting the Scriptures will absolutely disagree with the opinion expressed above. To this may be added testimony by many others who are admittedly above tht average in capacity and intelligence.

(5) That Christian Scientists practice mental suggestion.

Answer: Christian Scientists are opposed to the use of mental suggestion in theory and in practice. They adhere to the teachings of Jesus the Christ, and place no reliance upon the human or carnal mind as a healing agency.

(6) That Christian Science is not efficacious in the cure of organic disease or where there is wasting of the vital tissues.

Answer: Satisfactory evidence is available and will be gladly furnished by responsible people who have been healed of diseases of this nature through Christian Science.

(7) That Christian Science denies the fundamental realities of life, which are enumerated by the speaker as follows: (1) The material things of life, such as arnica, opium, alcohol; (2) sin; and (3) death.

Answer: Reality is defined by Webster as "that which truly exists." Christian Scienct accepts this definition. It takes its stand on the revealed truth of the Scriptures, that God, Spirit, is the source of all true existence. It shows that a realization of this great truth will lift men out of the false beliefs that there is any real pleasure in alcoholic intoxication, or that man, made in the image and likeness of God, is dependent on arnica or opium for healing or relief. It shows that sin and death, which were overcome by Jesus, the Way-shower, have no true existence because they are not creations of God. This understanding, revealed in the Scriptures and explained through Christian Science, has freed many thousands from belief in the power and reality of sin and disease, bringing healing and reformation. The overcoming of the fear of death (which is described in the Scriptures as "the last enemy that shall be destroyed") through the understanding of truth, has increased longevity since the discovery of Christian Science.

Thanking you for space, yours sincerely,

Wm. T. Finney,
Christian Science Committee on Publication for Ontario.

HEALING PRINCIPLE

Editor of Examiner:

Sir,—Much of your valuable space has already been taken up in "The Voice of the People" replying to Rev. Mr. Young's talk upon Christian Science healing and you may not feel inclined to let the discussion proceed further. However, if you are agreeable, I would like to add a few lines in support of the principle of healing which Christian believers for the greater part of the year to accept as an important part of their church's position of belief.

Open discussion and debate is a good thing, and if Mr. Young has a feeling that this matter of Christian healing should come before the people more prominently for confirmation or to verify its eternal truths, let us welcome his decision and trust there are thinkers and men of courage able and willing to meet him, that the principles upon which Christ's Kingdom must be built in their spiritual and material relationships can be more clearly and fully recognized.

I took exception to his utterance on the character of Quamly, whom he described as a "quack". Some years ago in studying the healing movement I was much impressed by the clear logical reasoning powers, of this same individual and for the past few days I have been looking up some writings on the subject. I have now before me some extracts from the manuscripts of this man, who was undoubtedly a great power and help to Mrs. Eddy, in her ministrys and writings.

The following is from Quamly's manuscript, dated November, 1859.

Is the curing of disease a science? I answer yes. You may ask, who is the founder of that science? I answer Jesus Christ. Then comes the question, What proof have you that it is a science? Because Jesus Christ healed the sick that of itself is no proof that He knew what He was doing. I answer if it was done by some law or science for there can be no such thing as accident with God; and if Christ was God He knew what He was doing When He was accused of curing disease through Beelzebub or ignorance he said, "If I cast out devils or diseases through Beelzebub or ignorance, my kingdom or science cannot stand, but if I cast out devils or diseases through a science or law, then my kingdom or law will stand, for it is not of the world." To enter into Christ's kingdom or science, it is to enter into the laws or knowledge of curing the evils of this world of darkness, as disease is an evil it is of this world, and is in this kingdom of darkness. To separate one world from the other is to separate the truth from the error and as error is death and truth is life, the resurrection of one is the destruction of the other.

This is the first article in which "Quamly identifies science with Christ" and I would ask, does not his reasoning entitle him to any better name than Quack? However, if Mr. Young can give us something that will define more clearly the healing power which Christ exercised upon individuals, and which his disciples used in His name, we may be able to discard some of the erroneous thoughts in which he believes we have become submerged but until that is done, I fear there is little chance. That those who through prayer and spiritual understanding have come into a knowledge of this truth will surrender it for the materia medica which he seems inclined to substitute.

Yours faithfully,
JOSEPH GRIERSON.

Written by Dr. W. A. Settle

IF you have a headache, or if an attack of sciatica is torturing you to the verge of distraction; IF your joints are crippled up with rheumatism; IF neuralgia is your daily adversary, or IF a burning indigestion is making your life miserable; IF you are in constant discomfort from the dragging ache in your back; IF anyone of these, or of an hundred and more physical ailments, fret and worry you and make of your life one long hell, osteopathy will relieve you.

Osteopathy is a simple natural method of healing by aiding Nature instead of hindering and weakening her. Remember that Nature is always working to attain the normal; is endeavoring to restore diseased tissues. All she needs to win out in her battle against disease is just a little of such assistance as osteopathy alone affords; to just have a little of the abnormal pressure relieved from the nerves or an impingement here and there done away with by a proper adjustment.

IF you have never tried osteopathy, do so at once; it will be a revelation in healing to you. It is simply the application of a little gumption to the problem of ill-health; the use of a very simple discovery in body mechanics that works wonders. A few treatments will bring relief; enough of them will cure you.

An Obvious Truth No Fur Buyer Should Overlook

¶ Never has Price been a measure of Economy not even today when the purchaser is "shopping around" to a greater extent than ever before.

¶ The only yardstick by which Economy can truly be measured is the Quality you get for the Price you pay, and this after all is what value depends on.

¶ Furs in this City can be had cheaper than in any place in Canada if they be judged by the standards of Quality, Workmanship, Style and Price,

¶ We solicit comparison—it's the only way you can find the truth of this statement, a fact in your own experience.

¶ The savings effected, which gives these results are:—

Eliminating all Middlemen's profits by buying directly from Fur Trappers.

Economies in manufacturing under the personal supervision of interested and proficient members of our firm.

Small "overhead" costs as compared with larger centres.

No "dead wood" in management, office or factory paid large salaries.

Large Factory output, making Furs for Five Stores.

Paying cash and securing best prices on linings and accessories.

"From Trapper To Wearer" direct.

Securing you Good Furs with the "Barrie" guarantee of quality, at less than any "City" House can hope to compete with for Quality and Value.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 17.—The meeting in the interests of the Bible Society was held last evening in Parish Hall, and the large crowd present, augurs well for the interest taken in the Bible Society in Campbellford. The President, Rev. C. E. Clark occupied the chair and the opening prayers was conducted by Rev. Mr. Glover. The minutes of last meeting held in June were read by the Secretary, Mr. R. N. Morris on and adopted. The treasurer Mr. G. A. Kingston, gave his report which showed an increase of 25 per cent, over last year's giving, $250 being subscribed. The election of officers for the ensuing year took place the following being the result. Pres. Rev. H. B. Kenney; treasurer, Mr. G. A. Kingston, secretary, Mr. R. N. Morrison,. Mr. G. A. Kingston then introducted the speaker of the evening, Rev. Haslam, who has spent 15 years in India and who was a graduate of the same year in Toronto University as Mr. Kingston. Rev. Mr. Haslam, whose subject was "India" referred to the great linguistic problems of India, and the simplicity of the aims of the great organization the Bible Society and characterized the Bible as God's inspired word, from which there was no need to add or substract. For 117 years the Bible Society has endeavoured to send the Gospel to every nation. Last year 9,000,000 versions in 548 languages were printed. The speaker declared that in this hour, as part of the British Empire we cannot make a more valuable contribution than to give to India, God's word in their own tongue. Before the outbreak of war India was in a state of seething unrest such as never before known. Not only the intellectual class but whole class. How comes it, that last January, for the first time in her history, those races have been blended together, and granted right of self government. Christianity implies "transformation of life" and the people must be taught, what Christianity has taught in the West. In Shakespeare there are 12,000 quotations from the Bible and with the Bible all Milton's literature is impregnated. The history of the British people for the last five centuries has been shaped by the Bible and by the Christian principles, freedom self determination, righteousness. England has attained her high position. In India 50,000,000 souls are under the heel of the high class. This class may be educated, but the Brahams, believe as these low caste souls are born, so they must die. The Gospels in reclaiming these poor people by thousands. Women are now on equal footing with men. The address was illustrated with lime light views obtained from snaps taken by the speaker himself and were most interesting.

Rev. Mr. Kennedy the new president gave a brief address after which the meeting was closed by Rev. Mr. McIntosh, with the benediction. Mr. Haslam is an able and enthusiastic speaker and his address was thoroughy enjoyed.

The Farmers' Club unloaded a car of corn at the station yesterday, the price being 77c.

rar and Mr. Johnson, of Moosejaw, along the lines that we define our position as supporting good laws and clean government and all Progressive legislation.

"I voted in favour of that resolution," said Mr. Gardiner, "and there is no harm in letting the world know where we stand, that we favoured co-operation in Progressive legislation, but that there was no possibility of forming a coalition.

"A resolution was then offered that the farmers would give their tacit approval of any Progressive representative who might enter the King Government, but that the representative must enter that Government on his own responsibility. Originally the resolution contained the words 'especially Mr. Crerar,'" said the speaker, amid laughter.

Opposed Resolution.

"I opposed that resolution as strongly as possible," he continued, "but finally it was carried by a large majority."

Mr. Gardiner stated that in view of the Saskatoon convention they would have to look closely after the men they had elected to Parliament, and see that they hewed close to the line at all times. So far as he was concerned, he would be glad at all times to meet the electors of the Medicine Hat constituency at the close of a Parliamentary session, and give them a report of what had actually happened.

Mr. Gardiner expressed strong views on the question of leadership. He stated that he would not blindly follow any leader. To do so, he said, would be against the principles they were advocating.

"By virtue of precedent we would naturally occupy the Opposition benches," he continued, "and that is the course I hope the farmers will follow," he said.

At the conclusion of his address, a resolution was unanimously adopted thanking Mr. Gardiner for the manner in which he had put the matter in the Saskatoon convention before them.

I said the Alberta members wanted absolute independence on the question of forming a coalition with any other party, and that they would serve the constituency they represented, and that I felt that I could not serve the best interests of Medicine Hat by lining myself up with one of the old political parties. I explained how we believed in the group system of organisation. There was no question in my mind but that Mr. Crerar was there for the purpose of forming a coalition with the Progressives of the Liberal Party.

Sporting Notes

A large number of hockey enthusiasts took in the game in Peterboro on Friday evening. They are very proud of the fine showing that the local team made in spite of the heavy handicap of having no rink for practice the past nine years. The Agricultural building used as a rink was not in any way suitable for hockey matches or games. Judging from the attendance and the applause at the games the hockey team have the village at their backs in a solid mass. Lakefield's reputation for clean good hockey did not begin with this year's team, but has been a tradition passed from team to team in all branches of athletic sports that Lakefield plays a hard game but straight and clean.

Three rinks of local curlers journeyed to Peterboro, to compete for the Neill Cup but although they put up a fine game they were not able to bring back the cup.

Won Prizes

Police Magistrate Langley offered a prize to the member of the local Intermediate and Junior O.H.A. teams who scored the first goal on the new rink in the O.H.A. games. Mr. Braden (Chubby) Blewett won the Intermediate prize and Mr. Jack Ridpath the Junior prize.

Sisters Are Talented

At the distribution exercises held recently at St. Joseph's Academy, Lindsay, certificates and diplomas were presented by His Lordship Bishop O'Brien, of Peterboro. Among the many winners the names of two local students appeared, as follows: Junior Matriculation, Middle School, and Commercial Diploma, Veronica Johnston; Entrance to High School and Preparatory Music examination with honors, Doreen Johnston. The two young girls are daughters of Capt. and Mrs. James Johnston.

E. Neill, General Manager of The Royal Bank of Canada, at the annual meeting held at the Head Office.

Dealing with the general business of the bank and the procedure followed by the auditors, Mr. Neill said to the shareholders:—

"I wish particularly to draw your attention to the fact that full provision has been made for all bad debts, and that in addition, adequate amounts have been set aside to provide for any accounts which may be considered in the doubtful class.

"In view of the discussions which have recently taken place regarding the obligation of auditors of banks appointed under the provisions of the Bank Act, it is proper that you should be informed that the auditors appointed by the shareholders of this bank not only certify to the correctness of the Balance Sheet, but they also approve of the value of the banks assets as stated therein. The representatives of the auditors, who conduct their investigations of the bank's business throughout the entire year, have access to the statements, correspondence and inspection reports relative to all loans required, and their certification of our Balance Sheet is made only after a full examination of all credits granted to customers. In cases where there is any doubt as to the value of a debtor's account, the amount set aside by the bank to take care of any possible loss is approved by the auditors as being sufficient. Every facility is afforded them to examine each and every account in the bank, and they are encouraged to criticise and make the most detailed investigations of every debt due the bank, with the relative security.

"As an indication of how closely the President, Managing Director and Directors of this bank at Head Office control the affairs of the bank, I may tell you that every credit granted of $25,000 and over is approved by them, and there are no loans at any office of the bank today in excess of $25,000 which have not been approved by the Directors at Head Office. Moreover, committees of resident Directors of the bank at Toronto, Winnipeg, Halifax, Quebec and St. John supervise and recommend all loans in the ir respective districts and, in addition, are informed of all in their respective districts

ANOTHER DROP IN PRICE FORD CARS

REDUCTIONS RANGE FROM $25 TO $60—NEARING THE BOTTOM

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 17.—(Canadian Press).—The Ford Motor Co., of Canada yesterday afternoon announced a cut in the price of its products of from $25 to $60.

Following a meeting of heads of the company yesterday afternoon at the Ford offices, Major W. James Baxter, advertising manager of the Canadian Ford Company, gave out the prices of the various models effective January 17, F.O.B. Ford, as follows:

Sedan, $930; Coupe $840; Touring $535; Run-about $495; truck chassis $575; touring chassis $445; the closed models being completely equipped with starter and electric lights.

The above prices mean a reduction of $60 on the Sedan $50 on the Coupe, $40 on the truck chassis $25 on the car chassis $30 on the touring car and $20 on the run-about.

This reduction is coincident with that announced by Henry Ford at Washington last week, but the Detroit Company's cut amounted to but from $6 to $15. "By reason of the small cut made by the Ford Motor Co., of Detroit, it is evident that rock bottom prices have at last been reached," said an executive of the Ford of Canada. "And if this is true of the Detroit Company it is much more so of the Canadian Company with the larger reduction which we have made".

"The cut has been made possible by the company in anticipation of a further reduction in the cost of materials and the increased production which it is felt that these prices will induce. On models other than the closed ones starting and lighting equipment will be $85 extra".

DOCTORS AMAZED AT WONDERS DONE BY NEW MEDICINE

Worth Millions to Suffering Humanity — Works Wonders on Headaches, Indigestion, Constipation, Rheumatism, Kidney Pains, etc.

Your complexion is not clear, you have pains between the shoulder blades, you are constipated, have no energy, no appetite, headaches, rheumatism, etc. These are all the well-known signs that your liver is out of order and is not exiting bile into the bowels, thereby causing all these pains and aches.

Doctors will tell you that 90 per cent. of the people who come to them for treatment have trouble due directly to the Liver. It is simple when you stop to think about it. When your Liver becomes inactive and fails to pour Bile into the intestines, your system is unable to execrete the waste, then the blood begins to distribute this waste throughout the whole system, striking at the weakest organ. Until this Liver trouble is overcome, you cannot expect to have perfect health, and life to you will be a drudgery.

Doctors recommend that you take one Tanated Calomel about fifteen minutes before each meal, or you may take two at bedtime, and you will wake up the next morning feeling tip-top. No sedlitz, salts, or castor oil are necessary to eliminate the Calomel, as it is self-eliminating Tanated Calomel is quickly assimilated by the system, and begins to act soon after taking. It has no bad after-effects, as nausea, sick headaches, griping, etc., but acts very mild and smoothly, causing a natural elimination of the waste poison, making you look and feel bright, alert, vigorous and vivacious again.

Tanated Calomel is sold by F. C. Weber's Drug Store.

TORONTO, Jan. 17. (Canadian Press)—Judgment was given yesterday by Mr. Justice Logie against the Shelvin Clarke Co. of Port Arthur for $169,991 in favor of the Attorney-General of Ontario. It is also ordered that the Company must pay $17.60 per thousand feet on all timber cut and not yet returned on the Quetico Park Reserve. Berths 45 and 49.

The judgment declares that the agreement between the Ontario Department of Crown Lands and the Shelvin Clark Co. was invalid and that it was in fact nothing but a license to go on unchartered lands.

DISCONTINUE NET FISHING.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Jan. 17. Canadian Press. — Net fishing in Lake Nipissing will be discontinued for a period of three years, according to a letter just received here by J. W. Richardson, last year's president of the North Bay Board of Trade, in reply to an inquiry regarding the depletion of Lake Nipissing's supply of the finny trade.

The proposal to establish a fish hatchery at North Bay for Lake Nipissing is one of the pet schemes of the local board of trade and this step will be urged in the interval.

SOFIA, Jan. 17. — (Canadian Press).—The Bulgarian Government yesterday received from the Allied Council of Ambassadors an order saying that Bulgaria must be completely disarmed.

OPPOSE WATERWAY SCHEME

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A bitter and perhaps protracted fight in Congress over the proposed improvement of the St. Lawrence River to provide a channel for ocean going vessels to the Great Lakes was forecast here by developments in the House after the report of the which investigated the project had been transmitted to Speaker Gillett by President Harding.

Instead of immediately referring the report to a comittee, as is usually done when communications are received from the President, the Speaker withheld reference and said he would determine on Wednesday which of the three committees would take charge of it. There is a divergence of opinion as to whether the report should go to the Merchant Marine, Foreign Affairs or Ways and Means committee.

DEBENTURES MARKET

EDMONTON, Jan. 17.— (Canadian Press.)—That Alberta securities continued in active demand is evidenced by the high prices offered for the Province of Alberta 20 year five per cent. gold bonds issue of $3,846,000. The Dominion Securities Corporation were successful with the bid of 102,666, American payment, but they had a close second in the Edmonton firm of Wilkin, Hunt, Kilburn, Limited, with a bid for Canadian payments of 98.21. It is interesting to note that this particular issue has sold considerably higher than an Ontario issue of recent date which realized 101.42. Twelve bids were considered.

RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is produced by the accumulation of Uric Acid in the blood, and this poisonous substance attacks and inflames the membrane covering the joints and separating the muscles, thus producing severe pains. If the waste products of the human system are not properly carried off, Uric Acid forms and is deposited in the joints and between the different layers of muscles. DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS will correct this by its action on the kidneys and removing the Uric Acid from the blood. Try them and watch the results. If they fail your money will be refunded.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets are put up three sizes—25c, 50c, and $1.00 per box, at Bond's Drug Store and Warne Drug Co., Ltd.

THE ANNUAL CONVENTION

organization the people themselves could initiate and control political activities, and that under no other method could these activities ever be made democratic. Consequently we emphasized the necessity of a strict adherence to right foundation principles, rather than those of temporary expediency. The wisdom of our decision has been fully proven by the results of the two political campaigns of the past year, even beyond our clearest foresight or our sanguine expectations.

On account of two years' preparatory work, when the provincial election was called unexpectedly, on the shortest possible notice, the U. F.A. was actually organized in only seventeen ridings, but the organized locals in all the ridings were ready to act, and in one week they had called conventions and selected candidates in twenty-seven more. This was made possible by two years' active preparation. In two weeks more, out of forty-four candidates they had elected thirty-eight and captured the provincial government.

Election Unexpected.

The federal election came unexpectedly as an unwelcome guest, and while our people would have much preferred a year's rest from political activities they met the challenge to action by putting up U.F.A. candidates in ten districts, and arranging terms of co-operation with labor and independent citizens in the other two. All this was done systematically and democratically, with the result that Alberta is sending to Ottawa a solid delegation consisting of twelve apostles of democracy.

Real Progress.

Real progress has been made in the development of systematic orderly co-operation with organized labor; just as marked progress has been made in gaining the confidence of the unorganized democratic citizens. These citizens are more than ever impressed with the absolute necessity of some kind of organization that will enable them to initiate democratic political activities. Their problems in doing this will be very difficult, but I have no doubt they will eventually solev them. To that end we must give them all possible encouragement and assistance.

One of the most outstanding results of the provincial election, and one yhich was perhaps least clearly foreseen, was the complete separation of political activities from those of legislation. Under a truly democratic system such as we have organized, all political activities necessary to the election of candidates, and their election to office, are initiated and carried on by the citizens themselves.

Results Accomplished.

The results accomplished during the past year by United Farmers have been more visible in the political field than in any other, and have been more thoroughly reconstructive. Our political activities were based primarily on the theory that the political party system was wrongly constructed and could never function in the development of true democracy. The controlling authority was too centralized; there was little or no initiative in the hands of the individual citizens, and there was just as little responsibility. Responsibility for initiative develops capacity. Centralized authority develops autocracy. The construction of the old party system lent itself to the development of autocratic control among the leaders, rather than the development of citizenship capacity among the masses. These results are directly opposed to democratic progress. We undertook to change this by the introduction of a new system in which the initiative, responsibility and control would be placed directly on the people themselves. The present Alberta government was elected under the new system, as were our twelve federal members. Politically speaking, Alberta has undergone complete reconstruction.

While our political activities have been devoted almost entirely to the work of choosing and electing legislative representatives, it would be a fatal error to assume that our responsibilities cease when that work is accomplished. On the contrary new responsibilities are added.

Public Opinion.

We expect the government at Edmonton to make good in the administration of provincial affairs. To get this result we will have to give our active support. Popular opinion is the guilding star of all governments. If the people have a well defined idea of the kind of government they want, and make their wants clearly known they will be the guiding influence. To exercise this influence they must be active and alert their ideas must be constructive, and they must be steadfast iin their support of the government in its adherence to constructive principles and constructive measures.

Principle of Democracy.

Democracy functions only in giving the greatest possible benefis to the greatest possible number. If the people expect these results they will have to adhere strictly to democratic principles, stand steadfastly together, and give intelligent expression to their demands. By this method, and this method only, can you crystallize and give expression to real public opinion and make that opinion a guiding influence in the trend of government. Do not be deceived into believing that other and very subtle influences will not be continually at work trying to create a bogus public opinion, and acting as spoeksmen for that opinion. Just in proportion to their activities or your indifference they will succeed in influencing government. If the public has not intelligent opinion of its own, so that it can speak in behalf of democracy, special interests will be ever ready to misrepresent and misguide public opinion in the interests of special privilege. The development of mass intelligence is the only hope of the people in their fight for democracy. This fight is just beginning, and your responsibilities in it are just beginning. It is true you have accomplished the preliminary stage of political reconstruction, but the final stage, which includes legislative reconstruction, is just in the beginning. In the accomplishment of this there must be complete and intelligent co-operation between the government and the people. Even then political reconstruction will not solve the greater and more difficult problems of economic reconstruction, but it will be a valuable and necessary handmaiden to it.

Mrs. Edward Henry Smith-Wilkinson, an English woman, is called the world's greatest spender.

STATES MAY INVESTIGATE

follows upon notice by me to the company and its officers and legal representatives that the Department of Justice would be asked to prosecute violations of the law that have been and are to be exposed.

"There can be no question that there has been a wanton and persistent violation and evasion of the judgment of the Federal Court in the suit brought by the Government against the company. It will also be contended that the anti-trust laws have been violated in the company's maintenance of its monoply. The company has been afforded the most generous opportunity to answer these charges.

'Its officers have been and are under subpoena and are in attendance at the hearing, for that purpose they will be placed upon the witness stand and unless they plead their privileges and insist upon immunity, their stories will be heard. Their distinguished counsel who are familiar with legislative investigations, are well aware that no investigation ever has been or could be conducted, in which witnesses were allowed separate counsel or the right of cross examination.

"In this particular investigation, the unusual privilege has been allowed of putting to every witnes, whatever questions the counsel for the company have asked and they have freely availed themselves of that privilege. What more they could ask I fail to understand. This intolerable monoply ought to be, and I believe, will be suppressed."

FIFTEEN BOILS ON NECK AT ONE TIME

Any one who has suffered from boils can sympathize with poor old Job.

There was no Burdock Blood Bitters in those days, so Job had to suffer in silence. Nowadays no one need endure the misery of boils.

Boils are simply evidences of the bad blood within coming to the surface and just when you get rid of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery.

All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not stop more coming. What you have to do is take and the blood will be cleansed of all its impurities, and then every boil will disappear.

Mr. Roy McSwain, High Bank, P. E. I., writes: "I was troubled with boils for some time, and had as many as fifteen on my neck at once. After taking one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters they commenced to get better, and after I had taken two bottles I was relieved of them and felt much better. I think B. B. B. is a grand blood medicine, and can recommend it highly."

For the past 45 years B. B. B. has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MARRIED WHILE A CONVICT.

JEFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 16.—Frank Jandro of Brooklyn, N.Y., a convict, married to obtain his freedom and not for love, he said to-day, following the announcement that his wife, formerly Mrs. Mayme Wadley, had applied for an annulment of the marriage when she learned her husband was serving a two-year sentence in the State prison for jail-breaking. Jandro, prison authorities said, must serve his full term.

He said he had told prison authorities he was a married man, and as he was intending to apply for a parole, thought it would be well for him to be able to produce a wife.

Jandro, a chauffeur for prison officials and permitted to wear civilian clothing, met Mrs. Wadley in the Federal Building, where she is a clerk.

The marriage is the first of its kind on record here, prison officials say, as no marriages were ever performed before while a convict was serving a sentence.

HE GAINED TWENTY POUNDS IN A YEAR

THAT'S WHY THIS MAN PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

After Four Years' Suffering Took After Four Year's Suffering ook the Advice of a Friend and Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mason's Point, Heart of St. Margaret's Bay, N.S., Jan. 16.—(Special.)— "When I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills I was twenty-three years old and weighed 105 lbs. In one year I gained 20 lbs." This is the staement of Mr. Carl Boutelier, a well known and highly respected resident of this place. It is one more addition to the great mass of evidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the greatest of all kidney remedies.

"I was laid up for four years with kidne, trouble." Mr. Boutelier stated further: "One day a friend advised me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and I made up my mind to give them a trial. I used just six boxes in all."

The road to health lies through the kidneys. If they are kept strong and well all the impurities are strained out of the blood. But if they are weak and out of order the imprities stay in the blood and disease is sure to result.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong healthy kidneys.

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

GOOD RECORD PARK ST. SUNDAY SCHOOL

SUBSTANTIAL STANDING SHOWN IN PRESENTATION OF PRIZES

A very interesting event took place at the Park Street Baptist Sunday School, Sunday afternoon, when the prizes, seals and diplomas for the year for attendance were awarded. The occasion was an open session in which all the school took part. Special music by the Orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Wm. Ford was rendered. short addresses by Rev. Mr. Morrow and Mr. Jos. Wearing, Superintendent of Murray Street Baptist Sunday School, were also given.

The Superintendent, Mr. James I. Maybee then called upon the School Secretary, Mr. O. S. Matchett, and Rev. Mr. Morrow to give out the prizes

During the past year, 65 teachers and scholars were present 50 Sundays and over, or practically 1-4 of the membership. The following five scholars have completed seven years' regular attendance: James Batley, George Batley, Ethel White, Dorothy White and Miss Nellie Fallis. The following seven scholars have completed six years: Harold Thomas, Iva Whatley, Erna Batley, Nellie Lemon, Garfield Whateley, Percy Luffman and Miss Alberta Sloan. The following six scholars have completed five years: Oliver Dixon, Eileen White, Muriel Thomas, Ella Smith, Joseph Reynolds. The following five scholars have completed four years: Allan Haw, Albert Thomas, Ms. C. Luffman, Jack Smith and Ben Smith. The following four scholars have completed three years: Mrs. Babcock, Raymond Dixon, Edith Haw and Viola Trauber. The following 9 teachers and scholars have completed two years: Mr. James I. Maybee, Garnet Inkpin, Irwin Luther, Roy Killingbeck, Leslie Batherson, Jack McMaster, Kathleen Purvis, Eric Batherson and Marjory White. The following 29 teachers and scholars have completed their first year: Mrs. Boyler, Margaret Riddle, Evelyn Pennington, Ornor Boyler, Miss Hilda Pemberton, Mrs. Wm. Thompson, Mr. A. Thompson, Miss Lillie Feasey, Gladys Thompson, Helen Taylor, Garnet Palme, George Riddle, Malcolm Taylor, Reba Pemberton, Elsie Lemon, Mrs. James Booth, Edmund Boyler, George Campbell, Leonard Palmer, Frank Everall, Mr. Percy Luther, Ernest Reynolds, Earl Palmer, Agnes Moore, Aylmer Moore, Gertrude Inkpin and Laura Purvis.

The system of diplomas and seals was adopted by Park Street Sunday School in 1913, since then 135 teachers and officers have won the honor of being present 50 Sundays and over, and that number has increased each year until the past years shows 65. For the size of the Church and Sunday school this is a record to be proud of, and it is a question whether any other Sunday School of similar size can show as good a standing.

SANITARY INSPECTOR BUSY MAN IN 1921.

His Annual Report Gives an Idea of Work Accomplished.

When Sanitary Inspector C. Stapleton submitted his fifth annual report to the Board of Health, his activities were favorably commented on by different members of the Board of Health.

"Some people think the Sanitary Inspector hasn't much to do, but if they would follow him around on those calls they'd think he had," Chairman G. H. Duncan declared after the report was read.

"I am pleased to report that I have less garbage and scavenger complaints to report than the previous year," he said.

"I still find a number of earth closets in bad condition and have notified landlords to that effect. A number have beeen srved with notices to make the proper connections, which they have done.

"I still find some people who will not use proper garbage receptacles, and this gives the garbage men extra work.

"The following list of complaints and inspections will give you," said Mr. Stapleton, "some idea of the work being done by the Sanitary Inspector:

Garbage complaints, 218; scavengers, 171; slaughter houses inspected, 8; milk vendors premises inspected, 27; milk tests, 250; butcher shops inspected, 10; de. l animals, 21; stable and manure boxes inspected, 44; hen coops ordered to be moved, 4; hotels inspected, 8; boarding and eating houses,40; bread wagons open in front, 10 bakeries inspected, 12; notices served, 72; cesspools inspected, 15; houses and cellars inspected, 89; yards and lanes inspected, 162; laundries inspected, 16; factories inspected, 6; fruit and fish stores inspected, 15; Inverlea Park dressing rooms inspected, 5; diphtheria, 164; scarlet fever, 244, measles, 3; smallpox, 8; typhoid, 2; chickenpox, 3; spinal meningitis; T. B., 1; removed all quarantine cards; inspected 6 schools with M.O.H.; restaurants inspected, 27; closets and hen houses, a nuisance, 45.

"I also appreciate the assistance given me by Mr. F. W. Miller, the Relief Officer, both in the office and in the investigation of complaints," concluded Mr. Stapleton.

NAVY LEAGUE'S SPLENDID WORK

IN PROVIDING PENSIONS FOR SURVIVORS OF CANADIANS WHO LOST THEIR LIVES IN THE MERCANTILE MARINE.

Mr. F. E. Bamford of Toronto, represnting the Ontario Division of the Navy League of Canada, is in Peterboro for the purpose of calling the attention of local citizens to the splendid work that is being carried on by that organization and to the need of funds to ensure a continuance of that work. One of the most important objects the Navy League has undertaken is the providing of an endownment fund for pensions for the Canadian widows and orphans of men who lost their lives while serving in the Mercantile Marine during the great war. There are many such cases in Ontario alone and the Government has made absolutely no provision for them with the result that many of them are in unevlable circumstances. The League rightly considers that the families of man who made the supreme sacrifice in the Mercantile Marine are as worthy of assistance from their fellow citizens as the survivors of those who lost their lives fighting with the land forces or in the navy.

In addition to the endowment fund the Navy League maintaining thirteen sailor port homes in Canada for the benefit of Canadian sailors.

Subscriptions for this splendid cause are invited and will be received and acknowledged by the Examiner.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN COULDN'T SLEEP NIGHT

To those on the verge of a nervous breakdown the following symptoms present themselves: nervous headaches, a feeling of depression, fitful, disturbed, restless and unrefreshing sleep, often troubled with frightful dreams, avoidance of crowded places, dread of being alone, horror of society, etc.

When the nerves become affected in this way the heart generally becomes affected too, and on the first signs of any weakness of the heart or nerves, flagging energy or physical breakdown do not wait until your case becomes hopeless, but get a remedy that will at once quieten the nerves, strengthen the heart and build up the entire system.

This you will find in

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Mrs. M. Damgand, Young's Cove Road, N.B., writes: "I was bothered very much with my heart and nerves; had nervous headaches and dizziness, could not sleep at nights, and my appetite was all gone. I was on a nervous breakdown when a neighbor told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. This I did, and before I had the second box used I was better and would advise anyone who has nerve trouble to take them."

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK BY CATHOLIC WOMEN

LEAGUE HEARS PRESENTATION OF REPORTS--MRS. PHELAN THIRD VICE-PRESIDENT.

Lack of space in the Saturday edition prevented the publication of the report on the Social Service Work of the Catholic Women's League, whose meeting was held on Friday evening last for the presentation of reports.

The report of this branch of the work, which embraces some of the most important activities of the society, particularly at this season of the year, was read by Mrs. Nagle Phelan, who assumed the duties of the third vice presidency, left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. J. V. McElderry, who carried on the work efficiently up to a short time ago. Mrs. Phelan, since taking over the work, has been most active in the various branches of the Social Service section, and her report was most enlightening.

The Committees

A "Sick and Visiting" Committee, was formed, with Mrs. G. H. Giroux as convenor; the Relief Committee, which has the most arduous part of the work, materially assisted eighty families during the year, and arranged for the expenses of four women in need of medical attention. In this connection, Mrs. J. A. Sharpe for St. Peter's parish, Mrs. Legendre in the Sacred Heart parish, and Mrs. Primeau and Mrs. L. Hennessey in the Immaculate Conception parish deserve special mention.

The Social Visiting Committee, supervised by Mrs. J. K. Sheehy and W. R. Hunter; the Travellers' Reception Committee, by Mrs. J. J. Doris; the Police Court Committee, by Mrs. Jas. V. Galvin and Mrs. V. J. McElderry, all did good work. Miss M. McGrath very kindly received clothing at her home to aid in the work of the Relief Committee.

Generous Donations

Various donations from kind friends of the society were acknowledged, including money, fuel, provisions and clothing, and formation of a sewing circle in connection with the work was noted. The society co-operated with the Big Sisterhood in relief work during the Christmas season, and has been assisted in its endeavor by the St. Vincent de Paul organization.

Miss Bernice Humbert is the only girl among 1200 students enrolled in the engineering division of the Kansas State Agricultural College.

BIRMINGHAM CAR AT NEW YORK SHOW

Mr. Byron Lederer, who has spent the past week at the New York Show, has just advised the office of the wonderful reception Birmingham cars received at the New York Show by the engineering fraternity and especially the Society of Automotives Engineers.

The matter of Birmingham construction and advanced ideas in engineering was one of the topics of discussion at their recent annual meeting and it was claimed that a very advanced step has been taken in automotive construction by the people who have been responsible for bringing out and manufacturing the Birmingham Car.

It was conceded that there is no car on the market, at the present time, with riding qualities as possessed by the Birmingham.

The Canadian shareholders can truly feel gratified over such a wonderful reception for their car.

SOCIAL EVENING AT GILMOUR MEMORIAL

Gilmour Memorial B.Y.P.U. spent a very happy evening at the church last night. As the group captained by Beatrice McGregor, was defeated in the six months' contest by Earl Mann's group, they took the occasion to entertain the successful group in a social evening. The annual election of officers was also held. A pleasing program of vocal and piano music, recitations and speeches preceded the election and games and refreshments followed. The society expressed its appreciation of the interest and efficient work of thtir retiring president, Miss Hazel Blewett, who has filled the office so capably during the past three years. The officers were elected as follows:

President — Gordon McGregor; Secretary—Leila Sanderson; Treasurer—Fred Mann; Pianist—Mildred Archer; Assistant Pianist—Hazel Blewett; Group Leaders—Stanley Grant, Harry Blewett.

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well-known resident of California, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a home-made mixture, recently made the following statement:

A LITTLE SPORTING GOSSIP

The great showing made by the Y.M.C.A. Junior basketball team on Saturday night, when they defeated the Toronto Central "Y" team in Toronto by 38 points to 21, indicates that Peterborough is going to make a strong bid for the Junior Ontario title as well as for the Intermediate honours, which were won by the Peterborough Association last year. The "Y" Juniors are entered in the O.A.B.A. Junior series, and will probably get a bye into the second round. On their form in defeating Toronto Central twice with a total score of 62 to 41, the Peterborough youngsters have a royal chance.

"Batteries for Cobourg, Derry and Tyson," is the announcement that will be heard around the Central League circuit when the ball season begins next spring. This Derry person hails from Kingston, where he acquired the nickname "Punch," and the ability to hurl a few mean shoots. He and another Kingstonian, First Baseman Walter Schultz, who was with Oshawa two seasons back, went to Cobourg a short time ago to hear what the wild waves were saying, and decided to stay in the Horseshoe town. President Kimmel's bailiewick is going to have considerable to say about the 1922 Central League pennant.

Aspiring hockey players are advised to emulate the example of Ernie Legon, the red-topped right wing of the Holy Name team, who is gaining a reputation both locally and in foreign fields for staying on the ice and playing clean, aggressive hockey. Legon is a sixty-minute man, and wastes no time in the penalty box, with the result that he is the best asset the Greenshirts have. A whole team like him would be mighty hard to beat.

The Peterborough A.A.A. Junior O.H.A. team will make their first appearance before local fans to-night, when they tackle Lakefield in the second game of the series. The youngsters have a one-goal deficit to make up, and should be able to turn the trick, as the line-up has been strengthened.

Eddie Williams, who will be one of the subs for the P.A.A.A. Juniors to-night is a brother and vest-pocket edition of Micky Williams, the diminutive right wing of the C.G.E. City League crew. He skates just like his brother, and is as lively as a porcupine with the hives, although he is not much bigger than a jack rabbit.

More Things We Do Not Expect To See:

Dick Turpin playing first base for Cobourg next summer.
Dainty pitching for Oshawa.
Micky Murray scoring a goal for the P.A.A.A. team.
Any more Peterborough games with Jack Carmichael as referee.
A Lindsay victory here on Friday.
An O.H.A. game that starts sharp on time.

In order to have his attacking division in the best of shape for the big game with Lindsay here on Friday night, Coach Jerry Coughlin, of the Holy Name Society, is keeping his regular forwards out of the City League clashes on Wednesday. As a result, Wm. Hamilton's will be without Foley. C.G.E. will be minus Ranger, and the Lakeviews will not have the services of Red Legon.

The stick-handling of Eddie Rodden and Billy Burch, of the Dominion Bank team, was a revelation to Peterborough fans last night. Rodden's rush for the first goal in the second period, when he skated around practically every man on the Peterborough team, including Murray, was the prettiest dash seen on Brock Street Rink in many a moon. Burch's poke-checking was another feature, and local followers of the game were able to understand, after watching him work, how he was able to break up the Varsity attack in last Friday's big game.

Last night's game was about the cleanest that Peterborough has seen. There were no penalties, and not the slightest sign of rough work on the part of either team. It was an exhibition that sent the crowd away astisfied, even though the home team lost.

The Petes should learn a lot from the battle with the Dominion Bank team, particularly as to how to pass and take a pass when breaking for the nets. The Toronto combination was both flashy and effective, and their attack broke straight for the goal, while very few of their shots were off the target.

To-day's Happy Thought:

The P.A.A.A. squad will not have to run up against many Roddens or Burches in the Intermediate race. F. D. C.

RUNAWAY PLANE

to good advantage among the Sunday crowd. He had been up and down with one passenger after another until the sight of the Curtiss biplane hovering over the cheery crowd below had become commonplace. Now and then, when he volplaned until it seemed that he must crash through the sheet of ice, only to flatten out within a hundred feet of the river level, the skaters glanced up to wave greetings at him.

Casey "Gives Her a Little Gas."

Coming down in mid-afternoon Casey found a man waiting for a ride over the gay crowd. He made his arrangement, helped the passenger into the rear of the double cockpit and went behind the plane to make sure the brake he had adjusted to the tail skid to hold the craft on the ice was set. Then with a kick at the chucks under the undercarriage wheels, he satisfied himself all was well, adjusted the spark, "gave her a little gas" and seized the propeller.

Then something slipped. Casey believed afterward, according to a statement to Henry H. Clayton, Chief of Police, that the throttle sprang open too wide. The motors started with a roar that brought tartled looks at the plane.

Casey in practiced fashion jumped away from the propeller as he gave it the first twist that set the engine going. But instantly he knew that something was wrong and that the mahogany blades, whirling into full speed, must set the craft in motion.

The plane swayed, vaulted its chucks and rushed straight at Casey. The aviator dived under the propeller. It missed him so closely he felt the wind on his face. He clutched at the underbody, but it eluded him and he just managed to seize the left wing tip.

By then the passenger, whose name was learned by the authorities, was trying to climb out. Before he could open the cockpit door, the biplane picked up speed, swayed drunkenly and flung him back into his seat as it hit a bump in the ice.

There were several hundred persons within yards of the plane when it started. A bump, or windpuff, swerved it, and, as if directly aimed, it made into the crowd.

There were screams of terror and shouts of warning, and men, women, and children scattered in every direction. Some of the braver dashed at the right wing, which swung around toward them. Their combined tug outpulled Casey, still clinging to the left wing, and the plane swept sharply around.

Mrs. Hounihan, standing a few yards from the craft as Casey cranked it with her six-year-old boy near her on one side; her eight-year-old girl on the other, and her husband just back of them, saw that she was in the path of the plane as it shifted around.

Hounihan grabbed one child, she pushed the other, and jumped. She was just too late. Spinning by them so fast that it was almost invisible, the knife-edged propeller caught her in the breast and ripped downward. It carried her twenty feet before it cut itelf clear, shreds of her clothing still clinging to its blades.

Conley might have saved himself had he jumped away instead of trying to save his sister. But his grab for her stayed him just long enough for that milling knife to carve off his hand.

By then those who had seized the right wing and had been dragged helpless across the ice were shaken off, and the plane was free. It gathered even more speed, still staying on the ice, but in danger every instant of rising with its helpless passenger, who had not the faintest notion how to stop it.

Casey Climbs Into Fuselage.

It was touch and go for Casey, hanging to the left wing, but he refused to drop away and let the man in the cockpit take his chances.

Instead, he bounded into the fuselage, worked his way into the forward cockpit, and shut off the engine with one swift turn at the switch.

The plane lurched as the roaring engine died into silence, and the propeller thudding into the hard ice was smashed to bits, putting a quick stop to the craft's mad journey. The passenger climbed out unhurt, and disappeared in the crowd.

Many marvelled afterward that the ice, none too thick, did not shiver under the propeller's smashing blow. There were ominous creaks and groans, and a perilous situation was made worse as hundreds, rushing to the scene, burdened the ice still further. Shouts of warning stayed the crowd, and the ice held.

Then came a moment of hysterical excitement. Women, sickened at what they beheld, fainted. Screaming children added to the confusion. Men rushed to the dying woman and the bleeding man. While Mrs. Hounihan, lifted by a group, of which her husband was one, was being carried to an automobile parked at the river's edge. Dr. Sherf shouldered his way through the press about Conley and applied the tourniquet. Sherf, too, was carried to one of a dozen automobile eagerly offered.

The two cars raced to the office of Dr. Edwin Field at 76 West Front Street. Mrs. Hounihan died as she was being carried into the physician's office.

FURTHER COMPLICATIONS.

VIENNA, Jan. 17. — (Canadian Press).—Further complications for the present Austrian Government developed here with the news that the Pan-Germans had withdrawn their member, Dr. Leopold Waber, Minister of the Interior, from the Cabinet, thus breaking the coalition. Their action was in protest against certain political features of the agreement reached at the recent conference at Lana between Austrian and Czecho-Slovak representatives. Their special grievance was with regard to the guarantee of the existing territorial integrity of the Czechs, as involving the retention of the German and Bohemian minority under Czech rule.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE GRAND.

"THE DEVIL."

Rex. Snelgrove's latest offering at the Grand Theatre, "The Devil," presented for the first time last night, proved decidedly interesting, and judging by the packed house its fame had preceded it. In their new play the Rex Company showed their versatility and added more laurels to their already large circle. Many in last night's audience trembled for the nation, but their fears were all removed before the show ended, for the devil did not prevail although he brought about some embarrassing situations.

This play has been presented by special arrangement with Franz Molner, the author, and the difficult role of Mephistopheles was capitally taken by Mr. Snelgrove. The other officers of the company are all able to look after the several roles. Zana Vaughn as the banker's wife torn between two loves filled her part with surpassing ability. William Seymour as the artist who still felt the old love, and was finally eliminated by the husband, had much to do and did it well.

The settings and lighting, which had to augment the general mystery of the play, brought about by the pervading presence of the Devil, were used with surprising and enchanting results and the various effects produced by the stage lighting were a pleasing part of the show.

A vaudeville act with, two youthful participants in singing and dancing, was given an enthusiastic reception and will form an attractive part of the programme for three days.

THE UNLOVED WIFE.

Almost every man believes he might have married a great many women. In his heart of hearts he has on idea that almost every woman who ever smiled upon him, or blinked an interested eyelash at him, would only to gladly have become his wife. And when married, what then In "The Unloved Wife," the new dramatic success in three acts, which comes to the Grand next Saturday, Jan. 21st, matince and night, with matinee for ladies only, Florence Edna May, the authoress, chooses the woman's side of the story. Too long has the finger of scorn been pointed at the helpless weaker sex. But are women the weaker sex? Are they not the stronger sex? What makes a man different after he's married? What causes every married woman, at some time, to think she is unloved? A woman is a woman, and really to know her fads and fancies a man must have been married to her. And then—does he know her? Many of these questions are entertainingly answered in the play, "The Unloved Wife."

AT THE CAPITOL.

Ethel Clayton has some wonderful gowns in the feature picture, "Wealth," at the Capitol Theatre today and to-morrow, and the picture itself, although not especially thrilling, is an attractive production, with a theme romantic and appealing. In it, the heroine longs for luxury and the things that money can buy, and marries a rich man whom she happens to love also, only to find that happiness is as elusive as ever. His mother, who is obsessed with the idea of marrying her son to the girl of her choice, makes a great many difficulties for the young bride, who finally goes away altogether back to her art. A happy finale is only arrived at after scenes which depict strong human emotion in the dizzy whirl of modern existence.

"The Greenhorn," with Lloyd Hamilton in the stellar role, is something new and entertaining in the comedy line, providing several reels of amusing recital of the hapless greenhorn in the clutches of an unscrupulous physician with a villainous beard, who manufactures poisoned bananas and deadly bombs in pursuit of his fell designs.

Reese and Roland have a very clever novelty musical act, the gentleman with his eccentric violin doing some remarkably good imitations of the bagpipes, the ukulele and the 'cello, with a whistling accompaniment, and making fiddle 'talk' with great effect. The girl has a saxaphone number, with clarionet assistance from her 'Harold Lloyd' companion, in a jazz medley which concludes an entertaining offering.

AT THE ROYAL.

The big six reel feature entitled, "Courage," now on at the Royal Theatre, is a wonderful production of art and drama combined. This play tells realistically the vivid story of a woman's devotion for her husband under trials that would strain and break love in most similar tests. A short synopsis of the story is as follows: A young married man is engineer and expert chemist in a big Scotch iron foundry who has risen rapidly in his employer's esteem. The employer has taken out patents in his own name on the young man's inventions and one day dismisses the engineer for insufficient reasons. The old man refuses to pay his discharged engineer anything for the patents on the latter's inventions. A quarrel ensues over this injustice. The old man's son having lost heavily at the race track, with a friend who is a gambler calls at the foundry to raise money. The old man is shot by the two and circumstantial evidence leads to conviction of the engineer, who is sentenced for life on a charge of manslaughter. As the years roll by the engineer's wife, assisetd by her son, builds up a huge plant for making steel and chemicals in England. The son, who has been kept in ignorance that his father is a convict, is about to be knighted for services rendered the nation during the war. The son is engaged to the daughter of a man high in governmental circles, who finds out his prospective son-in-law has a convict father and tries to stop the marriage. The convict's innocence is established. The former convict is given an honored place in society, the son marries the girl of his heart, the re-united older couple have a second honeymoon, and everything is lovely! joy! wedding bells! Wassail! The sixth episode of "Breaking Through" shows Bettina in dare-devil stunts that prove a girl may have the face of an angel and the dexterity of a monkey. The Toonerville Comedy is a corker! Miss Snoop, the Toonerville official killjoy, hires a prohibition spotter to watch "the skipper," who runs the suburban trolley car, the one and only car of the whole system. They see the skipper as his car crosses a bridge fish a crock from the river by a forty foot rope. The skipper is given a hint that Miss Snoop is after him and, hiding in the thicket, watches the lady and the detective find and sample his crock "just so they can establish a case in court." He takes the two over-zealous ones to the Toonerville hoosgow in a condition best described as hors de combat. The Toonerville fire brigade's first official attempt at fire fighting is irresistibly funny.

AT THE REGENT.

"SINS OF ROSANNE."
Ethel Clayton in Startling Story of South Africa.

A South African story by Cynthia Stockley serves as Ethel Clayton's latest Paramount vehicle, "Sins of Rosanne." The picture pleased the audience last evening at the Regent Theatre, where it opened a three days' run.

Miss Clayton plays the most unusual film heroine seen in many moons. Saved from death as an infant by an old Malay woman, the daughter of a wealthy English widow living near the Kimberley diamond mines grows into womanhood imbued by the Malay with an insatiable craving for bright stones. This leads her into a diamond smuggling scheme, in which she is the accomplice of a sinister jeweler. But romance enters her life and, after exciting adventures, she is freed from the Malay's influence and becomes her real self.

"Sins of Rosanne" attracts by the unusual character of its story and by the sterling work of Miss Clayton in the heroine's role. The cast also includes Jack Holt and Fred Malatesta. Tom Forman directed the picture, and Mary H. O'Connor was the scenarist.

BANKERS STAY IN CITY LEAGUE

Bankers are in the City Hockey League to stick and the financiers will endeavour to come through with a win against C.G.E. Toolroom to-morrow night. Lornie Rose was a valuable ability for the Bankers' lineup until he was hurt in last night's game, but he will now have to rest.

After Bankers' sorry showing against the champions last week; their team's future was doubtful and the City League Executive got in touch with the Lakefield Intermediate O.H.A. team with a view to having the Bankerners represented in the league. But the Bankers are determined to make a big effort to get a winning team together, and they will be out there with plenty of "pep" to-morrow night. The Bankers and C.G.E. game will start at eight o'clock. (City League Time).

A Battle Here

Lakeviews and Hamilton meet in the second game. It will be a hummer. Jerry Coughlin's edict that his Junior O.H.A. forward line must be spectators, means that Hamiltons lose Eddie Foley and Lakeviews, Ernie Legon. While both teams are, however, well equipped with subs, the changes in the line-ups adds a new interest to the game and right now nobody knows which team will land the honors.

Coombs as Referee

The League Executive is in conversation with Ellwood Coombs, of the Lindsay O.H.A. Intermediates to secure his services as referee. So keen is the competition that it is deemed advisable not to use a local referee. Walter Smaill is willing to handle the games, but after giving the matter considerable thought, the P.A.A.A. have requested the City Hockey League to relieve the Director of Athletics of the job.

BASKET BALL

On Saturday afternoon the Intermediate School Class defeated Breyfogle and Co's team in a snappy game of basket ball. The Seniors were full of confidence but when the smoke of this tidy argument had arisen the youngsters had defeated them to the tune of 42-31.

The line-up was as follows:

Senior School

B. Breyfogle, centre; D. Young, right forward; F. Green, left forward; C. Miller, right defence; B. Cowan, left defence; E. Finley, subs.

Intemediate School

J. Pogue, centre; H. Young, right forward; D. Loomis, left forward; B. Copping, right defence; O. Martin, left defence.

The Lakeview City League team will practise at Brock street rink after the Junior O.H.A. game to-night. A full attendance is requested.

Y.M.C.A. Closes Up Year With Balance

MOST SATISFACTORY YEAR IN THE HISTORY OF THE INSTITUTION—PLANS FOR INCREASED ACCOMMODATION.

REPORTS EOR YEAR

A balance in the bank, a building free of all debt and the prospects of a substantial extension to the present building and equipment of the Y.M.C.A. were some of the pleasing features of the annual meeting of the institution which was held last evening. Mr. T. Barre occupied the chair in the absence of Mr. G. A. Gillespie, president, who is overseas at present. Reports were read by the heads of the various departments and all indicated a healthy and substantial growth. The officers of the institutions were commended for their efficient administration and hope was expressed that soon they would have larger quarters in which to develope the various activities of the "Y".

Tentative plans for a new building to be erected to the south of the present building, have been prepared and this year may see an effort to advance this work.

The Annual Reports

Mr. G. H. Roper, general secretary, presenting his annual report went on to show that the membership has been maintained at practically the same record as the previous year. The dormitories have been filled to capacity practically all the year. The financial condition of the Association is very satisfactory. The building presents an attractive appearance for which thanks are due Mr. and Mrs. James. The religious work has been given thoughtful consideration and no apology need be offered for the work of this department. The staff expressed their appreciation of the support and co-operation of the Board of Directors.

Mr. D. Loomis presented the annual report of the Physical Department. The past year has been a good one in this department. The senior team won the Intermediate championship of Ontario, season 1920-1921. Two teams are entered in the Junior City Hockey League.

The secretary of the Boys' Department, Mr. F. McNeely presented his report. The observation tours to the various industries of the city were interesting and instructive. The Boys' camp held at Elmhurst farm was successful in every way.

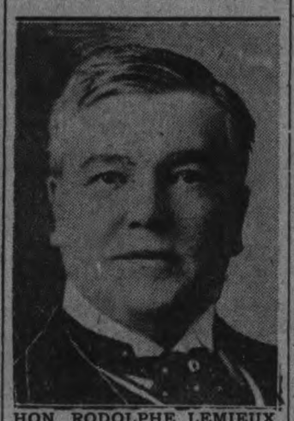
The women's auxiliary supplied towels, sheets and pillow cases for the dormitories, besides some new curtains. $194.10 was raised during the year.

The four directors whose terms expire were re-elected as follows—Messrs. W. R. Breyfogle, H. B. Cowan, J. Hamilton, E. Worth.

The constitution was amended to provide for an increase in the directorate from 12 to 18. The six new members were elected as follows.—Messrs. G. A. Macdonald, P. P. Westby, H. R. H. Kenner, B. D. Hall, R. Denne, H. E. Hodgens.

The statistical report showed that last year was the most successful in the history of the Association, the end of the year showing a balance in the bank.

THE NEW SPEAKER



HON. RODOLPHE LEMIEUX,
Prominent Liberal, who will be the Speaker of the House of Commons.

THE CEMETERY BOARD MEETING

WILLIAM FORD, FORMER SUPERINTENDENT OF LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY GAVE AN ADDRESS

The shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company held their annual meeting last night in the City Council Chamber.

The secretary, Mr. F. Brownscombe, read the minutes of the last meeting. The President, Mr. T. H. G. Denne, read his report, the secretary, Mr. F. Brownscombe, presented the financial statement, after which the superintendent, Mr. W. James, read his report.

Cutting Grass.

Mr. Wm. Ford, former superintendent of the Little Lake Cemetery, addressed the meeting. Mr. Ford is at present superintendent of the Mount Pleasant Cemetery in Toronto. He thought that the lot owners should pay for the cutting of the grass, which is now done free, and suggested that the borders around the lots be discontinued as they mean a lot of extra trouble in cutting the grass. Every lot owner he continued, should leave a sum of money to the perpetual care fund in order to create a fund to cover the expense of looking after the cemetery when all the lots are filled. When Mr. Ford first took charge of the Mount Pleasant Cemetery the roads were composed chiefly of clay, and although the company was not in the best of circumstances he made it a point to have the roads through the cemetery improved at once to meet the increased wear and tear caused by the automobile traffic. Mr. Ford thought the roads in Little Lake Cemetery ought to have some more permanent bed than gravel or cinders, which he stated were only makeshifts. The notice, "Automobiles Prohibited," should be taken down, he thought, but this suggestion met with a number of objections. Mr. Ford further advised at least a 25 per cent. increase in the price of the lots, but here again no action was taken.

A vote of thanks to the directors for their services was moved by Mr. Ford and seconded by Mr. G. Rackham.

Old Board Re-Elected.

It was moved by Mr. Wm. Ford and seconded by Mr. Malcolm McIntyre, that the old board of directors be re-elected. This motion carried with the amendment proposed by President T. H. G. Denne that a new president be elected.

It was moved by Mr. Denne and seconded by Mr. W. G. Morrow, that Mr. A. Stevenson, the former Vice-President, be elected President. Carried.

A motion that Mr. W. G. Morrow be elected Vice-President was moved by Mr. Denne and seconded by Mr. H. Rush, and carried.

Moved by Mr. Denne and seconded by Mr. B. E. Ackerman, that Mr. T. A. Quartermaine and Mr. F. A. Hall be re-elected Auditors. This carried.

Directors Meet.

The shareholders' meeting was adjourned and a meeting of the new directors here followed.

Moved by Mr. Denne, and seconded by Mr. B. Shortly, that the President and the Secretary make arrangements with the Bank of Toronto for the rental of a safety deposit box, and that the securities of the company be transferred to the bank. Carried.

The directors for the coming year are: Messrs. A. Stevenson, W. G.

NO MOTOR CAR MARKERS FOR THIS CITY YET

"NO REASON IN THE WORLD WHY THEY SHOULD NOT HAVE ARRIVED" SAYS LICENSE ISSUER LINDSAY.

TORONTO SEEMS FAVORED

"There's no reason in the world they couldn't send them down here in December and we'd be ready to issue them the first of the year the same as they do in Toronto," said H. P. Lindsay, official issuer of auto licenses, referring to the markers that have not arrived in Peterboro yet. And still there is no sign of them coming, although Toronto motorists have been "sporting" them for two weeks now.

"We receive no word when they're coming and we never know when to expect them; but it seems to me they should be here now," Mr. Lindsay remarked. Last year the licenses came on the 18th of the month.

One or two local motorists have received markers through Toronto. It seems that the designers are still struggling towards the ideal and this year have brought out a plate that should move the police court revenue up a peg. After trying out all the colours of the spectum the artists have fallen back on the basic black and white.

This year's evolution has larger letters than the 1921 motor license plate, with its tiny letter which taxed the ocular powers of traffic officers in a way that reduced the earnings on the Motor Vehicles Act disastrously. The letters are now raised, otherwise the numbers are much the same as those of 10 years ago.

PLEDGES TO LEAGUE WERE QUITE LIBERAL

Mrs. Charles Alexander, widow of the noted evangelist and hymn writer now deceased, held a meeting in St. Paul's Church last night in the interests of the Pocket Testament League. There was a large attendance and pledges to the League were liberally made. Rev. F. A. Robinson, secretary of the Evangelistic Committee of the Presbyterian Church presided and led the song service.

Mrs. Alexander announced she would make no formal address, but told in an informal talk of her husband's interest in the League, and outlined its early beginning and its gradual spread through the civilized world. Beginning in England about 16 years ago, the increased interest in the Bible had spread to every country. Mrs. Alexander took present interest of the secular press magazines and in the Bible as an optimistic sign, although she thought some of the discussions might be harmful.

From her observations she believed the reading of God's word was a great a factor in evangelical work, as appeals from the pulpit, and she told of many persons who had been saved through reading a portion of Scripture daily. She advised every man and woman and child to 'get enough to make a real spiritual meat on for the good of your soul". But she advised members not to be ostentatious in carrying the Pocket Testament. "If it were not for that book and what it contains based on the saving promises of God, I don't think I'd be here to-night," Mrs. Alexander said.

This was Mrs. Alexander's first visit to Canada in 11 years. A meeting was held in Toronto Saturday and Sunday and in Barrie on Monday and meetings will be held in Toronto, Guelph, and Grimsby before she returns to Buffalo for Sunday.

Leonard C. Vokes, a remarkable pianist who accompanied the late Mr. Alexander during the last four years of his life in all parts of the world and particularly in army camps played last night and sang with Mrs. Alexander.

Charles Alexander was one of the greatest English hymn writers and wrote the famous "Glory" song. He died a few years ago. He with one or two others launched the Pocket Testament League.

THE KIWANIANS DISCUSS PLANS FOR NEW PARK

SOME OF MEMBERS NOT IN FAVOUR OF CLUB ASSUMING THE ENTIRE BURDEN--VIEWS EXPRESSED AT MEETING.

"I am not favorable to the Kiwanis Club taking it over if its going to entail too heavy a burden on the club. I think we should get other organizations to co-operate and have a memorial park there rather than a Kiwanis park." J. J. Duffus told the Kiwanis Club yesterday when the park project was being discussed.

Favors Co-operation.

"I am in favor of the club buying the property, but other organizations 'going in' on the development," said Dr. J. E. Middleton.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., told the Kiwanis Club he was opposed to buying the park, as the city was well parked already, and he considered the club could render greater service in assisting in developing Riverside Park, recently acquired by the city.

At yesterday's Kiwanis meeting J. I. Allen was welcomed into the club.

Hermit, 94, Found Dead, Clad in Rags; Had $1,000 Hid in Walls and 25 Suits

HICKSVILLE, L.I., January 18. — A thousand dollars in silver and mouldering notes was found here when the dilapidated two-room house, occupied for fifty years by Thomas Baldwin, a hermit, 94 years old, was torn down. The money had been secreted in the walls, in corners, and in the cellar under pots and pans.

Baldwin was found dead in bed on Saturday by a neighbour, Martin Blyman, who went to the house with food for the recluse.

Coroner Charles H. Stoll found that death was caused by pneumonia, from which the old man had been suffering for a week. The dead hermit lay dressed in rags, although twenty-five good suits were hanging in his room.

The demolition of Baldwin's house began on Saturday afternoon on the orders of Coroner Stoll. The house was in a clump of woods south-east of the town, and it was feared that vagrants sleeping there might start a fire. Most of the money was found to-day, wrapped in bits of newspapers. It had been rumoured that the old man had buried gold in his cellar, but no trace of it has been found. Some of the money found in the cellar was so mouldy that it had disintegrated. The remnants were gathered up and taken to a bank, from which they will be sent to Washington for redemption.

Half a century ago Baldwin inherited the house and thirteen acres from an uncle. He cultivated only enough ground to supply him with vegetables throughout the summer and potatoes for the winter. Little is known of his life before he came here, but it is supposed that he was engaged in shipbuilding. He seldom spoke to his neighbours, and never confided in any one. It is said he was rational up to within a short time of his death. One of his peculiarities was an aversion to going into the town.

He is said to have had a sister living in Jamaica, West Indes. He was buried yesterday afternoon in the Hicksville Cemetery.

Unemployment Relief Is Being Distributed

CERTIFICATES ARE BEING ISSUED AT THE CITY HALL—APPLICANT MUST BE UNABLE TO OBTAIN WORK IN THE REGULAR WAY —COMMITTEE HELD MEETING

THE PROBABLE COST

The dispensation of unemployment relief under the same system as last year began yesterday, the Provincial government having arranged through the local Provincial Labour Bureau to issue certificates to the unemployed as they did a year ago. City Relief Officer F. W. Miller will honour these certificates. At a meeting of the 1922 Unemployment Relief committee which is headed by Ald. Dr. W. T. Holloway, yesterday afternoon, it was decided to follow practically the same procedure as last year. Only persons that resided here before Nov. 1 will benefit as a result of a motion passed by Ald. N. Phelan, who declared that a restriction of this kind was necessary or families would be flocking here from all parts.

There were present at the meeting, Mayor W. H. Taylor, Ald. N. E. Phelan, Ald. Robert Morrison and Ald. Holloway. The chairman went into complete details of how the Provincial government had finally combined in a scheme for relief on a similar basis to last year and the Labor Bureau here had received authority after unusual delay to use the last year's certificates until new ones arrived. "So it's started," said Ald. Holloway.

Cost of Relief.

F. W. Miller was asked if he could make an estimate of the probable cost of the unemployment relief to the city. Mr. Miller said that in a week or two he would have a fair idea of how many applicants might be expected. Yesterday, he said, there were only a few, due probably to the men not knowing the programme had commenced. Last year Ald. Phelan, late chairman of the committee, said that $1700 was expended of an appropriation of $2,000. Mr. Miller, it was understood, will give an estimate of what is required to the committee before the year's civic appropriations are made up.

The Relief Officer was directed to give unemployment relief on receiving the certificate from the local Provincial Labour Bureau that the person applying cannot obtain work; the amount to be given to be decided by the Chairman and Relief officer, according to the circumstances of the applicant and on investigation showing that relief is required.

Notify Government.

Ald. Phelan and Ald. Morrison put through a motion that the city clerk write to the Minister of Labour for the Dominion and Province and explain that this city is giving unemployment relief by the same methods as last year through a committee of Council and the City Relief Officer, upon receiving certificates from the local Provincial Labour Bureau that the applicant cannot obtain employment and ask if this is satisfactory.

Ald. Phelan and Ald. Morrison also fathered the motion that all orders be signed by the chairman or by the Relief Officer under his direction, and Ald. Phelan put through a resolution that the Relief Officer divide the orders for fuel and groceries among the various dealers as evenly as possible. "It will show we're trying to distribute the business," he declared. "I think the little fellows should be helped," the chairman said. "I'd like to see them all get a little of it," added the Mayor. "I think that's all right," commented Ald. Morrison.

ANNUAL MEETING OF MURRAY STREET

The annual meeting of Murray Street Baptist Church will be held to-night.

It is earnestly desired that every member of the church be present. The reports of all departments have been prepared in concise form, and the meeting will not be lengthy.

The new officers for the year 1922 will be named, and altogether a most interesting hour is anticipated.

OPERA COMPANY FACES A DEFICIT

NEW MANAGEMENT WILL DIRECT AFFAIRS OF CHICAGO GRAND OPERA COMPANY--THE COST OF HIGH BROW MUSIC.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18. —The high cost of producing grand opera will result in a deficit of more than $800,000 in the financial affairs of the Chicago Grand Opera Company this season, it is estimated by members of the newly-formed association which will handle the company's business next season.

This deficit, said to be the largest ever contracted by any opera company is in a single season, will be met by Harold McCormick and Edith Rockefeller McCormick, recently divorced from him. The McCormicks agreed five years ago to cover the annual deficit until May, 1922, but Mr. McCormick has announced that after that time he no longer will be responsible for the losses.

Mrs. McCormick, however, was said to have agreed to stand at least part of any loss next season.

Under New Management.

Mary Garden, director, has been given a contract for 1922-23, but the business affairs will be under new management, Samuel Insull heading an association through which it is planned to have a large number of guarantors instead of just Mr. and Mrs. McCormick.

The McCormicks are on the board of directors of the new organization, and while not standing the entire loss, will retain their interest in the company's affairs.

Friends of Miss Garden declared that the deficit was caused purely through the suggestions of the McCormicks that Miss Garden spare no expense in making their last year as guarantors the greatest on record. On the other hand, there were some, opposed to Miss Garden as director who charged that "petticoat management" had been instrumental in increasing the deficit. Giorgi Polacco, orchestra conductor, was backed by one clique for the directorship, but Miss Garden was re-engaged for next season.

Deficit Explained.

In explaining the heavy deficit, it was said that more singers had been engaged than could be used, many under contract never having appeared and others drawing weekly salaries although only singing at widely separated intervals.

During the latter part of last year when it became known that the deficit was likely to be unusually large, the opera company was reorganized and a new business manager appointed. At that time it was estimated that the deficit might reach $1,000,000 although the opera was drawing the largest crowds in its history.

Later figures indicated that the loss on the Chicago season, which ends next week would be $600,000, and it was estimated that the New York trip, which follows, would result in a $200,000 deficit. The total deficit last year was $375000. .. ...

THE BISHOP ADDRESSED THE LEAGUE

FIRST MEETING OF THE DIOCESAN SUB-DIVISION OF THE CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE HELD HERE —ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

BANQUET AT NIGHT

The first meeting of the Peterboro diocesan sub-division of the Catholic Women's League was held here yesterday with delegates present from Peterboro and the surrounding districts. The business session, at which officers were elected for the diocese, was held in the afternoon at the residence of Mrs. James V. Gallivan, Fleming Place, president of the local branch of the League.

The meeting was addressed by His Lordship, Right Rev. M. J. O'Brien, Bishop of Peterboro, who recorded his pleasure at being present and congratulated the officers and members of the different subdivisions on their excellent work during the year.

His Lordship, saying that interest in the work would be kept alive in the smaller centres by discussion of questions of public interest, stressed the necessity of consideration of the disabilities under which the Separate Schools of Ontario were laboring. He felt that if the people of Ontario understood the act of 1863, in its application to Ontario and Quebec both and realize how fully and generously Quebec had carried out the minds of the Fathers of Confederation, in regard to Separate schools for the minority, that they would not hesitate to show the same fairness to the minority in Ontario. Supporters of the Separate schools should study the question thoroughly and explain it whenever occasion arose.

His Lordship also exhorted the members of the League to ally themselves with every effort making for good citizenship and all movements tending toward a strong and united Dominion.

Election of Officers.

Election of officers for the Peterboro diocesan sub-division resulted as follows:

Pres., Mrs. J. B. Gough, Lindsay.
1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. James V. Gallivan, Peterboro.
2nd Vice-Pres., Mrs. Wm. Young, Ennismore.
3rd Vice-Pres., Mrs. N. E. Phelan, Peterboro.
Recording Secretary, Miss Margaret J. Heffernan, Peterboro.
Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. J. Walsh, Lindsay.
Treasurer, Mrs. G. J. Elmsley, Lakefield.
Councillors—Presidents of the different district sub-divisions.

BULL-DOG DRUMMOND
BY "SAPPER"
(CYRIL McNEILE)

For a while he stared in front of him lost in his dream of pleasant anticipation; then, with a short laugh, he pulled himself together.

"Quite a few people have thought the same, Captain," he remarked, "and there he is—still drinking high-balls. You say he was with a crowd of revolutionaries last night. What do you mean exactly?"

"Bolshevists, Anarchists, members of the Do-no-work-and-have-all-the-money Brigade," answered Hugh. "But excuse me a moment. Waiter."

A man who had been hovering round came up promptly.

"Four of 'em, Ted," said Hugh in a rapid undertone. "Frenchman with a beard, a Yank, and two Boches. Do your best."

"Right-o, old bean!" returned the waiter, "but don't hope for too much."

He disappeared unobstrusively into the restaurant, and Hugh turned with a laugh to the American, who was staring at him in amazement.

"Who the devil is that guy?" asked the detective at length.

"Ted Jerningham—son of Sir Patrick Jerningham, Bart., and Lady Jerningham, of Jerningham Hall, Rutland, England," answered Hugh, still grinning. "We may be crude in our methods, Mr. Green, but you must admit we do our best. Incidentally, if you want to know, your friend Mr. Potts is at present tucked between the sheets at that very house. He went there by aeroplane this morning." He waved a hand towards Jerry. "He was the pilot."

"Travelled like a bird, and sucked up a plate of meat-juice at the end," announced that worthy, removing his eyes with difficulty from a recently arrived fairy opposite. "Who says that's nothing, Hugh; the filly across the road there, with that bangle affair round her knee?"

"I must apologise for him, Mr. Green," remarked Hugh. "He has only recently left school, and knows no better."

"Crude!" he murmured, "crude! If you and your pals, Captain, are ever out of a job, the New York police is yours for the asking." He smoked for a few moments in silence, and then, with a quick hunch of his shoulders, he turned to Drummond. "I guess there'll be time to throw bouquets after," he remarked. "We've got to get busy on what your friend Peterson's little worry is; we've then got to stop it—some old how. Now, does nothing sort of strike you?" He looked keenly at the soldier. "Revolutionaries, Bolsheviats, paid agitators last night; international financiers this evening. Why, the broad outline of the plan is as plain as the nose on your face; and it's just the sort of game that man would love." The detective stared thoughtfully at the end of his cigar, and a look of comprehension began to dawn on Hugh's face.

"Great Scott! Mr. Green," he said. "I'm beginning to get you. What was defeating me was, why two men like Peterson and Lakington should be mixed up with last night's crowd."

"Lakington! who's Lakington?" asked the other quickly.

"Number Two in the combine," answered Hugh, "and a nasty man."

"Well, we'll leave him out for the moment," said the American. "Doesn't it strike you that there are quite a number of people in this world who would benefit if England became a sort of second Russia? That such a thing would be worth 'money—big money? That such a thing would be worth paying through the nose for? It would have to be done properly; your small strike here, and your small strike there, ain't no manner of use. One gigantic syndicalist strike all over your country—that's what Peterson's playing for, I'll stake my bottom dollar. How he's doing it is another matter. But he's in with the big financiers: and he's using the tub-thumping Bolshies as tools. Gad! It's a big scheme,"—he puffed twice at his cigar—"a durned big scheme. Your little old country, Captain, is, saving one, the finest on God's earth; but she's in a funny mood. She's sick, like most of us are; maybe she's a little bit sicker than a good many people think. But I reckon Peterson's cure won't do any manner of good, excepting to himself and those blamed capitalists who are putting up the dollars."

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millerdale, Sask., writes:—"I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful for your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better.

I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I was in pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken, however he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out every day, but I soon got so I could walk and eat and have got quite stout.

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework.

You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."

PETERBOROUGH ROUTED LAKEFIELD IN THE DISTRICT CUP GROUP FINAL

BIG SCORE AGAINST NORTHERN CLUB'S RINKS — KEENE GAVE PETERBORO CLOSE CALL IN EXTRA END GAME—MILLBROOK WAS EASY FOR LAKEFIELD.

WINNERS MEET LINDSAY

Peterborough won the local group of the District Cup curling series on Tuesday evening, defeating Lakefield by the top-heavy score of 60 to 14. Four clubs were represented in the draw—Keene, Millbrook, Lakefield and Peterborough—but in the first round Lakefield eliminated Millbrook without much trouble, but Keene forced Peterborough into an extra end after a determined fight through the regulation eighteen ends. Fred. Eason and Jack Moore had Walter Oke and J. W. Fraser groggy on the fifteenth, but they lacked the punch to carry them through. Oke especially distinguished himself by cool and steady work on the tee. He went about the final end with the purpose of getting every last counter out of it, and with two on the button laid his last stone alongside them even when the situation on his partner's rink looked a little doubtful. Fraser held Jack Moore to a one-shot lead, concluding the best set of games of the series.

Lakefield's rinks, with the usually brilliant Ridpath and Strickland directing them, jolted John Steele and R. H. Edmunds of Millbrook with scores almost as heavy as they themselves got in the finals with Peterborough. The northerners were on edge in the morning, but the afternoon session was a rout. Neither of the Lakefield rinks was up to anything like its usual form, and the breaks seemed to go dead against them. Fraser hung a seven and also a six end on Strickland, after the Lakefield skip had kicked out his shot while trying to improve his position in each of these ends. The visitors hung on gamely and went the whole route, even when the result was obviously beyond their reach.

The First Round.

In the first round Lakefield defeated Millbrook by the score of 41 to 22 and Keene lost to Peterborough by 34 to 32 in an extra-end game. The rinks were as follows:

Tied It Up.

Both the Lakefield rinks won handily, getting away with a jump and increasing the gap, although the Millbrook skips battled for every end.

It was the Peterborough-Keene games that provided the excitement for the small mid-day crowd. The official eighteen-end game found both teams tied, requiring each pair of opponents to play an extra end. Jack Moore's rink was three up on J. W. Fraser, but Walter Oke saved the situation on the adjoining ice by hanging a margin of three shots on Fred. Eason.

The Moore-Fraser game was finished first with Peterborough three down in that section, and at that stage Oke was up four. All around, Peterborough was then up one, but two perfect draw shots by "Bob" Nelson, viceing for Eason, gave Keene one end, and sent all four rinks back for an extra. In that frame Moore came through with one shot, but Oke defeated Eason by three, leaving Peterborough up two. Walter Oke's final stones were fine examples of brilliant curling. In fact, the last four ends gave Oke 7 shots to Eason's 2, and kept them in the running for the play-off with Lakefield.

DELAY GOING TO ELECTORS

LLOYD GEORGE CELEBRATES HIS FIFTY-NINTH BIRTHDAY—POLITICAL ACTIVITY IN THE OLD COUNTRY.

THE COMING BUDGET

LONDON, January 18 (Canadian Press). — Premier Lloyd-George yesterday celebrated his fifty-ninth birthday. He was inundated with congratulations, but spent most of the day in preparing a speech for delivery on Saturday before an important Coalition Liberal Conference beginning on Friday, when he is expected to make a party pronouncement.

A week ago it was assumed that this would take the form of announcing the dissolution of Parliament in February, but the political experts now for the most part agree that the fall of the Briand Cabinet, entailing disarrangement of the results hoped for from the Cannes meeting, has induced the Premier to abandon his hope of early elections.

Nevertheless, party activity this week is at white heat; the party organisers have been exceedingly busy in making preparations should the Prime Minister make another lightning change in his plans so that they may not be caught unawares. The Unionist revolt against the Premier is unabated, in the determination to oppose elections until the power of veto has been restored to the House of Lords.

A large meeting of the so-called Upionist reconstruction committee was held at the Carlton Club, the Conservative headquarters, and unanimously adopted a resolution to this effect. There will be numerous party conferences and speeches during the week.

Cross-Currents.

Legislation putting into effect the Irish settlement has a deal to do with the situation. It is believed that the Prime Minister's decision for February elections was based on the idea that partial repeal, or placing in abeyance of the Home Rule Act of 1920, could be achieved by a mere executive order, but it is stated that the Government's legal advisers are of the opinion that Parliamentary sanction is needed for such changes or postponements as are necessary for putting into force the Irish Treaty. Hence, not only a Bill for the enactment of the new Irish Free State, but another measure, modifying the Act of 1920, must be passed, and it is therefore supposed that no dissolution will be possible before April or May.

This means that the Budget must be presented to Parliament before dissolution and as, after a year of heavy trade and industrial depression, the Budget estimates are expected to be of a somewhat unfavourable character, interest centres in the report prepared by the Economy Committee, headed by Sir Eric Geddes, which has been studying how to achieve drastic departmental retrenchment. This report is now under examination by two committees, headed by Austen Chamberlain and Winston Spencer Churchill respectively, and is expected to be published shortly.

DUG UP FORTUNE.

PARIS, Jan. 18. — (Associated Press.)—Detectives have just dug up 360,000 francs, plunder of a clerk of the Bank of France who hid it in four preserve jars and buried them in different spots in the Park of Versailles in this city.

He fled to Brussels where he was arrested with 14,000 francs in his possession. He revealed the hiding places of the jars containing the other 360,000 francs.

MINERS WILL RESIST CUT

PRESIDENT JOHN LEWIS DECLARES THERE CAN BE NO BACKWARD STEP—NEW WAGE CONTRACTS

MANY MEN IDLE

SHAMOKIN, Pa., January 18. — Canadian Press. — It is idle to talk of reducing the wages of the coal miners of the United States, International President John W. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, told the Anthracite Wage Convention, which opened here yesterday.

He recognized, he said, that there "is an organized propaganda to reduce the wages of the miners, but there can be no backward step in the progress of the United Mine Workers of America."

If an industrial conflict must come to protect the interests of the mine workers and guard their honor," Mr. Lewis declared, "then an industrial conflict must come."

The mine workers of the country, President Leyis added, stand ready and willing to negotiate new wage contracts in the bituminous and anthracite fields to replace those that expire on March 31st, and if the operators of the company will not respond to the invitation then there will be no contracts and the responsibility will not rest with the United Mine Workers.

"It is idle to talk about reducing the wages of the men in the face of the fact that approximately 200,000 miners in the soft coal fields are now idle and many other thousands are working broken time," Mr. Lewis said.

INVESTIGATION INTO STORY OF HANGINGS WITHOUT TRIAL OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS—NEGROES LYNCHED.

BURIAL METHODS

WASHINGTON, January 18 (Canadian Press), — After presentation of testimony by way of denial War Department records submitted here to the Senate Committee investigating charges that American soldiers had been hanged without trial in France, showed that on the bodies of two men dug up in the little cemetery at Bazoilles, the ropes and black caps in which they were put to death on the gallows had not been removed prior to burial.

Edwin E. Lamb, a colonel overseas, testified that in the case of one of the men hanged the body was placed quickly in the coffin, and so far as he recalled, the rope and cap were left just where the hangman had placed them. But in both cases other witnesses declared, they were removed from the bodies when being prepared for shipment home to relatives.

Senator Watson, Georgia, whose charges concerning illegal executions led to the investigation, sharply attacked the burial of men hanged for "unmentionable crimes" alongside of soldiers who fell in battle. Asking a witness if whites and negroes were buried in the same part of the cemetery, the Senator was told that they were—that all were soldiers.

Turning from burial methods, John Sebastian, a sailor, of Jacksonville, Florida, told how, when a prisoner at Gievres, he saw the bodies of two negroes lying face down on the ground, and was informed by the guard that two negroes had been lynched. He was unable, however, to say whether the bodies were those of the men put to death by a soldier mob.

AN EVEN BREAK.

MOCOW, Jan. 18. — (Canadian Press.)—Leon Trotzky, Soviet Minister of War, addressing a meeting in the Moscow Opera House yesterday for the betterment of the Red Army discussed the international situation in general and alluded to the prospective economic conference at Genoa.

Trotzy said the resignation of the Briand Cabinet might result in another attempt on the part of France to defeat Soviet Russia, but on the other hand, France might lend herself to an agreement for rebuilding Russia in order to prevent England from getting the supremacy there. He declared it was about an even chance which way the tide would turn.

A FINE STROKE OF BUSINESS.

The best piece of public business the Drury Government has been responsible for since the U.F.O.-Labor party came into the seats of the mighty was the timber probe, which has produced results that represent a huge sum saved to the people of this Province. The investigation has been amply justified if only for the outcome of the Shevlin-Clarke Company's case, in which Mr. Justice Logie has delivered judgment confirming the claim advanced by the Ontario Government for more than a million dollars in stumpage. The evidence brought out before the Riddell-Latchford Commission led to the action entered by the Province, and the agreement between the company and the Hearst Government would in all probability have never been checked up or attacked had it not been for the revelations made during the timber probe. Mr. Justice Logie has decided not only that the agreement is invalid because it was made without public competition and because it was granted for a longer term than the statutes authorize, but he has also ruled that the Province should be paid stumpage at the rate of $17.60 per thousand feet, intead of $7 per thousand feet, which was the fee fixed by the agreement. As a result, the people of Ontario will recover $169,991.29, representing stumpage arrears on timber already cut, and will receive $10.60 per thousand more than the old rate on all the timber that will be cut in future. As the total cut will be one hundred million feet, the gain to the Province as a result of the successful action will exceed one million dollars. The Examiner has not seen eye to eye with the Ontario Government in all its actions or legislation, but must congratulate the U.F.O. administration upon the splendid results of its wisdom in delving into Ontario's timber operations. It will not be forgotten that Mr. Hartley Dewart first brought the necessity of this step to the public attention.

THE BOYS' COUNCIL PLAN.

In a number of Ontario cities a council of boys is being established and elections for the mayoralty and council are being held along the usual lines, the boy candidates carrying on an animated campaign in the newspapers and from the platform. No finer scheme for the education of the youngsters of Canada in the sadly neglected matter of civic government has been brought forward. The boys learn to discuss public questions, to talk before an audience. They are brought into touch with the machinery of municipal government, they are being educated to exercise their franchise and to take an intelligent interest in the affairs of their home city. Compulsory voting has been urged as a necessary remedy for the apathy that exists among the electorate in many cities, but it is doubtful if such a system would prove effective. Education as to the desirability of displaying an intelligent interest in municipal government is the only solution of the problem, and the boys' council idea seems to be the most likely system of education along such lines that could be devised. And it should bring results in other ways as well, for we find the boy candidates in many cities advocating more swimming beaches, better playing grounds and other facilities of the same kind, and their agitation for these things is bound to have a good effect. City councils sometimes need a little effective prodding to arouse them to realization of the fact that their duty does not consist merely of providing pavements and sewers and that there are other requisites that should be provided. With the live boys of their communities eager to bring such matters to their attention, the aldermen should receive some valuable inspiration from the boys' council. From the ranks of the latter, too, there should be valuable material for future civic governments. Peterborough should keep its eyes closely upon the results in other cities, for the experiment looks well worth a trial here.

CANADA'S MURDERED SAILORS.

In providing an endowment fund for pensions for the widows and children of Canadians who lost their lives while serving in the Mercantile Marine during the war, the Navy League of Canada is doing a splendid work, and this most worthy cause is commended to the generosity of the citizens of Peterborough. At the same time, The Examiner cannot help but feel that the nation as a whole should recognize this just debt and see to it that Canada indicates her gratitude in a tangible manner. The new Government at Ottawa would do well to consider this question. The men who risked their lives in the Mercantile Marine were to all intents and purposes as much fighting men as were the sailors in the Navy. When the German submarine menace was at its worst not a merchant ship left port that her crew did not have to face death from the treacherous undersea boats that stabbed from the depths of the ocean. The sailors of the Mercantile Marine did not flinch from the peril they knew lurked in their path; they "carried on," and some of them more than once had the experience of having their ship torpedoed beneath them. But they went back once more, and many of them did not return. They were murdered by the Prussian pirates, and here in Canada the families they left behind are abandoned by the nation for which their lives were sacrificed. Many of them are in dire distress, and were it not for the Navy League's work their outlook would be black indeed. Peterborough people who are in a position to assist should do what they can for the Navy League. At the same time, pressure should be brought to bear upon the Dominion Government to consider the circumstances and to make some provision that will ensure the survivors of Canada's murdered sailors of the Mercantile Marine, being at least decently looked after and established in comfortable homes. It is the least a country could do for men who gave up their lives in her interests.

MUST WAIT AWHILE.

Chicago Tribune: We do not suppose the United States will get the British West Indies just at present. It got the Danish West Indies, but its best chance for the British was in 1917. We passed that and may have to wait for another, if it ever comes.

HEALTH FIRST—THEN ECONOMY.

Mayor Taylor suggested to the Board of Health the other day that they should keep their expenditures within a limit of $10,000. That would be all right if the sum is large enough to provide all the necessary precautions to protect the health of the community. There must be no skimping or cheese-paring so far as that is concerned. Toronto's Health Department is known as a million dollar one. It is costly, but it gets the results, for it has reduced the mortality rate in the Queen City to the lowest level ever reached, and has placed Toronto in a position to be able to claim to be the healthiest city of its size in the world. It has been the policy of the Toronto department that the health of the citizens was a matter that transcended all questions of cost, and that is a sound position to take. In other communities a health department is regarded as somewhat of an expensive nuisance. Councils are niggardly in their treatment of the Health Board and grudgingly pay the salary of the Medical Officer of Health, so reluctantly indeed that more than one M. O. H. has been driven to applying to the County Judge for redress. With the Mayor's plea for economy we are in accord, but the Board of Health should not be pinned down to any fixed sum. It is expected that they will not be extravagant, but at the same time it is essential that they should be efficient. If precautions are necessary they must be adopted regardless of the expenditure involved, and the board should feel free in that respect. The health of Peterborough is of more importance than a deficit in the Health Department, and much as the citizens desire the elimination of extravagance from municipal affairs they do not, The Examiner feels certain, care to see the department hampered by an attempt to confine their expenditures within a certain limit that may not be ample enough.

UNEMPLOYMENT—A NATIONAL DISEASE.

When an individual becomes ill the usual procedure is to call a doctor, who immediately endeavours to find the source of the trouble and to apply such remedies as will at once alleviate the complaint and in time cure it.

Why should not the same procedure be applicable to the disease which now affects the economic structure of the nation?

For nearly a year and a half this disease—unemployment—has been growing more and more pernicious, and still no remedy has been applied. The Federal, Provincial and municipal governing bodies, which are the doctors in the case, have passed a few desultory measures, it is true, but in effect they are only the flowers scattered about the sick-room in an effort to brighten the outlook of the invalid.

The general attitude towards unemployment seems to be that it is a very bad but necessary evil. No one seems to know why it is necessary, but it is stated by otherwise level-headed business men that every once in a while a period must come in which business cannot make profits. With no profits in sight, men refuse to invest capital. They discharge their employees and sit down to wait for better times.

An epidemic is not cured by sitting down and waiting for it to run its course. When the influenza scourge struck Canada, doctors and nurses and people in all walks of life were mobilized in order that everything possible might be done to check it. There is no doubt that this action saved thousands of lives and prevented thousands of people from having the disease.

If this method is effective in dealing with a disease, then why in the name of goodness could it not be applied to the economic disease known as unemployment?

If the governing bodies of the country could look at the problem as it affects the national finances, to say nothing of the widespread suffering and privation, they would see that it is only a matter of good business to take immediate and drastic steps to cure the disease.

The loss in wages entailed as a result of unemployment in Canada has been estimated at twice the amount raised in War and Victory Loan drives. In other words, the workers who could not work have lost millions of dollars. The subsequent losses to the various phases of the national life cannot be estimated. Industries which would have employed the men and paid the wages, have lost profits, and, in some instances, capital. Farmers have lost millions because of the decreased demand for raw materials and food stuffs, with the consequent falling prices. Merchants, railroads, and in fact every interest which serves the public have shared in the losses incurred by this business stagnation. In the final analysis, it has meant an enormous loss of the revenue which is ordinarily available for carrying on the government of the nation.

Aside from the financial aspect of the situation, there have been serious and irretrievable losses in the national health and morals.

The Federal Prime Minister and the Minister of Labor have both been quoted as saying that unemployment will be one of the first matters to occupy the attention of the Cabinet of the new Liberal administration. It is to be hoped that Mr. King and his colleagues will have the courage to strike at the root of this malignant disease, injecting the cardiac and restorative of augmented credit and good-will so that the body-economic of Canada may once again flourish in health and prosperity.—The Veteran.

THE JAPANESE DOLL IS POPULAR IN PARIS.

PARIS, January 18 (Associated Press). — Nenette and Rintintin, those funny little French dolls so long regarded as good luck charms, at last have a rival, who bids fair to be even more popular. He is Nikki, a chubby, plaintive, porcelain, Japanese doll, with painted features and sleek hair, short, fat arms, and legs full of character.

A pudgy hand holds a Japanese fan, and his eyes and mouth are wide open as if in amazement at the approaching future. Nikki is regarded as the most attractive in the claim of charms which have appeared since 1914. His quilted satin coat gives him a friendly fireside air which endears him to everyone.

Fame

Fame is the tribute which the world pays to the outstanding personalities of a year, a decade, a century. Whether a lovable Prince, a gracious Queen, a Statesman, Soldier or Scholar, Fame comes to them because each, in their way, gives of their best to make this old world a brighter and better place to live in.

Fame came to Lewis Edson Waterman because his life work was for the betterment of mankind—to make writing easy. That he successfully achieved his ambition, is proven by the millions of people who now—years after his death—continue to carry through every sphere of their daily life.

The usefulness of WATERMAN'S IDEAL FOUNTAIN PEN can never be doubted, and its popularity will never wane, for it is the something "bigger and better" that makes writing easier and more efficient.

There are many styles—for character; but only one quality—for satisfaction.

THIN, FRAIL PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE TANLAC

HUNDREDS OF MEN AND WOMEN IN PETERBOROUGH APPEAR TO BE PHYSICAL WRECKS SIMPLY BECAUSE THEIR SYSTEMS ARE STARVING FOR NOURISHMENT.

There are hundreds of thin, run-down, nervous men and women right here in Peteborough who should be strong, sturdy and vigorous, with rich, red blood tingling through their veins and feeling brimful of life and energy, if they would only profit by the experience of others all over the United States and Canada, and assist nature to digest the food they eat, by simply taking Tanlac.

Millions of people have not only been relieved of the most obstinate forms of dyspepsia and indigestion by Tanlac after other remedies have failed, but large numbers of them have reported a remarkable and rapid increase in weight and a return to normal health and strength by its use.

In fact, so phenomenal have been the gains in weight by thin, frail people through the use of Tanlac that this remarkable preparation is now being proclaimed everywhere as the World's Greatest Tonic.

The food people eat does them absolutely no good unless they digest it properly. When you suffer from indigestion and other forms of stomach trouble, the food does you harm instead of good, because food which is not digested stays in the stomach and ferments, causing pains, swelling, gas on stomach, shortness of breath, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness and many other disagreeable symptoms. If this condition is permitted to run on for an indefinite period the entire system becomes saturated with poisons, the patient becomes thin and pale and in time various complications are apt to result.

Tanlac is a powerful reconstructive tonic and quickly overcomes this condition by aiding Nature to eliminate the impurities from the system in a natural way and enable the vital organs to properly perform their functions. That is why it is called Nature's Medicine.

In fact, there is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the entire system. Next, it enables the weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest its food and convert the nourishing elements into bone, blood and muscle. The result is you feel strong, sturdy and well with the proper amount of flesh, as Nature intended.

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by the Warne Drug Co., Ltd., and by leading druggists everywhere.

If You Have $1,000 or More Read This

IT is well to have money in a Savings Bank and get 3% or 4% on it. Nobody will find fault with your prudence.

But when you consider that Governments are borrowing money at 6% and higher and that there are enterprises in which you can invest with equal safety and get 8% on your money, surely it is the height of prudence to look into such investment offerings.

A case in point, and one worthy of your immediate attention, is the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, Montreal.

This enterprise is the largest of its kind in the British Empire. There is no city in Canada where the need of such an hotel is greater, and where the earning powers of the hotel is more certain than in Montreal.

Montreal is our greatest ocean port; it is our greatest transcontinental terminus and the centre of all Canadian tourist traffic from the Eastern and Southern United States. For these reasons, then, we recommend those who have the money to consider immediately the investment of a portion of it in the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited.

By all the estimates which the United Hotels Company of America have prepared, the earnings will be not only ample to pay the interest on the Debentures, but there should be a very substantial margin available for dividends upon the Common Stock which is now given as a bonus. For, remember, King Edward Hotel Common Stock (another United Hotels enterprise) is now paying dividends at the rate of 10% per annum, although it, too, was also given away as a bonus three years ago.

In short, you may invest in the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, with the assurance that your money is safe—your 8% interest certain and your prospects good for a nice profit from your Common Stock Bonus.

The price of the Debentures is par, carrying a 30% Common Stock Bonus. Send your order now or write for full particulars. Address:

CHILD PLAYING WITH A MATCH BADLY BURNED

NARROW ESCAPE OF LITTLE CHARLES NICHOLAS, OF CAMPBELLFORD — GOOD LOCAL CONTESTS—MEMORIAL TABLET

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 18. — Carl, the little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholas, Inkerman street, met with a very painful accident on Friday. The little fellow was playing upstairs when he found a match. Igniting it, his clothes caught fire. His cries brought to his aid his mother, who had her fingers burned in extinguising the flames. The child was severely burned about the arm and side. Medical aid was at once summoned and the little fellow is now making most satisfactory progress towards recovery.

Best Hockey Yet.

On Monday night, before a crowded house of spectators, who were thrilled to a high pitch, one of the best games of hockey ever seen in Campbellford was contested. For the past couple of weeks there had been a great deal of argument as to which had the better team. The decision was reached on Monday night when the office staff defeated the field staff by the score of 6 to 3. The game was very fast throughout. The scoring started when the office netted the first goal. It was shortly after this when a few unkindly checks took place and both teams found that they were having three men placed in the penalty box, instead of on the ice. The second period was very close, the field having the edge on the play. The third period was better for the office as they scored three while the field scored one. The play during this period continued to be fast, although both teams were using substitutes frequently during this period. The referee, Mr. C. Weston, officiated in a very satisfactory manner and kept the game clean. The H.E.P.C. have now organized and expect to play numerous games throughout the season. The line-up was as follows:

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY ST. THOMAS' CHURCH ELECT OFFICERS—A WAVE OF SOCIAL EVENTS—HOCKEY TEAM IN GOOD FORM

PERSONAL MOVEMENTS

MILLBROOK, January 18.— The Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting on Saturday, 14th January, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Fred Smith. In the absence of the president, Miss E. M. Fisher, the vice-president, Mrs. Harry Armstrong, occupied the chair. During the discussion of business items the matter of holding a progressive euchre party, for the purpose of augmenting the funds on hand, was brought up, the date finally decided on being 8th February. It was also thought best to change the regular day of meeting from the second Wednesday in the month to the fourth Wednesday, hence 25th February will be the next date for an Institute business meeting, the latter to be again held at Mrs. Fred Smith's. After some further arrangements were made in connection with the next Chautauqua concert on Thursday, 19th January, and a social hour had been enjoyed, the meeting was adjourned.

Woman's Auxiliary.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Thomas' Church held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. George Fowler on Monday, 16th January, at 8 p.m. The president, Mrs. (Canon) Allen occupied the chair, and after the opening devotional period, very encouraging reports of the year's work were read by the various secretaries, as were also the annual letters from the diocesan officers in Toronto, and the suggestions contained in the latter for improved methods of work were also discussed.

The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. (Canon) Allen.
1st Vice-President — Mrs. (Rev.) C. R. Spencer.
2nd VicePresident—Mrs. Henry Mulligan.
Secretary—Miss Rose McNamara.
Treasurer—Mrs. Chas. Needler.
Dorcas Secretary — Miss Mary Kells.
Supt. of Girls' Auxiliary — Mrs. A. G. E. Westmacott.
Supt. of Juniors—Mrs. W. C. Allen.
Secy.-Treas. of Little Helpers — Miss Florence Clarke.
Leaflet Secretary—Mrs. Mulligan.

On motion, it was decided to have a special "missionary afternoon" on 28th February, when an outside speaker would be secured and the public invited. The matter of holding a "china shower" to augment the supply of dishes at the S. S. Hall, was also discussed, and this will probably be held the first week in February.

Refreshments were served at the close, and the members spent a most enjoyable social hour together before the meeting dismissed.

Reading Circle.

The regular meeting of the Anglican misionary reading circle will be held at the home of Miss Annie Armstrong on Friday afternoon, at three o'clock.

Euchre Party.

The Golden Sheaf Rebekah Lodge, No. 176, held a very successful progressive euchre party on Monday evening, a sufficient number of guests to fill thirty tables being present. The first prizes were won by Mrs. Harold Tate, and Mr. Braithwaite, and the consolation prizes by Mrs. (Dr.) Mitchell and Mr. J. Thorne. Dancing also added to the evening's enjoyment, and refreshments were served before the guests dispersed.

Personal Mention.

Miss Alice Stewart was the guest of friends in Peterborough over the week-end.

Mrs. P. J. Bentley is away this week assisting with installation work in connection with some of the Rebekah Lodges of the district.

Rev. A. M. Ferris of Toronto was the guest of Rev and Mrs. G. S. Gervan at the manse, while in Millbrook, in connection with the special services in the interests of young people's work.

"Golden Links" Met.

The Golden Links" Mission Circle of the Methodist church held their first meeing for the new year on Monday evening, at the home of Mr G. F. Spence, a large number of the members being in attendance.

The president, Miss Ella Elson, had charge of the gathering,and also contributed a solo, "The Island of Dreams, during the programme, and which was much enjoyed. Misses. E Sheppard, S. Pethick, B. Hatherly, M. Skitch were amongst those who responded to the "Watch Tower," and Miss Marian Spence read a most interesting letter from a missionary in Japan.

On motion it was decided that the Circle would assume 2 shares ($50) in Miss Hawkins salary this year, instead of sending their money to educate a girl in China as has been done for the past five or six years. This change was made because word had been received that the Chinese girl had been taken out of the mission school by her father though she had only one more year to put in before being ready to teach.

The offering for the "rest fund" was taken up and a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed with music and refreshments, a vote of thanks passed to Mrs. Spence for her kind hospitality before the Circleites adjourned for another month.

Hockey Practice.

The local hockey club enjoyed a good practice game on the rink on Tuesday afternoon, doubtless expecting to play a return game with the Omemee boys in the near future.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS AT MARK ST. CHURCH.

Rev. G. E. Ross Preaches on "Communion With the Dead."

Notwithstanding the severe storm of Sabbath, the congregations were larger than could be expected. The music by the choir was much enjoyed "Communion with the Dead" was the subject of the morning sermon and was founded on II Sam. XII, 23, "Can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me." The following is an outline of the sermon.

Death has visited the palace of King David, and he looked into the cold, white face of his infant son as he lies in the embrace of death among the flowers. You see death comes to the palace and to the hovel alike, and you cannot bribe him to pass your door. David lay on the ground all night wrestling for the life of his boy, but it was in vain. But when he learns that the child is dead he rises, refreshes himself, goes into the house of God and fortifies his soul with the words of the text.

Can I Bring Him Back?

All along the centuries, from Saul and the Witch of Endor, down to the foolish girl giggling over the Ouija Board, men and women have been trying to hold communion with the dead. Did the witch of Endor have any control over the spirit of Samuel? No: God sent Samuel's shade to tell Saul of what would overtake him on the morrow. How much better it would have been for Saul if he had not known what would take place the following day. But, you say, how did the Witch of Endor get the truth? She had nothing to do with the truth. God used Samuel's shade on this occasion just as he used Moses and Elijah to speak with Christ on the Mount of Transfiguration. Why, that old hag of Endor was terrified when she saw the figure rise before her, and Augustine and Josephus tell us that she saw the devil.

The Other World

There lies before us a large volumn written by Sir Oliver Lodge, entitled, "The Survival of Man" and also its companion, "Raymod by the same author. No man can read these volumns, if he is fair minded, but entertain a certain amount or respect for both the author and his work. And no broad minded man will ridicule such a volumn of evidence as we find set forth by that organization called "The Society for Physical Research.' For half a century this society has been investigating certain physical phenomena, and surely we cannot deny to honest men the right of earnest enquiry. We must leave hypnotism, clairvoyayce, apparitions, mesmeric trance, and spiritualistic phenomena of such a character to the Society organized for such investigation. Let us listen to the word of God. "I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me". I am speaking of that eternal Ego or Self or Soul; that shall not return. We need not argue, God says so."

Is There Any Communication

Certainly you may feel the blessed influence of departed friends, while you linger, and sorrow, and suffer here on the earth. Your mind is so constructed that you can pierce the eternities with a thought. In the twinkling of an eye our thoughts are up among the rushing worlds, away through the infinite spaces, or back among the fields and flowers of life's glad morning. So you can send your thoughts wandering over the eternal hills, while you, in body are compelled to "stay by the stuff" for a while. But what of our departed friends? Their minds cannot be less active than ours. And so from the hill of paradise their thoughts and feelings and emotions find their way to you as you recline on a bed of pain, or struggle with your problem, or trudge along life's pathway with your weary load. Remember mind has no limitations. Nor do we know how thin the veil is fixed between us and our loved ones beyond.

I Shall Go To Him

How often we hear people say, "oh I hope God will take me to heaven when I die". Now, this has no meaning. A man who is right with God cannot go anywhere else but to heaven when he dies. His whole soul is in harmony with heaven. He vibrates toward the skies. Being in tune with the divine, he lovs what God loves and hates what God hates. He could not find his way to any other region but to heaven, and if such a man managed to get to hell the devil would want to get rid of him. You see a man of God purifies the moral atmosphere wherever he goes.

Shall We Know Them?

Yes, we shall know each other better there, than we do here. "Now I know in part, only." When I get to heaven I shall find my boy among millions. Oh yes, that is all arranged. You remeber when Jesus took Peter, James and John up to the mount of Transfiguration how Moses and Elijah were known to that disciple. And yet Peter had never known them on the earth; for they had been dead for centuries before he was born. Why it would not be heaven at all, if we did not know our friends. We shall not lose that social element in our character because we change earth for heaven.

What About Reunions?

David tells us that his boy shall not return to him, but he shall go to that loved one. Here David hints at some central home of the blessed. His boy is not away in the wide unknown, but in the Paradise of God. Now, since David is going to the abode of his child he shall know him as a child. Our departed children will be given back to us as children on the morning of the resurrection day. Yes he shall go to him, know him, get him in his arms again, and be thus united in the bonds of eternal love. How sweet and rich it is to know that earths ties are not broken forever. We shall catch the broken threads again and finish what here began, heaven will all mystery explain and then up there we'll understand. Have you a loved one there?

HARDWOOD $10 TO $12 A LOAD LOCAL MARKET.

Movement in City Steady if Slow — Mixed Wood Fetches $7 to $10 — Sales Good.

Hay $28 the Ton.

Judging by the immense quantity of wood that appears daily on the market, the wood supply in the country is not of scanty proportions. Commencing early in the morning, there is a steady procession of wood sleighs coming into the city on the various arteries of traffic—the Chemong road, the Gravel, Keene, Lakefield and Norwood roads. Late in the evening, if a person watched closely, he might find one or two farmers proceeding disconsolately home with as full a load as when he left for the city. Market Clerk D. Maloney declares, however, very few of the farmers fail to sell their wood. There is a slow but steady movement these days, and on the whole, sales have been very good.

Last Saturday nearly 25 loads were "parked" on the market, and so far as known every one sold. If this is true, the city wood-yards are up against a material competition.

So far as diversity in price goes, no two people pay the same prices, but, of course, there is a maximum and minimum. Good hardwood runs from $10 to $12 a load, but here again there are "loads and loads." Some are three-quarters of a cord and others a full cord. Mixed wood at $7 to $10 forms the biggest part of what is being offered. Poplar and birch sell at $8.

Yesterday eight loads were congested together on the square with a couple of loads of hay mixed in between. Good sleighing is accountable for an influx of hay and straw, as it also is for the bringing in of so much wood. Hay remains at $28 and straw continues to bring $10 and $12, considered to be unheard of prices by retired farmers, who sold it at $2 in the long ago.

CROP REPORT

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

South Simcoe claims that the quality of live stock recently sold is showing improvement, some good heavy steers being seen in this week's shipment.

Bruce states that a few butchers' steers were loaded during the week, bringing from $6.50 to $7 a cwt., and that choice cows, springers, have been selling at from $70 and $90 each.

A number of grade milch cows have changed hands in Hastings at prices ranging from $40 to $60.

Good grade cows are selling at from $50 to $75 in Brant, which is about one-third the price of the mature cows at the recent Shorthorn Club sale in that county, the average there being $184.

Elgin states that the supply of milk is falling off with the cold weather, but that dairy cows are bringing fair prices at auction sales.

Carleton holds that the demand for butter is being affected by importations from New Zealand.

A few late lambs were recently shipped from Bruce at $12.35 a cwt.

Bacon hogs range in price from $9.75 to $10.50 a cwt. Little pigs have been in fair demand in Brant at from $8 to $10 a pair, six selling on the market on Saturday for $31.

Hay is selling in Brant at from $14 to $16 a ton; in Bruce, $15 to $20; in Durham, $25 to $30. Nearly 500 tons of hay were sold in Prescott last week from the neighborhood of Plantagenet around $21.75 a ton.

South Simcoe states that a number of farmers are storing rye and buckwheat at the local elevators in the hope of a rise in prices before spring.

Potatoes are in good demand in Leeds at from $1.50 to $1.60 a bag.

Bruce farmers are of the opinion that farm laborers will be hired at from $5 to $10 a month less than during the past season. Brant places the expected reduction in farm wages at 15 per cent., and puts the rate of wages for married men at a maximum of $500 a year.

Durham says: "Bankers and private individuals who have money are receiving many calls from farmers for loans. Undoubtedly many tenant farmers and those who have bought farms recently are having serious financial problems to deal with."

Regarding extra winter operations Prescott and Russell says: "Farmers are taking advantage of good sleighing to haul wood into the villages at prices ranging from $2.75 to $4 for dry tove wood. The crop of ice this year is one of the best we have had, the ice being clear all the way through with a thickness of 15 to 18 inches."

Peterborough also refers to the sale of firewood as being a source of farm revenue this winter.

GOOD WORK BY NAVY LEAGUE.

Col. C. G. Williams Addressed Local Rotarians on Operations of Canadian Organization.

Theatre Night Coming.

BY F. H. DOBBIN.

Monday the 16th brought Rotary day. The weekly letter would not permit it to be forgotten, for the fresh and breezy reminder comes promptly a few hours before. So the attendance was good, even better.

A part of the function of the newly elected Mayor of the city it o attend where men do congregate, and at Rotary and Kiwanis he is due to be introduced in his official capacity. So he as at Rotary, as a visitor. Possibly he may be membershipped on his classification as the one and only. Another one welcome, was W. H. Yates, of the Hamilton contracting firm that is now closing up the building of the filtration plant. Such details as relate to the construction of the basins, etc had to be done to sustain the morale and efficiency of the navy.

General Business

General business of the day was then taken up. Theatre night at the Royal was announced, the earnings from the night to go to the funds for the boys camp. Rotarian Dr. A.M. Morrison who has the matter in charge, explained the situation and arrangements for the trip to Los Angeles, next summer, when the International Rotary Convention will be held in that city. Other matters of general interest to the members were referred to and the meeting adjourned.

North Carolina has 32 female clergymen.

The Navy League

The speaker for the day was Col. C. G. Williams of Toronto, Secretary of the Navy League of Canada. He described the work in Canada, and in England. He described the New Sailors' Home in Halifax that had been instituted at a cost of $175,000.00. It was doing a magnificent work for the sailor coming off the sea was in a position distinctly different from that of the landsman. Provision had been made for homes on the Pacific Coast, at points in British Columbia. We know now that the sailor in port has to be looked after, else we shall be without that great essential to commerce, a merchant service. All affairs of this work were in the hands of a competent board, which included such men as Beatty of the C.P.R. and Hanna of the Canadia National Railways. He reviewed what the Navy League has accomplished during the war and at a time when Britain was loosing her sailor men by the thousand.

Admiral Beatty, speaking in Toronto, bore testimony to the work of the League, both in Britain and in Canada and claimed that the League had increased efficiency of the navy and made it ready and capable during the war when so much

Care of the Car

On Saturday evening the garage people continued their lectures on "Care of the Car".

Mr. John Selkirk had a review of the previous lesson, Mr. Hillard Clements clearly explained about the steering, the placing and mechanism of the front axle wheels and the hind axle and wheels. Mr. Clifford Selkirk, the transmission. Questions were asked and carefully and clearly answered. At the close the question was put to those present, whether or not these lectures would be continued. It was unanimous to have them continued.

The only objection was that it seemed an imposition on good nature but those who objected on that score were assured it was on', a pleasure. However, the lecturers do ask the people to endeavor to gather earlier, as they wish to begin punctually at 7.30 p.m. Also it is desirable that the ladies also attend. Many of them run their own cars and it is just as necessary for them to understand their machines as for men. There is no charge, except a collection to pay for the hall.

An Open Meeting

Instead of the regular afternoon meeting of the Woman's Institute, an open meeting was held on Thursday eevning in the town hall. The President was in the chair and after the usual opening exercises, tenders were asked for the old piano, but none have been received. The objects of the Institute were stated. A partial report of the Convention in Toronto was given and following program rendered: Recitation, "The Blind Soul"; song, "Far Away", Mr. Ralph Selby; duet, "Some Day I'll Wander Back Again", Miss Florence Batten and Mr. Ernest Batten; recitation, "When Hulda 'Spects Her Beau," Miss Gwendolyn McQuaig; solo, "Asleep in the Deep", Rev. G. Weir; recitation, "Davie and Goliar" Mr. Wallace Anderson; solo, "My Little Alice-blue Gown," Mrs. Chas. Foster. Messrs. John Rose and Rufus Payne were asked to choose sides and practically all present were lined up when there followed a spelling match. A word was given out and in three seconds the speller had to spell it backwards and pronouce the word thus spelled. This was followed by a group singing contest in which those present were divided into six groups by numbers. Each group was given one verse of some well known song. There were five minutes for all to practice, then each group stood up and sang their verse. Refreshments were served and before parting all sang "Auld Lang Syne" and The National Anthem.

A.Y.P.A. Met

The A.Y.P.A. met on Wednesday evening with a very good attendance. They are arranging for an entertainment on the evening of Feb. 14th, and the Guild are arranging for a sale of work and tea on the afternoon on the same day.

Church Societies

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid and Managers held a joint meeting on Tuesday evening to discuss cleaning pipes and re-decorating. Nothing definite was done.

The endeavor League met in the Methodist Church on Friday evening. Mrs. Arthur Edwards and Mrs. J. A. Crane read a paper on Mission Work, which began by stating that times of great stress produced great men. Several great men were named, Abraham Lincoln, Shaftsbury and so on; also several outstanding missionaries, Livingston, Moffat, Morrison, etc. A short history of the life and work of Adoniram Judson followed. It seemed terrible to speak of the suffering he and his wife endured, but it is well at times to remember these things. The work he did in Burmah was magnificent.

On Friday evening of this week, under the "Citizenship" head. The "Possibilities of Canada" will be taken up; also the "Possibilities of its People".

The League is trying to arrange for a summer camp at some point not too far away, to which all the sunday-school children of the village can go for a week or ten days. The camp is to be carried on much the same as other similar camps are, but so modified as to suit the individual needs of the place.

LAKEFIELD ELIMINATE P.A.A.A. YOUNGSTERS

SCORE IN LAST NIGHT'S GAME WAS 3-3, VILLAGERS THUS WINNING THE ROUND BY 5 GOALS TO 4—THEY HAD TO COME FROM BEHIND.

Although the P.A.A.A. Juniors were ahead 3 goals to 0 in the middle of the second period in last night's O.H.A. game with Lakefield, thus giving them a two-goal lead op the round, the Lakefield youngsters threw everybody up on the attack and battled along so determinedly that they eventually evened up the count, the final figures being 3-3. As a result, the P.A.A.A. crew drop with a dull thud out of the O.H.A. race, for Lakefield won their home game by 2 to 1 and thus capture the championship of the section by the attentuated margin of one goal. They will meet the winner of the Lindsay-Holy Name-Uxbridge section—and then hang up their sticks, judging by last night's showing.

The boys from Peterborough's northern suburb must be given credit, however, for the way they refused to accept defeat last night, even when two goals down on the round. They worked their heads off to get back into the running and were eventually rewarded for their persistence by getting the goals that meant the leadership of their section. Louie Sabatino was the star of the visiting crew and the best boy on the ice. He was fast, aggressive and tireless, and his rushes generally ended up with a shot that was dead on the nets. Roblin, a youngster attending the Grove School, also did good work for the section winners, while Hill was effective in the nets, and the Ridpath brothers contributed a lot of useful work.

The P.A.A.A. squad gave the best they had, and in the early stages looked like comparatively easy winners. They scored the only two goals in the first period and made it 3 to 0 before the second session fairly started. Then Lakefield hurled everybody up on the attack and the Peterborough youngsters' lack of experience showed in their inability to clear the rubber away from their own nets. This failing eventually lost them the lead they had established and put them out of the race. Tamplet in the Petes' nets gave a nice exhibition of cool goal-keeping and pulled off some fine saves. Of the others Hopkins and Porteous were probably the most effective, while little Eddie Williams, by long odds the smallest boy on the ice, was trying all the time.

Only a small crowd saw the game. It was not brilliant hockey; you can't expect that brand from two green teams who fail to stay in their positions and who follow the puck all over the ice. But the kids were determined enough, and the game was not without its exciting moments.

The P.A.A.A. outfit outscored Lakefield 2 to 0 in the first period. Pogue got teh first counter, and it was lucky one for he batted a loose puck in front of the Lakefield nets and the vulcanite bounced off Sabatino and dropped between the posts. Hopkins made it 2 to 0 when he went in alone on a nice rush. Lakefield were dangerous several times, but Tamplet refused to be beaten.

Early in the second stanza Porteous got away and carried the rubber in close to fool Hill. That made it 3 to 0, and the lead looked safe enough. Lakefield refused to think so, however, and with a five-man attack they penned the young Petes in their own territory, and the P.A.A.A. gang did not seem to know how to get the rubber away. They, however, managed to keep Lakefield from scoring until the period was nearly over. Then Sabatino came down with a pretty rush, and although he was checked and lost the puck, he managed to get a second swipe at the rubber and tapped it past Tamplet. That left the score 3 to 1, and it remained that way at the end of the period.

Lakefield used the same tactics in the last period, and their determination won for them. The Petes held them out for a while, but finally Clayton Ridpath scored on a shot from well out, and the score was 3 to 2. So far as the game was concerned it was even-Stephen on the round. A little later Jack Ridpath tallied from a scrimmage, and Lakefield were one up on the round. They held their slender lead until the finish, although the P.A.A.A. had several golden chances in the last few minutes.

BOYS INVEST IN GERMAN MARK.

Are Inocculated With Parisian Fever.

PARIS, Jan. 18. — (Associated Press)—Even the schoolboys of Paris now speculate in money of foreign countries. The fever which has prompted French people of all classes to invest their francs in German marks, recently led a 12-year old boy to one of the large Paris banks where he asked for "a francs worth of German money."

The clerk was amazed at the youthful request and stuck his head out of the cage so that he might better see he boy whose head scarcely reached the window ledge.The child continued, as though seeking advice: "Perhaps it would be better if I bought Hungarian money. I read in the paper this morning that marks had gone up but Hungarian money hadn't, but Hungary has lots of corn and I think her money will go up soon. Don't You?"

The clerk told the child the bank did not transact business on such a limited scale and advised him to invest his franc in candy.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes 16 ounces of really remarkable cough remedy. You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

GERMANY GROWS MORE DEMOCRATIC.

Signs of Change Seen on Every Hand.

BERLIN, January 18. Associated Press. — Germany is gradually becoming more democratic, say ardent supporters of the republic. They see proof of this in the fact that former German aristocrats who once would have considered it a family scandal to have been detected at manual labor, and members of the highly educated classes who were equally averse to any kind of work with their hands, now are not only willing to work when they have to but they take it from choice.

Among 30 students recently enrolled in a school which teaches various kinds of manual labor, 10 were of noble families or sons of fathers who formerly never would have consented to see an offspring engaged in such trades or in any work.

In all these occupations the student must go through a severe apprenticeship after which he is permitted to join a labor union and work for union wages.

Considerable satisfaction is manifest in republi n quarters over this evidence of the change which is taking place in Germany.

NEW FILTRATION PLANT READY FEBRUARY FIRST

It is expected that the filtration plant after a great many delays due to late arrival of machinery, will be operating by February 1st. R. L. Dobbin, Waterworks superintendent and supervisor of the construction stated today that machinery for the filters that has been held up, is arriving, and delivery of the necesary machinery to make possible the operation of the plant is in sight. The tile for the walls has not been delivered, but is unessential to the operation of the plant.

Several units have been tried out and found satisfactory, and the huge reservoir holding 2,000,000 gallons of water has met the tests. "It is pretty safe to say the plant will be in operation by February 1", Mr. Dobbin stated.

THE COMMERCIAL EXPANSION OF BRITISH MALAYA

So Rich That Gifts to Empire Since 1912 Totalled 10,000,000 Pounds.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—British Malaya now takes up so much of the City of London's attention that one is apt to forget how very recent is its commercial growth. Though Europeans have lived at one or two points on the Western coast for 400 years, some sixty years ago one white man was the sole representative of his race and color in the whole interior between Singapore in the south and Bangkok in the north. The country is so rich and British in sentiment as to estimate the Imperial gifts of the peninsula since 1912 at a total of £10,000,000. It presented a battleship to the Home Government, it contributed fifty-three aeroplanes to the British war munitions during the Great War. The battleship, H.M.S. Malaya, cost over £3,000,000, and was voted to the British Government in 1912.

The country, which is about the size of England without Wales, consists of the Straits Settlement, a Crown Colony embracing Singapore, Penang and Malacca, The Federated Malaya States, a Protectorate extending over Perk, Selangor, Negri-Sembilan and Pahang, the land owned by Malaya rulers and administered, with their good will, by British officials, and a number of States which have not entered the Federation.

"Singapore," says a correspondent of The Times, "with an enormous transhipment trade, apart from the trade of the Colony, is inhabited by a greater variety of races than can be seen in any other city of the world; and this variety is a characteristic of the whole peninsula.

British intervention outside the limits of the Straits Settlement goes back less than fifty years. "Within this period, and more especially since the Federation in 1897," says The Times correspondent, such progress has been made as to encourage the claim that the history of the British Empire cannot show its parallel. There are over 2,000 miles of good metalled roads, carrying all kinds of motor traffic. Motor cars by the way, are a conspicuous feature of a country which some people fancy is under the sway of the head-lumteres at an important cricket match sixty or seventy cars may be seen awaiting their owners.

The railways, built entirely out of revenue, extend over 1,000 miles, and join the Siamese railways, which have been financed by a loan of £4,750,000, also raised out of revenue, from the Federated Malaya States. Thus the traveller can go from Singapore to Bangkok the trains being lighted by electricity and provided with dining accommodation such as one may get on railways at home."

Tin and rubber furnish the chief industries of Malaya. Nearly one-third of the tin of the world, and about two-thirds of the plantation rubber come from the Federated Malaya States. At the end of 1919 the value of the exported rubber was £20,000,000.

Most of the tin mines are in Chinese possession, but the largest are managed by Europeans with the most elaborate of modern machinery. Of the tin mines owned by Europeans the Tronoh is the largest in the world.

While tin and rubber are the chief industries, the Government is fostering every kind of suitable cultivation, and the new trades include china clay and fine pottery.

The climate of the peninsula is hot all the year round, but not unhealthy European residents play cricket, football and lawn tennis without seasonal interruption.

LIVELY DISPUTE OVER SHIPPING.

Polish and Danzig Interests' Conflict.

DANZIG, Jan. 18.— (Associated Press.)—There is a lively dispute between the business interests of this city and the Polish government over the granting of shipping facilities here to the Poles as provided for in the Treaty of Versailles.

General Haking, High Commissioner of the League of Nations, who has been endeavoring to bring the Polish and Danzig interests to an agreement on the question of waterfront privileges, may soon refer the whole matter to the Council of Ambassadors for settelment.

The task of arranging the division of port facilities between the Poles and Danzigers has just been placed in the hands of a harbor board composed of an equal number of Poles and Danzig residents with Colonel Regnier, a Swiss, a chairman.

All the docks and waterfront property formerly controlled by the German imperial government are to pass, by the Treaty orf Versailles, either to the free city of Danzig or to the Polish state. The harbor board was created to make the division.

Commercial interests of Danzig contend that Poland has been demanding more than her share while the Poles aver that the Danzig interests are unfair and endeavoring to prevent Poland from obtaining full access to Danzig's shipping facilities as intended by the treaty.

The Poles contend that they are handicapped because most of the piers and warshouses are owned or controlled by Danzig companies or individuals whose charges are beyond the means of the Poles owing to the unbalanced rate of exchange.

LAST HOME OF SLAVES.

LONDON, Jan. 18. — (Canadian Press.)— That Abysinia is the last home of open slavery; that in its capital, Addis Abeba, there are more slaves than free men, and the British Legation there is full of slaves owend by Legation servants, are assertions made by two correspondents of the Westminster Gazette, who lately have been in Abyssinia.

The newspaper publishes the first of a series of articles by the correspondents detailing present day conditions in Abyssinia.

STOMACH TROUBLE? INDIGESTION?

Here's Good News for You

Lindsay, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine I have ever taken for stomach trouble. For many years I suffered with gastric stomach trouble and nervous indigestion. Would be so bad at times that it was necessary for me to be in bed two or three days at a time. I have doctored and taken many different medicines with little relief. Just recently I began taking Golden Medical Discovery and it has given more relief than all the other medicines I have ever taken. My stomach does not bother me and I have not had any indigestion since taking this medicine. I can highly recommend the 'Discovery' to others who suffer with stomach trouble."—Mrs Geo. Another Vessel Runs Into Storm

BOSTON, Jan. 18.—(Canadian Press.)—How four of his crew were swept overboard by a giant wave during the storm of last Wednesday and three of them were returned to the deck by the same wave, was told by Captain Edward Fogg, of the Boston fishing schooner Athena, when he brought his vessel into port last night. The fourth sailor was drowned.

When the vessel was making for Provincetown to escape the storm the four men were dressing fish. A great sea swept over the vessel and carried all four at least forty feet from the vessel, the captain said. The same wave brought three of them back and deposited them on the deck. The fourth, Thomas Merchant, was caught by a second wave and carried away.

The lost man was 32 years of age and formerly lived at Arichat, Cape Breton.

RAISE GROOM THE PEERAGE.

Lascelle's Title is Only a Courtesy One.

LONDON, Jan. 18.— (Associated Press.)—It is generally expected that Viscount Lascelles will be raised to the peerage before he weds Princess Mary late in February. At present he is a "commoner," his title being onlp a "courtesy" one. He possesses no heraldic distinction except his Distinguished Service Order.

When the Princess is married, she would transfer her coat of arms to the sinister (left) side of her husband's new escuctheon. Her present arms, like those of the Queen, bear no motto. No woman except a reigning queen, has the right to a motto on her coat of arms, according to heraldic laws.

Princess Mary will be attended by eight bridesmaids, two of whom are her cousins, Princess Maud, a younger daughter of the Princess royal, and Lady May Cambridge, daughter of the Earl and Countess of Athlone. Two others will be the Princess' girl friends, Lady Rachel Cavendish, youngest daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, and Lady Mary Fox-Strangways, daughter of the Earl and Countess of Ilchester. Four others are still to be selected and there is great expectancy among debutantes of a suitable age.

The guard of honor outside the church on the wedding day will be furnished by the Royal Scots, the senior infantry regiment of the line, of which the Princess is a colonel. The Grenadier Guards, Viscount Lascelles' former regiment will also be prominently represented.

ZULU TONGUE BAFFLES EXPERTS.

There are some savage languages which have never been put into writing or print. One of these is the language spoken by the famous fighting Zulus of the Transvaal, in Africa. Various attempts have been made to reproduce it with the English alphabet, but without success.

An interesting and promising experiment in this direction was made by a group of specialists in phonetics. Four expert stenographers were engaged, three of whom had never heard Zulu spoken, and an educated Zulu dictated to them in his native tongue. The result, when the stenographers read their notes, was not entirely encouraging, an old African farmer saying it sounded like the first efforts of white men to speak Zulu. The trouble seemed to be inability of the stenographers to reproduce the sounds of the language.

MODIFY "SHIMMY."

PARIS, January 18. Associated Press. — The latest edict of Paris society demands that moderation must be the motif of all the modern dances this year, including the "shimmy," the fox trot and tango. The latter is the most popular dance in the best Parisian society but it has been reformed.

THREE DIVORCES FOR ONE PERSON.

This is the Limit in Soviet Russia.

RIGA, Latvia, Jan. 15.— (Associated Press.) — Three divorces to any one person are considered the limit in Soviet Russia, according to Parley Christensen, of Chicago, candidate for president of the United States on the Farmer-Labor party ticket in 1920, who recently spent a month in Moscow. Mr. Christensen visited several Bolshevik courts.

"It is fairly easy to get a divorce in Soviet Russia," said Mr. Christensen when in Riga, "but I understand the limit is three for each person. If a man or woman has appeared in the divorce courts more than three times, he or she has a very difficult time.

"I visited one divorce hearing. It was extremely simple. The pair was separated in half an hour. On arrival in the court room, the man and woman were separately questioned by the judge. He then got them together and tried to persuade them that their quarrel could be patched up and they might live together. They couldn't see it that way, so th judge took them into another room to sign papers dissolving their marriage.

M. Christensen also visited a number of "People's court," corresponding to police courts in America; where persons are tried for minor offences. Most of the judges, he said, were dressed in rough clothes, including brown flannel shirts.

"In general," said Mr. Christensen "I was amazed at the fairness of these courts."

UNIQUE INCIDENTS RAILWAY ANNALS.

Great Eastern Co. Pawned Their Engines.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—Probably one of the most unique incidents in railway annals in the United Kingdom, if not in any other country, is that of a railway company being forced to pawn its engines, yet this is what happened to the Great Eastern Railway Company in its early days. With such a strong corporation, as it is today, this is an interesting memory, occasionally referred to as a milestone in railway progress in the land.

The incident was recalled by Lord Claud Hamilton, Chairman of the Great Eastern Railway Company, at the recent annual distribution of prizes of the Mechanics' Institution at Stratford, presided over by his Lordship. He said that at one time in the early period of the Great Eastern Railway the company was in such a critical state financially that it had to mortgage many of the locomotives used on the line. It was not then an uncommon sight, he had been told, to see locomotives running about with brass plates affixed which stated: "This engine is the property of . . "—Mr. Nathan, or Mr. Robinson, or whoever it was who had advanced money on it.

The Newest Theory About Laughing

Psychologists Now Hold That Laughter Is Caused by Lack of Sympathy, and That the Comic Does Not Exist Outside of the Human Family.

A Picture That Needs No Title.

Above—in Real Life Nothing Is More Humorous Than to See Someone Slip on a Banana Peel.

At Right—"It Is Discovered He Has Forgotten to Put on His Trousers."

The Corner Urchin Proves the Laugh Is Provoked by Degradation.

WHY do human beings laugh? What delicate mechanism of the mind has to be touched before a person is stirred to mirth? What is the origin of this phenomenon? What physiological or psychological processes are involved?

These questions are as old as mankind. And no complete or satisfying answer has ever been given in all the years that men have been laughing.

The comic artist has learned by a patient study of his public's reactions just what he must make his characters do, in order to provoke a guffaw at the end of the strip. The professional clown knows by a sort of instinct what gestures or situations will invariably bring a laugh. The humorous writer learns by long trial and much experimentation, to juggle words in a way to cause a few intermittent chuckles. But none of these funmakers can tell you scientifically why people are induced to laugh at him.

Dr. David Orr Edson, well-known psychoanalyst, now advances a few theories of his own regarding laughter and illustrates them with certain well-known comic figures. Dr. Edson takes certain bits of popular pantomime and shows how it manages to make a direct thrust at the risible.

The search for humor's origin began with the first orderly thinking of mankind. We find Aristotle speculating on laughter in his "Poetica." He said in one place: "Comedy is an imitation of characters of a lower type—not, however, in the full sense of the word bad." And again he declared that the essence of the comic was "some defect or ugliness which is not painful or destructive."

Later on in history Thomas Hobbes declared: "The passion of laughter is nothing else but sudden glory arising from some sudden conception of some eminency in ourselves by comparison with the inferiority of others—or with our own formerly." Somewhat the same thought was expressed in other words by Prof. Alexander Bain, who thought that "the occasion of the ludicrous is the degradation of some person or interest possessing dignity in circumstances that excite no other strong emotion."

These definitions of laughter have been grouped under what has been called "The Theory of Degradation"—the theory that some sort of perception of debasement was necessary to mirth. Many thinkers have supported this belief in spite of the fact that it presupposes in humanity a rather disgusting sort of meanness. George Eliot, the novelist, went so far as to say that "laughter probably originated in the cruel mockery of a savage at the writhings of a suffering enemy."

But Immanuel Kant, the German philosopher, challenged this theory boldly and offered new definitions. Kant originated the "Theory of Contrariety or Incongruity." One is used to seeing a man wear a top hat and a frock coat. When a child appears in this garb, the incongruity excites mirth.

Kant spoke of laughter as "an affection arising from the sudden transfiguration of a strained expectation into nothing." Schopenhauer spoke of laughter as "the sudden perception of an incongruity between a conception and a real object." Schopenhauer's illustration was an old story: Two soldiers make a prisoner of a man and engage him in a game of cards to while away the time. They catch him cheating and become so incensed at his knavery that they kick him out of jail.

In the following article Dr. Edson gives a full analysis of certain fundamental appeals to humanity's feeling for humor.

By David Orr Edson, M. D.

(Noted Psychologist and Author of "Getting What We Want.")

THE answer to the question, "Why do we laugh?" can probably best be brought home to the great majority by putting it in this fashion:

"Why do we laugh at Charlie Chaplin?"

By what magic does he create that grotesque picture personality which is better known over the world than that of any other man, living or dead? Wherein does he differ from other comedians, who, while doing practically the same kind of thing that he does, never arouse more than a faint smile?

The psychology of laughter has interested philosophers since man first began to think in an orderly, connected way—and at the same time began to laugh at the little incongruities of their lives. The basic element of the comic has proved to be a most subtle and elusive quantity. Its definitions have varied widely.

The comic does not exist outside of humanity. When we laugh at an animal, it is because he suggests human attributes. Then again, an analysis of the human reaction during laughter has invariably shown that the person laughing is, for the time, devoid of what we call sympathetic feeling.

When we laugh our pity is not stirred, nor our feelings shocked at all. Our intelligence is assaulted, we feel a certain superiority to the object of our laughter, we feel a joyous relief that we are not so deficient as he.

Other hypotheses are advanced, which are, approximately, the same thing in different words. But we get well along our way by considering Charlie Chaplin and finding that he gets at our risibles by the device of representing himself as an automaton, with rigid posture or set expression that contrasts violently with the normal human expression; by getting into various uncomfortable situations, thus arousing an observer's self-congratulatory instinct; by bringing about the belittlement of somebody who is posing as an august and dignified personage; by giving his audience one result when it has been expecting another one totally different.

He uses these devices singly and in combination. But in all his eccentricities you can always find the element of surprise and the element of shock to one's intelligence.

There is nothing funny in the fact that a man slips on a banana peel and falls to the street. What makes us laugh is the shock which our intelligence receives when it perceives that the man, in question, was not looking where he was going. When the average slapstick comedian imitates this act, he so plainly signals his intention to the audience and so plainly labels the act itself—that laughter is not spontaneous. When Chaplin slips and falls he does it with an air of reality, because he has already submerged his personality in the strangely incongruous little fellow with the swagger, the cane, the trick mustache and the splay shoes.

"Charlie Is Seen Hanging Over the Rail. He Seems Sick. He Straightens up! * * He Has Been Fishing!"

At Right—"Charlie Seems Overcome with Grief. He Turns Around. He Has a Cocktail Shaker in His Hand."

Again, Charlie goes to sea. Out on the briny he is seen hanging over the rail. He heaves and shakes, convulsively. He seems sick. The audience laughs. Then suddenly he straightens up. He has a fish. He has been fishing when . . . The audience roars!

He enters high society. He arrives with all the swells at their golf club destination, the only difference being that they step down from the interior of a Pullman while he crawls out of a tool box beneath the car. Nevertheless, he arrives with them just the same.

In a gesture Charlie Chaplin seems to say that class distinctions are spurious; that the difference between high and low are more apparent than real. The greatness that we have envied seems no longer a desirable thing. Ordinary men now feel that according to real values they are as good if not better than these pretentious, dressed-up people. Such is the magic of Chaplin.

In a double exposure film Chaplin plays the dual role of the tramp and the bibulous husband of the society leader, who is the tramp's double.

As the fashionable husband he is seen putting the finishing touches to his toilet in front of a dressing table. He appears in a frock coat and tall hat, apparently groomed with immaculate care. Only the upper part of his body is shown. When he appears in full view it is discovered that he has forgotten to put on his trousers. Civilized audiences the world over will laugh at this. The laugh is repeated and doubled when he discovers his plight in the foyer of a fashionable hotel.

Surprise Element a "Knockout"

Farther along in the film, Charlie, as the bibulous husband, receives a letter which says: "Unless you will promise to stop drinking, I will leave you."

Charlie seems overcome by grief. He turns his back and his whole frame quivers. His shoulders move up and down in spasms. He turns around and he has a cocktail shaker in his hands in which he is vigorously rectifying.

The surprise element here has double strength. In the language of the profession it is a "knockout." Everybody naturally thought he was weeping. Then, for husbands, there is another kick. They know something about quarrels with wives and like to feel that they are superior to being dominated. This is the basis for the extra chuckle they get when they witness this scene.

Charlie the Tramp wanders into the place where a masquerade ball is being given and is mistaken for the master of the house. Again Chaplin's genius for creating an effect of reality saves a stereotyped situation.

Humor is fed through the ego. There is a subconscious craving for eminence in all persons. This can be achieved either by their own elevation or the descent of somebody else. A human weakness which only an extreme type of self-development can overcome is the weakness which demands that one of our fellows be pulled down.

It is to this weakness that Charlie Chaplin consistently panders. He is eternally calling upon us to witness the fact that the greatness of some individual or other is rather hollow, after all.

And, considered even more broadly, he is, in microcosm, a perfect study of Man making his way through an uncertain and somewhat terrifying world. He never knows exactly what is going to happen to him and feels that he may be brought down at any moment. Yet he is ever trying to persuade himself to the contrary.

A LITTLE SPORTING GOSSIP

There used to be a time when Peterborough teams could wallop the best Toronto produced. Fans will particularly recall the occasion when the Petes as Intermediate champions were so far superior to any of the senior teams that they were challenged to play an all-star senior outfit in Toronto, and they beat this hand-picked collection 6 goals to 3 in the old Mutual Street Rink. The building of the Arena with its artificial ice plant has, however, revolutionised hockey in Toronto. The large ice surface has caused the adoption of new tactics. The long practice season enables the Toronto outfits to start the O.H.A. campaign in the pink of condition, and with good ice always available the Toronto teams are skating faster and stick-handling better than in the old days when the Mutual Street Rink was no better than a dozen other rinks around the Province.

Peterborough fans are watching the Trenton-Picton series with interest as the P.A.A.A. gang have to take on the winners, and a tight tussle it is, too. Picton won the first game at home 3 to 1, Trenton won on their own ice in the second fixture 3 to 2, and then went back to Picton on Monday and won by the same score. So that three games find the teams tied on total goals with seven markers each, and the section honours hinge on the result of the fourth game which will be played at Trenton. The P.A.A.A. crew are pulling for the latter gang to win out, as th Trenton rink is a better one than the Picton ice box, and the trip is shorter.

Judging by the prices that are being advertised for the wrestling match to be pulled off here on Saturday, the promotors must think they are bringing Strangler Lewis and Zbyszko here.

Still More Things We Do Not Expect to See:

Belleville near the top of the Central League ladder without Goyer.
An issue of the Port Hope Guide without a crack at Lindsay sporting organisations.
A Lindsay "midget" team that really looks the part.
A Lakefield hockey club without either a Sabatino or a Hill.
A ladies' team in the N. H. A.

The Peterborough A. A. A. Juniors have faded from the scene almost before they got started. The youngters have only had two or three practices in Brock Street Rink and have had little chance to develop team work. Their lack of experience cost them the championship of the section for slowness in clearing around their own nets and inability to shoot straight when in close to the enemy's citadel caused them to fail to hold the three-goal lead they had set up early in the game.

The Bankers who played last week as if they had not been getting enough vitamines in their food, promise to do better in their City League game to-night. This will be good news to everybody but the C.G.E. crew who are slated to meet the Financiers to-night.

The Lakefield Juniors were as happy when they won out last night as if they had captured the O.H.A. championship. They waved their sticks in the air and danced around like dervishes when the goal that put them ahead on the round was registered.

To-day's Happy Thought:

The P.A.A.A. Juniors won't lose a home game in the O. H. A. this season.

LINDSAY TAKE TANKARD GAME

DEFEATED PETERBORO YESTERDAY BY THE SCORE OF 34 TO 23—M'DERMID TRIMMED GEO. LITTLE.

Peterborough lost the local Tankard group to Lindsay on the latter's ice on Tuesday afternoon by the score of 34 to 23. J. W. McDermid came through with a win from Geo. Little by a margin of two, but Jack Fitzgerald was down 13 to Larry O'Connor.

The rinks were as follows:

Peterborough.	Lindsay.
F. C. Webber	J. Anderson
R. G. Sturgeon	W. Reesor
J. H. Connal	F. Carew
J. McDermid, s.16	G. Little, s.....14
W. D. Campbell	F. Williams
A. W. Archibald	W. McClennan
H. Foote	R. Butler
J. Fitzgerald, s.7	L. O'Connor, s..20
23	34

Lindsay's Tankard selections were the same rinks that lost the Provincial semi-finals last winter, and their curling abilities are well known and respected by Peterborough curlers. McDermid's victory over George Little was a gleam of satisfaction in the day's play. It is said that this was the first time Little had ever been defeated in a Tankard game on his own ice.

LADIES PUT UP FAST HOCKEY

Two young ladies' hockey teams, one from the Y.W.C.A., the other from the Normal and the Collegiate, "battled" for thirty minutes at Brock Street Rink last night, and each team scored a goal. Miss Alice Ebbs "slammed" the puck into the netting for the Y.W.C.A. counter and Miss Currie "drilled" in the tally for the scholastic team.

The young ladies did remarkably well as exponents of the great winter game. Several players contributed some nice stick-handling. Lone rushes were quite prominent, but the player carrying the puck found difficulty in getting through for a shot. K. Murray, goaler for the Intermediate O.H.A. team, was referee. The teams were:

Y.W.C.A. — Goal, Miss Alberta Curtis; defence, Miss Stuart and Miss M. Holmes; centre, Miss Eva Outram; right wing, Miss Martha Kirn; left wing, Miss Alice Ebbs. Subs.—Miss C. Crookshanks and Miss E. LeBar.

Scholastic—Goal, Miss Marion Duncan; defence, Miss F. Pammett and Miss M. Pulkinghorn; centre, Miss Currie; right wing, Miss Mary Lonergan; left wing, Miss G. Foley. Subs.—Miss Hazel Jackson and Miss Clotton.

CURLING

DETROIT HERE MONDAY

Six rinks of Detroit curlers will visit Peterboro next Monday arriving at noon and playing six Peterboro rinks in the afternoon. Rinks from the same club toured Ontario for a week last winter and evidently were so pleased with the trip that they are now repeating it.

The big event of the following week will be the open bonspiel which begins on Tuesday, January 31st.

LAKEFIELD'S BONSPIEL.

The announcements of Lakefield's bonspiel will likely be recalled and a new date set in order to avoid collision with Oshawa's spiel. Rinks from both the Peterborough and Lakefield clubs are regular entries in the Oshawa competition, and undoubtedly Peterborough will be glad to send a strong contingent to Lakefield's first bonspiel. Notice of the change in dates will probably be forthcoming shortly.

"THE BONNIE BRIER BUSH." Excellent Players are in Donald Crisp's Paramount Production.

A cast of exceptional excellence was chosen by Donald Crisp, producer, to portray the leading roles of "The Bonnie Brier Bush," a Paramount picture made in England, which will be the feature at the Capitol theatre to-morrow night.

Most of the roles are character parts, which called for subtle and individual types and several hundred persons were interviewed before the cast was completed.

Mr. Crisp was fortunate in his choice of Alec Fraser as his leading man. Mr. Fraser is a young actor with good presence who has appeared in several Stroll productions, and who has earned for himself a considerable reputation on the musical comedy stage. Jerrold Robertshaw, a distinguished actor of the legitimate stage, is seen in the part of the Earl of Kinspindle. Donald Crisp himself is both actor and director of the picture. He appears in the role of Lachlan Cambell, an austere Highland shepherd, while Mary Glynne portrays the role of his daughter, Flora.

The company was in Scotland for five weeks, and many beautiful exterior shots were obtained. The interior of Lachlan Campbell's cottage was made from actual photographs. The banquetting hall of Drumtochty Castle is one of the handsomest sets made for any motion picture to date.

Splendid vaudeville and excellent short reel subjects, both as to serials, comedies, etc., and with 300 good seats thrown open to the public every night, family parties can now enjoy the splendid shows at the Capitol at a very reasonabel price.

The Trade Mark of Laughter

AN ACROSTIC INSPIRED BY HAROLD LLOYD IN "NEVER WEAKEN."

Now is the time for all good sweethearts to come to the aid of Harold Lloyd.
Every road to true love has its detours into the bramble bushes, and though Variety may be the mustard and hot dog of life, there are some flavors in Evidence in Harold Lloyd's newest comedy that are too much chile con carne for Real life, but as exciting in reel life as a tempest in a teapot.

When the doctor's business was dull, Lloyd found him patients by the score!
Engaged to a girl who worked on his floor, he found her, one day, in the Arms of another! "O death!" asked he "Where is thy stinger?" and tried to Kick the bucket in various methods most unique and thrilling. He felt himself leaving this Earthly plane and soaring on high! Angels! Sweet music! Good heavens above!
Nothing but air beneath! Twelve stories nearer the sky with an iron girder for an airplane! And no longer wanting to die! Harold Lloyd will "Never Weaken" at the Capitol Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

AT THE ROYAL.

To-night is your last opportunity to see that great and inspiring photo-drama, entitled "Courage." The Royal, in selecting this feature picture, "Courage," chose a theme that at present applies personally to a great majority of people: in the present depression and hard times we all need courage. Courage and Canadian pluck will soon be the lever that will hoist our people from their present condition of ill luck. The true Canadian pluck that from the days of the hardy pioneers has carved a nation from a wilderness is typified in the play "Courage." A young Scotch engineer and inventor is cheated out of his patents by the man he works for and had made rich. The employer is murdered, and suspicion at first, and later on apparently good circumstantial evidence, stnt the young engineer to an English prison for life. His wife, with the true intuition of a loving woman, believes him innocent, and bravely faces the world alone with her infant son. She keeps in touch with her convicted husband through the medium of a friendly guard, and persuades him not to despair. She opens a small steel foundry in England, and manages to keep the fate of his father from her growing son. Twenty years pass, and the man, unjustly convicted, manages to help his wife by written advice, plans and formulas for steel and chemicals. The son falls in love with the daughter of one of England's leading statesman, who, ascertaining the fact that his prospective son-in-law is a convict's son, tries to break off the match. Just as the son is about to be knighted for great service accorded the nation during the war by means of the convict's inventions, proof of the convict's innocence is clearly established, and he is not only released but paid high honor. Father and mother are re-united, and spend a second honeymoon in the South, whilst the son wins his bride, and they take a wedding trip to the North. In this play the real courage of a true woman is inspiring and contributes to an intensely interesting story. The sixth episode of the million dollar serial, called "Breaking Through," shows Bettina in more of her exciting adventures in her fight for an Alaskan mine. Laughter is almost as essential for public morale as courage. To-day's comedies will supply the laughter!

AT THE GRAND.

"THE UNLOVED WIFE"

The best of the latest comedy dramas, "The Unloved Wife" a play in three acts is by Florence Edna May, and comes to the Grand, next Saturday, January 21st, commencing with a matinee for ladies only although at night everybody over sixteen years of age can secure seats. The play is new and it is a success because of two essential reasons—the play is remarkable and because of the acting, you recieve an evening's enjoyment. "The Unloved Wife" is decidedly one of the best things of the season. It is a thrilling comedy drama with some enchanting stage pictures and there is even more than the usual interest in it. For every one who has seen it in other cities says: "You must see "The Unloved Wife" when it comes to town. It is wonderful." Many patrons of the theatre have asked why we don't print the story of the play? There are several reasons, but there isn't any likelihood that Miss May, the authoress, or her representatives will make any statement about it. It will remain just another mystery as the play is written on the subject of marriage, what wedded couple have not their family secrets or mysteries, as you may term it A good company of Broadway players assure a remarkable evening's entertainment

AT THE REGENT.

Frank Mayor, star of "Dr. Jim," which comes to the Regent Theatre to-morrow, has been known to film fans for three or four years as an actor who can portray the natural emotions of life more naturally than the average. Personally, he is very intellectual and is more interested in what famous writers have learned and told of life than in what he comes face to face with. "Dr. Jim" is Universal's production of a story by Stuart Paton.

NO CLAIM HERE FOR PROTECTION

HAMILTON, January 18 (Canadian Press). — The Immigration Board finished its inquiry into the Bullock case to-day. An appeal to the Government was taken at once, which means that the prisoner cannot be deported until the Government gives a ruling in the case, which is not expected for at least a week.

The Board found that because Bullock gained entrance into Canada by coming across the border at Fort Erie to attend Sunday service at a negro church on the Canadian side and because he had not yet registered for Canadian citizenship, he had no claim on Canadian protection.

The deportation order was made by Inspector D. H. Reynolds.

REMAINS IDENTIFIED.

MONTREAL, January 18 (Canadian Press). — The remains of the woman found dead beside the body of Harold Baylis, in the Lincoln Apartments last Monady, was identified to-day, but the Attorney-General has given permission, on the request of her sister, who is to be married soon, for the morgue authorities to withhold the name.

ISSUES A WARNING.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18. — (Canadian Press).—Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State, to-day issued a warning to investors not to purchase Canadian securities owned in Germany before the ratification of peace and now being offered for sale in Canada and the United States at greatly reduced prices. The view is taken that the transactions are illegal and contrary to the provisions of the peace treaty.

IN THE LLOYD GEORGE "PEACE" ROOM

Lloyd George in his den at "Chaguers," his country house. Does not secret of Lloyd George's magic gifts as a peacemaker lie in his love of the fireside. Here, by this hearth in the Long Gallery the Premier met Clemenceau and Foch, Balfour and Smuts, and made the momentous decision of the war—that unity of command which swiftly led to victory. Here too he discussed the coal strike with the miners' leaders and hammered out the ultimate terms of settlement, and only a few nights ago he had a fireside talk with Lord Birkenhead, Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, and found at last the way to Irish peace.

Morrow, E. H. G. Hall, E. A. Peck, B. Shortly, B. F. Ackerman, H. Rush, T. E. Bradburn and T. G. H. Denne. The two first-named are the President and Vice-President, respectively; Secretary-Treasurer, F. Brownscombe; Superintendent, W. James.

Directors' Report.

In a comprehensive report of the directors, made by the President, he drew attention to the fact that the company's trust funds, receipts from sale of lots and money set aside for permanent road work amount to the sum of $43,069.30. This fund increased this year by $6,707.60, made up of cash on hand at the beginning of the year $4,498.994, received in trust funds $800, and $1,408.75 from sale of lots, leaving cash on hand the beginning of the year in the Bank of Toronto $2,236.69, which the President considered fairly satisfactory.

Referring to his object of endeavoring to make the cemetery self-supporting, the President pointed out that last year not only were all receipts plus interest from trust funds expended, but also "twenty-five per cent. of the money from the sale of lots" was also used. In his opinion, this latter item should not be resorted to; in other words, the Cemetery, while active at present, should be self-supporting from charges plus interest on trusts, as the monies obtained each year invested in trust bonds and expense increase each year owing to incfeased acreage.

Superintendent Reports.

Superintendent James' report of work and upkeep for the year was both comprehensive and gratifying. It detailed improvements to buildings and roads, referred to twenty-two new monuments having been erected during 1921, and the construction of a badly needed eight-inch tile drain at an expenditure of $350. There were 247 interments during the year.

Finances Excellent.

The financial report presented by Treasurer Felix Brownscombe showed the affairs of the company to be in splendid shape. In special revenue the receipts were $3,371.35, comprising interest from trust account, City of Peterborough debentures, Quebec Province bonds, Toronto Harbour Commissioners' bonds, Dominion War bonds, Grand Trunk Pacific bonds, City of Toronto bonds, Canadian Northern (Ont.) Railway debenture stock.

FALIED TO DELIVER.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., January 18.—Canadian Press. — Sydney MacBrien of Toronto some months ago sold a number of the leading farmers of Derham Township stock in the Clement Medicine Co., from whom he secured amounts ranging from $300 to $900, but MacBrien did not deliver the stock. He was arrested and charged with false pretences. Yesterday he appeared before Judge Wallace and was found guilty. He had made restitution of the money received from the farmers and the Judge took this into account and allowed him to go on suspended sentence.

A BIG DEMAND FOR HATS.

BROCKVILLE, January 17. — Canadian Press. — The Wolthausen Hat Corporation Limited, manufacturing men's hats, is one firm which is not suffering from the depression in industry.

Mr. F. Wolthausen, the president of the company, said to-day that it was unableto cope with the demand for the domestic trade and had consequently been forced to refuse big export orders from South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and elsewhere. Not until the plant is enlarged would the company, he said, be able to accept all the business offered it.

RELIGIOUS WAVE INVADING SCOTLAND.

GLASGOW, January 18 (Associated Press). — A religious wave is now sweeping over the fishing villages on the East Coast of Scotland.

Believing that the failure of the herring fishing season is a visitation for unrighteous living, the fishermen are parading the highways singing hymns and testifying in other ways to their religious fervour. There is scarcely a fishing village which is not affected.

ANOTHER EVENT GOLDEN JUBILEE TRINITY CHURCH

SOCIAL GATHERING LAST EVENING WAS LARGELY ATTENDED --A GOOD PROGRAMME.

Another outstanding event in the celebration of the Golden Jubilee of Trinity Methodist Church took place last evening in a purely social gathering.

The banquet served in the basement of the church, under the able management of the Ladies' Aid Society, with Mrs. R. J. Kidd as president, was attended by nearly 400 people, who enjoyed a bountiful repast of home-made goodies served at tables daintily decorated with sweet-blooming hyacinths and yellow candles in brazen holders. The yellow and white of the jubilee year was carried out also in the softly-shaded lights, in the streamers on the tables, and in the wonderful birthday cake which centred the head table. This was a triumph of the confectioner's art, fashioned in the manner of fifty years ago, with delicate "blown" icing, pale yellow tissue frills and rosettes, a topknot of glazed raisins and fifty miniature yellow candles fringing the several tiers.

The cake was cut by Miss Stenton, the oldest charter member of the church, and seated at the head table with her were other charter members: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Stenson, Mr. and Mrs. John Best, and Miss Edmonds, the first organist of the church.

The entire Ladies' Aid Society looked after all arrangements, assisted by several of the young people of the church, and Mr. George H. King rendered an enjoyable organ recital during the service.

The Concert.

A pleasant, home-like entertainment was held in the church at the conclusion of the supper. Representative ministers from different city churches — Rev. Jas. Rollins, Rev. J. R. Webb, Rev. R. B. Grobb, Rev. W. H. Young, and Rev. J. A. McKenzie — gave brief and timely addresses, interspersed with pleasant anecdotes and reminiscences. Rev. F. E. Malott acted as chairman, and after the singing of the Doxology and the recital of the Lord's Prayer, vocal selections, much enjoyed by the audience, were rendered by Mrs. J. H. Renwick, Miss Isabel Black, Mr. James Brown and the Rev. J. A. McKenzie, the latter's humorous numbers emphasizing the feeling of jolly good fellowship which prevailed. Mrs. George H. King was unable to sing owing to a severe cold.

Rev. F. E. Malott, in conclusion, thanked all who had helped to make the occasion such a success, and rejoiced in the measure of prosperity which had been meted out, not alone to Trinity Church, but to all the churches of the city, emphasizing the working of the various pastors together, not as competitors, but as co-laborers, a spirit which would enable them to work together for the solution of the pressing problems of the present day. The benediction, pronounced by Rev. J. A. McKenzie, brought a pleasant and successful evening to a close.

Market News

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(Canadian Press.)—Independent Steels continued to move forward at the opening of to-day's stock market as a result of more circumstantial consolidation rumors. Gulf States Steel asserted its recent leadership at further gain of 2 1-4 points, Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke, Sloss Sheffield, Haskell and Barker, International Motor, Studebaker, Goodrich and Stromberg also were strong. Atlantic Coast Line added one point to yesterday's gain and National Biscuit was most favored of Food Specialties. Crucible Steel at one point decline and American Tobacco at a loss of 1 3-4 were among the few reactionary issues.

Midday re-action ran from 1 to 2 points in numerous instances, with Atlantic Gulf, Mexican Petroleum, Chandler Motor, Corn Products and International Paper showing heaviness. Accumulating by pools at lower levels then began to have an effect and prices soon advanced briskly to top figures for many leaders.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—Trade this morning on the local stock exchange was the briskest for some time past and substantial gains were made by leaders, Brazilian and Toronto Railways. On sales well up in the hundreds, Brazilian scored a net advance of 1 1-2 points, with close at 31 1-2. Toronto Rails on fair volume of sales alvanced to 70, with close fraction under high point at 69 3-4, net gain of 2 3-4 points during the morning. Demand for Victory Loans was better particularly 1933 and 1934. Banks dull.

Business was on very extensiye scale during the morning, but trading ran more to specialties. Rails were utterly neglected and few of former favorites among Steels and Equipments made more than nominal changes. Gulf States Steel extended its gain to five points, but reacted two points before noon. Sloss Sheffield Steel Railway Steel Spring. American and Baldwin Locomotive were one to three and half higher at their best. Motors and their subsidiaries especially Studebaker, Pierce Common and Preferred, Fisher Body and Goodrich Common and Preferred rose one to 3 points. Persistent selling of Crucible Steel, which reacted two points, caused impairment of gains before noon. Call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent.

CHICAGO GRAINS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18. — Opening wheat quotations which varied from unchanged figures to 1-4c. higher, with May at 1.11 7-8 to 1.12 1-8 and July 1.00 1-2 to 1.00 5-8, were follower by a slight set-back and then by a rise all around to well above yesterday's finish. Corn and Oats were firm with Wheat. After opening a shade off to 1-8 to 1-4 higher, May 53 to 53 1-4, the Corn market eased a little and then advanced somewhat above initial top level. Oats displayed independent strength, starting unchanged to a shade higher and then scored moderate general advance.

The banquet held under the auspices of the local branch of the Catholic Women's League at th Empress Hotel last night, in honor of the visiting delegates, was one of the most enjoyable social affairs in the history of the Peterboro branch.

About 100 ladies sat down in the grill room at tables decorated with cut flowers. Every item of a supper which included the most appetizing viands served with speedy efficiency, was looked after with a detailed attention which made it most enjoyable.

LEGITIMIZE DEAD CHILD.

MONTREAL, Jan. 18.—Montreal courts are now deciding one of the most curious cases on record. Last March the eight-year-old daughter of J. W. Manning fell down a manhole and was drowned. Her father is taking action to get $2,500 damages from the city. Evidence brought in by the city is to the effect that the five children of the Mannings are illegitimate, father and mother having omitted the marriage ceremony. On advice of the court, the couple got married during adjournment. This action is understood to legitimatize children in Quebec, but the defence is urging that such a marriage cannot legitimatize a child who actually is not having died before the ceremony was performed.

Got No Sleep

But now the neuritis has gone, the pains have ceased, the nervous system is restored and the writer of this letter pays a grateful tribute to the medicine which made him well.

Mr. John Woodward, P.T.O., Lucan, Ont., writes:

"It gives me much pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's medicines, especially the Nerve Food. I was a sufferer from neuritis for several years, and tried all kinds of remedies, yet never seemed to get any better. At last my nerves and whole system seemed to give way through not being able to get any or sleep at nights for pain, which used to take me in all parts of the and feet. My nerves would twitch my whole body would seem to jerk up as I lay in bed. Almost at point of despair, I decided I would Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I did and after taking twenty boxes I believe myself almost normal again. I also keep a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills on hand, and for the past year I seem to enjoy my usual health."

PETERBOROUGH MALE VOICE CHOIR.

The above choir is now in real earnest in their work, as evidenced at their weekly rehearsal held last night in the J. M. Greene Music Studio. Musical numbers have arrived from England and the States, and many were tried out for the first time, and the members showed considerable progress by the efficient manner in which the compositions were rendered. The attendance was the largest of the season, and from now on, all the members are asked to attend regularly and punctually to future rehearsals.

The executive officers are working strenuously to make the annual concert, which will be held on March 31, the biggest musical event ever staged in Peterborough.

CANNOT INTERFERE.

It was held that clemency for the three can only be exercises on the advice of the Ulster Home Secretary.

WAS CHARGED TO WAR EXPENDITURES.

MONTREAL, January 18 (Canadian Press). — The charge that part of the cost of the Stefansson Arctic Expedition of 1914 was put down to war expenditures, because the estimates for the exploration were so much exceeded, was made to-day by Professor O'Neill, geologist of McGill University, who has taken the side of Dr. Anderson, of Ottawa, in his criticisms of Stefansson's expensive methods.

ARREST-PROOF COAT.

EAST VIEW, N.Y., January 18 (Canadian Press). — P. E. Hunter, of this place, is convinced that there is something wrong with his latest invention. He is now serving a two-months' term for an attempt to escape arrest on a complaint of larceny. Hunter had invented an arrest-proof coat, but it failed to work. A patrolman swore that when the inventor dashed away from him, he left half of his coat behind. Examination of the coat revealed that it was made in two sections and hooked together with snaps. The prisoner admitted the coat was his own invention.

DEFENSIVE UNION TO SAVE TRADE AFFAIRS.

LISBON, January 18 (Associated Press). — Business interests of Portugal have taken a hand to bring economic affairs of this country out of what they characterise as a deplorable condition. All the commercial, agricultural, and industrial associations have formed a kind of defensive union to take an active part in public administration and enforce Portugal's right to work and prosper in spite of political party struggles and revolutionary movements.

For this purpose a national economic congress has been held at Oporto in which many leading business men and financiers participated. They declared that they refused to passively submit to the assassination of statesmen or to continue to allow Portugal to be the victim of professional politicians.

HIGH POWER ELECTRIC LINE THROUGH SWEDEN.

STOCKHOLM, January 18 (Associated Press). — The first section of a high-power electric line which is designed to pass through the centre of Sweden from north to south has just been completed, and is now in operation.

The section connects the high-power electric station at Trollhaettan Falls, in central Sweden, to the city of Vaesteraos, one of Sweden's most important manufacturing centres. It cost more than 10,000,000 kroner (about $2,500,000).

The large waterfalls of North and Central Sweden will be utilised to provide the power for the great Central power line when completed. This is intended to enable Sweden not only to run its trains with electric power, but also to electrify the big industrial plants of the country.

It is expected in that way to greatly decrease, if not entirely to eliminate, the use of coal.

DISCUSS THE UNION STATION PROJECT

Inspecting officials of the C.P.R. were in the city yesterday arriving here at noon and leaving on the 6.50 for Lindsay where they are to-day.

During the day in Peterborough, they inspected the local departments of the C.P.R. and also met Mayor W. H. Taylor, S. R. Armstrong, city clerk; Jos. J. Duffus, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and L. Fraser, secretary of the latter organization.

The members of the visiting party were: H. C. Grout, general superintendent, Toronto; W. H. Snell, general passenger agent, Montreal; W. Fulton, assistant deputy passenger agent, Toronto; J. Murray, superintendent Dominion Express Co., Toronto; S. Wertheim, superintendent of dining cars, Toronto.

These officials decided that the exterior of the uptown office would be improved by a coat of paint and improvements to show window were decided upon. At present the large window is useful chiefly as a source of light and the officials felt that if it was altered to allow a showing of timetables and road literature the effect would be general improvement.

The union station scheme was discussed with the Mayor and City Clerk in a general way. The next step in this matter it is said must be taken by the Canadian National Railways, to whom the proposed agreement between the two railways and the city has been submitted but no further advice from them in the matter has been received.

THE LIGHT OF CHIROPRACTIC

Is illuminating the pathway to health and happiness. Chiropractic is the greatest discovery of recent years. It is the SCIENCE which is bringing health to millions of afflicted individuals whose only outlook in life was one of darkest despair.

A NEW START IN LIFE

Many persons emphatically declare that Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments have given them a new start in life, because after the misaligned vertebrae of their spines had been adjusted to normal position and the pressure relieved from nerves, the organs of their bodies functioned normally and health was the result. CHIROPRACTIC IS SAFE, SANE AND SPECIFIC. It has restored others to health, why not you? No matter what your ailment may be, no matter how discouraged you have become, CHIROPRACTIC IS YOUR HOPE.

HYDRO WILL BE SUBJECT FOR DEBATE

T. TOOMS, M.P.P., GIVES THE TRADES AND LABOUR COUNCIL AN INSIGHT INTO THE INNER WORKINGS OF THIS QUESTION

OFFICERS ELECTED

At the regular meeting of the Peterborough and District Trades and Labor Council last evening, the officers for the ensuing year were elected as folows:

President, Bro. W. Rudkins; Vice-President, Bro. Lazure; Financial Secretary, Bro. T. Darrah; Recording Secretary, Bro. T. Ballard; Sergeant-at-Arms, Bro. Wallwork; Auditors: Bros. Cook and Campbell; Trustees: Bros. Leader, Anderson, Hales and Dodds; Scribe, Bro. T. Ballard.

A committee was appointed to interview the manager of a local theatre with regard to a matter concerning the Musicians' Union.

After the election of the officers, the President, Mr. Rudkins, took the chair in place of the retiring President, Bro. W. Mesley.

Addressing the Trades Council on the Hydro situation, Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P., had the following to say:

The chief debate before the Provincial Legislature in the coming session will be on Hydro power and Hydro radials. The press has been rather conflicting in these matters, due, no doubt, to lack of knowledge, as full reports have not been issued in the past. Look at it from any angle, political, financial or legislative, the problems are complex. The Chippawa development was begun by the Power Commission, acting for a group of municipalities with whom they entered into contracts for the transmission of power. When the Ontario Power Commission approached the Legislature about the Chippawa project the estimate was $10,500,000, which was increased to $15,000,000. As the work progressed the Commission decided to increase its capacity from 100,000 H.P. to 500,000 H.P. The cost began to increase rapidly from 10 to 20 to 35 and then to 50 millions. Now a conservative estimate puts it at 80 millions.

Under the present scheme the Province is already guarantor for 40 millions, which has to be paid in the form of capital expenditure, since there are no earnings to meet it. The municipalities, which have agreed to take the power from Chippawa are not obliged to pay back this money in any fixed number of years, therefore the Province as a whole is responsible. The price has jumped from $9 to $20 per H.P. at Chippawa.

The Two Questions.

The two questions now are: 1st, Will the new power be marketable at a rate sufficient to cover the interest and amortization charges; 2nd, Where will a market be found? The amount required this year greatly exceeds the sum. The Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council may advance money for Hydro purposes. With this I do not agree. It is a dangerous departure from democratic principles. This matter is of vital importance since the Provincial debt has jumped from 25 million in 1908 to 105 million in 1921, and 52 per cent. of this has gone into Hydro-Electric projects. The Province stands committed to the capital and interest charges, and yet the Legislature is not necessarily called upon by law to vote for or reject this money. A careful analysis of the situation calls for important changes, to my mind, in Hydro legislation. The conduct of the Commission has been entirely in the hands of three men, who are supposed to be responsible, not to a Minister or department of the Government, but to the Legislature as a whole, who, to my mind, do not handle the matter as intelligently as they could if they had the proper data.

Asks For Alternative.

Our local paper, The Examiner, condemns the idea of a Minister of Power under the complicated circumstances along with the projected Hydro radial scheme. I would ask The Examiner for an alternative. The money is granted by Orders-in-Council and not necessarily by the Legislature, as I claim it should be. The Province has backed the Hydro to the extent of over 100 million of the people's money on the inaccurate estimates of three men who compose the Commission, and who are handling 100 per cent. more the people's money than the Legislature proper. I know it takes a people's government to bring these facts before the people. I claim that the Legisla-

Hard Times Descend On Local Baby Farm

EXAMINER REPORTER VISITS THE INSTITUTION AND HEARS ANOTHER SIDE OF THE STORY—SOME OF THE INMATES HAVE BEEN REMOVED—"CUNNING, CRAFTY WAYS" OF THE YOUTH OF TO-DAY.

A CLOSE-UP OF THE OCCUPANTS

A small frame house, with one front window, where a yellow blind remains always drawn down; a double door shuts off the side room. A long, warm middle room with a red-glowing heater and a sideboard, a low couch and green-draped windows leads out by a couple of downward steps to the low-ceilinged kitchen. There is a range there, with a wood fire, and a loaf of bread stands on an oilcloth-covered table. A young man with a shock of red hair sits at the table, gazing at the visitor, as Mr. J. points with pride to the sink in the corner, and fills a wash-basin to prove conclusively that running water is on tap inside the house.

Not a dirty place, certainly not filthy, as far as one can see in the dim light from the oil lamp, and with no perceptible odor beyond the heavy smell of freshly-washed linen. A curly-haired child plays on the floor, with the tiny chubby grandson of the host, who trots him on his knee and stills his loud weeping over a bumped dead with the singing of "Tell Me the Old, Old Story" in a voice that has seen better days.

Mr. J. is garrulous. He has a full realization of his duties as host. With unsteady steps, he flitters in and out, finally lighting a match to pipe and blowing out great clouds of smoke, as he stands with closed eyes discanting on the evils of the present generation.

Present Generation.

According to Mr. J. he and "mother here" were brought up in England, in the proper fashion, where the boys doffed their hats to their superiors and the girls courtseyed to their "missuses," "but now,"—Mr. J. is aghast at the "cunning crafty ways' of the youth of to-day. "Honor and obey," he says, waving his pipe wildly in the air, and suddenly opening his eyes very wide, "teach them to honor and obey and"—but Mrs. J. who has been sitting with folded hands breaks in here to reiterate her former statement that "never, never did I send a child away from here that wasn't well and strong, and many of them came weak and ailing." She is over seventy years of age, this woman, a small figure, bony and white-haired, and in her attire abstention from any expression of strong feeling against the authorities, she conveys the impression of a tired remoteness from the entire problem.

"I am getting pretty old to be bringing up babies, they bother my head sometimes," she said passively, her excellent diction in strong contrast to the wandering elocution of her husband. That gentleman, who had ambled away, comes back to volunteer the information, among other things, that they have a boy in the asylum, "touched in the war," and that both he and Mrs. J. were married before. One wonders a little, looking at the silent woman if she hasn't been looking after all sorts of children besides the actual babies, all her life. She has been taking care of infants whose natural parents or parent found them more or less of an irksome charge for twenty years now, and has raised three of them.

She boasts that she never lost a child over eleven days old, that she never sent a sick child out of her house, and that she has often received sick and ailing children and nursed them back to health. The one child she still retains is displayed a placid, plump infant of ten months, sleeping peacefully in a crib. "You should have seen that baby when it came here, a little skeleton with its eyes twisted in its head, doped, probably, whether before or after, I don't know." But it looks quite all right now, a downy-headed infant coaxed back to health by old hands, while its young mother works somewhere in the city.

"Where's My Shirt."

Mr. J. complains a little. "Sometimes I say, where is that shirt of mine that had the little tear in it, and she says she tore it up for the babies. My first wife, now, she had plenty of linen that she left behind her, and when I married this one, she had a whole dozen good sheets. Where are they now? Made up into little shirts and things for them kids. Good gracious!" He waves his hands and pipe in aimless exasperation, coming back to confide that when the ladies from St. John's church came at Christmas and asked "her" what was needed, all she asked for was "some linen for the babies," instead of requesting "a good ton of coal."

Mrs. J. declares that it was through Adjt. Bunton that the babies were brought to her in the first place. He made the arrangements with the Reeve of Havelock to have the first two sent to her, and then the next couple from that village followed on thir heels. The first two were soon adopted, but the second pair were left on her hands to look after entirely, with no money coming for their keep. "And then," she said, "when I had those two babies here for months and their mother owed me nearly eighty dollars, which she refused to pay, when I took them down to the police court and said that he would have to look after them, he turned on me." The Adjutant, she says, had often promised during this period to go to Havelock and look up the neglectful mother, but failed to do so. Dr. D. S. King, she maintains, although chiefly instrumental in breaking up her establishment and bringing down a great deal of unwelcome publicity on

CITY STILL PURSUIT OF A HATCHERY

MINISTER OF MARINE AND FISHERIES IMPRESSED WITH PETERBORO AS A SUITABLE SITE.

WANT CLEAN WATER

TORONTO, Jan. 19.— (Special to Examiner).—A deputation representing the City Council and the Peterboro Chamber of Commerce was introduced by Mr. P. Tooms, Labor M.P.P. to Hon. Harry Mills, minister of Marine and Fisheries to-day. The deputation made representations to the minister for the establishment of a fish hatchery in Peterboro or vicinity. Hon. Mr. Mills in reply pointed out that while he was impressed with the location of Peterboro the paramount question in establishment of fish hatchery was whether the water in the locality was free from contamination and in every way healthy for fish production. He announced that he would send Mr. McLeod hatchery expert and Deputy Minister Macdonald, to Peterboro to investigate thoroughly into all matters connected with the proposal and his decision would be announced following the reports of them.

A COMPETITION FOR LOCAL UNIT

H. WOOD HEAD D THE LIST IN THE OPENING PRELIMINARIES —NOTES ON THE RANGERS.

Competition shooting has commenced at the armouries and on the first night there were 30 entries. "There should be one hundred and fifty," declared Adjutant J. D. Dunkerley. "We expect a good many more to come in."

The shooting will take place every Tuesday, the competition being decided by points. Out of a possible 25 H. Wood secured 19; C. S. M. Theobald 17; C.Q.M.S. Wood, 16; Pte. Grand, 15.

There were several other 14 scores and from that they dwindled down to nil.

Sergt. Instructor T. Thomas is in charge of the shooting. The competition is open to the men and N. C. O's, and all others who wish to enter will be welcomed at the Armouries on Tuesday night next.

There is considerable interest among the officers and the N.C.O's in the Provisional School of Instruction that begins here on Feb. 20th, and last for six weeks. Already seven officers and 20 N.C.O.'S have signed up for the school which qualifies them as infantry officers.

Officers and non-coms., and other units who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity to qualify as officers in the infantry, are invited to join the school and can do so through Adjutant J. D. Dunkerley.

The School will be held at the Armouries three nights a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 8 to 10 p.m., and will be in charge of Sergt. Instructor Thomas and an officer from headquarters, Kingston. The work will cover all phases of infantry training, etc., and at the end of six weeks examinations for qualication will take place.

TO IMPROVE THE C.P.R. PROPERTY

LANDSCAPE EXPERT TO VISIT PETERBORO IN THE NEAR FUTURE —PLAN PROPOSED.

The appearance of the river side at the rear of the C.P.R. freight sheds, so wanting in beauty now, may soon be in keeping with the abundant freshness of the eastern side. At a date not far distant the chief landscape gardener of the C. P.R., Mr. Winegar, will visit the property and advise on a plan of beautifying it to keep up with their neighbors across the Otonabee.

The Civic Planning Committee noted the improvements made at St. Thomas and advocated a similar policy here. He advised planting a row of trees along the river bank as a starter. The general superintendent after an inspection of the property, considered that at very little expense their property along the river could be made more attractive and he promised to advise Mr. Winegar to make a report on the matter as soon as possible.

The C.P.R. property is across the river from Riverside Park recently acquired as a municipal park, and to be considerably improved.

PETERBORO IS OVER AVERAGE

HOW THE MINIMUM WAGE SCALE APPLIES IN T..IS CITY—A PROVINCIAL ENACTMENT.

The Minimum Wage Board is preparing to issue orders governing the minmum wage rates in the retail stores of the Province and Peterboro is of course affected.

Up to the present, cities over 50,000, have been dealt with the rate for an experienced saleswoman in Toronto, having been set at $12.50 and adult must receive $12 and in towns in the other large centres at $12. In cities of over 30,000 an experienced adult must receive $12 and in towns and cities from 10,000 to 30,000 in population the experienced adult is to receive at least $11 per week. The minimum wage for experienced clerks therefore in Peterboro when the orders are issued will be $11 per week.

Various Rates

An inexperienced adult may have one years' learning period, with a 9 wage for the first six months, and $10 for the second six months. Girls under 18 may have a two year's learning period, beginning at $7, and increasing at the rate of $1 at the end of each successive six months.

In towns and cities of from 4,000 to $10,000 populat on these rates are lowered by $1 in each case, so that the experienced saleswoman will receive at least $10 per week, and other classes similarly.

In villages and towns of from 1,000 to 4,000 the rate for experienced adults is $9. Here no distinction is made in respect to age, but any inexperienced worker may be hired for not less than $6, to be increased to $7 at the end of six months, to $8 at the end of 12 months, and to the full minimum at the end of 18 months.

For villages of less than 1,000 population, and throughout the Province generally, the rate for experienced saleswomen is set at $8, with one year's learning period, where the initial rate is $6 to be increased to $7 at the end of six months.

These rates are for saleswomen and those working with the sales force, and do not apply to office worker, or operatives, such as milliners, dressmakers, etc.

Two weeks ago when Secretary W. C. Miller of the Retail Merchants Association was in Peterboro addressing a meeting he made the statement that figures they had received from the merchants in Peterboro showed that the average wage paid to salesgirls was over the minimum set by the Wage Board.

PRICES WILL CONTINUE ON THE DECLINE

HIGH PRICES NOTHING NEW, ADVERTISING MAN DECLARES—PRICES WILL FALL FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS.

COST OF SELLING

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.— "Prices will be on the down grade for a period of 25 years," said C. H. MacKintosh, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world at the Ritz-Carlton in addressing the Montreal Publicity Association.

"High Prices for commodities are nothing new," continued the speaker. "The first peak of high prices was reached in about 1812; for thirty years preceding that date prices had been continually on the climb, and they finished up about 250 per cent. higher than normal. Then came the reactionary drop, and for 25 years or so prices gradually went down.

"This sort of thing happened a second and third time, so that if history is to repeat itself we are about due for a decline in prices the lowest level of which will be reached in about twenty-five years."

Mr. MacKintosh said the idea that high prices meant prosperity was a mistaken one. If that were the case Russia would undoubtedly be the richest country in the world, for there one pays 1,500,000 rubles for a suit of clothes.

The price of labor was put under comparison and the speaker said that 700 years ago, when Westminster Abbey and the Tower of London were built, the laborers were paid 3 1-2 cents a day. The cost of labor in the United States had fallen 20 per cent., but it naturally falls slower than other commodities as it is so highly organized. The purchasing power of the American dollar had increased 33 1-3 per cent., and 87 per cent. of the retail merchants in America were underbuying because they had not the courage to buy, and now, if at all, was the time to buy. Naturally, Mr. MacKintosh said, much more risk is incurred in speculating on a falling market than on a rising one.

Expensive Selling.

"On this side of the water," continued the sepaker, "we have a lot to learn about selling. We don't know the first thing about it. It costs us 50 per cent. more to sell an article here than in Great Britain." He applied Ohms' electrical rule to selling, substituting sales volume, sales pressure and sales resistance, for amperes, volts and resistance, and by this method showed how sales could be increased by lessening the sales-resistance.

Mr. MacKintosh depreciated the practise of superlative and compara-

THE MUNRO HOUSE

NEW MANAGER SECURED FOR THIS WELL KNOWN HOSTELRY

Few business enterprises in Peterborough is better known than the Munro House, corner Hunter and Water street, which has been guided by experienced management these many years. The excellent character of this public house is so well known that nothing need be added in this respect. The keynote has been hospitality and comfort added to experienced service. It's central location, close to post office, shops, and street cars makes it a favorite stopping place for the travelling public. The appointment have always been kept modern and up-to-date and it is really surprising how reasonable the rates have been maintained.

For several years past the house has been under the personal management of Mrs. Munro, and a trained staff of assistants. The responsibility of so arduous a task having been heavier every year, Mrs. Munro has decided to take a season of rest. She has planned a visit to the south, free from the constant exacting duties in connection with her management. A new manager having been required, Mrs. Munro has been fortunate in securing the expert services of Mr. R. G. Furlong to occupy that position. Mr. Furlong needs no introduction to the people of Peterborough, having officiated very creditably for several years as local manager for the Allens Theatre. He also has had the benefit of twelve years active experience in the "Mossup" and "Woodbine" hotels, Toronto and the "Quinte" of Belleville. He should be an energetic and genial manager and his hotel experience will be an assurance to the public that the Munro House will continue to maintain its reputation of being a first class commercial hotel.

Mr. McDonnell will be in charge of the billiard parlor in connection with this house.

Beauvais' 'Lonely Trail' Is Lonely In Michigan

There is one first-class print of Fred Beauvais' first starring picture, "The Lonely Trail," reposing in the vault of a Detroit film exchange in the Joseph Mack Building. The picture, featuring the well-publicised Indian guide who became prominent during the recent Stillman divorce suit hearings, has been passed by the Detroit Censorship Board, yet there is hardly a chance that it ever will be shown publicly in Detroit or Michigan.

The Motion Picture Theatre Owners of Michigan, in special sesson, have declared in no uncertain terms that they will have nothing to do with "The Lonely Trail." While no resolution to that effect has been passed, more than 100 of these men, who control the picture screens of the State, have announced that they will refuse to exploit Fred Beauvais on their own screens, and that they will exert every power to prevent brother exhibitors from beoming hypnotised by the lure of the box office.

"The Michigan theatre owners will take the same staud against the showing of the Beauvais film that they did against the Clara Hamon production several months ago," said H. M. Hi ey, the general manager for the association on Monday. "Our members have no idea of showing pictures in which divorce correspondents or people figuring insensational or salacious episodes appear. This goes doubly for the individual who, sensationally exploited, seeks the screen as a source of income, catering only to the sensation lovers."

It is reported that with the resumption of the Stillman case, as scheduled for next month and consequently further exploitation for Beauvais, that every effort will be made to market "The Lonely Trail" at once, not only in Michigan, but in every section of the country. The film is now running in a New York legitimate theatre, after members of the New York motion picture theatre owners had refused to play it.

If the public had the opportunity to see "The Lonely Trail," It is quite likely the theatre owners would be saved the bother of stopping it. They would laugh it off the screens within a few weeks. It is without doubt one of the worst pictures ever made, so poor in story, cast, and mechanics, as to be ludicrous, with Mr. Beauvais enacting the role of close-eyed, Adam-appled Indian guide, who appears at all times very much in a daze and quite displeased with his task. There is no reference, however, to the Stillman case in the film.

ADVICE FOR GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

THE LONDON "TIMES" HOPES THAT A SUITABLE SUCCESSOR WILL BE APPOINTED IN PLACE OF SIR GEORGE PERLEY.

BRIEFS FROM WIRES

LONDON, Jan. 19. — (Canadian Press.)—The 'Times' says that while Canadians here unite in bidding farewell to Sir George Perley, Australians are uniting in a welcome to Sir Joseph Cook, new High Commissioner for Australia. The paper continues that Sir George Perley's departure is a matter of sincere regret to his fellow countrymen and there is no doubt that the Canadian government when appointing his successor, will make sure that the new Commissioner will be not only worthy to succeed him, but will be capable of carrying on the increasing business of office, politically and socially.

POPE BENEDICT ILL

ROME, Jan. 19. — (Canadian Press)—The condition of Pope Benedict is causing some concern. According to the Vatican, the Pope contracted grippe some time ago, but up to now had shown no grave symptoms. For several days he suffered from a severe cough, but did not wish to keep to his bed, and continued his various occupations.

Yesterday, upon insistance of Cardinal Gaspari, Papal secretary of State, Pope Benedict consented to remain in bed. His fever during the day reached 103.8 Fahrenheit.

MAY OPPOSE KING

NEWMARKET, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—Despite rumors to the contrary there is no indication that J. A. M. Armstrong intends to withdraw from contest with Premier King in North York.

STANDS BY HYDRO

HAMILTON, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—F. F. Treleaven, counsel for Matthew Bullock, the negro held here and wanted in North Carolina, stated last night that he was leaving for Ottawa immediately to place the facts of the case before the Minister of the Interior. Bullock is desperately afraid to return to Carolina. News of lynching in the south and newspaper stories to the effect that the people in North Carolina were pleased to learn of his capture have terrorized the prisoner.

HARD TIMES

her head, had never been near the place, as far as she knew.

Present Inmates.

The small house now shelters herself and Mr. J., her son, his wife and child, and a returned soldier with his wife and two infants, also the one baby she still is allowed to keep an arrangement which probably doesn't leave any excess breathing or floor space, even since the other three children were removed. Of these three, of course, Mrs. J. was very anxious to be rid of the two who had remained on her hands so long, unpaid for, and the other was undesirable in many ways.

Mr. J. maintains that he is out of work, and that both the other men in the house are in like condition.

Mrs. J. says there are several other establishments in Peterborough where babies are 'farmed out,' one of these until very recently harboring some thirteen infants.

A mysterious visitor, a lady from Toronto, was the cause of much rumination on the part of Mr. J. It seems that this lady, probably an inspector, paying a surprise visit to the house some time ago, recommended the procuring of a license. But a trip to the local City Hall by Mr. J. elicited the information from the authorities there that the only license obtainable was a dog license. "So what was I to do," said Mr. J. in a lordly manner, "you can't go calling of them little puppies, and get a license for each of them, can you"

Various doctors, they say, were called in at different times to look after minor ailments in the little ones, none of whom had anything to say against the management of the establishment, and Mr. J. declares that the Sanitary Inspector, after a recent visit, reported nothing "insanitary" about the place whatever.

The watchful young man looked in from the kitchen, the plump little baby that was once a puny, small, unwanted derelict, slept on beside the warm stove, and the woman leaned against the doorpost, as the visitor went out. "I can bear it, like everything else," she said. But Mr. J. sounded an optimistic note, still gesturing with his faithful pipe:

"Howsoever, when they're scandalizing us, they're leaving someone else alone," he said grandly, "and perhaps we've waked them up a little," a self-sacrificing attitude of mind which at once lifted Mr. J. and his family from the plane of those who might be regarded as possible minor offenders aaginst the law to the rank of a sort of benefactor to the community at large.

BULL-DOG DRUMMOND

BY "SAPPER"
(CYRIL McNEILE)

"Then where the devil does Potts come in?" said Hugh, who had listened intently to every word the American had said. "And the Duchess of Lumpshire's pearls?"

"Pearls!" began the American, when the restaurant door opened suddenly and Ted Jerningham emerged. He seemed to be in a hurry, and Hugh half rose in his chair. Then he sat back again, as with miraculous rapidity a crowd of infuriated head waiters and other great ones appeared from nowhere and surrounded Jerningham.

Undoubtedly this was not the way for a waiter to leave the hotel—even if he had just been discovered as an impostor and sacked on the spot. And undoubtedly if he had been a waiter, this large body of scandalised beings would have removed him expeditiously through some secret buttery-hatch, and dropped him on the pavement out of a back entrance.

But not being a waiter, he continued to advance, while his entourage, torn between rage at his effrontery and horror at the thought of a scene, followed in his wake.

Just opposite Hugh he halted, and in a clear voice addressed no one in particular:

"You're spotted. Look out. Ledger at Godalming."

Then, engulfed once more in the crowd, he continued his majestic progress, and finally disappeared a little abruptly from view.

"Cryptic," murmured the American, "but some lad. Gee! He had that bunch guessing."

"The ledger at Godalming," said Hugh thoughtfully. "I watched Peterson, through the skylight last night, getting guy with that ledger. I'm thinking we'll have to look inside it, Mr. Green."

He glanced up as one of the chucklingout party came back, and asked what had happened.

"Mon Dieu, M'sieur," cried the waiter despairingly. "E vas an impostor, n'est-ce-pas—un scelerat; 'e upset ze fish all over ze shirt-front of Monsieur le Comte."

"Was that the gentleman with the short beard, dining with three others?" asked Drummond gravely.

"Mais oui, M'sieur. He dine here always if 'e is in Paris—does le Comte de Guy. Oh! Mon Dieu! C'est terrible'"

Wringing his hands, the waiter went back into the restaurant, and Hugh shook silently.

"Dear old Ted," he murmured, wiping the tears from his eyes. "I knew he'd keep his end up." Then he stood up. "What about a little dinner at Maxim's? I'm thinking we've found out all we're likely to find, until we can get to that ledger. And thanks to your trip to Paris has been of considerable value."

The American nodded.

"I guess I'm on," he remarked slowly; "but, if you take my advice, Captain, you'll look nippy to-night. I wouldn't linger around corners admiring the mud. Things kind o' happen at corners."

OFFICERS OF TUXIS SQUARE ELECTED AT ANNUAL MEETINC —VALUABLE HORSE ACCIDENTLY HANGED HIMSELF.

NEWS OF INTEREST

BETHANY, Jan. 19.—The annual meeting of the Tuxis Square was held Monday evening. After the different reports were presented and commended the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Honorary Mentor, Rev. J. E. Beckel; Mentor, Mr. Percy C. Brown; Deputy Mentors, Mr. Wm Lee and Mr. A. H. Monk; Pretor, Harold A. Monk; Deputy Pretor, Fred Canaver; Scriptor, Theodora Davis; Comptor, Joseph Kingsborough.

Folowing the election of officers there were several speeches in which the delegates who attended the boys' conference in Lindsay each, had to give a short talk on the subject "What Benefit I received from attending the boys' Conference." These speeches were good and showed the splendid ability of the boys. Short speeches were also made by the newly elected officers.

The Tuxis Square meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock unless other arrangements are announced.

Hockey Popular

The hockey game on the rink on Tuesday afternoon was quite exciting. The clash between the "Has-been's" and the "Is-to-be's" hockey players. For a time the is-to-be's were getting the best of the game, but when the struggle ended the score stood 6-6.

As yet there is no organized team, but the boys like to keep in practice.

Mr. John Sisson has had the misfortune to loose a valuable horse. It seems that on going to his stable on Tuesday morning to do his chores he found that the animal had hanged himself with his halter during the night. How the accident happened is not known.

The line up was as follows.

Goal, H. Laing, defence, H. and D. Fennell, centre, G. Wright; left wing H. Bullannan; right wing, R. Rutherford; substitutes, D. Laing and O. O'Brein.

CAMPBELLFORD DEFEAT MARMORA IN HEAVY STORM

HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE GAME IN MARMORA WAS CLOSE AND CLEAN—SCORE 4 TO 2—MADOC WON FROM TWEED IN TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE.

MARMORA, Jan. 19.—In a heavy snow storm that necessitated the frequent cleaning of the ice on the local open-air rink, Campbellford defeated Marmora by the score of 4 goals to 3 in the Trent Valley High School League game here last night. The teams were evenly matched, but the visiting students had a slight edge on Marmora High on last night's play. Each team got a goal apiece in each of the first two periods, leaving the score a two-all tie beginning the last session. In the final period Campbellford scored twice to Marmora's single counter.

The game was slowed up and generally hampered by the snow that piled up freely, and about every ten minutes the game had to be dug out by the shovelling brigade, while the teams retreated to the waiting-room. Combination work was made difficult as a result, but the game was full of interest from start to finish, keeping the crowd of 300 on their toes until the last bell inspite of the unfavorable weather.

The teams were as follows:

Referee—H. R. Pearce.

Bleecker in goal for Marmora played a particularly good game, blocking and clearing well. His work helped a lot in keeping the score close. Ralph Neal scored Marmora's three goals, and looked about the best man on the ice.

The Campbellford team was well balanced, and it would be difficult to name their most effective player. Stansbury scored two of their goals and Wood and Archer each one. The game was clean and was well handled by Mr. Pearce.

Madoc Won in Tweed.

The snow storm was just as heavy in Madoc, where the home team won from Tweed by 4 to 3 in the Senior Trent Valley League fixture. W. J. Whittey of Stirling was referee.

Friday Night's Game.

The game with Stirling here on Friday night in the Trent Valley League series should attract a big crowd from the district. Stirling has a fast team and are going strong, but Marmora is confident of winning this game. The club is holding a dance afterward and guarantees the visitors an enjoyable time.

FIRE DEPARTMENT, LAKEFIELD, NEEDS PROPER FIRE ALARM

Concerts To This End Should Be Generously Patronized — Movement For Ladies' Hockey Club.

An Informal Dance.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 19.—The fourth of the Lyceum series of concerts was given on Tuesday evening, when the Alexander Trio delighted the largest crowd that the firemen have had at any of their entertainments. The boys have been bravely bearing the burden of these entertainments, and the fact that their fellow townsmen are not patronizing them as they should must be discouraging, to say the least.

A proper fire alarm and an up-to-date fire brigade will do much to lessen the insurance rate in the village, which is high owing to lack of facilities for fighting fire. A community standing behind the firemen means a great deal, both in the present and in the future.

Ladies' Hockey.

The fine new rink is attracting large crowds, both of local people and loads of young people from out of town. People who have not skated for many years are on skates and enjoying it immensely. Ice sports of all kinds are very popular and are monopolizing a great deal of time.

The idea of ladies' hockey has not fully developed, but it is still in the offing, and several teams propose entering if there is an organization. A meeting of those interested would be a very good way to start things going, for with January half over there is no time to lose.

Informal Dance.

The young people held an informal dance in the town hall at the close of the Lyceum concert on Tuesday evening, the Alexander Trio kindly furnishing the music.

Personal Mention.

Rev. ... R. James of Omemee is visiting Rev. and Mrs. MacKenzie at "The Grove."

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.— (Canadian Press.)—There will be a meeting of the National Hockey League during the next week-nd in Montreal. At this meeting will be taken up the new proposals to change the present penalizing system. "Nothing doing yet in the Lalonde case," he replied, whes questioned.

STATUS ELEVATED.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press.)—The first session of the Canadian Life Insurance Underwriters Congress was held yesterday with J. M. Queen, provincial president, in the chair. J. G. Stevenson, Dominion president, addressed the meeting on the importance of insurance and demonstrated that the status of insurance men had been elevated in the last few years. He also stressed the idea of a close co-operation and co-ordination and mentioned the enormous business transacted in Canaad during the past year.

WASHINGTON CONFERENCE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press.)—Turning to the problem of railway control in China, the committee laid the ground work for to-day's discussions by hearing two resolutions proposed for promoting equitable development of Chinese rail facilities. The first, introduced by Sir Auckland Geddes of the British delegation, would pledge the powers aaginst discriminatory practices on roads under their control. The other, presented by Secretary Hughes, would express a hope that the transportation lines in China might be welded eventually into a unified system under Chinese control.

DIFFERENCES ACUTE.

LONDON, Jan. 19.— (Canadian Press.) —The London Times says that the Cabinet differences were so acute at the last week-end that there was a possibility that Premier Lloyd George would withdraw from the government and hand the reins to Austen Chamberlain, who, heading a united Unionist Party, would have a working majority of about 100 in the House of Commons, from which the Sinn Fein members still remained absent.

The Times adds that this possibility may now be said to have disappeared; that Mr. Lloyd George was reluctant to accept office before completing the Act of Parliament concerning the Irish problem and was also keenly desirous of realizing fully the possibilities of the Genoa Conference.

MRS. STILLMAN BACK.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press.)—Mrs. Anne Stillman and her sons, Alexander and Guy, are back in their Fifth avenue home to-day after three weeks' sojourn in Canada, where Mrs. Stillman interviewed a number of prospective witnesses in the Stillman divorce suit.

FARMERS IN CONVENTION

DECIDE NOT TO GO INTO CO-OPERATIVE MEAT BUSINE S—LOOKS FOR REMOVAL OF EMBARGO.

CALGARY, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—United Farmers of Alberta at this time will not go into the co-operative meat export business. After a long discussion, the 1,043 delegates who are attending the annual convention decided to table indefinitely a report from a special committee which recommended that the association go into the business of shipping chilled beef to British markets on a cooperative plan.

F. M. Black, treasurer of the United Grain Growers, Limited, who spoke by invitation, was not optimistic over the possibility of developing a chilled beef export business from Alberta points. Mr. Black predicted the removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle within about six weeks as the result of the settlement of the Irish question.

Hon. Geo. Headley, provincial minister of Agrculture, had written that the government was convinced that the weight of evidence went to show that the shipping of chilled Alberta beef to the British market would not be a profitable enterprise.

A resolution providing for the co-operative marketing of hogs also was tabled.

The convention decided that a special effort would be made to encourage the foreign born in attaining Canadian citizenship, coupled with the observation of Dominion Day.

PROPAGANDA FOR FRANCE

PARIS NEWSPAPER DESCRIBES FRENCH POSITION BEFORE THE WAR AND NOW.

PARIS, January 19 (Canadian Press). — "France's image as it appeared before the war, although it has not changed, remaining calm and open to every generous idea, has been distorted in the eyes of our friends," says the Temps in an editorial to-day.

"A helmeted, booted, and spurred France has been substituted, prepared for all sorts of conquests. This is the image which astounds the French people when they see its reflection in the foreign press.

"There is no peasant, no worker in France whose heart is not filled with bitterness or sadness, who does not feel the tragic injustice when he reads certain appreciations of his country's intentions so persistently repeated."

The newspaper finds French methods to blame for "incidents like those that occurred to the Fayolle Mission to Italy" and "the sort of revolution in minds which has occurred in America since the beginning of the Washington Conference, to which France went with almost a halo of glory."

"Are its rays still as brilliant?" asks the Temps, which adds: "There, perhaps more than elsewhere, has the influence of adroit propaganda been seen, but, alas, not on France's side."

Failure to explain fully and completely France's position as regards submarines and an "unfounded charge" made by a member of a foreign delegation at Washington concerning France's opinion on submarines, are further points which leads the Temps to demand that the new Premier "form, organise, develop, intensify, and co-ordinate" French propaganda abroad.

The reference to the incidents surrounding the Fayolle Mission probably is connected with hostile demonstrations in Italy in September last against the French Mission which went there to attend exercises in honour of the Franco-Italian war dead. The mission was headed by Marshal Fayolle.

SOURCE OF FATAL BEAUTY POWDER TORONTO MYSTERY

YOUNG LAW STUDENT DIES SHORTLY AFTER TAKING POWDER RECEIVED BY HIS MOTHER THROUGH THE MAILS—ENVELOPE AND LETTER BURNED LEAVING NO CLUE OF ORIGIN

DRAUGHT TAKEN IN JEST

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—Details of the little poison envelope which caused the sudden death of Anderson Buchanan, 21-year-old law student, early today, as given to a reporter this afternoon by Mrs. James Buchanan, mother of Anderson, and Miss Marjorie, sister, add still further mystery to the tragedy.

Pulling herself together in an effort to tell all she knew of the deadly "beauty" powder and its origin, Mrs. Buchanan first noted that it was peculiar that any mail order house or advertising firm should have her address. So far as she could recall the powder was delivered to her present address at 228 Riverdale avenue on Friday or Saturday last. It came in a plain white envelope, her own name being typewritten on it.

As to this detail, Miss Marjorie, who is a first form student at Riverdale Collegiate, differs with her mother. So far as she can recall the envelope was a plain one, but came by mail. Mrs. Buchanan, however, has some doubt in her mind as to whether or not there was a postage stamp on the envelope.

Both Anderson Buchanan and his sister, Marjorie, saw the envelope before their mother. Being addressed to Mrs. Anderson it was not opened by either of them and Miss Marjorie recalls that young Anderson at the moment remarked that it felt as though there were money in it. According to Miss Marjorie, also, the envelope arrived together with other mail on Monday morning.

Mother Opened Envelope.

It was Mrs. Buchanan who opened the envelope. She made a very hasty examination of the contents. Inside of the plain white envelope was a circular typewritten letter and beside it another small plain white tissue paper which contained the powder.

She read the circular letter and threw it, together with the envelope, with the waste material in the kit

Self Defence Was Woman's Evidence

ST. SCHOLASTIQUE, Que., January 19 Canadian Press). — Sarah Ann Wilson Fletcher was found guilty here yesterday afternoon of manslaughter in connection with the charge of murdering her husband, and sentenced to three months' imprisonment in the local jail.

Afeature of the closing scene of the trial was the testimony of the prisoner herself. Describing the shooting of her husband, she told the Court that on the day of the tragedy last winter, after a quarrel with him, she came into the kitchen of her home with a gun in her hands. Her husband shouted at her, "I'll put your brains out."

"Don't do it, dad," Mrs. Wilson said.

"I was backing to get out," said the witness, "and he rushed at me. I swear I didn't deliberately pull the trigger."

After the shooting, she said she heard her husband say, "My poor old woman, I drove you to do it at last."

GERMAN TOYS.

LONDON, January 19 (Canadian Press Cable).—Owing to complaints from British manufacturers that German toys are sold in Great Britain below prices at which similar goods can profitably be made in this country in consequence of the depreciation of German currency, the British Board of Trade has appointed a committee to consider the question of imposing on such toys a special duty under the provisions of the Safeguarding of Industries Act. The Act came into force last October.

GRAIN EXPORTS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press.)— Heavy increases in United States exports of grain during 1921 as compared with 1920, including an advance of more than 700 per cent. in corn shipments was announced by the Commerce Departent. Exports of corn aggreated 129,000,000 bushels, valued at $93,000,000, compared with 18,0000000 bushels worth $26,000,000 in 1920.

TROTZKY IN JOVIAL MOOD

RUSSIAN MINISTER OF WAR DECLARES REVOLUTION IS A HISTORIC FACT — GOVERNMENT'S ATTITUDE.

MOSCOW, Jan. 19. Canadian Press —The prediction was made by Leon Trotzky, Soviet Minister of War, in an interview rere, that the coming Genoa Economic Conference would be a failure, "unless the United States enters it with a heavy hand," and makes possible the finding of the world's political equilibrium. This, he added, was just as difficult a task as it was for Archimedes to find the centre of gravitation.

Trotzky's interview granted to the foreign correspondents here, was the first of an authorized nature he had given since the change in Russia's economic policy.

Trotzky said the absence of France, should she decide not to be present, would not prevent Russia from partcipating in the Genoa Conference, if the United States did not.

When asked what proposals Soviet Russia would make at Genoa and whether the Far Eastern situation would be discussed, Trotzky replied that Russia would not go to the conference with any idea of outlining its programme, but in the belief that all the world troubles growing out of the war would be considered.

When queried as to what the Soviet Government's attitude at Genoa would be toward the general disarmament programme, Trotzky said Russia favored such a programme but was skeptical regarding the attitude of France.

As to the reparations question the War Minister smilingly remarked that Russia had so many repairs to make at home she hadn't much time to help other peoples.

In a more serious mood, he declared Russia would be ready to discuss reparations if the powers demanding them would show a disposition to grant honest cooperation in rebuilding Russia and make it possible to convert her great natural resources into means of payment.

Questions concerning the cheka—the Soviet secret inquisitorial body—and regarding condition in the prisons brought out a general discussion from Trotzky of the means used in bringing about the social revolution in Russia.

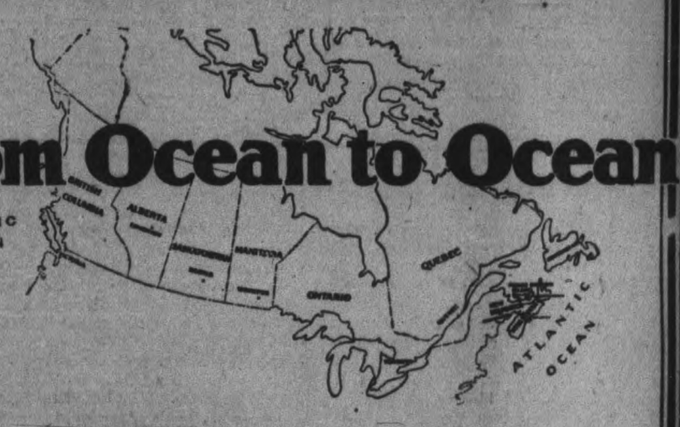
From Ocean to Ocean



IN every Province in Canada we have bought, underwritten and sold Government, Municipal or Railway Bonds guaranteed by the Government. During three decades Æmilius Jarvis & Co., Limited, year by year, has grown in public confidence and in clientele.

From ocean to ocean the mail, the telegraph and telephone daily pour into this house the orders of clients who know that with us their interests are safe.

This nation-wide business connection has been established by rigid adherence to an inflexible rule of "safety first" in all investments recommended to clients. No bond issue is ever accepted or recommended until a thorough and expert examination of the assets, debts and sinking funds, revenues, assessment values, borrowing powers, legality of authority, maturities and of agreements and all other facts pertinent to the security of the principal, has been made. When we recommend an investment you can be absolutely assured that it is a safe security to buy.

1922 Investment Situation

Not so simple or easy as it has been in 1921, when highest grade bonds could be bought to yield 6 per cent. or better.

Today money is easier, interest rates are declining, and more money is seeking investment. Under these conditions high-grade securities invariably advance in price and yields are reduced.

Indications are that this condition will continue. If times become good, industries active and business normal, interest rates are bound to decline and high-class securities to advance.

We believe this will be the outstanding feature of the situation in 1922.

We believe good times are here, that business will revive, that industries will take on new life in 1922, and that we will see advances in prices of all good securities.

Our advice, therefore, is to buy now.

In our list we have a large variety of guaranteed railway bonds and Provincial and municipal bonds of varying maturities and at yields that are very attractive. Full particulars of any security will be furnished on mail, telegraph or telephone enquiry.

GIVE THE KIDDIES A CHANCE.

The Galt Playground Association is fathering a proposal that a number of hills in that city be set aside during certain hours for coasting. On several occasions The Examiner has urged that a similiar policy be adopted in Peterborough, but up to the present no action has been taken. There is no finer outdoor sport for Canadian children than sleigh-riding, and the fact that is cheap amusement as well commends it to the parents. But it is a pastime that is not without its element of danger, as it is carried on in Peterborough. The youngsters are forced to used the roads at the risk of a collision with motor cars, or the pavements, in defiance of the police. Neither course is desirable, and coasting on the sidewalks endangers pedestrians as well. It should not be a difficult matter to sanction coasting on a number of Peterborough's hills and to have the traffic controlled so that the sport could be carried on under safe conditions. Some Aldermanic friend of the little folks might have the matter discussed before the Council. Civic assistance along the line suggested would be appreciated by hundreds of children and endorsed by their parents. It is the attention paid to such details that makes the city worth while stand out from the mediocrity of centres that are just places in which to work and sleep.

THE CASE OF THE DOCTORS.

The statements made by W. S. Dingman, Vice-Chairman of the Ontario License Board, in connection with the issuing of liquor prescriptions by the doctors of the Province, are naturally resented by the medical fraternity, and public opinion will support the profession. The medical men of Ontario have for some time been in a most unhappy position in regard to the administration of the Ontario Temperance Act, and Mr. Dingman's remarks come with ill-grace. The whole system is illogical. If liquor is necessary for medicinal purposes—and the Act recognizes it as such by permitting it to be dispensed on a doctor's certificate—why should there be any restrictions as to how much may be prescribed? That should be left to the judgment of the doctors as in the case of other drugs. The machinery for punishing a medical man who takes advantage of his position and commits a breach of professional conduct is available. His actions can be probed by the Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons and he can be dealt with accordingly by that responsible body. But so long as the Province recognizes the medicinal value of liquor and sanctions its use by doctors in their practice, officials entrusted with the administration of the Ontario Temperance Act should be careful of their statements.

WHEN THE MOST HARM IS DONE.

Many resolutions conscientiously brought forward for the protection of the fish and game of the Province were passed by a meeting of the Ontario Sportsmen's Game and Fish Protective Association held in Toronto the other night. Many of these suggestions are admirable and should receive the earnest attention of the Government, for they would do much to increase Ontario's supply of game and fish. But the association, in The Examiner's opinion, overlooked one of the most pressing needs in connection with the matter, the necessity of a better system of inspection and a more effective enforcement of the existing laws. The elimination of the slaughter of Ontario's fish during the spawning season would accomplish more than all the changes suggested by the association. The officials at present in charge of the work are powerless to check the ravages of the pirates. Their territory is large and they cannot possibly keep an eye on all the fishing grounds within their jurisdiction. They are, in addition, handicapped by a somewhat general belief that there is nothing very wrong in netting or spearing a fish out of season. Even men who join protective associations and clamour for a better condition of affairs are not above encouraging the illegal traffic by buying fish that they know have been secured in direct violation of the regulations. Until the damage done to the fish supply of the Province during the spawning season is realized and checked, there is no hope that much can be done by regulating the fishing during the legal period. The appointment of a large number of temporary inspectors to patrol the fishing grounds during the short time that most of the harm is done would seem to be the only logical way in which the problem can be handled.

AN EXPLANATION IS NEEDED.

"The London Post Office has been invaded by an army of rodents, and great damage is being caused by the invasion. The postal authorities are trying to cope with the situation by the employment of a miniature army of cats. Four of the latter are already on the job."
—News item.

This is a serious state of affairs. The invasion of the property of the Government of Canada by rats is bad enough in itself, but there is a principle involved in the means taken to deal with the rodents that calls for earnest thought. Who appointed the quartette of Government cats that have been set to work? Was the Civil Service Commission consulted in the matter, and was the test a competitive one Or, on the other hand, has there been political patronage at work? Were only cats that were friendly to the Government in power chosen, or did the Conservative cats and Progressive cats of London have a fair chance? These are questions that naturally suggest themselves, and no doubt Tommy Church has the case of the London Post Office listed among the matters that he will bring to the attention of Parliament. An explanation is certainly in order. The people of Canada who are responsible for the maintenance of these post office felines have a right to know the facts. It is their privilege to know if the cats are to be regarded as permanent or temporary employees, to learn whether or not they have been approved by Griffenhagen and company and to hear all the details in connection with their appointment. Patronage must not be allowed to raise its sinister head even in the matter of post office cats, and the Government might as well understand that a vigilant press proposes to keep tab on the Tabbies.

A NEW CALENDAR SUGGESTED.

Accountants and other business men who have worried over the fairness of weekly, monthly and yearly comparisons are interesting themselves in the proposals made from time to time for a revised calendar, says The Monetary Times. It is not time that is to be changed—merely our way of recording it. At the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Toronto last week, Sir Frederic Stupart described a meeting of the International Union of Science which is to be held in Rome next April, and at which the matter will be taken up by astronomers and scientists.

At the conference in Rome it is proposed to put an end to the irrational fixing of Easter by the time of the Paschal moon. The year, it is proposed, will have 364 days and exactly 52 weeks. There will be two months of 30 and one of 31 days in each quarter.

The greatest innovation is to be the Nameless Day or "Dies Non." It will fall between the last day of December and the first of January. It will, however, belong neither to the old nor to the new year. Time will stand still on that day. Business will also come to a complete standstill, as merchants will not be able to enter the day in their books, because it is not included in the calendar.

Christmas will always come on Monday and Easter always on April 14. The year 1923 is ideally suitable for the introduction of the new calendar because under the present Gregorian system it begins on a Monday.

MAKING THEIR BUSINESS PAY.

The new Minister of Agriculture told the dairymen of Eastern Ontario the other day that their business should be put on a paying basis. This he suggested might be done by taking it out of its "side-line" position and making it a definite branch of farm work. When they had done that, he predicted that reasonable profits would go a long way toward keeping the boys on the farm who now yearned for the gayety and bright lights of the cities. When Mr. Motherwell has lived for a time in one of those centres which are supposed to lure brawny youth from the land, he may be able to go back to the farmers and tell them in all sincerity of the illusion which lies at the bottom of this movement.

There is ample room for a better understanding in rural communities of actual conditions in city life, especially as to the ease and abundance which are assumed to prevail. A clergyman, who at one time occupied a prominent pulpit in Ottawa, used to tell a story which aptly illustrates the mistake so commonly made in that regard. Having preached in the little country church which he had attended when a boy, he overheard an old schoolmate, now grey-headed like himself, remark to his wife as they were getting into their buggy near the driving shed: "If I could talk like that I'd never work another day in my life."

That dairying is depressed at the present time may be taken for granted. It could hardly be exempt from the pinch that has gripped the commerce of the world. Far-seeing men of affairs, however, prepared for just such a contingency when prices were high, and the dairymen should have exercised the same measure of obvious prudence. The wise business man laid aside his special profits over against the inevitable day when the reaction would come. We all remember, to our cost, how cheese soared during the earlier years of the war. Those were golden times for the dairy business; but the men who dreamt that such flush years were going to endure, and consumed their gains, are undoubtedly among those who are now suffering. And what is true of the imprudent dairymen appears to be just as true of farmers in general, especially in the western provinces. There is no cure for their troubles except the readjustment of the cost of production to market values based on supply and demand, which will certainly come in time.

This is not said because of any lack of sympathy. Far from it. It would be silly to assume that the economic woes of those who are engaged in the dairy business, or in any other form of production associated with farming, are not also the woes of the chief centres of population. The people of the rural districts cannot be in distress without the resultant loss of their purchasing power being directly reflected in shrunken commerce in the cities. This is a truth so vital and far-reaching that the supreme problem of our day is the bringing of producers and consumers into closer relations, in order that the waste which now occurs in the far-flung channels of distribution may be eliminated. It would mean better prices for the farmer and lower prices for the people of the cities.

Here is a promising field for the new Minister of Agriculture. Sir Clifford Sifton told the members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at Toronto that little of a constructive character had been done to make farming a comfortable vocation; that it was unremunerative on the whole and desperately dull and hard. Just how the hard work may be squeezed out of it is scarcely open to debate. It cannot be done. But the return to the farmer could be bettered, and the best, most rational, and quickest way of doing it would be to give him a larger share of what his products are costing the city consumer. If Hon. Mr. Motherwell can find a way of bridging that costly gap he will have gone a long way toward making dairying, and all other departments of farming, more profitable. With adequate profits assured, the movement of population from the country to the cities would in large measure cease.—Ottawa Journal.

RECOGNIZE RUSSIA.

PARIS, Jan. 18. — (Canadian Press.)— Will the Soviet delegates arriving in Genoa be bound by the Supreme Council's resolution at Cannes? asks the Times. The newspaper replies affirmatively to its question. It argues that if the Soviet delegates attend the Genoa conference with the same status as other members of the conference, this will be equivalent to official recognition of Russia "both de jure and de facto, as no definition of official recognition can be clearer than being treated as an equal by other governments."

OSTEOPATHIC RESULTS FROM ACTUAL EXPERIENCE.

SCIATICA.

The osteopath has often been facetiously described as the man who takes the "sigh" out of Sciatica, and he does just that.

Most cases of Sciatica are caused by the lesion or slipping of a certain joint. The diagnosis and adjustment of which is strictly an osteopathic procedure, and will effect a cure in over three-fourths of all cases of Sciatica; the rest are due to other causes, but generally yield to osteopathy.

The Kidneys

The office man and the outdoor worker suffer alike from derangements of the kidneys.

Backaches and headaches are among the symptoms. In some cases Bright's disease soon develops, others suffer from high blood pressure until hardening of the arteries sets in.

In order to forestall painful and fatal diseases prompt action should be taken at the first sign of trouble.

Mr. A. D. MacKinnon, Kirkwood, Inverness county, N.S., writes:

"I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to all suffering from weak kidneys. I suffered from kidney disease for a long time. I may also say that for three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and no treatment seemed to do more than afford temporary relief. I was finally told of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using a few boxes was completely relieved. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment with the best results, and never fail to recommend these wonderful remedies."

NEW YORK WILL CONSIDER SCHEME

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.— Canadian Press)—What is New York going to do about it? asks the Tribune commenting upon the report of the joint International Commission on the Great Lakes—St. Lawrence waterway. The paper calls attention to the fact that the State of New York owns the competing waterway from Oswego to Mowhawk and thence down to the tidewater and claims that "this route is shorter, capable of operation for longer period each year and is a short route to foreign ports." While flatly opposed to "going to Canada in search of a new outlet for the commerce of Lake Region" the paper admits that the New York route is not perfect.

The system now being followed in the best clubs in this city is for a member to have his own bottle which the waiter brings to him from his private locker. LIQUOR TEST CASE.

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.— (Canadian Press.) —The question as to whether liquor can be ordered during licensed hours and served after licensed hours was made the subject of a test case in the liquor court here yesterday afternoon in the case of the Quebec Liquor Commission versus the Claridge Cafe. The drinks were ordered by telephone at seven in the evening of September 23 and 24 last and were subsequently served between 10.30 and midnight. Judgment will be given January 25.

REFUNDING THE DEBT.

LONDON, Jan. 19. — (Canadian Press.)—In connection with the proposed refunding by the United States Government of Allied debts, the London Times says the task of refunding the debt of the British will no doubt prove the easiest and simplest of all, because Great Britain is the only country in a position to resume the payment of interest, suspended for a period three years ending in April.

he said, "but we won against great odds with such methods. The Revolution is a historic fact, and as the new order is established on a Soviet basis it is here to stay. Efforts to overthrow it will be useless. It is legalized and permanent and people inside and outside of Russia must adapt themselves to it. People may not like a volcano but they can't stop its eruption."

Trotzky, who was in an extremely jovial mood, received the correspondents in his orderly, mahogany furnished room, in the war office. He was dressed in a gray-green uniform, without decorations or insignia of any sort.

As he sat behind his desk, with the correspondents seated in a group in front of him, and with a great map of Russia on a frame to his back, the correspondent was compelled to contrast this orderly and business-like War Minister and the entire building he dominates, with the disordered and neglected state which characterizes nearly all the rest of Russia.

Trotzky first greeted the correspondents in German, then shifted to French and finally offered to reply to questions put in English if spoken very slowly. But the membership of the conference was so international that it seemed as if there was no language common to all.

Trotzky laughingly asked the correspondents who knew German to raise their hands. Then he took a vote on those who knew French, Russia and English The French language won

DO YOU SMOKE TOO MUCH?

There are many men on whose heart and nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results. It causes palpitation, pain in the heart, irregularity of its beat, makes the hands tremble, sets the nerves on edge, causes shortness of breath and loss of sleep.

To counteract this demoralizing influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy to equal

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results caused by tobacco.

Mr. Frank Lutes, 71 Terrace Hill St., Brantford, Ont. writes:—"I had been troubled with palpitation of the heart for a number of years, and by spells it would bother me a lot. The doctor told me it would stop sometime if I could cut out tobacco. When I would get a spell my heart would pound and would break out in perspiration, and get so weak I would have to sit down and quit my work; also in the night I would wake up and my heart would be going. I should say, about 120 beats a minute. About three years ago I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, took them, and found that they did the job. I am feeling fine and have gained over 20 pounds in weight."

Price 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto Ont.

SOURCE OF FATAL BEAUTY POWDER

chen. Two points in the letter impressed her. One was that the powders sold at 6 for $1.50 or $2.50 per dozen, and that a representative of the company would call on her during the week.

Mrs. Buchanan placed the contents of the tissue paper in a cup and placed the cup on a shelf. She informed both her son and daughter of the purported use of the powder, and they both expressed a desire to take it. The directions for use were contained in the typed circulars, namely: "Dissolve in water and drink on retiring." Mrs. Buchanan said she especially noticed the word drink. It was decided, after a few remarks between Miss Marjorie and Anderson that Anderson should have the powder, his complexion not being very clear, and so it was left on a shelf for him to take.

About 8 a.m. today Anderson expressed a desire to take the powder at once. "I told him he was not supposed to take it until retiring," said Mrs. Buchanan, "but he said it wouldn't make much difference. Before he took it, though, I tasted it myself, and it was awfully bitter, and I told him so. I said, 'You're welcome to that,' but he wanted to take it right away. One of the things the letter said was that a marked improvement would be noticed in the complexion within 24 hours, and I said to Anderson that that was a lot of nonsense, because no powder could make any difference in any complexion in such a short time.

"Anyway, he took it, and the first thing I heard was him calling 'Mother, mother.' When I came into the hall he was near the door, going out, and he said, 'I feel funny—as though I were drunk.' He got very pale and began to shiver, but didn't make any noise. I was trying to think of something to give him to make him vomit, but I couldn't think of anything. Then I opened the front door and shouted to a man who was passing to get a doctor quick, but it was half an hour before the first doctor arrived, and Anderson had been dead ten minutes. In the meantime the man next door brought in some epicac, but Anderson couldn't swallow it, though he tried. His throat was choked up.

"Hold Me Tight."

"His last words were, 'Mother, hold me tight,' and I put my arms around him. He was shivering and I held on to him as tight as I could until he died in my arms."

Replying to the questions of the reporter, Mrs. Buchanan said her home was at No. 2 Playter boulevard, where her husband, James Buchanan, now resides. Mrs. Buchanan and her two children had moved to her present address temporarily in October last. Only a very limited number of persons knew of the change, and it is one of the mysteries of the case that an envelope should have been delivered or addressed to her at the Riverdale avenue house.

Though accepting calls to go out and assist as nurse in the sick room, Mrs. Buchanan said she was not a professional nurse, nor was her name registered in any place where it might have been secured for circularizing purposes. Her knowledge of drugs, she stated, was very limited. She had read that in cases of poisoning the best thing to do was to induce vomiting, if possible, but then her knowledge of the subject was so slight that she did not know what to use in an emergency.

Searching her mind for a motive or clue which might identify any individual as having sent the fatal powder to her, Mrs. Buchanan said she had not the faintest suspicion. "It has been an awful, sudden tragedy, and I don't know what to think of it."

Search for Clue.

In an attempt to trace the source from which the complexion or "beauty" powder came, a reporter spent several hours interviewing wholesale drug firms and inquiring in other likely places for a clue. The only light obtained was a general definition of complexion powders and their contents. Mr. Harmer of Liggett Company stated that a number of firms made preparations calculated to remove freckles, tan, etc. Such preparations were all for external use and might contain such ingredients as barium powder or bichloride of mercury, which would be very dangerous, if not fatal, if by any chance they were taken internally.

A search at the post office revealed the fact that there had been no delivery in quantities of such packets, and this discovery is borne out by the fact that none of the Buchanan family's neighbors received similar packets.

CONVICT SAILORS MEMBERS COUNCIL.

Source of Contention With Paris Communists.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press).—The election of two mutinous sailors of the French fleet as members to the Paris City Council has proved a prolific source of contention on the part of the Communist party and of embarrassment to the city government. The two sailors, Badina and Andre Marty, were convicted of mutiny when men on board the French warships in the Black Sea refused to fire on the Russian Bolsheviki in 1919.

Although both were serving terms in prison, they were elected to the City Council in October and November last. Marty's election was annulled on the ground of his conviction for mutiny, and now Badina's election also has been declared void on similar grounds by vote of the Prefectorial Council of the Seine Department.

The Communist party has made much political capital out of these two cases and now announces that it will appeal the annulment in Badina's case to the Council of State. It is expected that the Council will confirm the annulment and order fresh elections. Communists declare that if this is done they will renominate both Badina and Marty and try to re-elect them.

Meanwhile, the cases have caused at least one lively exchange of compliments in the Chamber of Deputies between Communists and Government leaders, who refused the Communists' plea to set the mutineers free and permit them to take their seats in the City Council.

I simply would Jack, he's the darlingest husband. Guess what he's doing now? teaching me to Uke

We have glorious times, but of course, fall every few minutes, and usually pull Jack over with me. We were both soaked when we got home last night, but we rubbed Campana's Italian Balm on to each other's faces, and that helped our hands too. So I'm going to try again next week.

BROKE CANADIAN RECORD.

ST. JOHN, N.B., January 19. — (Canadia Press. — A Canadian record was broken yesterday, the first day of the Canadian National outdoor skating meet, held on Lily Lake on the outskirts of this city, when Charles Jewstraw, of Lake Placid, N. Y., clipped two-fifths of a second from the accredited time for 220 yards.

In winning the second heat in this event Jewstraw set a mark of 1 4-5 seconds, the previous record being 20 1-5. He won first place again in the finals, doing it in 20 seconds also lower than the previous Canadian record. Second place in the finals of the one mile event added 2 more points to his score, giving him a total of 50 for the day, and putting him in the lead in the contest for the Canadian championship.

This Department will be presented twice a week for the benefit of those interested in this phase of local activity. It will be conducted by Miss Kathleen McCarthy.

Peterboro Women are Taking to Various Forms of Winter Sports

Curling, basketball and hockey are engaging the attention of the fair sex--Walter Smaill is directing some of these activities.

The enjoyment of some of the more competitive winter sports is largely responsible for the engagement of the masculine portion of the community. Women Peterboro are taking quite an interest in various athletic endeavors this season. Curling, basketball and hockey are engaging the attention of various members of the fair sex just now.

An ambitious schedule of games in connection with the ladies' curl club has been arranged, and was commenced on Monday of this week. The club is in a very healthy condition this season, with several new members, the total now standing at about 35, with eight steady rinks to play, and several unattached players. Competition for the Gibson trophy has commenced, and when that is completed, there will be a consolation, and other competitions, if the weather permits.

A city League of girl hockey players has been formed, with four teams: the Peterboro Collegiate Institute, the Normalites, the Y.W.C.A. Stars (Seniors) and the Y.W.C.A. Bonefuls (Intermediates) playing every Tuesday and Friday at the Memories rink. An all-star team will be chosen later for games to be played off in Campbellford, Lindsay and Lakefield.

Mr. Walter Smaill is directing the activities of the Girls' Hockey League, and also the Basketball organization which was chosen to represent Peterboro in the Ontario Ladies' Basketball Association in the eastern division of which Peterboro is grouped with Guelph, Toronto and St. Catherines. Try-outs of various local basketball teams were held at the Y. M. C. A. and the ten best players were picked for the representative team. One member of the Normalite group, two from the Collegiate Institute and seven members of other city groups were chosen by Mr. Smaill, and six games were arranged for the season three to be played in Peterboro and three outside, as follows: The Peterboro picked team goes to St. Catherines on January 21st, to Toronto on February 4th, and to Guelph on February 18th. A team from St. Catherines plays here on January 28th, one from Toronto on February 11th, and one from Guelph will meet the Peterboro team here on February 25th. Local girls interested in the game are now selling tickets for this series, at three for one dollar.

Vagaries of the Absent-Minded

The vagaries of the absent-minded are nearly always a cause of mirth to themselves and their friends. We read long ago of the absent-minded professor who was discovered by his wife in the library one afternoon earnestly and fussily peering into the dictionary. He appeared to be in a "state of mind" about something, and on enquiry as to the reason, answered that he had lost his pen and was looking in the "ps" in the dictionary for it. But that was in a book. The gentleman who stuck his pencil in his mouth the other evening and then searched high and low for it in the belief that he was smoking his pipe, exits in real life.

The grandmother in the story who upset the household in her vain search for her eyeglasses and found them on her forehead wasn't quite a comical as the little lanky-haired lady of our acquaintance who came to work the other morning, hung on her steel-bowed spectacles where her hat ought to be, and then created an awful fuss when she couldn't locate her eyeglasses, and the gentleman whose thoughtful and erudite opinions daily interest some thousands of readers was discovered recently holding a cork from a liniment bottle poised in the air above his hand, trying to extract some liquid from it, while the bottle reposed on the table beside him.

There is also the authentic of the gentleman who came home from the neighbor's house for his own, and spent an half hour in trying to make his key fit the neighbor's lock, the meeting having been a pefectly proper one, without any refreshment of any sort.

But the lady in Toronto whose home was visited during her absence by a very absent-minded gentleman in a state of inebriation has the saddest tale of all. This was before the "dry" days, and the lady lived in one of those Toronto terraces where the houses look pretty much alike, even to an unbleared eye. Leaving the house alone one afternoon, and unlocked, as was her usual custom, for the convenience of her early-returning family, this lady came home to find a large parcel which contained liver reposing in her hall. She was at a loss to account for its presence, for the signs of occupation which were apparent in the pantry, and for the disordered condition of the bathroom.

But the next day, some polite canvassers for a magazine visited her and explained that the day previous her husband, busily rocking on the verandah, had told them that his wife was out, but would be in next day and give them a subscription. On explaining that she was a widow, and relating the incident of the mysterious parcel, that the gentleman had been in a very pronounced state of intoxication, but evidenely quite firm in the belief that he was at home, having finally retired with a loud slamming of the door in their faces. The caller never returned for the parcel.

AS WRONG RECIPE FOR OYSTER SOUP.

ish Dealer's Way of Mixing Costs Him $25 Fine.

Blanchard M. Bagley, patrolman om the Davison Station, Detroit, iffed the pungent aroma exuding om the fish market operated by ere Mongare and Peter Koneda, 1301 Rivard Street. It conjured visions of baked white-fish, and agley marched in.

On the floor in a back room sat ongare, surrounded by cans. Some ere empty and some were filled th oysters, dry-packed. Mongare s busy putting two spoonsful of packed oysters into each empty can and filling it with hot water.

"What're you doing?" inquired Bagley.

"Oyster soup," said Mongare.

Judge John Faust, in Recorder's Court gave Mongare the alternative of $25 fine or 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction, for violating the pure food laws.

A Campaign for the Orphanages

Mademoiselle M. Guerin visits the city in interests of French-Canadian homes.

Mademoiselle M. Guerin visited Peterboro over the week end in connection with the campaign for support of the Franco-Canadian Orphanages in France.

The work of these Arphanages is divided into three parts, the first; the upkeep of the Orphanges themselves, with homes at Creteil and at Soisy Etoiles; the second; the smaller homes, dubbed Pouponnieres, or doll homes, for the younger ones, at Montgeron, which are named respectively the "Toronto" the "Hamilton" and the "London", after cities in Canada which contribute mainly towards their support; and thirdly, the children of blind soldiers, children from the devasted areas, and children of war-widowed mothers, who are living with their relatives, and in whom the I.O.D.E. has especially interested itself.

The object of the campaign is to raise enough money to so endow these institutions that they will be enabled to function forever, and the sum of $82,000 has already been raised in Canada towards the fulfillment of same, much of it from the efforts of children in the schools which have been interested in the cause. The idea of naming the smaller homes after Canadian cities is to keep alive always the tie between the two countries, and commemorate the efforts of Canada in helping on with the work. The society has branch offices in Toronto, Hamilton London and Montreal for the reception of funds, and, in Toronto alone, there are nearly a hundred schools which have been enlisted in the cause of the Orphanages.

From Peterboro last year, the sum of $275 was sent in donations from the Women Teachers' Guild and the Otonabee Chapter I.O.D.E. towards the support of the Orphanges.

Mlle. Guerin was desirous also of interesting the school children in the making of scarlet poppies which are becoming so universally used in connection with the celebration of Armistice Day. According to her explanation, the poppy is not at all symbolical of France. There, it is only one of the many flowers which dot the wayside fields, and it can never attain in that country the significance of a war emblem. It has become over there closely indentified with the thought of the Canadian soldiers who came so far over the sea to help in the fight for France, and to them, it is simply a little flower that a Canadian soldier wrote about in a beautiful burst of song. Therefore, the poppy should be the Canadian emblem of war-time activities, and it is only fitting, to the French mind, that we make the flowers here that we have immortalized in poetry. "Eet is not the flower of France", said the little lady, "eet is the flower of Canada that your so beautiful poet spoke off," when he saw it growing red in the fields of far-away France. According to Mlle also, the little closed poppy flower that more closely resembles a red rosebud than anything else is the real wild poppy of the French fields, not the wide-open silken-petalled flower which is familiar to us.

Mlle. Guerin had the co-operation of the G.W.V.A. ladies while in the city, and visited several of the schools in the furtherance of her project. The making of the poppies by the children here and the general interesting of the Canadian public in their manufacture seemed to her a probably safeguard in the future against questionings as to the exact source from which they came.

ANNUAL BANQUET CALEDONIAN CLUB

While the men belonging to the Peterboro Caledonian Club are holding their annual banquet and entertainment in Empress Hotel on Wednesday next, January 25th, in celebration of the 163rd anniversary of the birthday of Robert Burns, while they are toasting the "Immortal Memory" and giving a Highland reception to haggis, the ladies of the Auxiliary to the Caledonian Club are planning on holding a banquet, all their own, in Hooper's palm room at which they expect about sixty ladies.

Not a man will be allowed to put his nose inside the room, with the exception of the pipers, who are to be in waiting to play in the haggis, which the ladies are going to make and eat on this occasion.

As the ladies' affair begins at seven o'clock, and the men's banquet not until eight-thirty, there will be plenty of time for the pipers to usher in the noble dish, when requested, with one of the Highland tunes, preferably the "Hundred Pipers" or "The Lass o' Gowrie's", and then hasten immediately away from the sacred festival.

The haggis, which, after an enquiring excursion to the dictionary, was described in one instance as a dish commonly made of sheep's pluck, minced with onions and suet, seasoned and mixed with oatmeal, and boiled in a sheep's stomach, and in the other, as a pudding made of "the heart, liver, lights, etc. of a sheep or a calf," is the dish which seems consecrated to the memory of the great lyric poet of Scotland, on whose anniversary it is prepared and eaten, and the ladies of Scotch affiliations who have never yet partaken of it will have a chance to do so next Wednesday evening.

For rain or any water spots on kid gloves don't let them dry, but while still damp keep them on hands and rub gently with damp cloth. Gasoline is no good for water spots. A damp cloth, but not wet, is the only remedy.

WHEN A ROBIN IS NOT A ROBIN

SOME PERSON IS ALWAYS TRYING TO TAKE THE JOY OUT OF LIFE

It has been reported around the vicinity recently that a robin was seen by certain residents of this city, and much astonishment was expressed over such an early visit, if visit it was, or, as some people thought, the bird had remained here all the time, refusing to go South with his migrating brehern.

Perhaps it was a robin who was very young and didn't know anything about the aristocratic habits of his kind in seeking a warmer clime in the cold season; it might be an adventurous bird with a taste for the unknown, who remained behind as a pioneer might, in the hope of getting a fresh sensation from Northern winters, maybe he was of a lazy trend of mind, and preferred to take chances with the cold rather than make the long southward trip with the help of only two tiny wings or, romatic thought, he might have become enamored of some small brown-feathered sparrow, and refused to leave her, even under fear of the icy north wind. That was a nice thought, and the robin was seen to consort with several small sparrows, which comes daily for crumbs to kindly windows.

And no someone comes along, someone with a soul far removed from romantic conjecture, quite confidently, as this sort of person always does, that it isn't a robin at all, but a hybird feathered creature who closely resembles a robin, and is in fact, a sort of first cousin of the tribe. And the only way you can tell whether it's a real bona fide robin or not is to examine its eyes, and see whether it possesses a white rim to them. But not even the proverbial salt will lure a searching examination, so we will probably never know, unless other of the tribe come to live with us next winter, whether it is really an adventurous robin or merely a new sort of bird with sparrow tendencies that has appeared in our midst.

Making Dreams Come True

We dream and dream and dream—dream what we would do if we had a million dollars what a paradise on earth there would be for us if a certain "He" or a certain "She" loved us—how happy we would be if we only had a dear little bungalow all our own—what a charm life would have if we had nothing to do but enjoy ourselves—what a success we would make if we had some other work—what a lot we would accomplish if there were only more time—and we dream and dream what we are going to do some time in the future, when our ship comes in laden with particular cargo that will make our dreams come true

All the dreams are lovely things. Dreaming is a happy pastime—but it is only a pastime. If those dreams are ever to come true, we have to do something more tangible than dream them.

A busy brain, a trained mind filled with definite thoughts is a necessity to success in each of our individual worlds—without them nothing can be accomplished with the will power to execute, there is nothing that can't be accomplished—even to making our dreams come true—even perhaps the million dollars (approximately) though we probably are just as happy without it—the 'He" or "She" who is essential to our happiness—the little bungalow—the nothing to do (God forbid it for any of us)—the other work, the more time all tese may become real if we but exert ourselves to make them so.

Thoughts that are never pushed out from their birthplace in our brains are useless, except for the pastime of dreaming. Driven out from their mind-home to take their active places in the world, they accomplish all that is worth while and make the fairy structure of dreams become real, and give to us the day "when dreams come true."

IF YOU OWN A HALL PUT A CLOCK IN IT

Just because the hallway in your home may not be large enough to house with fitting dignity a tall, cathedral chimed clock such as you would like to own, do not abandon the idea of numbering a clock in the list of hall furnishings says the Christian Science Monitor. Even a very small hall should boast a clock conveniently placed. On the table or the desk or mantel, small travelling clock will take up but little space, and will prove a decidely welcome convenience in these busy commuting days.

A ship's clock will appeal to some home-makers, and will often appear to better advantage in a hallway than in any other room.

Of course f space permits, one of the high, old-fashioned clocks is the ideal choice, since the long lines harmonize perfectly with the structural features of a well-proportioned hallway. Unless a landing is unusually spacious, a clock will have a top-heavy appearance, though if the landing is sufficiently broad to warrant placing the hall clock there, the result will be both dignified and pleasing.

Never, never should "fancy" clock be used in a hall. A so-called "ornamental" clock has no place in that part of a house that is obviously utilitarian.

If the telephone is installed in the hallway, let the clock be near or at least within sight of the phone—clocks and phones should really be companion pieces if the phones are to serve efficiently in the planning appointments.

REFINISHING FLOORS.

To restore oak floors the old varnis must be first removed. Get at any paint shop paint remover, which will soften the varnish so it can be easily scraped off, after which clean the floor with rags and benzne. Next bleach, using oxalic acid dissolved in hot water. When dry the floor will be white. Wash with clear water and vinegar and it is ready to be filled. Use a paste filler, which must be wiped off. As soon as it begins to show white the floor is ready to be finished in varnish or wax.

"THINK IT NOT STRANGE."

I Peter 4:12.

Think it not strange, beloved,
When fiercely burns the fiery flame!
Think it not strange, but praise His name,
Who counts thee worthy to partake
Of painful sufferings for His sake.
Nor think it strange
When loved ones scornful from thee turn,
The Truth reject the message spurn
Consider Him who thus endured,
And Immortality secured!

Think it not strange, beloved,
If sometimes every door seems closed,
And all thy efforts be opposed.
But calmly wait in patience till
The Master shall reveal His will.
Nor think it strange
When darker grows the "narrow way."—
Press on, thy Master soon shall say,
"Enough; my child, thou has well done.
Come, enter in the Prize is won."

Types of Women

Charles Dickens pictures, in his immortal works, many types of women. The faithful wife is perhaps epitomized to the greatest advantage in Emma Micawber, the lady who would "never desert Mr. Micawber." Mr. M. himself was a whimsical soul. In addressing David Copperfield at the beginning of his career, he says:

"My dear young friend", said Mr. Micawber, "I am older than you, a man of some experience in life, and—and of some experience, in short, in difficulties, generally speaking. At present, and until something turns up (which I am, I may say, hourly expecting I have nothing to bestow but advice. Still, my advice is so far worth taking that—in short, that I have never taken it myself, and am"—here Mr. Micawber, who had been beaming and smiling all over his face up to the present moment, checked himself and frowned,—"the miserable wretch you behold."

"My dear Micawber," urged his wife. "say" returned Mr. Micawber forgetting himself and smiling again, "the miserable wretch you behold. My advice is, never do tomorrow what you can do today. Procrastinatio is the thief of time. "Collar him".

"My poor papa's maxim," Mrs. Micawber observed.

"My dear," said Mr. Micawber, "your papa was very well in his way and Heaven forbid that I should disparage him. Taking him all in all, we ne'er shall—in short, make the acquaintance probably, of anybody else possessing at his time of life the same legs for gaiters and able to read the same description of print without spectacles.

But he applied that maxim to our marriage, my dear, and that was so far prematurely entered into that, in consequence, I never recovered the expense." Mr. Micawber here looked aside at Mrs. Micawber, and said: "oNt that I am sorry for it. Quite the contrary, my love." After which he was grave for a moment or so.

"My other piece of advice, Copperfield,' said Mr. Micawber, you know. "Annual income, twenty pounds. Annual expenditure, nineteen, ought and six, happiness. Annual income, twenty pounds, annual expenditure, twenty, ought and six, result, misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf withered, the god of day goes down upon a dreary scene, and—and, in short, you are forever floored. As I am," and Mr. Micawber drank his glass of punch with an air of great enjoyment.

KEEPS AIR FRESH.

A suggestion for the sick room is as follows: Buy five cents' worth of prepared soil from the florist. Fill an ornamental pan or jar half full of the earth; fill the jar with water (keep filled) and place this on the radiator or register. It will make the air feel as if a fresh shower had fallen in the green woods.

HOW TO RID THE ARMS OF OBJECTIONABLE HAIRS

(Aids to Beauty)

A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths and rarely is more than one treatment required: Mix a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment can not cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real delatone.

GREAT WEST WIRE BRIEFS

DOG MARATHON.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—Many entries have been received and plans completed for the Manitoba marathon, which is to be run from Dauphin, Man., to this city, via Portage la Prairie, a distance of 218 miles, in connection with the Winnipeg Winter Carnival, Feb. 6 to 11. One thousand dollars has been offered in prizes, divided into $500 for the winner, $300 for second place and $200 for third. The race will start on the first day of the carnival and conclude here Thursday, Feb. 9th. Night shelters and checkers will be provided in the towns along the course.

In order not to bar a number of contestants, the Alaskan hitch has been prohibited because it means large teams. The Siwash hitch—with the dogs driven one in front of the other—will be permitted and teams are limited to not less than four and not more than six dogs. Among the entries already received are some from Gladstone, Dauphin, The Pas, Norway House, Gimli, Riverton and Winnipeg, while numerous enquiries concerning the race have also been made by prospective contestants.

NOT A SALARY.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—Speaking at a recent Conservative meeting, Canon Hinchliffe, Conservative member for Victoria, said that he always considered the sessional indemnity paid members not in the nature of a salary, but rather intended to permit members to travel and study conditions and fit themselves for sessional duties. With that idea, the Canon said he had used his indemnity to travel over British Columbia. When he had finished his season's travelling he had only $441 left. This money he placed in the hands of his agent, who deducted his income tax and then paid the rest, about an even $400, back to the Government.

HUGE LIQUOR PROFIT.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—The Manitoba Government made a profit of $80,000 from sale of liquor through the Government liquor vendors' stores at Portage la Prairie during 1921. This is the first year Government sale of liquor has been carried out in Manitoba. The profits were for a ten-month period.

At present the Government dispensaries supply liquor to drug stores only, and it is sold in 12-ounce bottles only on production of a doctor's prescription by the purchaser.

EXTRAVAGANT OPINION.

SASKATOON, Sask., Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—A company of casket manufacturers in Minneapolis wished to open a branch in Saskatoon and wrote to the Commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce inquiring as to their prospects of success in this city. They had an extravagant opinion of the needs of a western city in the way of coffins. They requested that the citizens of Saskatoon should donate them a piece of land and loan them a building in which to start work. Their letter was read to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce recently and tabled after a short discussion.

BRITISH COLUMBIA SALMON.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—In British Columbia 603,548 cases of salmon were packed in 1921, and six million dollars was realized. There remains to be sold 120,000 cases of "pinks." France absorbed a large proportion of the 192,906 cases of "pinks," and Great Britain took more than half of the "sockeye" pack of 163,914 cases, leaving about 75,000 cases for Canadian consumption.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millerdale, Sask., writes:—"I feel that I must write to you before another day passes I am so happy and so grateful for your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better.

I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I was in pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken, however he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out every day, but I soon got so I could walk and eat and have got quite stout.

I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework.

You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."

STOP RIOTING IN PALESTINE.

Government is Imposing Fines on Inhabitants.

JAFFA, Palestine, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press.) — The government forces in this district are attempting to stop rioting here by imposing fines on the inhabitants of the communities which participate in them and following this up with raids upon the towns and villages in the Jaffa distruct to collect the fines.

The experiment is an unusual one and its succes up to the present, is not evident. The Zionists are jubilant and see in this action a definite alignment of the government on their side. On the other hand, it has stirred up bitter feelings on the part of the natives who see in tre government's action the beginning of Jewish domination and the betrayal of their passionate longing for national freedom.

A fine amounting to $25,00 was imposed by the government on five towns and villages in the Jaffa district for alleged attacks made last May by their inhabitants upon Jewish colonies nearby. To collect the fine large bodies of English, Jewish and Hindu troops having machine guns surrounded Tul Karem and four other villages near Jaffa sent in men and confiscated all the live-stock including the oxen, led the animals into the fields and placed them under guard.

Then notices signed by Sir Herbert Samuel, the British High Commisioner, were posted in the streets demanding payment of the fines.

Mr. Campbell, assistant governor of the district, called the leading citizens together in the city square of Tul Karem and informed them that the cattle would be kept under guard for only five days and if the fines had not been paid by that time they would be sold at auction and the proceeds turned over to the Jews who were victims of the raids. It remains yet to be determined whether the fines will be paid. The seizure of the cattle deprived the farmers of means of plowing their fields and it is feared that this may lead to more unrest.

TELEGRAPHIC AND CABLE NEWS

A MOROCCAN ZONE.

MADRID, Jan. 19. — (Canadian Press.)— The suggestion that the question of the special Moroccan zone of Tangier should be taken up by the League of Nations is greeted enthusiastically by El Sol, the paper questioning, however, if Spain is properly represented in the League for such a purpose. It argues that, for Spain, Tangier is not merely an affair to be considered along with other interests, as it is for Britain, which requires a neutral Tangier in order to feel secure in Gibraltar and the Mediterranean, nor can Spain consider Tangier as a selfish luxury, as does France.

PROHIBITION IN MEXICO.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press.)— The possibility of prohibition in Mexico has been so seriously considered in some quarters within the past few days, following the increase in government taxes on all alcoholic beverages from 16 per cent. to 32 per cent. that President Obregon has received numerous inquires from industrial quarters requesting information. He has been asked to what extent the present goevrnment intends to prosecute its campaign for at least a diminution in the liquor traffic. The sugar growers of the State of Vera Cruz to-day addressed an urgent letter to the President, seeking such information and within the past week the Mexico City brewers and handlers of intoxicants have organized to fight dry propaganda.

BLEED CATTLE TO DRINK BLOOD.

Queer Race of Savages in Britain's Newest Colony Turn Farmers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—"His hair is the most precious heritage that can be left to his son by a man of Suks, one of the tribes of the Kenya Colony, British East Africa, where, despatches state, the natives of the colony are claiming equal representation with the whites," says a bulletin issued by the National Geographical Society.

"It is unwomanly for the Suk women to have any hair at all on their heads, but the increasing supply of hair passed down from father to son is woven into a great chignon, in which he can carry all of his valuable possessions, such as his ornaments, and his snuff-box. This headcovering is the only garment which he deems necessary.

Assortment of Peoples.

"The Suks belong to the Nilotic race group, which is only one of the divisions of the interesting inhabitants of this newest colony of Great Britain. We find the Swahilis, or coast folk, a hybrid race formed by the union of Arabs who have passed into the country with the Negro tribes, the Somalis and the Gallas. There also are the Bantu-speaking population, many of whom dwell in the regions around Mt. Kenya, which for a time believed to lie in the fabled regions of the 'Mountains of the Moon,' as well as more of the Nilotic group, consisting of the Masai, the Nandi and others.

"Though Kenya calls itself the newest of the British colonies, it is one of the oldest lands of the earth. Theodore Roosevelt, in speaking of his African hunting trip, said that the Masai often reminded him of the pictures of the soldiers of Thothmes and Rameses made by the ancient Egyptian sculptors, in that their faces were resolute and had clear cut features. The same noted traveler said of this tribe that though the women were scrupulously clothed, the husbands and brothers very ostentatiously wear no clothing for purposes of decency.'

Have Quit Stealing.

"Reports concerning this particular people have constantly made their appearance in the civilized world because they persistently pillaged neighboring tribes, having decided that they no longer cared to till their own fields, but would get their sustenance by taking the cattle and supplies of weaker tribes, and in this way have been responsible for the depopulation of large districts of British East Africa. Today, however, they are doing excellent work in cultivating the soil.

"The greater portion of the Masai now live in the districts around Nairobi. They have perhaps the most definite religious beliefs of any of the East African tribes, praying to two gods, one black and benevolent and the other red and cruel, but they believe that when they die, they go out like a puff. Some of the Bantu tribes, however, hold to witchcraft and the witch-doctor's business is to detect the culprit so that she—for the accused is nearly always an old woman—may be put to death.

Cow Ate Sacred Book.

"The Gallas, though they are now of little importance either politically or economically, take great pride in their past. They say that they once had a sacred book, like the Bible or the Koran, but a cow ate it, and not being certain about the particular animal, in their search they are still opening the stomach of every cow that dies.

"The most effective weapon of the Masai and Andorobo is the arrow which they poison with the Acocanthera schimperi, a small tree. They boil the leaves and branches until the mixture becomes thick and pitch-like in appearance, and place it on sheets of bark which they hide high on the branches of trees away from the children, until it is needed. When an animal is shot with an arrow dipped in the poison it dies almost immediately. The natives cut out the flesh around the wound as soon as possible and throw it away. The remainder is eaten and the blood is drunk. This love of blood as an article of food is common among many African tribes, several of them going so far as to bleed their cattle and drink the blood hot or mixed it with their porridge.

'The mixed breed known as Swahilis, who live along the coast of the mainland and among the thousand-and-one representatives of other peoples of the world to be found in Zanzibar, have one claim to prominence among Kenya tribes—their language is the one in common use in the colony. If one speaks Swahili he can find someone to converse with him from Natal to Aden and from Mombasa to the Congo."

FRENCH FOREIGN POLICY.

PARIS, Jan. 19. — (Canadian Press.)—Premier Poincare has completed the ministerial declaration which will be read before the French Parliament to-day. It comprises two parts—home and foreign policy.

The statement with regard to France's foreign policy is vigorous and concise. It affirms the anxiety of the government to maintain and consolidate itsalliances, as well as its determination to base its policy on the Versailles Treaty. Respecting the Economic Conference at Genoa it considers France must have guarantees from the Russian Soviet beforehand. As to Germany, it is asserted that that nation must make up its mind to fulfill the obligations it undertook when it signed the Versailles Treaty to restore the ruins it had piled up.

ROME, Jan. 19. — (Canadian Press.)—Pope Benedict is confined to his bed with an attack of bronchial catarrh and symptoms of influenza, but his condition is not serious.

This announcement was made last evening by the Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Vatican.

WHY CHILLY WEATHER BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says skin pores are closed and uric acid remains in blood.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twingeof rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

Four States—Alabama, Florida, Iowa and West Virginia—have no laws regulating the hours of work of women.

ONE IN EVERY TWENTY CANADIANS DEPENDENT ON FISHING INDUSTRY

VAST RESOURCES POTENTIALLY ABLE TO MAINTAIN MUCH LARGER PORTION OF POPULAT.ON—HEAVY INVESTMENT Or CAPITAL AN CONTROL IS IN CA ADIAN HANDS.

Approximately one hundred thousand people are engaged in the catching and processing of fish in Canada, and at least fifty thousand more are occupied in fish merchandizing. It is difficult to say how many more receive their means of livelihood indirectly from the industry, but it would not be an exaggeration to place the total wholly or partly dependent on the fisheries for a living, at 400,000. On the basis of an eight million population this would mean that one in every twenty receives his or her maintenance from the industry —that is, five per cent of our total population.

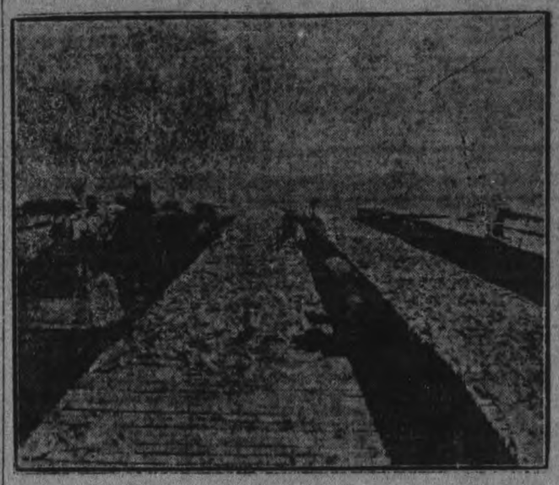
The fact is quite astonishing in itself, but when it is considered that our fishery resources have only been lightly scratched, the tremendous possibilities of the situation are obvious. Could we but find an outlet for all the fish we may produce, there would be room for the employment of many times that number and millions might trace their livelihood to the humble fish.

The vital part the industry plays in our national economy cannot be ignored, and it is the object of National Fish Day—February 1, to focus atention on it.

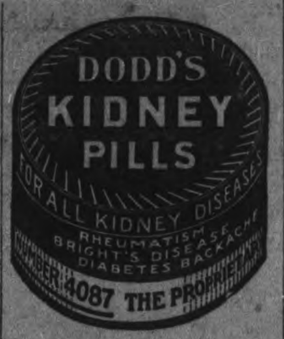
Of the one hundred thousand engaged in primary and secondary fishery operations, fully forty- five thousand are in Nova Scotia, and close to thirty thousand in British Columbia. While the Pacific province leads in the value of production, the industry is more vital in the province of Nova Scotia and seems to present greater possibilities. The salmon has been the main stay of the western province, because of its wonderful food qualities and the high price it commands in the markets of the world. In the matter of quantity caught the humble cod of the Atlantic outstrips the British Columbia salmon which last year was also exceeded by the modest herring. Nova Scotia and British Columbia are rivals for supremacy, but each of the other province contributes to the output of commercial fishes. Generally speaking, our interior waters contribute about nine-tenth of the total output. In this connection it is of interest to point out that within our Dominion we have one-half the fresh water of the globe, so the possibilities of fresh-water fishing have not reached by any means. The progress of man is extending northward and today we are securing supplies of white fish, trout, etc., from the basin of the MacKenzie River. As transportation develops copious supplies farther northward will be accessible.

Another way of fixing the value of the industry is the capital invested. It is estimated between fifty and sixty millions, of which one half is in primary operations—that is, vessels, boats, nets and fishing gear—and the balance is invested in canning and curing establishments ashore. There is an erroneous impression in certain sections that our fishing industry is controlled by foreign capital. Statistics furnish no justification for this view, although it would not be a bad thing if we could induce some millions of outside capital to contribute to the boosting of the industry. In 1920 there were eighty-six fish canning and curing concerns in Canada organized as joint stock companies. Bonds, stocks and other securities of these aggregated $25,931,681, of which $15,169,305 was held in Canada; $7,641,641 in the United States, and $3,120,635 in Great Britain.

To secure some idea of the various methods employed in fishing and the comparative importance of the different branches, the following is of interest: in 1919, 35,905 sail, row and gasoline boats were engaged, valued at $7,011,120. Sailing and gasoline vessels numbering 172 were valued at $1,449,385. Ten steam trawlers were in the service, valued at $1,075,000. The first item—sail, row and gasolene boats—represents the equipment of the inshore fisheries, while the others are equipment for offshore. The former employed 55,410 men, while only 8,705 fished offshore. So it will be seen that our fishing inshore is the most valuable. In fact nearly three-quarters of our fish taken in Atlantic waters is secured within twelve miles of shore.



The curing of cod is without doubt the most important department of the fishing industry in the East. The above picture shows workmen spreading cod on the flakes at Digby, N.S., to be dried by the sun.



SMUGGLERS MAKE IMMENSE PROFITS.

Get Goods Past Customs Line in Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press)—Smugglers are making immense profits by bringing English cloth for men's suits past the customs line to the tailors of Berlin. Their illicit earnings are made possible by the high German import duties on that class of material.

The tailoring establishments are visited almost daily by sailors or other ship employes with huge rolls of English tweeds and other fabrics, in one-suit pieces which they have succeeded in purchasing at English ports and bringing in duty free. One of these smugglers a New York man, said some English cloth dealers are making a regular business of supplying the smuggling trade.

The cloth is sold at one-fourth to one-fifth the price it would cost if the import duty was paid. Tailors are quick to purchase the fabrics. The smugglers also visit foreigners and offer their wares for sale.

The smuglers go quite openly about their business. They may be seen walking the streets with big burdles on their backs. A few of the more venturesome have even offered the goods for sale on the sidewalks, where they find ready takers.

A French sailor who has been smuggling for months said he was going to retire from the "game" having made enough money to open a shop of his own in Paris.

WORLD'S CONGRESS OF IRISH RACE.

Meets in Paris January 31

PARIS, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press).—Promoters of the World Congress of the Irish Race to be held in Paris for one week, beginning January 31, says it will be the greatest gathering of the Irish race since King Brian's historic assembly in 1014.

The various methods by which the 25,000,000 persons of Irish blood throughout the world can assist in the economic reconstruction of Ireland made necessary by the years of conflict, will be among the chief problems before the conference. The revival of Irish art, language and literature also will be considered.

One of the large halls in the centre of Paris has been obtained for the sessions and an exhibition of Irish art will be held in another hall near the headquarters. The best known Irish artists are sending pictures for the exhibition.

Concurrently with the Congress will be a representation of Irish drama in French in one of the Parisian theatres and a concert of Irish music by one of the best known orchestras in Europe.

Many descendants of Irish exiles of the 17th century who played historic roles in France and other countries have responded to the invitation of the General Secretary, Miss Katherine Hughes, who will be present.

Five South American countries have already indicated a desire to send delegations. These are Brazil, Argentine, Chile, Bolivia and Peru, while delegations from New Zealand, Tasmania and other remote countries are already on their way.

DANGER OF JUST LETTING A COLD RUN ITS COURSE

Common Coughs and Colds That Hang on Persistently Are Apt to Lead to Serious Complications, Declare Authorities.

Public Warned to Beware of a Three Days' Cough and Break It Up Before It's Too Late, by Taking Asprolax, the New Scientific Discovery.

Money Refunded in Every Instance Where Asprolax Fails to Bring Relief.

Leading authorities are using every effort to arouse the public to the danger of letting common colds just run their course, for it is now definitely known that many serious lung complications, such as pneumonia, grippe, etc., are the direct result of colds that hang on persistently.

Colds are curable and preventable and it is a duty everyone owes himself as well as his neighbors to break up any cold they may contract, before some serious disease gets him in its clutches. It is pointed out that a three days' cough is nature's warning and the time for immediate action has arrived.

Of all the cough and cold remedies, Asprolax, the new scientific treatment, which has been accomplishing such remarkable results all over the United States and Canada, probably provides the safest, surest and quickest, as well as the most practical, treatment for colds yet discovered.

According to the statements of thousands who have used it, Asprolax is almost magical in its effect. The first dose usually stops the tendency to sneezing and coughing, and relieves the feeling of discomfort, and the second and third doses usually suffice to stop the progress of a cold altogether.

The wonderful efficiency of Asprolax in breaking up a cold is best shown by the fact that all druggists are instructed to refund money in any case where it fails to give satisfactory results after three doses have been taken.

AROUND WORLD IN 17 DAYS.

International Airplanes To Make Trip.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press).—A trip around the world in 17 days by international mailplanes is regarded as one of the possibilities of the future by airplane experts. They say 17-day schedules with stops for deliveries at the chief cities enroute may be realized when trans-Atlantic flying becomes a reality.

A suggestion for even reducing the time to 300 hours was made by one expert, who said this would be possible if "airmen's islands" or floating fuel bases were stationed at points in the Atlantic where the mailplanes could replenish their fuel. Such a scheme would make possible a speed of 100 miles an hour, he estimated.

It is claimed that in a recent test a letter despatched from New York by land and sea went around the world in 89 days and that this is the world's record to date.

CLAY TOBACCO PIPE PASSING IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press).—The clay tobacco pipe familiar to many generations is passing in England. The wooden pipe and greatly increased cost of clay are said to have killed the industry.

Preparations have been made for the closing down at Bristol, after an existence of 200 years, of a firm engaged in the making of these pipes, believed to be the oldest house in this country, if not in the world. Many years ago there were 14 manufacturers of clay pipes in one parish of Bristol. One by one they have dropped out.

GENEVA, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press).—Miss Gaproni, a 20-year-old girl of Locarno, has just given her blood and then her life to save her affianced husband who had been seriously injured in an automobile accident. The physician declared that immediate infusion of blood was the only hope and Miss Gaproni, against her parents' wishes, volunteered hers.

The operation was a success, both recovered health, but three weeks later the girl contracted pneumonia, attributed to the indirect result of loss of blood. The wedding had been fixed for Christmas Day.

ITALY ABANDONS USE OF HER WATER POWER

ROME, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press).—The fabulous prices that Italy had to pay for coal during and since the war has decided her to defer no longer the use of the electric power provided by her magnificent water supply. The Government proposes to at once begin the electrification of 2,500 miles of trunk railroad lines and over 6,000 miles of tracks.

The whole railway system of the industrial provinces of Piedmont and Liguria will be electrified, and 700 miles of tracks are already in working order. Later the lines which carry Italy's trade with Central Europe and those of the newly redeemed provinces, down to Fiume, will all come into the system.

CHRISTIANS FLEE FROM THEIR HOMES

Do Not Trust the Unspeakable Turk.

JERUSALEM, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press)—It is estimated here that 200,000 Christians have fled from their homes in Cicilia since it became known that France had made a treaty with the Turkish Nationalist government at Angora returning that province to the Turks. Fearing to trust themselves to the mercy of the Turks these refugees decided to leave their mother country and seek asylum in foreign lands. They flocked to Mersina and other Cicilian ports seeking vessels to take them away.

The Greek government had provided a few ships and these carried thousands of refugees to Greek ports. Many others were transported to coast cities in Syria, Palestine and Egypt. It is understood here that in these latter countries they were refused permision to land.

HOW THE MIGHTY ARE NOW FALLEN.

Former Russian Admiral Drives Taxi.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press)—Passers by on the boulevards were surprised recently to see a distinguished looking man fall on the back of a taxicab driver and kiss him on both cheeks, the regulation salutation between Russians. The passenger was a was a former Russian admiral celebrated the first period of the war, now earning his living by driving a taxicab.

Students who take their meals in a very modest boarding house in the Latin Quarter had a similar surprise recently. As the serving woman, a woman of middle age whose worn garments could not conceal her distinguished appearance, approached a table, a young girl student suddenly arose, knelt on one knee and kissed the hem of the waitress' apron. The student had recognized her as a former lady in waiting of the Russian court.

Now, no matter what anybody says, I have noticed in the bunch at school the Clothes that wear the longest usually look the best, too, so in figuring out what Clothes were the best I'd try to find out which ones were going to last the most months and days.

The year 1921 which has but a few more hours to live has been a year of momentous importance in the history of civilization. The Conference at Washington which made a splendid beginning in its plan for the limitation of armaments and for the settlement of problems that tend to vex the world's peace is a new departure in world politics. Then after weeks of negotiation and conference a practical basis of settlement was reached with regard to the relations between England and Ireland and after centuries of struggle there seemed some hope of permanent peace between the two nations. Ireland becomes the Irish Free State save for the portion of Northern Ireland which still chooses to remain an integral part of the United Kingdom while the Free State becomes a unit of the British Empire on terms practically similar to those of Canada and other overseas Dominions.

In October and November a strenuous political campaign was waged and the polling took place on December 6 when the Liberals were returned by an overwhelming majority, the Progressives being the leading party in Opposition Mr. Meighen and the followers of the late Government taking third place. Lord Byng of Vimy who for some time during the war had charge of the Canadian forces was chosen Governor-General and his appointment proved a very popular one. The decennial census was taken and the results of a large number of cities and rural districts has already been made known.

A MINISTER AT WASHINGTON.

The intention of the Canadian Government to appoint a minister to the United States was announced by Premier Meighen on April 21 shortly before his departure for London where he took part in the meeting of Dominion Premiers with the statesmen of the Old Country. Representatives of Newfoundland, South Africa, New Zealand, Australia and India as well as of Canada were in attendance. Canada's share of the German reparations was fixed by the Conference at the sum of $300,000,000 according to an announcement made on July 15. The meeting of the Premiers was brought to a close on August 5 after a seven week's session.

In July the Duke of Connaught and his suite returned to England and a hearty welcome was extended to Lord Byng on his arrival at Quebec on August 11.

THE WATERWAYS SCHEME.

The joint American-Canadian Commission appointed to investigate the feasibility of the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterways presented a favorable report. The initial cost of the project would be $252,728,200 it was estimated, with an allowance of $2,562,000 annually for upkeep. In October a considerable stir was created in financial circles on both sides of the Atlantic by the decision of the Canadian Grand Trunk Arbitration Board which held its sessions in Montreal. The opinion given by the Arbitration Board headed by Sir Walter Cassels, was that the four classes of stock had no value, and that the book accounts had been manipulated. Following the publication of the decision the stock fell rapidly on the English exchanges where most of it is held.

The last week in November was observed throughout the Dominion this year as Canadian Authors' week. The Canadian Authors' Association was launched in Montreal early in the year. Interest was roused in the Northland in the first few days of 1921 when the United States navy balloon, A-5598 was reported wrecked at Moose factory, with all on board safe. In January the embargo was taken off outside securities and on April 15 drastic cuts were announced by the Minister of Finance in federal expenditure amounting to ninety millions of dollars.

During the early spring the talk of the removal of the embargo on the entry of live cattle into Britain was renewed and later a commission was appointed to consider the question. A lot of evidence was taken including that of Dr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, and other prominent men of Canada and in the end the Commission found that there was not the slightest reason for the continuance of the embargo as a measure of protection of the health of British cattle. So far as the fiscal side of the question was concerned the Commission left this to Parliament. So far nothing has been done towards carrying out the recommendations of the Commission and the matter is still unchanged.

Rumania announced early in the year that she was unable to pay the interest on the twenty million dollar credit advanced to her by Canada after the war.

Canada was stirred by news of great finds of oil in the sub Arctic regions of the MacKenzie region but the difficulty of getting to the oil fields has damped the ardor of some of the early enthusiasts.

LIQUOR LEGISLATION.

In British Columbia war time prohibition came to an end on the vote of the people and a new regime of Government liquor control was inaugurated. In Quebec where prohibition has never been tried save in special districts by virtue of the Scott Act the Government took over the handling of all "hard" liquor on May 1st leaving to the taverns and to the hotels under regulation the right to sell beer.

British Columbia was the first part of the British Empire to elect a woman as speaker. Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, wife of the late Ralph Smith, was chosen speaker of the legislature but declined. Later she accepted a position as minister without portfolio but later on gave up this also.

Lord Shaughnessy drafted a plan which was published in the Canadian newspapers providing for what he thought was the most practical solution of the railway question. The plan was generally commended throughout the Dominion.

Among the distinguished visitors to Canada during the year were Marshal Fayolle of France, who came at head of a delegation to foster better relations between France and Canada by the increase of trade connections. A train in which all manner of French products were shown made a trip from coast to coast and it was announced that Canada would return the visit by a tour through France next year.

Admiral Beatty made a flying trip to Montreal on his return from the Washington Conference, and later Marshal Foch of France, who spent six weeks in the United States visited one or two of the eastern cities.

CANADIAN POLITICS.

Foremost in public interest was the Federal general election of December 6, when the Meighen administration which a few months before piled up House majorities of from twenty to seventy, went to the people and was engulfed in a wave which swept Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King into office, brought the Progressive party under Hon. T. A. Crerar back to Parliament as the major opposition group and left the Government party with a minority of fifty in the fourteenth Parliament of Canada. Mr. Meighen and nine of his ministers went down in the contest, the chief feature of which was the return of solid phalanxes of Liberals from the provinces of Quebec, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Meighen had been in office less than eighteen months, succeeding to the Premiership in July 1920 following the retirement of Sir Robert Borden. He met Parliament only in one session, the House being convened in February and being prorogued at the beginning of June. The session was notable chiefly for two reasons. The first was the passing of the largest budget in the history of the Dominion, totalling $600,000,000 and necessitated mainly by expenditures arising out of the war and through the acquisition of 22,000 miles of railways upon which bond interest and operating deficits had to be met. The second outstanding feature was the record which Mr. Meighen made in the House. He carried practically the entire weight of Government defence and aggression in debate and added much lustre to his already radiant reputation as a master of Parliamentary debate On Sept. 21 Meighen reorganized his Cabinet.

ALBERTA ELECTION.

In the provinces the development of most importance was the appeal to the electors of Alberta by the Government of Hon. Charles Stewart. Polling took place in August and while Mr. Stewart's Government was nominally a Liberal one it was believed that both Mr. Stewart and his administration possessed public confidence in marked degree. When he dissolved the House he was in possession of two-thirds of the membership of the assembly. In the elections his party was practically wiped out by a landslide towards the Farmers' party. While the Liberals suffered defeat, the Conservative candidates were wiped out. Not a single straight Conservative was returned, though one was elected in an urban riding as an Independent Conservative and another was elected in Calgary as a straight Independent. The Farmers organized a Government under Herbert Greenfield, a farmer not much more than a decade out from England and an inexperienced politician. He has formed his Cabinet and the first session of the House under the new administration will follow very soon.

In Manitoba the Norris Government, through avoiding contentious legislation, has weathered another strenuous session with a marked minority of Liberals in the House. In Ontario the Drury Government, chiefly through the failure of its adversaries to ally against it had gone through another session with a majority of one and sometimes without even that margin.

LIQUOR LAW IN QUEBEC.

In Quebec Premier Taschereau guided the House through its first session under his leadership, a session which was notable mainly for the legislation through which the Government took control of the sale of spirituous liquors and provided tavern licenses for the sale of beer and restaurant licenses for the sale of beer and wine.

A decline of almost thirteen million dollars in the amount of Canada's net debt was reported in August. According to the figures given by the Federal Department it now stands at $2,344,949,085.

The other Provinces contented themselves mainly with legislation to meet current situations such as road-building, public works, rural credit plans or improvements, etc.

The first legislature to elect a woman as speaker was that of British Columbia, which nominated for this office, Mrs. Mary Ann Smith. A new regime of Government liquor control was inaugurated in place of the war-time prohibition.

The Old 'Un:—I succeeded in cooling him off a little. Let's see what you can do with him. Good luck!

GREAT BRITAIN.

After four and a half years of dissension and civil war, a settlement of the Irish question was officially announced on December 6, as a result of a conference held in London between Lloyd George and his colleagues and Sinn Fein leaders. The creation of the "Irish Free State" with the same constitutional status as the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia and other nations of the Empire, according to the provisions of the treaty, and with the provision that Ulster may come in or stay out of this agreement as she chooses, was hailed by statesmen as the happy settlement of age-long problems. The treaty was immediately followed by an amnesty to prisoners in Irish jails on political charges.

Peace proposals which proved satisfactory to all parties were only reached after a series of conferences and negotiations extending over five months.

EARLY EFFORTS.

Tentative efforts to bring about a discussion of some basis of amicable settlement had been made as early as February and March of the past year by De Valera and his colleagues as the reign of terror in Ireland grew. Attacks on Crown forces, reprisals, executions, the burning of public buildings and seizures of arms occurred daily during the first six months of the year. Irish Nationalists declared a boycott on certain British imports, and general distress was reported to prevail throughout the country. Relief funds were inaugurated and money subscribed in Canada and in the United States. The Pope denounced the conduct of the Crown forces in Ireland and later appealed to both Irish and English to abandon violence. On June 22, King George formally inaugurated the Northern Parliament.

Sir James Craig who succeeded Sir Edward (now Lord) Carson on May 10 as the leader of the Ulsterites opend the first meeting of the Ulster Parliament and the session was marked by a recurrence of outrages and the extension of martial law throughout the country under its jurisdiction on July 11. A deadlock ensued at the conference which opened the day following and a new conference was called earlier in October.

On May 6 the Sinn Fein advocates elected 124 of their followers to the Southern Parliament under the new Home Rule Act and all of these refused to swear allegiance to the King.

THE COAL STRIKE.

The British Coal strike declared March 31st following wage reductions and the termination of public control, placed the country in a state of emergency," and brought about the necessity of rationing food. Miners demanded a national pool of coal profits as a permanent coal subsidy. By the middle of April coal pits in Scotland had been flooded and volunteers had been called by the Government to cope with possible disturbances. On May 10 a British labor crisis was averted by the withdrawal of Railwaymen and Transport Workers from their avowed intention to quit work in sympathy with the striking miners. The strike came to an end on June 28 with a fifteen months truce during which it was agreed profit-sharing was to be tested. Industry in Britain was seriously hampered during the three months of the strike, and some of the mines permanently damaged by the flooding.

On June 20 Lloyd George opened the conference of British Premiers declaring that Britain was ready to discuss with America any proposal for the limitation of armaments, and asserted that co-operation with America was to be a cardinal principle of British policy.

On June 14 plans were laid before the House of Commons for the creation of an Arabs state in Mesopotamia with the Emir Feisal as regent. It was announced that a Zionist Palestine was to be maintained.

On August 14 came ratification by the British Empire of the permanent Court of International Justice and the deeds were deposited with the League of Nations by Canada, Australia, India, New Zealand, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

On August 5 the Council of British Premiers was dissolved. On August 24 the giant British dirigible which was undergoing a trial trip before departing for the United States to whom it had been sold by the British Government collapsed near Hull resulting in the deaths of 42 persons.

British labor leaders during the late summer demanded that Lloyd George convene Parliament at once to deal with the unemployment situation. On September 21 the British Cabinet met at Gairloch Scotland to discuss the question and a special summoning of Parliament provided an opportunity for the Government to outline its plans. There was some restlessness in industrial cities and in London, 20,000 persons indulged in a "hunger march."

Sir Ernest Shackleton started out in the early fall on a southern expedition of scientific research and discovery in a ship known as the Quest which was fitted up by the patriotic and generous efforts of two private individuals.

In December the Government openly charged the Soviet Government at Moscow with flagrant violations of the term of the Trade Treaty by which Russia agreed to discontinue propaganda against the British Empire.

Great Britain's Unknown Soldier was the centre of the Empire's commemorative service held on Armistice Day.

Announcement was made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in November that the revenue anticipated had fallen short of the estimate and that some financial relief would have to be provided. In the Budget speech he announced the reduction of the national debt by 247,000,000 pounds and of the foreign debt by 117,154,000 pounds. Britain paid off her debt to Japan, the Argentine, Uruguay and Holland. Andrew Bonar Law resigns as Lloyd George's first lieutenant owing to illness and was succeeded as chief of the Conservative party by Austen Chamberlain.

Lord Lee of Fareham the First Lord of the Admiralty announced that a cut of 3,250,000 pounds in the naval expenditures would be made basing his estimate on a plan for a "one power" navy. Lord Talbot succeeded Lord French as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

FRANCE.

A number of political changes were noted in France during the year. In the senatorial elections held on January 9 the Radicals and Radical Socialists were in the majority with 43 representatives the Republicans occupying second place with 39.

Charged with weakness in dealing with the indemnity issue the French Cabinet under Premier Leygues and there were several attempts to form a new ministry. The task was finally completed by Aristide Briand. It was thought at one time that Millerand would send for his friend and political associate Raymond Poincare. On January 29 Briand received a vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies on the German Indemnity issue.

On March 25 the annual conference of the Confederation of Labor was held and the Extremists and Communists were defeated although not by a very large majority.

On June 22, Premier Briand extended tacit recognition to the new political economic and military unions of the four Caucasian Republics, Armenia, Georgia, North Caucasia and Azerbaijan.

On July 20 the dispute over the future of Upper Silesia threatened to strain relations between France and England. Other differences arose and it was evident that both countries were far apart in their policies in the Near East. The signing of an agreement with the Kemalists in August accentuated these differences but the agreement remained a dead letter until November when Mr. Franklin Bouillon drew up a new treaty more drastic than the last and Lord Curzon addressed a very strong protest to France that she should have come to an agreement with one of the Allies enemies without consent of Britain.

On October 26 Briand received another vote of confidence on his departure for Washington where he attended the Limitation of Armaments Conference. There was considerable discussion in the Chamber as to France's policy.

ITALY.

Bloody riots between Socialist-Communists and a new national party which gave itself the name of Fascisti, were frequent in Italy during the early part of the year. On January second, shortly after Gabrielle d'Annunzio retired as head of the Regency of Quarnero, and the blockade of Fiume had been raised by order of General Caviglia of the Italian forces; Premier Giolitti published a bill for joint control by workers and managers aimed to cure industrial unrest in Italy. The riots continued in Florence and other large centres and the Italian Chamber was dissolved and an election proclaimed May 15. On April 25 the Government of Fiume was seized by the Communists after their defeat at the polls, to be in turn taken from the Socialists four days later by the Fascisti. Rioting between the parties became increasingly violent throughout Italy until the general parliamentary elections, which resulted in a victory for the Nationalists with a strong Socialist vote in some cities.

On April 12 a secret treaty was revealed between Italy and Turkey by which Italy would prevent Greece from obtaining her ends if successful in her present campaign.

On June 27, the Cabinet of Premier Giolitti resigned after receiving a small vote of confidence and was succeeded by Signor Bonomi who formed new Cabinet. Riots continued.

Fiume has now become an independent state and elected Prof. Riccardo Zanella as president.

GERMANY.

German's delay in fulfilling the terms of the Spa agreement held was one of the chief problems to occupy the attention of the Allies during the early part of the year. A Reparations Conference was summoned by the Allies in London on March 1, in consequence of the announcement of the German Government that fulfilment to the letter of the treaty terms had proved impossible. The negotiation failed, and on March 9, Allied troops were occupying the four German cities of Dusseldorf, Duisburg, Ruhrort and Hamborn. March twenty-third saw Communist uprisings in Hamburg, Leipsic, Dresden and other cities in Central Germany. On the same day the Allies received an official note from the Government stating that Germany did not owe the money and could not pay it if she did. Berlin was held to be responsible for wilful violation of treaty. Her counter proposals were ridiculed and on April 15 the French Government concentrated nine divisions of troops for occupation of the entire Ruhr Valley. The German Cabinet under Chancellor Fehrenbach resigned following the delivering of an ultimatum requiring German trial of war culprits, disarmament and reparation payments of 132,000,000,000 gold marks before May 12 on penalty of seizure of the Ruhr region. A new Cabinet was formed under Chancellor Joseph Wirth, Centrist, and on May 11 Germany accepted unconditionally the terms set forth in the ultimatum.

On June 15 the German Reichstag met the demands of the Allies by amending the law so as to reduce the army to 100,000 men including a maximum of 4,000 officers, and on the same day an order was issued by the Council of Ambassadors for the seizure of all German aircraft, military or civil, manufactured since the Boulogne conference a year ago. On July 6 Lieut.-Gen. Karl Stenger who with Major Bruno Cassius was charged by the French Government with having ordered their troops to kill prisoners and wounded during the war was acquitted. Cassius was sentenced to two years in prison. The French Government protests two German submarine commanders placed on trial for torpedoing of the Canadian Hospital ship Llandovery Castle in 1918 and firing on her life-boats sentenced to 14 years. On July 18 the Reparations Commission announced that the German Government had paid to it thirty-one billion gold marks on account of three months notes given in May in settlement of 1,000,000,000 gold marks due before June 1.

FALL OF THE MARK.

Issue of paper money caused spectacular fall in value of the mark. Subsequent slight rise brought about panic in the Berlin stock exchange.

The Loucheur rathenal agreement for payment of indemnity in goods was signed between France and Germany.

Germany tried several times during the year to negotiate foreign loans. There was a tremendous increase of industrial activity.

RUSSIA.

Famine and disease, the collapse of communism, and an endeavor to re-establish capitalism in Russia made the year 1921 one of the most memorable in the history of the country. Treaties of peace were made with Turkey and Poland, and in March, following the defeat of the anti-Bolshevist forces attacking Petrograd, a trade pact was negotiated with Great Britain. The United States refused to enter into a similar agreement until a regime of productive order was established in the country. The failure of Bolshevistic theories became apparent, and at an All-Russian Conference of the Communist party held in May, a program of unlimited freedom for capitalism submitted by Premier Lenin was approved, and plans were drafted for an economic revival. The peasants were to pay a tax of one-third in kind, co-operatives were to be restored and extended, and small traders and manufacturers were to be encouraged.

ALTERED VIEW.

On August 12th Lenin decreed the abandonment of the free use of railroad, postal and other public service and the free grant of tools and household goods to workmen. "We must face the fact that we are re-establishing capitalism," he told the Communist party in October and a few days after this announcement Soviet Russia agreed, under certain conditions to recognize the foreign debts of the Russian Imperial Government up to 1914. These changes of policy were forced upon the country by the absence of necessary supplies and the failure of the crops. By the middle of July the Russian Government had issued an appeal for aid for ten millions starving within its borders. Over twenty-seven thousand cases of cholera were reported and the famine refugees were said to be moving on Moscow, Siberia, Caucasus and the Ukraine. The International Russian Relief Committee, headed by Dr. Nansen was established and the American Relief Administration

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

One of the most important accomplishments of the Council of the League of Nations this year was the settlement of the disposition of Upper Silesia, a problem which at one time threatened the accord between France and Great Britain. On March 20, in accordance with the provision of the Versailles Treaty a plebiscite was held in this former German region to determine its future status. The Germans polled the largest vote, but the Poles carried the most important industrial districts. On May 3rd martial law was declared in the districts of Bethuen and Ratabor by the Inter-Allied Commission when an organized force of 20,000 Poles under Korfanty attempted to occupy the region. Germany also mobilized troops along the Oder River, a diplomatic strain between France and Great Britain followed the announcement of Lloyd George, "Fair play for Germany," while Premier Briand warned the English that France would not permit German troops to enter Upper Silesia.

On June 15 the Polish troops retired and the territory was occupied by Allied troops. After negotiations had been carried on between France and Britain the question was submitted to the League of Nations. The decision of the Council divided the area in almost equal parts as to number of communes, and provided machinery for the new regime for 15 years.

On Feb. 22 Washington protested to the Council of the League of Nations against the proposed form of mandates for Yap and Mesopotamia on the ground that the disposal of neither Yap nor Mesopotamia is within the jurisdiction of that body, but still in the hands of the Allied Powers. In maintaining this principle, Secretary Hughes sent identical notes to the four great Powers demanding equal rights in the mandate territory and rejecting invalid League mandates granted without the consent of the United States. France replied agreeing in the principle.

FINANCIAL MEASURES.

The Financial Committee of the League met to plan relief for Austria on a basis suggested by the Dutch banker, Ter Meulen. On June 24 the Council of the League of Nations awarded the Aland Islands in the Baltic Sea to Finland and Sweden accepted this decision. On June 26 the Council of the League of Nations offered to repatriate or redistribute two million Russian refugees, provided the interested countries, furnish 250 million francs. On Sept. 5 the League Assembly opened its second plenary session. Austria, Bulgaria, Albania, Finland and Luxemburg are admitted as new members. Jonkir A. N. van Karnebeek of Holland was elected president.

THE SUPREME COUNCIL.

On Jan. 11 Ambassador Wallace withdrew from the Allied Council of Ambassadors at Paris, eliminating America from participation in European Councils. On May 6 an arrangement was made again whereby the U. S. ambassador had a seat in the Council.

France invited the United States to participate in a conference of Allied Premiers at Paris, Jan. 19, over Germany's failure to fulfil the Spa agreement.

Jan. 28, Supreme Council of Allies meeting at Paris to fix the total indemnity Germany will be required to pay, decides to tax German exports 12½ per cent ad valorem with sliding scale of annuities from two billion to 6 billion marks for forty-two years. The decision of the Supreme Council to reduce expenses of the Allied Occupation was announced at Rome by the Italian Minister. Count Sforza, the reduction to mean a saving of approximately $300,000,000 annually, or almost twelve per cent tax on German exports proposed by the Council.

On Jan. 29 the Supreme Council decided to relinquish certain financial claims against Austria. The Council of Ambassadors on July 1 asked the United States Government to postpone for twenty years their claims amounting to twenty million dollars against the Austrian Government.

UNITED STATES.

The passing of the administration of the United States into Republican hands and the inauguration of President Harding on March 4, were speedily followed by the adoption of the Fordney Emergency Tariff Bill, which had been vetoed by President Wilson. The measure imposed a duty of thirty-five per cent on agricultural products imported into the country, and contained anti-dumping clauses. The new government rendered further assistance to those handling the farmer's produce, through the War Finance Corporation which was empowered to extend credits until the surplus agricultural stock could be exported in an orderly manner. Price deflation took place throughout the country and wage cuts of from 12½ to 30 per cent were made in practically all of the large industries during the course of the year, and were the cause of unrest and numerous strikes, in spite of the large percentage of unemployed. Of the strikes the walk-out of the coal miners in West Virginia assumed the most threatening proportions.

LABOR TROUBLES.

Four thousand armed men marched on the coal mines and Federal troops were called in on September 2, to disperse and quell the rioters. Ten millions persons were affected when milkmen of New York refused to work, early in November. Though unemployment was less serious in the United States than in Great Britain, considerable suffering was brought about during the year by the shutting down of the industries and the reduction of staffs.

On October 22, announcement was made that the U. S. Railway strike had been averted. Railway clerks, freight handler express and station employees, numbering 350,000 vetoed the Big Five's proposed strike, making one million four hundred thousand men.

On September 24 a conference was summoned by President Harding at Washington to discuss ways and means of bettering conditions.

PEACE WITH AUSTRIA.

On August 24 a peace treaty between the United States and Austria was signed at Vienna and on the following day a separate peace was concluded with Berlin. The country's foreign trade showed an alarming decrease during the year and at the end of the first seven months of 1921 had declined fifty per cent.

The task of bringing over to the United States for burial 45,000 soldier dead, whose relatives had requested that they be brought to this side for interment, was practically completed during the year. An appointment of interest to Canadians was that of ex-President William Howard Taft to the Chief Justiceship of the United States.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

The outstanding individual figures of the sport of the last twelvemonth are Jack Dempsey and "Babe" Ruth.

Everyone remembers how Dempsey knocked out Georges Carpentier of France in the fourth round of their fight at Jersey City, before the greatest prize-fight crowd ever gathered to see a bout in history, and all the baseball fans remember how "Babe" Ruth batted out fifty-nine home-runs, which is also unequalled in history.

Dempsey is going around in vaudeville and movies, with no one anywhere his physical or boxing equal to fight him, and Ruth is going around nursing a sore head because as a punishment for going barnstorming after the world series, Judge Keneshaw Mountain Landis fined him his share of the world series receipts, which approximately amounted to four thousand dollars.

SOCCER VISITORS.

The principal features of sport in Canada were the visit of the Third Lanark soccer team from Scotland, the visit of an Old Country lawnbowling party, the victory of the two boats of the White Bear Yacht Club of St. Paul, Minnesota, over the two boats from the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club of Montreal on Lake St. Louis, the victory of the Canadian fishing schooner Blue Nose over her United States rival for the Deep Sea trophy for international fishing-schooner races, and the capture by the Ottawa hockey team of the World Championship, which is to be played for next spring on Eastern ice.

All the sporting visitors from other countries were most hospitably received, so hospitably that in the case of the Third Lanarks, while something like seventy thousand dollars ($70,000) was collected in gate receipts during their trip, not a cent was left over, according to unofficial information received, when the team left again to cross the Atlantic. Although they returned home four months ago, no official statement of the finances of the trip has yet been forthcoming.

YACHT RACES.

The international races won by the two White Bear boats on Lake St. Louis were for a new International Challenge Cup for small boats, known as the St. Lawrence trophy, and donated for perpetual challenge by George Herrick Duggan, in memory of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club members, who fell during the war. A challenge has been given by the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club and accepted by the White Bear Club for another series of races in St. Paul next summer. Each side in these races sails two boats and the best aggregate number of points scored during three races over straightaway and triangular courses wins.

The United States fishing schooner defeated by the Bluenose was the Elsie, which, strange to say, also had a Nova Scotia skipper.

In the golf world the Open Championship of Canada was held at Toronto at the beginning of August and resulted in a win for a little known player, W. H. Trovinger, of Detroit. There was considerable interest in the tournament owing to the presence of Joseph Kirkwood the Australian champion, T. D. Armour and other noted players. The visitors practically swept the board of prizes.

The amateur championship was held at Winnipeg this year and was won by Frank Thompson of Mississauga, a young man of twenty-three and a member of one of the best known golfing families in Canada.

Miss Cecil Leitch, champion of England and admittedly one of the finest women players in the world won the Women's Championship at Ottawa and afterwards played in several exhibition matches. Duncan and Mitchell, the two leading golf professionals of Britain, made a tour of Eastern Canada and the United States and met with general success.

AT THE ROYAL.

BIG DOUBLE BILL.

For to-night the Royal will present an unusual programme personally selected by the manager, and one that at any other theatre would cost more than double the price of admission. The superb Fox feature, called "To a Finish," shows that greatest actor of Western dramas, Buck Jones, in a play that teems with excitement. The richest man in a small country town in the West covets the ranch of a cattleman named Blake. The townsman, who owns the local bank, arranges to steal cattle and mix them with Blake's herd, to throw suspicion on the owner of the Circle C, Blake's ranch. Young Blake rescues a girl, whose horse runs away with her. The banker's attempt to implicate Blake in the cattle thefts fails. Young Blake wins the girl, saves the Circle C ranch, and lives happy ever after. Another big feature in to-day's special bill is called "Hickville to Broadway." The druggist of Hickville loves a farmer's daughter, and is accepted. A new railroad purchases the druggist's homestead for its own purposes at a big price. The young man goes to New York to have a fling with his recently gained wealth. Acting on advice of an actress, who boards at her father's farm, the druggist's fiancee goes to New York and secures a position as model to a great artist. In the Metropolis she meets and infatuates a good-looking and very wealthy man. She also meets the former Hickville druggist. Whom does she marry? Was it "The Lady or the Tiger?" If you cannot guess see this wonderfully interesting story of New York life! You will possibly be disappointed, but most agreeably so. Then there is Larry Semon, that inimitable comedian, in a two-reel play that effervesces with fun and laughter. If you are down on your luck or feel blue, see Larry Semon in "The Suitor." This is a play with laughter, pretty girls, novel situations, and will do you more good than a carload of medicine. It is a comedy that is disliked only by grave-diggers and coffin-makers. The two-reel Sunshine Comedy, "The Book Agent," is a mirth-producing comedy that will be enjoyed by all.

AT THE CAPITOL.

OLD THATCHED COTTAGES IN SCOTLAND SCARCE SAYS PRODUCER OF "THE BONNIE BRIER BUSH".

Modern improvements have hit Scotland, much to the disgust of the American motion picture directors who are now there making pictures for American distribution. Donald Crisp, who produced "The Bonnie Brier Bush," for Paramount, in England, made a trip through Scotland hunting locations. He particularly wanted to find a few little cottages with thatched roofs, to be used as the background of his production.

But Mr. Crisp found that time has wrought changes in Scotland's villages. The Scotch peasant of Drumtochty days may have thatched his roof with straw, but the modern Scot is much more practical, if less picturesque. He prefers corrugated iron, and Mr. Crisp was obliged to motor several hundred miles before he found what he wanted. At last he discovered the Drumtochty of his dreams near Killin on Loch Tay, thatched roofs, brier bushes and all. Two hundred persons take part in the village scenes in the production.

The leading roles of "The Bonnie Brier Bush", which comes to the Capitol theatre to-day are in the hands of Mr. Crisp, who is seen as a shepherd, Alec Fraser, a Scotch nobleman, and Mary Glynne, who is seen as the daughter of the shepherd and sweetheart of nobleman. Mrs. Hayden Coffin and Humbertson Wright also are in the supporting cast.

The vaudeville act will be Reba and Tracey high class acrobatic and ball room dancers.

SKY IS LAUGHTER LIMIT

The Capitol Theatre wishes to issue the warning to its patrons that the sky is the absolute and positive limit of the laughter that will be permitted when "Never Weaken" will be presented to-night.

Needless to say, the star of "Never Weaken" is Harold Lloyd, the comedian who has introduced to photoplayers the new laugh that comes clean and full from a happy heart and carries no blush with it.

The laughs that will accompany the showing of "Never Weaken" however, will be energized with spine-tingling thrills, for in this three reel Associated Exhibitors comedy, Lloyd performs some amazing stunts on the iron skeleton of a skyscraper in the process of construction.

Pretty Mildred Davis lends leading feminine support. Others are Roy Brooks, Mark Jones and Charles Stevenson. "Never Weaken" is the result of the combined imaginations of Hal Roach its, producer, and Sam Taylor, and the direction of Fred Newmeyer.

AT THE GRAND.

"THE UNLOVED WIFE."

Every woman in Peterborough will want to see "The Unloved Wife," a new play in three acts, that asks how much deception should a wife tolerate on the part of her husband; the play that teaches how to retain the love of your sweetheart or husband. And after seeing this interesting dramatic success, your description of what you saw, of what you heard, will spread like a tornado. Every tongue will be talking. "The Unloved Wife." What is the answer? Love, excitement, flattery, home. You will know because you have seen and heard and your husband will know the truth because it concerns him and you.

Florence Edna May, the authoress, put a new page in her own brilliant record, as in writing this play of American womanhood she placed before her audiences conditions as they really exist in every woman's life, and for that matter, in every man's life. Too long have our present playwrights neglected the "heart" in their writings, and it remained for Miss May to see her opportunity and to take advantage of it.

"The Unloved Wife" is a big, deep, fine, colorful meaning of every element of stage appeal, and will be presented at the Grand Opera House next Saturday, Jan. 21st, with matinee for ladies only, with a capable cast and an excellent scenic production.

AT THE REGENT.

UNUSUAL STORY MARKS MAYO FILM

"Dr Jim", the Universal special attraction starring Frank Mayo, which is coming to the Regent theater on Thursday contains one of the most unsual situations ever presented in a love story. Frank Mayo appears as a surgeon of eminent standing, whose broken health compelled a long voyage for which he and his wife chartered a sailing boat captained by a soulless brute and manned by a motley crew.

Unable ti fight in defense of himself or his wife's honor, the surgeon is called on suddenly through the act of Fate to hold a surgeon's scalpel over the head of the beast whose desires had come near to satisfaction. And a few hours afterward a long bundle is held over the rail of the ship for a momeut while something is read from a book, and then it is allowed to drop into the waves.

How would the wife take this sight of the hasty obsequies—after the long evenings passed in quiet talks under a yellow tropic moon? How would she look at her husband what would she think? It is a situation to hold the interest of all.

tive prices. "It is an insult to the public," he said. "Do business men really think that the public swallow any such thing as '$40 article for $15 ' Never. The public is fully satisfied with a full dollar's worth of value for a dollar. The hardest sales-resistance in the world to-day is the average house-wife. She does all the comparing of prices necessary.

"The real leak in the pipe line is at the tap—the retail clerk, call him salesman if you like. Forty-five per cent of sales are killed by lack of knowledge on the part of that individual. That is why the Advertising Clubs are getting out a short course in advertising suitable to the average mind of the average retail clerk and salesman.

He said that the average retail merchant knew very little about advertising and that they would never be able to play golf as they would be unable to shout "fore" but would unconsciously yell "$3.98."

VIGO, Spain, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press.)—The electric light and street car services of this city were completely paralyzed here as a result of a violent storm which struck the coast last night.

The Dutch Trans-Atlantic liner Andijk took refuge in the harbor and several other similar craft did likewise. A number of motorboats were driven against the sea walls and smashed to pieces and all the city's avenues fronting the sea were covered with wreckage of small boats. Several fishing smacks are reported missing, and others suffered severe damage before succeeding in entering the harbour.

The Aura Lee team, who are leading the Senior O.H.A. race, will show their wares in Peterborough on Monday night, when they will clash with the P.A.A.A. Intermediates in an exhibition game that should be even more thrilling than Monday's struggle. Not only will be Conacher, Burch and Rodden be back again, but they will have with them Hogarth(Rutherford, Meeking and other stars. The Petes learned a lot about Senior O.H.A. tactics in the game with the Dominion Bank, and believe they can give the crack Aura Lee squad a battle that will be worth while seeing. The game will start at 8.30, earlier than this week's fixture, because the Aura Lee crew will have a special Pullman and will dress on the train. John R. Roach will handle the game. The reserved seat plan will go on sale at Bond's to-morrow.

A LITTLE SPORTING GOSSIP

Peterborough fans who saw the game with the Dominion Bank team on Monday night and are still talking about the quality of the hockey displayed, will be glad to learn that the P.A.A.A. management has been successful in securing the crack Aura Lee team of Toronto, who are at present leading the Senior O.H.A. race without a defeat, for a game with the local Intermediates on Monday night next. This should be an even more spectacular exhibition than was this week's game. Conacher, Burch and Rodden, who were here with the Dominion Bank, will be back again with Aura Lee, and in addition there will be Thompson, star goaler, Hogarth, clever defence man, Murray Rutherford, the good right wing, and Dalton Meeking, the Barrie boy who has done great work as sub. for Aura Lee this season. The full regular Aura Lee line-up is assured, and the game should pack Brock Street Rink.

The Aura Lee management does not believe in taking any chances in in regard to the condition of their players. The Aura Lee squad are right on edge now, and in order to keep them so, the management has secured a Pullman sleeper for their use on Monday night when they engage the P.A.A.A. squad here. It was feared that the Toronto crew would lose too much sleep if they had to catch the early morning train—hence the Pullman. They will go to bed, immediately after the game, in their car, which will be hooked on to the morning train.

The P.A.A.A. is to be commended upon its enterprise in booking such teams as the Dominion Bank and Aura Lee Seniors for exhibition games. These fixtures serve the double purpose of giving the fans some first-class hockey and of "prepping" the Peterborough team for their future O.H.A. games. They should be a greatly improved team by the time they are called upon to meet the Trenton-Picton winners.

Elwood Coombs, the well-known Lindsay hockey star, made a big hit with City League patrons and players last night by the way he refereed the weekly double-header. Coombs was on top of the play all the time, got all the offsides, and kept the teams playing hockey. He will likely be secured for the balance of the League games.

You've got to hand it to Chris Bergoine, the Lakeview goalkeeper, for gameness. In the overtime game a week ago Bergoine was hit in the face with a shot that inflicted a cut an inch and a half long on the inside of the upper lip, but he came back and finished the game. Last night while practising basketball in the "Y" gymnasium, he received a jolt from somebody's elbow in the face, re-oepning the cut, and he lost so much blood that he had to be put to bed for an hour and a half; but the start of the second City Hockey League game found him guarding the nets for the Lakeviews, and refusing to allow a goal to be registered against him.

Further Things We Don't Expect To See:

A long list of penalties for the Holy Name team to-morrow night.

Small crowds at City League games as long as the present quality of hockey is played.

Any vacant seats in the Rink on Monday night.

Much hockey here in April.

Peterborough win the Tankard three years in succession.

So far as introducing new material is concerned, the Bankers are doing more than all the other City League teams combined. Youngsters like Killoran, Pethick, and McPherson are the type that the City League should be bringing along. Incidentally, many of the fans who are not connected with any of the teams are sorry that Lornie Rose did not see fit to line up with the Bankers rather than the C.G.E., for the latter organisation has no dearth of players. With Rose to show them the way those lively youngsters on the Bankers' line up would give them all a battle.

Unless the Bankers can stop the Lakeviews in next week's game the red shirts will capture the first series of the City League race and qualify for the finals. But the Financiers are improving, and cannot be overlooked from now on.

Did you ever notice that it is generally the players who kick about being penalised that would not get mentioned at all in the summary if they were not listed among those ruled off?

With Apologies to K. C. B.

It is funny
* * *
That a lot of fellows
* * *
Will go to a hockey game
* * *
And loudly shout
* * *
Mean things
* * *
To some of the players
* * *
That they would not dare say
* * *
To the same men
* * *
If they met them
* * *
Face to face.
I thank you.

Peterborough fans should pack the Rink to-morrow night when the Holy Name Juniors stack up against Lindsay in the crucial game in the section race. The game between the two teams in Lindsay last week was acclaimed by Scugog fans as one of the finest Junior games ever seen in Lindsay. And there is every reason to expect that to-morrow's fixture will be every bit as speedy and as exciting.

To-day's Happy Thought:

There is no hockey game to-night—so a lot of fans can get acquainted with their families again. F. D. C.

Games next week—C.G.E. vs. Wm. Hamilton's. Bankers vs. Lakeviews.

The City League double-header at Brock Street Rink last night furnished an attractive card for a big crowd of fans who saw the C.G.E. Toolroom win from the Bankers, 7 to 3, and the Lakeviews go out in front in the League race by whitewashing last year's Wm. Hamilton champs by 2 goals to nil. Both games were good exhibitions, and they were nicely handled by 'Snorts' Coombs, of Lindsay, who made good as a referee.

The surprise of the evening was furnished when Lornie Rose skated out in a C.G.E. Toolroom uniform. All the teams in the League, except the Lakeviews, claimed to have Rose lined up, and the Bankers counted on his services until the last minute last night.

Joe Dwyer was sick and Harry Thornton out of town, so the Financiers had to call upon Bob McCabe, the St. Peter's School net guardian, and Jack Killoran, also of the St. Peter's team. At that the team made a much better showing than in their game last week, and had a considerable share of the play. McCabe was nervous at the start, and he was beaten by two or three easy shots in the first period, but came back in the second session and handled himself nicely.

The C.G.E. team were without Ranger, but otherwise were at full strength, and showed a line-up that will make the Electricians hard to beat in the remaining games. Halpin turned in a splendid game, scoring two pretty goals and doing elective work on the defence. Helson teamed up nicely with him, while all the forwards were good, although Rose did not exert himself very much.

For the Bankers, Jack Gillespie was always prominent, while the two youngsgters, Pethick and Killoran, turned in some fine hockey. Both stick-handled nicely, and tried all the way. Pete Thornton and Campbell presented a good defence.

The Bankers were the first to score, Pethick doing the trick when he recovered a loose puck in front of the C.G.E. net and beat Legros. Halpin evened the count shortly after a neat rush that carried him in close for a counter.

Campbell put the Bankers in front again when he checked a C.G.E. rush and eluded the Electricians' defence.

Lornie Rose tied the count with a shot from the side, and Williams put C.G.E. in front on a long heave from the side. Helson made it 4 to 2, and just before the rest period Eadie added another on a shot from well out.

The Bankers came back strong after the breathing spell, and had the better of the argument for ten minutes, scoring the first goal when Killoran dodged inside after some clever stick-handling. C.G.E. drew away again in the last few minutes, Halpin scoring a nice goal, to make it 6 to 3, and Williams finished the scoring for the game when he took a pass and raced in on top of McCabe. The teams:

C.G.E.—Goal, Legros; defence, Halpin and Helson; centre, McElroy; right wing, Williams; left wing, Rose. Subs.—Butcher and Eadie.

Bankers—Goal, McCabe; defence, Thornton and Campbell; centre, Killoran; right wing, Pethick; left wing, Gillespie. Subs.—Ted Jackson and Soden.

Penalties — C. G. E., Butcher; Bankers, Soden.

THE SECOND GAME.

The Lakeview-Wm. Hamilton bout was a battle from gong to gong. Neither team was at full strength, Legon being off the Lakeview line-up, while Foley was missing from the champs' roster. Hamilton's were handicapped with only one sub. in uniform, while on the other hand, McMartin and Murray, of the Lakeviews' defence were both ill, and Bergoine got out of bed to play the game, so that both teams suffered from breaks in the luck.

But at that they provided a game that delighted the fans. It was fast going, from start to finish, and was in doubt until Lakeviews scored their second goal, half-way through the second period. The winners played a close checking game that broke up the Hamilton combination, and kept the champs' sharp-shooters well covered up, and this persistent checking won for them. The Hamilton crew had the edge for the first ten minutes, missing several good chances by fumbling a pass or shooting wide when in close. Then the Lakeviews started to come on, and for the balance of the first half and the greater part of the second had a margin on the losers. There was no score in the first period.

There was no particular star on the Lakeview line-up. Every player contributed his bit to the victory, and the honors were well distributed. Collins was the best for the losers, while Brennan, the big defence youngster, continues to show improvement each time out.

Although the first period was scoreless, it was a fast session that kept the fans on their toes. Both teams were working hard, with the Hamilton outfit a shade the better during the initial moments. The close checking bothered Jerry Coughlin's squad, however, and their usual snappy combination was rarely in evidence. They blew several nice chances in that first ten minutes chances that never came to them later on in the game, when the Lakeviews put on the pressure. Murray and Bergoine handled cleanly everything that was drilled at them, and honors were even when the teams retired.

On the second session, however, the red shirts dominated the play to a considerable extent, and might easily have won by a larger margin if they had taken advantage of their opportunities. McMartin was responsible for the first counter of the game. He broke away on a nice rush and went in on top of Murray to score, rolling into the net with the rubber. Burgess made it 2-0 a little later by a low shot just out of Murray's reach. With a two-goal lead, the Lakeviews adopted a defence game, satisfied to protect their margin until the timer's bell rang. The teams and summary:

Lakeviews—Goal, Bergoine; defence, McMartin and Murray; centre Hamley; right wing, Burgess; left wing, Jackson. Subs.—Cherrett and Skitch.

Summary.

First Period.

No score.

Second Period.

1—Lakeviews, McMartin.
2—Lakeviews, Burgess.

Penalties: Lakeviews — Jackson, Murray, Cherrett, McMartin — 4. Hamilton's—F. Graham 2, Lebarr, Bartley—4.

Peterboro Youngsters In Shape For Their Battle With Lindsay

The Holy Name Juniors are in the best of condition for their game with the Lindsay Midgets at Brock St. rink and will have no excuses to offer if they do not turn back the cocky Scugog crew. Coach Jerry Coughlin kept his regular forward line out of the City League game last night and they are right on edge for the acid test. Those who saw the battle in Lindsay declared that if the green shirts pay strict attention to their knitting and keep out of the penalty box they can beat the Midgets handily. The latter playing together for the second season are a dangerous outfit and they can not be beaten by a team that is handicapped by penalties. With the Holy Name team on their good behaviour the game should be a corking exhibition of fast junior hockey and no real fan is going to miss the clash. The reserved seat plan is on sale at Bond's.

The Peterboro line up will be as follows:

Goal—Lebarr.
Defence—Brennan, Lamore.
Centre—Foley.
Right Wing—Legon.
Left Wing.— Ranger.
Subs.—McPherson, Pethick.

Market News

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. — Canadian Press. — Price changes were uncertain at the opening of to-day's stock market. Shares favored by the pools —notably Gulf States Steel, Mercantile Marine Pfd., American International, Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke, General Electric and Davison Chemical scored early gains of 1 to 2 points. Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Locomotive, American Woollen, Utah Copper and Retails were also firm to strong.

Dealings became more professional and irregular as the session progressed, excepting crucible, which continued to show heavy tone; independent steels extended their advances. Gulf States, Nova Scotia and Replogle rose 2 to 4 points. Sugars were strong, South Porto Rico common and pfd. gaining 5 points each. People's Gas rose 1 1-4 and Twin City Rapid Transit 3 points. Motors, equipments, oils and tobaccos showed further depression. Chandler, Studebaker, Baldwin, Pullman, Mexican and Pan-American, Petroleums and American Tobacco lost 1 to 2½ points. Oils played no part in the trading of the morning. Many of the leaders remained unquoted. Call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. Canadian Press—Sterling exchange was steady —demand Great Britain 4.22 1-4; Canadian dollar 5 1-16 to 5 1-8 per cent. discount.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 19. — Although startling variations were looked for this morning in Dominion Bridge in view of the action of the Directors in cutting the annual dividend in half yesterday, the stock did not feature early trading this morning — merely registering a decline of 3-4 to 55 3-4. Only a few shares changed hands. Toronto railway featured the market's opening by advancing 2 points more to 73. Brazilian was also stronger, rising from 31 (its closing quotation) to 31 5-8. National Breweries was up 3-4 at 55 3-4. Other issues were quiet.

TORONTO CATTLE MARKETS

TORONTO, Jan. 19. — Canadian Press.—Receipts were 167; trade slow. Quotations, heavy beef steers, nil. Choice butcher steers, $6.50 to $7.25. Butcher cows, medium, $3 to $4; calves, $11 to $13; lambs, $11.50 to $12.50; hogs selects, $11.75.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.— (Canadian Press.)—Opening wheat quotations which ranged from 5-8 to 3-4 higher with May 1.12 3-4 to 1.12 7-8 and July 1.01 to 1.01 1-8, were followed by material further gains. Corn and Oats rose with wheat. Corn started unchanged to a shade higher, May 53 1-4 and then scored moderate general advance. Oats, after opening 1-8 to 1-4 up, May 38 3-4 to 38 7-8 developed additional strength later. Provisions were higher despite the set-back in hog values. Scantiness of provisions stocks appeared to be more or less responsible.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Jan. 19.— (Canadian Press.)— Local stock exchange experienced another fairly active session this morning. Toronto Rail continued yesterday's advance, selling up to 73 1-2 with later reaction bringing close dows to 72, off one point. Brazilian sold off over a point from high mark of 31 3-4 and closed with a net loss of 1 point at 30 1-2. Barcelona gained 1- 2at 4 1-2. C.P.R. lost a point at 132 after early sale at 134. Mackay closed unchanged at 71 1-4. Banks were dull and government bonds quieted down after yesterday's very active market. 134's advanced 20c, 1937's were 55c, higher.

William Fox presents
EILEEN PERCY
in Hickville to Broadway
Story and Direction by Carl Harbaugh
AT THE ROYAL THEATRE TO-NIGHT

Eileen Percy, the lovely Fox star who is scheduled to appear to-night at the Royal Theatre in "Hickville to Broadway," a photoplay which deals with both village and city life, was asked recently why she abandoned her position as an artist's model in magazine cover work, to adopt motion pictures as a career. Laughingly, she replied:

"My primary motive at the time was a sordid one. It meant more money and more steady employment. I needed the money.

"But behind this," she continued, "lay another incentive. I need no excuse for a measure of personal vanity — for I am only a woman. Now, such vanity — and I don't think it is overwhelming in my case — was gratified in a way by seeing myself reflected on the covers of leading magazines, in work by leading artists. Yet the feeling of impersonality was always with me. Those who admired the cover did not know the girl, or even the girl's name. The illustration might just as well have been a fancy picture, the outcome of the artist's imagination, so far as this was concerned. It was the artist that counted—and his name appeared always. Such fame as resulted was concentrated in him.

"But on the screen! There a woman, although still merely pictured, is to all intents and purposes a living, breathing human depicting emotion in herself and creating it in others. She is giving active pleasure and entertainment—inspiring new thought and ambition, perhaps — reaching out eventually to millions, where as a model she was reaching thousands.

"The difference is that between a passive and an active existence between contributing to one's kind a momentary pleasure and a lasting impression. And even from a purely selfish point of view the motion picture spells progress and development. I go to see myself in a photoplay, and I detect faults to be remedied, not only in the concention and spirit of the acting but in grace of movement and carriage.

"Whether viewed from a personal or professional standpoint that's the answer."

U. F. O. DANCE WAS A BIG SUCCESS

Last night's dance in the G. W. V. A. Hall, held under the auspices of the Peterborough U.F.O., proved to be the usual excellent success that was expected. The crowd was a little late in gathering, but they were so enthused by the splendid condition of the floor in the Veterans' Hall and the social character of the dance, along with the excellent music provided by the four pieces of the Follis Orchestra, that they remained dancing until three o'clock or after. At midnight an abundant supper was provided by the committee in charge, and everyone expressed themselves as being well satisfied with the affair.

AN INTERESTING FILM.

Mr. H. M. Lickey, president of the National Cooperage Company, is showing in the city an exceedingly interesting film. It is the moving pictures of a machine for the manufacture of barrels. The machine makes the barrel in every stage from the time the staves are fed into it until it comes out on the other end—a complete barrel. Plants have been secured in Hastings and Stouffville, and are just awaiting the arrival of Machinery for installation.

Flour mill men and apple growers are very much interested in the new barrel, and from what can be seen in the presentation of the film alone, the cooperage trade appears to be in for a great revolution.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The merchandising of Red Arrow Tire is to be done without the aid of the middlemen and through its own stores and distributors, and in this respect it is claimed that it will have considerable advantage over other systems of sale and distribution.

Precedent of going direct to the public is particularly noticeable in the success attained by the Oliver Typewriter Company, this plan having enabled this concern to reduce the price of their machines from $100.00 to $49.50 in the United States, the public benefiting as a result.

The progress made on the building in course of construction under Contractor Hayes is very satisfactory.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

The undersigned begh to announce the opening of the Market Auction Sales Rooms, 350 Water street, opposite Market Square, where will be held public sales weekly of household goods, furniture, clothing, etc., as later announced in these columns. ELEMENTARY GRADED UNION HELD MEETING.

The Elementary Graded Union of the city Sunday Schools, which meets on the third Tuesday of each month, held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening of this week in St. James' Schoolroom. On account of special meetings in a number of the city churches, the attendance was not as good as usual, but the programme was excellent, including both inspirational and practical talks.

Rev. J. F. Chapman, pastor of St. James' Church, gave a very helpful talk on "The Greatness of the Teachers' Work," followed by short papers on "How the Graded Lessons Build Up the Missionary Vision," by Miss C. Adams, and "Why Teach Singing in the Primary," by Miss Crane.

Papers by Mrs. Geo. Robertson on "The Meaning of the Cradle Roll" and by Mrs. Peters on "Bible Stories," were much appreciated.

GOOD YEAR FOR LOCAL SOCIETY

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED AT MEETING OF THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

In the 1921 history of the Peterboro Horticultual Society will have to be written in as one of the best years of the society; no fewer than 211 new members having been signed up making the total membership 348.

New officers were elected at the meeting as follows: President—Dr. J. E. Middleton, vice-president—Alext Weddell, second vice-president—Carl Simpson; Director for one year—E. E. Brumwell, A. Sanders T. E. Bradburn, J. Smythe, E. H. D. Hall; directors for two years—Mrs. (Dr.) H. M. Yelland, Mrs. J. Wells Fraser, Mrs. F. D. Kerr, I. Bodison, G. Land. The financial statement presented at the meeting showed a balance on hand of $31.77.

"The increased activity in the work of this society is extremely gratifying to those who have been directing its affairs" said President Dr Middleton, who was re-elected in reporting on the activities last year. He referred to the improvement work carried on during the year notably at the corner of Park and Reid streets and at Inverlea Park and he outlined their plans to place an arch at the latter plot this year. Favourable comment was made on the success of the gladioli and aster shows. General commendations of the increase in the beautiful lawns and gardens in the city figured in the report and special reference was made to the attractiveness of grass lots and flower beds downtown.

Splendid Address

When all busines had been attended to Mr. F. J. A. Morris, M.A., of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute staff gave a thoroughly complete and interesting talk on lillies and orchids illustrating the discussion with a reflectoscope During his address Mr. Morris stated that there wee 10,000 varieties of orchids in the world of which about 80 were founded on the North American continent. Fifty varieties are peculiar to Ontario and the eminent naturalist declared that 45 of these were found within 8 miles of Peterboro. A number of varieties he said were peculiar to this district and visitors had come here from the United States specifically to make a study of them.

A vote of thanks for the illuminating address was heartily tendered to Mr. Morris by the large number of horticulturists and amateur naturalists present on motion of Judge E. C. S. Huycke.

CRUSHED BENEATH FROZEN SAWDUST

William Begley Suffers a Leg Fractured in Two Places.

Crushed by a huge piece of frozen sawdust against the Quaker Oats truck on which sawdust was being loaded William J. Begley, 22 years of age, son of Robert Begley, 466 Bonacord street, had his right leg broken in two places at 4.15 yesterday afternoon at Mann's Mill near the Lock's Bridge. With mill employees Begley, who is employed by the Quaker Oats Co., as a driver, was loading sawdust on the truck. A considerable portion of a large pile had been undermined and a large frozen crust on the top was released pinning the young man who was working below, against truck.

Dr. J. V. Gallivan, who rendered first aid found the right leg broken in two place. He was immediately removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in Belleghem's motor ambulance.

William Begley is a returned soldier and resided with his parents at 466 Bonacord street.

HYDRO WILL BE SUBJECT

ture should control the Provincial finance connected with any scheme. This could be controlled by a Minister of Power. If not that way, should the municipalities grouped in the southern and western part of the Province assume the project, for it does not help us any in Peterborough except that we should pay the cost, or should the Commission be allowed to function as it is with reduced powers I, personally, would change the whole personnel of the Commission, which is composed of only three men.

Province is Guarantor.

Since the Province is guarantor for the bonds, no transfer to municipalities could relieve it from its liability to the bond-holders unless they agreed to do so. This is not likely, owing to the tendency it would have of reducing the value of the holdings. Even then the municipalities would find difficulty, I think, in floating the bonds to carry on the ordinary municipal improvemen's. Were a Department of Power created, the cost of the Chipnawa development may be treated as a part of the Provincial debt. The Hydro Commission could still run the concern, but all advances of money for improvements could come through the Minister of Power. The Department of Power might find it cumbersome and it might be well not to disturb the situation too much, but the Legislature is responsible for all expenditures and it will govern itself accordingly. The powers of the Commission are too great and very exceptional under responsible government. The first and foremost thing, it seems to me, is the maintenance and effective control by the Legislature as long as the Province stands guarantor for the finance.

Speaking of the Hydro radials, Mr. Tooms said: "The time is inopportune owing to the heavy burdens already on the Province, and the Dominion Government having taken over the G.T.R. and Canadian National Railways, which would run parallel to many of the proposed radials."

By a vote of confidence, the meeting expressed appreciation in Mr. Tooms as a legislator, who had the best interests of West Peterborough at heart.

TO PROHIBIT USING DOGS IN HUNTING

SPORTSMEN'S ASSOCIATION MOVE RESOLUTION TO THAT END—ALSO THAT BUCKS ONLY MAY BE HUNTED.

GAME SANCTUARIES

In Ontario there are two fish and game protective associations with practically the same ideals but divided on the running of dogs in hunting deer and moose. The Sportsmen's Game and Fish Protective Association, which is only a few months old, are bitterly opposed to hunting with dogs. Mr. Sam Harris, the president, speaking at the recent meeting in Toronto on a visit to the meeting of the American Game Protective Association in New York said: "Experience in the United States is that elimination of dogs in deer-hunting and the adoption of a 'buck law' means an increase in game and safety to the hunter."

On the other hand the Ontario Game and Fish Protective Association, the first in the field, maintain "sniping" or stalking the deer is more dangerous than open hunting with dogs and claims fewer shooting accidents when dogs are used.

See Eye-to-Eye

Except on the dog question both associations see practically eye to eye. There are no members of the Sportsmen's Association in Peterboro but there is a strong county organization connected with the Ontario group.

The following resolutions passed by the Sportsmen's group, of which Jack Miner, the famous Canadian bird man, is honorary president, will doubtless interest the membership of the other section of hunters and fishermen:

That the hunting of Moose, Caribou, Deer, or any other desirable big game with any kind of dog or dogs be prohibited.

That a law be enacted where bucks only may be hunted or killed, and that deer of any sex be protected until about 18 months old.

That the sale of big game meat, Moose, Caribou and Deer, be prohibited.

That it be prohibited to use the meat of big game, Moose, Caribou, or Deer, in or at any lumber or construction camp of any kind.

That the season for ducks and geese be changed to commence on or about September 15, instead of September 1.

That it is unlawful to shoot rabbits except from November 1 to 20.

That the Government be requested to set aside a sum of money to be paid to recognized clubs to be used for the purpose of destroying crows, hawks and owls.

That the Government be urged to set aside special officials under the Game and Fish Department, whose duties shall be to destroy predatory animals, and that the present bounty to hunters be increased.

That the Government be requested to get in touch with the Federal Government with the purpose of amending the international migratory bird law, so that the season's bag limit not exceed 100 birds.

That near large centres of population no seine or dip net gashing permits be granted to fish in any bays, rivers, mouths of rivers or waters adjacent thereto.

Limit Fish Bags

That a law be passed requiring such to be done, and that the size of game fish, such as speckled trout seven inches, bass ten inches, and that the speckled trout catch be limited to twenty in any one day, and 10 pounds.

That it be enacted that whether tourists camp or not, they must register, and guides shall not act for them until a license is produced.

That the Government be requested to set aside tracts of suitable lands or marshes to be used as game sanctuaries, and with public shooting grounds around them.

That the Government be requested that on the second offence against game laws the penalty be doubled, and for the third offence the penalty be one month in jail, with a fine.

POSES DEAD MAN CAPTURE BRIBER

CORPSE WITH ONE EYE OPEN REPORTS MONEY TRANSFER

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20.—Posing as a corpse in an undertaking shop, Prohibition Agent Arthur E. Kemerling reported that he had succeeded in capturing an alleged bogus prohibition agent wanted by the authorities for some time.

It was understood the alleged bogus agent was to come to the undertaking shop to receive "hush" money from a hotel proprietor in East Pittsburgh.

All funeral trappings, even to lighted candles, were arranged Kemmerling said, with the result that he overheard the transactions between the men involved and obtained marked bills from his prisoner.

The man arrested gave his name as William Penrod, of Braddock, Pa.

COUNCIL OF WOMEN BUSY

REVIEW OF VARIOUS ACTIVITIES OF THE LOCAL COUNCIL EMPHASIZES THEIR BROAD INTERESTS AND EFFECTIVENESS.

The Local Council of Women held its regular monthly meeting yesterday, with a splendid attendance. The attention of the gathering was occupied mainly with the reading of reports by convenors of committees, and the president's address.

Mrs. A. Mowat spoke concisely on two main points: What benefit is the Local Council to my society? and, Why doesn't the Local Council take it up?

With regard to the first question, which the speaker regarded as important, in view of the fact that without affiliated societies, there would be no Council in existence, reference was made to the works of a special order undertaken by the various societies that form the Council. Missionary, church, charitable, social, patriotic, social service work, everything in which local women's societies are interested, is represented in the affiliated members of the Council. "Specialization is the order of the day," said Mrs. Mowat, "and it is a splendid thing, because it brings the best results to the work being carried on because when you con-

WILL LAY A NEW CABLE TO GERMANY

FIRST ATTEMPT AT RESUMPTION OF DIRECT COMMUNICATION BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND GERMANY SINCE WAR.

EXPANSION PROGRAMME

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press).— Clarence H. Mackay, President of the Commercial Cable Postal Telegraph system, announced yesterday that the company had just completed a contract with the German Atlantic Cable Company, a German corporation, under the terms of which direct cable communication with Germany will be restored after a lapse of about eight years.

This contract which has just been signed, calls for the laying of a new cable between New York and Emden, Germany, with the cable touching at the Azores. It is to be completed and in operation by October 1923. The arrangement provides for the commercial cable commercial cable company to lay a cable from New York to the Azores (2302 miles), and for the German company to make the connection between the Azores and Emden (1888 miles), the two sections will be joined at the Azores station and all messages will be transferred automatically from one to the other, thus giving what virtually will be instantaneous service between the two countries.

Collection of Tolls

A contract further provides that the Commercial Cable Postal Telegraph system shall hand to the Germany Company all messages collected by it in the United States destined for Germany, and that the Germany company shall reciprocate by sending all of its American traffic via the Commercial Cables Postal Telegraph System.

The laying of this new cable is the first attempt at resumption of direct communication between the United States and Germany. During the war there was no cable communication between Germany and the United States and since thesigning of the Armistice, all cable messages sent between the two countries have had to pass either through England or France. This plan has not proved satisfactory to American business interests, and the new cable is being put down in response to a wide spread demand on the part of commercial houses, banking institutions and other interested in the trade relations of the United States and Ger

"Soviet Rule is Doomed" Says Secret Service Man

CLEVELAND, Janary 20. — "Russian Communism is doomed," says Sir Paul Dukes, former British Secret Service agent in Russia. 'To-day it's sliding down a gentle precipice. To-morrow it will reach the precipice and hurl itself to destruction.

"Not even recognition of the Soviet Government by Great Britain, France, and Italy, which now seems possible, can save Communism."

And Sir Paul knows the Bolsheviki. He lived in Russia eleven years, and took active part in the revolution. Now he's just back from Riga, on the Russian border, where he gathered fresh information. He's on a lecture tour in the United States.

CHANGES COME FAST.

"Event is following event in Russia in a most startling fashion," Sir Paul says. "The Russian people continually are asking each other what will happen next.

"Lenine has quit Communism, except in name. He's rushing into the very type of capitalism he's been condemning."

Lenine, Sir Paul says, will make any concessions to capitalism if he can keep control of money, education, key industries, and railways. "But he won't succeed in holding any of them—except possibly railways," the British secret agent adds.

"Money now is almost out of the grip of the Government. Bankers who've kept the Moscow stock exchange secretly alive since the revolution now have come out into the open with their manipulations. They are controlling the money.

"Education will pass out of Communist hands, too. For none of the teachers is a Communist.

'And how can Lenine control the key industries when, as he says, he's going to give them away to foreign concessionaires?

WORLD REVOLT HOPE GONE.

"The railways alone are safe—they're not worth wanting. But if they become valuable, capitalists will wrest them from Lenine."

Sir Paul sees three big factors that have made the changes in Russia. They are: Entry of the American relief administration, which showed Russia there was no hope for a world revolution; revival—unofficial, of course—of free speech, and weakening of the Communist party.

BUY A NIFTY LION HELP KING BORIS

HIS PETS EAT TOO MUCH, SO HE'LL SELL THEM

SOFIA, Jan. 20.—King Boris of Bulgaria, is the modern "man with an elephant on his hands", and he wants to sell part of his private menagerie to an American zoological garden or circus.

In particular he would like to dispose of two elephants and several fine buffaloes, which are now in the grounds of the summer palace near Sofia.

The menagerie was established by former Czar Ferdinand, and the appetites of the elephants and buffaloes are so great that King Boris is hard pressed to feed them out of his slender income. The elephants alone consume grain and hay which costs more than the outlay for food for the young sovereign's own table.

The king is much attached to the elephants, and calls them his "little pets", but Bulgaria's purse is empty and so is the king's and he cannot afford to keep them.

TO DISCUSS EPIDEMICS

G. H. DUNCAN CALLS CONFERENCE OF SCHOOL AND HEALTH AUTHORITIES — DISEASES NOT ABATING,

A conference of the Board of Education, the Separate School Board and the Board of Health has been called by G. H. Duncan, chairman of the latter body for Monday night next to consider whether any special measures should be taken to combat the twin epidemics of scarlet fever and diphtheria.

"From the information I have received these diseases are spreading instead of declining,' Mr. Duncan told the Examiner. He wished to avoid causing any undue alarm to parents, but felt that the apparent seriousness of the situation demanded some immediate action. If, as recently reported, the epidemics were waning, a conference of those in close touch with the school children and those who are responsible for the public health would bring out the facts.

Several members of the Board of Education stated that they had not been apprived of the date of the conference, but it had been proposed by Mr. J. A. McKone, chairman of the Supervision Committee. Mr. McKone told the Examiner that a few parents were keeping their children home from school, but the registers showed only a comparatively small decline in attendance.

The suggestion that the schools might be closed temporarily has been heard in some quarters, but members of the Board of Education said that nothing would be gained by that action unless the moving picture theatres were also closed to the children.

One of the possible results of the conference, the Examiner was told, was a better understanding and closer co-operation between the Medical Officer of Health, Dr. T. W. H. Young, and the Medical Inspector of Public schools, Dr. A. W. McPherson. It was stated that the relations between these two public health officials was not as harmonious as it should be, and as a consequence that the full effectiveness of their individual work was not secured.

FLAVELLE RETAINS THE G.T.R. CHAIR

EXPECTED TO CONTINUE THE DIRECTION OF RAILWAY UNDER THB NEW GOVERNMENT.

OTHER TELEGRAPH NEWS

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—The general expectations is that Sir Joseph Flavelle will retain for the present the chairmanship of the Grand Trunk Railway and direct its destinies. The problem of the absorption of the Grand Trunk was specifically committed to him by the late Cabinet. There are elements in the Liberal party whose affiliations and determined hostility to public ownership would make them regard his resignation with complacence, but it is not believed that they have in any degree the ear of the Premier and the Minister of Railways.

Sir Joseph's own personal inclination was to hand in his resignation and allow the government to select a successor from their own political camp, but influential friends of the National Railway system have urged him to remain at his post and as long as the government raises no obstacles he will continue in his office where his presence creates a confidence that the nation's property will not be subjected to further rival interests.

RELIEF OFFICER MILLER SAYS DISTRIBUTION OF FOOD AND FUEL EXCEEDS LAST WINTER'S

"Last year was nothing like this," said F. W. Miller, city relief officer, as he commenced work this morning and perused the long list of men receiving unemployment relief.

When the local Provincial Labour Bureau called it a day yesterday, they had issued 49 certificates of unemployment, which were honoured by Mr. Miller with orders for groceries and fuel.

Forty-three persons had received relief up to last night, and hundreds of dollars worth of orders have been issued since Tuesday. In a couple of weeks, Mr. Miller will be able to give an estimate of what the programme of relief will cost this year, but he said this morning that it was plain it would far exceed the total for last winter. Cases that can not be cared for under the joint system will be looked after by the Charity Board, the expenditures of which fall directly on the city. For example, the Governments do not make any provision for single men supporting to 30 days in the House of Correc- which several have come to the relief officer's attention, will receive assistance from the Charity Board.

Work at the Labour Bureau is as scarce as hundred dollar bills. Not only is there practically nothing to offer here, but other places are notifying them not to send any men there for them to look after.

Advice has been received that optimistic reports in the papers drawtheir mothers and such cases, of for work on the T. and N. O. extension were false, and these places say there is no prospect of any work there, and means should be taken to prevent men from going there.

A message in a similar vein from Fort William states that the shipyards there, if they do start work, will not absorb half the unemployed in the city, and there was no truth in the report that work would be plentiful.

ROLLO'S PLEA FOR WORKERS.

HAMILTON, January 20. — Canadian Press. — Addressing the Canadain Building and Construction Indistrict meeting yesterday, Hon. W. Rollo said that workmen do not earn enough to tide them over industrial depressions and that employers of labor who asked for free immigration when the wheels of industry were operating at full speed, should now contribute to support of men out of employment.

German Princes Barred From Throne of Holland

THE HAGUE, January 20. — All princes of the German side of the Royal Family of the Netherlands are barred from right of succession to the Holland throne by an amendment to the constitution which has been framed in Parliament. Hitherto all members of the House of Orange having as their ancestor William the Silent possessed the right to succession. The measure stipulates that only the progeny of the present Queen Wilhelmina shall ascend the throne.

There has been much argument over the question of what should be done to provide for the possibility that the young Princess Juliana, now twelve years old, may not provide a male heir to the throne. Some months ago a bill was prepared providing for a referendum to determine whether Holland should retain its monarchical form of government or become a republic. A bill now under discussion in Parliament, however, makes no mention of a republic, but specifies a referendum for the election of a new monarch.

Another point on which agreement has been reached in Parliament is that neither the King nor Queen of Holland shall any longer have the right to declare war except with the approval of the States-General.

POPE DYING NO HOPE IS ENTERTAINED

GRAPHIC STORY OF SCENE IN THE VATICAN—TAKES SUDDEN TURN FOR THE WORSE THIS MORNING —BELLS IN ROME TOLL.

TAKES LAST SACRAMENT

ROME, January 20 (United Press). — The death of Benedict XV. is expected before morning.

His Holiness was being kept alive late to-day by constant use of oxygen. The Pope was breathing with the greatest difficulty.

Cardinal Merry DeVal, who will assume Papal authority until a new Pope is elected, took up his permanent residence at the Vatican to be ready for the end.

Prayers for the Dying.

ROME, Jan. 20.—Pope Benedict XV. is dying. The last Sacrament was administered at His Holiness' own request early to-day. At half-past 10 this morning, Grand Plenipotentiary Cardinal Giorgi began the recital of the prayers for the dying.

The Vatican notified the Italian Government that the Pope's condition was hopeless.

At half-past eight this morning a bulletin was issued from the Vatican, saying that Pope Benedict's condition had become extremely grave during the night. His Holiness was severely agitated by the bronchial catarrh, which had spread to his lungs and heart.

Pope Benedict's temperature at that time was announced as 38 centrigrade, pulse 102, respiration 58.

Shortly before noon the Vatican announced that the Pope himself had requested the last Sacrament, realizing that he was dying.

Last Sacrament.

The administering of the last Sacrament was then authorized by Doctors Bignami, Marchiafava and Battistini, who found His Holiness had taken a sudden turn for the worse at 4 o'clock this morning. The Pope was breathing with the greatest difficulty.

The bronchal infection with which Pope Benedict suffered yesterday extended to his lungs and heart. Early to-day His Holiness weakened, after his condition had remained stationary throughout the night.

Hopeful at First.

An early bulletin from the Vatican to-day said that Doctors Battistini and Angeli remained with His Holiness throughout the night. Up to 3 o'clock this morning they were hopeful, for the Pope's condition remained stationary.

The illness of Pope Benedict was the result of a chill which His Holiness caught last Sunday when he was celebrating Mass. At the time Pope Benedict started shivering and coughing violently, but insisted upon finishing the service, and refused to be carried in a chair, walking to his apartment.

Pope Benedict, at the time, considered the coughing significant. His temperature rose on Monday and a physician was summoned. All audiences were suspended for ten days. Throughout the week Pope Benedict, although suffering from what was described by physicians as "bronchal catarrah," remained cheerful. Yesterday he asked to be allowed to answer some correspondence, but the request was refused by his doctors.

Waiting Anxiously.

The whole nation, which waited anxiously for each bulletin, was cheered last night by an announcement by Dr. Battistini, saying that there was no cause for alarm.

A diagnosis of influence, accompanied by bronchial catarrh, however, was made by Dr. Battistini, and confirmed by Prof. Ettore

THE WEATHER

A year ago yesterday was the coldest day of last winter, when the temperature was down to 19 degrees below zero. The coldest this winter up to the present time was 17 below, but there is plenty of time yet for a much lower figure to be reached. The winter, however, is not proving unduly severe, and Dan Whetung's forecast of a comparatively mild winter is likely to be realized. Let us give him credit when he hits it correctly and forgive and forget his errors of judgment regarding last winter. This morning's temprature was 12 above zero. There is no very cold weather anywhere at present, but changes are rapid in winter. A few pine grosbeaks have been seen around town this winter, but they have not been as plentiful as usual. Their feeding grounds are in New Ontario and around the shores of Hudson Bay, and they only come south when there is very severe weather in that section.—W. P.

"GREETERS" STUDY HOTEL SCIENCE, SAYS OLMSTED

What an excellent name "Greeters" is for a society of hotel men! The chap who hit upon it must have been inspired, because it fits as did that suit of hand-me-down clothes we used to read about—like the paper on the wall. The "Greeter" is not a handshaker, a grinner, a boisterous "welcome-to-our-city" bellower who has a villainous habit of slapping people on the back, and miscalling their names five minutes afterward.

No, nothing of the kind. He is a modern hotel man, and that term takes in almost everyone in the operating end who is brought into contact with the public. He is the chap you meet when you register, he is the office manager, he is the assistant manager, he is the manager, maybe the auditor, in fact he may be found anywhere when you want to find someone in authority. If he has heard your name and met you he remembers both, and he doesn't do it in a bald way that plainly lets you know that retaining them is simply the feat of a trained mind, and he doesn't care a rap about you as an individual.

Quite the contrary—he conveys the impression that he is interested in your physical welfare, that you are his guest, further that he is glad to do what you request, and that it isn't a bit of trouble for him. You believe him. Then you learn his name and write in a little book with the determination to send him a Christmas card next year. He is a regular "Greeter," a man who takes his work seriously; who believes that the hotel business is one of the most substantial in the world, and one of the most necessary; that it is as permanent as the rock of Gibraltar, and just as sound; that it is worthy of the closest study, and the most intense application, and demands the services of men who go into it for the purpose of making it their life's vocation.

"The Ohio Greeters held their convention in Springfield a short time ago.

"There we took steps toward making the society something more than social with meetings now and again for the interchange of helpful ideas. We decided to send out questionnaires to our members having to do with hotel management. We will go into the different departments, ask questions regarding systems; how receipts are figured, what percentage of this or that overhead is taken care of by definite returns; how economies can be practiced, service maintained, or rather improved and expenses cut down. This will necessitate no little investigation and study, arouse in our members a desire to learn the business thoroughly, in fact to look upon it as a permanent vocation. This practice, we hope, will be extended to other states, eventually becoming national and all with good results.

Sees Lower Prices.

"In my opinion the next five years will be testing ones. There is no doubt but that hotel prices must be, and will be, reduced. That will necessitate material reduction in the overhead. Prices now are commensurate with the cost, but the cost will have to undergo paring to bring about other sure to come changes. Hotels will not be the only institutions to be brought up with a sharp turn to face lowering prices. Virtually everything that is bought and sold is confronting the same condition. It behooves the men who are in the hotel business to study, investigate, and think while they are striving to readjust their affairs and our hope is to stimulate such work.

"Efficient hotel operators are demanded. Therefore the young men in the business who know how to cut costs by eliminating waste, doing away with unnecessary employes, buying with money-saving judgment, practicing rigid economy without lowering the standard of entertainment offered guests are desirable attaches, and the ones who will get liberal compensations. 'The Greeters' are in a position to do much to further scientific hotel management. Already department heads have in individual and unorganized ways accomplished much, but in solidarity there are almost unlimited possibilities."

BULL-DOG DRUMMOND
BY "SAPPER"
(CYRIL McNEILE)

But on this particular evening the detective proved wrong. They reached Maxim's without mishap, they enjoyed an excellent dinner, during which the American showed himself to be a born conversationalist, as well as a shrewd man of the world. And over the coffee and liqueurs Hugh gave him a brief outline of what had taken place since he first got mixed up in the affair. The American listened in silence, though amazement shone on his face as the story proceeded. The episode of the disappearing body especially seemed to tickle his fancy, but even over that he made no remark. Only when Hugh had finished, and early arrivals for supper were beginning to fill the restaurant, did he sum up the matter as he saw it.

"A tough proposition, Captain—damned tough. Potts is our biggest shipping man, but where he comes on the picture at that moment has me beat. As for the old girl's jewels, they don't seem to fit in at all. All we can do is to put our noses inside that ledger, and see the book of the words. It'll sure help some."

And as Hugh switched off the electric light in his bedroom, having first seen that his torch was ready to hand in case of emergency, he was thinking of the detective's words. Getting hold of the ledger was not going to be easy—far from it; but the excitement of the chase had fairly obsessed him by now. He lay in bed, turning over in his mind every possible and impossible scheme by which he could get into the secret centre room at The Elms. He knew the safe the ledger was kept in; but safes are awkward propositions for the ordinary mortal to tackle. Anyway, it wasn't a thing which could be done in a minute's visit; he would have to manage at least a quarter or half an hour's undisturbed search, the thought of which, with his knowledge of the habits of the household, almost made him laugh out loud. And, at that moment, a fly pinged past his head.

He felt singularly wideawake, and after a while, he gave up attempting to go to sleep. The new development which had come to light that evening was uppermost in his thoughts; and, as he lay there, covered only with a sheet, for the night was hot, the whole vile scheme unfolded itself before his imagination. The American was right in his main idea—of that he had no doubt; and in his mind's eye he saw the great crowds of idle, foolish men led by a few hot-headed visionaries and paid blackguards to their so-called Utopia. Starvation, misery, ruin, utter and complete, lurked in his mental picture: spectres disguised as great ideals, but grinning sardonically under their masks. And once again he seemed to hear the toc-toc of machine-guns, as he had heard them night after night during the years gone by. But this time they were mounted on the pavement of the towns of England, and the swish of the bullets, which had swept like swarms of cockchafers over No Man's Land, now whistled down the streets between rows of squalid houses. And once again a fly pinged past his head.

With a gesture of annoyance he waved his arm. It was hot—insufferably hot, and he was beginning to regret that he had followed the earnest advice of the American to sleep with his windows shut and bolted. What on earth could Peterson do to him in a room at the Ritz? But he had promised the detective, and there it was—curtains drawn, window bolted, door locked. Moreover, and he smiled grimly to himself as he remembered it, he had even gone so far as to emulate the hysterical maiden lady of fiction and peer under the bed.

The next moment the smile ceased abruptly, and he lay rigid, with every nerve alert. Something had moved in the room.

It had only been a tiny movement, more like the sudden creak of a piece of furniture than anything else—but it was not quite like it. A gentle, slithering sound had preceded the creak; the sound such as a man would make who, with infinite precaution against making a noise, was moving in a dark room; a stealthy, uncanny noise. Hugh peered into the blackness tensely. After the first moment of surprise his brain was quite cool. He had looked under the bed, he had hung his coat in the cupboard, and save for those two obvious places there was no cover for a cat. And yet, with the sort of sixth sense that four years of war had given him, he knew that noise had been made by some human agency. Human! The thought of the cobra at The Elms flashed into his mind, and his mouth set more grimly. What if Peterson had introduced some of his abominable menagerie into the room? Then, once more, the thing like a fly sounded loud in his ear. And was it his imagination, or had he heard a faint sibilant hiss just before?

Suddenly it struck him that he was at a terrible disadvantage. The thing, whatever it was, knew, at anyrate approximately, his position: he had not the slightest notion where it was. And a blind man boxing a man who could see, would have felt just about as safe. With Hugh, such a conclusion meant instant action. It might be dangerous on the floor: it most certainly was far more so in bed. He felt for his torch, and then, with one convulsive bound, he was standing by the door, with his hand on the electric-light switch.

Then he paused and listened intently. Not a sound could he hear; the thing, whatever it was, had become motionless at his sudden movement. For an appreciable time he stood there, his eyes searching the darkness—but even he could see nothing, and he cursed the American comprehensively under his breath. He would have given anything for even the faintest grey light, so that he could have some idea of what it was and where it was. Now he felt utterly helpless, while every moment he imagined some slimy, crawling brute touching his bare feet—

He pulled himself together sharply. Light was essential, and at once. But, if he switched it on, there would be a moment when the thing would see him before he could see the thing—and such moments are not helpful. There only remained his torch; and on the Ancre, on one occasion, he had saved his life by judicious use. The man behind one of those useful implements is in blackness far more impenetrable than the blackest night, for the man in front is dazzled. He can only shoot at the torch: wherefore hold it to one side and in front of you.

EXHIBITION RECEIPTS SHOW GREAT INCREASE SINCE 1918

President Denne's Report to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Association Expresses Progress in Terms of Dollars and Cents — Receipts Last Year $34,469 as Compared With $7,887 in 1917.

Money Spent on Grounds.

The surprising and highly gratifying progress of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition during the last four years was modestly set out by President Roland Denne in his annual report to the members of the Exhibition Association on Thursday afternoon.

In 1918 the first year of his presidency receipts of the Fair Board jumped from $7,887.06 to $16,853.64, and have continued to increase with each succeeding year, reaching the splendid total of $34,469.67 in 1921.

The accomplishment of President Denne and his Board of Directors may be also expressed by quoting from the auditor's report, the statement of the Board's present assets of more than $40,000 nearly all of which has been invested in the trim, and modern and capacious exhibition plant which the directors have built up, most of the extensions having been made since 1918.

Mr. Denne's report follows:

To the Members of the Fair Board:

As President of this Board for the past four years I think it is due the board that a report be made to show the progress which has been made during that time, as practically the same board is intact as when I took the chair.

In 1916 the receipts for the Fair Board were $7289.90.

In 1917 when we took charge we increased this amount to $7887.06.

In 1918 it was increased to $16,853.-64.

In 1919 it was increased to $24,-422.17.

In 1920 it was increased to $25,-226.18.

In 1921 it was increased to $34,-469.67.

I wish to thank the Directors, the Manufacturers, the Merchants and the whole community of Peterborough County and district for their co-operation in making this fair what it is today, and also the City and County Councils for both co-operation and financial assistance.

Might I add a few suggestions that would be well for the new board to consider.

Firstly:—We need to add two or more committees to those already appointed that of a Gates and Finance Committee, and a Racing Commitee. In the past we have had to call on the assistance of outsiders to manage our gates and also our races, which services were performed satisfactorily. For the betterment of the Fair I think this should be under the supervision of our Directors.

Secondly:—We are in need of a Caretaker's residence. Our plant has become so large that it requires some one living on the grounds to keep an eye on our property and save insurance.

We have a fair accommodation for everything but last year it was taxed to its full extent, and it will be for the incoming board to consider not in an extravagant way more accommodation for cattle, sheep, swine and poultry.

FOUND DAMAGE FOR H. JOHNSTON, HAVELOCK

HAVELOCK, Jan. 20.—The case of Howard Johnston vs. Dunsford of Peterboro lasted three hours and forty minutes in the Division Court here before Judge Huckye of Peterborough. Plaintiff claimed damages caused by a collision on Ontario street in October last, in which the plaintiff's buggy got the worst of the deal when the defendant's automobile collided with it. Johnston claimed in all the sum of $60.00 made up of repairs to buggy and harness, wages paid to his father because of inability to perform them himself owing to illness, and accounts from his wife for nursing her mother, who was hurt in the collision, and the physician's account for the same lady.

His Honor found for plaintiff with costs.

The claim for the doctor's account and for the nursing of the mother-in-law, Mrs. Merril, were only allowed by the consent of the defence, as otherwise Mrs. Merrill's only recourse was to sue Dunsford for the amounts. Mr. O'Brien represented the plaintiff and Mr. Kerr the defendant

WHY IS AN ARMADILLO?

TELEGRAPH AND CABLE NEWS

TO MEET CHURCHILL.

BELFAST, Jan. 20.— (Canadian Press.)—Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, left Belfast last night for London, where he will meet Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, to-morrow or Saturday to discuss outstanding questions concerning the Government of Northern Ireland.

WORK SHOP FOR BLIND.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press.)—It is probable that a work shop for the blind will be established by the Federal Government in Victoria, where those so afflicted may occupy their time in useful pursuits.

TO BACK ULSTER.

BELFAST, Jan. 20.— (Canadian Press.)—In view of the impending retirement of Field Marshal Sir Henry H. Wilson, chief of the Imperial General Staff allusions made to him yesterday at Lisburn and Belfast by Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, are considered significant.

At Lisburn, where Field Marshal Wilson unveiled a statue of Brig. General John Nicholson, who played a large part in the crushing of the Indian mutiny in 1857, Sir James said the Field Marshal was prepared to back Ulster in all difficulties. Later, at Queen's University, Sir James, in an address, said:

"If there ever is a turn he (Field Marshal Wilson) can do for his native heath, if ever we want him when Ulster is in difficulty, all this will bring us together, perhaps more closely than we have been brought before."

These references to Field Marshal Wilson caused a profound stir and were the subject of much comment.

THE POPE'S CONDITION.

ROME, Jan. 20.— (Canadian Press.)— The physicians in attendance upon Pope Benedict, Doctors Battistini and Bignini, after their evening visit, described the bronchial affection from which the Pope is suffering as taking the usual course. The temperature was slightly more than 100, a little higher than the morning temperature.

The feeling at the Vatican appears to be that the Pope's illness is not grave. Dr. Marchiafava, noted medical authority, has been in consultation with the other physicians. Notwithstanding the optimism there is no assurance that the attack has been checked. All that could be said at the Vatican was that the physicians hoped to prevent the spread of the disease and avoid complications.

LIQUOR STORES.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20.— (Canadian Press.)— Moderation League proposals for doing away with the present temperance legislation and setting up government liquor stores, at present before the Provincial Legislature, are held to be contrary to the provision of the Initiative and Referendum Act under which the appeal is being made. It was said by government members that the manner in which the petition was introduced in the House are contrary to this province. The petition, is is said, does not carry a copy of an act by which the government stores are to be realized, but what is termed commonly a blank act, or skeleton legislation, which merely sets forth the end desired.

"Defeat for the measure was forecast clearly by a canvas among members," states the Winnipeg Free Press.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

MONTREAL, Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press.)—Charged with the theft of approximately $80,000, J. A. Seguin and Mrs. McNamara yesterday appeared before Judge DeCarie in the Court of Special Sessions, to answer accusations of conspiracy in connection with the estate of the late Mrs. Robert Guenwald.

Both the accused were assigns under the will of the deceased, and the contention that they were bequeathed the money they are alleged to have stolen. The poeces of the estate, however, claim that they obtained $50,000 worth of victory bonds and other documents which make a total of $80,000.

After receiving evidence from many witnesses in all day session Judge Decaris acquitted both Mrs. McNamara and J. A. Seguin of the charge. His Lordship said that no proof whatever of conspiracy had been made. Both the parties were acquitted some months ago of kidnapping Mr. Gruenwald.

PROMINENT MAN DEAD.

KINGSTON, Ont., Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press.)—W. B. Dalton, senior member of the Wholesale Hardware store of W. B. Dalton and Sons passed away this morning aged seventy-eight.

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press.)— Ice formed on the decks of the ferry boats on San Francisco Bay yesterday, and sawdust had to be sprinkled for the first time in history to keep passengers from losing their footing, according to the ferry crews.

NEW TYPE WHEAT.

SASKATOON, January 20. Canadian Press. — Dr. Seager Wheeler, the wheat wizard of Rosthern, speaking here to-day, intimated that he is working on a new type of wheat free from rust affection

Dr. Wheeler gave an interesting account of how he creates new seed by hand rubbing and hand picking selected heads of grain ,

DRUG COMPANIES' RIGHTS

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 20.—Canadian Press.—It is my intention to await the result of the action taken in court in Edmonton Saturday morning and whatever the decision of that court may be, the government is prepared to stand by it, provided it is upon the legal points involved and not upon any techicalities that might exist," was the statement issued by Attorney General Brownlee here to-day when asked concerning his attitude on the legal battle for the rights of incorporated drug companies in the province to handle liquor.

POINCARE'S POLICY.

PARIS, January 20. Canadian Press. — The statement of policy of the Poincare Cabinet was read in the Senate to-day by M. Barthou, the Minister of Justice. The Senate particularly applauded the passage declaring that France could not be charged with Imperialism when she has paid a higher price than others for the peace she was now seeking to consolidate, and the reference to the inseparability of Belgium and France's intention to take necessary measures against Germany in case of non-payments of reparations.

There was likewise applause for the statement that the starting point from which the length of the Rhineland should be measured had not yet been fixed, as the Premier intimated, owing to Germany's bad faith.

RELEASE PRISONERS.

BOMBAY, Jan. 20. Canadian Press —At a meeting yesterday of the Working Committee of the All-Indian Congress, M. K. Gandhi, the leader of the Non-Cooperationists, presiding, a resolution postponing civil disobedience until January 21, was presented, pending the result of the conference now in progress of the leaders of all parties in India.

It has been agreed also that if the government is willing to release all political prisoners and withdraw the prohibitions against the volunteer corps and public meetings, all "hartals" and similar anti-government activities shall cease.

TIES UP SHIPPING.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. Canadian Press. — One of the thickest fogs ever observed by the local weather bureau officials, settled over New York yesterday, practically tying up shipping. More than twenty steamers due to arrive with passengers and cargo anchored outside of the harbor waiting for the fog to lift. Only five had entered Quarantine to-night and of these but two ventured the fog enshroudded channel leading to the docks. Among the ships detained was the big steamship Scythia which anchored in the lower harbor with more than 500 passengers on board.

The fog extended as far out to sea as Nantucket and along the coast from Portland, Maine, to the Virgin-

HOLD JAPAN RESPONSIBLE

FOR MALADMINISTRATION AT HOME AND ABROAD IS THE PLATFORM OF OPPOSITION PARTY TO GOVERNMENT.

TOKIO, Jan. 20. — (Canadian Press).—Japan's Government Party the Seiyu-Kai, must be held responsible for maladministration home and abroad, says the platform of the Kensei-Kai, or Opposition Party, formulated at a mass meeting yesterday preparatory to the resumption of the Diet next Saturday.

Among the announced policies of the Kensei-Kai are Co-operation with the Powers for maintaining peace, universal suffrage, regulation of prices so as to lighten the burdens of the people, limitation of armament, development of education, naval retrenchments and improvement of popular economic methods.

Viscount Kato, President of the Party, delivered a speech in which he expressed regret at the maintenance of Japanese troops in Siberia, by which he declared Japan had gained only the enmity of Russia and international suspicion. He saw no reason to decry the work of the Washington Conference, since he said the Kansei-Kai had first advocated the restriction of armaments But he deplored what he called disregard for the spirit of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

He expressed dissatisfaction with the United States' attitude concerning limitation of naval armaments. If the United States did not intend aggression, he declared, it was unnecessary to insist upon a ten-to-six ratio of capital ships instead of proposing a more positive plan of restriction. The four-power treaty, he thought was insignificant, beyond accomplishing the abrogation of the

DECKS READY FOR ACTION

Important Cabinet Business Before Fifteenth Parliament Opens — Premier King is Expected in Capital To-day

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 20.—(By Canadian Press).—With thirteen members of the King Cabinet returned by acclamation, the decks are cleared for action on parliament hill. Important business which must be dealt with before the doors open on the first session of the fifteenth parliament, awaits the attention of the new Ministry, and it seems likely that little time will be lost in tackling it. Though the Prime Minister is not one of the elect, it said that he will devote but little of the country's time to fighting the battle in North York. Parliament must meet, and the meeting cannot be too long delayed if Government departments are to be supplied with money. The fiscal year closes on March 31, and money votes put through at the last session of parliament must be renewed if the business of the country is to be carried on. When in opposition, Mr. King protested against the practice of voting a proportion of the total estimates for the purpose of carrying on while items were discussed in detail. It is likely, therefore, that he will bring in such a vote unless absolutely necesary, and that means that estimates must be introduced early in the session, and discussed item by item, all of which takes time.

The Prime Minister is expected in the capital to-morrow, after having paid a flying visit to his constituency. Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, is reported to be on his way to Ottawa after an unsuccessful search for a seat in his

THE PETERBOROUGH EXHIBITION.

The fact that the annual meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board yesterday was the largest and most enthusiastic in the history of the organization, shows that there is little danger of the growth of the annual fair being checked. There is no organisation in Peterborough that is such a combination of energy, vim, and enthusiasm as the Fair Board, the members of which throw themselves into the work with a determination and vigour that will not be denied. The result is shown in the transformation that has been achieved in the plant at the Exhibition Grounds and in the steadily mounting receipts, which have grown from $7,289.90 in 1916 to $34,469.67 last year. That the revenue should be increased five times in such a short period is undisputable proof that the reputation of the Peterborough Exhibition is each year growing more illustrious and that the confidence and interest of the public are constantly being developed. The re-election of President Roland Denne for his fifth successive term is a matter upon which both Mr. Denne and the association are to be congratulated; the former because of the proof it furnishes of the confidence and approval of the directors, and the latter because Mr. Denne's untiring efforts as President have been in a large measure responsible for the continuous progress achieved by the Exhibition. There is every reason to believe that this year's fair will set a new record for success.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF.

In connection with the administration of the emergency relief fund, it has been decided that no assistance shall be supplied to those families who have become domiciled in Peterborough since November 1st. With the object aimed at in this decision, no fault is to be found. It is a safeguard designed to prevent Peterborough from being flooded with workless men from outside points who might be tempted in hearing of the local relief fund to come here in the hope of sharing in the benefits of the assistance given. That protection, however, could have been furnished just as effectively if it had been provided that no help would be given to families who located in Peterborough after the first day on which the fund began to function. People who came here during the past couple of months and who, as a result of not being able to secure employment, are in need of assistance, are, as a result of the resolution passed the other night, not considered eligible to participate in the relief measures. What is to become of them? If they are in destitute circumstances, they cannot be allowed to starve because of red tape technicalities. Their numbers cannot be large enough to be a heavy drain in any case, and The Examiner cannot see much indication of Christian charity in slamming the door in their face. Others who come in after the distribution of the fund has begun are on a different footing. The warning has been given and they take their own chances if they chose to disregard the intimation that Peterborough does not promise to become a shelter for the unemployed of the surrounding district. But the November 1st dead-line appears to be rather drastic.

OUR CIVIC GOVERNMENT.

Dr. Horace L. Brittain delivered an address before the members of the town planning course at the University of Toronto early this week that will be endorsed by anybody who has given the matter of civic government any thought. Dr. Brittain declared that so many different commissions and departments were spending the taxpayers' money in Toronto that it was impossible to exercise any intelligent control or coordinated supervision over the expenditure. And the conditions he complains of in Toronto are nearly as bad in Peterborough and other cities. Our whole system of municipal government is clumsy, unbusinesslike and inefficient. No private business managed on such lines could hope to remain solvent very long. There are too many committees and commissions, and in the case of the former, as Dr. Brittain pointed out, men are too often appointed chairman not because they are efficient, but because they are good negotiators or good fellows. We are, however, conservative about such things in Canada; we cling to the old methods not because they produce the best results, but because we have always had them and we are too indifferent or too lazy to look about for a better policy. And our tax rates continue to increase and we complain of inefficiency and extravagance, turn out old aldermen and elect new ones, always hoping for better luck each year and rarely getting it, for the simple reason that the system upon which we are working has long outlived its usefulness. Dr. Brittain is one of those who has long been turning the spotlight upon the pitiful inadequacy of our policy of municipal administration, but he has not yet succeeded in arousing sufficient interest to cause a demand for an improvement.

THE STUFF THEY CALL WHISKEY.

A young policeman—a man who had won a Carnegie medal for bravery, a man who had a good record on the force, a man of family—drew his pay on Monday and drank some of the stuff they sell as whiskey in the New York speakeasies. Sometimes this stuff blinds those who drink it; sometimes it kills them; sometmeis it drives them mad.

It drove the young policeman mad. He commandeered a cab and so scared the driver by firing his pistol that the driver jumped out and ran away. The policeman left the wrecked cab and fled to the house-tops. He smashed a skylight and rampaged in the hallways. The householders called a patrolman from the street. The crazed policeman met him on the stairs and aimed his pistol at him, but it missed fire. The sober policeman's petol did not miss fire and the bullet went through the drunken one's heart.

Hooch did it—the dyed liquid that the bartender in the blind tiger puts out on the bar in a bottle with a counterfeit label and tells his customers is "real prewar goods."—New York Herald.

RIVERSIDE PARK AGAIN.

Because The Examiner has suggested that the means of collecting a gate at Riverside Park should be maintained in the interest of amateur sport, Mr. George Leader accuses us of a change of front in regard to this property. At the time the by-law authorizing the purchase of Riverside Park was before the people, The Examiner, he says, endorsed the proposition that the land be secured for park purposes. He is quite right—we did take that position—but we cannot see any reason why the park could not be made to serve both purposes. It could be available to the public during the hours when it is not required for games, just as Alexandra Park in Oshawa is used. But if it comes to a question of providing one more park for Peterborough or sacrificing the only grounds that offers facilities for the carrying on of the summer and autumn sports in which so many people are interested, then The Examiner believes that an enclosed athletic ground is of more value to the community than a park. As for carrying on sports for gain, Mr. Leader is evidently not well acquainted with the aims and objects of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association. The revenues obtained from the various games conducted by that body are to be used in providing more recreation for the people of Peterborough. The results of such work are already to be seen in the School and Junior Hockey Leagues, which are furnishing healthful sport for hundreds of Peterborough youngsters.

GETTING AFTER THE HAND-BOOKS.

The Windsor police force has been creating a mild ripple of excitement within the last few weeks by its campaign against "book-making." Several raids have been staged and fines imposed by the magistrate. Chief Thompson seems determined to put an end to this sort of sporting enterprise so far as Windsor is concerned. In so doing he is but following the lead of the authorities in various cities. In Detroit, for instance, countless raids have been staged of late and dozens of men arrested for taking or making bets in an illegal way. In Toronto the police have been similarly active. In short, there appears to be a concerted effort to eliminate this form of gambling.

There is nothing particularly complicated about book-making to those initiated in the mysteries of the business. Races are in progress somewhere at almost every season of the year. Largely the same horses are in use from day to day, shipped from one track to another. Animals that raced at the local ovals last summer may now be running in the southern states or in Mexico. This means that the names of most of them are familiar to racegoers here and everywhere. Their performances, as recorded by the racing sheets published for that purpose, are closely watched and almost as keen an interest is taken when bets are made with hand-book conductors as when the bettor actually sees the animals perform at the tracks. In the hand-books, however, the "investor" is not provided with an opportunity to make as much money as at the track, owing to certain fixed limits. These limits, of course, are known to the bettors so there is nothing unfair about the practice.

Many persons who are keenly interested in racing and have no objection to placing bets under legal conditions at the tracks, are opposed to hand-books. They feel that the operation of the latter is likely to bring the whole racing game into disrepute because it keeps up the whole year round an interest that, in their opinion, should be confined to a few short weeks during the summer.

Employers have complained that their employes are interested in betting twelve months of the year to the detriment of their work. Time is spent in studying the "form" that might be spent to better advantage. In addition, there is the old complaint that a great many men are betting and losing money that they cannot afford to lose and sometimes even while their dependents suffer. In some places, complaints to the police say, juveniles have been allowed to place wagers. This is anything but a desirable condition of affairs.

The operating of hand-books is an old, old story. The system has been used for years. As far as Windsor is concerned, most complaints appear to have originated from the fact that too many persons have decided to enter the business. With a few "quiet" books in operation, little or nothing was heard of the game. But of late, reports say, the number of book-makers has increased so rapidly that the thing has become serious.

The instinct to gamble in some form seems to be inherent in most of us. If it is not one thing, it is another. Many men who would not think of placing a bet on a horse race have not the slightest hesitation in gambling for big stakes on the stock market—only they do not call that gambling. This is only one of a hundred different forms. Prizes for card games, lucky drawing contests, etc., are all gambling. They vary only in form. The principle is the same. As far as the hand-books are concerned, the plain fact remains that they are illegal. If a majority of the people believe that the books should be allowed to remain in operation, the thing to do is to change the law that now prohibits them. On the other hand, if most persons believe that they should not be allowed to operate, the law deserves to be strictly enforced. The ignoring of this or any other piece of legislation is not conducive to the promotion of general respect for law and order. A thing is either legal or illegal. If the latter it should be stopped.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Prosperity is just around the corner.

That Windsor barber who declares he is only making $3 a week is evidently merely scraping a living.

Evelyn Nesbitt can still get her name on the front page. A lot of movie stars would like to know how she does it.

The public generally were glad to read of the successful year enjoyed by the Y.M.C.A. It is a community institution in which all should be interested.

Mr. Tooms, M.L.A., does not seem to see eye to eye with some of his Labour colleagues in regard to Hydro matters.

A lot of men have been busy figuring how much twenty-four quarts of liquor a year would cost.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE PARK QUESTION

To the Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir:—I do not understand the change of view point of the Examiner re the Riverside Park Question for if I remember aright, it spoke of the Park at the time of the by law as a necessity for East Peterboro and now we apparently have enough parks, without this one but it is imperative that it be held closed in the interest of professional sport.

I was at the meeting called in the council chamber to discuss this question, ex-Mayor Duncan, then Mayor was in the chair and the desirability of purchasing the park with its possibilities was a reiterated by the different speakers that I felt as if I had by inadvertence strolled into a spring or fall millinery opening and that it was a dream of a hat or a duck of a bonnet we were discussing purchasing and so to make the illusion more complete not one speaker mentioned the word afford. Why sir I remember one of the speakers drawing such a picture of this park to be, with its green sward sloping gently down to the river bank, where under the shade of beautiful trees happy bathers were disporting themselves in the lovely bathing places which had been made by driving piles into the bed of the river out from the bank, and making the bottom soft and safe by a thick coating of sand drawn there for the purpose. Of the beautiful Otonabee flowing lazily by bearing on its bosom many Peterboro canoes occupied by happy lovers on their way to the beautiful islands on which picturesque kiosks had been erected and in which neat maidens dispensed ice cream and other cooling dainties, the islands I remember were to be connected by rustic bridges which also would connect the main land. As I listened to all this sir it brought to my mind that immortal poem by Mrs. Heman

'I hear thee speak of a happy land,
Thou callest its children a happy band
Mother, Oh where is that radiant shore
Shall we not seek it and weep no more
It is where the flower of the orange flies
Or dates grow ripe under sunny skies
Or midst the green island of glittering seas
Not there, not there, my child."

And I thought I should find that happy land a soon as the City Council had time to finish the beautiful bridge they were then engaged on and were free to devote their time and energies to make this picture a fact.

The bylaw carried to purchase the place known as Riverside Park with the property adjoining on the north side for a public park and I do not see that it is within the right or provence of the city council to put the park purchased with the proceeds of that bylaw to any other use or purpose except it be for a limited period wing perhaps to the undesirability of spending money at the present temeemeemeeemmmmmmm repsent time to put it into shape for a park. And if it is leased a rent commensurate with the value of the property so leased should be charged I hold that while it is the duty of spaces for its citizens it is no part of its duty but is derogatory to it to bolster up any entertainment or sport etc., which is only run for gain and which only appeals to a portion of the population. It is a wrong political priniciple to tax the whole people for the benefit of a section however worthy.

I do not believe the bylaw would have carried for the purpose now put forward.

Juvenile Banquet

The banquet in the interests of 'teen age boys and girls, and also of Sunday School workers, which was held in Grace Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, proved a most enjoyable and successful event. About fifty guests sat down to the nicely decorated and well-[illegible] tables. The pastor, Rev. G. S. "The Teen Age Girls", was given by Foster Russel and the reply made by Miss Loretta Barnard.

Mr. A. M. Mr. Ferris congratulated the young people on the excellent manner in which the various speakers had proposed and replied to, their respective toasts. There will doubtless be some splendtd results accruing from the advice and information given by Mr. Ferris during his visit to Millbrook as he is an able speaker and well versed in the work of his department.

The dance held in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the L.O.L. No. 79, was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of guests who were in attendance. Thorndyke gave the treasurer's report which was very gratfying. Dr. A. Jemison and the pastor gave the report of the session and Mr. Gervan also gave the necessary information regarding the Sunday School in the unavoidable absence of the superintendent, Mr. L. C. Russell. Miss Edith Deyell gave an excellent account of the C.G.I.T. work being done, and Mr. Gervan explained that the C.S.E.T. organization was also well under way.

Mr. Chas. Thorndyke was re-elected treasurer and Dr. A. Jemison congregational secretary; Messrs. R. J. Doak, T. A. Kelly, J. Lancashire, J. H. McKnight and W. S. Thorne were elected to the Board of Managers.

Convalescence
Requires Wincarnis

In a state of convalescence, while the crisis is over, the danger of relapse may not be over. It is then that strength and vitality should be restored as quickly as possible.

Fresh air, sleep and such nutritious articles of food as can be easily digested are required to restore the lost vitality and repair the wasted tissues. But as the system is too weak to absorb the mineral elements that compose the body—it is here that WINCARNIS is so wonderful. For it contains Iron and Manganese for enriching the blood; Phosphorus for Brain and Nerves; Calcium, Sodium and Potassium—Phosphates essential for Bone and Tissue-Building—in a form that promotes their ready absorption into the system.

Everyone recovering from illness should take WINCARNIS. If you would quickly restore rosy cheeks and the glow of health to friends or loved ones who have been ill, take them a bottle of WINCARNIS.

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold however slight. If you do it can have but one result: it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat ,and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree along with the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, roots and barks, promptly eradicates the bad effects, and the persistent use cannot but help to bring about relief.

Mr. Albert Marsh, Lower L'Ardoise, N. S., writes: "About a year ago I contracted a cold accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor but what he prescribed did me so little good I became discouraged. A friend came to see me and asked me if I had ever used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him away to get me a bottle. I started using it, and after a couple of days I found that I was getting relief, and after taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I resolved to continue its use, and after I had used five bottles both my sore throat and the cough were gone. I would not be without "Dr. Wood's" for any money."

HOLD JAPAN RESPONSIBLE

Anglo-Japanese Alliance, but the speaker found merit in the declarations in favor of peace on the part of the strong powers.

He ascribed the failure of the Shantung negotiations to impatience and indiscretion on the part of the Japanese authorities, who, he said, had shown unnecessary haste in the restitution of the Province to China. He said general military reorganization was necessary, in line with the proposed naval limitations.

Gazing at her mother, who was dressed for the ball in a very decollete gown, the little girl remarked: "I s'pose the ladies and gentlemen dance in separate rooms, don't they, mama?"

Anaemia

Thin, watery blood is no more nourishing than thin, watery milk—skim milk.

But you can soon enrich thin blood, overcome the anaemic condition and build up the whole system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. F. G. Simmons, 42 Curtis St., Brantford, Ont., writes:

"For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, seemed restless and easily worried or irritated. There was a buzzing sound in my ears. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I often was attacked by weak spells. I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, but as I did not get any better I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after the first box I felt brighter and my headaches completely disappeared. I continued using the Nerve Food for quite a while. I am quite well now, and cheerfully and gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to people suffering as I did before I used this splendid medicine."

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GREY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger.

HAPPY NIGHT WITH FARM YOUNG FOLK

to hold the Winter Short Course in Agriculture in Peterborough this year. It will be held in the U.F.O Rooms, Simcoe Street, Peterborough, every weekday from 23rd January till 17th February, exclusive of Saturdays—the classes assembling at 10 a.m., and being dismissed at 4 p.m. The course is free of charge and open to all young farmers, and Mr. McRae and Mr. G. H. Thompson, of Stanleyville (an O.A.C. graduate) ,are sparing nothing to make this course a success from an educational standpoint, and it is up to the young men around Peterborough to do their part by attending.

Special speakers for this course include Dr. F. G. Hutton, a well-known veterinary surgeon of Welland County, who will be present on the 13th of February; Mr. R. H. Harding and Mr. J. Guardhouse, well-known live stock men, who will be here on 6th and 7th February and 31st January and 1st February, as well as several members of the staff of the O.A.C., Guelph.

Convention in Peterborough.

East Peterborough County United Farm Young People are holding a convention in Peterborough on Saturday, 21st January, the morning session commencing at 9.30 sharp. The delegates appointed from the Peterborough Club are as follow: Miss Alberta Fowler, Messrs. V. S. Milburn, R. Wood, and S. McKee, G. Whitfield, and the club leaders, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shields.

It was with much regret that the Young People accepted the resignation of Mr. V. S. Milburn as president. He has been most faithful and untiring in his efforts to further the work of the club. But since he has accepted the office of the local branch of the U.F.O., he felt that the responsibility of both offices was too much for him, and so asked to be relieved of the duties of the presidency of the Young People's Club, though he will still remain an active member.

Mr. George Whitfield, of Monaghan, was elected to succeed him.

Splendid Debate.

Then followed a splendid debate: "Resolved, That Agriculture Has Been of Greater Benefit to Canada Than Has Manufacturing." Messrs. Stanley Cann and William Steinkraus ably upheld the affirmative, while Messrs. Rae Wood and Harry McKee defended the negative. All four debaters were well prepared with figures, facts, and quotations to prove their points. The judgs, Mr. A. T. Brown, B.S.A., Mr. W. R. Shields, and Mr. G. Hancock brought in a decision in favour of the affirmative

Mr. Archie Bulmer gave a very instructive and much appreciated paper on "Municipal Government," his humorous remarks on the women and the municipal franchise bringing forth many broad smiles.

Quite Impromptu.

After this came what was perhaps the most entertaining feature of the evening, an impromptu debate: "Resolved, That a Life of Single Blessedness is Preferable to a Life of Married Bliss." Nearly every one present were lined up on either side under the two captains, and debated with right good will and merriment. The score was 18 to 21 in favour of the negative.

For Next Meeting.

The following programme was arranged for the next meeting, which will be held in the U.F.O. Rooms on Tuesday evening, 7th February, at 8.

Debate: "Resolved, That the Protective Tariff Enables the Farmer to Secure Better Prices for His Farm Produce," with Messrs. Clifford Prophet and Fred Steinkraus on the affirmative and Mr. Gordon Hancock and Miss Pearl H. Petrie on the negative.

Mouth organ selection—Mr. Arthur Simpson.

Impromptu debate, dealing with the delicate subject of "Proposing," the actual topic to be announced at the next meeting.

Game—"The Mystery," in charge of Mr. Cecil Wood.

"God Save the King."

How Her Red Head Made Her A Prima-Donna

How Mary Garden Finally Gave a Hearing to the Statuesque French Beauty With the Flaming Red Hair Who Pursued Her Everywhere for Weeks, and How Jeanne Schneider's Ambitions Will at Last Be Realized

© MISHKIN

Mary Garden, the talented director of the Chicago Opera Company. After hearing Jeanne Schneider's sweet and well-trained mezzo soprano she promptly engaged the young French woman at a salary of $200 a week

Right, Jeanne Schneider, the statuesque Parisienne with the vivid red hair, who shadowed Mary Garden for weeks so persistently that she finally won a hearing for her voice

Beautiful Lina Cavalieri, who has been forgiven by Mary Garden, and will be heard in grand opera again this season after a silence of many years. She will sing the leading role in a number of operas in which Jeanne Schneider will have an important part

Dorothy Jardon, who left the Chicago Opera Company in disgust. Doubtless she could give Mlle. Schneider some valuable pointers concerning the petty jealousies which make the career of a grand opera singer so difficult

SAMSON, according to the Biblical story, derived his prodigious strength from his long and thick hair and was able to perform feats of strength rivaled only by the mythical labors of Hercules. He rent his enemies "hip and thigh," smote them with the jawbone of an ass until they, learning the secret of his strength, shaved his head, rendered him impotent and put him at menial labor. It was not until his hair grew in again that his strength returned and enabled him to pull down the pillars of the temple, bringing death not only to himself, but to more people than he had ever killed during his lifetime.

Now, in the circles of grand opera, far removed from mythology and Biblical times, we have a modern and female counterpart of the strong Samson—a counterpart not in the matter of strength, but of hair. The secret of Samson's strength lay in his hair. The secret of his counterpart's success lies in her hair. For it was through her hair that she was able to win her voice a chance. Without her hair she, too, would have been impotent—would probably never have had a trial—but with it she won her trial and will appear as a prima donna before American opera audiences this winter to win their approval or disapproval.

Her name is Jeanne Schneider. She is French, thirty years old, a stunning statuesque beauty gifted with a charming soprano voice. Practically unknown in France, refused a chance with the Paris Opera, she was finally engaged by Mary Garden, the capable director of the Chicago Opera Company, and is coming to America to sing.

And it was her hair that gave her a chance. Not the thickness of her tresses—though thick they are. Not the length of her locks, although they are long and not bobbed like those of her sponsor's. Nor yet an attractive curl nor an alluring fluff. It was the color—a red of such brilliant hue that all who behold her speak of her as Jeanne of the flaming head. When nature provided the pigment of her hair she did not act in any halfway measure. She did a thorough job. With the result that there is no chance of calling her hair Titian, rusty, bronze, auburn or golden. There are no two ways about it. It is red—flaming red. And nature also endowed her with the attributes which are characteristic of red-headed individuals—persistency and the will to do. She also endowed her with a voice. And America is going to hear her.

Under Mary Garden's wing she will appear as a prima donna in the most popular operas together with Lina Cavalieri, who has patched up her differences with the temperamental director, and will even appear in "Thais," Miss Garden's favorite role which she has so long regarded as her very own.

Will she win the approbation she so seemingly deserves? Will the path be strewn with roses, or will it be tortuous and rocky with the petty troubles which have so long marred life behind the scenes of opera? Will her red hair be a cause for jealousy and will she go back to France disillusioned? Will she leave the ranks of the company in disgust, as Dorothy Jardon did, because of the petty jealousies?

From early childhood Mlle. Schneider has been singing. During her schooldays in Nancy, where she lived with her parents, she was always singing children's songs in her shrill soprano voice. No one paid her marked attention. It was her vivacity, they said. Such spirits went with her hair. It was not until she had grown up and her voice had developed that the music lovers of miniature Paris, at the French call Nancy, began to notice her voice.

Mlle. Jeanne has a real voice, they told her parents. Her parents were glad and encouraged her to sing. They sent her to the best teachers in Nancy—that is, the best they could afford, for the coffers of the Schneider family were not overly full. When the local teachers had taught her all they could they urged the parents to send her to Paris, where the really great masters of the voice taught. But this was impossible. It costs a great deal more to live and study in Paris than it does in Nancy and mere and pere Schneider, with their small epiceric could not afford it.

But Mlle. Jeanne's heart was now set on going. She was convinced that she had a voice and that success would be hers if only she had the opportunity. And when a "red head" makes up her mind, be she French, American or Irish, it is hard to dissuade her. So after two years of teaching and entertaining she accumulated enough money to make the trip and to study under the great teachers. But she soon found that the prices the great teachers demanded were far more than she could afford and she had to be contented with frequenting the opera, studying under teachers who were not the best and picking up what little money she could by singing.

It was hard, discouraging work, but Mlle. Jeanne stuck to it and refused to be disheartened. Whenever she could spare the money, which was not very often, she purchased standing room at the opera and worshiped from afar those who were occupying the places she yearned for.

There came a time, however, when engagements became scarce and no money was forthcoming. The parents back in Nancy were unable to advance any funds.

Then she read in the Paris papers that Mary Garden, the wonderful American singer, was coming to Paris to give auditions to European singers and to sign them up for the Chicago Opera Company, of which she was the directoire generale. She determined to make the famous Miss Garden give her a trial.

So she took new heart and applied herself to her studies harder than ever. She made friends with a poor teacher in the Montmartre section of Paris, where she was living. The teacher heard her voice and joined with her in the belief that it would some day be recognized. He shared his frugal meals with her, showed her where she could earn enough by singing to allow her to live—and taught her all he knew. He urged her to make application for a trial with the Paris Opera so that she would have some standing when Miss Garden arrived. But the application was rejected and there was nothing to do but hope.

Then Miss Garden arrived, but she was so busy with the stars of the opera that there was no time for such an unknown as Mlle. Schneider. But mademoiselle was not disheartened. Whenever she went to Miss Garden's hotel she was told by her secretary that Miss Garden was occupied. Some other time, perhaps. She even saw the famous woman herself as she passed in the hallway. Again and again she was refused. On several occasions she caught glimpses of the woman she wanted so much to speak with. But apparently the great Miss Garden did not notice her. Any one else might have been discouraged and have given up the attempt to secure an audition, but Mlle. Jeanne had red hair and she had the voice, and the hair was determined that the voice should be heard and recognized. So she embarked upon a campaign. Wherever Miss Garden went, Mlle. Schneider followed her. It was a case of "Everywhere that Mary went" she too was sure to go.

When Miss Garden went to the opera, so did Mlle. Schneider. One occupied a box. The other bought standing room. But the other always made it a point for the one (and only—in her eyes) to see her. And Miss Garden could not help seeing her. Even Mercury's helmet of invisibility would have found it difficult to hide that flaming shock of hair which covered the ambitious girl's head.

At length Miss Garden asked her secretary who her red-headed shadow was. "Wherever I go I see that red head illuminating the landscape. Who is she? What does she want? Why does she follow me?" The secretary told her who she was and that she wanted a trial for her voice.

The secretary was told to grant her an interview. Such persistency should not go unrewarded, she said. And that is how it came about that Mlle. Jeanne realized her first ambition, a hearing by the great American director. She was given an interview and a hearing, and Miss Garden marveled at the quality and range of her voice. And she did what Jeanne had hoped and prayed—she engaged her at $200 a week to sing with the Chicago Opera Company this winter.

But it was not only her voice that won her her place with the opera company. If she hadn't possessed the voice, of course, her hair wouldn't have mattered. But it was her hair and her persistence that procured her her opportunity.

ADDITION TO HOSPITAL IS NEARING COMPLETION.

Splendid Site Will Be a Feature of Completed St. Joseph's Building.

The addition to St. Joseph's Hospital is rapidly nearing completion and gives promise of being one of the finest hospital buildings in a city of this size anywhere in the Dominion.

One of the most admirable features of the completed building will be its splendid site. From almost any point in the city approaching from east, west, nort, south, there is obtainable a fine view of the hospital across the river. Coming down Hunter street, standing on the bridge, driving in from Ennismore or from the Empress Hotel, one can see the long line of red brick building with its many windows.

The rough preliminary work is practically completed. Thousands of feet of metal conduits have been laid for the elaborate system of electric lightning and the six miles of bell-wire to be used; the two boilers and the mains for the forced hot-water heating system are already installed; and the complete equipment of modern plumbing fixtures is already in place.

Except for the hanging of the doors, the carpenter work is practically completed; the plasterers began work on Tuesday morning, and a bevy of Italian artists are busy with the terrazzo flooring in the operating theatres and the borders in all the corridors. Painters and glaziers have done considerable work, and frames for the fire-proof doors in the elevator shafts, stair hallway and main wall between the new and old buildings are in place, as well as the fire protection standards. Scores of barrels of asphalt are awaiting the formation of a base for the noiseless patent flooring which is being used throughout the building.

KEEPS SHOES BLACKENED.

Try this method of caring for your shoes without blackening them: Carry one of those handy little lambswool shoe dusters in your shopping bag and keep your boots always free from dust. Every day use a stiff brush on the soles and the groove between sole and shoe, black and polish heels and edge of the sole, then treat the rest to a bath with a sponge lightly moistened in milk. The boots take a dull polish, never crack, and keep their softness to a good old age.

DIARY OF A HARD BOILED MOTORIST ANXIOUS TO HAVE HIS CAR TAKEN

MONDAY: Must get rid of the 'bus. Tried to see what dealer would give me for car. I paid $2,000 for it. He offered me $850. Can see no way out except to try to have car stolen and collect insurance. I don't mean to deliberately employ anyone to steal it. My idea is just to leave it carelessly about town in the hope some of these thieves I read about may take it. Hundreds of autos are being stolen daily. Why not mine?

TUESDAY: Have just read in morning papers that sixty-seven cars were stolen last week from central streets. Have decided to leave mine in same locality all day to-day.

10.30: Have just left car in spot where fourteen were stolen within past forty-eight hours.

3.00 P.M.: Came back to see if anybody had stolen it. Found car still there. Will leave it rest of day.

6.30: Came back again. Car still there. Will try again to-morrow. The thieves are evidently becoming cautious.

* * * *

WEDNESDAY: Will leave car in same locality to-day Have polished it all up so it looks very attractive

10.15: Left car parked in crowded section where thieves can easily operate without arousing suspicion. Feel that it will surely be taken to-day.

Noon: Came back and was surprised to find car O.K.

4.00 P. M.: Took another look. Car still where I left it.

6.30: Car still untouched. I can't understand it. It is a good-looking car and of a popular make.

* * * *

THURSDAY: Morning paper says five cars were stolen on the west side near the park yesterday. Will leave my car in that region to-day. Had all the brass polished last night. It really looks like the sort of car to attract a thief. If somebody doesn't steal it soon I'll be ruined.

9.45: Left car. Have made up mind not to return to it until late to-night.

7.00 P.M.: Told the wife how I left the car: We discussed what we might do with insurance money. Decided to put it into a new home.

11.15: Went down to spot where I left the car. Found it still there. DAMN IT!

* * * *

FRIDAY: Papers saw forty-three cars were stolen from business district yesterday. Will try new spot to-day.

10.00 A.M.: Left car in new spot. Four suspicious looking men watched me leave it. I let them see me leave car without locking it. Hope they will take it. Decided to spend day watching. Come back after an hour. Car still there. Saw policeman surrounded by a crowd across street. Learned an auto left there had been stolen. Moved my car across street.

3.30 P.M.: Car still there.

6.30 P.M.: Car still there.

10.30: Car still there. Will leave it out all night.

ARE YOU A MOTHER?

Mrs. Dalton tells of a Well-known Doctor's Prescription that is safe for Young Mothers to take as a Tonic and Nervine because it contains no harmful ingredient.

London, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription saved my life years ago and for that reason I am most enthusiastic in my recommendation of it to women who are ailing and weak. I was taken with the measles when in an expectant condition; then blood poisoning set in and my family became greatly alarmed. The doctor advised them to give me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I took several bottles of it and was restored to absolutely perfect health. I later took Favorite Prescription as a tonic and nervine and received great benefit from it. As a woman's medicine it is unequalled."—Mrs. Jennie Dalton, 767 York St.

EXPLANING THE EINSTEIN THEORY

Recent researches along Broadway as to "relativity" have developed the following proofs:—

Wink your eye. Wink goes, but eye remains.

Snap your fingers. Snap goes. Your fingers smart.

Close your hand. You have a fist. Open it. Fist gone.

Blow your breath—but generally there is some left, even in these days of prohibition and spring onions.

Sit down. You form a lap. Stand up, lap disappears.

Listen and you generally hear New Yorker talking over a 'phone.

Make a noise. The sound travels The noise-maker remains, and is generally characterized by law as a nuisance.

Look and you see something. Close your eyes and all becomes dark.

Blow out a light and it's gone. Where? Ah! That's it.—John O'-London Weekly.

UNEMPLOYMENT NOT MORE ACUTE TODAY

Is the Opinion of Government Official at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 20.—According to Lorne Green, head of the Government Employment Bureau, of this city, unemployment in Canada is no more acute today than the same time last year. He thus expressed himself before the Trades and Labour Council, and cited instances where the labor situation is improving, especially in Montreal and Oshawa; and he was quite hopeful of work generally opening up in the spring.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

POLICE BELIEVE POISON WAS SENT TO KILL MRS. BUCHANAN

Doctors Unanimous That "Beauty Powder" Contained Strychnine—Was Addressed to Mother of Dead Law Student.

Father Engages Detectives

TORONTO, Jan. 19.—That Anderson Buchanan is dead by misadventure because someone was seeking to poison his mother, is the only theory which would account for the tragedy.

Medical men are unanimous in their belief that Buchanan died of strychnine poisoning, and STRYCHNINE IS NOT AN INGREDIENT OF ANY BEAUTY POWDER.

The police are now satisfied that the death package was sent with one idea—to kill the person ti whom it was sent.

That person was Mrs. Buchanan. "It was a woman's mind that conceived the idea of sending poison in such a way by mail," said a well-known detective official today. "But what the motive could have been—I don't know. That will have to be found."

Clue Destroyed

When the packet containing the mystery powder was thrown into the fire by Mrs. Buchanan some vital evidence in the case was destroyed.

Something more about this packet and its arrival at the house was told today by 13-year-old Marjorie, only surviving child in the family. It was left inside the door supposedly by the postman, in the afternoon. But no one in the house saw the postman passing, and no other mail was delivered at the time. The packet was picked up off the floor by Mrs. Coatsworth, the lady of the house and by her put on the letter rack in the evening. Marjorie and her brother, Anderson, saw the packet, addressed to their mother; they humorously took hold of it together one at each corner, pretending it was very heavy, and in that manner laughingly carried it in to her.

Bulky White Envelope

As Marjorie describes it, the packet was simply a bulky white envelope addressed to Mrs. Buchanan in somewhat faint typewriting, and bearing no printed matter on the outside. Inside was another blank envelope containing the powder. This was wrapped in a typewritten instruction sheet. Marjorie, looking over her mother's shoulder, thought she could distinguish a printed heading; she distinctly remembers a large "A." She is positive that if she saw another circular or letter head from the same firm—and she is under the impression that the heading was Armand Bros.—she could distinguish or indentify it.

Regarded A Murder

Unofficially at Police Headquarters the tragedy is referred to as the "Beauty Powder Murder."

In the first place, though detectives have combed the east end, there has been nothing heard of a similar package being delivered.

In the second place, the instructions with the powder were typewritten—on plain paper without any letterhead paper.

Thirdly, Mrs. Buchanan's address was known to few. She did not occupy but two rooms in the house—was not listed in the directory—did not have a phone where her name could have been obtained.

Fourthly, no member of the family has answered any advertisement for any powder.

Again, no member of any drug firm could be found in the city who had ever heard of the Armand Freres Co. One man in the business told the police that in the 40 years' experience, he had never heard of such a preparation or manufacturer.

The police admit themselves baffled so far. Detectives Winters and Clarke worked until midnight, with assistance from headquarters. This morning Sergeant of Detectives Bart Cronin was assigned to the case with other assistants.

Fixing the time of the arrival of the "beauty" powder is the first step towards the solution of the mystery.

Buchanan's friends are already at work on the case, and the young man was well known in east end affairs as well as in down town legal circles. It is claimed that once certain of the date that the powder reached the Riverdale address, the detectives have a clue to follow which may lead to the sender.

With his mother and his sister Anderson Buchanan had been living at 228 Riverdale avenue but four weeks.

Previous to a residence at the Beaches Mrs. Buchanan had spent some time near Beamsville and for the best part of two years had been specially engaged in nursing work.

The victim was well known in the district. His membership of the Riverdale Athletic Club and his connection with boy endeavors in the east end for several years had made him a prime favorite wherever he went. He had not an enemy in the world. The mother, however, was separated from her husband, James Buchanan, who lives at No. 2 Playter boulevard.

The post-mortem on the remains was made by Dr. Robertson, of Toronto General Hospital and at the request of Coroner McConnell, who opened the inquest last night, analysis will be made of the contents of the stomach and spinal cord. Until this is made there can be no definite conclusions as to what poison the package of powder contained. The inquest was adjourned until the 24th inst.

Funeral From Father's

Mr. Buchanan was at home when his daughter apprised him of the tragedy. He rushed to the side of the dying son, but arrived a few moments late. With his wife he remained during the day and late last night gave instructions that the funeral of his son would take place from his residence on Saturday.

Mr. Buchanan said that he had already placed a private detective agency on the case.

"Whoever sent that powder to my wife will account to me," he declared last night. "If I ever find out who did, God help them."

Mr. Buchanan felt the terrible happening. He told of the disagreement he has had with his wife and of a trifling dispute with his son, "but he never did anything to me not even as bad as I did to my own father."

A Brilliant Scholar

"He was a very bright student," continued Mr. Buchanan. "I gave him a special course at the R.M.C. at Kingston where he succeeded in doing in a few weeks a couple of years' work and making high marks in the various subjects. I engaged two tutors while I was at Camp Borden where I took a special officer's training course."

Asked as to the "beauty" powder Mr. Buchanan said: "I can give you no information whatever. I know nothing more than the newspapers and what they told me at the house today. I cannot explain anything, but there is not a bit of a clue left to work on. Everything in the package containing the powder has gone."

"I have just come from the inquest, and have had a long talk with my wife. The funeral will be held here on Saturday, for my wife wishes it, and it is a time when the past is not considered."

"I had a disagreement with the boy, but that is all over now, and I am still the guardian of 'Baby Joe.' I had rented the house, and the people were to have moved in today, but I changed that, and we will be here for the present."

From other sources it was learned that the martial troubles of the Buchanans had been spread over a number of years, and had resulted in a court case some years ago, when Mrs. Buchanan was granted permanent alimony of $25 a week. The treatment of the case at the time was thought to have been favorable to Mrs. Buchanan. Since then, however, it has been claimed by her friends that the status was not supported by her husband.

Alimony Action

In the vaults at Osgoode Hall is an affidavit in the handwriting of the late Anderson Buchanan, as a student in the office of Fasken & Co., in which he sets out the amount due his mother, Mrs. Jessie Buchanan, from his father, James Buchanan, under a judgment for alimony.

The affidavit was made on Dec. 31st last. According to an accountant's affidavit filed with it, James Buchanan owed his wife $350 in respect of weekly payments of $25 under a judgment of June 25th, 1920. These payments had been in arrears since September 23rd last.

There had been two alimony actions, one in which the writ had been issued on October 3rd, 1919, and in which judgment was given by Justice Kelly in terms of consent minutes. The second action was entered May 17th, 1920.

According to the filings in these suits the parties were married on July 14th 1897, at Montreal, shortly after which they came to Toronto. Buchanan was formerly a traveller for McColl Bros., oil dealers, but latterly was interested in Buchanan-Duncan Motors, Ltd. According to the statement of claim he was making at McColl Bros. as much, sometimes as $200 a week, and was believed to be worth $25,000.

The couple had three children. The eldest, a daughter, is dead. Anderson was the second child, and is survived by a younger sister. The complaaaaaaaanaati complaint was made in these suits that the house in which the family at one time lived was in Mrs. Buchanan's name, but when it was sold the new house on Playter boulevard which was bought with the proceeds, it is said, was taken in the name of Mr. Buchanan. Mrs. Buchanan, in her statement of claim states that her health at one time became so bad that she had to live in a sanitorium at Chatham.

NATIONALIZE CHINESE RYS.

POWERS WILL OFFER ASSISTANCE WHEREVER NECESSARY—LABORS OF FAR EASTERN COMMITTEE ARE NEARING A CONCLUSION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press.) — Pushing forward rapidly toward the conclusion of its labors the Far Eastern Committee of the Washington Conference today recorded a mutual pledge against discriminatory railroad practices in China and then gave general approval to a proposal that the whole multitude of treaties and understandings relating to China's interests be published to the world.

The suggestion for a showdown of all Chinese commitments came from the United States delegation was promptly supported by the Chinese and after a discussion received in turn the tentative endorsement of the British, Japanese and French. A formal resolution embodying the resolution is to be considered at a meeting of the committee to-day.

The resolution is expected to provide that each government make known whatever information it has regarding the separate agreements entered into by its nationals.

Two resolutions regarding Chinese railroads were adopted before the committee reached the topic of existing commitments. One of them, presented by the British, binds all of the nine nations represented to permit no "unjust discrimination" in railroad rates or facilities in China and the other, a United States proposal, records the hope of the powers that Chinese railroads may be developed toward a unified national system under Chinese control, but with whatever foreign assistance may be found advisable.

Both resolutions were approved, with only slight changes, that relating to discriminatory practices was qualified by its author, Sir Auckland Geddes, so that it will apply only to "unfair discrimination. It provides that any case which seems to involve a violation of the principle of equality of treatment may be referred "for consideration and report," to the Board of Reference to be created under the new open door programme, with the two agreements, declaring their particular gratification over the inclusion of the peldge not to "permit" unfair discrimination.

SEEK TAX RETURNS

MOSCOW, Jan. 20.—(Associated Press)—A special commission named to locate grainfields which were cultivated this year, but upon which the cultivators had failed to make any tax returns in kind, have located over 5,000,000 acres of concealed cultivation.

The tax upon grain is about 10 per cent. of the crop. The Government is having great difficulty in collecting this levy in remote sections, especially in the Ukraine, where bandits and peasant bands resist the government agents.

CHINESE BOYCOTT A BRITISH FIRM.

Dispute Over Business Section Water Front.

AMOY, China, Jan. 20.—(Associated Press)—A dispute has arisen between the British representatives and the Chinese inhabitants here over the possession of a valuable section of the business district on the waterfront or Bund which may lead to serious consequences The British claim it as a concession. Part of this disputed territory is composed of filled-in land upon which a British firm is now building a jetty.

To this the Chinese objected, claiming the new land belonged to the city. Failing to stop the British work, they appealed to the Peking Government, thus far without result Circulars have been issued by the Amoy Civilian's Association and other Chinese associations protesting against the conduct of the British authorities and resenting the presence of the British Asiatic Fleet, which recently arrived.

A boycott has been declared by the Chinese against the British firm which is building on the filled in land.

EXHIBITION RECEIPTS

I would also suggest that two more booths the same size as our ticket booths be built, one for the gate at Lock Street and one for the George Street gate, for nothing more than to relieve congestion at our ticket booths, these being for change accommodation.

This year no doubt has been a trying year and required men who did not mind sacrificing time and service in the interests of the community in which they lived, for that service after all was making a better City to live in and a better feeling among our fellowmen.

An Unifying Influence

I might add as President of this board for four years, that this society has done more to bring the County and City together than any other organization in Peterborough. It has been a pleasure for me to serve you as President.

No doubt all the eyes are on the Peace Conference at present sitting, and we hope it will bring a better understanding between mankind, and the betterment of all concerned. Surely some good will come out of this conference which will be the bringing about of a better feeling among all nations and once more establish the world's credits.

We are looking forward to 1922 being a banner year and to make it such it is the duty of every man to put his shoulder to the wheel and give co-operation towards the attainment which we have in view

Thanks to Directors

I again wish to thank the Directors not only for their co-operation, but also for their efforts on the different committees. If we hope to establish a bigger fair it is our duty as Directors to give the glad hand to the small exhibitors as well as the larger ones, and see that he is looked after; for all we are doing the work for the betterment of the stock and seed products in this part of the country, and to bring about a better understanding among our fellow citizens both urban and rural.

The Work Performed

I would like to mention for the benefit of those who do not understand what we have done in regards to the grounds and improvements. When we took charge of the grounds we had to build two entrances one at Lock Street and one at George Street. We also had to grade the grounds for which thanks is due to the De Laval and Mr. W. J. Cox for the use of the tractor for cutting, and to the Directors for use of their teams and scrapers which were given voluntarily to improve the roads and the grounds and which were not included in improvements in our stock sheet.

We also interested the Manufacturers in our Fair and were instrumental in having them erect a Manufacturers Building. We repaired the old Main building and erected a new Poultry building and Cattle barns and Horse barns and repaired all the old barns and fences around the grounds. The fence around the race track was repaired at a big expense, and we also ditched around the half mile track We also built two lavatories, and a new Secretary's office, a race horse barn, a new performance stand and an addition to our grandstand and suitable ticket booths We have our lightning system paid for, and our water system connected with the city service.. In other years we had to depend on an old pump for our watering system.

The different sporting organizations of the City as well as the Cadets and the Military Camps and picnic parties have enjoyed the privileges of the grounds.

Trees Planted

Last but not least we planted 250 tress which we hope Reg, can enjoy the shade off, and which the rest of the members can enjoy from a point of beauty.

Our Secretary is at present in communication with the Dominion Goverment in regards to the Government grant, which if we procure will place us in a line with Ottawa and London, and we will have no fear of competition if we adopt the week after Toronto as we will have something to offer to the big breeders which will interest them.

In conclusion I might add:

Above all, we want men to carry on:—men with visiion to see needs and suggest remedies. big men for Leaders—Leaders everywhere, and in all walks of life, to counsel, suggest, plan, advise and govern, directing the destiny of Canada, ad in particular this County and City in which it is our good fortune to live.

"God give us men; A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts and willing hands.
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men whom possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor and who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And scorn his treacherous flatteries without winking
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking.

—J. G. Holland."

MECCA OF ILL-MATCHED PAIRS

Uruguan Divorce Laws Demoralizing.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 20.—(Associated Press.)—The Uruguayan divorce laws have made the city of Montevideo the Mecca of the ill-matched couples of the neighboring republic of Argentina.

The Buenos Aires newspapers refer to Montevideo as a "matrimonial safety valve" and drily observe that up-to-date divorce legislation has been rendered unnecessary in Argentina by the enterprise of the Uruguayan law-givers.

According to "La Razon," of Buenos Aires, the Montevideans (possibly in a fit of repentence for having dissolved so many Argentine unions) are now endeavoring to hold the balance even by making marriage an easy and expeditious matter in their capital.

So far have they gone in the latter direction that they have been condemned by both Uruguayans and Argentines. One cynical scribe, however, remarks that the "marriage while you wait" system would serve as an excellent feeder to the divorce court in the slack season.

THE EXTINCTION OF RUSSIAN BALLOT.

Is Threatened By Unprofitable Production.

MOSCOW, Jan. 11. — (Associated Press.)—Russia's greatest sport, the ballet, is threatened with extinction. The various municipal Soviets are tiring of the deficit which they have to make up in order to keep the operas and the ballets going. Ballet and opera alternate in the big theaters. The ballet pays, but doesn't make enough profit to carry the opera and the great orchestras necessary to satisfy the music-loving Russians.

Ballerines are the subjects of endless discussion.

Families break up over differences about the merits of Smirnova Geiser, Gerdt and others who are now holding the spotlight in Petrograd and Moscow. To a lesser degree the same battle rages at Kazan and Kiev and Odessa. Just at the moment Lukem is the hot favorite in Petrograd and Geiser in Moscow.

Youth and beauty do not count with Russian ballet fans. It matters not if the ballerina is old. In fact she generally has to be fairly mature before she can master the intricate steps upon which Russians give points. She may have muscles which give her the appearance of a strong lady in the circus and still fascinate Russian spectators if she can spin fast enough on her toes and shift her weight from one big toe to the other at just the moment prescribed in the rules.

At first a foreigner is inclined to admire the beautiful young neophytes who dance mazourkas, and have all the charm which grace and flowing white robes can impart to youth dancing to the music of a superb orchestra. That is the result of utter ignorance.

Geiser, the strongly featured player of the Moscow circuit, recently fell on the stage and had to beat a retreat before catcalls and howls which made it impossible for her to reappear for a fortnight. Russian ballet fans are as merciless as the crowds at a Spanish bull-fight. There are no excuses for failure.

FROM POVERTY TO AFFLUENCE.

Is Record of a Chinese Laborer, Now Highway Construction Genius.

From a poor Chinese boy of twenty, laboring seventeen hours a day on railway construction work to a man of sixty with fame and fortune behind him, formulating a plan of highway and rural road construction that is now making possible new development of natural resources and industries throughout the length and breadth of China, giving her teeming millions an outlet for their restless energies, is the record of Mr. Yip Yen, who is now visiting his business partner at Vancouver, Mr. Wing Sang, of the Wing Sang Company.

Mr. Yip Yen was for seventeen years the official interpreter of the customs and immigration departments at Vancouver. He became a naturalized citizen during that time and is very proud of the fact that, when he sailed for Hong Kong at the termination of his services with the government departments, he took with him not one cent of the savings he had laid by while living in Canada. The idea that Yip Yen carried back to China with him was that the answer to her emigration problems lay in the development of her boundless natural resources which he felt if properly handled would give ample work and opportunity to the thousands who were seeking their fortunes in new lands. In 1905 he went to Jeng Ming Kay, then governor of the province of Canton, and laid his road development plans before him. This plan was taken to the government and has since been adopted, and to-day states Mr. Yip Yen, throughout China there is a great road development scheme in progress.

Mr. Yip Yen is most enthusiastic in his belief that China is on the verge of an industria regeneration that will give all her people work and strengthen her relations with the rest of the world from which she will be a big purchaser of machinery. He believes that his success both in Canada and at home in China is due to his experience as a member of the Chinese construction gangs on the C.P.R. in the pioneer days and later when he spent most of the day in the saddle going from camp as Chinese paymaster.

WILL LAY A NEW CABLE

nany for better communication facilities.

Cables Cut

Prior to the outbreak of the world war there were two cables between the United States and Germany, and both were operated by the Commercial Cable Company although owned by the German Atlantic Cable Company. The first of these was laid in 1900 and the second in 1904. They extended from New York to the Azores and thence to Emden, Germany. The sections between Emden and the Azores were cut in the English Channel by the British Admiralty within an hour after Great Britain declared war upon Germany, August fifth, 1914; and from then until March, 1917, they lay dormant. In March, 1917, they again were cut by the British Government at a point more than 800 miles from New York and one of the cables, under agreement between Great Britain and France was diverted into Halifax, Nova Scotia, and Penzance, England, and since July 1, 1917, has been used by the British Government as part of its Imperial Telegraph and Cable system.

The French Government did not remove the other erstwhile German cable from American shores, but in November 1917, the French cable ship "Jaramac" arrived at New York and cut both cables, some five miles from their landing place at the Commercial Cable Company's station at Far Rockaway, and diverted one of them into the French Cable Company's station at Coney Island. The end diverted to the French able Company station was put into operation by that company under control of the French Government between New York and Brest, France, via the Azores.

Ceded to Powers

The disposition of these two ex-German cables, said Mr. MacKay in his statement, yesterday, is now in the hands of the five allied powers to whom the cables were ceded by Germany under the treaty of peace, and the Commercial Cable Company has filed a very substantial claim against them on account of its former contract for the operation of these cables, which contract was impossible for resumption at the close of the war because of the seizure of the cables by the British and French Governments. In making the contract for the laying of the new German cable the Commercial Cable Company is no way ceding any of its rights or claims against the Allied Powers in connection with the former Germany cables.

The laying of the new German able is part of the Commercial Cable Company's programme of expansion. It recently was announced by that company that it had made application to the state deparment for a license to lay a second trans-Pacific cable.

PRESS PRAISES MINISTRY.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press).—The press is almost unanimous in its praise of the new Ministry following the statement of Premier Poincare last night, which resulted in a vote of confidence. The Figaro says that "finally one has the feeling that France has found a Government worthy of her," and other newspapers echo this statement. It is hard to discover criticism or even reservation in the chorus of praise.

R. DENNE UNANIMOUSLY ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE EXHIBITION

Fifth Successive Year of His Administration — Members Paid Tribute to His Leadership — Financial Report Shows Money Spent in Improvements.

The 1922 Directorate.

The unanimous re-election of Roland Denne as president of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition for the fifth successive year, was not only a personal tribute paid him by the members at the annual meeting on Thursday afternoon, but was also an expression of their desire that the administration which had accomplished the notable success of the last five years under his leadership should be continued.

When the business of the election of officers was reached, Mr. Denne left the chair and nominated R. H. Turner for the presidency. He said he had held the position long enough and that in justice to the other members it should be passed around. Mr. Turner, as first vice-president, had been one of the most active promoters of the Exhibition, and his advancement to the presidency was due to him.

"It is not fair to the other members and it is not fair to myself that I should be president again," said Mr. Denne.

Mr. Turner, however, refused to consider the nomination and flatly refused to accept it.

"I haven't the time," he declared, "and I'm not in touch with the work, I nominate Mr. Denne."

Mr. Denne replied that Mr. Turner's interest in the exhibition and his untiring efforts to upbuild it made him the logical candidate for the position, but Mr. Turner answered that he hadn't paid up his dues.

"You did that so you get out of this," Mr. Denne suggested.

The elections appeared to have reached an impasse. Mr. Denne was emphatic, but Mr. Turner was adamant.

"I think the meeting is unanimous for Mr. Denne," said Harry Webber. "We feel that we can't carry on if he doesn't take the job."

"We're not looking to have this passed around," was the comment of W. J. Cox.

Vincent Eastwool reminded Mr. Denne that he was still a young man, and G. O. Cameron, of Montreal, who has retained his membership, stated that the exhibition in its present development had been built up and centred around Mr. Denne.

"We are not here to hand out bouquets" Mr. Cameron said. "This is one place where we speak our minds, and if Mr. Denne wasn't doing his part we would soon let him know."

Mr. Cameron moved that the nominations be closed, and Mr. Denne was declared president for 1922 by Secretary F. J. A. Hall, the announcement evoking what amounted to an ovation in the warmth and duration of the cheers and applause.

Mr. Turner was nominated for the place of first vice-president, but he strenuously declined it, but promised to assist as a director.

Need Attendance Now.

Discussing the reports R. H. Turner pointed out that the assets of the Exhibition yere now $40,000 as compared yith $5,000 four years ago.

"We are getting there," he said, "but we want a caretaker's home. We have a note of $7,500, and while we need the home let us first get out of debt. Let us make a special effort to building up attendance now. We should finish 1922 with a surplus."

Mr. Turner said that the last thing he had done in 1921 was to order permanent flower boxes for the memorial which had been erected on the grounds to the soldiers last year. They will fit into the cornices of the memorial following out the original design and will be planted in the spring with flowers that will be blooming during the fall and especially during the exhibition week.

The thanks of the Association were extended to Mr. W. H. Barry for the valuable service he had given the Board, his work alone having saved hundreds of dollars in the building of the addition to the grand stand.

A Record Meeting.

Yesterday's annual meeting was the most largely attended in the memory of the directors, and was written down as a record. Both the country and city interests were well represented and the invitation to the ladies was accepted by Mesdames Hounsell and Simpson. Enthusiasm and that sense of confidence that springs from success and from the realization of a work well done pervaded the assembly.

Ten new members were nominated for the directorate and six of them were elected.

A special nominating committee authorized to recommend the standing committees for the year, was appointed as follows: R. H. Turner, W. H. Merrill, H. G. Webber, C. E. Moore and T. N. D. Kelly.

The members decided to hold a field crop competition, the details of which were referred to the incoming directors.

Entries were 2,609.

The secretary's report provided the information that at last year's exhibition there were 2,609 entries for which $7,577 was offered in prizes and of that sum $5,171.40 was awarded by the judges and paid by the treasurer, Mr. V. Eastwood.

THE FINNISH QUESTION.

MOSCOW, Jan. 18.— (Canadian Prtss.) — Soviet Foreign Minister Chitcherin, in a note despatched to Finland yesterday, declared Soviet Russia would not consider any attempt to appeal to a third party for settlement of the Finnish-Russian dispute over Karelia.

The note made a number of new demands upon Finland, including the internment, disarming and surrender to Soviet Russia, of all Karelian insurgents on Finnish soil, the surrender to Russia of their arms and an indemnity from Finland for all damages to Russia through the Karelian revolt.

RESUME CONNECTION.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—(Canadian Press.)—Plans for the resumption of direct cable communication with Germany, suspended in 1914, were announced yesterday by Clarence H. Mackay, President of the Commercial Cables-Postal Telegraph System.

Under a contract with the German-Atlantic Cable Company, Mr. Mackay said, two cables would be laid between New York and Emden, Germany, and would be put in operation by October, 1923.

The new lines, Mr. Mackay announced, would be in two sections joined at the Azores.

Mr. Mackay made plain that the Commercial Company's contract for laying new cables "in no way cedes any of its rights or claims against the Allied Powers in connection with the former German cables," the disposition of which is in the hands of the Powers to whom they were ceded under the Treaty of Versailles.

PREVENT EXPLOITATION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(Canadian Press.) — The United States' plan, it was said, would provide a system to prevent further exploitation of China by foreign interests. Action by the committee on it was deferred to await further discussion to-day.

The principle of the Hughes plan it was said, was supported by the Japanese delegates who have asked for further time for examination of it before presenting their views formally to the committee.

French objections to the proposed international tribunal was said to be based upon doubt as to its functioning promptly and effectively, especially in its relation to existing concessions of French investors.

DO YOUR BOWELS MOVE REGULARLY, OR DO THEY BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt at once from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all of its allied troubles.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N.S., writes: "For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicines but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I procured two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

CABINET ELECTED EXCEPT PREMIER

AND HON. MR. KING'S CAUSE WAS GREATLY HELPED BY INTRUSION OF OFFICIOUS TORY HENCHMEN.

OTTAWA, January 20. — Considerable relief was expressed in Government circles to-night over the fact that 13 Cabinet Ministers had been returned by acclamation to-day. It had been taken for granted during the last few days that the Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Militia, would be opposed by a Progressive in South Essex, and plans had been made to give him support there. Ottawa has had difficulty in understanding the threat of Progressive opposition to Mr. Graham, particularly in view of the utterance last week of the Hon. Mr. Crerar, when he again pledged his party to co-operate with the Government. Local political conditions, it was contended here, formed the basis of the threatened contest.

THE DRAIMIN INCIDENT.

NEWMARKET, January 20. — The unexpected appearance of Archie Draimin, a well-known Toronto Hebrew, describing himself as one authorised to speak for J A. M. Armstrong, who was too ill to attend, nearly brought the North York nominating meeting to an end in a riot here to-day, and to make matters worse, brought upon the head of the Conservative candidate a storm of criticism for bringing in an outsider to "insult" North Yorkers that he had done nothing to earn. That the unfortunate incident has injured Mr. Armstrong in the riding goes without saying, and may cause him to drop out of the fight, notwithstanding the fact that he has been duly nominated.

Mr. Armstrong, who was in Newmarket preparing to attend the nominating meeting, was taken ill this morning and sent home under doctor's orders. According to an explanation made last night, he had arranged with Mr. Cameron Currie and Dr. Boyd, two prominent Conservatives, to explain his unavoidable absence. When, following the formal closing of nominations, at which the names of both Mr. Armstrong and the Hon. Mr. King were put in, the chairman of the meeting, Mr. Howard Cane, announced that the Conservative candidate would be given an opportunity to speak. Mr. Draimin promptly stepped forward. The hundreds in the Town Hall, particularly the Conservatives, were puzzled, but took the Toronto man's word for it when he said Mr. Armstrong had asked him to speak on his behalf and sat back quietly to hear what he had to say.

Threatened Assault.

But it was not for long. Within five minutes he had the place in an uproar, and when he announced that the Province of Quebec was disloyal, bedlam broke loose. A score of willing volunteers pressed forward to put him out, and it was only the intervention of the cooler heads that saved Draimin from bodily assault. Under further threats, he withdrew the taunt against Quebec, but the audience was too angry to listen to him, and a minute or two later he gave it up. Later, after the Hon Mr. King had spoken, the crowd gathered in the street. There they found Draimin, who, breaking away early, had got on the wrong car and travelled north instead of south. He had walked a considerable distance back into Newmarket to find several score of irate men and women looking for him. At one time it looked as if he might take the trip back home in an ambulance rather than a Metropolitan car, but finally he escaped with nothing more serious than abuse.

In this the Conservatives joined with quite as much warmth as the Liberals, for the word had by this time been passed around that Mr. Armstrong had denied any knowledge of Draimin. While he was allowed to speak, Draimin was rather rought with the Grits, who organistd the Sutton raid frame-up. He hit the nail on the head when he declared that in the last election the Liberal U.F.O.'s went to King, while the Conservative farmers supported Burnaby.

Incidentally Draimin gave the crowd a good laugn when he looked under the table as he started to speak. "I don't see any bottle there so I guess I'm safe," he remarked.

The "entertainment" over, the Prime Minister was called upon to speak. He accepted the enthusiastic cheers given to him with the air of one of whom such honors are justly due, and then gracefully paid tribute to both Progressives and Conservatives, who had done everything possible to give him an acclamation.

PRESS AGENT TOO GOOD.

Stefansson Wants $20,000 Because of Excessive Publicity.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.— Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the explorer, who was sued by Lee Keedick, his former lecture manager, for breach of contract, has filled an answer in the Supreme Court with a demand for $10,000 damages because, in attempting to exploit him, Keedick was alleged to have said things that were not so and injured his reputation. He asked $10,000 more because Keedick failed to pay attention to the explorer's notice that his health would not permit him to continue lecturing. He said that Keedick continued to advertise him and because of his failure to appear many persons got the impression that he was not reliable in the matter of keeping appointments.

"Exaggerated and untruthful representations were made with respect to the defendant's scientific work and discoveries," he said, "and these were of such a character as to damage the reputation of the plaintiff as a scientist, and also as an authority on maters concerning the arctic regions of the United States and Canada, and elsewhere."
